Second Disastrous Storm Visits
Southern Area in Less Than a Month; Many Dead, Damage in Thousands.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 27 (AP)—Still maimed and in the shadow of a devastating series of tornadoes of less than a month ago, rural Alabama and Mississippi late yesterday and early today again were stricken by a second storm visitation, and at a late hour today were taking toll of their dead and injured and the unestimated thousands of dollars damage done to farms and homes and buildings.

Available advices from the torn districts place Alabama as the greatest sufferer in loss of human life, with a known total of 19 dead; Mississippi, with a determined aggregate of 17 killed and reports of many other fatalities, which, if confirmed, will greatly increase the casualty list of that state. In Alabama, more than 30 persons were injured, some fatally and many seriously; while Mississippi, with more than 50 injured already reported, probably will be the hardest hit, when complete news of the whirling destruction comes on destroyed wires.

Already organizations of mercy are on the scenes, rendering what aid is possible in the stricken area. The southern division of the Red Cross has a division representative in the Mississippi district and various other relief agencies are at work caring for the hundreds of homeless or making preparations for succoring the communities. Late today the Red Cross has received an urgent call for tents and cots from Greenville, and stated they were prepared to handle all requests received. Georgia, untouched by the present series of tornadoes, received a damaging blow in the northern section of the state, when rains falling incessantly for seven hours caused streams to overflow into the towns of Rockmart and Cave Springs where basements and floors of business houses were reported to be holding nearly a foot of water. No loss of life was reported in either town.

Sweet Pledges Colorado to Upbuilding of Highways; Former Executive Urges New Federal Appropriation.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 27 (AP)—Governor William E. Sweet of Colorado, one of the principal speakers at today's session of the United States Good Roads association and the Bankhead National Highway association, laid emphasis on the value of good roads as a business asset and pledged Colorado to do her part in building highways within her own borders.

Former Governor O. A. Larrazolo of New Mexico, president of the United States Good Roads association, in his annual address declared that the federal appropriation for the assistance of the highway building is almost exhausted and that a new appropriation must be made if the work is to continue. Better than a new appropriation, he said, would be the adoption of a definite policy of federal aid in road construction by the government. Considerable opposition to such a policy, is likely to develop in congress, he said, principally from the eastern portion of the country.

He gave as one reason why the eastern states should co-operate with those of the north, west and south in the matter of good road construction the immense disparity in area, and population and resources that exists between the states of the east and particularly those of the west and north.

Exhibitions Abroad.

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Instructions to make all proper endeavor to prevent the showing of pirated motion picture films were sent today by the state department to its representatives abroad, acting upon the request of Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America. Mr. Hays represented to the department that pirating of motion picture films had become a common practice, those engaged in the illicit traffic smuggling the films from the United States and into foreign countries where they are not protected under the American copyright laws and are exhibited on a wide scale.

MAYFIELD CASE
NEARLY ENDED

Contest Over Right of Democrat Senator to Seat Expected to End This Week.

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—The taking of evidence by the senate committee considering the contest involving the right of Senator Mayfield, Democrat, Texas, to his seat is expected to be concluded this week.

Only a brief session was held today, the committee for the most part hearing arguments of attorneys as to the right of E. Y. Clarke, a former high official of the Ku Klux Klan, to testify in the face of Texas statutes which declare such a witness incompetent when he is convicted of violating a federal statute in that state. Committee members reserved their decisions on the question until tomorrow and then passed on to hear brief testimony concerning Klan finances.

J. P. Collier of Dallas, Texas, the state witness heard, said that as an auditor he went over the books of the Dallas local of the Klan in 1922 and 1923 and that its total receipts and expenditures of all moneys amounted to something over $90,000 for the period.

Some $11,000 of the amount was expended for campaign purposes, he declared, but agreed that there was a local election in which the organization had "friends to aid and foes to punish" in 1922 in addition to whatever interest it might have had in the senatorial contest which resulted in the election of Senator Mayfield.

FORM NEW DEPARTMENT TO HANDLE BONUS WORK

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—The war department announced today formation of the adjutant general's office as a separate unit to handle the work made necessary by the enactment of the bonus law.

The adjutant general, Major General Robert C. Davis, will be in direct personal charge of the new branch, combining that work with his own functions as adjutant general. A separate office has been set up where General Davis will give his personal attention to see there is no preventable delay in receiving and checking against records of the world war applications for bonus benefit.

CRITICIZES SCHOOLS.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 27 (AP)—The majority of American schools are lost to God and the gospel and today are the seats of ungodly teaching and the prolific mothers of modernist preachers, all because Satan, working with his trump card, is ever busy, was the assertion made here today by the Rev. W. B. Riley, Minneapolis, before the Baptist Bible Union, a fundamentalist organization.

Borah Amendment for Publicity on Campaign Funds Is Given Approval of Solons.

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Carrying the Borah amendment for full publicity of political contributions during the progress of campaigns, the postal salary increase bill was passed today by the senate.

The vote was 73 to 3.

Salaries of 300,000 postal employees will be increased by an average of $700 each annually under the measure which now goes to the house, where a bill of somewhat different terms is pending.

An estimated increase of $60,000, 000 in postal expenses which would be offset by the senate bill would be met by the "normal increase in business," the senate was told by Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, who had charge of it.

The following schedule of salaries in the postal service would be adopted under provisions of the measure: Clerks and carriers $1,700 to $2,100; special clerks, at first and second of class, $2,200 to $2,300; substitute and temporary clerks 65c per hour; watchmen, laborers and passengers, $1,450 to $1,550; marine carriers $2,400; Railway mail service: Clerks (seven grades) $1,900 to $2,700; supervisory officials $2,800 to $4,500; substitute clerks $1,850.

Following an attack on two women who came to the state penitentiary at the negro's request to baptize him, Ward yesterday was severely beaten and pummeled by fellow convicts, who were restrained from lynching the negro only by the pleas of Warden B. H. Sims.

NEW CLUE GIVEN IN MURDER CASE

Alleged Witness Describes Burial of Mysterious Bundle Believed to be Boy's Body.

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP)—An eye witness account of what the informant believes was the midnight burial of Robert Franks, 13-year-old son of a Chicago millionaire whose body was found in a southside swamp after the parents had received ransom demands, was the principal development today in the search for the slayers.

The man who gave the information was John H. Shackelford of Gary, Ind., a railroad switchman, who said that late Wednesday night, when the boy disappeared, he saw a green sedan near the swamp in which the boy's body was found. He said he noticed three men and a woman in the car and that one of the men left it with a bundle which he first thought was a tent but which he now believes was the body of the youth. When the man returned he did not have the bundle, Shackelford said.

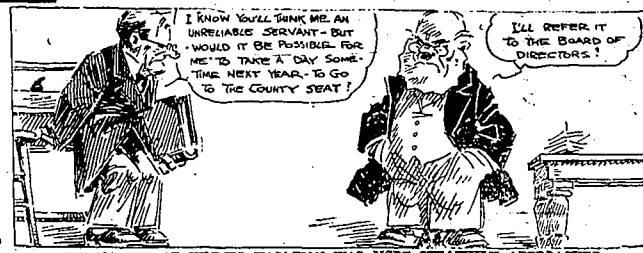

Despite the fact that the police have been working on the theory that the boy was kidnapped and his body later carried to the swamp by persons riding in a gray car, Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, said he believed Shackelford's story.

Chairman Adams Leaves for Scene of Convention; Seek Permanent Chairman; Get Platform Plans in Shape.

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—With the departure of John T. Adams, national chairman, tonight for Cleveland, the republican political center began moving toward the Ohio city preparatory to the meeting there two weeks from today of the republican national convention.

Chairman Adams left for Cleveland prepared to take over personal direction of the arrangements for the republican meeting and is not expected to return to Washington until after the convention. Other party leaders who are not members of congress will leave during the week, including Wm. M. Butler, head of the Coolidge campaign, and the prospective successor to Mr. Adams as national chairman.

Mr. Butler expects through a series of conferences to be held here before his departure to be able to announce the selection of the man who will represent the convention. Several conferences already have been held on that subject but no decision had been reached tonight.

Another question which probably will be settled before the end of the week is the agreement on the permanent chairman of the convention. Many of the party leaders were prepared to recommend the selection of Senator Wadsworth of New York but his name has been eliminated from consideration at his own request. The New York senator is understood to have indicated to Mr. Butler and others that the permanent chairman should be selected from the west and for that reason he would rather not be considered.

Chairman Adams took with him to Cleveland tonight a large amount of matter to be used as the basis of the national platform. It consists of numerous suggestions received by a sub-committee of the national committee headed by Ralph Williams, national committeeman for Oregon. Much of this matter has been placed before the president but it was said today at the White House that he had been unable to give much attention to it because of the multiplicity of other problems demanding immediate attention.

The president, contrary to some reports, will not write the platform but will leave the task to the convention's resolutions committee, confident that its members will draft a platform upon which he can stand as the party's nominee.

Preparatory work on the platform has been retarded somewhat by the legislative situation in congress. Numerous important subjects to be treated in the platform, such as the world court, taxation, farm relief and reclamation, still are before congress or undetermined and consequently those interested in building the platform have been unable to make much headway in drafting the planks covering those questions.

Girl with Babe in Her Arms Holds up
Bank; Gets $1000

Peoria Cashier Forced to Hand
Over Cash to 18-Year-Old
Miss; Loot Recovered When She Is Arrested.

PEORIA, Ill., May 27 (AP)—Norma Anderson, 18 years old, who, with a baby in her arms, held up a Peoria bank at Peoria this afternoon, was arrested at Hanna City after she forced a taxicab driver at the point of a gun to hurry her away. Over $1000 in cash which she grabbed from a teller's window was recovered.

The girl after her arrest claimed she held the bank up because it owed her some money. Bank officials deny this and say they never saw the girl before.

When the girl walked into the bank and shoved a gun at the teller he thought she was playing a joke and said, "Don't be in a hurry, I shall wait on you in a few moments."

"You'll wait on me now," the girl demanded, shoving the revolver close to him. "Hurry up and give me that money." The teller hesitated and the girl reached inside the window and seized a bag containing more than $1000 in cash.

She then forced Davis Settles, taxi driver, whom she hired to take her to Hannington, to hurry away. The taxi driver at first refused, but complied when the girl put the revolver against his body.

REJECT FORD'S BID TO OPERATE MUSCLE SHOALS

Government Ownership and Operation Endorsed by Senate Agricultural Committee; Fight Taken on Floor.

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Government ownership and operation of Muscle Shoals was endorsed today by the senate agricultural committee after Henry Ford's bid had been rejected.

By a vote of 11 to 4 the committee adopted the Norris government ownership bill as an amendment to the McKenzie bill, which passed the house authorizing acceptance of Ford's offer. A motion to report favorably the Ford bill was defeated 11 to 5.

The fight will now be taken to the floor of the senate where an effort will be made to have a vote by the end of the week. Supporters of Ford's bid claim they have a preliminary advantage in the present status of the Ford offer. When the McKenzie bill is amended by the committee is brought up in the senate, they plan to offer an amendment to the committee's report which would bring a vote first on Ford's offer.

Amendments to the Norris bill will be drawn up by a sub-committee at the request of Chairman Norris, who explained that since the bill was drafted two years ago it needed to be brought up to date. He said he planned to submit amendments which would make more emphatic provisions of the bill calling for wide distribution of power and the production and sale of fertilizer.

Another amendment, which the chairman has in mind, would provide for the use of the $3,472,487 which was received by the government for the sale of the Georgia dam plant to the Alabama power company, as working capital for the Federal Chemical corporation which would be created under the Norris bill for the operation of Muscle Shoals.

Chairman Norris said he probably also would submit an amendment to turn over to the nitrogen research laboratory of the department of agriculture nitrate plants numbers one and two for the production of fertilizer instead of the corporation as the original bill provides.

LADY ASTOR, only American woman ever to sit in the British parliament, had lively experiences while campaigning in Glasgow, Scotland, for the Unionist candidate, Captain Elliot. Communists tried to break up the meeting, but she stopped the uproar by singing "Keep the Home Fires Burning." Harry K. Thaw, free at last for killing Stanford White, has announced that he will settle $10 a day upon Evelyn Nesbit, his divorced wife, who is said to be earning $500 weekly in an Atlantic City, N. J., cabaret. The trial of W. E. D. Stokes, New York millionaire sportsman, charged in Chicago with attempting to induce witnesses to swear falsely in his unsuccessful divorce suit against his wife, has been postponed because of his illness. The charming Viola Kraus of New York, friend of the international whist wizard, Joseph B. Elwell, will return to America from Europe in the fall, when efforts will be renewed to find the man who mysteriously murdered Elwell four years ago in his New York city home. Miss Kraus's sister, Mrs. Walter Lewisohn, is said to have valuable information for the district attorney.

His Motive

Wife—"I cannot understand, John, why you always sit on the piano stool when we have company. Everyone knows you cannot play a note." Husband—"I'm well aware of it. dear. Neither can anybody else when I am sitting here."

POULTRY TRAIN COMING JUNE 6

Prize Hen to Be Passenger on Special; Latest Methods Will Be Demonstrated.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, May 27.—One of the most distinguished passengers on the "Poultry Special" train, which starts from Boise June 2, for a 10-day trip through 40 towns of south Idaho, will be C-16, a single comb White Leghorn hen that has made a record of 320 eggs laid in 365 days. Experiments on feeding, culling, breeding and brooding of poultry will be shown on the special which will be operated by the university and the Union Pacific railroad and which will arrive in Twin Falls Friday, June 6, from Hansen, to remain from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m., going from here to Blaine.

The mother of C-16 laid 292 eggs in a year and her grandfather produced 54 daughters the average of 200 eggs annually. These birds are all from the flock of Archie M. Larsen of Weiser, poultry breeder, who will furnish many exhibits for the poultry train.

The program presented at each stop of the train will aim to explain the place of poultry in diversified farming, encourage poultry raising, poultry producing and marketing, and to show the importance and possibilities of the industry to the Idaho farmer. The program will be prepared by the university and its extension division. Professor R. T. Parkhurst and Preen Moore, extension poultry specialist, will accompany the train and do most of the demonstration work.

Exhibit Is Extensive.
The train will consist of a flat car carrying models to scale of the "half-monitor" laying house, two-room brooding house, "half-monitor" colony house and the "Ithaca" open colony house and a stripped chair car containing seven booths demonstrating the various phases of poultry work.

The chair car will be placarded with University of Idaho building and campus pictures and on each side of the whole train will be placed large banners with the words "University of Idaho Special." Much of the work in arranging for the train and its program has been done through the efforts of Joel L. Priest of Boise, general agent for the Union Pacific in Idaho, and Preen Moore, university extension poultry specialist.

Johnson has not been placed under arrest following the alleged attack, but gave his personal assurance Tuesday that he would be on hand today, to answer to the charge.

IDAHO STUDENT ESSAYS WIN IN NATIONAL TEST

Pupils of Burley and Piler High Schools Come in For Prize and Honors.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Winners in the American chemical society's prize essay contest were announced at the national headquarters of the committee in charge here today, and two hundred and ninety-four $20 gold pieces were forwarded to school authorities for distribution among successful competitors. An equal number of high school students were accorded certificates of honorable mention as having submitted the second best essay.

It is estimated that at least 500,000 high school girls and boys participated in the contest. The contest was announced in September, 1923, at the fall convention of the American Chemical Society and at this meeting the society was offered the funds to carry on the contest by Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Taylor of New York, as a memorial to their daughter, Patricia. Six prizes of $20 in gold were offered in each state and the six scholarships to Yale or Vassar were provided as national awards. Contestants are required to be bona fide students in high school and secondary schools, and each entrant may submit one essay of not more than twenty-five hundred words. Six subjects are given: The Relation of Chemistry to Health and Disease; The Relation of Chemistry to the Enrichment of Life; The Relation of Chemistry to Agriculture and Forestry; The Relation of Chemistry to National Defense; The Relation of Chemistry to the Home; and The Relation of Chemistry to the Development of the Industries and Resources of Your State. The best essay was selected in each group.

MAY UNITE CHURCH BODIES

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 27 (AP)—Dr. Thornton Whaling of Louisville, Ky., moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States (south), and Dr. Clarence E. MacArthur, moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, clanked hands today on the rostrum of the Fountain street Baptist church here where the 130th general assembly of the latter group is being held—the first tangible personal indication of a possible union of the two bodies.

There was a strong union sentiment predominating. Dr. Whaling was greeted with an ovation, and his remarks were received with enthusiasm. He emphasized the singleness of purpose of the two churches and indicated the willingness of the southern church to renounce with the parent church from which it was separated in 1861 and with other Presbyterian bodies now existing as distinct units.

Dr. MacArthur responded with similar assurances from the United States of America church, as did Dr. H. C. Swearingen of St. Paul, Minn., who was a fraternal envoy from this assembly to the one recently concluded by the southern church at San Antonio, Texas.

CRATER INACTIVE.

HILO, T. H., May 27 (AP)—Hualamuni, the chief crater of Kilauea, which has been in eruption for some weeks, was comparatively inactive today. This enabled Roy Finch, the volcanologist, to explore the crater from the south. He found the steam clouds very thin and the visibility good. The pit bottom is covered with debris from the landslides in the shape of elongated cone, with steep slopes.

GOVERNOR MOORE TO ATTEND

COMMEMORATION AT MOSCOW, Boise, May 27.—Governor C. C. Moore will represent the state of Idaho at the commencement exercises at the University of Idaho at Moscow, June 3, when Price Gelosia Cretani, Italian Ambassador to the United States will be granted an honorary degree by the state university. Governor Moore will deliver the address of welcome to the ambassador who was once a mine superintendent in northern Idaho.

AUTO DRIVER DRAWS FINE.

Lee Hunt of Twin Falls, found guilty of violating state road laws, was sentenced Tuesday by Judge O. P. Duvall in probate court to pay a fine of $25 and costs, amounting in all to approximately $40. Complaint in the case was preferred last week by the prosecuting attorney's office at the instance of D. H. Woodman, who alleged that his car had been damaged in a collision resulting from reckless driving on the part of Hunt.

BETTER HEALTH SERVICE

Public Health Is Public Wealth
Issued by the Public Health League of Idaho

LUMBAGO
The term "lumbago" was formerly given to almost all acute and chronic diseases affecting the back. At present we have been able to sort out these various conditions, placing them under their proper classifications and leaving the term lumbago to describe a severe stabbing pain in the back coming on quickly, following some unusual movement of the spine, such as over-bending, straining or twisting. This usually disappears in a few days with only moderate disability and no after effects, but it may last a week or two and the pain be so severe as to prevent the person from attending to ordinary duties during this time.

The real lumbago is probably due in a great majority of cases to some slight injury, but we may get a condition similar to this following acute infections such as influenza, tonsillitis, smallpox and other conditions. These infections cause a mild inflammation of the spinal muscles which makes all movements of the back painful. This is sometimes called "rheumatic lumbago." With careful history and examination there should be no reason for confusion between these two conditions.

Then there are other diseases which must be differentiated. These are the acute and rheumatic involvements which may or may not show some bony changes on X-ray examination. The fact that there has been no injury and the chronicity are the distinguishing points. Tuberculosis can be readily ruled out by the X-ray and also by the history. Kidney and bowel conditions are sometimes very difficult to diagnose, but a careful history and back findings are usually sufficient when considered with laboratory reports to state positively with which we are dealing. Then we have neuritis and a number of other ailments which are not difficult to differentiate from the true lumbago.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Breckenridge entertained at dinner Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McMartin who are leaving the city. Mr. McMartin is going to Vassar to see her daughter, Miss Louise, who will graduate, and Mr. McMartin to Phoenix, Arizona, where his family will join him in the fall. Other guests were Dr. Jack M. C. R. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McClure and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Kaylor.

Mrs. William Zeuss Smith and Mrs. John Wood Dodge Smith have issued invitations for bridge luncheons on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Mitchell, who are leaving Twin Falls, the members of the Portability club entertained Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown with a seven o'clock dinner. The guests numbering 25 were seated at small tables decorated with spring flowers. A profusion of the flowers of the season added to the beauty of the home. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were presented with a handsome gift from the club. Cards and dancing were the diversion after dinner.

The members of the intermediate B. P. O. of the Baptist church were entertained at a delightful lawn party Monday evening at the home of Miss Alpha Smith. Games were enjoyed by the guests and at the conclusion of the evening refreshments were served.

STATE'S FISH HATCHERIES PRODUCING MUZZY SPAWN

BOISE, May 27.—Fish hatcheries over the state will be overflowing with trout spawn within a few days according to Game Warden Dick Thomas and Fish Commissioner "Billy" Keil. The taking of spawn is progressing rapidly in some of the chief streams and in temporary hatcheries has been established by Commissioner Keil at Henry's Lake and several hundred thousand spawn placed there. The Ashton, Hay Spur and Coeur d'Alene hatcheries will have several millions of young trout to plant this coming season.

Fish are being salvaged from the reservoirs that may go dry this summer and only a few days ago several hundred large trout, laden with spawn, were transferred from the Coeur reservoir to the upper portions of the Boise river.

REDUCING TAXES

Whatever the opinion as to the merits or demerits of the conference measure for tax reduction which was passed along to the President for signature on Monday, this at least is true; there will be a very marked reduction in taxation on small incomes. On larger incomes reductions are less than those proposed in the Mellon bill, but the man with an income of the average size of the kind in vogue in Twin Falls, will pay a lesser income tax than would be the case under the original plan backed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Estimates furnished by the experts at Washington some days in advance of the passage of the measure, show a material advantage for the man of small income. As the Christian Science Monitor puts it in a recent edition, up to incomes of about $70,000 annually, this reduction is large; beyond that the conference schedule is heavier than either the present law or the Mellon bill. For the man with an income of $5000 a year, married and with one dependent, the Mellon plan would fix a tax of $47.25, the conference plan, of $25. If without dependents, the Mellon plan would impose a tax of $56.25; the conference plan, of $30. These comparative figures are reasonably illustrative of the difference between the rates proposed for all incomes under $20,000 a year. It is sufficiently apparent that if the debatable question of the economic effect of the reduction of the surtax on great incomes is set aside, the measure of relief granted by the conference report is such as to entitle it to hearty support.

With respect to the political significance of the measure, the same newspaper offers the following:

These figures make clear at least the political advantage of the acceptance of the proposed conference plan. It is quite true that the advantage will not accrue wholly to either political party, for in the amendment of Mr. Mellon's bill Democrats and Republicans have had an equal share; but a veto of this proposed legislation would be distinctly the act of the Republican President, and the Republican ticket would infallibly be held responsible for it in the election next November.

OUT OF THE RUHR.

The new radical government that is being formed in France by Edouard Herriot, as a result of Poincare's recent election defeat, plans to get out of the Ruhr just as soon as Germany puts the Dawes reparation program into effect.

If this be "radicalism," let conservatives, in France and elsewhere, make the most of it. To most Americans, it looks like more common sense, after the failure of Poincare's blood-and-iron policy in the Ruhr during the last two years.

It seems likely at present that the Germans will meet Herriot, about half way. Certainly, with this policy in view, if they are sensible they will acquiesce fully in the payment plan of the committee of experts, in order to get rid of the French army as soon as possible, and start the national economic machinery to functioning again.

That would mean not only money to pay France, but a saving for France in being able safely to reduce her army and therefore keep down taxes. It was largely taxes that got Poincare into trouble at home.

NO DROUGHT IN KANSAS
One may believe that ignoring climatic conditions won't change them very much. But an interesting story which comes from Kansas very nearly proves the opposite. Foster Dwight Colburn, "the man who made Kansas famous" and who was for twenty years secretary of the state board of agriculture, used to grow indignant with the people who fretted about Kansas "drought."

"Forget it!" he said. "Plenty of other states are as dry as Kansas. Stop talking about it. Stop making the farmers blue thinking about it." And thereafter, so the story goes, "drought" had no official existence in Kansas. It seems strange now that a United States Secretary of Agriculture once included Kansas in the "arid desert" region of this country. The state has enormous farming successes to its credit. Its record in forestation should make many a moister state ashamed. When Kansas was settled only five per cent of its total area was wooded. Since then the forest area has been doubled by voluntary growth, transplanting, and by seed planting. If every state could forget its handicaps as effectively as Kansas has forgotten its badness to aridity, even in the western part, what a boost it would afford for national prosperity, conservation of natural resources and general welfare!

Yellow candles in crystal holders were used and the attractiveness of the table. In the evening the gentlemen motored out and the evening was enjoyed with a picnic supper.

Another "Poor Fish"

"You poor fish!"
This remark was overheard in the New York aquarium. In these city institutions they always try to instruct the public.

"You poor fish!"
An attendant immediately approached, bowed politely to the lady, and said: "They do not mind being in the tanks. There they are well fed and also protected from their natural enemies. In the tank they know their liberty is in any way restricted. So you need not feel sorry for the fish."

But the lady was addressing her remarks to her husband!

"Ha Ha!"

This laughing game is sure to be a merry one. A circle is formed and one child starts with the word "ha," the second says "ha ha," the third "ha, ha, ha," and so on, each taking his turn and adding one more "ha" than his neighbor. The "ha ha" must be said without laughing, which is hard work, and before the circle has been gone once around almost all are laughing. As each one laughs he drops out of the game, and sometimes only two are left to carry on the contest.

RED ADMIRALS

"If you have ever thought that the Butterflies had a Navy you are very much mistaken," said the Red Admiral.

"We may have rather navy-like names, if that is the way I should speak of them, but we haven't a Navy at all."

"Perhaps I should say we haven't a navy, as they have in the Navy."

"For example, there is no lieutenant and no captain and no admiral and no admiral at all."

"Therefore we have no Navy. Besides, we haven't any ships and we don't go on the water. So you see we don't belong to a Navy and a Navy doesn't belong to us."

"We are also called Nettle Butterflies. I hope I made it clear from the start that we are butterflies. I think I did."

"But I shall now, at any rate. Yes, we are Butterflies."

"We have little hairs which scratch and annoy the enemies who might otherwise harm us. That is why we are often called Nettle Butterflies."

"Then we have the name of Red Admirals because we wear fine reddish suits."

"When we get a little older we become rather worn-looking, and so you will notice some of us and our clothes will look shabby to you."

"But when we are young we spruce up and look very fine indeed."

His Worldly Goods
It was a fashionable wedding. The bridegroom had no visible means of support save his father, who was rich. When he came to the stage of "With all my worldly goods I thee bestow" all my worldly goods I thee bestow," his father said in a whisper that could be heard all over the church: "Heavens! There goes his bicycle!"

Gland Treatment Restores R. G. Laws

"I am just as young as I used to be, and all due to gland pills. Here I am 70 and feel just as spry and full of vim and pep as if I were only 30 or 40." This testimony to the virtue of gland treatment was voiced recently by Robert George Laws, prominent retired London broker. Mr. Laws, whose health has been poor for several years, claims that a glandular tonic put in tablet form has restored him to the health and vigor of earlier days.

Such a treatment is now obtainable in the form of Glandogen, a highly concentrated glandular tonic, prepared from the glands of healthy young animals in convenient tablet form. Glandogen has had remarkable success with thousands of ailing men and women. Glandogen is obtainable at Schramm-Johnson Drug Co.—adv.

Breakfast Food

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By Mrs. HUGH McKAY

My husband goes to sleep while we're listening to our friends' radio. The Forters or the Duncans or somebody will ask us to come over and help them to enjoy their new sixtine set. We know that "enjoy" didn't sound like exactly the right word, but over we go. After about an hour of "Now we'll try to get Davenport, Iowa," and dance music and tenor solos, Hugh begins to get a drowsy look in his eyes. And I nudge him lightly. But pretty soon he begins closing his eyes "so that he can enjoy the music better," as he always explains when I call him back to us again. And then he yawns and closes his eyes again and is asleep.

All this time he is feverishly twisting regulators and "tuning out static." And then finally as the great triumph of the evening, he gets a far-away station that he's never had before—and turns proudly to accept Hugh's admiring applause.

Well—my husband has just about broken up two or three family friendships with this sleeping beauty act of his. Pretty soon we won't have anywhere to go—and then he'll probably sit up all night listening to a radio of his own!

Tomorrow: "My wife gives so many wedding presents that she keeps me poor."

rior to be Little Big Man. Sticking up from between his crossed legs were the butts of Dinah's guns. Crazy Horse, who ever had a great love for excellent firearms and who packed three Winchester rifles with him and one or more hand guns, touched the big revolver and said, "I will take only these."

Little Big Man passed them over and for several minutes the war chief examined them knowingly and his features grew animated as he realized their excellence. Suddenly he ceased his inspection and asked of Scissors: "This is the white man who was caught by soldiers while bringing ammunition to the young braves at Spotted Tail agency?"

His expression was almost genial as he put the query, but Scissors shook his head and repeated:

"My white brother was carrying ammunition to the Cheyennes on the Rosebud."

A scowl of disappointment darkened the chief's visage. Had Scissors replied in the affirmative several men from the agency were ready to brand him as a liar, for they knew the man Crazy Horse had referred to. Crazy Horse, who had been the ground and twisted a revolver by the trigger guard. None ventured to break the silence, and at last he said:

"They say the white man is a friend of Hich Wolf."

"He was welcome in his lodge in Montana one winter ago. He hunted with some of the young Cheyenne men."

Crazy Horse fixed his gaze on Dinah, but understanding nothing of the Teton dialect the prisoner's face betrayed nothing. It was useless to question him, as Scissors would answer for him. The chief seemed to lose all interest in the alleged friend of High Wolf and abruptly asked:

"Where is Frank?"
"Frank Guard?" asked Scissors.

Pay Gravel

The tinkling of a bell now stirred the spectators to sharp attention and heads were turned as their mighty chief stepped from a lodge back of the half-circle. Crazy Horse at that time did not look over thirty years of age, and stood a few inches under six feet. He carried himself with great dignity and the stern expression of his bold features was accentuated by a scar. His people knew him to be as generous as he was courageous, and his practice of never retaining any property for himself, aside from his arms and war ponies, was bound to extend his popularity among all the hostiles and their allies.

If Sitting Bull by his medicine forced the destruction of Custer's men, then it was Crazy Horse who assumed victory at the outset, when on encounter lating Reno's men he saved his following. (Crazy Horse, panic by brainy a soldier with a stock, war club and leading a counter charge. And what must place him high in the estimation of all fighting men was his insistence that no warrior should pass him when he gave the order to attack. He was a great general; intensely loyal to his people and their cause, a patriot who had no use for wealth. And Taku Wakan could ask no more of any of his dusky children.

As he walked around the end of the circle to take a position beside Little Big Man he was wearing his feathered bonnet and other war regalia. In one hand he carried a Winchester rifle and in the other a twelve-foot coup wand of willow. The wand was decorated with symbolic feathers, bits of fur, and the tinkling bell. He dropped on a knee beside Little Big Man and plumed his rifle across his lap and rested the end of his coup wand on the ground, and stared steadily at Scissors. His gaze quickened as it shifted to the pile of greenbacks and dust in front of Little Big Man. The treasure meant nothing to him except as it represented so many magazine guns and fixed ammunition.

The white man with the talking knives will tell why he came to the Teton country," he abruptly commanded.

Scissors needed no interpreter, and began to explain why he and his friend had gone to Mato Tipi to make stone offerings to Tunkan so the god would send forth his "flying rocks" to learn where Tash-unc-utco was to be found.

"And while we were asking this of Tunkan our prayer was answered," Scissors continued. "He who lives on Mato Tipi at times sent Little Big Man and his braves to lead us to Tash-unc-utco, and it is well. I brought this white man with me, as his life was not safe among white men. He was caught while trying to take a load of ammunition to the Cheyenne."

"And While We Were Asking This of Tunkan Our Prayer Was Answered," Scissors Continued.

He escaped from the soldiers and fled with me to find the Ogallala. He brought some of the white man's money with him as a present to Tash-unc-utco."

"Tash-unc-utco needs no presents of money from the white men," hastily informed Crazy Horse. "What he needs he takes."

And he shook his coup wand till the little bell tinkled merrily. Loud grunts of approval met his declaration. Loud cries of "washe-he-lo" were raised when he pointed to the greenbacks and directed:

"Give it to the men who have lost horses and lodges."

MILNER PUMPS RESTRICTED TO STORED WATER

Restraining Order Issued Under Attorney's Agreement Injoints District from Diverting Waters of Snake River.

Under stipulation by attorneys, Judge W. A. Hoberck in district court here Tuesday ordered issuance of an injunction requiring the Milner Low Lift Irrigation district and its agents and employees to discontinue and cease pumping any water from Snake river through the pumps at Milner except as permitted by order of the state reclamation commissioner and to "absolutely refrain from said acts until further order of this court."

It was announced this afternoon that the Milner district was to begin drawing upon its supply of 15,000-acre feet of stored water in Jackson lake reservoir and that this source was considered adequate for successful maintenance of this season's crops on lands within the district in Twin Falls and Cassia counties.

Opposes District's Claims.

According to statement of the reclamation commissioner contained in the complaint filed last week instituting action for the restraining order, the Milner district has been diverting through its pumps at Milner approximately 100 second feet of water from Snake river daily since the beginning of the present irrigation season, and has refused to comply with orders of O. Clyde Baldwin, watermaster, and W. M. McConnell, deputy watermaster, at Milner, to discontinue operation of the pumps.

The Milner district claims that water thus diverted was waste water from the Minidoka project to which it is entitled under filing upon which decree now is sought in the federal courts. The reclamation commissioner denied the district's claim in this matter, regarding it as an infringement upon decreed water rights of the Twin Falls and North Side canal companies.

Leaves Issue Undecided.

Stipulation under which the restraining order was issued provided that the district should not, pending final determination of this action, pump any water from Snake river in violation of any order or direction of the reclamation commissioner or his deputies, and further, that this stipulation should not be construed to give any action now pending or hereafter started by the defendants (Milner district) for the purpose of having their right to the waters of Snake river from the Minidoka project decreed by the courts, as a bar or affecting any right or interest the defendants may claim or assert.

The reclamation commissioner in this action was represented by Attorneys E. A. Walters and R. P. Parry, and the Milner district by Attorney S. T. Hamilton of Twin Falls.

BANK FAILURE FIGURES IN LAWSUIT OVER NOTE

Trial in the suit of H. E. Hemmingsway, of Burley, against E. P. Emery of Hansen, involving claim for recovery on a $1000 note, was not completed in district court here Tuesday, and the case will be submitted to the jury tomorrow following Judge W. A. Hoberck's ruling on a motion offered last Tuesday by S. T. Love of Burley, attorney for the plaintiff, and argument by attorneys.

The note in question is alleged to have been executed by Emery as security for a loan made by the Bank of Hansen. Payment of $490 on account of the note is alleged to have been made by Emery on the evening of the day before the Hansen bank closed its doors a new note for the balance being executed by Emery. The original note previously had been delivered by the Hansen bank to the Ely National bank of which Hemmingsway is a director and had come into his possession. Closing of the Hansen bank is alleged to have prevented Emery receiving credit for the $700 payment and retirement of the original note on which suit is now brought.

The case for the defendant Emery is being conducted by M. J. Sweeney of Sweeney and Sweeney, Twin Falls.

Trial of the case of Stella R. Smith against Ed. Tolbert and M. E. Finch, sheriff, is scheduled to begin in district court here today. Attorneys J. R. Bothwell and W. Orr Chapman represent the plaintiff in this case, and Stephen and North and J. W. Taylor, the defendants.

Twin Falls Lodge Posts Prizes for Business Houses and Visitors Taking Part in Event.

Final arrangements for the decorating of the city for the state Elks' convention to be held in Twin Falls June 11 and 12, were completed Tuesday by the committee of the local lodge. CONFESSES TO ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF LIQUOR

O. T. McCormick, Arrested by Deputy Sheriff at Home in South Park, Pleads High Motive for Bootlegging.

C. T. McCormick, in probate court Tuesday, pleaded guilty to charge of illegal possession of two gallons of liquor seized by Deputy Sheriff E. F. Prater and John W. Gabbard, when they descended upon his dwelling in South Park Monday night, and was held by Judge O. P. Duval on $500 bond to answer to the charge in district court.

The liquor, according to the officers, was contained in four glass jars on a kitchen cabinet in McCormick's kitchen. He is said to have admitted to the officers that he had expected to sell the liquor with view to raising funds to pay the fare of his wife and family from Kansas City to Twin Falls for a reunion and reconciliation following their departure some months ago when McCormick was alleged to have been involved in a chicken stealing episode.

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS MEMORIAL OBSERVANCE

Idaho Executive Urges Dedication of Citizenship to Principles for Which Men Gave Their Lives.

Following is the text of the Memorial day proclamation issued Monday by Governor Moore:

In a few days we will observe that day which has been set apart for honoring the memory of those who have fallen in the wars of the nation and in paying tribute to the veterans who still survive. The last few years have brought a deeper meaning to this day for to the fading ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic have been added the names of the Spanish War veterans as well as those of the last great conflict.

May we remember that Memorial day is therefore not one of celebration, but rather one of consecration. It is meet that we dedicate ourselves to the proper protection of those great principles for which these men gave the "last full measure of devotion."

Therefore, I, C. C. Moore, governor of the state of Idaho, do hereby proclaim and urge a proper observance of Friday, May 30, 1924, as Memorial day.

I trust that the day be given over to appropriate services in memory and tribute to those who have answered the last roll call. All flags should be at half staff until noon when they are to be raised to full staff.

Mercury Continues Upon Lower Levels

Continuance of cooler weather was reflected Tuesday in records of the government weather observatory station here showing high mark for the day at 79 above, an advance of two degrees over the preceding day's maximum, and low at 42 above, a decline of two degrees. Overcast skies and prevalence of wind during most of the day intensified the feeling of unseasonable chill.
