GET ASSURANCE OF ACTION ON FARM AID BILL

Senate Bloc Wins Complete Victory on Behalf of Aid Legislation; Norbeck Yields Position Stubbly.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The farm bloc won a victory today in their fight to obtain assurance of house and senate leaders that a vote would be taken on the McNary-Haugen bill at this session of congress.

A promise of consideration was given in the face of a threat by Senator Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, to force a vote on the bill in the senate by offering it as an amendment to the revenue bill, which, leaders declared, would doom both measures to defeat.

Senator Norbeck yielded his position stubbly. He was not satisfied with the statement of the chairman of the house rules committee that a rule would be reported in time to assure passage of the farm bill, but demanded promises from both senate and house leaders that no obstacle would be placed in the way of a vote.

Product Passage.

Obtaining this, he informed the senate that he would withhold his support from the McNary-Haugen bill to come to a vote first in the house. He declared the bill probably would pass the house and senate, and "certainly would pass both if it got a little boost from the White House."

Announcement of Chairman Shell of the house rules committee, that the bill would be given right of way, followed a conference with President Coolidge. It was stated, however, that the president had given no indication as to his views on the measure.

On his return to the capital, Chairman Shell held a conference with Speaker Gillett, Representative Longworth, the republican leader, members of the republican steering committee, and several members of the house agriculture committee, including Chairman Haugen.

Later Chairman Haugen and other representatives conferred with Senator Norbeck, Senators Lodge, Massachusetts and Senator Curtis, Kansas, republican leader, and Senator Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota.

The present McNary-Haugen bill differs materially from the original measure, the house agriculture committee having made numerous changes and finally reporting it as a new bill. Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, co-author of the original bill, said the new measure was a "much better bill."

The bill would create a $200,000,000 corporation to purchase the excess American farm crops at a ratio price derived from an average price existing from 1905 to 1914. The corporation would sell the products to the export market at not less than the ratio price and to the domestic trade when deemed advisable but not for less than the purchase price. The corporation would have power to borrow funds up to five times the capitalization.

German Generals to Attend Noted Fascisti Ceremony

Only Official Prohibition Order Can Stop Big Demonstration; Arrival of Ludendorff Occasion for Ovation.

HALLE, Germany, May 10 (AP)—Unless federal authorities at Berlin or the Prussian government decree an eleven hour prohibition, the German fascisti organizations will carry out their program for an elaborate outdoor demonstration on the occasion of the unveiling of a monument to Field Marshal von Moltke tomorrow, it was declared tonight.

General Ludendorff, Field Marshal von Mackensen and other celebrities will attend the ceremony and advance guards of the various Hitler organizations, the veterans corps and the national student league were arriving hourly tonight. General Ludendorff's arrival was made the occasion for an ostentatious ovation.

The local police have announced that ample provision has been made to safeguard order and have notified the communists that they will not be permitted to hold a counter demonstration. The report that the former crown prince was scheduled to participate in the ceremony has been definitely denied.

Caterpillar Army Starts Invasion of Los Angeles

Housewives and Blackbirds Enlist in Defense Against Hordes of "Crawlers"

LOS ANGELES, May 10 (AP)—Blackbirds and housewives are fighting shoulder to shoulder against an army of billions of caterpillars moving against the southwestern outskirts of Los Angeles and devouring plants and flowers in its path.

The housewives, complaining that their children can not come home from school without walking on worms, are sweeping caterpillars off their sidewalks with brooms and spraying them off their lawns and flower beds with insecticides. The blackbirds, on the contrary, are not complaining, but are gulping down happy appetites and arriving in new swarms hourly for the feast.

Naturalists say the caterpillars are of the variety which, after passing through the cocoon stage, become the Painted Lady butterfly. Facetious observers, however, noting the eagerness with which the voracious invaders enter the city, have dubbed them Los Angeles worms.

SENATE PASSES REVENUE BILL

Revision Measure, Minus Provisions of Mellon Plan, Goes to Conference.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Stripped of every vestige of the Mellon plan and clothed in the democratic program, the tax reduction bill was passed today by the senate, 69 to 15.

As a result it goes to conference for adjustment of differences to the house with its life at stake. Republican organization leaders in the senate today frankly admitted they would recommend veto of the measure by President Coolidge, if it was not transformed by the conference.

The president had asked congress for the Mellon plan. Although his views were not made known on the bill passed by the house, he carried only the remnants of the Mellon scheme, he has voted specific opposition to some of the provisions inserted in the bill.

The senate bill goes practically as far in general tax revision as that passed by the house. It provides generally:

A 25 per cent reduction in income taxes payable this year.

Repeal or reduction of most of the special excise and miscellaneous taxes.

A 50 per cent permanent cut in the taxes on incomes below $8,000, and a general reduction in the taxes on higher incomes. The maximum surtax would be cut from 50 to 40 per cent.

A 25 per cent reduction on earned incomes up to $10,000.

Administration leaders opened their attack on the bill today just before passage and 15 republicans voted against it while three others were paired against it.

Report German Firm Seeking Prices on Huge Supply of Arms

Scribe Claims Tentons Seek quotations on Materials for "Friendly Nation."

PARIS, May 10 (AP)—The special London correspondent of the Matin says he has learned that a German firm, with headquarters in Hamburg, has asked a well known British arm manufacturer, name not given, to quote a price on one million rifles equipped with bayonets and one billion cartridges, deliverable at a German port.

According to the text of the request, which the Matin publishes, the German firm said the arms and ammunition were meant for "a friendly government, a member of the entente." The correspondent says the British manufacturer immediately informed the British government and took no steps to fill the order.

COLONISTS IN MEXICO FEAR BANDIT RAIDS

Mennonites Prepare to Meet Threatened Attacks of Bandits Forces Reported Mobilizing; Get Arms Supply Ready.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mexico, May 10 (AP)—Mennonites in western Chihuahua are arming themselves against threats of bandits and a strong force has been mobilized among members of the new colony.

Bandit depredations near Guerrero and San Antonio have caused the colonists to adopt a warlike attitude and they are ready to defend themselves. Trouble has been occurring frequently between agrarians in west and south Chihuahua and municipal guards and in the last engagement at Parame two guards were wounded and two agrarians were killed.

Governor Reynaldo Talavera has promised all assistance to the Mennonites in their fight to prevent raids and seizures of the properties which they have vastly improved.

Federal troops are in pursuit of bandits who kidnaped Bert McPherson, mill foreman at San Diego. The bandits are holding the foreman for a ransom of 30,000 pesos.

State and federal officials are experiencing much trouble with miners in the Santa Eulalia section. Some of the men have gone out on strike and they are interfering with others who are desirous of working. The strike so far has halted all work at the mine and Governor Talavera has promised the mining officials that aid will be furnished in the event it is needed.

COOLIDGE URGES BETTER HOMES

Celebration of Week Opened by President in Radio Address; Asks Co-operation.

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—Nation wide celebration of "better homes week" was opened by President Coolidge tonight with an address broadcast by radio from the White House in which the chief executive urged co-operation of women's clubs, civic and commercial associations and of the pulpit and press in a movement to strengthen and improve the home.

Meetings and demonstrations will be held during the week in more than a thousand cities, towns and rural communities to educate the American people as to the type of homes which should be built and the manner in which they should be equipped.

"The American home is the source of our national well being," the president said. "In it our high traditions of service and integrity are fostered. From the true home there emerges respect for the rights of others, and the habit of co-operating for worthy ends. Through sharing its common enterprises and common sacrifices, the child develops that sturdy character which distinguishes the manhood and womanhood of our land."

LEADVILLE, Colo., May 10 (AP)—Five miners were imprisoned in the 1500-foot level of the Empire Zinc company mine near Gilman late today, following a cave-in of sulphite ore, according to word received here tonight.

The men were working on the sixth level and are thought to be the only workers in that section of the mine. Superintendent A. E. Buck has recruited a force of men who are attempting to drive an emergency drift through the debris in an effort to reach the men before they are overcome by gas.

RESCUE CREWS AT WORK

GILMAN, Colo., May 10 (AP)—Forty men of a rescue crew worked desperately tonight to rescue five miners imprisoned in a cave-in of sulphite ore in the Empire Zinc company mine near here this afternoon.

Efforts to drive an emergency drift through the debris were unsuccessful and at 10 o'clock tonight the rescue workers changed their tactics and began an attempt to tear out a chute in an effort to reach the imprisoned men.

A cave-in occurred on the 1500-foot level about 3 o'clock. It came without warning and fears were felt that the men had been buried alive before they could get back into a drift.

PITTSBURGH MAYOR WANTS CAR SERVICE RESTORED

PITTSBURGH, May 10 (AP)—Mayor William A. Magee late today made a formal demand upon the Pittsburgh railways company to restore street car service at the earliest possible moment. ## Fortune in Jewels Part of Reformed Criminal's Estate

Will of Sophie Lyons Burks, Former Notorious Confidence Woman, to be Filed; Provides for Worthy Organizations.

DETROIT, May 10 (AP)—The will of Sophie Lyons Burks, reformed internationally notorious confidence woman, will be filed for probate next Monday, was announced today by Judge W. W. Joyce, special administrator, who bore upon a safe deposit box in order to locate the instrument. The exact value of the estate was not made public.

Mrs. Burks, who died last Wednesday at the age of 78, after having spent the first half of her life in crime and the last half in assisting to reform criminals, made many generous bequests to relatives and friends and left a large portion of her estate to be devoted to prison welfare work. It is to be kept intact for 50 years.

A Sophie Lyons Memorial home for children, one or both of whose parents are prison inmates, is provided for in the instrument, which asks the blessing of God upon its contents and expresses the hope that all the testator's sins have been forgiven. It requests that no attempt be made to contest its provisions.

Many pieces of dazzling jewelry were found in a long black bag which enclosed the will. One of the jewel boxes contained five diamond rings, one pearl ring, a pair of earrings, a large brooch, a sunburst with a one-carat stone in the center and a diamond and a pearl bar pin. Others included a large diamond stone diamond square ring, which was Sophie's engagement ring from Billy Burke. Another box contained an equal array of jewels including a large diamond studded cross. A piano for the Detroit house of correction, magazines for prisoners in New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, D. C., and Michigan are provided for by Mrs. Burks. A sum of $500 is to be spent on any Jewish orphanage Fred W. Butzel, one of the trustees, might name. Also $100 is to be spent annually on Bing Gray, $50 of which is to go to the sick and $50 for delicacies for inmates of the death house.

LODGE'S WORLD COURT SCHEME STIRS LEAGUERS

Opinion Expressed at Geneva That Nations in Present Tribunal Plan Will Not Swing Over to Latest Theory.

GENEVA, May 10 (AP)—The measure introduced in the American senate by Senator Lodge for the establishment of a new international court of justice as detailed in fragmentary dispatches, clearly created astonishment in league of nations circles where the opinion was expressed that the 15 countries which adhered to the existing world court of justice would never abandon the present institution merely to obtain American adhesion to some new and untried tribunal.

Spokesmen for the league court said that the present tribunal was considered by world statesmen a happy realization of century-old aspirations, and a useful institution based on the principle of equality of states. Because of this the Lodge project is described as both needless and destructive.

The spokesman pointed out that the present court is open to the United States without membership should that nation desire to submit cases to it, and that an American judge, Judge Bassett Moore, occupies a seat on its bench. In this connection Judge Moore's election to the presidency of the tribunal was mentioned as a possibility soon.

Object to Provisions.
In some quarters the opinion was expressed that the Lodge proposal possesses the idealistic advantage of universal acceptance of compulsory jurisdiction but that this condition would probably kill the project in advance as none of the great powers had as yet accepted compulsory jurisdiction for the existing court of justice.

The financial commission of the league of nations, which met today, probably will approve the court's annual budget of $400,000. The present budget of the tribunal is cleared but five new cases are expected to be submitted at the June session.

THE GUMPS—HELLO! GOOD BY

TRICKS-USED BY MONARCHISTS IN PARIS ELECTION

Hand Out Ballots With Names Marked for Deadlock; Majority Show Utter Indifference as to the Outcome.

PARIS, May 10 (AP)—The utter indifference of the man in the street as to the result of tomorrow's election, at which the composition of the chamber of deputies for the next four years will be decided, was the outstanding feature of the final hours of the campaign of the American observer tonight.

Aside from the airplanes which scattered tracts and bullets from the sky in behalf of the two war aviator candidates—on opposing tickets—the day passed with a singular absence of election stunts and no torchlight parades were planned for tonight.

True, the city was beflagged with the tri-color, and gay bunting, but it was a mere coincidence and the decorations were in evidence because the national fête of Joan of Arc will be held tomorrow. A few streamers over the balloons in which candidates and established campaign headquarters, and the ever present bill boards plastered with denunciatory or defamatory posters and cartoons were the only visible signs that tomorrow would be anything but a gloomy day to go fishing on the Seine.

The polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. The voters may bring their own ballots, accept them from party workers outside polling places or get them within. Many ingenious tricks have been tried throughout the country to hand voters ballots containing the names of the first three or four candidates of their chosen list followed by names from a list diametrically opposed. Thus the national bloc in the first Paris district today charged that some royalists were trying to clip over one of their own candidates by that practice. The chagrin of the Simon pure republican who finds that he has unwittingly voted through this means for a candidate championing the restoration of the monarchy can easily be imagined.

EPIZOOTIC RESULTS IN $2,900,000 TOTAL LOSS

SACRAMENTO, May 10 (AP)—A report filed with the state board of control by the state department of agriculture gives the total loss to date in California from foot and mouth disease as $2,900,000. The report shows a total of 77,059 head of cattle, swine, sheep and goats have been destroyed since the epizootic started. This stock was represented by 509 herds.

Of the stock destroyed there were 36,101 cattle, 18,179 hogs, 25,262 sheep and 147 goats. The major portion of the sheep were destroyed in Merced and Mariposa counties.

COMPROMISE IS THE LIFE OF FASHION

He—and more especially she—who knows how to compromise is never lost. And this is particularly true when applied to the realm of fashion. The maiden in this picture found that the distinctly boyish type of blouse did not suit her penance and languid type, but of course she wanted to be fashionable, so she and her modiste put their heads together—and evolved this charming blouse, which conforms to the tailored mode in its simplicity while yet retaining a great deal of feminine softness. It is developed in soft, biscuit-colored Cheney Crepe and achieves its trimming by strips of seven pleats back and front, and by two bands of pleats horizontally placed, forming a sort of border. The collar and cuffs are knotted with narrow bands of the same crepe, forming a charming little grace note to the blouse. The blouse slips on over the head, this being made quite easy by the deep opening.

CRITICS CAN FIND NO FAULT WITH DR. MILLER'S "TRIUMPH"

That critical minds can find no fault with the realism displayed by Cecil B. DeMille's new picture, "Triumph," is the claim made by those who have seen the new Paramount production.

Instead of sets built on the studio stage many of the most important scenes of this picture were shot in the actual locale. A tremendous can factory pounding out millions of the tin containers each year, the ball and banquet rooms of what is now one of the world's largest hotels, the new Los Angeles Biltmore, the glittering barber shop of that same building and an actual model of the shop appear with all of the distinctive paraphernalia.

"Triumph" is due at the Idaho theater next Wednesday.

ANNA Q. NILSSON SEEN AS A MAN IN "PONJOLA"

Several motion picture producers discussing "Ponjola," Centaur-Stockley's famous story, after it had been announced that Sam E. Rork had purchased the story for the films, declared that the picture could never be made because an actress in films could successfully make up as a man.

But it turned out that they were all wrong. There was an actress that could make up as a man and pass as such. This was Anna Q. Nilsson who plays the leading feminine role in "Ponjola," the first national picture which comes to the Orpheum theater tomorrow.

In this first national picture Miss Nilsson enacts the part of a girl who masquerades as a man and lives for months among the "he-men" of the African veldt.

Fifteen Years Ago in Twin Falls

From The News Files May 14, 1909.

The Methodists of Twin Falls will worship for the first time in their new church auditorium on Sunday, May 16. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 375 and cost for 100 additional. The dedicatory services will be conducted on May 23 by Dr. T. C. Hiff, one of the most prominent American orators. The opening of the auditorium, in a measure, a personal triumph for the pastor, the Rev. W. H. Parker, whose individual efforts the erection of the new church building was made possible.

Dr. C. A. Emig arrived last Wednesday night from Albion, Jasper county, Missouri, with a carload of effects. The doctor said he left some hard weather in Missouri.

E. B. Williams left on Saturday for his old home in Maine, where he will visit for about a month.

Mrs. L. J. Miller gave a "baby party" on Tuesday in honor of her daughter's birthday anniversary. About 20 babies were present and they all had a glorious time.

The Pennsylvania club will hold its first annual banquet at King's grill this evening. The Rev. John Gourley and S. T. Hamilton will have charge of the toasts.

Macaulay and company opened the "Lobby" cigar store in the Rogerson hotel corner last Saturday. The fixtures are of solid oak. The designs are novel and the finish attractive. The "Lobby" is fitted up in the very latest style.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Milner expect to move into their new home on Main avenue north this week. They have a commodious home finished and furnished in modern style throughout.

The members of the eighth grade entertained those of the seventh grade in the Bickel school auditorium on Wednesday afternoon. Appropriate decorations in the class colored the guests. The following program was skillfully rendered: Piano solo, Arland Oakley; recitation, Willie Turner; piano duo, Lesley Williams and Mary Milner; recitation, Margaret Conway; "Blaine's Oration on Garfield," Mary Griffith; chorus, eighth grade girls; class history, Pauline Davis; piano solo, Olive Van Meter; class prophecy, Carl Hafer; class song.

RUPERT TAKES TRACK CONTEST AT CALDWELL

Outcome of High School Event Is in Doubt Until Closing Affair; Boise Second; Twin Falls Takes Fourth.

CALDWELL, Idaho, May 10 (AP)—With a total of 27 points Rupert high school athletes won the southern Idaho interscholastic track and field meet on Cleaver field today. Boise high school, with a total of 21 points, finished second. Other schools finished as follows:

Boise, 21; Twin Falls, 15; Parma, 14; Nampa, 11; Caldwell, 10; Payette, 8; Wendell, 7; Jerome, 5.

Until the relay race, the concluding event of the meet, it was problematical as to which team would come out ahead in the final score. Before the relay race, the Boise team had 22 points and the admitted strength of the capital city leads in the sprints game them a chance to cop the meet.

The day was mostly the most closely fought event of the afternoon, Long of Rupert defeating McCormick, Boise's final lap man, by only six inches, after a terrific struggle on the front stretch. Five teams were entered in this race and a huge of Boise gave his team-mate a lead of about 15 feet in the first lap. Long, Rupert's hope, ingged behind the Boise entrant in the final can to untill the turn into the home stretch was reached and both men then showed a tremendous spirit but the southerner's stride had a trifle more length and power in it and he noted his rival out-clinching the meet for Rupert.

Eight records in all were lowered Saturday, five of them state marks and three southern Idaho records.

BRUINS DEFEAT CALDWELL NINE

Twin Falls High School Baseball Team Takes First Victory of Valley Tour.

CALDWELL, Idaho, May 10 (AP)—Twin Falls high school took its first game of its tour of this section by defeating, 12 to 10, the Caldwell nine in a loosely played game here Saturday morning. The game was the final one of the Twin Falls tour of this section and was its first victory, Boise, Nampa and Caldwell all having bettered the visitors.

Pitching on both sides was good, but slow fielding piled up the runs and hits. Martin of Twin Falls struck out 14 men but lacked effective support. Mussell received him. Nickle took the mound for the home team and fanned 10 visitors. Earwood, regular twirler, took the backstop position, having pitched Friday afternoon.

New Uniforms Here for Twin Falls Team

Manager Cosgriff Exhibits Navy Blue Suits and Promises Players to Match.

Twin Falls baseball team will be provided this season with the "last word" in baseball uniforms according to M. Cosgriff, manager of the Twin Falls club, who Saturday exhibited with pride the players' suits that had been delivered to him that day. The new uniforms are blue with white piping, the name Twin Falls being lettered in white across the breast of the shirt. Stockings are striped blue and white. The suits are of heavy weight woolen material.

"If our players prove as good as their uniforms," Mr. Cosgriff said, "there will be no need of apology for them." Assurance that players of this caliber are trying out for all positions on the team was hastily added by the local baseball magnate.

Call for candidates for the team to show up Monday evening at the ball park for further try out was issued Saturday evening.

TEACHER GIVEN AWARD BY JURY

Berger Residents Crowd Court room at Airing of Charges Against Dismissed Instructor

Verdict awarding $300 to Miss Dixie Cokerly from the Berger school district on her claim for $500 damages for dismissal from employment as teacher under contract with the district, was returned by a jury in probate court Saturday evening at the conclusion of a trial that occupied almost the entire day and was attended by nearly 200 residents of the Berger district. The hearing was held in the district court room in order to accommodate the crowd of spectators.

Unbecoming conduct on the part of Miss Cokerly was alleged as the basis for her dismissal on April 7, last, by vote of two to one of the members of the district board. Muriel Z. Stansbury and Gerald E. Parrott, members of the board, who voted for Miss Cokerly's dismissal, appeared as defendants at the trial. Defense counsel introduced in evidence a petition addressed to Miss Cokerly from the school district, and schools expressing approval of the board's action in this regard.

Would Give Up Dancing.
In rebuttal testimony, Miss Cokerly denied the truth of accusations which she said had been made against her by members of the board, and stated that she had at one time considered instituting action for slander against them. She testified that she had told Miss Pond she would give up attending dances in order to restore harmony in the school's administration. Defense counsel also introduced in evidence a petition calling for the resignation of Mrs. Stansbury as a member of the board on the grounds of alleged scandalous reports regarding Miss Cokerly.

Miss Cokerly was represented in this action by Attorney Homer C. Mills, the case for the district being conducted by C. A. North, of Stephan and North.

The annual Pan-Hellenic luncheon was held Saturday at 10 o'clock in the private dining room at the Hotel Rogerson. Covers were laid for 25 at one large table which had, at intervals down the center, crystal bowls holding purple lilacs and pink tulips. Pedestals in each corner of the room held lovely baskets of flowers and a basket was also placed on the piano.

Mrs. Merlin Batley was toastmistress and the following toasts were responded to: "The Inspiration of Pan-Hellenic to the Wife and Mother," Mrs. J. W. Visser; "The Inspiration of Pan-Hellenic to the Professional Woman," Mrs. Gills of Filer; "A Toast to Pan Hellenic," Mrs. H. W. Sawyer of Fallon, Nevada.

Mrs. A. H. Anderson of Filer sang "The Secret" by John Pringle Scott, and Mrs. Robert Logan sang "The Waters of Minnetonka" by Lorraine. Miss Polly Thomas played "Romance" by Schubert. The guests were seated at seven small tables, the decorations being spring flowers in the many lovely lines of the season. Other details were carried out in colors to correspond. Bridge followed the luncheon, first prize being won by Mrs. A. Wilton Peck, and second by Mrs. Ernest White.

The Lend-a-hand club met at the home of Clyde Dudley Friday at noon. On Ten members responded to roll call with a quotation in honor of Mother. After a short business session the afternoon was in charge of the program committee which had prepared a splendid entertainment consisting of a paper on "Mother" by Mrs. Fred Bertsch, reading by Mrs. W. Hurlbert and Mrs. Rex Warren and two musical selections on the Victrola. During the hour devoted to a general social time the hostesses assisted by her sister served delicious refreshments. The next evening will be held May 23 at the home of Mrs. Bell.

Mrs. C. D. Thomas and Mrs. Merline Batley gave the third and last of a series of three delightful parties on Friday evening at the Thomas home. BIDDING UP MUSCLE SHOALS

The government now has another offer for Muscle Shoals, this time from the Union Carbide company. It is explained as guaranteeing a minimum return of one hundred twenty million dollars for a fifty-year lease.

Thus the bidding goes merrily on. This is the fourth bid, the other three being those of Henry Ford, the Alabama Power company and the Hooker syndicate of New York. On the face of it, the new bid is regarded as second best of the four, and as superior to the original bid, that of Henry Ford, because it will accomplish no less than Ford promised in the way of products, while reducing the tenure of the property from one hundred years to fifty, leaving the title to the government and giving a larger return.

For a long time it looked as if that great power project, into which the government put about $100,000,000, was destined to prove almost a dead loss. There is no more fear of that.

It is not going to any low or dubious bidder by default. It is now practically assured that if the property goes into private hands, it will bring a good return to the government. And the more private capital offers, the less enthusiastic the government is about selling. Uncle Sam might yet be persuaded to keep that plant and run it himself.

FAST AND SLOW DRIVING

Fast, driving, as police and public recognize everywhere, is the greatest menace to street safety. But it does not follow that slow driving is an unadulterated benefit. This fact is emphasized by the action of a certain village, through which runs a main artery highway, and which has just adopted a rule prohibiting alike excessively fast and excessively slow driving.

Every person who drives or rides becomes familiar, sooner or later, with the type of driver who gets into the stream of traffic and then pokes along, holding up the whole procession. It is not so bad when he keeps to the right-hand curb. But the automobile dawdler likes to get over on the left, supposedly reserved for the more rapidly-moving cars, and holds them up. Such a driver is not only an unmitigated nuisance, bothering busy drivers who want to get along, and obstructing traffic generally. He is actually a peril to the safety of both motorists and pedestrians because of the jams he causes.

It is necessary, with the steadily growing volume of motor traffic, for cars to move along every street or highway as expeditiously as safety permits. It is important for every driver to keep moving. Every line of cars, whatever their rate of speed, should move along as uniformly as possible, to preserve the line and avoid the need of cutting in and out.

At the same time that the dangerous speeder is watched and caught, there ought to be some way to yank out the intolerable dawdler and give him—or her—a fitting dose of punishment.

Someone suggests "the election of standard English classics from the school room and the introduction in their stead of the classics of today." That is, he would replace Scott, Dickens and Thackeray in the school room with Booth Tarkington, Fannie Hurst, Edna Ferber, and so on.

CHAPTER I.

Thomas Cat Goes Hunting.
"WHERE are you going Thomas Cat?" asked Jack and Janet as they met Thomas at the edge of the woods.

But Thomas Cat did not answer. He just flitted his tail and ran along through the bushes. "Thomas Cat is up to mischief," said Jack. "He looks sneaky."

"He probably is going bird hunting," declared Janet. "He knows he is bad, and that is why he looks so much ashamed."

"If he hurts any of the birds I'll give him a thrashing," cried Jack. "Let us follow him."

They started after Thomas Cat, but they did not find it easy to follow him. He scurried along among the bushes and kept out of sight.

At length Jack and Janet heard the alarm shriek of a bird. They began to run. They knew the bird was in danger.

They came in sight of the tree whence the alarm was shrieked and perched on a limb. In front of him was the bird's nest. The nest was filled with fluffy baby birds.

"Oh, Thomas Cat will kill those baby birds," cried Janet. "Only grinned as he pointed to a little bird darting toward Thomas Cat."

"Never fear," said he. "Don't you see that bird coming toward the nest?"

Yes, Janet saw the bird—a small chap, gray back, white vent and black tail trimmed with white.

"It is King Bird," cried Janet. "Thomas Cat will eat him too." But Jack only chuckled.

"Thomas Cat is going to get a surprise," said Jack. "and we are going to see some fun."

"King Bird is too small to fight Thomas Cat," said Janet. Evidently Thomas Cat thought the same thing.

He just grinned when King Bird flew angrily round his head, giving excited chirps. Thomas Cat waited for King Bird to come near enough to grab.

King Bird would make a fine lunch for him and the baby birds would serve as dessert. Thomas Cat switched his tail as he thought of the fine bird feast he was going to have.

Thomas Cat was a fighter.

Thomas Cat crept nearer to the nest. And then suddenly something happened. King Bird swooped at Thomas Cat.

The cat saw him coming and raised a paw studded with sharp claws to strike him down. But Thomas Cat didn't strike King Bird. Instead King Bird landed on his back.

And how the fur flew then! Thomas Cat felt as though a red hot iron had suddenly buried him. Thomas Cat squawked. He tried to whirl around to grab King Bird. As he did so he almost fell out of the tree. King Bird struck him again. How the fur flew!

Thomas Cat ducked and tried to elude King Bird. But King Bird dodged again. Back he came, and once his sharp beak played a tune on Thomas Cat's back.

Thomas Cat was a fighter, but this was too much for him. That little bird he thought was going to make such a fine meal was tearing him to pieces.

Thomas Cat squawked again. And away he dashed. He scurried down the trunk of the tree, but King Bird was angry through and through. He kept after Thomas Cat, pecking him again and again. Thomas Cat could not run fast enough to escape him.

Then Thomas Cat saw a hollow tree about the top of the trunk. The hole seemed a fine refuge to Thomas Cat. Up the trunk he dashed and into the hole. And there Thomas Cat got another surprise.

(What that surprise is will be told in tomorrow's chapter.)

"I'm afraid Pyrites won't wait. He's crazy on the one subject—prospecting. If you don't stake him, and I don't, he'll get some one else to. He can't get a stake he'll go without one. He starts tomorrow morning, wake or no stake. Then again, there wouldn't be any point in your going with him except as you did so to dodge Omaha."

"Don't agree with that last," stubbornly retorted Dinadale. "All I want is one peek at Omaha. Just a look so I'll know him and not be thinking that every stranger may be him. I sort of feel I ought to stick along here till I can size the 'bloodhound' up. Just sort of feel that way."

"So long as he can't be after you for the railroad job there's no reason why you shouldn't stay here as long as you wish," the gambler carelessly replied.

"Oh, he may think he has reason to want me," mumbled Dinadale. "Anyway, I'm much obliged to you for the trouble you've taken."

"Not a bit. I was selfish. I wanted you in with me on the big thing. Perhaps I'll work around to that."

They shook hands and Dinadale slipped out into the night.

As he reached the lighter street before the Centennial hotel some one on his heel just as Dinadale ran into the road from the hotel, a long gun clapped in his two hands. Up went the gun to his shoulder and down dropped Dinadale, and two loads of slugs tore with a scream over his head. He remained erect but he would have caught the charge full in the chest. He rolled to one side and came up on one knee as Allen dropped the shotgun and began firing with his hand-guns, the lead kicking the dirt into Dinadale's face.

"Go back!" he roared, throwing himself flat and rolling toward the box which sheltered Schewers.

Perhaps Allen believed his quarry was seriously wounded and unable to gain his feet; perhaps the influence of the hotel to commit the murder

"He's after you most proper!" howled another voice.

Dinadale began to realize that his appearance was the cause for the excitement. He remained motionless, wondering what it was all about. That he was not a favorite with the strangely acting spectators was proved by a deep voice bawling:

"Now git him, Bandy!"

Dinadale growled under his breath and glared suspiciously about, expecting an attack from every patch of shadow. He had not placed any credence in the threats of Bandy Allen so persistently repeated to him during the day. He sincerely hoped it was a false alarm, and he would have hurried on if not for the fear that Allen was in ambush ahead. There was Mayor Farum's warning, concise and positive, against any street fighting. The town would not be safe for any one who indulged in the pastime. And Dinadale wished to remain until he had glimpsed Jim Omaha. From the medley of voices, calling warnings for him to run, jeeringly denouncing him, and urging Allen to "settle his hash," it was plain Allen had been making his boast at the hotel and the street in front of the building had been picked for the assault.

"Where is he?" loudly yelled Dinadale, not knowing whether to retreat or advance.

"Here he comes! Run!" some one shouted.

But coming from which direction? Dinadale knew he must leave town on the jump if any fighting resulted. With hand on his gun and his head swinging from side to side, he advanced a few rods when a head popped from behind a dry-goods box. Dinadale whipped out his gun but refrained from firing when a voice shouted:

"The hotel! He's coming out!" The light was sufficient for Dinadale to recognize the speaker to be Schewers, and he swung about on his heel just as Bandy Allen ran into the road from the hotel, a long gun clapped in his two hands. Up went the gun to his shoulder and down dropped Dinadale, and two loads of slugs tore with a scream over his head. He remained erect but he would have caught the charge full in the chest. He rolled to one side and came up on one knee as Allen dropped the shotgun and began firing with his hand-guns, the lead kicking the dirt into Dinadale's face.

"Go back!" he roared, throwing himself flat and rolling toward the box which sheltered Schewers.

Perhaps Allen believed his quarry was seriously wounded and unable to gain his feet; perhaps the influence of the hotel to commit the murder outweighed all sense of discretion. Whatever was driving him to make his kill he did not falter, but with a loud yell of triumph began running toward the writhing figure. With the refluence of a steel spring, Dinadale came to his feet. Allen came to a halt and fired with his left hand and was throwing down his right-hand gun when Dinadale's lead caught him in the forehead.

As Allen went down on his face some one grabbed Dinadale's arm; and Schewers was waiting:

"Now you're gone and done it! Drinking, gambling, scaring folks, assailing the city fathers, and now a killing! Come away! Come away!"

And he urged Dinadale down the street.

"Shut up! Think you're telling me something new?" growled Dinadale. "Keep along with me till I can write a few words to San Juan. Give me some of your paper!"

He halted in the light of a gambling hall window and placing the end against Schewers' back he found a pencil and hurriedly wrote:

"Allen held for me, I did for him. Am riding south. Start Pyrites early in a. m. I'll meet him on the stage road ten miles from town. Have him bring outfit, a forty-four Winchester rifle and plenty of ammunition. Allen was drunk or crazy. Use your influence with city council. Kill off any mob talk. I'll look for a message at Rapid City week from today—P. D."

"Take this to San Juan Joe in a rush, Schewers. If he's in a game, break in so he can read it at once. Don't talk."

Then he hurried down the street, running swiftly when he came to the dark stretches. Discreet cries gradually merged into a sullen roar, the hunting call of the mob. He was well ahead of his pursuers, however, for he gained Clarke's livery stable and procured his horse from the sleepy hostler and cantered down the stage road without anyone questioning his going.

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH MCKAY

My husband is a dish destroyer.

When he comes into the kitchen to help me dry some dishes he'll make a hull in a china shop seem as careful as a tight rope walker.

It appears that his first impulse with crockery is to try to juggle it.

Give him a couple of plates or cups and pretty soon they'll beumping right out of his hands and doing some dives.

And then he says that we must have pretty poor china or a little thing like that wouldn't hurt it.

Even at the table he's liable to tumble a plate or a glass onto the floor. Throwing fragile things around seems to be just second nature with him.

The only places I know of where his china cracking act would be appreciated are in vaudeville or the movies. But it doesn't draw any encores around home.

Money in Motion Pictures.

The Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., states that there is a practical investment in real estate, studios, equipment and salaries of over $200,000,000, with probably $50,000,000 paid in salaries $200,000,000 paid annually in production and nearly three-quarters of a billion paid annually for admissions, with an equal turnover in the business of over $1,000,000,000.

First American Men.

Alexander F. Chamberlain in a monograph on American Indians says that by the close of the glacial age, men had probably spread over a considerable portion of North and South America. "Perhaps it is fair to say that man has been in America at least 25,000 years and not more than 200,000."

Art of Lacquer Work.

While the art of lacquer work was first known to the Chinese and taught by them to the Japanese, this latter nation has, so far excelled all others that authorities have said that lacquer in all its uses and decorations is a truly Japanese belonging.

THE MARKETS

Sellers Outnumber Buyers in Chicago
Wheat Market Session; Lowest
Prices Mark Closing Transactions.

CHICAGO, May 10 (AP)—Sellers considerably outnumbered buyers in the wheat market today owing a good deal to tradition that this was a calendar date favorable to the bear side. Moreover, fear of crop damage by frost had less in evidence. The market closed heavy 3-4c to 1-1 1/2c net lower. May $1.03 3/4 and July $1.05 3/4 to 1.05 1/2. Corn finished 1-2 to 1-3/8c down, oats 1-4 to 1-4 1/2c off and provisions at a shade to 7 cents decline.

Although temperatures went almost to the freezing point in much wheat territory where rain might have resulted, no damage of consequence was reported, and with crop news unimpaired the wheat market gradually descended in the absence of any aggressive buying. For a while after the opening, a prospect that promoters of the McNary-Haugen bill at Washington might be able to force that measure quickly to a vote tended somewhat to check sellers but this outlook was gradually accelerated as dealings drew to an end.

Lowest prices of the day in the wheat market were current at the close. Indications that the United States visible supply total on Monday would show a liberal decrease failed to bring about a price rally. Likelihood that Monday's figures on the world shipments would prove big counted as more than an offset.

Corn and oats declined with wheat, but it was noticeable that the May delivery in the corn market acquired a premium over July as against 1 cent discount earlier in the week.

Provisions reflected a downward tendency of the hog market.

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—Reactionary

price movements prevailed in today's stock market as bear operators took advantage of an unexpected cut in crude oil prices and a surprisingly large decrease in oil stocks. The oil market's decline in price was a result of a sharp decline in many industrial shares. Oil was the principal target for attack, many issues being hammered to the lowest levels of the year.

Announcement of the United States Steel corporation's monthly tonnage statement, coming shortly before the close of the market, precipitated a wave of selling in the final few minutes of trading.

Foreign exchanges improved in tone. Recovery in French francs carried the rate up about 7 points to 6.06 1/2 cents, with sterling advancing fractionally to 43.37.

The stock exchange closing statement showed a mixture of increases and decreases in the principal titles. Loans, discounts and investment decreased $53,401,000; reserve of member banks in the federal reserve bank increased $13,847,000 and cash in vaults gained $3,938,000.

BOSTON, May 10 (AP)—Although business in the wool market has continued unsatisfactory, some trading has been in progress. Among domestic wools, southern fleeces have been showing some inquiry. ## Alaska Porcupine Owl

Has a Foghorn Voice

Love concerning the porcupine owl, which, as the title reads, finds its way in fog by sound and, as it travels the frozen water courses of the far North, makes unseasonable noises like those of a steamboat, has been brought to the states by J. J. Chisholm, a trapper from the upper Koyukuk valley, Alaska, and printed in the Philadelphia North American.

"Unlike the owls of temperate climates," said Mr. Chisholm, "the porcupine owl can see only in daytime. He would be just as bad off if he could see only in the dark, because where his day and the night are each six months long."

"To overcome his blindness the porcupine owl has received from nature a vibrant and resonant voice. At a distance it sounds like the whistle of a boat, and many a newcomer in Alaska has mistaken the river looking for a steamer when the boats were frozen fast for the winter."

"The porcupine owl uses his voice as a mariner uses a siren in a fog. He hoots and then utters intently. If there is an obstruction, he gets the echo. A man or a boat or a tree that can be seen by the owl's eyes can be seen by the owl's ears. The owl gets his name from a set of quills that weights him down so that he cannot fly. With these quills he can fight a man or a deer animal in the dark. In such combats he often repels his foe."

Remedy Finally Found

for Sleeping Sickness

Sleeping sickness of Africa is not the same as that known in this country. It is caused usually by the bite of the tsetse fly, which spreads the trypanosome, as the insect germ is called. The problem was to find some drug which would kill these trypanosomes in the blood in all parts of the body, and which would, at the same time, not harm the body, an exceedingly difficult and delicate matter. Dr. Wartel and Dr. Michael Heidelberger, of the Rockefeller institute, undertook this task. They took arsenic compounds and experimented with them, finding that and again to gain the desired effect, but noting the results carefully and altering the compound 68 times, they finally succeeded. That is why the drug trypanocide, used with such success against the sleeping sickness and malaria, is known as A63, the sixty-third arsenic compound. The first experiments were conducted on animals, and when trypanocide had proved its value, Dr. Louis Pearce went to Africa and experimented with it on the natives.

Clock Also Saves Bank

An American savings bank is making a present of a clock to every depositor who opens an account with it. It is a timepiece of a peculiar kind and is really a combination of a clock and a safe. It is alleged to keep excellent time for 24 hours, according to the Manchester Guardian.

Rewinding is then necessary, but before it can be rewound a nickel, dime or quarter must be inserted in it. The owner is thus compelled to add something to his savings every day, so that, in fact, saving becomes a daily habit.

The clock is advertised as "the

COMMISSIONERS ASK FOR ADVICE

County Attorney's Opinion Requested for Guidance in Question of Salary Cuts.

Written opinion will be requested by Twin Falls county commissioners of the county attorney relative to question raised by C. C. Siggins, clerk of the district court, as to legal right of the commissioners to reduce his salary prior to the expiration of the four-year term of office to which he was elected in 1922. Commissioners were advised at a recent session Mr. Siggins had been invited to file his formal protest against the commissioners' action Thursday in ordering reduction in his salary along with reductions in salaries of several other elective officials for the two-year period beginning next January, but the commissioners' decision to ask for the attorney's opinion was in accordance with state law requiring county commissioners to fix salaries of certain elective officials in April of election years. Under this statute prospective candidates for the offices affected are given notice of the salary to be paid.

Commissioners' action last Thursday reducing salaries of the eight elective officials for the two-year term beginning next January was taken in accordance with state law requiring county commissioners to fix salaries of certain elective officials in April of election years. Under this statute prospective candidates for the offices affected are given notice of the salary to be paid.

Approval of the salary reductions ordered at the commission's last session, expressed by county officials who have expressed what they term implied repudiation as to the value of their services for the last political party and prospective candidates for county office and a number of citizens also have expressed disapproval of the measure.

Tells of Appropriation. On the other hand, Commissioner Carlson said Saturday, a number of citizens, including two prominent Twin Falls business men, have expressed to him their approval of the salary cut measure. In line with necessity for retrenchment in many fields of endeavor.

In explanation of his vote against increasing from $1800 to $2000 the annual salary of the superintendent of the county general hospital, approved by two-to-one vote of the board last November, which had been referred to by critics as an indication of inconsistency on the part of the board, Commissioner Carlson stated that he had seconded the motion for such increase in order that it might be brought to a vote, thus presenting opportunity for recording his views on the subject. According to the record, Commissioner Carlson explained his vote in this proposal with the statement that he considered the hospital superintendent already the best paid employee on the county's payroll.

Salary Arrangement Explained. Explanation also was made Saturday of the apparent increase from $100 to $200 a month in the salary of the secretary of the county board and custodian of county fair grounds. Salary of this employee has been fixed by the county commissioners at $1800 a year, out of which he pays expenses of operating his own retort. Under this arrangement the secretary received monthly salary of $100 during the winter months and the larger amount in other seasons when his work and expenses are heavier.

EXCLUDED LAND TO BE RESTORED

Commissioner Tells Purpose to Accept Relinquishment of Part of Original Project.

Steps are now being taken toward acceptance by the department of the interior of the relinquishment of the state of Idaho to lands excluded from the Salmon River project, according to communication addressed last Tuesday by William Spry, commissioner of the general land office, to Representative Addison T. Smith, a copy of which was received here Saturday.

Restoration of these lands to the public domain for homestead entry will follow the acceptance of this relinquishment, holders of the lands under the Carey act being given preference right of entry under provisions of an act of congress sponsored by Representative Smith.

Relinquishment of lands only to which settlement has been effected will be accepted, according to the commissioner, who states in his letter to Representative Smith that "with respect to the lands as to which settlements or agreements have not yet been made, although no litigation affecting them is now pending, it is of the opinion that restoration should be deferred until such time as any probability of a court decision in the part of the settlers shall have been eliminated."

POSITION OF MEREDITH IN PERKINS CASE GIVEN

Idaho Farm Development Company Official Says Federal Authorities Took Action on Threatening Letters.

Fred M. Perkins, one-time settler on the Idaho Farm Development company's project at Roseworth, who was arrested here last Thursday by federal authorities, is held to answer charge of sending threatening letters through the mails preferred by the United States district attorney and not by P. C. Meredith of Buhl, official of the Idaho Farm Development company and alleged recipient of the letters in question, according to statement issued Saturday by Mr. Meredith on his return from Boise.

Mr. Meredith made the following statement: "Several months ago P. M. Perkins wrote me letters which I considered in the nature of a blackmail threat. I felt that an attempt was being made to extort money from me and I told Colonel Davis, United States district attorney, in Boise, of this. Subsequently action was instituted against P. M. Perkins by Colonel Davis, and as by myself nor the Idaho Farm Development company; nor is there any litigation between the Idaho Farm Development company, P. C. Meredith and Fred M. Perkins at the present time."

Perkins was haled into probate court here several months ago and placed under bond in consequence of threats he was alleged to have made against Mr. Meredith.

Perkins was not a member of the Brooklyn "modern caravan," but came to Idaho from Oregon.

It is held here in custody in default of $1000 bail to which he was admitted by United States Commissioner H. E. Powers on arraignment Friday.

BUYERS FOR THE PUBLIC

---THAT'S OUR JOB

Instead of planning to SELL TO people, we try to BUY FOR them; there's a big difference.

We figure that we're really the buying agents of our public; we study their wants, then fill them at the lowest possible cost.

Our people know they can expect the best of quality here at just what it costs us, plus a modest charge for service.
