Means Sends More Men Into the Field to Guard Against Spread of Disease to This State by Auto Tourists.

BOISE, May 1 (AP)—More than 600 additional deputies of the state department of agriculture were commissioned today by Mark A. Means, commissioner, to aid in the state's fight to prevent the spread of foot and mouth disease from California to this state. These new deputies are officers and directors of all cattle, horse, sheep, bull, swine and cow testing associations of the state.

Commissioner Means is asking all those men to serve without pay and all persons or vehicles of any description entering the state from California receive proper clearance papers before being admitted.

PRIZE COW KILLED.

SACRAMENTO, May 1 (AP)—The owner of Tillie Alcatraz, famous Yolo county dairy cow, killed by a firing squad in Los Angeles today because she had foot and mouth disease, received $750 in compensation for her death, it was stated today by G. H. Hecke, director of the state department of agriculture.

Tillie was known as the greatest milk cow in the world and was at one time worth $50,000. Although the cow had had calves which sold for as high as $10,000 it was said by men in Sacramento that she was no longer a breeder and that her value at the time of her death was principally an advertising and sentimental one. At the time of her death no insurance was carried on her life, a policy of $25,000 having been allowed to expire.

With Tillie Alcatraz there were killed other members of the Hecke cow family in Los Angeles, said to be the most valuable in the world and including among other animals a bull said to be worth $27,000. The average price to be received by the owner of Tillie is said to be $157.40 a head, Hecke said.

Passing of May Day;
Mine Strike Called

Two Hundred Workers in Colorado Walk Out; Communists and Police Clash in Berlin; Quiet in French Capital.

AQUIDAR, Colo., May 1 (AP)—May day was marked in Colorado with the beginning of a strike here of 200 coal miners who had been employed in the Broadmont mine of the Temple Fuel company. The mine shut down as a result.

The miners last night unanimously voted to suspend all working conditions of the state industrial commission to interfere with the effective date of a 15 per cent wage reduction declared by Frank R. Wood, operator of the mine.

MEXICO CITY—May day was observed in Mexico City and throughout Mexico by a virtually complete suspension of industry and business. Railway traffic was halted for five minutes at noon, no newspapers were published and street car service was suspended.

For Tragedienne

Homage Paid to Duse as Remains Are Taken to Italy for Funeral and Burial.

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—Elena Duse, the great tragedienne, today passed from America's shores forever. The homage paid to her in death as the casket containing her body began its journey to her sunny Italy, was in keeping with the acclaim she had won across the footlights of many theaters in many lands. Hundreds of men and women who had been the friends of her voice and stage presence crowded the church of St. Ferrer, where a solemn requiem mass was held.

Thousands later attended the public service in the Central park hall.

MENTION WALSH
IN SENATE QUIZ

Coan Said He Was Ordered to Investigate Prosecutor's Record; Clears Wheeler.

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Investigation of the charges in the indictment returned against Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, by a federal grand jury in his state practically was completed today by the special senate committee.

Chairman Coan, the last witness heard, testified that he had been sent to Montana by George B. Lockwood, secretary of the republican national committee to investigate the activities of Senator Wheeler, a democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the Daugherty committee, but also of another senator. After he left the witness stand Coan said his investigation was Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, prosecutor of the Daugherty committee.

Coan told the committee he had no personal knowledge as to any employment of Senator Wheeler by Gordon Campbell, Montana, pit man, to prosecute oil permits before the interior department. He stated that the department of justice had some important questions in hearing on the case which might interest the committee. It was agreed that Attorney General Stone would be asked to furnish them.

DIEBOLT AWARD
TO BE APPEALED

Questions at Issue Not Settled, Bothwell Says; Plaintiff Given $156 Damages.

Verdict awarding $150.27 damages to J. R. Diebolt from the Salmon River Canal company, returned by a jury in district court Thursday afternoon after almost five hours' deliberation, will not settle the questions at issue in the case, it was stated Thursday evening by J. R. Bothwell of counsel for the canal company, and appeal will be made to the state supreme court.

In this suit Diebolt sought damages of approximately $6000 for failure of the canal company to deliver water to his land outside the reduced area of the Salmon River project in 1921. Damages were awarded by the jury on account of loss of the rental value of the land resulting from failure to receive water. Nothing was awarded by the jury on account of Diebolt's claim for damages for alleged loss of an alfalfa seed crop. The verdict was signed by nine of the 12 jurors.

Defense on the part of the canal company in this case, Judge Bothwell stated, was based principally on the contention that the measure of damages was not the loss of crop or rental value of the land, but loss of the water right to said land, and it was in accordance with this contention that the company offered Diebolt $3000 in settlement of his claim for water delivery to this land. It was pointed out that settlement had been made with all but two owners of the land outside the reduced area.

Judge T. Bailey Lee, before whom the case was tried, in excusing the jury from further services in this case, announced that Judge Babcock authorized excusing the jury from further service at this term of court. The new term will open May 5.

TENSE SEARCH
FAILS TO SHOW
TRACE OF FLIER

Fate of Major Martin, Globe-Circling Commander, Still Undetermined; May Have Taken to Shelter.

BREMERTON, Wash., May 1 (AP)—After more than 30 hours, no report has been received at the navy's wireless station here from Chignik, Alaska, regarding the probable fate of Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the American seerif squadron encircling the globe, and his mechanic, Sergeant Alva Hursey, who left that point at 11:10 a. m. yesterday for Dutch Harbor.

CHIGNIK, Alaska, May 1 (AP)—Tense search by such agencies as the government could concentrate hurriedly went forward today between here and the Shumagin islands, 150 miles southwest from Dutch Harbor, Alaska, around the world, flight commander, who yesterday departed after taking the air at Chignik under desperate conditions for Dutch Harbor, 400 miles away.

The best hope held was that Major Martin and his mechanic, Sergeant Alva Hursey of Cloburne, Texas, had taken refuge in some cave on the desolate, rocky coast of the Alaskan peninsula.

The coast guard cutter Algonquin is directing the search. The Algonquin was at the Shumagin islands all last week, awaiting Major Martin's attempt to rejoin his comrades at Dutch Harbor. He was separated from them April 5, when he was forced down at Cape Igarak while they came on here and later went to Dutch Harbor.

The Algonquin has asked all craft in these waters and all cannery stations along the coast to search for the missing aviator.

There are numerous sheltered coves between here and the Shumagin despite the general rockiness of the region and the fact that the ocean heats up—its without resistance—some large islands. These harbors are too, they to appear on any navigation chart. A survey of them would require days and could be prosecuted only by launches and smaller craft.

SAYS OIL LEASE
NOT APPROVED

Assistant Secretary Shows up New Angle as to Authority of His Former Chief.

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—A search in the records of the interior department has failed to disclose that President Harding authorized Albert D. Fall as interior secretary to lease more than 2000 acres of land in California naval oil reserve No. 2 to the Honolulu Oil company, E. C. Finney, assistant secretary of the interior, testified today before the senate oil committee.

Moreover, the witness said, the lease which is to be the subject later of a special investigation by the oil committee, had not been approved by Edwin D. Bush, secretary of the navy at the time it was executed.

Secretary Finney agreed with Senator Walsh of Montana, the committee prosecutor, that the lease would not be valid without the approval of the president, as such approval is required under the terms of the general leasing law.

Finney said that during the Wilson administration, the Honolulu company had sought patents to the land which it claimed in reserve No. 2. Secretary Lane gave the matter careful consideration, he said, but, at the request of someone, did not act.

There still was no definite estimate of the persons injured, but relief persisted that the number wounded, 500. Senators Indulge in Oratory While
Tax Action Waits

Chairman Smoot Warns Night Sessions May Be Necessary Unless More Progress Made; May Offer Compromise.

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The tax reduction bill was suspended in the senate today on a vote of 60 majority which ran unchecked until adjournment when Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, warning that under such a program the measure faced delay, said he would call night sessions to speed up its disposition.

Pointing out that almost all of the vital provisions of the bill were yet to be acted upon, Senator Smoot called attention also that a conference on the measure would be necessary to adjust differences between the house and senate. This alone would require two weeks, he predicted.

Debate carried into the approaching fight on normal and surtax rates, and while Senator Bruce, democrat, Maryland, openly left the democratic ranks to support the Mellon surtax rates, Chairman Smoot conceded that there were "probably not enough votes" to gain adoption of this schedule, reiterated in the bill by the finance committee.

In this regard Senator Smoot denied he would negotiate for a compromise on the Mellon surtax rates within the republican party, but said he might offer compromise amendment on the floor if the treasury rates were turned down, to make the maximum surtax 32 per cent. Beyond this point, he declared he would not go.

The president's decision was announced in the following statement by him, made public at the White House tonight:

"After conference with Chairman Adams who has indicated to me that after the organization of the incoming republican national committee he does not wish to continue as chairman, I have decided to present to the new committee for their consideration for the chairmanship, the name of William M. NEBRASKA REPUBLICANS LINE UP ENDORSEMENTS

LINCOLN, May 1 (AP)—Nebraska republicans, in resolutions and speeches at their state convention here today, endorsed the administration of President Harding and Coolidge and lined up behind the state ticket selected at the April 8 primary, headed by United States Senator George W. Norris, standing for reelection, and Adam McMullen, Beatrice attorney, for governor.

The only disputed plank in the platform was the endorsement of former relief. The original draft of the resolutions committee favored "immediate legislation to relieve the farmer, such as is now proposed in measures before congress." Proponents of the McNary-Haugen bill sought to amend it to specify that measure. The amendment failed.

TRACK MEN SET FOR DISTRICT MEET AT FILER

Keen Competition Expected in School Event; Twin Falls Athletes Rated to Place High in Final Standings.

Everything is in readiness for one of the most keenly contested track meets ever held in northern Idaho when more than 125 athletes from 12 schools of the Central district gather at Filer today to battle for district honors and an opportunity to travel to the inter-district and state meets at Caldwell and Moscow the following weeks.

Coach Evans has this morning with the team of 18 blue and white athletes headed by Captain Leland Johnson. They are Harrison, Timm, Alvord, Walters, Martin, Murray, Gaudin, Rogers, Shon, E. King, Humphrey, Simpson, Jones, Withers, H. Brown, Johnson and Hall, in addition to Manager Fred Evans.

Work on the Filer track has placed it in first-class shape and fast races can be expected in all of the track events. The schools which will send teams to the meet this afternoon are: Huhl, Hurley, Filer, Gooding, Burdick, Jerome, Gooding, Burdick, Jerome, Shoshone, Twin Falls and Wendell. Supt. G. E. Bennett of the Filer schools is managing the meet and promising an interesting struggle.

Local Rate High. Rupert and Twin Falls are both ready to match every point and stand in first place on the score sheet. In the weight department, pole vault and high jump is to be broken with in the final count. Twin Falls has a greatly strengthened team since their meet with Rupert, with both boys, Murray and Alvord competing. Alvord will undoubtedly win the high jump, but only one race and the blue and white will have a chance to win the high jump in which to contribute to the Twin Falls score.

Judging from the results of other track meets of the state, the South Central district will furnish the full share of material for the state meet. In the 50-yard dash, which is first on the program, Twin and Long will battle one another for supremacy.

Long and Long will take the sprint for Rupert and go a long way for state honors which he held last year. In the 100-yard dash, which is first on the program, Long will be a sure winner.

Keen Competition. The 160-yard dash will perhaps be one of the most keenly contested events of the day. Withers, of Filer, has shown his ability to beat Stone, Rupert's winner in the event, and the two are said to be equally fast entrants entering from other schools.

Rupert's team will probably score in the broad jump and possibly in the weight with Burgess and Long competing, and they are regarded as almost a sure first in the half mile relay with their speedy team of Long, Stone, Burdick and Hockaday.

The best bet of the blue and white is Timm, who will undoubtedly pull Long hard in all of the sprints and three high in the broad jump. Timm is also a weight man in the 110 lb. class, tossing the shot with the best in the state, having tossed it better than 42 feet in practice and with double to back him up with tosses which are but inches behind the best in the state.

Bill Kernback, Hurley's former state champion, in the 1200 event. In the pole vault, Quinn of Hurley and Hinkley of Wendell are expected to win the blue and white relay. Hinkley and Hinkley of Rupert are first place. The high jump is still open to all comers and a dark horse will probably appear to capture the honors.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Walters were hosts at dinner Wednesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cleghorn and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Green, all of Jerome, and Mrs. C. A. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Merita Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Barry. The centerpiece for the table was a black Indian basket holding yellow and white jonquills and the table was lighted with white tapers in crystal candlesticks. Following dinner Mah Jongg was played, the favor being won by Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cleghorn.

Mrs. A. Dorman Johnson entertained with a charming luncheon Thursday at her home in the Colonial apartments. Covers were laid for 14 at three small tables decorated with fruit blossoms and daffodils. After luncheon bridge was played at two tables and prizes were won by Mrs. Emma Warren and Mrs. L. P. Morse. There was one table of Mah Jongg players, favor being won by Mrs. George Bailey.

Mrs. Jack Thorp was hostess to the Luncheon club on Thursday afternoon. Ten members were present and were seated at two small tables centered with narcissus. The rooms were attractive with decorations of apple blossoms and narcissus. Mrs. L. Cies won the prize in the bridge game which followed the luncheon.

Mrs. H. F. Bieler entertained the Episcopal Guild Thursday afternoon at the home of her son, Dr. Hal Bieler. The meeting was opened with prayer led by the president, Mrs. Thomas Robertson. Roll call was responded to with quotations from St. John. An interesting paper on St. Luke, prepared by Mrs. Allen Senior, was read by Mrs. C. G. Higgins. Late in the afternoon the hostess served divine refreshments assisted by Mrs. Hal Bieler and Mrs. Ray Logan.

The annual "holmeson" luncheon given Thursday by the Catholic Women's League at the Hotel Regerson was a grand social success and a fitting ending for the year's work and an inspiration to continue the good work for which the organization stands. There were about 85 in attendance. Jerome, Wendell, Filer and Huhl being well represented.

The decorations were carried out in the league colors of yellow, white and green, vases of daffodils, and jonquills interspersed with four being placed down the center of the tables. Crystal candlesticks held yellow candles and the cut cups were in the same shades.

The following splendid program under the direction of Mrs. D. E. Regan, was enjoyed: "Rosary," by Nevin; "Valse Fleur," and "Shifting Sandcastles," by Odell was played by a string quartet composed of Teresa Pfeiffer, first violin; Felix Adamian, second violin; Zenas Smith, cello, and Mrs. D. E. Regan, harp; vocal solo, "Carissima," Tenn, and "Lullaby," from Judylyn, by Goldard, by Miss Marie Brady; two vocal solos, "Gypsy Dances," by Weir, and "Salut D'Amour," by Edgar, Miss Teresa Pfeiffer; harp solo, "Paraphrase, Last Rose of Summer," by Mrs. D. E. Regan.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the association adjourned to the Business Women's club rooms where the program was continued. Mrs. E. M. Wolfe, president of the league, extended a warm welcome to the visitors from adjoining towns and Father Keyser, in his usual well chosen words of the splendid work the league is doing, gave as a motto, "Put your shoulder to the wheel and achieve success." Mrs. Barbara S. Lyons then gave two rather solos, "Berceuse," and "Forest Flamingo." Mrs. Ray Cochran gave two readings, "The Sound of the Violin," and "What Makes a Home." Mrs. Leonard of Filer gave two whistling solos, "Woodland Echo," by Wymer, and "Love's String," by John. Mrs. H. C. Maguire sang "Oh, Flower of All the World," and "Disappointment," with Mrs. Regan accompanying on the piano.

Members of the American Legion Women's auxiliary of Filer were guests of the Twin Falls auxiliary at a regular meeting and social session Thursday evening in the Business Women's club rooms. Welcome to the visitors was expressed for the local organization by Mrs. A. Wilton Peck, second vice president. A musical program arranged for the occasion included vocal numbers by a quartet composed of Mrs. O. P. Duvall, Mrs. W. Zenas Smith, D. A. Salmon and Nelson Hayward, a trio composed of Mrs. I. H. Masters, Mrs. W. H. Dwyer and Miss C. L. DeLong, Mrs. A. W. Peck and Mrs. J. G. Thorpe.

CARPENTERS WINS. VIENNA, May 1 (AP)—Four and one-half minutes sufficed for Georges Carpentier to defeat Arthur Tompkins, the British light heavyweight, in what was to have been a 20-round bout here today.

TOO MANY RAILROAD MEN?

The chief reason for high freight rates, says Roger Hanson, is the employment of too many men by the railroads and the consequent swelling of the payrolls. He thinks the railroads could get along just as well, handling the same volume of business
as effectively, with 20 per cent less help. Transportation experts, says the statistician, back him up in this conclusion.

He does not blame the railroads for it, but blames the Interstate Commerce Commission, Congress, the state legislatures and the railroad labor unions, all of which combine to make the employment of so many men compulsory.

It is by no means the first time this charge has been made. When freight rates are so vital, especially to the farming population, the subject is worth looking into open-mindedly.

The rules requiring the employment of so many men were intended to promote public safety and welfare along with the safety and welfare of the railroad employees themselves. If they are unreasonable and excessive,

the public ought to know about it and insist on action accordingly.

Not only should all justifiable steps be taken to reduce railroad expenses and thereby reduce freight rates, but in a time of growing labor shortage and diminished supply of foreign labor, no hands should be wasted on railroads, in coal mines, in factories or anywhere else. It should be possible to substitute mechanical devices
for men to an ever-increasing extent,
on the railroads as in other industries.
And the continued employment of superfluous hands will not do the employees themselves any permanent good, in any industry.

GO FISHING

Herbert Hoover, turning his engineering mind upon American public life, finds exactly what is wrong with it. There are not enough fishermen in office. He told the Izank Walton league about it the other day, thus:

"A fisherman must be of contemplative mind, for it is often a long time before nature possesses of faith, hope and even optimism, or he would not fish."

All these qualities, he argued, make for good government.

This is almost an inspired revelation.
The truth of it should appeal instantly to any intelligent mind. The one thing needed is found. What our public representatives at Washington need is to go fishing. And to tell the truth, it wouldn't do the public itself
any harm.

REDDY WOODPECKER'S FUN

By DADDY

CHAPTER V.

Reddy in a Box.

JACK and Janet had caught six English sparrows in a bird trap. They had them shut up in a wooden box.

The English sparrows had tried to steal the nests of the robins and so they were to be banished, far, far away.

Reddy Woodpecker perched in a tree
noddled his head at Jack and Janet.

"What have you in the box?" asked he.

"We have had sparrows we are going to send away," said Jack.

"Aren't you afraid they will get out of that box?" asked Reddy Woodpecker.

"Why, they can't get out," said
Jack. "This is a stout box."

"I would get out if I were shut up in a box," boasted Reddy Woodpecker.

"You couldn't keep me a prisoner like those foolish sparrows."

Jack did not like Reddy Woodpecker or his boasting talk.

"I'll bet you I can keep you shut up in a box," said he. "I'll agree that if you can get out I'll feed you on nut meals for a week. And if you can't get out you are to stop hammering on the tree outside our window to wake us up early every morning."

"That is a good bet," said Reddy Woodpecker promptly. "Shut me up."

"I'll have to get a box ready," said Jack. "You go and get yourself a good meal for you will get hungry shut up in my box. Come back in half an hour and I'll be ready."

"I'll not need a meal, because I'll get out of your box in ten minutes," boasted Reddy Woodpecker. "But I'll be back in half an hour."

Reddy Woodpecker flew away and Jack ran into the woodshed to get a box.

"Reddy Woodpecker has a sharp bill.
He will bore his way out of the box and win the bet," said Janet. Jack laughed.

"He will have to have a very, very sharp bill to get out of my box," he replied. Jack found a wooden box and near it was an old tin breadbox. The breadbox just fitted snugly inside of the wooden box. Then Jack ran and got his crayons and with these he made the inside of the tin box just like a wooden box.

As he finished Reddy Woodpecker
flew back.

"Are you ready?" shrieked Reddy Woodpecker.

"As ready as you are, Reddy," answered Jack, his words sounding like a joke. "Pop into the box."

Reddy Woodpecker did as he was told. "I'll pop right out again in a little while," he declared.

Jack slammed the cover of the tin
box down, and then put on the cover of the wooden box outside of it.

Tap, tap, tap, went Reddy Woodpecker, beginning his attack on the inside of the box.

Jack snickered and Janet giggled.

Tap, tap, tap, tap, Reddy Woodpecker pecked harder than before. He couldn't understand why he didn't make a hole in the box. Tap, tap, tap, tap, tap, tap. He went on pecking, not knowing that he was trying to get through tin. Tap, tap, tap, tap, tap.

Jack and Janet laughed as Reddy Woodpecker's attack became more deperate. They ran into lunch leaving him tapping away.

An hour later, when they came out,
Reddy Woodpecker was still tapping
but rather feebly now.

"Let me out!" cried Reddy Woodpecker. "Oh, Jack and Janet, let me out!"

"Can't you get out?" laughed
Jack.

"No! No! Let me out!" wailed Reddy Woodpecker.

"Then you lose your bet," cried Jack, throwing open the covers of the boxes. Out hopped Reddy Woodpecker looking very weary and scared and humble. "You must not wake us up any more early in the morning."

"I can't understand why I couldn't get out. Something must be wrong with my bill. I must go to a doctor and have it fixed," wailed Reddy Woodpecker.

"Hah! Hah! It is a joke on you," laughed Jack. "You were trying to get out of a tin box instead of a wooden one. We fooled you didn't we?" And Reddy Woodpecker had to admit that they had.

Good News For Every Woman—

YOU will be glad to starch with Linit
—the remarkable new starch which gives a beautiful French finish to all your personal wash garments and household fabrics.

Linit is the scientific starch which penetrates the fabric, prolongs its life and gives a soft, pliable finish that makes even ordinary cotton goods look and feel like linen.

This remarkable starch is made by an improved process that keeps it fluid
after it cools.

Use Linit according to directions and,
unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is one reason why Linit goes much farther than the old-fashioned kinds of starch
and is easier to iron with.

LINIT costs 10c at all Grocers. Get a package and begin the modern way of starching your fabrics. You will never go back to the old-fashioned starching.
