PARDON GRANT BY PRESIDENT HELD INVALID

Two Federal Judges Rule Chief Executive Exceeded His Authority in Liberating Sentenced Chicago Saloonkeeper.

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—President Coolidge exceeded his authority in pardoning Philip Grossman, Chicago saloonkeeper, sentenced to jail for contempt of court by former Federal Judge K. M. Landis, according to opinions handed down today by Federal Judges James H. Wilkerson and George A. Carpenter.

As a result of the opinions Grossman was in jail tonight beginning a year's jail sentence of which he had previously served any portion due to the fact that he received executive clemency before he was incarcerated. The case recently investigated by the senate Daugherty committee had its inception when Grossman was brought before Judge Landis in 1922 for selling liquor. He was sentenced for contempt, but the case was appealed until last March when commitment papers were issued for him, but a pardon from the White House arrived before he had been apprehended and placed in jail.

Judge Carpenter wrote and read the opinion deciding that the president had no right to pardon Grossman and Judge Wilkerson concurred but submitted a supplementary report giving his reasons for so doing.

The judges termed the matter a "political legal question," but made no attempt to determine the moral propriety of the particular pardon involved, limiting themselves to the question of presidential power in case of contempt.

They decided that the president cannot have pardoning powers in contempt cases without infringing upon the constitutional prerogative of the judicial branch of the government.

Grossman's attorneys said tonight they will file a writ of habeas corpus with the clerk of the supreme court at Washington and said that the case will be fought to the final authority. Grossman had no statement to make when taken to jail.

FOLEY DECLINES OFFER

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Tammany hall, which spent the day rejoicing in the fact that Surrogate James A. Foley had accepted the leadership of the organization, was thrown into consternation tonight when the surrogate positively declined to accept the post left vacant by the death of his step-father-in-law, Charles F. Murphy. He said he was not physically fit to assume the responsibility.

Wilbur Pleads for Preparedness as the Safest Policy

Secretary of the Navy Asserts Nation Can Not Afford to be Caught with Poor Defense in Case of War.

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—A plea for "adequate and reasonable preparedness against war by preparing for war," was made by Secretary Wilbur of the navy department here tonight, speaking before the American Marine congress. "The nation cannot surrender achievements of its honored dead to a plea of pusillanimous pacifism," he said.

"The world has learned again in the great war that war is not a paying business," Secretary Wilbur continued. "Germany, alarmed, disheartened, discouraged and well-nigh bankrupt is a living example that it does not pay. And yet men do not always regulate their actions along the line of financial profits. We are not always cool, calculating and deliberate. Human passion sweeps us off our feet."

"The war to end war began 2000 years ago. Its first soldier died of the cross. The cause has been notably advanced, but not wholly won. We have no right to expect that war was ended for time and eternity on November 11, 1918."

Secretary Wilbur said the great war had demonstrated the necessity of a merchant marine as a measure of national security.

"If Germany had had the opportunity to use her merchant marine as transports she would have smothered England and won the war," he said.

Debate on Unit Rule Results in Clash at Michigan Bourbon Meet

FLINT, Mich., May 15 (AP)—A clash over whether delegates to the democratic national convention should vote as a unit precipitated an uproarious tumult at the state democratic convention here today, which ended only in a motion to adjourn, adopted by disordered acclamation. The motion for the unit rule was withdrawn just before adjournment so the 30 delegates will go to New York unopposed except to vote for Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris as long as he has a chance.

The conflict appeared to be a composite mixture of William G. McAdoo and Al Smith sentiment, the wet and dry issue and the Ku Klux Klan controversy although no one admitted that it was anything more than a test of the feeling of the convention toward unit rule.

In addition to sending an unopposed delegation to the national convention, the democrats virtually read Henry Ford out of the party. Senator Ferris, who addressed the convention, attacked the automobile manufacturer's bid for Muscle Shoals as "an attempt to sell out the people." A resolution offered by W. A. Comstock, chairman of the state central committee, stating that Henry Ford had publicly endorsed President Coolidge, that he had never withdrawn his candidacy on the democratic ticket and that the democrats of Michigan ignore him entirely and instruct their delegates for Ferris as their favorite son candidate, went across with a whoop.

FAIL TO PROVE ZIHLMAN GUILTY

Truth of Bribe Charge Against Congressman Not Proved, Investigators Report.

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Truth of the charge that Representative Zihlman, republican, Maryland, accepted a bribe, was not established by evidence presented to the house investigating committee, the house staff today informed.

All five members of the committee concurred in a report which said that "no further action is required or should be taken by the house" with regard to Mr. Zihlman.

"The evidence is conflicting and sharply contradictory," said the report, "and the question of the credibility of individual witnesses has frequently arisen."

The report touched on the charges against Representative Langley, republican, Kentucky, who is under a two-year prison sentence as a result of his conviction for alleged violation of the prohibition law. The committee said no further action on its part for the present, at least, was advisable in view of Mr. Langley's announced intention of absconding himself from the capital until his appeal has been passed upon by the higher courts.

The purpose of the committee inquiry was to determine whether either Zihlman or Langley, mentioned several months ago in the report of a federal grand jury at Chicago, had been guilty of wrong-doing warranting forfeiture of their seats in the house.

AUTO CRASH TAKES LIFE

SALT LAKE CITY, May 15 (AP)—Mrs. Alta Blair, a resident of this city, was killed almost instantly when the automobile in which she was riding struck a culvert and turned turtle on the state highway 15 miles north of here tonight.

Stanley S. Stevens, a local business man, was critically injured and the third occupant of the car, Miss Theo Blackburn, is thought to have escaped with only minor injuries.

The accident is thought to have occurred when the driver of the machine, becoming confused by the lights of approaching cars, ran off the road.

IDAHO MAN MEETS DEATH

SALT LAKE CITY, May 15 (AP)—James S. Smith of Moore, Idaho, was instantly killed at 3 o'clock this afternoon when he lost control of his automobile and it crashed into a telephone pole at Brigham City, 60 miles north of here.

According to investigating officers, Mr. Smith was maneuvering his machine in an effort to miss a group of school children who were crossing the road.

PROJECT ESTIMATES TO BE SENT TO CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Estimates for work on reclamation projects in six western states heretofore held up by the budget bureau will be sent to congress under an agreement reached today at a White House conference. Expenditure of the money will be made contingent on further investigation as to the practicability of the projects.

The projects are located in Idaho, Oregon, Nevada, Utah, Nevada and Washington. All have been approved by the interior department.

BELEGATES TO HOME SESSION GET WELCOME

Envoys of World Powers Meet to Discuss Immigration and Evolve Satisfactory Program for Use in the Future.

ROME, May 15 (AP)—Delegates representing 58 countries at the first world wide conference on emigration and immigration were formally welcomed to Rome this morning by King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Mussolini. They settled down to serious business in the afternoon, electing officers and adopting a provisional program for a society and of sessions that will continue until June 2.

Mussolini was unanimously acclaimed honorary president and Giuseppe de Michelis, Italian commissioner general of emigration, was unanimously elected president. E. J. Henning, assistant secretary of the department of labor, and head of the American delegation, nominated Signor de Michelis, declaring de Michelis knew the immigration laws of the countries of the world more thoroughly than any other man.

Mr. Henning emphasized the value of such a conference, saying as the complexities of civilization increased, so the difficulties in regulating emigration and immigration increased. He called attention to the fact that the conference was represented by more countries than ever before in history; therefore the opportunity was particularly auspicious for a closer understanding of the complexities attendant upon the ebb and flow of migration.

Commissioner de Michelis in his inaugural address remarked that the fact the conference was of a technical nature did not mean it was unimportant or uninteresting to millions of human beings.

If we can prepare the way for future international understandings," he said, "we shall not have met in vain."

SUNDAY RESTING WELL

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 15 (AP)—Billy Sunday, the evangelist, "passed a very comfortable day and his condition is satisfactory," according to a statement given out by Dr. W. J. Mayo, of the Mayo clinic here.

WOULD CANCEL RULE

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—Willingness to introduce a motion for the elimination of the two thirds rule governing the democratic national convention, provided the supporters of William G. McAdoo will aid actively in getting votes to adopt such a motion, was expressed today by George E. Brennan.

ROGERS BILL PASSED

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The Rogers bill for reorganization of the consular and diplomatic service was passed tonight by the senate. It previously had been approved by the house and now goes to the president.

FOREST FIRES STILL RAGING

No New Outbreaks Reported; 300 Men Combat Flames in Northern Part of Idaho.

MISSOULA, Mont., May 15 (AP)—For the first time in several days a new forest fire was reported to district headquarters here today. All previously reported fires are still burning with full force today's reports said. A crew of 48 men was dispatched this morning to Noxon, to help combat the Noxon creek fire, which has broken from control and spread into a large stand of commercial timber in the Cabinet forest in western Montana. This blaze, first reported as of 200

GOOD WILL OF NATIONS IS ONLY ASSURANCE OF PEACE, HUGHES CLAIMS

BANDIT TAKES BIG LOOT

GAINESVILLE, Fla., May 15 (AP)—A lone bandit today entered the office of the American Railway Express company at High Springs, near here, and escaped with the payroll intended for the Atlantic Coast Line shipmen, estimated at between $10,000 and $20,000. J. T. Pendleton, company agent, said the bandit drove away in a small touring car.

DEMAND TEST OF MINE RATE RULE

Coal Operators Will Fight Use of Commercial Factor in Rating of Mines.

CINCINNATI, May 15 (AP)—Any change of the mine rating rules of the interstate commerce commission, "unless and until they are given a fair test under car shortage conditions," will be fought by the National Coal association representing nearly 2,000 bituminous operators from 21 states. This was decided on by the directors attending the annual convention of the association here tonight when endorsement was given to the report of the transportation committee. The report sets forth opposition "in principle to the use of a commercial factor in the rating of coal mines."

Hearings on mine ratings will be commenced May 19, before the interstate commerce commission which has before it a proposed code of rules designed to regulate the distribution of coal cars by the sales record of the mine. The opinion was expressed that this proposal is a step toward regulation, and that it would, on the whole, work disaster to the coal industry. It was contended that it is impracticable at this time to put forth a new scheme in view of the fact that the mine rating rules which the industry and the railroads agreed upon in 1923 had not been given a real test which, it was said, means operation in a car shortage period.

Ranking Cabinet Man Gives U. S. Attitude Among World Powers; "America Safe from Danger of Aggression."

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Cultivation of international goodwill is the only assurance of peace, Secretary Hughes declared tonight here in an address delivered in accepting the gold medal awarded him by the National Institute of Social Sciences.

Touching upon the foreign relations of the United States, Mr. Hughes mentioned specifically only Central American matters and the reparations problem. He made no direct reference to the Japanese exclusion situation. In setting out the role of the nation among world powers as "a disinterested lover of peace," however, he said: "But all depends upon making good cultivation of friendships a distinctively American policy to be furthered by the demonstration of our sense of justice and by the respect we show for the feelings of others."

The first object of foreign policy is security and "so far as we can see into the future, we are safe from the slightest danger of aggression," Mr. Hughes said.

"We know that in no power or possible combination of powers lies any menace to our security," he continued. "There is no occasion to vindicate our proper authority for no one challenges it. There is no reason to demonstrate our ability to take care of ourselves for no one doubts it."

"It should be easy for us to cultivate friendships. That is the way to gain the opportunities of intercourse which we seek throughout the world. We are a peaceful people and it is well for us to remember that we rely on friendship and goodwill, not on force or threats of force, to extend our influence and win adherence to our international proposals."

"But there is more involved than the adoption of suitable methods to protect our own interests. It is more involved. How can we promote peace of the world? The most promising way is to preserve the opportunities of conciliation and adjustment, which naturally belong to us, by fostering a friendly disposition."

"Happily in this hemisphere causes of controversy are rapidly diminishing. Almost all of the old boundary disputes, fertile sources of enmity and strife, are being settled. One by one the wells of controversy are drying up."

Turning to the reparations question in Europe, Secretary Hughes said that there was "the promise of a new era in the recent experts' report. With solution of the problem, he said, would come opportunity to limit armament and expenditures," which are induced by distrust.

Methodists Agree on Eight Years as Term for Bishops

Question Arises at Conference of Delegates as to Disposition of Those Who Have Served in Office.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 15 (AP)—With eight years established by the Methodist Episcopal general conference as a general limit for the bishops' tenure of residence, the delegates were asking each other today what would be the disposition of bishops who have now been eight years or longer at their stations.

The Episcopacy committee, which assigns bishops to their areas, is directed in the resolution passed today "to have in mind the principle" of an eight-year maximum. A considerable latitude is implied, and the committee at its next meeting will probably take up petitions already presented for the retention of bishops who have been affected by the ruling.

Dr. Edwin H. Hughes, of Malden, and Bishop Theodore S. Henderson of Detroit are liable to transfer and it was reported today that they might be asked to exchange places. But the Massachusetts delegates have requested the committee to keep Bishop Hughes in his area, and similar action has been taken by the New York delegates in regard to Bishop Luther B. Wilson. At any rate, it seems probable that on account of the retirement of four bishops and the death of a fifth since the last general conference, five new bishops must be elected by the conference, and it was expected that balloting would start early next week.

U. S. Going to War Is to Be Demonstrated in Event on September 12

National Defense System Will Be Put to Test to Show How Fighting Forces Get Ready to Combat Enemy.

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—National defense plans worked out by the war department during the past four years are to be subjected September 12 next to a "defense test" through a nation-wide demonstration. The day selected is the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Michael. It also will be the day before General Pershing's sixty-fourth birthday, the normal age of retirement from active service for army and navy officers.

Secretary Weeks announced that President Coolidge had authorized the department to proceed with the defense test project on which the general staff has been working for several months. The war secretary emphasized that the purpose of the demonstration was to "inform the public of the plans and methods by which American armies will be raised" in any future war emergency.

Mobilize Army.

The test will be confined to the actual mobilization of the regular army, national guard and reserve officers skeleton which comprises peace time organized reserves, to be supplemented by such voluntary enrollment of men power to fill up the reserve units as each community over the country may decide upon for itself. In some places reserve officers probably will enroll volunteers and assemble them to explain just what an actual mobilization would require. In other cases the test will consist of patriotic meetings held with the co-operation of state and municipal authorities and civic societies.

The striking difference between the methods under which the United States mobilized for the world war and the plan worked out since lies in the complete decentralization of all the early stages of mobilization now contemplated.

Is Community Plan.

"Our program," Secretary Weeks said, "provides for individual and community co-operation and the exercise of decentralized authority by so many elements, national state, municipal and private, that it is desirable to portray the functions and missions of each of those agencies, civil as well as military. The defense test should illustrate to citizens and communities the initial service required for national defense."

"The demonstration will be local in nature, and will not involve any increased expenditures of public funds. So far as practicable, arrangements and ceremonies will be in accordance with the wishes of local civil committees as the war department only directed sections, where moisture could be supplied, but in the dry farm sections it was not so satisfactory, as dry farm crops are beginning to suffer from the effects of drought in many localities and the excessive heat of the last few days was harmful rather than beneficial. Dry farm pastures and the low range are drying badly, and feed is short. However, up to the present time stock continues to thrive."

from an opportunity to illustrate in each community the effect of its plan for national defense."

War department officials are hopeful that a movement to make the day one of patriotic celebration will be widespread and are certain they will obtain much information of value in connection with further elaboration of defense plans.

HEAVY DRAFT IS MADE ON WATER

Sunshine Uninterrupted During Week and No Rain Falls Throughout Idaho.

BOISE, May 15.—Heavy demand for irrigation water continued throughout Idaho with the passage of another week without rain, according to a summary of weather and crop conditions in Idaho for the week ending last Tuesday just issued by Clinton S. Norquest, meteorologist for the weather bureau.

Throughout southern Idaho, the summary says, moderate temperatures obtained early in the week but the closing days were marked by unseasonably warm weather. Sunshine was uninterrupted and no rain fell. Drying winds robbed the soil of moisture, creating a heavy demand for irrigation water. Conditions were quite favorable for outdoor activities and farmers made good progress in their work. The increase in warmth was very welcome in the irrigated sections, where moisture could be supplied, but in the dry farm sections it was not so satisfactory, as dry farm crops are beginning to suffer from the effects of drought in many localities and the excessive heat of the last few days was harmful rather than beneficial. Dry farm pastures and the low range are drying badly, and feed is short. However, up to the present time stock continues to thrive."

THE GUMPS—REMEMBERING

SOLDIER BONUS BILL IS VETOED BY PRESIDENT

Coolidge Asserts Tax Reduction and Compensation Can Not Go Together Objects to Payment Involved.

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—The soldier bonus bill was vetoed by President Coolidge today on the ground it was economically unsound and morally unjust.

Returned unopposed to the house, where the legislation originated, the measure was immediately taken up by its friends in an effort to override the executive action and only the counsel of leaders of both parties obtained a postponement of a vote until Saturday.

The president in his veto message a document of more than 2000 words, declared he could see no justification for enactment of the bill into law and added:

"Our country cannot afford it. The veterans as a whole do not want it. All our American principles are opposed to it. There is no moral justification for it."

Proceeding in his discussion of the bill, Mr. Coolidge declared no bonus was owed able bodied veterans of the world war.

"The gratitude of the nation cannot be expressed in dollars and cents," he added. "The respect and honor of their country will rightfully be theirs forevermore. But patriotism can neither be bought nor sold. It is not for hire and salary. It is not material, but spiritual. It is one of the finest and highest of human virtues. To attempt to pay money for it is to offer it an unworthy indignity which cheapens, debases and destroys it."

We must either abandon our theory of patriotism or abandon this bill. The economic and financial grounds for a veto were stressed particularly by the president with an inference that should the bill become a law hope for tax reduction must be abandoned. The government, he said, had reached a financial condition which permitted a reduction in taxation, but "if this bill becomes law we wipe out at once almost all the progress five hard years

Miss Grace Tobill and Miss Marie have achieved in reducing the national debt.

The bill, he argued, would commit the country for a period of 20 years to an additional annual appropriation of $14,000,000, and at the end of that time it would be necessary to sell to the public two and a half billion dollars in bonds—a major operation in finance—which, he said, might be disastrous at that time.

Representative Longworth and Representative Oldfield of Arkansas, democratic whip, both predicted the measure would easily be passed in the house over the veto by the necessary two-thirds majority.

CAMP DAYS NEARLY HERE

The ground freezes every night, but the days are warm and dry in the upper Wood river county, according to W. Zenas Smith, who with a few friends, spent last Sunday at the Smith summer home on Baker creek.

There is practically no snow in the valley on the levels and not a great deal in the hills. Bismark is dry enough to permit of use by campers and while the nights are still cold the weather as a whole is about 30 days ahead of the normal season.

The party walked up Baker creek for near a mile without encountering snow except occasionally in shaded spots.

CALDWELL NINE SCORES VICTORY IN FIRST GAME

Locals Fail to Make Good on Advantages Offered in Opening and Drop Contest by 13 to 10 Score; Last One Today.

The Caldwell high school baseball team, after giving the locals every chance in the rule book to win the first game of the series, took Thursday's melée by a score of 13 to 10 in Lincoln lot.

A disappointed group of fans watched a dull, listless game which ended two hours and a half. Martin, Twin Falls pitcher, played a remarkable game on the mound going the entire nine innings with 18 strikeouts and but two walks. His support was feeble and to connect with the ball was a bit for Caldwell players, who battered him for 14 drives, including a home run in the ninth, two triples and four doubles.

Peter Kim, second baseman for the Caldwell team, was easily the luminary of the game for all around playing. In the second inning "Pete" (who stands fully four feet six inches tall) hit a double, which was Caldwell's first hit, and, undertaking the task himself, although Pete isn't rated as a pitcher, he held the Bruins to three hits and a single run for six innings, tying only in the eighth when he let in three hits and two runs and was replaced by Bardley who finished the game. Kim also led the batting for the day with four hits, two of them doubles in five times to the plate.

Garrity Stars.
"Moore" Garrity was the luminary for the Twin Falls batting force, knocking the ball for a .750 average for the day with a home run and two singles in four trips to the plate. Captain Mussell was close behind with four hits, three of them doubles, in six times at bat.

Twin Falls took the lead for the first three innings but lost it in the fourth by a single run. For the most part uninteresting and slow ball was played with a small amount of enthusiasm being raised in the sixth when Whitell ordered L. Jarman out of the game in a disagreement over the strikes. Coach Evans intervened in the argument and Evell stayed in the game.

Stage Rally.
With the score 10 to 5 in the eighth, inning the blue and white rallied and scored two runs in the ninth, tying the game with a double. Garrity and Martin both hit safely and Kim walked. "Doc" Jarman was called from the box. Bardley replaced him and stopped the scoring. In the ninth Martin with two out and two men on bases Albertson duplicated Garrity's performance of the first inning by lifting the apple over the fence, again putting Caldwell six runs to the good. Pinch hitters in the last of the inning gave the locals a ray of hope once more when Bardley passed two and allowed three hits for three runs. With two men on bases there was a chance for a tie score but "Doc" Jarman fanned on the last out.

Second Game Today.
This afternoon at 2:30 the Bruins will make a last effort to even matters with the Caldwell team which has lost but three games in their season of 12 games, two of them to Boise and one to Twin Falls.

On Saturday afternoon the Caldwell team will play the Buhl high school team on Ferris field before returning to the Boise valley where they will finish the season with Nampa next week.

STATE TRACK CONTEST TO OPEN AT MOSCOW TODAY

This afternoon high school athletes who placed high in four sectional track meets held last Friday will meet at Moscow for the annual interscholastic state track meet. Twin Falls is represented at the meet by Judson Timm, one of the most versatile athletes in the state. Timm in the sprints has on three occasions shown himself to be equal to Long, Rupert, winner of last year's state meet, and in the weight department Timm is also a remarkable performer throwing the discus for over the 100 foot mark, tossing the shot consistently over 40 feet and placing the javelin with the best. The broad jump is also an event in which Timm is expected to take points for the blue and white.

The meet this afternoon will have perhaps the best array of talent ever assembled for an interscholastic meet when Mitchell of Parma, holder of the state record in high and low hurdles, competes with Wolfe of Burley who is also a hurdler and high jumper, holder of the state record for the mile, in addition to "Bill" Korshinek, former state champion weight man, who promises to break more state records this year. Bob Brown of Payette is also looked upon to do a lot toward breaking the tape for a new record in the 440 and in forcing or winning from Hockaday of Rupert in the half mile, another record.

TWIN FALLS INVESTORS TO DRILL AT ROCKLAND

Local Investors Acquire Land in Vicinity of Bore and Will Form Company to Develop Holdings.

A group of Twin Falls investors has entered into agreement with the Rockland Valley Oil company for acquisition of 100 acres of land within a quarter mile of the company's well, about 15 miles south of Ardenburg, and will in the immediate future form a company to begin drilling operations. It was announced here Thursday by one of the members of this group, J. O. Noggle of Twin Falls, an experienced oil well driller, is to be driller and manager for the new company, it was stated. Drilling is expected to begin within the next 45 days.

Two other groups, one composed of Pogutello and the other of Blackfoot investors, are arranging to acquire acreage in the Rockland area under arrangements similar to those effected by the Twin Falls group, it was stated.

Indications for striking oil in commercial quantities in the Rockland area are stated to be exceptionally favorable. Pressure encountered in the Rockland company's bore some time ago caused casing to collapse and preparations are now under way for reinforcing the walls and continuing the bore, which now has been sunk to a depth of about 1000 feet. J. H. Dowell, formerly an operator in the Signal Hill, California, is now recently come to Idaho to be associated with the Rockland company, is quoted as saying that the drilling rig over this bore "is standing over a million dollar hole."

IDAHO JERSEYS SET TWO NEW PRODUCTION MARKS

That Idaho is maintaining the high standard of the Jersey for the profitable production of butterfat is indicated by records of the American Jersey Cattle club showing that two new Jersey records for this state have been established.

A young Jersey cow, Walkiki's Altamod 481903, owned by the University of Idaho, Moscow, recently became champion of Idaho Jersey senior two-year-old butterfat producer. This new champion produced 871.28 pounds of butterfat in 14,382 pounds of milk in an official 365 day test. On this record Altamod Maid also becomes the highest producing two year old Jersey to milk production.

Carl Middlestead of Buhl, bred, developed and tested Cicero's Fairy Lillian 521403 a Jersey which very recently became champion producer of the Jersey yearling division in Idaho. This young champion commenced test at one year and 11 months of age and produced 537.15 pounds of butterfat and 3445 pounds of milk in a 365 day test. She carried calf 222 days during test.

FOREST FIRES STILL RAGE IN NORTH IDAHO

acres size, already has spread over 600 acres and now is being driven by a strong west wind. The report from the Cabinet forest headquarters at Thompson Falls asserted that the situation is critical and will remain so until rain falls. O. C. Braden, in charge of the maintenance department of district No. 1 of the forest service, returned today from Spokane. He reports that every effort is being made to stop the fires in the northern part of Idaho. The country is exceedingly dry, he stated, and more than 300 men have been sent out to fight the flames.

Sixteen fires now are burning in the Kootenai forest in northwestern Montana. One hundred and fourteen men have been sent to fight the flames, which, in the majority of cases are said to have been the result of indiscriminate brush burning.

LLOYD HURT IN MAKING COMEDY

Romance and thrill mingle with comedy to make Harold Lloyd's new feature Pathemcomedy, "Girl Shy," coming to the Idaho next week, a suitable introduction for him to the American public as an independent producer.

It was while making part of the thrill action for this new production that Lloyd received the injury that laid him low for two weeks and necessitated the taking of six stitches in his head. A fractious fire nozzle got away from Lloyd, striking him with a trip-hammer-force across the forehead and knocking him off the fire engine.

Lloyd received immediate treatment at the home of a nearby physician but it was several days before he recovered from the shock.

The scene in which Lloyd was hurt is a prominent part of the thrill sequence in "Girl Shy," and the danger of the situation is said to be quite palpable upon the screen.

BLIZZARD SCENES SHOWN IN FILM AT AMPHEUM

Spectacular and wonderfully realistic blizzard effects were obtained for "Judgment of the Storm," presented at the Amphium theater today and tomorrow. Some of the most dramatic scenes were filmed in a great snow storm. The entire company—Lloyd Hughes, Lucille Nickson, George Hackathorn, Myrtle Steiman and Philo McCullough; two little kiddies, Frank Darro and Fay McKenzie, and the production staff under Director Del Andrews and Assistant Director Frank Geraghty—were in temperature which did not rise above ten below zero.

SUMMER RADIO

Year-round radio is said to be assured already. It started as rather a seasonable pastime because static interfered more in warm weather than in cold. Today radio dealers who expected a slump in their sales with the approach of summer, are quite cheered up.

In the first place, they say, interference is being gradually overcome.
Then, too, radio fans continue in a buying mood. And finally, portable sets are now really portable.

There were so-called portable sets
before, but they involved a good deal of trouble in their setting up. The problem of where to put up the antenna and how to make ground connections was not easily solved. Both these difficulties are now overcome and a compact receiving outfit can be carried in the automobile or even in row boat or canoe.

All this is as it should be. Radio is such a marvel and such a boon that its few imperfections merely add zest to the fun of listening. Speed in eliminating them was to be expected. The summer can now be greeted with complete joy by radio fans, with or without vacations thrown in, because they can have their radio entertainment when and where they want it.

OIL AND GAS

More gasoline has been produced lately than ever before. There is a larger stock on hand than ever before.
Exports have decreased. Yet a man well acquainted with the industry predicts a shortage of crude oil by midsummer, and a consequent shortage of gasoline because the supply cannot keep up with the demand.

Even if no more automobiles were made this year, he says, the supply of gasoline might be exhausted, because of the used car situation. There is a vast accumulation of old motor cars in the country, and they find a ready market at low prices. Many of them are "gas eaters," wasting enormous quantities of fuel.

If every junk pile in the country is going to exist this season, as the expert expects, it will make gasoline
more expensive for everybody before the season is over.

THE SIZE OF THE NAVY

The public remains strangely passive in the face of demands for naval increases. When the Secretary of the Navy, supported by a reputed naval expert, declares that the navy is now considerably below its quota under the five-five-three arrangement made at the Washington arms conference, the public seems to regard the statement as something to be expected from such personages, and lets it go at that.

Naval secretaries and experts are always demanding larger navies. The public, weary of war and everything connected with war, especially tanks, refuses to get excited about the matter. It seems to feel that this country is safe enough for the present and immediate future, that no other power is going to attack us, and that any warships built now would probably be obsolete before they were ever needed
for practical use.

This attitude may be a dangerous
one. It may be naive. Nevertheless it exists and is a force to be reckoned with.

Those who are particularly interested in the matter, and want action, might do well to insist on an inquiry into the naval situation, conducted wholly by disinterested and unprejudiced citizens. That would establish the facts convincingly regarding our own navy and right navies. Then the necessary action might be expected to follow.

CHAPTER V. The Long Worm.

COCKY ROBIN had to laugh at the joke Jack and Janet had played on him when they pegged a rubber band in the ground and had him try to get it out.

But while Cocky Robin laughed at the joke, he made his mind to get even with the children. He put his paw to work and soon he hit on an idea that made him giggle.

"Cheep! Cheep! That was a strange worm you had me catch," chirped he.
"But I know of one still more strange than that I wish you would help me capture it. It is one I can't pull out of the ground."

Jack and Janet thought it strange
there should be a worm Cocky Robin couldn't pull out of the ground, but he had taken the joke on himself so good naturedly they were ready to help him.

Cocky Robin flew away swiftly. He wanted to fix things for the joke he intended to play on Jack and Janet.

Soon he came back.
"Cheep! I have found the worm.
He is at home with his tail sticking out of the ground, and we can catch him
if we hurry."

He led them to the edge of the woods and pointed with his beak to a smooth dark tail nearly hidden in the leaves.

"There he is," whispered Cocky Robin.
"I wish you would pull him out."
Jack leaned over and stretched out his hand.

No No, warned Cocky Robin.
In a sudden flash he darted ahead of their hands. As Jack and Janet looked surprised at this, Cocky Robin went on to explain. "He's a very slippery worm. If you catch him in your fingers he will slip through them and get away. You had better catch him like this. You do a fish."

Jack held a fishing line in his pocket.
But he thought it was a queer way to catch a worm with a fishing line. Cocky Robin was so urgent, however, that he should use the string that finally Jack thought he would try. He made a loop in the string and carefully dropped it over the tail among the leaves.

"Now stand back and pull out the worm," said Cocky Robin, flying up to a tree branch overhead.

Jack jerked the noose tight and began to pull on the fishing line. Then he got a surprise. For the worm suddenly came to life and began to pull the strength of an ordinary worm. It pulled with the power of half a dozen worms. The tail vanished among the leaves, and the fishing line began to run out in Jack's hand.

The worm was pulling very hard!

"Help me," gasped Jack to Janet.
She grabbed the line and pulled with Jack. Slowly they began to pull the worm back. It struggled and jerked.
No Wonder. Cocky Robin said he couldn't pull it out of the ground. It was all they could do.

But slowly the fishing line came toward them. Then the tip of the tail, then more and more. It was an astonishingly long worm. And it was very strong.

"I'm above in the tree Cocky Robin
was chattering with excitement.
"Cheep! Cheep! You have got him," said Cocky Robin. "Tie the end of your fishing line to a tree before you pull him all the way out."

Jack thought that a good thing to do for the worm was pulling very hard. He tied the string to a tree.

"Now give a great big pull," chirped
Cocky Robin.

Jack and Janet got a firm hold on the fishing line and they gave a great big pull. Then the worm, stretching longer and longer. Was it a rubber worm? Was Cocky Robin paying a joke on them like the one they played on him? No, this worm was not rubber.
It was alive and wriggling and fighting.

But it was a monster big worm. Then with one last jerk they brought the worm out. Jack gave one look and let go the string. He grabbed Janet and pulled her away. "Get back," he shouted. "It is a snake."

And so it was. This was the joke
Cocky Robin had played to get even.
He had covered the snake's hole with leaves so they could not see how large it was, and then had gotten them to pull the snake out with the string. And there was the snake tied to the fishing line. It couldn't get at Jack and Janet and it couldn't get away.

(Jack and Janet got a most astonishing surprise in the next chapter.)

CHAPTER VII.

San Juan Sends Word.

They arrived at Castle creek, the south fork of the Rapid, above the eight-mile canyon and near where gold was discovered in June of the preceding year. Within two or three miles of where the Custer trail leaves the valley they halted for dinner. The spot was a small bar and, despite his haste to leave the band on the divide far behind him, Pyrites took time to wash out several pans of gravel. He said the bar would pay two cents to a pan line gold.

Dinsdale was not impressed and declared it would not pay for a man's tobacco. His contempt diminished when Pyrites tested another spot and found it to yield fifteen cents to a pan.
A second pan, luckily catching several small nuggets, he said would weigh six dollars.

That night as they snaked before their tent Pyrites enlightened his friend as to the nature of travelling before them. At times they would be within four miles of Spring creek, and again twice that distance. Below the canyon was their objective, Rapid City, where several hundred miners were still pursuing their luck.

"Any good pickings in the canyon?"
asked Dinsdale.

Nothing for us to try for there, but we can, if we have time, test a yarn
that's been floating through the hills ever since the first rush. That was known in frontier towns long before that I'm speaking of the gold caught by one of the party that entered the hills way back in '85 and went as far north as what's now Deadwood Gulch.

"I've heard that ancient yarn dozens of times," wearily remarked Dinsdale.
"A hundred men bound for California.
Nineteen quit the main body at Fort Laramie to investigate the gold stories told about the hills. They reached a creek, where high water prevented mining."

"This very creek!" broke in Pyrites.
"So they pushed on and made Deadwood thick. They struck it rich, but were surrounded by Sioux. Only one man escaped. You see, I know it as well as you do. Just how one man always escapes. Queer. And he always dies after telling his story to some one. If two or more men escaped there wouldn't be any story, as it was a lie."

"Lie, nothing!" hotly cried Pyrites.
"Tom Renshaw did escape. He was out hunting when the Indians rushed down. He was returning with a deer when the smoke from the burning shacks and cabins warned him to be careful. From the top of a bluff he looked down and saw the whole business. He hid in the woods and lived off the deer meat till the Indians quit.
Then he went into the burned camp and found a horse that had bolted into the timber. He unsaddled six hundred ounces of gold. Renshaw packed that gold to one of the heads of the Box

Elder, not far from Deadwood Gulch, and hid it in a shaft his party dug before they entered the hills."
"How do you know all this?" sleep-
tily asked Dinsdale.
"Because Tom Renshaw, nearly starved and with his horse played out,
managed to reach the immigrant road.
He was out of ammunition and threw away his gun. He lived on choke-cherries, roots, and the pulp of bric-kens. He traveled by night because it was too cold to sleep without blankets, and he slept in the daytime. One night he staggered into a hunting camp of Mormons on Green river, and told his story. His name was fed and cared for, and after he got on his feet
he disappeared. Probably his hardships killed him right after he quit the Mormon camp."

"But why haven't you tried for the cashed gold?"
Pyrites stared at him in great astonishment. Finally he exclaimed:
"I have been digging out ten or eleven thousand dollars' worth of gold when these whole mines of it to be had for the taking? If I was a gambling man, you see, you see, I'd tell you that the limit ain't enough to interest me."

"All right, partner," smiled Dins-dale; "we'll take time enough some time to correct that. It isn't to be snatched at. But I've heard a many 'lost mine' stories. I've put taking stock in them."

"Still you've tried hundreds of times to make a dash. If we don't find that gold in the old shaft then some one's been ahead of us."

"I'm too sleepy to argue," yawned Dinsdale.
Pyrites eyed him shrewdly and haz-
arded:

"I reckon your conscience wouldn't trouble you a heap if there was enough money in a mine?"

"Not a bit," promptly admitted Dins-dale. "I wouldn't cheat and it's all right if they don't get caught. The main thing is—don't get caught. Lots of men are honest because they're afraid they'll get caught if they go crooked."

Pyrites chuckled at this line of cynical philosophy and agreed.

"Lots of truth in your talk. But it happens that gold is what I'm looking for. I'm more interested in tracking quartz to the mother-vein than I'd be in the best herd of horses ever run off. A horse thief would ride slam-bang over a crack that held the price of a hundred horses. I'd turn the horses loose and dig down into that crack. San Juan Joe would quit the best pay gravel in these hills just to draw a horse's flush. But how we talk! I wish we could take time to work up toward the Box Elder. Those high bursts and narrow trails are just loaded with gold."

Breakfast Food

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By Hugh McKay.

My wife insists that I try all the piece breakfast foods she discovers.
She has a lot of curiosity on this subject, and the first advertisement of a new brand for breakfast will send her bounding to the grocery store.

That's all right of course with people who have experimental natures.
But oatmeal always has been plenty good enough for my breakfasts, and everything points to its continuing to be for a good many years to come.

But my wife orders "Krumbled Kri-pples," or "Puffed Pance Seed," or somebody's "Prepared Escalier," or which is supposed to be very good for insomnia or something like that.

I know that I could prepare tastier and more nourishing dishes with a good piece of board and a carpenter's plane.

If I have to eat any more of these new breakfast foods I know I'm going to stop getting up in the morning.

EMMA GOLDMAN DISCOVERS STATE SOCIALISM FAILURE

Government ownership, the socialization of industry, and similar communist theories of economics have been entirely discredited by the Bolshevik experiments in Russia, says
Emma Goldman, deported anarchist and former leader of the extreme socialists in the United States. Miss Goldman, after a prolonged stay in Russia, has gone to Germany and from Berlin is writing an account of her experiences under the rule of Lenin and Trotsky.

"Two years of earnest study, investigation and research convinced me that the great benefits brought to the Russian people by Bolshevism exist
only on paper, painted in glowing colors by efficient Bolshevik propaganda," declares Miss Goldman. "As advertising wizards the Bolsheviks excel anything the world has ever known before. But in reality the Russian workers have gained nothing from the Bolshevik experiment. The Russian workers soon were placed under the industrial yoke of the Bolshevik state, charged slavery became the lot of the Russian proletariat. Try as I might, I could find nowhere any evidence of benefits received either by the workers or the peasants from the Bolshevik regime."

SESSION TAKES POSITIVE STAND ON MANY ISSUES

Idaho Parent-Teacher Association Declares for Religious Education and for Use of "Americanized" Textbooks.

Idaho Parent-Teacher association concluding three day nineteenth annual session here Thursday, went on record in favor of legislation to "hold aside one hour a week for religious education outside of the school; choice of the instruction and the denomination giving it to be left to the pupil, the schools giving credit for the same."

The association also declared the use of an "Americanized" American history textbook in Idaho schools, and protested against continued use in the eighth grade of a textbook containing argument for American adherence to the league of nations.

Instruction in child hygiene and morals in the schools was favored and endorsement was given to a movement for restoration in the Star Spangled Banner of the words, "For our cause it is just," which were replaced by act of congress in 1900 with the words, "Which our cause it is just."

These expressions were recorded at a general welfare session of the convention.

Gives Legislative Views.

The convention adjourned shortly before noon Thursday after adopting report of its resolutions committee declaring for adoption of the Sterling-Rood education bill, ratification of the child labor amendment, American participation in a world court, and urging observance of law.

Authorization for appointment of a committee to confer with the Idaho Education association committee in drafting a teachers' pension measure was voted as one of the closing acts of the session. Acknowledgment was made of an invitation extended by Idaho Falls for the next annual meeting of the association. The deciding place is to be designated by the association's executive committee.

RIVER'S RISE BRINGS WATER

Late Reports Indicate Maintenance of Practically Normal Delivery for Some Time.

Water delivery through the Twin Falls canal system was maintained Thursday at 90 per cent of normal for this season, and the natural flow of Snake river is increasing so that there is no immediate prospect of reduction in water deliveries below 80 per cent of normal, according to statement Thursday evening of Burton Smith, general manager of the Twin Falls canal company. Reports from stations further up the river indicated that there would be available today for the Twin Falls canal company 3,000 second feet of water.

Increasing in the flow of the river is attributed to recent warm weather following a period last week of lower temperatures which tended to halt the run-off at the headwaters of the stream.

Mr. Smith Thursday evening expressed gratification over the immediate prospects for maintenance of nearly normal water deliveries through the Twin Falls system.

DEFENSES CLAIM TO ALIMONY PAYMENT BY FORMER HUSBAND

Claim to continued payment by her former husband, Thad W. Godfrey, of $50 a month, alimony after her marriage last January to W. M. Vinson of Pocatello, is asserted by Ada Vinson in an answer filed in district court here Thursday to Godfrey's petition for modification of the divorce decree to relieve him of requirement to continue payment of alimony. Alimony awarded by the court, Mrs. Vinson alleges, was not made contingent upon her dependent state. She is represented by R. J. Hogan of Pocatello.

WOULD SEVER MARITAL BOND.

Alleging desertion and non-support, Mahrie Collier, through her attorney, O. C. Hall, instituted suit in district court here Thursday for divorce from J. P. Collier to whom she was married June 15, 1910, in Albion. She asks restoration to her former name of Mahrie Walker and for $100 attorney's fees and $25 a month permanent alimony.

May Festival Event of Music and Color

Junior High School Pupils Hold Seasonal Celebration with Games and Contests.

Music, color and natural grace of childhood at play were mingled in the three-hour program of the junior high school's May festival, celebrating the advent of spring and approaching close of the school year, which took place Thursday afternoon in the city park and was witnessed by 400 parents and friends of junior high school pupils.

Two hundred and fifty girls of Mrs. Winona Morris's gymnasium class opened the festival with an impressive drill. Girls of the classes then appeared in two artistic dances, the first of which, "Dance of the Wooden Soldiers," was given by a large group of girls of the eighth and ninth grades and the second, "Ballroom Dance," by a smaller group.

Girls of the school next competed in a series of gymnasium contests and games in which the seventh grade girls scored an easy victory.

The maypole dance, feature event of the festival in which 18 girls in costumes of green and white took part, was followed by crowning of Miss Dorothy Hedstrom as Queen of the May.

Solo dances by Dorothy Dinkler, Charlotte Vogel and Elmina Yochem were the concluding numbers of the program for the girls of the school.

Immediately following this an inter-class track meet was held by the boys of the school in which the ninth grade boys were successful in taking first place in practically every event.

The junior high school band furnished the accompaniment for a part of the program and Miss Lipp with two violins also aided in the presentation of the program.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR ELKS' SHOW

Interest Displayed by Members of Cast at Initial Rehearsal Praised by Producer.

"The most interesting first rehearsal I ever conducted" was the statement of Howard E. Sabin, producer, in reference to the first rehearsal of the big Elk show which was held at the Elks club Tuesday evening.

In spite of the fact that many of the young people who will take part in the show this year are exceptionally busy with final exams and preparing for commencement and the other closing events of the school year there was a large attendance at the first rehearsal and those in charge stated that if first interest is any criterion then by the time the first night of the production arrives the city and country surrounding Twin Falls will be "rarin' to go."

Many of those who so creditably played their parts in former Elk shows will be again seen together with several new faces. Pretty girls, funny comedians, melodious songs, and beautiful stage settings, and the whole show to go with precision and smoothness seldom seen outside of a professional company.

One most noticeable thing in the rehearsal just held was the perfect willingness on the part of all present to try and do their best.

In the meantime plans for the Elks state convention are going ahead. One of the best boxing bouts ever seen in Twin Falls and in fact in the state, will be provided as a part of the special entertainment program. The parade on the opening day of the convention will be a dandy. Much of the convention special entertainment will be of interest not only to the Elks but to everyone living near enough to Twin Falls to come in.

The dates of the Elk show have been set for Monday and Tuesday, June 2 and 3, and the dates of the state convention are Wednesday and Thursday of the following week, June 11 and 12.

The News is read by the permanent earning classes.

SENIORS ENTER EVENTFUL WEEK

Class Day Exercises Mark Beginning of 1924 Graduation Exercises in Twin Falls High.

With Senior class day exercises opening with breakfast at Tom's cafe followed by an assembly program in the high school auditorium. 105 members of Twin Falls high school's 1924 graduating class entered Thursday upon a round of graduation week events to be consummated with commencement exercises next Thursday evening in the lavishing theatre.

More than 200 parents and friends of graduating class members attended the assembly Thursday afternoon for which the seniors furnished a program of marked originality and high entertainment value.

Program Covers Wide Range

A burlesque representation of the commencement exercises of the class of 1925 was the opening number, which was followed by reading the senior class prophecy by Chris Miller, Gertrude Rexroat and Lucy Munson. Pauline Warr scored a triumph with a vocal number in a miniature show that provided the program's third feature event, and in which Jay Day and Elsworth McRoberts made an effective appearance as culmen and Joe Dless an inter-locutor. Reading the senior class will, represented as being found in the year 4000 A. D. among the ruins of the Twin Falls high school, was an interesting event in which Beryl Shobert, Melchor Prince and Harold Sibma took prominent parts. The program was concluded with singing of the senior class song. A senior class band of 12 pieces under the direction of Walter Weaver, member of the graduating class, furnished music between the several acts. The program was presented with James Deane of the senior class as manager and announcer.

Bids Farewell to Class

At the senior class breakfast, M. C. Mitchell, superintendent of Twin Falls schools, bade farewell to the graduates. Larrid Jenkins was toastmaster. The program follows:

Tardiness.....Mary Newman
Junkers.....Pat Daly
Hopes of 1925.....Martha Parrar
Spirit.....Wilfrid Moffatt

2-Our Noble Selves.....Edward Shortell
4-Our Hopeless Teenagers.....Edward Walters

Menu: Acid test, Swift's premium springers, soda lakes, sweethearts, cauliflower.

Girls of the class wore white dresses and young men graduates appeared in white trousers and jerseys with red knit caps as their costumes for the class day exercises. Both the dining room where the breakfast was served and the high school auditorium where the assembly program was given were attractively decorated with the class colors of red and white.

The members of the junior class will entertain at reception this evening for the graduates.

Building and Loan Association Director Denies Validity of Elements of Defense Evidence

K. S. Peters, former manager, and Frank G. Leichter, former secretary of the Mutual Building and Loan association, according to testimony in district court here Thursday of E. J. Finch, member of the association's directorate, admitted, shortly before the severance of their connection with the association, that their accounts with the association were overdrawn at that time approximately $18,000.

Mr. Finch was called late Thursday afternoon to testify as a witness for the state in trial of Peters and Leichter on charge of embezzling $18,442 of the association's funds. The trial has been in progress since last Monday. Major portion of the day Thursday was occupied by cross examination by defense counsel of Edwin A. Wilson of the Edwin A. Wilson company, accountants, who was employed by the association's directors to audit its books following discovery of the alleged shortage in the account of Peters and Leichter.

Rejects Documents in Evidence.

Certain applications for real estate loans introduced at the trial by the defense, Mr. Finch stated, had never been submitted to the board of directors by Peters or Leichter. Under their contract, Peters and Leichter were to receive commission on such sales and real estate loans. Mr. Finch also denied that certain notes introduced in evidence by the defense at the preliminary hearing had previously been submitted to the association's directors. It was indicated that those notes had been obtained by Peters and Leichter in settlement of the alleged overdraft of their accounts. They are said to have been discovered in the association's files, but, according to the accountant, were not discovered when the audit was made.

Just before the evening recess, defense counsel sought to introduce a certain complaint and answer in evidence. Judge W. A. Babcock, presiding, sustained the state's objection to admission of this as evidence and defense counsel asked leave to present argument. Hearing of the argument was set by the court for 9 o'clock this morning. The jury is to report at 9:30 o'clock.
