CLAIM SEVERAL MARINES KILLED IN REVOLUTION

Unofficial Advices Announce U. S. Men Victims of Honduran Fighting; Washington Ready to Deal Firmly

SAN SALVADOR, April 24 (AP)—Several American marines have been killed in Honduras, according to advices received here.

An attaché of the American delegation in Tegucigalpa is said to have proceeded to La Libertad, Salvador, a cable station, in order to communicate with the government at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—No official reports have been received from Tegucigalpa, Honduras, as to the killing of American blue-jackets in Honduras as reported in unofficial advices from San Salvador.

There are no American marines stationed in the republic but a force of 167 sailors and nine officers from the cruiser Milwaukee, at Amapala, has been at Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, for several weeks to protect the legation and American life and property generally as a result of revolutionary troubles.

Break Through Lines.

A dispatch from Amapala says additional reinforcements for the provisional government forces, who are being sent from Tegucigalpa, have managed to slip through the revolutionary lines and enter the capital.

Other dispatches are to the effect that none of the political parties in Honduras are to be trusted in the responsibility of intervening with Sumner Welles, representing the American government, in an endeavor to bring about a settlement of the discordant factions.

Lacking direct advice, administration officials declined to discuss the situation but there were indications that the government would deal with a firm hand with the situation in Honduras, if necessary should arise. For some time it has been known that both at the state and army departments the trend of affairs in the Central American republic has been observed with concern.

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—A 21-year-old woman lawyer, alleged to be the slayer of Y. K. Smith, wealthy advertising man, with whom she was infatuated, to divorce his wife and marry her, today visited his home in Palos park, a suburb, where she had a caretaker. She fired several shots and killed Smith and then fled to Chicago in an automobile accompanied by a man believed to be her husband from whom she separated to continue her marriage. Wanda Elaine Stopp, a girl, a near genius who came to this country a poor emigrant and in a few years graduated from a law school and served for a time as an assistant United States district attorney, and Ted Glomac, who posed as her husband and whom she left a year ago, were being hunted tonight after the city tonight.

Value of Milk as Fuel is Proved by Test with Engine

Novel Test, Is Carried Out by Chicago Health Commissioner; Milk-Fed Locomotive Draws Train Two Hours

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—Burning milk as fuel to operate a locomotive of the Rock Island railroad, made a four-hour trip today, drawing five cars with 200 passengers. The milk-fed locomotive, from Englewood to Beverly Hills and back, with 100 children passengers from the Chicago home for friendless children and the Chicago orphan asylum cheered the treacherous test. "Milk in the firebox is a new one," mused a railroad employe as Health Commissioner Herman M. Bandes, who gave the party, stepped into the cab to open the throttle officially. Dr. Bandes's purpose was to demonstrate the fact that milk, which can be used as fuel for a locomotive, is also fuel for the human body, containing energy which the body gets from it much as the locomotive. Damaged powdered milk was thickened with water, hardened and broken into lumps for the fuel.

Pleads Not Guilty to Sale of Bogus Idaho Mine Stock

Indictment Returned Against Salt Lake Man; Property Located at Halley

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Charles Peter, of Salt Lake City, president of the Consolidated Mining Company, today pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging grand larceny. Peter Roeder complained that he had paid $100,000 for 1000 shares of the mine at Halley, Idaho, on Peter's representation that there was $6,000,000 worth of ore at the mine ready for shipment.

Roeder said he later learned the stock was of little value and that the statements concerning it had been mere representations. A motion to retire the bill of $100,000 was taken under advisement.

15 PRISONERS GAIN LIBERTY

Inmates of Denver Jail Dash Past Guards to Freedom; Cameron and Hanlon Lead.

DENVER, April 24 (AP)—Dashing past three guards, 15 prisoners in the Denver city jail, some of them armed and led by William Duhall, alias "Slippery," Earl Hanlon, of St. Paul and Denver, convicted highway robber, escaped from the jail tonight.

Police when notified of the break by Mike Quintana, one of those who broke from the jail. Quintana fled with the police, went across the street to a telephone called the officers and surrounded.

Among those who escaped were Frank Cameron, alleged bandit, arrested recently in Omaha, after confessing, the police said, to shipping stolen goods from Omaha to Denver.

William Duhall, a government premier held on counterfeiting charges, led the break. Hanlon, Thomas Edwards and A. V. Herbert sped away in an automobile which was waiting for them in front of the jail. Search was immediately begun by the police for Ruth Harris, alleged "bandit queen," who was arrested with Hanlon and who was released from jail today after a hearing before a justice of the peace on charges in connection with Hanlon's activities.

AMUSING STORIES OF KAISER

NEW GOOD COPY IN GERMANY. BERLIN, April 24 (AP)—Certain German newspapers never tire of publishing amusing stories of the former Kaiser, one of the latest being his experience at the Vatican in October, 1918, when the former ruler was received by Pope Leo XIII and caused a ripple of laughter among those present by his awkwardness.

"William began the performance by dropping the valuable 'tabatiere' he carried as a gift to the Pope," writes Ernest Smith in a book of his 40 years' experience as a British journalist in Rome and other European capitals. "As William stopped to recover the 'tabatiere' he fell forward on his face, his helmet fell and, to add to his confusion a seam in his garments collapsed audibly as he bent down," writes Mr. Smith. "When William recovered he could scarcely stammer out several incoherent words, and a witness of the scene told me that the Kaiser was trembling like a leaf all the time."

FEDERAL FORCES TAKE CONTROL IN CALIFORNIA

Warfare Against Spread of Foot and Mouth Disease Intensifies; Slaughters to Be Continued; New Outbreaks.

SACRAMENTO, April 24 (AP)—The federal government took full control today of the warfare being waged on the foot and mouth disease in California. Reports to headquarters told of outbreaks on two farms in Merced county and in a dairy herd in Los Angeles county.

Dr. U. L. Houck, named by Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture as federal controller, opened headquarters here and in his first statement declared the government "will continue slaughtering animals in California in full co-operation of the state officials, livestock owners and business interests generally." His statement was made in referring to reports from southern California that animal lovers claimed slaughtering animals was useless and cruel. Dr. Houck said the slaughtering was the most economical and the only known method of eradicating the disease.

Director E. L. French of the Washington state department of agriculture, in a telegram to Secretary Wallace declared the Pacific coast exposed country to the menace of the introduction of the disease from the affected far east and urged permanent protection for Pacific ports.

Governor James G. Scruggs of Nevada, speaking in San Francisco, said the stringent embargoes of Nevada and Arizona against California agricultural products and automobile traffic are "vital to the livestock industry of those states." Governor Richardson of California at the same meeting said that the need for hysteria as the situation has been controlled and is confined to just a very small district in the state.

DENIES CRIME IN AUTO WRECK

D. B. Moorman, Defendant in $6000 Damage Suit; Tells His Side of Collision Story

The other side of the story of an automobile accident which resulted in a suit for approximately $6000 damages was told in district court here Thursday afternoon by D. B. Moorman, of Twin Falls, and other witnesses in the trial of defendant in which he is being prosecuted by J. Elmer Minton of Hansen, and Mrs. Minton, who is alleged to have suffered injuries for which $6000 compensation is sought, as a result of the collision.

Testimony of Mr. Moorman, which was substantiated by that of Mrs. Moorman, was to the effect that the Minton car traveling south from Hansen on the Rock creek road, on the evening of Thanksgiving day, 1922, swerved to the center of the road and then back to the right lane when Mr. Moorman came traveling north on the road, came close to it, and that under these circumstances the crash was unavoidable. Both cars were damaged in the collision and the Minton car, which was driven by Mrs. Minton, after the crash, told two different persons who arrived on the scene soon afterward, that no one had been hurt.

Experts on Stand.

Testimony of two engineers, John McConnel for the plaintiff, and M. M. Martough for the defendant, was offered in evidence as to the relative positions of the cars after the crash, and testimony of two physicians, Dr. John R. Morgan for the plaintiff, and Dr. D. L. Alexander for the defendant, was offered as to the extent of injuries to Mrs. Minton's hand and arm as revealed by X-ray.

Governor Hunt announced tonight that the conference would be resumed tomorrow and that he will make his decision in the matter at that time.

HOUSE PASSES SUPPLY BILL

Approve Measure Carrying $57,000,000; Would Increase Powers of Secretary

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The annual supply bill for the department of agriculture, carrying $57,000,000, was passed late today by the house after an unsuccessful last minute attempt had been made to provide $300,000 for distribution of free seed by members of congress.

Representative Aawell, democrat, Louisiana, sought to revive the practice of seed distribution which was discontinued several years ago but his amendment to provide necessary funds was rejected by a roll call vote of 207 to 111. As sent to the senate the measure carried an amendment adopted by vote of 75 to 25, which would increase the powers of the secretary of agriculture under the packers and stock yards law.

Of the bill's total, which is $605,000 less than request by the budget bureau and a decrease of $21,000 as compared with last year's $200,000 is for eradication of the foot and mouth and other insects affecting southern crops. The measure provides $170,000 for the study of insects affecting cereal and range crops and would authorize a special investigation of the Hessian fly, grasshopper and chinch bug. A total of $600,000 is set aside for eradication of the cattle tick, $184,000 for horse choler, $411,000 for combating the barberry and $575,000 for preventing the spread of moths.

PROPOSED CHANGES IN IDAHO QUARANTINE OPPOSED BY GOVERNOR

Moore Opposed to Placing Federal Government in Control of Regulations; Wallace Inquires as to Acceptance of Certified Shipments; Urge Congressmen to Co-operate

BOISE, April 24 (AP)—Efforts of Henry C. Wallace, United States secretary of agriculture, to break down Idaho's quarantine against the foot and mouth disease and of the state of California to get Idaho's consent to placing the federal government in charge of all quarantine regulations met with defeat at the hands of Governor C. O. Moore today.

Secretary Wallace wanted to know if Idaho would accept care of fruit and vegetables if accompanied by a federal certificate stating they had come from uninfected territory. Governor Moore replied:

"Inasmuch as the federal government has taken up the eradication of foot and mouth disease in California, we think it advisable to adhere to our quarantine regulations until the federal government advises that the disease is eradicated. We reach this conclusion after conference with all Idaho interests and California delegates, and believe it is impossible to modify our regulations at this time."

The proposal of California to give the federal government full charge of quarantine regulations is contained in the following message: "St. Helens, director of agriculture, and he who the governor has declared he is opposed to as far as Idaho is concerned."

"Serious difficulties caused by conflicting embargoes on many California farm products in addition to those against livestock have caused me to request of Secretary Wallace that California department of agriculture forces now engaged in foot and mouth disease control shall be consolidated with the federal forces under federal direction. This campaign is being fought vigorously in California with federal and state funds for the protection of all states. California trusts that by acquiescing in the federal quarantine campaign under direction of the federal government and by placing of necessary quarantines and the issuance of necessary permits under federal supervision, California will realize our strong desire to safeguard interstate traffic. We trust that the tentative quarantine adopted at the interstate meeting at Salt Lake City April 1 may be considered a basis by all states in adopting uniform quarantine measures."

Governor Moore renewed his campaign for the discontinuance of postal shipments into Idaho from California by wiring today to governors of all states west of the Rocky mountains urging them to call all of their congressional delegations for support in the project. At the same time the Idaho executive visited Senators W. E. Borah and Frank R. Gooding and Congressmen Charles W. Burton and B. M. French of Idaho to seek the co-operation of congressional delegations from western states in stopping postal shipments.

Detective Reports Disappearance of Valuable Records

Gaston Means, Star Witness in Senate Inquiry, Claims His Notes Have Been Stolen; Senators Deeply Puzzled

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The treasure trove of five years' of spy records from Mein's Washington home, reported stolen last week, has been reported, they were not authorized to do so and their letter of credentials was a forgery.

Sensors on the committee were plainly puzzled. A last investigation established only the fact that if two men bearing a letter which had the name of Chairman Brookhart took the records from Mein's Washington home, as reported, they were not authorized to do so and their letter of credentials was a forgery.

For weeks now, Mein's records, which consist of a stack of black bound note books, his day-by-day diaries of his extraordinary activities, have been held back from full disclosure. Glances into them have been offered at the request of the House of Representatives, shifting of the Daugherty investigation but no complete tale of their contents has been rounded out.

TAX REDUCTION FIGHT IS UNDER WAY IN SENATE

Mellon Income Rates Center of Interest; Smoot Defends Treasury Schedule on Behalf of Republican Legislators

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Opening shots were fired today in the senate in the tax reduction fight with the Mellon income tax rates being given the most attention.

The intention of republican organization leaders to stand by the income tax schedule was indicated in the opening speech by Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, who vigorously defended the rates. Senator Jones, New Mexico, a democratic member of the committee, retorted with a denunciation of the proposed 50 per cent cut in the maximum surtax and a plea for a greater tax reduction even than proposed by the treasury.

The revenue bill, however, when the most extended and controversial legislative fight of the session is anticipated, was brought up under auspicious circumstances. Despite the enthusiastic declaration of the two speakers, less than a score of senators were on the floor throughout their addresses. Twice a point of no quorum was made to draw an audience, but shortly after the roll calls, most of the senators, tired by the long debate of yesterday on the loans bill, retired.

The drive for tickets has been most successful under the guidance of H. W. Merritt and the Caldwell series is practically assured for the second week in May. Final practice of the blue and white was held Thursday evening and practically the same lineup as faced Poncelet last week is expected to start this afternoon against the Nampans.

CITY OFFICIALS AT CLEVELAND MAKING PLANS

Fire and Police Chiefs Taking Precautions to Make Convention Zone Safe; Building Is Classed as Fire-Proof

CLEVELAND, April 24 (AP)—Elaborate precautions are being taken by Safety Director Edwin D. Barry, and his subordinates to make the convention zone during the republican national convention here, the week of June 10 fireproof and as nearly as possible "bullet-proof."

Chief of Police Jacob Graul has asked the police departments of 11 cities within a reasonable distance, including Buffalo, Detroit and New York, to lend him a few each of their star detectives. Chief Graul is confident the request will be granted, as it is not uncommon for cities to exchange detectives. The purpose is not merely to enforce the local police in numbers, but to have men on hand who know criminals who are strangers in Cleveland. Each necessary will join forces with a local detective, and the hunting will be done in pairs. Though pickpockets will probably be the principal class of undesirable guests, said Mr. Graul, "they are decreasing in numbers. Many are going into more profitable occupations, such as bootlegging. Will bootleggers come? If they do, it will be to their sorrow. I know of no law authorizing me to take off the lid."

Proposals are under consideration

for strengthening the detail of police-women.

A special squad of fire wardens under the direction of the fire chief will be detailed to the convention zone. The convention hall itself is of modern fireproof construction, and hundreds of persons at one time have attended smokers there. Smoking will be permitted in corridors and lounge, under the scrutiny of the fire department. The entire ceiling of the ground floor, where the press and telegraph rooms will be housed, is fitted with automatic sprinklers.

Fire fighting equipment is placed in cabinets at various points in the building, with water piped to each cabinet. The 72-foot stage opening is fitted with a huge fire curtain of steel and asbestos, said to be one of the largest in existence, which is raised by a hydraulic pump. The proscenium is so fitted with sprinkler-heads which eject such a volume of water that it required an afternoon to mop up the stage after they had been tested. The hall is within a block of a fire department.

MORE FOR MUSCLE SHOALS

On the face of it, the latest offer
for Muscle Shoals looks more favorable than either the Ford offer or that of the Alabama Power Company. Henry Ford's proposition is said to mean a total return to the government of about one hundred million dollars, and the Alabama Power Company's a total of one hundred thirty-six million dollars. The offer of Elton H. Hooker of New York, according to Mr. Hooker, means a return of three hundred five million dollars to the government.
And this is not in the course of one hundred years, as in the case of the other offers, but in the next fifty years.

What the Hooker plan amounts to is that the great power project would be operated by a private company under government regulation, with the company taking one-fourth of the profits, and with the government entitled to unlimited rights in war time. The plan would also be subject to the present federal waterpower act as regards terms on which electric power would be produced and sold. It promises more fertilizer than the Ford plan.
This is getting somewhere. The

My wife has a mania for "old-fash-

She likes any sort of house furnish-

but I feel differently.

I'm tired of old-fashioned chairs that have their rockers in the middle of a
"Y" and throw you on the floor.

I'm through with old-fashioned mirrors that are so full of cracks and black places that from looking in them
you can't tell your face from the plans for the new municipal playground.

I'm sick of old-fashioned sofas that let you sit down so far that when you try to get up it's like struggling out of a quicksand bog.

As I say, I'm pretty well fed up on historic accessories around the home,
but my wife is adding to our collection

isn't furniture to her.

Only last month she bought a chair

THE UNHAPPY MISER

By DADDY

Cocky Robin copies Miser Jonas Jones and saves worms which he needs for his family and himself.
Jack and Janet cure him by hiding his can of hoarded worms.

CHAPTER V.
In the Miser's House.

JACK and Janet danced with glee as they watched Cocky Robin dig worms to feed his hungry mate and babies. He no longer had any thought of saving worms in a tin can. He forgot everything else in his eagerness to make his family comfortable and happy. He had been cured of his mis-erliness.

Jack crept to the hollow tree where they had hidden Cocky Robin's can of worms. "We will take this away so Cocky Robin cannot find it," said he to Janet. "Then, perhaps he will stay cured of being a miser."

They carried the can of worms along the forest path until they met Jimmie Jones, the son of Miser Jonas Jones.
He carried a fish pole and hook and line.

"Here are worms to use as fish bait," said Jack to Jimmie.
"Oh, thank you," cried Jimmie.
"Now I can catch fish to furnish a meal
for my hungry mother and little sisters."

But Jack and Janet went on to the house where Miser Jonas Jones lived.
They were planning to cure him of his miserliness by hiding his treasure.

When they reached the house of the miser, he was not at home. He was out making more money to add to his store.

Jack tried to open the door but found it barred fast. So were the windows.
Jonas Jones took no chances on thieves getting in to steal his gold.

What should they do? The could not cure Miser Jonas Jones as they had cured Miser Cocky Robin unless they could get his gold and hide it.

Jack looked the house over very care-

—In the miser's house—

fully. At one end of the big fireplace chimney, glancing into the house through the window Jack saw a pile of wood by the fireplace, but no fire had burned there for a long time. The miser was too stingy to burn wood or coal. Beside the house lay a ladder.

Jack began to chuckle. "Here is a riddle," said he. "Doors barred, windows barred, and yet there is a way into the house. What is it?" Janet could not guess the riddle. She shook her head.

Then Jack raised the ladder to the roof and climbed up it.

"The way is the one that Santa Claus uses on Christmas eve," he chuckled.
"It is the chimney."

Jack clambered over the roof and looked down the chimney. Yes, it seemed to offer a clear way down the house.

"I am going to play Santa Claus," laughed Jack, scrambling to the top of the chimney and sticking his legs down inside.

"So am I," declared Janet, climbing
the ladder after him.

Jack dropped into the chimney. Down
he went amid a flurry of dust and soot.
The sides of the chimney kept him from falling too fast, but before he knew where he was he landed kerthump! in—the fireplace. And before he could get out of the fireplace he heard a scrambling above him, and kerthump! Janet dropped down the chimney on top of him.

They were in the miser's house. What would they do next?
(What they do will be told in the next chapter, in which the miser comes home.)

Every Mother Wants
to Know This

EVERY mother wants to know how she can keep her children's dainty little wash clothes from soiling so quickly.

And now she has the answer: Starch
with LINIT, the remarkable new starch discovery. Your Grocer sells it.

Not only does LINIT make even ordinary cotton goods look and feel like linen, but LINIT eliminates lint, thereby keeping your children's clothes from soiling so quickly.

This is because LINIT is distinctly different from old-fashioned starches. Instead of merely smearing on the surface of the material, LINIT penetrates each thread, helps to prevent wear and prolongs
the life of the fabric.

Use LINIT according to directions and you will find it a thin, free-running fluid like water. And use very little of it, for a small amount of LINIT goes much farther than a similar amount of old-fashioned starch.

For this reason the wide-awake housewife finds LINIT to be much more economical.

LINIT costs 10c at all Grocers. Get a package and begin the modern way of starching your fabric. You will never go back to the old-fashioned starching.

Prices Stimulated as Result of McNary-Haugen Bill Being Reported,
But Advance Falls to Hold

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP)—Although wheat buying today was stimulated as a result of the McNary-Haugen bill being reported favorably from the house agricultural committee, the price gain that ensued was more than offset when the Caraway bill to prohibit trading in futures was placed before the senate. The wheat market closed unsettled at 3-8 to 1-2 net lower to shade advance. May $1.02 1-2 to 1-4; 1-2 to 5-8; and July $1.04 1-2 to 1-4; 1-2 to 5-8. Corn finished 3-8 to 1-2 net lower to shade 1-2 net, and provisions varying from 7c decline in a rise of 2 cents.

Especially in the last half of the day the wheat market was nervous. Many traders with open accounts appeared at a loss which was due to the uncertainty growing out of proposed legislative measures. Springlike weather and auspicious reports on crop conditions tended to bring about a sudden upturn in the market immediately followed news about fresh progress of the McNary-Haugen bill. The temporary rise in wheat values amounted to more than one cent a bushel from the day's lowest figures, a majority of traders having assumed that the McNary-Haugen bill was sidetracked.

Changes in the corn market seemed to be governed by the action of wheat. Oats received good support, offerings being scarce.

LAUDS MISSION WORK AS MEANS TO WORLD PEACE

District Convention of Methodist Women's Societies Closes with Inspiring Message; 20 Towns Represented

Missionary work is the greatest single factor today making for international peace and advancement of the cause of world peace. Mrs. H. W. Parker of Nampa declared in an address at the closing session Thursday evening of the annual meeting of the Women's Missionary societies of the Methodist church in the Pacific district. Pointing to good will as an outstanding need among men and nations of the present day, the speaker declared that establishment of good will is in accordance with Christian principles, implies abandonment of racial and religious prejudices. She outlined responsibilities devolving upon the women's societies as the agencies through which the missionary work of the Methodist church among women and girls in foreign lands must be carried on.

Twenty Towns Represented

Session of the district meeting which opened Thursday morning in the Methodist church here were attended by delegates representing more than a score of Methodist and missionary societies within the district. Sessions were presided over by Mrs. C. W. Aldrich of Buhl, president, who, with other officers of the district or representatives by vote of the delegates at a business session in the afternoon. Decision was reached to hold annual meetings of the organization hereafter in the fall and Buhl was chosen as the meeting place next October.

The Rev. Charles E. Winning, pastor of the local church, greeted the officers and delegates at the opening session, response being made by Mrs. Aldrich. Greetings from the Home Missionary society of the Methodist church were extended by Mrs. William Baker of Twin Falls.

Evening and afternoon sessions were occupied with reports of officers and committees: "Mid-Year Instructions," by Mrs. Parker; "Echoes from General Executives," by Mrs. Parker; "Pictograms," by Mrs. C. E. Winning, and miscellaneous opening by Mrs. Persson.

Devotions at the opening session were led by Mrs. Charles D. Fletcher, pastor of the local church, and in the afternoon by Mrs. Heath.

Ample demonstrations presented by Mrs. L. H. Hickling, and a presentation of "O Zion Haste," by seven little girls from Buhl with vocal solo by Mrs. A. W. Coffey of Buhl, were interesting features of the evening session.

Luncheon was served at noon in the church, with Mrs. C. E. Winning and Mrs. S. H. Bolton as hostesses. Officers of the district organization, all of whom were re-elected at this meeting, were: President, Mrs. C. W. Aldrich; first vice-president, Mrs. Sanders; second vice-president, Mrs. B. Clark; Idaho Falls; recording secretary, Mrs. W. S. Irving; reporting secretary, Mrs. C. E. Winning; superintendent of young peoples work, Mrs. S. Breakfast Food and Pancake Flour Being Made at Buhl from Grain Said to Be of Ancient Aztec Origin

To manufacture and place on the market breakfast food and a pancake meal made from Aztec wheat is the object of the Idaho Breakfast Food company of Buhl, W. A. Gray, manager. A series of experiments covering many months lead to the organization of the business on a basis which will permit of increased production as the demand warrants. The product is now on hand at a number of points in Idaho and 150 acres are planted to the crop this year as a means of providing raw material for the year to come.

Aztec breakfast food and Aztec pancake meal from the nucleus of a story of more than usual interest. The name Aztec was not selected at random. Some few years ago Glen Gould, well known Buhl district farmer, while on a visit to Mexico, was given a small amount of wheat kernels taken from an ancient Aztec tomb. He kept these as a curiosity for a time and finally decided to attempt to produce the grain. Out of 16 kernels remained when the first planting was made but by careful nursing a tiny first crop was successfully harvested and last fall the little handful of grain had grown to 1500 bushels, practically all of which, after taking out the necessary seed for this year's crop, was manufactured.

Mr. Gould has received many requests for samples of the wheat, which is larger and harder than ordinary wheat and of a structure which will not mill. The product is not a flour, but a meal and the finished product is not only distinctly different from anything of the kind on the market but is growing steadily more popular wherever it has been given a reasonable tryout. Mr. Gray states that it is his intention to develop the business just as fast as the demands will permit. He is convinced that both his products are distinctly superior to anything of the kind now on the market and states that the reception which the products are meeting with is distinctly promising.
