MELLON BILL IS DEFEATED BY SENATORS

Democratic Substitute Measure Adopted with Insurgent Republicans Supporting Opposition Forces.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—The much discussed Mellon tax plan was laid to rest today with the adoption by the senate of the entire democratic income tax substitute. The minority's schedule of surtax rates was approved, 43 to 40, while its revision of normal rates was adopted, 44 to 37. The republican insurgents joined in with the democrats in supporting the entire program.

Chairman Smoot, of the finance committee, said that when the bill came up on final passage he would propose a compromise as was done in the house after the democratic program first had been approved there. He is hopeful that the senate will accept the compromise as the house did.

The surtax rates written into the bill today provide for a reduction of the present maximum of 50 per cent. to a maximum of 40 per cent. and for corresponding revisions at along the line. They are almost similar to those adopted by the house.

The normal rates accepted were two per cent on the first $4,000 income, 4 per cent on the second $4,000 and 6 per cent on all above $8,000. This compares with the present rates of 4 per cent on the first $4,000 and 6 per cent above that amount.

Senate Moves Quickly.

In adopting the democratic substitute, which was offered by Senator Simmons, North Carolina, the senate moved with startling rapidity. The first vote came within a little more than an hour after consideration of the tax bill had been resumed. The others followed in rapid succession.

Division of this the heart of the bill, proceeded in only desultory fashion for about an hour when Senator Jones, democratic, New Mexico, demanded a vote. There were less than a score of senators present and leaders on both sides held hurried conferences. Announcement then was made that both sides were ready for the test of strength. The first roll call was on the Simmons substitute surtax rates and resulted as follows:

For the Simmons normal tax: republicans: Brookhart, Capper, Frazier, Johnson of California, Ladd, Norbeck and Norris—7. Democrats—Arkansas, Ashurst, Brand, Caraway, Cope, Dial, Dill, Ferris, Fletcher, George, Gerry, Harris, Harrison, Hef-

Senator Gooding Asks for Action On Investigation

Idaho Man Unable to Gain Attention to His Demands for Probe into Charges Made Against Him.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—Another futile effort was made in the senate today to get action on a resolution for investigation of published charges that Senator Gooding, republican, Idaho, was favored in loans by the war finance corporation.

Senator Gooding, who introduced the resolution early last month, asked the status of the measure, and Senator Fess, republican, Ohio, replied that the finance corporation had made a report that "was so complete an exoneration" of Senator Gooding that the audit committee had decided an investigation was unnecessary. The letter from the corporation showing loans made in Idaho was read.

Senator Gooding told the senate he had no interest in any of the livestock associations through which the advances were made to the farmers, but that the president of the bank in which he is a director, had been active in organizing one of the corporations.

"This is a rather extraordinary course that the committee has taken," declared Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader. "The senator from Idaho ought not to be satisfied with it."

Senator Robinson then moved that the resolution be taken out of the hands of the committee, but Senator Jones, republican, Washington, who was presiding, ruled the motion out of order.

Police Asked to Guard Voters in California City

Rumor of Organized Effort to Defeat Passage of Big Bond Issue Causes Council to Request Special Aid.

LOS ANGELES, May 5 (AP)—The city council passed a resolution today asking the chief of police to detail as many officers as possible to the polls tomorrow.

The request was the result of a statement by Councilman Ralph Criswell that he had heard a "gang of thugs had been imported from San Francisco" to intimidate citizens attempting to vote in favor of the $21,000,000 power bond issue. Other councilmen "pool-pooled" the report, but voted for the resolution.

Earthquakes Are Everyday Matter in Philippines

Over One Hundred Distinct Shocks Recorded in Archipelago Since Last September, Records Show.

MANILA, May 5 (AP)—Since September 1, 118 earthquakes have been recorded in the Philippine archipelago, according to the weather bureau.

"This large number of shocks," says a bureau report, "probably indicates that adjustments occurred along the entire west Pacific corresponding to the great disturbance in Japan."

LABOR BOARD IS ASSAILED

Insurgent Republicans Join with Democrats in Effort to Abolish Entire Body.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—Democrats and republican insurgents combining again forced the house today to take up the Barkley bill to abolish the railroad labor board, but failed to make much progress with the measure in the face of dogged opposition by organization republicans which reached the proportions of a full-fledged filibuster.

Outnumbered by a majority which fluctuated from 13 to more than 40, the republican organization with Representative Longworth, the floor leader, as strategists yielded ground grudgingly, restoring to practically every known parliamentary maneuver in an effort to wear down proponents of the bill.

Roll call after roll call, each consuming half an hour, was demanded, points of order were raised which precipitated almost endless discussion, and the house remained in session throughout the dinner hour, voting down several motions by Mr. Longworth to adjourn.

Supporters of the bill, unable to obtain assurance that its consideration would be resumed under house rules, before two weeks from today or to get an agreement limiting debate, kept their ranks intact as the fight progressed. Apparently they were floundering in an uncharted sea, however, as the house was operating under the new discharge of committee rule with no precedent to guide it.

On a motion by Representative Barkley, democratic, Kentucky, author of the bill, to discharge the commerce committee from jurisdiction of the measure, which would set up a new scheme for the settlement of railroad disputes, its friends mustered 104 votes to 181 cast in opposition. Forty republicans supported the discharge motion, while 28 democrats, among them Representative Garrett, the minority leader, voted against it.

TO EXPLAIN FORD OFFER

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—Time has been allotted tomorrow for testimony of Henry Ford's chief engineer, W. B. Mayo, at the Muscle Shoals hearing of the senate agriculture committee.

But the committee had not been informed late today whether Mayo would appear.

The engineer was recalled from Washington by Ford a few days ago and it was not known whether he would return to testify. Chairman Norris has made it plain that unless Ford himself or some one authorized to speak for him, appears for questioning he will issue a subpoena calling for Ford's presence before the committee.

W. G. Walton, engineer employed by the Tennessee River Improvement association, continued his testimony at today's hearing, arguing for acceptance of Ford's offer without comment.

BUSINESS ASKS FOR FREE HAND IN THE FUTURE

American Industry Waits Upon Government Assurance of Change in Policy, Says Head of U. S. Chamber.

CLEVELAND, May 5 (AP)—American business is faltering, awaiting a renewed expression of governmental policies, Julius H. Barnes of Duluth, Minn., president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and spokesman for three-quarters of a million affiliated members, said tonight in outlining the aims and ideals of the organization on the eve of the first general session of the twelfth annual convention. He urged a vigorous reevaluation of the nation's traditional American policy of competitive private enterprise, unhampered by untidily directed governmental influences.

The address concluded the preliminary session of the convention in which the national council, composed of representatives of some 1300 affiliated commercial organizations, expressed almost unanimous opposition to the pending bonus bill and approved the program for the general sessions which are scheduled to begin tomorrow morning. Taxation, transportation, immigration, foreign trade as influenced by the Dawes report and various problems of industry are scheduled for consideration in group meetings during the next four days.

To Choose New Head.

A successor to President Barnes will be selected by the new board of directors Thursday. Considerable pressure has been brought to induce Mr. Barnes to stand for re-election, and it is generally conceded that he would be easily elected. Thus far he has given no indication of his attitude. Robert F. Grant, former president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, and Lewis E. Pierson of the Irving Bank-Columbia Trust company, New York, are mentioned for the post in the event of Mr. Barnes declining to accept for another year.

Seventeen members of the board, one-half of which is elected annually, were named by the council meeting today. The sessions were attended by approxi-

Daring Aviators May Yet be Rescued; Plane Reported Seen on Bering Coast

Natives Describe Course Followed by Major Martin

Evidence Indicated Missing Aviator Was Forced to Land on Bering Coast; Steam Tug Returns Without News.

FALSE PASS, Alaska, May 5 (AP)—A check of reports given to searching parties by natives and trappers between Chignik, Alaska, and the Bering sea made it appear certain tonight that Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the United States army squadron flying around the earth, missing since last Wednesday, flew from Chignik northwestward toward the Bering sea and made a forced landing on the Bering coast, according to reports received here.

On receipt of the information from two trappers that they "felt certain" they had seen a plane yesterday near Port Moller on the Bering sea coast of the Alaska peninsula, searching parties were sent from Chignik, by way of Black lake, Chignik lake and villages and bays on the Bering sea side. They were expected to return Wednesday. The opinion of the trappers indicates according to searching parties, that Major Martin flew northwestward.

The steam tug Mowat returned today from Port Moller after unsuccessfully searching the Bering coast from Moller to Holden.

A dog team, which has also been combing the snow-covered wastes in this district, also returned to Chignik without any definite word of Major Martin.

Additional dog teams were to be dispatched toward the Bering sea coast tomorrow. Major Martin's three companions remained at Atka island today and were scheduled to leave for Atka island tomorrow on the next leg of their globe journey if weather conditions are suitable.

BOOST TRAINING CAMPS.

BOISE, May 5 (AP)—Major Jason Walling and Oakley G. Kelly, U. S. army aviators from Vancouver, arrived in Boise tonight to advertise for citizens military training camps this summer. Before landing they showed the city with pamphlets advertising the camps. They will leave Tuesday morning for LaGrande, Ore.

Senate Passes Bill Making Revision in Laws of Vet Bureau

Measure Providing Changes Approved Without Taking Record Vote.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—The bill providing for codification and revision of laws governing the veterans' bureau was passed by the senate late today without a record vote.

The senate turned aside from consideration of the tax bill to take up the veterans' measure and adopted a number of new amendments before passing it. It first voted down a proposal to increase the salary of the director of the bureau from $10,000 to $12,000.

WILL CONTINUE TETON HEARING

Plaintiff's Evidence to be Completed at Driggs Before Utilities Commission.

BOISE, May 5 (AP)—Introduction of the plaintiff's evidence in the case of the Teton coal company against the Oregon Short Line railroad company started at Driggs last Friday, will be completed Tuesday before the public utilities commission here. The coal company is asking the commission to order the railroad to repair the tracks leading to the mines in Teton county so coal can be shipped.

A full presentation of the plaintiff's case has been delayed because of a "legal hitch" uncovered at the Driggs hearing. On the complaint filed with the commission the Teton coal company is represented as the complainant. If P. Samuels is president and general manager of the company and, with several associates, has the mine leased and it is held the lessee are the proper ones to make the complaint.

Mr. Samuels arrived in Boise with his associates and all day Monday was in conference with them and members of the commission. He also held a short

SEARCH FOR MISSING MEN IS RENEWED

Story Brought in by Men Who Believe They Saw Plane in Flight Infuses New Life into Hunt for Pair.

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 5 (AP)—An entire new face was today given to the hunt for Major Frederick L. Martin, whose United States army air squadron has gone on without him in a flight around the earth. The change was effected by a report that two men "felt certain" they had seen a plane yesterday near Port Moller, on the Bering seacoast of the Alaska peninsula.

The squadron, minus Major Martin's plane, was at Atka island, in the Aleutians, preparing to depart tomorrow for Atka island, 530 miles from Atka and the last stop scheduled in American territory.

The report from Port Moller was received at False Pass and caused immediate planning to extend a search of the Bering sea side of the peninsula that was not about after it became known that Major Martin had departed Wednesday from Chignik, Alaska, 730 miles east of Atka island, but had not appeared at Dutch Harbor where the other three planes of the expedition were then waiting for him.

Plane Believed Sighted

The report said that two men at Port Moller, which is on the opposite side of the peninsula from Chignik and 100 miles west of Chignik, had noticed something circling in the sky above some hills in the Aleutian range yesterday evening. The men thought that they saw "between the wings" of an airplane, although they estimated it to be 10 or 15 miles away.

Investigation of the south side of the peninsula had been considered complete until the Port Moller story opened a possibility that Major Martin had reached the vicinity of the eastern end of the Aleutian islands, 220 miles from Chignik. The coast guard cutter Albatross was tonight still engaged in the marine search south of the peninsula. Every cove from Chignik to the Shumagin islands, 150 miles northwest from Chignik, had been entered, it was reported, without finding a sign

Cuban Rebellion Spreads to Scene of Revolt of 1895

Province of Santa Clara Included in Territory Invaded; 150 Men Join Move; Troops Take to Field.

HAVANA, May 5 (AP)—The revolutionary movement which started last week in the province of Santa Clara has spread to Oriente province, according to an official announcement made tonight.

Approximately 150 men revolted in the historic little town of Baire about 40 miles northwest of Santiago de Cuba. It was at Baire that the last revolution against Spanish rule in Cuba was begun in 1895. Immediately the revolt was announced the government sent soldiers in pursuit of the rebels. Information was not forthcoming from the office of the secretary of the interior as to the number of troops that took to the field, but it was said it was sufficient to handle the situation.

FILE MURDER CHARGE.

MOSCOW, Idaho, May 5 (AP)—A charge of first degree murder was filed today by Prosecuting Attorney Frank H. McGee against Delmar Mathes of Kendrick, Idaho. The charge against Mathes resulted from the death of Fred Arnett, 29, yesterday, following a fist fight between the two.

INDIANA WILL MAKE CHOICE OF CANDIDATES

State-wide Primaries Among Hoosiers Scheduled for Today Present Many Problems to Voters of Both Parties.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 5 (AP)—Indiana voters, confronted with a host of candidates for public office, will register their preference at a state-wide primary election tomorrow.

The election offers republicans an opportunity to express their preference for either President Coolidge or Senator Hiram Johnson of California, for the presidential nomination.

Democrats have a choice of eight candidates for the gubernatorial nomination while the republicans must choose from six aspirants to the governorship.

In addition both parties will nominate congressmen and county officers. They also will elect precinct committeemen who form the nucleus of the party organizations and state convention delegates.

Republican voters find themselves confused by last minute efforts of candidates to gain control of the party organization machinery. The fight for the organization results from the provision of the Indiana law that makes it necessary for a gubernatorial nomination to obtain a majority of all votes cast in order to be declared the nominee. Failure of any candidate to obtain a majority leaves the selection of a nominee to the state convention. With so many candidates in the race, the probability of any one obtaining a majority seems slight.

RECEIVERS MAKE PEACE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 5 (AP)—An order vacating the motion for a hearing on the dispute between the two receivers in the Tappan Dome annulment case was made today by federal judge T. R. Kennedy in United States district court here.

The two receivers had differed about "shooting" offset wells in the field and Judge Kennedy, in whose court the receivership of Tappan Dome was established, ordered a hearing for May 15. Since that time, the difficulties have apparently been settled and in so far as no one wanted to appear at the hearing to further argue the "shooting" the judge vacated the May 15 hearing order.

Ten Twin Falls county lads, under appointment announced for Citizens Military Training camps this year, will spend four weeks, vacations, June 11 to July 12, at Fort Douglas, Utah, with a varied program of athletics, games and musical entertainments in addition to military training—all at the expense of the federal government. Application of only one of the 10 boys allotted to this county has thus far been approved, according to advices received here Monday, when opportunity remained for nine others to enter the camp.

Attendance at the training camp does not involve obligation for military service, but objects of the camp are announced as being "to bring together young men of high type from all sections of the country and thereby developing closer national and social unity; to teach the privileges, duties and responsibilities of American citizenship; to stimulate patriotism; interest young men in the importance of military training; to teach self-discipline and obedience, and to develop the physical standard of the American youth through participation in military exercises, athletic games and sports, conducted under expert directors."

Treaty Signed Between Honduran Political Factions and Central American Nations.

SAN SALVADOR, May 5 (AP)—A treaty of peace was signed Saturday at Amapala by the three discordant political factions in Honduras and representatives of the Central American nations. The document was signed in the presence of Sumner Welles, who was sent to Honduras by President Coolidge to mediate in the situation and endeavor to bring about a cessation of the revolution. The signatures were affixed to the treaty on board the United States cruiser Milwaukee.

The treaty provides that free presidential and congressional elections shall be called by the provisional president, General Vicente Tosta. All the parties to the compact agreed to abide by the results of the elections. Under the provisions of the treaty amnesty is to be accorded to all political offenders. The carrying out of the treaty is guaranteed by all the signatories.

The convention was signed at the final meeting of the conference, called at the suggestion of the United States, to consider adjustment of the internal situation in Honduras and its signing was witnessed by representatives of Central American countries as well as Mr. Welles.

The delegates of the Central American powers and Mr. Welles telegraphed President Tosta that their govern-

Budget Bureau Receives Bill from White House for Study as to Cost; Presidential Veto is Anticipated

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—The soldier bonus bill was transmitted by the White House today to the budget bureau for preparation of an estimate of the cost of the measure and for study by officials of the treasury department and the veteran's bureau.

White House officials expect the measure to be returned and laid before President Coolidge within three or four days. The ten day period allowed the president to act on the bill will expire May 16.

The president is not expected to make known his intentions with respect to the bill until he acts, but some of those close to the executive are making no secret of their belief that he will veto the measure.

ments would accord recognition to a government constituted in accordance with the agreement which was drawn up by Mr. Welles. Welles, his work completed, left yesterday on the cruiser Milwaukee for Santo Domingo to resume his post as American commissioner to the Dominican republic.

Details of the agreement signed by the Honduran factions were not made available here but the state department said it was understood that President Tosta's cabinet had not yet been definitely constituted, and "in view of this situation it is hoped that the provisional government will be able to carry through its task in such a manner that there will be no recurrence of the disturbed situation."

SAYS EVIDENCE NOT EXAMINED

Secretary of Republican National Convention Scores Special Investigating Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—George B. Lockwood, secretary of the republican national convention, declared in a statement tonight that "most of the evidence" against Senator Wheeler of Montana, had not been examined by the special senate committee appointed to investigate the senator's indictment.

The statement resulted from the speech made in the senate Saturday by Senator Walsh of Montana, charging an attempt to "intimidate senate investigators" and suggesting that contempt proceedings be instituted against those responsible for the inquiries made in Montana by Blair Conn.

"Intimidations of which Senator Walsh complains," said Mr. Lockwood, "has been the biggest factor in producing a situation wherein so many men charged with the duty of defending the republican party, have taken their hiding lying down."

"So far as the Wheeler case is concerned, the only frame-up in that connection is the effort which has been made to discredit and break down a thoroughly grounded case pronounced good by every officer of the department of justice who has examined the evidence, including the attorney-general. Most of the evidence has never even been looked at by the senate committee engaged in investigating the case and little of it has reached the public."

THE GUMPS—LEAD ON, MACGUMP!

DECLARES NAVY MUST COMPARE WITH THE BEST

Secretary Wilbur Announces Himself As in Favor of Sea Fighting Force the Equal of Any in the World.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—Declaration that he stood for an American navy not only equal to any other, but a "dominating one," along lines not restricted by "mutual agreement," was made in an address here today by Secretary Wilbur before the republican women of the District of Columbia.

"I stand absolutely for a one hundred per cent navy, the equal, at least, in every respect of any power on land or sea," Secretary Wilbur declared. "That is my personal reaction, and I believe it should be the attitude of the government and the mission of the department. Although I say at least one hundred per cent equality, I see no reason why we should not undertake also to advance navy along lines not restricted by mutual agreement so that we will again be in a dominating situation, and then again secure mutual limitations on all activities along lines at present unrestricted by any treaty."

Remarks Are Significant.
The secretary's declaration of his personal opinion with respect to the question of the strength that should be maintained for the navy in cruisers and other auxiliary craft upon which there exists no treaty limitations as to numbers any power may possess, was viewed as particularly significant since the report of Admiral Cootner, commander in chief of the United States fleet on its winter maneuvers, laid stress on the weakness of the fleet organization in these particulars.

Secretary Wilbur's suggestion that the United States might embark upon an auxiliary shipbuilding program with the view in mind that the Washington government would be in a position then to seek agreement among the naval powers for extension of limiting treaties to other craft than battleships, battle cruisers and airplane carriers also attracted attention in view of the recent statement by President Coolidge in New York making a preliminary proposal for new discussion of limitation of armament.

No Definite Project.
There was nothing to indicate, however, that Mr. Wilbur had any definite projects of the kind in mind when he made the statement. It was recalled that Washington officials have almost invariably held that the key to the situation which resulted in the call for the Washington conference by President Harding was the tremendous capital shipbuilding program upon which the United States was engaged.

If that program had been completed, the American navy would have been overwhelmingly greater in modern war craft than any other, it has been said, and it was by sacrificing this program that the other naval powers were induced to join in the limiting agreement.

One of the most fascinating and entertaining stories which we have ever seen is on view this week at the Orpheum Theatre. She is the main attraction in the tavern of her uncle, and news of her charm of face and figure and her poised quickening dancing drew many from far and near.

The Americanization of foreign-born citizens began as a war measure, but it is now seen to be essential in peace, for it is necessary that the high American standards of living be maintained by all. These high standards of living spell health and promote a sense of well-being. Astonishing improvement in the health and contentment of the foreign-born after a little assistance in learning our language and customs and facilities for living has been noted.

This work in the Americanization of the foreign-born is fostered by the American Legion, the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A., and other similar organizations; and most of our large industries all over the country are running factory classes in English and in civics, etc. And membership in various employee welfare organizations is generally made dependent upon citizenship.

One striking fact is brought out in the records of this work: the immigrants most willing and ready to take advantage of this opportunity to improve their condition are the immigrants who have come from countries farthest advanced in education and sanitation, etc. For instance, the census of 1920 shows that of the foreign-born white population of the United States, the highest percentage of nationalities becoming citizens were: Luxembourg, 72 per cent; Germany, 72 per cent; England, 63 per cent; Denmark, 69 per cent; etc. At the lower end of the list stand Greece, 16 per cent; Spain, 9 per cent; Albania, 7 per cent, etc.

Another striking fact is that all who do take an interest in this work take an intense interest in it. It is really pathetic to see the sacrifice they make and the pride they take in becoming Americans. But it is also very gratifying to realize the rapid strides made by them in gaining prosperity and health.

The moral of this tale lies in the duty it discloses. We as Americans have the duty of assisting the various patriotic organizations in promoting this work. If we are going to limit the percentage of immigrants admitted it is surely the part of wisdom for us to make real American citizens of those admitted. To do this we shall have to assist in teaching the ignorant, administering to the sick, elevating the outlook of the fallen, promoting general welfare. We shall have to encourage the sick to disclose their sickness, that health authorities may be able to control communicable diseases. The severe epidemic of foot-and-mouth disease now ravishing California was known to be present long before the authorities discovered its presence. Indeed, the owner of the first hog to contract the disease marketed his hogs as fast as possible to avoid loss by discovery. That is all wrong; and the great wrong done to California by the selfish and ignorant hog-raiser amounts to a calamity.

"Mr. Citizen, discover the Healthfulness of Patriotism."

Darwin Said:

"Men differ less in capacity than in their determination to use the powers they have."

Had he lived in this day he could have employed these same words to describe modern business men and their use of the telephone, which is now a tremendous "power" in the business world.

Long Distance makes possible voice-to-voice contact which annihilates space, permits spoken salesmanship to close deals where cold type might fail and brings a man's customers and prospects as close to him as the instrument on his desk.

Some business men are "determined" to use this telephone "power" to its maximum and through its use are forging ahead to bigger business and larger profits. Others "differing less in capacity" but lacking in "determination" prove how correct the famous old scientist was when he penned these words.

POCATELLO NINE ASKS FOR GAME

Manager Cosgriff Receives Challenge; Continues Search for Material.

Steps toward organization of a baseball team for Twin Falls this year, becoming noised abroad, have reached Pocatello with the result that Manager C. P. Cosgriff has received from George E. Klingland, manager of the Pocatello Bears, request for a meeting between the Pocatello and Twin Falls teams at an early date. The Pocatello team, which is said to be a consolidation of both the Pocatello teams in the Three B league last season, has scheduled a game with Buhl for May 18 or thereabouts, and is desirous of crossing bats with Twin Falls players while in this part of the season.

It is manager Cosgriff's purpose to organize here a team that will measure up with any that come this way. A satisfactory infield has been secured, Mr. Cosgriff stated Monday evening, and attention is now turned toward securing the most capable battery to be gotten together. In this connection Mr. Cosgriff announced that he had received a communication from "Spud" Morley, who is now in Copper Lake, Utah, inquiring as to prospects for baseball here this season. Morley combines with capability as a pitcher, sureness as a fielder and dependable hitting ability. It is believed that his addition to the team would strengthen the organization materially. Others expected to don the new uniforms of the Twin Falls team include "Bry" Kleffner, now on tour with the University of Idaho nine; and "Sooty" Stiver.

Call for players to show up for try-out brought out a considerable array of promising material last week, including Munsell, stellar high school basketball; Fix, Richardson, Whitcomb and Linville. The lists have not yet been closed, and invitation to aspirants for place on the team to show up for the workouts this week was renewed Monday by Manager Cosgriff.

Work on the grandstand and bleachers which are to be doubled in capacity to accommodate a crowd of 4,000 persons, will be finished about the middle of the week, and opportunity for players to practice will be improved by removal of piles of lumber and other material that cluttered the grounds last week.

CALIFORNIA PRIMARIES TO COVER ALL PARTIES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5 (AP)—California voters will go to the polls tomorrow in the presidential primary election to register their choice for candidates to the republican, democratic, prohibition and socialist national conventions. There are no contests on the prohibition and socialist tickets and the candidates of those parties are the only ones who say that their selection is assured.

The registration of the state is 1,400,595 and overwhelmingly republican. The members of that party eligible to vote number 1,012,701; the democrats have mustered 339,300 voters; the prohibitionists 18,281, and the socialists 17,888. The remainder of the registration is confined to the "declined to state" and "miscellaneous" classifications.

Public interest in the primary is directed chiefly at the contest on the republican ticket between the supporters of President Coolidge and Senator Hiram W. Johnson, although there is no small measure of speculation over the outcome of the contest on the democratic ticket between candidates pledged to William G. McAdoe and the "no preference" or anti-McAdoe ticket.

Campaign managers tonight all predicted victory for their candidates by large majorities.

How to Give a Linen Finish To Household Cotton Goods

FOR the starching of all household cotton goods use Linit, the remarkable starch discovery.

Linit is distinctly different from ordinary starches. After Linit is thoroughly dissolved and is ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING like water—with a "milky" appearance.

USE but a little amount of Linit, according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like.

That is why Linit goes much farther than the old-fashioned kinds of starch, and is much easier to iron with.

Ordinary cotton napkins, table-cloths, curtains, etc., have a soft, pliable finish like pure linen when starched with Linit.

Linit penetrates the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

Linit is sold by all grocers—10c.

CLAIMS BUREAU IS IN NEED OF HOUSECLEANING

Senator Oddie of Nevada Launches Sharp Attack on Veterans' Organization and Demands Drastic Action.

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—Existence in the veterans' bureau of a "ring" which controls its policies and operation was charged in the senate today by Senator Oddie, republican, Nevada, who declared "all the laws in the mind of man would not make the bureau function properly so long as the present conditions obtained."

The Nevada senator asserted that the six assistant directors now in the bureau should be ousted forthwith, and that similar action should be taken in the cases of "every official brought over from the war risk insurance bureau." He declared appropriations made for veterans' relief had been "squandered and misapplied," and that the bureau operated under a policy which "presumed a majority of ex-service men to be dishonest."

Senator Oddie, who is a member of the special senate committee appointed to investigate the administration of Director Charles R. Forbes, criticized the manner in which Major General John O'Brian, the committee counsel, had directed the bureau. Three months before it began, he said, Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, the present director, was given a complete set of the questions which would be asked. "Officials of the bureau were thus able to prepare answers for the committee," he said.

Effort Comes Late.
The attack upon the bureau came late in the day when few senators remained from the strenuous hours devoted to the revenue bill.

Senator Oddie launched into his vigorous denunciation of conditions after several amendments offered by him to a pending bill which proposed the codification of laws affecting the bureau had been defeated.

The desirability of ousting the assistant directors and other officials in key positions, had been presented to Director Hines, the Nevada senator said, but added that "that of the ring is under the influence of the ring."

"The president is very anxious that the bureau shall function properly," he said, "but he is advised by the director that everything is proceeding satisfactorily, and the director is under the influence of this ring."

No Reply to Letters.

Many veterans got no reply to their inquiries to the bureau, Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, interjected, "or when they do, they receive only form letters."

He said he understood that General Hines had issued an order stating that "what he was pleased to call political influence should not be noticed."

Employees of the bureau who reported the conditions to President Harding were "thrown into the street," Senator Oddie resumed, and "orders recently were issued that employees should not confer with members of congress."

"It is sheer tyranny," declared Senator Oddie.

MELLON TAX BILL IS DEFEATED BY SENATORS

Only Two Democrats.
Against the Simmons normal rates: Republicans—Hall, Borah, Brandegee, Bursam, Colt, Cummins, Curtis, Dale, Edge, Ernst, Fernald, Fess, Gooding, Hale, Harrell, Keyes, Lodge, McKinley, McLean, McNary, Moses, Oddie, Pepper, Phipps, Reed of Pennsylvania, Strickland, Smoot, Spencer, Stanfield, Sterling, Wadsworth, Warren, Watson, Weller and Willis—35. Democrats—Bruce and Edwards—2. Total 37.

Thirteen senators were absent. Ten of them were paired as follows: Owen for, with Elkins, against; Trammell for, with McNamick against; Ralston for, with Lenroot against; LaFollette for, with Bayard against; Senators Glass, Coughens and Shipstead were absent and were without pairs.

The Simmons rate having thus been defeated for the Mellon surtax schedule the vote on the passage of the democratic or the Longworth compromise contained in the house bill and the senate affirmed its approval of the minority rates by a vote of 43 to 40 with no change in the lineup of senators.

The normal rate substitute then was offered and there was brief discussion with Senator Smoot alone deferring the Mellon rates of 3 per cent on incomes under $4,000 and 6 per cent on those above that sum.

The roll call resulted as follows: For the democratic substitute: Republicans—Brookhart, Frazier, Howell, Johnson of California, Ladd, Norbeck and Norris—7. Democrats—Adams, Ashurst, Brandegee, Caraway, Cope and, Dial, Dial, Ferris, Fletcher, George, Harris, Harrison, Heflin, Jones of New Mexico, Kendrick, King, McKellar, Mayfield, Neely, Overman, Pittman, Randall, Reed of Missouri, Robinson, Sheppard, Shields, Simmons, Stanley, Stephens, Spencer, Stanfield, Sterling, Wadsworth, Warren, Watson of Indiana, Weller and Willis—38. Democrats—Bruce and Edwards—2. Total 40.

Jones Declines to Vote.
Senator Jones, republican, Washington, was the only senator present and not voting, he announced that he declined to vote because he would have a personal pecuniary interest in the legislation. Fourteen senators were absent. Ten of them were paired as follows: Underwood for, with Elkins, against; LaFollette for, with Bayard, against; Trammell for, with Lenroot, against; Ralston for, with Greene, against; Glass for, with Cameron, against.

Senators Owen and McNamick were paired, but it was not announced as to their positions. Senators Howell and Coughens were absent and were not paired.

Without a roll call the senate then reaffirmed its vote, and the democratic normal rates then were substituted for those in the house bill, which were 2 per cent on incomes up to $4,000; 5 per cent on incomes between $4,000 and $8,000 and 6 per cent on all above the last named sum.

Chairman Smoot said his first compromise proposal would provide for a maximum surtax rate of 30 per cent and against the maximum of 25 per cent in the Mellon plan. If that is rejected, he will propose a maximum of 32 per cent.

Before there is a final vote on the bill, senate republicans probably will hold a party conference to discuss and seek to agree upon a general compromise. This conference would not be binding, however, on those who

GIRLS LIVE ON 45 CENTS A DAY

University of Idaho Students Demonstrate Value of Systematic Choice of Foods.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, May 5 (Special to The News)—Fifty-five cents a day was the average per capita cost of feeding a family of five living under normal conditions, according to the report of three girls majoring in home economics who have finished their first month in the departmental practice cottage.

Girls, with Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the home economics department and Miss Grace Zuercher, assistant professor of art and design, composed the family of five which made this record.

Under a systematic division of work, the girls took complete charge of the cottage, serving in turn in the capacities of hostess and cook, business manager and laundress, and maid. A program of meals and general housekeeping, was provided, the intention being in as many aspects of real home life as possible.

Careful buying of foods, economic cooking and preparation and attention to scientific food values were largely responsible for keeping down expenses. Balanced menus were made out by the hostess a week in advance and were strictly adhered to. None of this work was allowed to interfere with the regular outside activities of the girls, who attended classes as usual.

Nine girls, all majors in home economics, are taking the practice cottage work, three of whom keep the cottage each month. The girls pay all bills and keep a careful record of these expenditures.

The girls taking this course are Marie Fekken of Boise, Glatha Hoffelt of Moscow, Velma Hamilton of Kamiah, Muriel Tuttle of Moscow, Ruth Mares of Moscow, Rachel Gandy of Penn Yan, N. Y., Alma McDougal of Kellogg, Norma Barnes of Idaho Falls, and Margaret Munroe of Ogden, Utah.

Veto Is Hoped For.

The resolution against the bonus, introduced by Meyer D. Ruthschilt of New York, representing the National Jewelry Board of Trade, expressed the hope that "his own conviction would lead the president to veto the measure."

It reaffirmed support of the work of the veterans' bureau in caring for the wounded and disabled, but expressed the view that "there is a strong public sentiment against using the taxing power of the government to levy on all our people in order to make such a grant to able bodied veterans."

Another paragraph of the resolution cited that the "hesitancy in business and industry today, manifestly slowing up employment is largely based on a mistrust of the sincerity of a congress that will vote such a grant at a time when both individuals and industries greatly need revision of the war tax burdens in order to restore the spirit of confident enterprise which should stimulate all business and employment."

With the preliminary fight over the income tax rates disposed of hurriedly, leaders expected that the bill could be brought to a final vote by the end of this week.

SEARCH FOR MISSING MEN IS RENEWED

of Major Martin or his companion, Staff Sergeant Alvin I. Harvey.

Natives Aid In Search.

A party of two natives is seeking the missing aviators from Chignik to the Bering sea. The cause of this expedition was the statement of a trapper that he had seen a plane over Lake Chignik, 29 miles from Chignik, an hour after Major Martin reported from Dutch Harbor.

Only meager reports had come here today concerning the weather between Atka and Attu, but those few indicated that storms which beset the aviators and which were believed to have caused Major Martin to go north instead of sticking to his scheduled route, which was southwestward, have been succeeded by pleasant weather. "Ideal weather for this time of year," was reported at Palse Pass, at the eastern end of the Aleutian island chain and at Dutch Harbor late yesterday.

The coast guard cutter "Haida," according to the latest report received, was speeding to Atka to see the fliers hop off and the U. S. flagships, patrol boat Elder, was due at Attu tomorrow. Aboard the Elder was Weather Observer Blair, who hoped to reach Attu in time to inform Atka tomorrow whether the weather was suitable for a flight. This communication is possible because of emergency wireless facilities established on Atka and Attu at a time when it was thought that the Algonquin would be working with the Haida to aid the fliers.

EASTERN REPRESENTATIVES.
George B. David Co., Inc., 171 Madison Avenue, New York, A. L. Reuter, 1411 Harrison-Building, Chicago.

We of The News will miss Augustus W. Husted.

For over fourteen years, with the exception of a single twelve-month suspension, "Gus," as he was familiarly known, has been one of the men upon whom this newspaper depended, not only for the product of his daily job, but for aid and advice and friendly counsel which he drew from the depths of a life's experience in the printing business, which was over at the disposal of his fellow workers.

A. W. Husted was a man of the simple, kindly, frank and direct sort. Day by day he did his work, but he did more than this. He helped The News through many a knotty problem, he solved difficulties, sometimes of a serious sort, and as they presented themselves; younger men who sought his aid never sought in vain, and many a printing shop in Southern Idaho cheerfully acknowledges its debt of thanks for help in an emergency and assistance when assistance was badly needed.

For years Mr. Husted was Foreman of The News plant. More recently he preferred a less exacting role, but ever and always The News' problems were his problems and over and above the work of his particular department he did not hesitate to tell us when, in his ripper judgment, we stood in need of the advice he was so well qualified to give.

Mr. Husted's rules of life were few and simple but consistent always. His honesty was of the rugged kind, which he carried into every phase of his activities. Next only to his family he loved his work and for recreation he sought the beauties of the great outdoors. He was a man of warm and lasting friendships and in his personality he represented the very highest and best type of American citizenship.

We of The News share in the distress of family and of friends. We are the poorer for his leaving.

IRRESPONSIBLE RULERS

A good many Americans must have rubbed their eyes incredulously as they read the chorus of praise which went up for Charles P. Murphy after his death, and the complimentary things said of Tammany Hall, which he controlled for so many years.

The wonder is natural. It is necessary, in a case like this, to analyze the thing. Murphy has been praised because he possessed many real virtues, as a man and leader, but often used his power for a good purpose. Kind words have been spoken of Tammany, even by its enemies, because under Murphy, it had improved considerably, being not only a human institution, as it always was, but a more honest institution than it used to be. Murphy seldom tolerated graft, at least of any direct and flagrant sort, and in his later years often placed excellent and able men in office.

It is well, however, not to let such considerations blind anyone to the essential evil involved in the career of even the least objectionable man ruling alone over a powerful political organization. Bossism is none the less vicious, in itself because a particular boss may at times perform genuine public service. As the New York World has well said, "The evil of that system lies not in the character of the boss, but in the fact that the party machine was dominated by a

ON THE RIVER BANK

By DADDY

CHAPTER II.

The Tale of a Tail.

DADDY Dog, as told yesterday, had found he couldn't fish and smoke and snooze at the same time. He had lost his fish, his pipe, and his sleep. Besides that he had a sore back where embers from his pipe had burned him.

"I know a better way to fish than to fish with a pipe," said Daddy Dog to Jack.

"What is the better way?" asked Jack.

"How-wowl! Tie the fish line to my tail," barked Daddy Dog in answer.

"Then if a fish grabs the hook he can't get away." Jack was quick to act on this idea. He tied a fishline to Daddy Dog's tail and fastened a hook to the line. When the hook was baited, Daddy Dog floundered his tail, sending the hook and line skimming over the water.

"How-wowl! Now I can fish and snooze at the same time without any trouble," barked Daddy Dog. "If a fish bites the bait on the hook, the jerk will wake me up."

So Daddy Dog turned his back on the river and stretched out in the sun for a nice little nap.

Balky Sam, the army mule, came browsing along that way. He snorted as he saw Daddy Dog napping as he fished.

"Hee-haw! Hee-haw! Hee-haw! That is a funny way to fish," barked Balky Sam. "I believe I would like to try it myself."

So Jack got out another fish line and hook and tied the line to Balky Sam's tail. Balky Sam had a shorter tail than Daddy Dog, but it was a very brisk tail, made so by the fact that Balky Sam used it so much to break away flies. He could throw the hook out as far in the river as Daddy Dog could.

Jack and Janet and Daddy Dog and Balky Sam fished and fished, but for a long time the fish came nibbling at their hooks. Though they didn't know it this was because old Grumpy Dog Fish was nosing about in the river and was waiting at the other fish were after a time Grumpy Dog Fish saw the bait on Daddy Dog's hook.

"Woof!" said Grumpy Dog Fish to himself. "There is a nice fat worm. I think I'll eat it." And Grumpy Dog Fish grabbed at the worm. And the instant he grabbed he was sorry, for he took the credit he had earned for Grumpy Dog Fish's gills.

man who never had to face the test of popular election."

Irresponsible power is always bad, for this very reason. Free government is no longer free when candidates and policies are determined by political masters who hold no public office and possess no public credentials. If there are to be political bosses, they should be elected by free, open choice of the people, and retired like when the people cease to want them.

A FINE LEGACY

"It is my wish," wrote Charles H. Baker of Mohagan Lake, N. Y., in his will, "that my children be strong and sturdy and courageous; that my boys strive for honor, fame and reasonable competency rather than for great fortunes; that they have reverence for women; that my daughters have the ambition to be happy, helpful, true and loving wives, and to take for husbands men of character, thrift and industry rather than of fortune or title."

The testator also left a considerable fortune to his children. But is not this paternal wish, coming to them so impressively from beyond the grave, the finest part of their legacy—and as fine a legacy as any children could have?

Ice for Fruit.

An average of 10 tons of ice is required for the refrigeration of a carload of fruit in transit between southern California and the Atlantic seaboard.

Married Women Bob Hair.

If "Ned" Gilman, the single young woman lets her hair hang about her shoulders in all its glory, but immediately after marriage she must have it "bobbed."

Marriage Age in Turkey.

Under the Turkish law there is no minimum age fixed for the marriage of girls. A girl may as well "walk properly and can understand the necessary religious service" is permitted to become a wife.

Aunt Het.

"Fixin' a roast duck is a sight of trouble, but I always feel repaid when pa asks the blessing in that enthusiastic way."

If your property is valuable and is advertised in the classified—you'll find your buyer.

"I Caught Two Fish."

"Woof!" Grumpy Dog Fish was scared. His big powerful body flashed around in the water and away he went. Daddy Dog at the other end of the line felt a jerk. It woke him up just as he figured it would, but it did more than that. It pulled him off the bank. Daddy Dog had not expected to catch a fish of the size of Grumpy Dog Fish. The mighty jerk astonished him.

Daddy Dog tried to get a foothold on the bank, but Grumpy Dog Fish was swimming hard. He dragged Daddy Dog into the water.

Then there was a lively tug of war. On one end of the line was Grumpy Dog Fish swimming for all he was worth deep down in the river. On the other side was Daddy Dog swimming dog fashion and making the water boil under his boating paws. But a fish is a better swimmer than a dog, and Grumpy Dog Fish slowly and surely dragged Daddy Dog out into the stream.

Jack and Janet on the bank did not know what to do. They wanted to help Daddy Dog, but how? Just happened. Balky Sam caught a fish—a blundering bluggin'. And as Balky Sam dragged the bluggin' out of the water it flopped in the face of Daddy Dog. Quick as a flash Daddy Dog caught the bluggin' in his mouth. He hung on for dear life. And as Balky Sam walked away from the river dragging the bluggin' out he dragged Daddy Dog and Grumpy Dog Fish too.

"Hee-haw! Hee-haw! I caught two fish," barked Balky Sam.

"How-wowl! I caught one of them," barked Daddy Dog.

But Jack and Janet were so busy laughing at the two they did not know to which the credit belonged for catching Grumpy Dog Fish.

Breakfast Food "Matrimonially Speaking"

By Hugh McKay.

My wife always tries to get on the wrong car whenever we take a train.

Of course, if it's any way possible she'll do her best to get on the wrong train. But I generally manage to stop her in time.

That's as far as my control over her goes, though.

"Look there! Let's go into that car—it's not nearly so full as these others," she exclaims as she wriggles free of my restraining hand and starts heading for the steps of the smoking car.

Sometimes I catch her before she gets there—sometimes the conductor has to stop her and say: "You don't want to go in there, lady."

Another favorite car with her is the one that goes only as far as some junction or other and is laid off there. If she can't get on the smoker this is always her second choice.

I'm just waiting for the day when we take a train with the railroad president's private car attached. He'll be surprised to see Mrs. McKay come crashing in!

Tomorrow: "My husband is an amateur plumber."

The only agar manufacturing plant outside of Japan is located at Los Angeles. The agar is a product of seaweed and is much used for medical and other purposes.

Pits Instead of Silos.

The Royal Agricultural Society of England is conducting experiments with pits dug in the ground for the storage of fodder as a substitute for the more expensive tower silos.

"Don't say!" exclaimed Dinah.

"And what do you do with all your silver?"

Sellers' amiable grin gave place to an expression of fear.

"That's telling," he muttered. "Sitting Bull knows, and I know. That's enough to know. And no one else has time to think about me. They're whispering on the street today that some new men are in town, some that have colored a railroad train. I don't want those fellows to hear about my savings. Still I hope they are here. They throw their dust around mobility freckle."

"How do you know that unless you know them by sight?" quickly asked Dinah.

"Why, word agents always do. Very liberal. I can always tell when any of them are in here. Why, after the treasurer-council was robbed of twenty-five thousand dollars a day. Five thousand dollars! A small amount—well, it'll turn out all right. I'll be a thousand-ounce brick a day. Good lord! And I can't get Joey haired up about it!"

"Then you'll go after silver next?" prompted Dinah.

Pyrites scratched his nose and wrinkled his forehead. He finally decided. "Silver's good. I always like to feel I've got a good silver ledge back of me for a rainy day. Maybe I'll take one more whack at the gold before getting that silver. It's safe. No one will find it. Going in to see Joey?"

"I dropped in to see him, but he's busy."

"He's running the private games in there and sitting in a big one. Uses the house for the private games. Per-haps you'd better wait, and wait until he's hunting for a big game. His good nature just now is like a gas-vein, wide on the surface and tapering away to nothing underneath. Every time he gets back from a trip he's crazy for a killing."

"Maybe I'm feeling hungry for a big game," said Dinah.

Pyrites darted a quick glance and wrinkled his weather face in a grin.

"Young blood! Always the same. Excitement even if they have to play against their own money. Another day is five dollars on a pair of jacks than to locate a bonanza mine. Well, if you're keen to be skinned all you got to do is to pass through the door and tell the hallway to hand your name and business. I never touch cards. I don't like taking odds."

"There wouldn't be any Deadwood City if it wasn't for a man's love of risks," lightly responded Dinah.

He passed under the canvas flap and through the narrow door. There was a long hall with several doors, each with a sign. No voices were to be heard—gold dust was doing all the talking. As Dinah stood irresolute a Chinaman emerged from a door at the end of the hall, carrying a tray of glasses. On discovering Dinah he glided forward, his stoic face demurely asking her business. Dinah found pencil and paper in his pocket and wrote:

There's silver indications near Bear Butte, right under our noses. There's oceans of silver there. I know it. Why, man alive! Just me and my pros have traced out five miles of silver ledge. "I dropped in to see him, but he's busy."

"He's running the private games in there and sitting in a big one. Uses the house for the private games. Perhaps you'd better wait, and wait until he's hunting for a big game. His good nature just now is like a gas-vein, wide on the surface and tapering away to nothing underneath. Every time he gets back from a trip he's crazy for a killing."

"Maybe I'm feeling hungry for a big game," said Dinah.

Pyrites darted a quick glance and wrinkled his weather face in a grin.

"Young blood! Always the same. Excitement even if they have to play against their own money. Another day is five dollars on a pair of jacks than to locate a bonanza mine. Well, if you're keen to be skinned all you got to do is to pass through the door and tell the hallway to hand your name and business. I never touch cards. I don't like taking odds."

"There wouldn't be any Deadwood City if it wasn't for a man's love of risks," lightly responded Dinah.

He passed under the canvas flap and through the narrow door. There was a long hall with several doors, each with a sign. No voices were to be heard—gold dust was doing all the talking. As Dinah stood irresolute a Chinaman emerged from a door at the end of the hall, carrying a tray of glasses. On discovering Dinah he glided forward, his stoic face demurely asking her business. Dinah found pencil and paper in his pocket and wrote:

FOREIGN DEVELOPMENTS
TURN PRICES UPWARD

Results of German Elections and Enlarged Credit Facilities Are Factors; Financial Situation Improved

CHICAGO, May 5 (AP)—German election results and talk of enlarged German credit facilities in the United States were among the reasons given to explain wheat price upturns which took place today. The market closed unsettled at the same as Saturday's final 1.32 1/2 higher, May $1.04 to 1.04 1/2, and July $1.06 3/8 to 1.06 3/4, with corn at 1.18 decline to 1.18 1/2, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to 5c drop.

Although more attention was devoted to business likelihood that an increase of assumed wheat demand as well as other European countries had been brought considerably nearer, wheat traders seemed to be impressed also with indications of improvement in the financial situation in the northwest. A bank merger at St. Paul was taken here to mean that no further selling of wheat would be expected to result from that city's failure there. A disposition to go slow, however, on either side of the market was shown pending action on farm products legislation at Washington.

After scoring a moderate advance in price during the early dealings, the wheat market eased down temporarily, but rallied again at the last. The transient setback was due to the fact that a decrease of the United States visible supply total was less than expected. On the other hand, shipping out of some wheat taken in on May contracts here helped to restore the upward slant of values, and so led to 10,414,000 bushels decrease of the Canadian supply.

Corn and oats were government mainly by the action of wheat. Ideal weather for corn planting was offset by a liberal decrease of the visible supply of corn.

Heavy receipts of hogs tended to weaken provisions.

NEW YORK, May 5 (AP)—Stock prices moved irregularly higher in a day's quiet market. Strength and activity in a number of popular industrial and specialties particularly in the motor chemical and equipment groups, indicated a resumption of post operations which undoubtedly had been inspired by easy money rates and relatively high current earnings of a number of these companies.

Publication of government statistics showing a large increase in the gas line stocks in April was followed by heavy selling of the oil shares. Atlantic refining broke three points to 107 1/4 and losses of a point or more were made by Maryland, Pan-American, B. Gooden, Houston, Phillips Petroleum and Pacific, but all made good recovery.

President Coolidge's veto of the Bureau pension bill and the apparent success of the German coalition government supporting the Dawes plan for reparations payments were generally regarded as constructive factors.

Foreign exchange rates showed little change in quiet trading. Sterling sterling at $4.84 to $4.85; French francs were quoted around 6.45 cents. Belgian francs broke about 7.12 points to 6.27 1/2 cents.

Increases of $1000 in the sanitation, fuel, and recreation and of approximately $5,000 in the waterworks fund were voted in the budget at the meeting last evening. Action in this regard being taken as a precaution against possibility of unforeseen expenses in the two departments. The increase in the waterworks fund was voted on the strength of information that a considerable amount of wooden water main will have to be replaced this year.

The matter of the collection of delinquent payments for theatre permits was discussed briefly and turned over to City Attorney A. J. Meyers.

Bills in the total sum of $9,111.31 were ordered paid. They were classified as follows: general, $3874.90; spraying, $494.66; sprinkling, $591.10; waterworks, $2,285.15; street lighting, $1,075.35; library, $394.15.

PLANS TO WIN WAGER BY WALKING TO WASHINGTON

George W. Hart, a Canadian war veteran, left Twin Falls this morning for the sixth day of his 3500 mile hike across the country to Washington, D. C.

May I, Hart, who is a young man living in Vancouver, B. C., left that city on a bet that he could traverse the distance of over 3500 miles to Washington, D. C. within 30 days by walking and taking such lifts along the road as were offered him.

Monday evening he visited Mayor S. L. Hodgins and obtained the mayor's signature on his credentials which he presents in each city that he makes a stop. He was optimistic and expressed confidence that he would easily be able to fulfill his conditions of the bet as he left for Pontiac, his next stop.

Many tourists, according to Hart, who visited this city on a similar hike four years ago, are traveling eastward at the present time, which helps the young man to fulfill his agreement.

CLUB WOMEN WORKING ON PLANS FOR CONVENTIONS

Clearing up of Foot and Mouth Disease Situation Stimulates Arrangements for Assemblies.

Word of improvement in foot and mouth disease situation in California is good news to members of the General and Western Federation of Women's clubs whose plans for annual conventions to be held June 2-13 in San Francisco, have been hampered by uncertainty with respect to the livestock plague, according to Mrs. Alice J. Sweeley, president of the Western Federation, who Monday issued the following statement:

The Federated women of the whole United States are much rejoiced over the news of the improved conditions in California.

It is now believed that the foot and mouth disease is under control and that danger is fast being eliminated.

Every one is again planning with the old enthusiasm to go if possible. We have not known exactly what to have published about this meeting, since so much regarding it seemed to be in doubt. We feel that we can definitely plan, unless something happens to again alarm us in regard to this dread disease.

First of all, then, must come knowledge of the favorable rates which the railroads are making for this great meeting. I am informed that one can get these rates as early as May 15. One can get all information from our local ticket agent.

We are not sure of a special car for Idaho. If this is arranged you will be promptly informed through this paper.

Then the second great interest must center around the hotels at Los Angeles. A list of these, rates per day, distance from the meeting place will be given you by Mrs. M. J. Sweeley or Mrs. Marshall P. Browne, both of Twin Falls, both to be reached by telephone.

The convention opens June 2, closes June 13.

Headquarters for both General and Western Federation, Hotel Biltmore. All meetings at Philharmonic auditorium, one-half block from the Biltmore.

The program is one of very great interest. In our next report we will tell you some of the treats along these lines which are being prepared for us.
