Three Central American Countries Accept State Department's Invitation to Send Delegates to Conference

SAN SALVADOR, April 25 (AP).—Only two American marines were killed in the clash in Honduras, reported for the first time in dispatches received yesterday, according to advices reaching here today.

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP).—Three Central American governments, Salvador, Guatemala and Nicaragua, accepted today an invitation from the United States to participate in a conference at Amalapa, Honduras, for the purpose of mediating between the warring factions in that country. A favorable reply is expected from Costa Rica and delegates will be dispatched by the four Central American countries in this new effort to restore order in the distressed state republic.

The United States will be represented by Sumner Welles, President Coolidge's personal representative and to some way out of the middle that has existed in that country since constitutional government expired through failure to elect a president. Mr. Welles will hold a preliminary conference at Amalapa with leaders of the Honduran factions, at which it is hoped an arrangement will be arranged which will continue until the five-power mediation conference has completed its work.

Delegates Named
Salvador will be represented by Martin Suarez, president of the Salvadoran supreme court. Dr. Jose Andres Utrero, minister of foreign affairs, was named by the president of Nicaragua.

The delegate from Guatemala was named in the dispatch accepting the American invitation to participate.

The interests of nationals of South American countries as well as North Americans are jeopardized by the continued disorder in Honduras and the lives of all foreigners are in peril. It is this situation that has prompted the state department to propose the conference plan after M. Welles had paved the way for such an effort through meetings with faction leaders in Honduran cities.

Killings Not Verified
Communication with Tegucigalpa, Honduras capital, has not been interrupted so far as the state department knows, messages of a routine nature having been received from Minister Morales under date of yesterday. No report has come either to the state or the navy departments indicating any attack upon the American naval forces now protecting American nationals in Tegucigalpa.

Government Tax Collections Show Noted Increase

Gain During First Three-Quarters of Fiscal Year $226,000,000 Over Nine Months of Previous Year

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP).—The government collected $2,146,893,265 in internal taxes in the first three quarters of the present fiscal year, an increase of $226,700,192 over the nine months ending March 15, last year. Of the total collections $1,409,939,742 were in income and profits taxes, the receipts from this source running slightly ahead of treasury calculations and substantially larger than for the corresponding period a year ago.

Tobacco again made up almost one-third of the whole miscellaneous collections with receipts of $241,702,868, or about three million dollars more than was collected from this source in the corresponding period a year ago. Collections under the prohibition laws were $434,703, a reduction of more than $12,000 from the nine months ending March 15, 1923. Admission taxes increased to $57,707,270 from $51,171,213.

EQUAL TARIFF RATES SOUGHT

Important Action Regarding Livestock Industry Taken at Montana Conference

BILLON, Mont., April 25 (AP).—Resolutions were adopted by the Montana stock growers association meeting in conjunction with the Montana wool growers association today, demanding of congress on behalf of the northwest the same consideration in the writing of tariffs that is given any other section of America.

Other resolutions included commendation of the department of agriculture and the bureau of animal industry for their efforts to curb the foot and mouth disease in California; approval of the position taken by Governor Hunt of Arizona in regard to the same matter; request for a flat two per cent tariff rate on all cattle shipped into the United States from Canada for slaughter within 30 days of arrival; endorsement of the principle of co-operative wool marketing; request that the United States adopt a "broad policy of international relationship to the end that international buying power be restored," and a protest against increasing railroad charges for cleaning and disinfecting stock cars.

County Health Officer Says Rigid Quarantine Is Applied in All Instances Brought to Attention

Only six cases of diphtheria have been reported in recent weeks to county authorities and no new cases have been reported within the past week, according to statement Friday evening of Dr. C. D. Weaver, county health officer. In each of the reported cases Dr. Weaver stated, strict quarantine has been enforced. No quarantine has been lifted until two weeks after cure has been effected nor until absence of diphtheria infection in the patient is shown by two separate tests.

DENVER MAN CONVICTED

DENVER, April 25 (AP).—Frank Newton Briggs, former president of the defunct Interstate Trust company, and a candidate for mayor of Denver two years ago, was found guilty of embezzlement by a jury in district court here today.

Briggs was found guilty on the second count of an indictment containing eight counts, that of embezzling $1,700 received from Isador Amter, a stockholder of the company. The court granted a stay of execution for 10 days.

ARRESTED FOR BOBBERY

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 25 (AP).—Adam Parillo, 27, who claims Saratoga Springs, N. Y., as his residence, was arrested today in connection with the robbery of $140,000 from a bank messenger's car and the murder of the driver in Montreal on April 2 last.

DEATH TAKES CHIEFTAIN OF TAMMANY HALL

Heart Trouble Induced by Chronic Indigestion Is Given as Cause of Death; Wigwam Flag Placed at Half-Mast

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP).—Charles F. Murphy, grand chieftain of Tammany Hall, and for many years a powerful factor in democratic councils of the state and nation, died today of heart complications induced by acute indigestion.

A product of the East Side's picturesque "ignis house district," he had first, with fists, and then with brains, fought his way from the stokehold of ward politics to the quarterdeck of party fame and financial fortune. In a span of 66 years he had been poor man's son, ward heeler, bartender, saloonkeeper, office holder, financier and finally local director and national adviser of his party.

He had graduated from the sobriquet of "Fists Murphy" through that of "Hurly Hurly," "Sport," "Silent Charles" and at the last "C. F. M.," the initials by which all knew him although few of those who obeyed his commands ever had seen him. And always, from merest youth, his name and that of Tammany were linked together.

Death Is Sudden.

He retired last night after a busy day and a hearty dinner, to be awakened this morning by feverish chills and the pangs of indigestion. Characteristically he insisted "upon breakfasting" at the usual early hour. Immediately he became alarmingly ill and died a few minutes later in the presence of his physician, a priest, his daughter, Mabel, and her husband, Surgeon James A. Foley. Mrs. Murphy, who was in Atlantic

ROAD'S CONSTRUCTION OUTFIT IS READY FOR WORK ON RAIL PROJECT

Engineering Organization and Workers Sent by Automobile and Train to Begin Actual Construction of Long-Awaited Improvement; Additional Gangs to Be Put On Soon

POCATELLO, April 25 (AP).—The entire engineering construction organization which has been employed by the Oregon Short Line on the second track work between King Hill and Reverse, Idaho, during the past two years was moved by automobile and train today from its camp at Hammett to Rogerson, Idaho, where work is now to be actually commenced on the line from Rogerson, Idaho, to Wells, Nevada.

The line will connect the Oregon Short Line with the Southern Pacific and provide Idaho with a direct route to the California market.

The new line has been "in the air" for years and the appropriation for it was included in last year's Union Pacific budget for 1924, the citizens of the Twin Falls district contracting to provide the necessary right of way.

The new line will be 97 miles long and the total appropriation for it is $3,600,000.

Engineering parties will work out of Rogerson for the present, but later on it is planned to put on several additional parties so that there will be one field department for each twelve miles of line.

DISAPPEARANCE OF NOTES PUZZLES SENATE PROBES

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP).—The senate Daugherty investigation committee divided its attention today among witnesses who described defunct and trust prosecutions in Chicago, papers that are needed to cite M. S. Daugherty of Washington Court House, Ohio, before the senate for contempt, and the phenomenal spitting away of the secret records of Gaston B. Means. One open hearing and several conferences marked proceedings.

Means, upon leaving a long executive discussion with Chairman Brookhart and Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor, was grave, but not hopeful. The senators themselves professed puzzlement, but let it be known that the loss was his worry, not theirs, and that no senate weapons would be brought to the task of seeking recovery of the papers.

THE TRIUMPH OF MATTER OVER MIND

PRESS DEFEATED FALL'S SCHEME, PINCHOT CLAIMS

Governor Asserts Former Secretary Planned to Raid National Forests But Editorials Prevented His Success

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 25 (AP).—Governor Clifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania told the American Society of Newspaper Editors tonight that after his protest to President Harding against the appointment of Albert S. Fall as secretary of the interior had failed he enlisted the aid of the press of the country in a struggle for conservation of natural resources and was successful in his fight.

Senator Fall's attack was on the conservation policy as a whole, Governor Pinchot said. "What he and his friends were after was not simply the navy's oil, but billions of dollars worth of other natural resources held by the government for the benefit of all the people."

Once in office, Mr. Pinchot said, Fall had attacked the nation's forests.

Forest Service Balked

"As a western stockman the United States forest service had properly refused him privileges to which he had no right," continued the governor. "As a means of getting even he undertook to secure the transfer of the national forests to his department. In the course of his campaign he succeeded in persuading President Harding to support him. The Brown commission for the reorganization of the government fell in behind. The anti-conservation members of congress were eagerly with him. But in spite of all of it, he was defeated and defeated directly by the power of the press."

"Direct personal communication was established with the editors of five or six thousand of the most influential journals in America. A stream of editorials came pouring into Washington so definite, so forceful, so insistent that President Harding said to me in the White House, 'You are absolutely wrong in opposing the transfer of the national forests, but I pay you the compliment of saying that he cannot put it over against your opposition.'"

Still Determined

Governor Pinchot asserted that Fall arranged President Harding's trip to Alaska in order to turn the resources of that territory over to the "grabbers," but that President Harding defeated the scheme for "all time" in his last public utterance at Seattle.

Referring to his defeat for delegate at large in Pennsylvania, Governor Pinchot said he was beaten in a surprise attack and that it had strengthened his determination to carry out every policy to which he is pledged.

Balloonists Fail To Establish New Distance Record

Last of Seven Entries in Elimination Contest Lands Far Up in Minnesota; Lack 73 Miles of Equalling Old Mark

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 25 (AP).—The last of the seven balloons that were sent aloft at Kelly field here late Wednesday in the national balloon elimination race came to earth today far up in southeastern Minnesota.

W. T. Van Orman, piloting the "Goodbye III," entry of the Good-year Tire and Rubber company, with his aide, C. K. Wollam, brought the race to a close when the balloon early this afternoon near Rochester, Minn. The winner fell approximately 73 miles short of the American distance record of 1720.9 miles established in 1910 by W. R. Hawkey in the race from St. Louis.

Van Orman and Wollam were in the air 48 hours and 54 minutes, veteran of many races, piloting balloon under the banner of the Kansas City Co-operative club, with Captain T. E. Bondente of Kelly field as his aide, came second, landing only about 50 miles behind the leader. Honeywell, came down at Sanborn, Minn., at 8:30 o'clock this morning, an estimated distance of 1000 miles.

Babson Notes Surplus of Rail Employes As Cause of High Rates

Statistician Holds Interstate Commerce Commission and Legislatures Could Solve Freight Problem

BABSON PARK, Mags., April 25.—Demand for lower freight rate is growing in every section of the country, according to Roger W. Babson, the statistician. Returning today from the south he contributes at least one possible solution to the problem.

"In traveling across the country, either from west to east or south to north one hears continual complaints as to the present 'high' freight rates—especially on agricultural products. When one asks in Florida why oranges are being left to rot in the groves, the answer is 'because of high freight rates.' When one asks in New York why 60 cents a dozen is charged for the same fruit, the reply is 'because of high freight rates.' At every railroad station, in dining cars and Pullman smoking apartments the universal cry is that high freight rates are killing the goose that lays the golden egg. Producers, consumers and middlemen all unite in the same complaint.

"Now, what is to be done about it? Roads Deny Claims.

"From the statistics of the railroads rates are not too high. The roads need much more money for extensions and improvements. They cannot continue to issue bonds indefinitely. They should sell more stock. Yet you and I will not buy railroad stock unless the roads are assured good earnings. It would be fatal to future planning to have the net earnings of the railroads cut materially at the present time. If rates are to be lowered, some plan must be evolved to reduce expenses so that the net earnings will not be greatly reduced.

"A satisfactory market in railroad securities demands that, unless let the railroads alone—at least not reduce their net earnings or hinder their earning capacity.

"Can shippers get lower rates without cutting down the net earnings of the roads? If this can be done both sides will be satisfied.

Surplus of Employes.

"Every time I travel on the trains I am surprised at the surplus of unnecessary railroad employes. Efficiency engineers tell me that the roads could be run just as well with 20 per cent less help and few railroad officials will deny this statement. The difficulty is that the interstate commerce commission, congress, state legislatures and labor unions have unconsciously combined to compel the railroads to employ this surplus. Not only are the roads employing many more than they need, but this very fact hurts the morale of the entire body of men and reduces efficiency all around. When men know that their jobs are protected by legislation and—even though they have to do real work to do—that they cannot be discharged, their efficiency is at an end. On the other hand, when men know that they can be discharged and the work done by someone else, their efficiency increases. The far better result: which the railroads are now getting from their shippers are in illustration of this point.

Wages Not High.

"I am not for reducing the wages of railroad men. Their wages, with a few exceptions are not unduly high. I believe in good wages. But statistics clearly show that it is good neither for a man nor the company to continue with jobs that are not necessary. It seems to me that the interstate commerce commission could serve the employes of the railroads as well as the shippers and the public by revising its rulings so that the roads could operate more efficiently at lower expense.

"When the movement which has installed the 'one-man car' on the trolleys extends to the steam roads, then everyone, shippers, investors, employes and the general public will be better off."

PAULINE FREDERICK AND LOU TELLEGEN SCORING SUCCESES AT THE IDAHO Pauline Frederick and Lou Tellegen score a distinct success in "Let Not Man Put Asunder," the film attraction at the Idaho theatre. The picture is based on the famous novel by Basil King and the theme is remarkably well presented. Miss Bertha Cutler and her advanced dancing class presenting a special dancing prologue under the title of "The Dancing Nymphs of Barley," proves a most attractive added feature.

To complete the program there is the Shriners' special film and a Lloyd Hamilton comedy, "My Friend."

STARS TRY TO GUESS WHO-WROTE NOVEL

"Who wrote 'Flaming Youth'?" Publishers' statistics show that this book is the second best seller in America today.

Ever since its appearance early in the year the public has demanded more and more copies. Edition after edition has failed to appease the appetite of the nation's readers.

"Warner Fabian," the name attached to the manuscript when submitted to the publishers, is admitted a nom de plume. Thousands of readers have tried to find out the identity of the author but the publishers have steadfastly refused to reveal the secret, claiming that the author's true name cannot be disclosed without a violation of contract.

With the filming by First National of this remarkable story, with Colleen Moore in the role of Patricia, a demand for the author to step forth and lay claim to the distinction of having penned "Flaming Youth" has again

FIVE KILLED IN RESCUE EFFORTS

List of Awards by Carnegie Fund Commission Given Out; 17 Heroes Mentioned

PITTSBURGH, April 25 (AP)—Five of the 17 heroes recognized by the Carnegie Hero fund commission, in awards made public late today, lost their lives in the performance of deeds of valor. The commission honored the heroes by awarding one silver and 16 bronze medals. Dependents were granted pensions aggregating $1,380 annually, while $3,200 was given for educational purposes and $9,000 for other worthy purposes.

One woman was among those honored. Mrs. Lora A. Yocum, Brazil, Ind., a housewife, was given a bronze medal for her heroic attempt to save an aged woman from the path of a passenger train at Brazil on May 30, 1923. Both were struck, the aged woman dying. Mrs. Yocum was injured seriously but recovered.

The heroes who lost their lives and their citations were: Paul Edwards Massey, New Bridge, Asheville, N. C., 13 year old school boy, drowned when he tried to save another lad from Big Ivy creek at Democrat, N. C., on August 7, 1923. His father receives a bronze medal. G. Franklin Judy, Anderson, Ind., a still cleaner, was suffocated when he went to the aid of a fellow worker trapped in a crude oil still at Lawrenceville, Ill., on July 11, 1923. His widow was given a bronze medal and been made. But up to date the author of this startling story has remained under cover.

NATION'S CHIEF SEEKS SOLUTION ON IMMIGRATION

Coolidge Attempting to Evolve Suitable Answer to Exclusion Problem; Senator Stands Firm Against Admitting Japs

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—An arrangement with respect to Japanese immigration which will satisfy those advocating exclusion and at the same time will avoid any affront to Japan is being attempted by President Coolidge.

The president is hopeful that the arrangement can be effected and with that end in view will continue his conferences on immigration legislation with congressional leaders and Secretary Hughes. Just what sort of arrangement the executive has in mind was not disclosed at the White House where the announcement was made today that a compromise move was in progress. None of those who have conferred recently with the president would discuss the matter.

White House officials would not go so far as to say that the president would veto the immigration bill now in conference between the senate and house, should the proposed arrangement fail of acceptance, but visitors to the White House have found the executive greatly disturbed over the situation resulting from adopting by congress of the provision of Japanese exclusion.

Cult Explains.
Chairman Colt of the senate immigration committee, who was one of the six senators who voted against the immigration bill conferred with the president today and laid before the executive his reasons for viewing the exclusion provision as unnecessary, illogical and generally harmful to American interests.

Senator Colt later attended the first meeting of the senate and house conference on the measure but it was not discussed whether he carried to the conference any suggestion from the president. Some supporters of the bill as it passed the house believe that by adoption of the non-quota provision of the house measure a way might be found to satisfy those advocating exclusion and yet make the legislation less objectionable to Japan.

Discusses Bill.
The conference at today's meeting discussed the bill in a general way and proposed to take up the various differences tomorrow. Chairman Johnson of the house immigration committee, announced after the meeting that the conference plan to complete their work tomorrow so that the house may act finally on the bill Monday and the senate within a few days thereafter.

Chairman Johnson in a statement issued tonight declared that to place the Japanese under the quota basis applied to other nationalities "would mean formal abandonment of this nation's established policy to exclude aliens ineligible to citizenship and open the doors for a demand for naturalization on their part."

"It would give the Japanese," he said, "a privilege denied to all other yellow and brown races, an act of discrimination of which the others, including Chinese and Hindus, could justly complain, and if twice were admitted outside the quota, now or in the future, it would open the gates to a flood of picture brides for the 40,000 unmarried adult Japanese in continental United States."

Nampa Keeps Clean Record by Winning from Twin Falls, 11 to 6; Comedy of Errors Feature Attraction

Nampa baseball players kept their record clean Friday afternoon by beating the Twin Falls high school Bruins 11 to 6 in a billowing contest. The game was played in a comedy of errors on the part of the local fielders, who committed a number of blunders, including a home run and a single.

James and Mussell opened the game as batters for Twin Falls and Kelly and Woodie opened them for Nampa. The first inning went fast. In the second Schwesinger got on, Peterson singled and Jameson lifted the ball over the center field fence for Nampa's first two scores. Hammond lined out a pretty three-base hit for Twin Falls in the last half, but Kelly retired the next two with strikeouts. Both teams played nightfall for the next three innings.

Twin Falls Takes Lead
In the last of the fifth inning started the rally for the local club by clearing the apple to Ord, who muffed it. Garritty, next man up, singled and scored Timm, stole second and third. Only he threw out at home a few seconds later. "Doc" Jarman singled and Martyn got on. Cron's sent a hot one through shortstop and scored Jarman, and a double by Mussell sent two more scores across the plate. Mussell finished the scoring a few seconds later by coming in on Laval Jarman's single. The error was made in favor of the locals the errors came thick and fast. Smyth got a nice double and Woodie sent the ball through "Doc" Jarman and Eddie Martin into the weeds for a home run. Schwesinger replaced Kelly in the sixth.

This made the score 4-5 and a single by Timm and a double by Garritty brought it up to 4-6 in the matter part of the inning.

Triple for Nampa
Gray lined out a triple for Nampa in the first and the seventh and scored on two errors by Garritty which allowed Jameson to get on. Jameson tied the score when Chitwood sent out a single.

In the last half of the inning Timm singled, beating out the ball to first. He was thrown out second on an attempted steal and Garritty got on on Smyth's error. Schwesinger walked Jarman and "Chet" Jameson retired the Bruins with a nifty catch of Stan Cron's fly.

In the eighth Nampa increased the count to 7-6 with a single by Peterson and a double by Gray.

Timm Singles One
In the ninth Timm's error started things for Nampa. The Twin Falls shortstop juggled Woodie's easy out and Burdige sent out a single. A single by Schwesinger brought in a run and Jarman preferred to walk Gray, fill up the bases. At this inopportune moment Jameson chose to make things hot for the blue and white by clearing the apple for two bases and scoring three runs for Nampa. The Twin Falls pitcher's life was up now and he caught Jameson between second and third by tossing the ball to Cron, who with Timm's speedy assistance ran down the Nampa star. Twin Falls did not stage a ninth inning.

PRACTICAL TRAINING PART OF CURRICULUM AT ANTIOCH COLLEGE

Students at Ohio Institution Obtain Experience in Positions While Attending School; Alternate on Jobs

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio, April 25—Successful as an engineer in charge of several of the largest flood control projects in the United States, Arthur E. Morgan, as president of Antioch college, has introduced a pronounced innovation in college training with the result that educators all over the country are watching the outcome with keen interest.

Antioch is one of the older educational institutions of the country, having been founded in 1853 by Horace Mann.

As an engineer Mr. Morgan employed more than 1000 college graduates, and from experiences gained by contact with these men he formed the opinion that the programs of both liberal and technical colleges "give an incomplete training for modern life in the complex economic and social system of today."

Perhaps the most striking feature of Mr. Morgan's plan, in the public estimation, is the so-called co-operative idea, under which the student body is divided into two groups for alternating periods of five weeks study and five weeks work. A student attends college for five years and then goes to work in some industry, business or professional office. Meanwhile, the student's alternate comes back to college from the position the two have in common.

This plan is carried out regardless of the financial or social standing of the student. Positions are provided by a department of the school and the students are counseled regarding the nature of the work they desire. Mr. Morgan asserts that a fund of information, combined with reasoning power and the habit of diligent study, while they fill the requirements of academic excellence, do not prepare a young man or woman for effective living. Only by actual experience with the real world he or she is to enter on leaving college can they complete their preparation, he declares.

TAMMANY HALL LEADER IS DEAD

Death Suddenly Ends Career of Charles F. Murphy; Wigwag Flag at Half-Mast

City, was summoned home. Although her husband died before she could enter she was not aware of it until she was met by friends at this end of the journey.

Tammany Hall was the first to learn that death had invaded the home of its leader near Gramercy park. The party's big wigwag on Fourteenth street, half staffed its flag and went into mourning. Party chiefs and Tammany workers assembled from all outlying wigwags to pay tribute to the memory of their leader and speculate as to his successor. Police and traffic reserves controlled the throngs, that gathered about the old-fashioned mansion where he died.

Coming at a time when Tammany has girded itself for a strenuous presidential campaign and so soon after his protégé, Governor Alfred E. Smith, had formally entered the lists for the democratic presidential nomination, Mr. Murphy's death was mourned by high political leaders as a party misfortune, if not an actual calamity.

Plans Were Ready.
Fears in some quarters that Governor Smith's aspirations would be seriously handicapped were offset, however, by assertions of Murphy's intimates that the leader had schooled his organization so perfectly and laid his plans so carefully that his death would have no detrimental effect.

Tammany's greatest concern tonight was the choice of a man big enough to carry on where Murphy left off. A meeting of the executive committee hastily was called to discuss the situation, although it was understood that a new chiefman would not be named until after the funeral.

It was considered probable that the committee would follow the precedent set at the retirement of Richard Croker. In 1902, when a triumvirate of district chiefs was appointed temporarily to administer the organization, Murphy was a member of this trio, and it was only after he arose from his shoulders above the co-operators that he was named all-powerful head of the society. Some of the names mentioned as a possible successor were Governor Smith, and "Tom" Foley, Murphy's right hand man for years.

Murphy was particularly fond of the governor and those familiar with the political machinery of the metropolis attributed much of the executive's political success to the silent man in the wigwag.

DAIRYMEN GIVEN COMMERCE BODY PLEDGE TO HELP

Twin Falls Business Men,
Through Organization, Undertake to Assist in Underwriting Co-operative Society

Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, through action taken by its board of directors at a meeting Friday evening, pledged active support to the lately organized Twin Falls County Co-operative Dairy-men's association.

Directors of the association at this meeting presented its plan for co-operative marketing of more than 25,000 pounds of butterfat to be delivered to it each month by its members and explained need of obtaining about $14,000 capital to finance initial marketing operations. Banks of the county, the association's directors stated, have agreed to advance one-half of this amount, of $7,000, but will require collateral security for the remainder of the loan.

Chamber Accepts Share.

Chamber of commerce directors agreed definitely to undertake financing of one-half of the required amount of collateral security, leaving the remainder to be procured by the dairymen's association among its own members or elsewhere.

The chamber of commerce board delegated to W. T. Leslie, chairman of the agricultural department, the working out of plans for carrying the chamber's undertaking in this regard into execution.

Gustav Kunze of Duluth, president, and other officials of the dairymen's association, expressed gratification over the chamber of commerce offer of active support and co-operation and declared this offer a source of appreciation on the part of the business men of the fact that interests of farmers and business men in this region are one and the same.

City Success of Jerome.

Successful operation of the Jerome Co-operative Dairymen's association was discussed at this meeting by its manager, Roy B. Smith, who related similar success for the Twin Falls county enterprise. Mr. Smith referred to figures showing payment made by the Jerome association for cream during the past year in the aggregate of $181,088.73 which, he said, represented a return to the producers of $22,215.50 more than they would have received from the same product if marketed through competitive agencies.

Directors of the dairymen's association, all of whom attended the meeting Friday evening with the chamber of commerce directors, are Gustav Kunze, Duluth; E. S. Wood, Kimberly; L. S. Otto, Filer; D. J. Koenig, Hansen, and C. H. Hengeman, Twin Falls. They were accompanied by R. E. Broadard, county agricultural agent.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SOLVES LABOR PROBLEM

More than 400 Men Sent Out to Work on Farms This Spring Through Free
Agency; Most Find Steady Jobs

More than 400 men have been sent out to work on farms this spring through the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce free employment agency, Secretary Charles P. Dwight stated Friday evening. In a few instances, Mr. Dwight said, the same man has been sent to two or three different jobs, but in most cases men sent out by the bureau have found permanent employment.

Supply and demand in the farm labor situation in this region maintain a pretty even balance, Mr. Dwight said. Some days there are more applicants for work than there are jobs to be filled and again within a few hours the situation may be reversed.

Early in the season a scale of farm wages was adopted by employers at a meeting arranged for this purpose by the chamber of commerce in order that the chamber might be advised definitely as to what wages applicants for work might expect to receive and what farmers might expect to have to pay.

WATER DISPUTE SET FOR TRIAL

Judge Lee and Jury to Hear J.
R. Diebolt Claim for Damages for Non-Delivery of Water

Trial in the case of J. R. Diebolt against the Salmon River Canal company, before Judge T. Bailey Lee and a jury is scheduled to begin in the district court here next Monday. Plaintiff Diebolt in this action is seeking judgment for damages approximating $5000 from the canal company for alleged failure of the company to deliver water in 1921, to his lands which are outside the reduced area of the Salmon River project.

Six defenses have been set up in the pleadings by J. R. Diebolt, attorney for the canal company. These defenses include allegations that the secretary of the interior has refused to issue patents for the land in question and declined to permit sale and delivery of water right for these lands, and that delivery of water to these lands would constitute fraud as against landholders within the reduced area of the project.

Plaintiff Diebolt in this action is represented by Attorney E. M. Wolfe.

RUMOR ATTRIBUTED TO MIS-READING OF SIGN

Huge signs printed in red ink with the words, "Warning, Foot and Mouth Disease in California, etc." intended to keep tourists and campers off Nevada ranches along the borders are believed responsible for the rumor which developed a day or two ago that the disease had been reported in Nevada.

No such outbreak has occurred. Should the disease make its appearance state and federal veterinarians would be the first to hear of it and their first duty would be to report it to their respective headquarters.

Recent arrivals from Nevada say that the words "warning" and "foot and mouth disease" on the signs are highly conspicuous, whereas the balance of the placards which warn against dangers of spread of the infection by means of travelers, is in small letters, difficult to decipher.

MINTUNS GIVEN AWARD BY JURY

Verdict Assesses $1200 Damages to Hansen Ditch Rider
from D. B. Moorman

J. Elmer Mintun of Hansen, ditch rider, was awarded judgment of $1200 from D. B. Moorman of Twin Falls, promoter of the Milner irrigation project, by a jury in district court here Friday night in a trial of a suit instituted by Mintun against Moorman for about $8000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received by Mrs. Mintun and damage to his car in the collision of automobiles driven by Mintun and Moorman on the road south of Hansen on the evening of Thanksgiving day, 1922. Return of the verdict at 10 o'clock Friday night after six hours' deliberations concluded the trial which occupied two days. The verdict was signed by nine out of the 12 jurors.

The jury's award includes $82.60 as the cost of repairs to Mintun's car made necessary by the collision. The balance was awarded as compensation for injuries alleged to have been received by Mrs. Mintun. Both cars were damaged in the crash and each party to the suit charged the other with negligent driving as the cause of the crash. Mrs. Mintun, who was holding her infant son in her arms when the crash occurred, claimed that her arm was thrust through the windshield by force of the impact and that she had not since recovered full use of the arm.

Testimony of physicians was introduced by both plaintiff and defendant as to extent of Mrs. Mintun's injuries as disclosed by the X-ray, and civil engineers were called by both sides to testify as to the relative position of the cars immediately after the crash.

Plaintiff Mintun was represented in the case by Attorney T. E. Mackham, and defendant Moorman by J. R. Rothwell and W. Orr Chapman.
