PROSPECTS FOR NEW FARM BILL NOT PROMISING

Republican Leader Sees No Possibility of Enacting Substitute for McNary-Haugen Measure at Present Session

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—After a consultation with President Coolidge Representative Longworth, the republican leader, conceded tonight there was no possibility of enacting a satisfactory substitute for the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill at this session of congress.

During the day Mr. Longworth and Representative Fletcher of Kansas and Sanders of Indiana, both members of the republican steering committee, had discussed with the president a plan they had evolved to place the marketing of surplus wheat, flour and meat products in the hands of the war finance corporation, and the word had gone out that if the substitute proved acceptable to the president it would be pressed to a vote as an administrative measure.

The announcement that no action would be taken was made after Frank W. Mondell, a war finance corporation director, fresh from a conference with Mr. Coolidge, had discussed the situation for more than an hour with Representative Longworth, Representatives Fletcher, Sanders and Slinnot, republican of Oregon.

No comment was available at the White House as to the president's views and Mr. Mondell declined to discuss the situation beyond stating that he had left it to Mr. Longworth to make an announcement. The statement issued by the majority leader follows:

"Since the defeat of the McNary-Haugen bill in the house, in consultation with many members of the house and the official representatives of the large farm organizations, I have been attempting to arrive at some satisfactory measure for the relief of the agriculture situation. We also have discussed the matter with the president.

"The large majority recorded against the McNary-Haugen bill made it evident that any legislative proposition embodying the basic principles of this bill could not be passed, and that any such measure would be a waste of time and effort. We have so far been unable to work out a plan which would command the necessary support."

LYNCH WINS MAJORITY.

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Figures made public at the campaign headquarters of James M. Lynch of Syracuse, indicate his election by a 3000 majority as president of the International Typographical union. The election was held last Wednesday by local unions in the United States and Canada.

PROBE INDIAN AFFAIRS.

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—A resolution directing its Indian affairs committee to investigate the administration of Indian affairs in Oklahoma, was passed tonight by the house. Expenditure of $5000 would be authorized for the inquiry.

Shriners Elect Officers; Stunt Parade Features

Los Angeles Selected for 1925 Session; Nobles Advanced; Kansas City Man Is Imperial Potentate.

KANSAS CITY, June 4 (AP)—With the election of officers today and disposition of other business, including the selection of its 1925 convention mecca, by the imperial council of the Shrine of the Golden Temple, the 3000 nobles of the order assembled here turned their attention to tonight's picturesque "stunt" parade.

James E. Chandler of Kansas City, became imperial potentate by action of the council, when he was officially elevated along with other members of the imperial divan in order of their consecration.

John N. Sebell of Khadive Temple, Norfolk, Va., was elected imperial order guard.

Los Angeles was selected as the 1925 caravansary which will be held May 26-28.

All but two of the officers today ascended to higher offices. William B. Evers of Pittsburgh, imperial treasurer, and Benjamin W. Rowell, Boston, imperial recorder, were re-elected. They have held their offices by re-election since the Denver convention in 1921.

The officers of the imperial divan will be installed as the last act of the imperial council tomorrow night. James E. Chandler, the new imperial potentate, is president of the Mordecai Greener company here. He was elected imperial order guard in 1915 at the convention in Seattle. Immediately on selection of the convention city for next year invitations for the 1925 convention were extended by Milwaukee and Philadelphia.

Harding Letter Is Cause of Change in Plans for Ending Fight of Georgia Factions

FEDERATION WILL ELECT

LOS ANGELES, June 4 (AP)—An amendment to the by-laws of the constitution of the general federation of women's clubs which would have provided for the nomination of three candidates for the presidential chair, was defeated today at the afternoon session of the conference which is gathered here at its seventeenth biennial convention.

The list of three which must be trimmed to two when the nominating committee submits its report on June 10, includes Mrs. W. S. Jennings of Florida, first vice president; Mrs. Wallace Perham of Montana, second vice president, and Mrs. John D. Sherman of Colorado.

TWO URGED FOR SECOND PLACE

Coolidge Describes Type of Man for Vice Presidency; Discuss Hoover and Lowden

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 4 (AP)—President Coolidge has sent direct word to the republican party managers here describing the type of man he wants for a running mate.

The president's word reaffirms the previous understanding that he wants a man of his own political mind and one who is not a national ticket to represent an attempt to recognize the insurgent wing of the party.

Mr. Coolidge has told those to whom he confided his wishes that the vice presidential candidate should be a man who could carry an assurance to the country that should he succeed to the presidency there would be no change in the fundamental policies of the administration.

With this in mind the party managers who are carefully making a pre-convention canvass of available with the idea of agreeing on a man who will be acceptable to the president are continuing to discuss Secretary Hoover and former Governor Lowden of Illinois almost to the exclusion of others who have been mentioned.

Slain Lad Debated Against Enforcing Capital Punishment

Robert Franks Sympathized With Criminals and Urged Reformatory Measures.

CHICAGO, June 4 (AP)—Robert Franks, kidnapped and slain school boy on whose account the state is seeking indictments against two minors on two charges punishable by death, two weeks before his death debated against capital punishment. His team upheld the negative, victoriously against a team including his brother Jack in school debate on the question: "Resolved, That Capital Punishment is Justified."

"Would it not better serve the community," he asked, "to put weak and mentally deranged criminals in institutions where, removed from society, they would no longer be a menace? Punishment should be reformatory, never vindictive." Students and teachers declared that his mother at the time said her son believed in his side of the question, sympathizing with all criminals. "Criminologists agree that most criminals have diseased minds," he said in his debate. "Only God is permitted to take human life."

DAWES REPORT FAVORED

BERLIN, June 4 (AP)—Frankly designating the Dawes report as the pivotal point in Germany's foreign relation and reiterating the ministry's adherence to its previous acceptance of the experts' recommendations as a basis for the approaching reparations negotiations, Chancellor Marx's statement in the Reichstag today on the occasion of his reappearance at the head of the second cabinet bearing his name, was occupied with references to the nation's foreign relations as affected by the apportion of the Dawes report.

VOTE FUNDS FOR BIG DAM

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—A senate bill to make available $5,500,000 for the construction of a dam on the Gila river, near San Carlos, Arizona, was passed by the house tonight. The dam would provide water for the irrigation of 80,000 acres, the largest portion of which is in the Pima Indian reservation. The measure provides that lands in private ownership shall pay construction charges of the dam, amounting at 5 per cent interest over a 40 year period.

Delegates Headed by Negro Committeemen Are Seated by Vote of 22 to 14; Variety Marks Sessions.

CLEVELAND, June 4 (AP)—A letter from the grave suddenly upset the plans of the republican party managers for "cleaning up" the long standing factional fight in Georgia and resulted today in the seating again of delegates headed by Henry Lincoln Johnson, the negro national committeeman from that state, along a stormy prelude before the national conventions.

Just as most of the old line party managers on the committee had decided that Johnson and his delegates must go to make place for those representing the faction formerly headed by J. L. Phillips which had been recognized by officials of the national committee as representing the regular organization in the state, a letter was produced written by President Harding to O. Bascom Slomp, now secretary to President Coolidge, saying in recognizing the Phillips faction a blunder had been made, and suggesting that action be taken to alter the situation.

Charles D. Heller, committeeman from New York, practically forced the production of the letter. It was a trump card for Johnson and the committee voted, 22 to 14, to seat his delegates. A substitute motion offered by Joseph B. Keating, committeeman from Indiana to seat the contesting delegation was rejected by the same vote. Then the committee made the vote to seat Johnson delegates unanimous.

The Georgia contest which occupied practically all of today's session was the only enlivening feature of the pre-convention period. The session was alternately noisy, bitter, pathetic and funny.

REPORT TROUBLE ACROSS MEXICAN BORDER LINE

TUCSON, Arizona, June 4 (AP)—A general state of disorder exists at Mesquite, the Mexican settlement across the international boundary from San Fernando, Arizona, according to telephone messages received here today.

A telephone message from the immigration officer at San Fernando stated that the telephone wires had been cut at Mesquite, the army postmaster had been robbed and a detachment of troops maintained there by the Mexican government had deserted.

There was no trouble on the American side of the line, the messages stated. Mexican officials plan to send troops to Mesquite from Nogales, Sonora.

LEADERS TRIM FINAL PROGRAM OF LEGISLATION

Barest Essentials Only Included in Lineup for Action During Closing Days; Seek Reclamation Action.

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—A legislative program stripped to bare essentials for the final days of the present session was agreed upon today by leaders of both parties in congress. Favored measures of influential members were ruthlessly sacrificed in the pruning as developments pointed to much of the time remaining until adjournment at 7 p. m. Saturday being devoted to speeches for the Record.

Reclamation and naval modernization held the right of way with the farm relief given a prominent place until house leaders tonight announced that they had abandoned hope of enacting such legislation at this time.

The only routine business in sight in the $150,000,000 deficiency bill and some private pension legislation which are to be acted upon by the senate.

Shoals Problem Solved.

The problem offered by Muscie Shoals was finally solved today when Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama, announced an agreement on the part of supporters of the Ford bill to discontinue their fight for immediate consideration in return for a preferred position on the calendar of the other session. Unanimous consent was given to make this question the unfinished business next December 3.

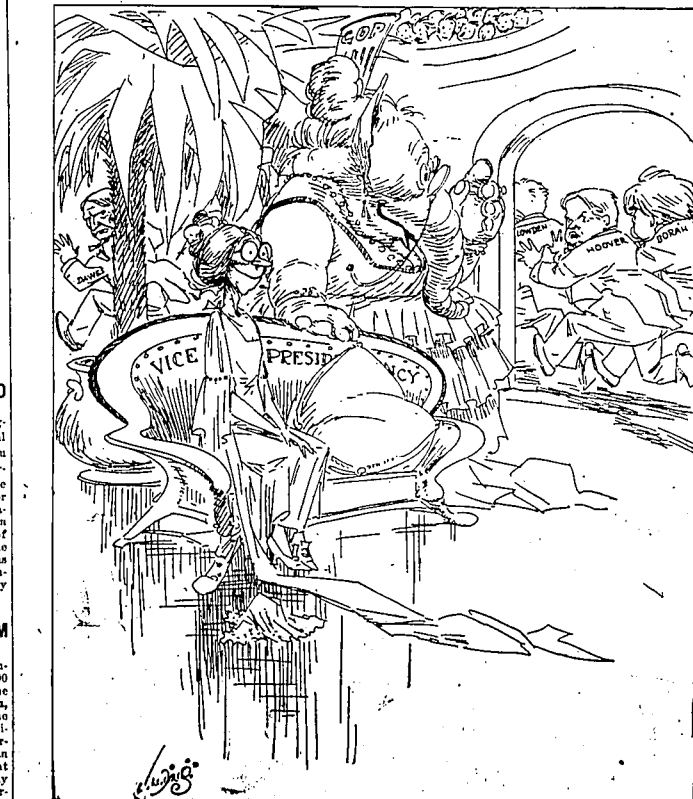

The program approved provides for passage, probably tomorrow, in the house of a separate measure of the reclamation relief bill approved by the interior department and its consideration in the senate as a rider on the deficiency bill.

The insurgent elements in both houses were understood to have given a more or less equivocal agreement to the program, reserving the right to register their opinion on the session as a whole as opportunity afforded.

GOVERNMENTAL HONESTY DEMANDS BY WHEELER

ST. LOUIS, June 4 (AP)—Unless public citizens have courage to stand against corruption by voting to repudiate dishonest government, the United States will go the way of Russia and other countries which have been torn by revolution, United States Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, prosecutor of the senate committee investigating former Attorney General Daugherty, declared in an address here today before the City club.

West Is Selected to Succeed Lockwood as Committee Secretary

Well-Known Chicago Lawyer Gets Place with G. O. P.; Upham's Job Not Filled.

CLEVELAND, June 4 (AP)—Roy O. West of Chicago, has been selected secretary of the republican national committee to succeed George B. Lockwood, who recently announced his determination to quit.

West is a lawyer and a former member of the republican national committee. He has long been identified with republican politics and is widely known in public circles over the country.

There has been no decision as yet as to who will succeed Fred Upham, Chicago, as treasurer of the committee. Announcement of Mr. Upham's resignation was made yesterday.

JURY TO VOTE ON INDICTMENT

Score of Witnesses Testify in Franks Case; May Close Hearing Today

CHICAGO, July 4 (AP)—A score of witnesses testified today before the grand jury which has been asked to indict Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, university students and sons of Chicago millionaires, for murder and kidnapping for ransom in connection with the slaying two weeks ago today of Robert Franks, school boy son of another wealthy Chicagoan.

It was expected tonight that the last witnesses will appear tomorrow and that the grand jury will vote then on the state's attorney's request for indictments on the two charges, each punishable by death if convictions are obtained.

Meanwhile the youths, who have confessed that they kidnapped and killed Robert Franks to obtain excitement and a $10,000 ransom for a trip to Europe, were closely guarded in the county jail to prevent possible suicide attempts while members of the state's attorney's staff and detectives investigated their possible connection with the slaying last fall of Freeman Louis Tracy, a university student, and the mutilation of Charles Ream, a taxi driver.

Detectives who have been investigating the slaying of Tracy and the attack on Ream were waiting to appear before the grand jury in connection with the Franks case today, but asserted that they had found information that may connect the youths with these two crimes. They said they expect to resume their investigation tomorrow.

MEREDITH ON WITNESS STAND REVIEWS DEAL

Former Secretary of Agriculture and Backer of Idaho Irrigation Project, Testifies Against Contractor's Claim.

E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture, testified Wednesday in district court here as a witness for the Idaho Farm Development company from which it claims construction company is seeking judgment for approximately $80,000 on claims in connection with the building of the irrigation works for the Roseworth project. The Idaho development company of which Mr. Meredith is the largest stockholder, on counter-claim, asks judgment against the construction company for approximately $140,000, the amount of difference between the actual and the contract cost of the work together with the penalty. Claim of the construction company is based on an alleged agreement which it alleges superseded the written contract under which it was to build the dam and canals.

Denies Agreement as to Profit.

Mr. Meredith's testimony tended to corroborate statement of John Monarch, president and manager of the construction company, that as to an understanding between himself and Monarch that Monarch might derive from the contract to the best of performance less work on certain portions of the irrigation works with corresponding increase of labor on other portions. Mr. Meredith testified, however, that this understanding was to be effective only insofar as deviations from contract provisions might be approved by the engineers in charge. He denied that there had been an agreement between himself and Monarch for payment of contractor's profit or completion of the work on a cost plus basis.

The Idaho farm development company was introduced Wednesday after Judge W. A. Backus at the opening of the day's session, denied and overruled a motion for summary judgment submitted last Tuesday. Trial in the case was begun Monday. Assurance was given to the court by attorneys for both litigants that the trial would be concluded today.

Many Witnesses Heard.

Witnesses who testified Wednesday for the farm development company, in addition to Mr. Meredith, were W. B. Lawrence of the Edwin A. Wilson company, architect and engineer, who testified the books of both the farm development company and of the construction company following completion of the works about four years ago; W. G. Swendsen, state commissioner of reclamation; John Badley, former Carey act engineer; William N. Gibbs and Henry Hargrave, engineers employed by the farm development company; E. V. Berg, engineer; Myron Swenson, employed by the farm development company as superintendent on the works after the time that the construction company was alleged to have defaulted its contract; and Edwin Snow, Boise, attorney for the farm development company.

Testimony of several of the witnesses was to the effect that the contract

Hinshaw Quits As Prohibition Delegates Meet

Chairman of Party's National Committee Retires After 12 Years' Service; National Confab Today.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 4 (AP)—Retirement of Virgil G. Hinshaw, for 12 years chairman of the prohibition national committee, was announced tonight when that body met preparatory to the national convention of the party tomorrow. J. C. Bell, California member of the committee, explained that private affairs would prevent Mr. Hinshaw from continuing in office.

Fourteen states were represented at the committee meeting. Other members had been delayed enroute. Members were present from Connecticut, California, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and West Virginia.

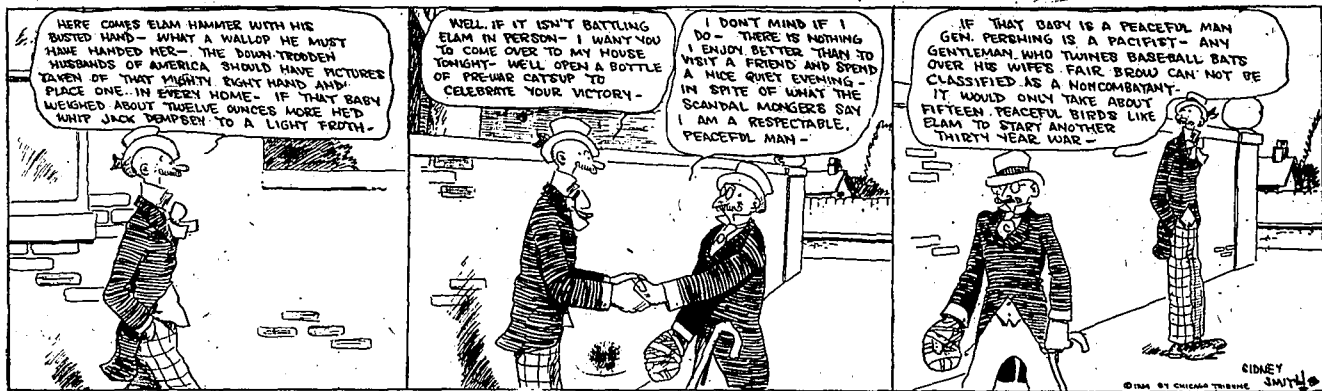

Aside from expressing regret on the decision of Mr. Hinshaw, the committee session was occupied with a discussion of party finances. This was interrupted by a recess, during which the committeemen took part in a pre-convention social meeting.

Finley C. Henderson of Cumberland, Md., chief speaker, discussed "political lawlessness." He declared the constitution of the nation created a "simplified framework" which was from the complexity of ancient forms to the simplicity of a federal republic.

DAUGHERTY PUTS HALT TO INQUIRY

Former Attorney General Refuses to Appear Before Senate Investigators

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—Former Attorney General Daugherty put an abrupt if perhaps only temporary stop to the storm marked course of the senate investigation of his official conduct today by refusing to appear as a witness and by withdrawing the attorneys who have represented him in the prolonged proceedings.

Paul Howland of Mr. Daugherty's counsel, read the statement of his client, charging that members of the senate committee had sought to blacken his reputation and injure his standing in an inquiry which an Ohio federal court had pronounced an illegal proceeding.

"The silence of the tomb has forever rendered the direct denial of these slanders impossible," Mr. Daugherty said in a declaration that he had never during tenure of office "profited in any illegal, corrupt, or unethical way, directly or indirectly, by the use of his office."

Chairman Brookhart in an immediate denial declared the committee had proved the "existence of a criminal conspiracy in the household" of the former attorney general, referring to testimony concerning alleged activities of the late Jess W. Smith, Mr. Daugherty's companion.

Further, he said, the committee had shown by tax records that Mr. Daugherty on entering office had little property, but that in 1924 they had found evidence of $75,000 cash deposited to his credit in his brother's Ohio bank.

MULLINS EXPECTED TO BOOST BLUE'S STOCK

"Phish" Mullins, stellar St. Mary's college shortstop who is scheduled to arrive today to join the ranks of the Griff's Blues, comes with a host of recommendations.

Mullins is a seasoned player, according to the reports received, and has played on one of the best college teams in the west. In fact the St. Mary's college has held the intercollegiate Pacific coast championship for the past three years, playing such schools as the Universities of California, Stanford, Southern California, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona.

Although this college is small it is said to have furnished more big league players in the past than any other college in the United States in proportion to its size.

Behind such a training behind him Mullins promises to be a big drawing card on the Twin Falls team for the coming season.

When the Blues met the Idaho Falls Tigers Sunday Mullins with the other arrivals who will be here shortly will make their first appearance in the pretty new uniforms of the Blues.

CASTLEFORD WINS GAME

Castleford is the latest town in this district to come forward with a baseball team. A great deal of interest is being shown there over their team which took its first game last Sunday from Fairview in a somewhat unexpected contest. Another game is scheduled for Sunday on the Castleford field.

Opera 323 Years Ago

The first opera ever performed publicly was Jacopo Peri's "Euryclea." The original performance took place 323 years ago at the festivities which marked the marriage of Maria de Medici with Henry IV of France. Since then "Euryclea" has never been seen except once at Milan.

With Giulio Casacchi and Emilio del Cavalleri, Jacopo Peri is regarded as the discoverer of modern recitative. He is also the father of opera, which became possible once recitative was known.

In 1597 he himself appeared in the first work of the kind which he had composed. It was called "Dinor." It was performed privately, and no trace of it survives. "Euryclea" was his second effort.—Detroit News.

American Bill of Rights

The first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States became effective June 15, 1790, and constitute what is known as the American bill of rights. Freedom of speech and religion and the right of peaceable assembly are set forth in the first. The right of jury trial is guaranteed in subsequent articles.

Where Speed Makes Beauty

Wherever crystals form rapidly their shapes will be more beautiful in all likelihood than when they form slowly. When they form rapidly they assume fantastic branching forms in some instances, but where they take a leisurely course of freezing or solidifying they tend to become more solid. This is one explanation of the beauty of the snowflake, which is a form of crystal.

FAMOUS LAWYER SOUGHT AS JURY FIXER

WILLIAM J. FALLON

WILLIAM J. FALLON, one of the foremost criminal lawyers in the New York bar, is sought by the police following a confession of Charles W. ## The Day in Washington

House leaders abandoned hope of enacting farm relief legislation at this session.

A deficiency bill to meet the first year's cost of the bonus was passed by the house.

Agreement was reached to postpone the Muscle Shoals fight in the senate to the December session.

Harry M. Daugherty notified the senate investigating committee he would not testify and withdrew his counsel.

Indications pointed toward the selection of Senator Walsh of Montana as permanent chairman of the democratic national convention.

Darby and Joan

Darby and Joan were an old-fashioned, conservative married couple, famous for their long life and domestic felicity. They are said to have lived, more than a century ago, in Healdsburg, a village in the West Riding of Yorkshire. Darby and Joan are the hero and heroine of a ballad called "The Happy Couple," of uncertain authorship, although sometimes ascribed to Prior. According to Timberley, however, the author was Henry Woodfall, and the originals, John Darby (printer of Bartholomew Close, who died in 1730) and his wife, Joan. Woodfall was an apprentice in the service of Darby.

Protecting Her

The minister of a certain church called upon a woman, a member of his congregation, and, finding no one at home, slipped a card through a letter-box, after scribbling upon it the words, "Sorry to find you out." When the woman returned home, Mary, the maid, met her at the door and presented the card with a whisper, "Here, mum, I took charge of this. It would never do for the master to know the minister's found you out."

MEREDITH ON WITNESS STAND REVIEWS DEAL

tion company defaulted its contract in December, 1919, and that therefor, under agreement, its equipment was employed in completing the works, all expenses being paid by P. C. Meredith of Buhl, president and general manager of the farm development company.

And, of the books, according to the testimony of Mr. Lawrence, showed that P. C. Meredith had thus advanced in excess of $150,000. The accountant's testimony also disputed Monarch's statement that he had spent his own money on the work in the sum of $43,000, and reduced the figure to $13,000 of which amount $10,000 was accounted for as expenditure for new equipment, $7,000 worth of which was taken away by Monarch when the work was completed.

Attorneys for the farm development company announced that they would introduce testimony today of only one more witness, the statement being taken to indicate that P. C. Meredith would be called to the witness stand at the opening of today's session.

"Come to Canossa"

Canossa, in the Duchy of Modena, is where in the winter of 1076-7 the Kaiser, Henry IV, stood barefooted in the snow for three days, a penitent awaiting the forgiveness of Pope Gregory VII. EASTERN REPRESENTATIVES
George B. Davis Co., Inc., 121 Madison Square, New York; A. R. Kentor, 3101 Hartford Building, Chicago.

Speculation is rife as to the particular element responsible for the terrible crime of two Chicago young men in struggling to death a third youngster of advanced school age.

In one quarter, higher education is blamed as the cause of the tragedy yet there seems little evidence upon which to base such a view. Rather it would appear a more tenable theory to suppose that the sort of life led by the two, apart altogether from education, was responsible.

There can be no question but what the thirst for new sensations in the youth of both sexes is fed constantly by the scope and the depth of the indulgence of modern life. Young men and women enter into their late teens and early twenties these days with scarcely any unexplored territory ahead. Sometimes, let us hope in a majority of cases, they merely dabble with the unknown and eschew the strictly forbidden. In others there isn't a thrill left in life by the time they reach majority. It is a pitiful thing.

Oscar Wilde, than whom no more brilliant mind in the world of letters of his age existed, frankly offered the excuse for his downfall that, satiated with every known form of pleasure, unconsciously perhaps, his intellect began the exploration of new fields with their accompanying evil. With every form of worldly indulgence his to command, nature called ever for a pleasant one. The life story of Wilde is not something to be read for entertainment.

It would seem that there is a parallel between the case of this English author and the two vicious and depraved youths of Chicago. This is interesting merely in passing. What is of the greatest moment to the world right now as to how far the parallel may be extended.

Are young people generally, over the country, actually in their daily lives, setting their feet upon the path which lead eventually to emotional insanity, disgrace and death? Standards are different today, to be sure, but one does not have to be a merely morbid sentimentalist to begin to wonder if after all a little less speed in the game of growing up would not be a good thing for the race.

ECONOMY AND PEACE.

Herriot, who succeeds Poincare as French premier, demands a "reduction of military costs by cutting down expenses and shortening the term of military service."

This is getting somewhere. France has more than doubled its indebtedness since the armistice. Its maintenance of great land and air forces, along with the reconstruction work has a menace to the peace of Europe. And been a grievous burden on France and when the French militarists were not running the country further into debt for French armament, they were leading hundreds of millions to small European allies to spend in armament.

All that was in expectation of immense reparation payments from Germany, as well as defense against Germany. But it is becoming plain to the French people themselves, as it has been for some time to the outside world, that the danger from beaten Germany and the possibility of recovering any great amount of reparations have both been exaggerated.
The Herriot policy seems calculated

Breakfast Food
"Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH MCKEY

My husband is continually asking me where things are.
He knows, as well as I do, but he goes on asking just the same. I think he enjoys it.

When I'm downstairs he keeps calling to me: "Where are my clean shirts?" "Where are my tan shoes?" "Where'd you put my cuff links?" And when I'm upstairs he shouts from below: "What'd you do with my tennis racquets?" "Where's my old brown hat?" "Who took my raincoat out of the closet?"

There'd be just as much point in his going out and asking these questions of the first person he met as in bothering me with them.

I haven't hidden any of his things. The chances are ten to one that they're where they always are. And if they're not, they're exactly where he left them himself.

Then he begins asking me these questions now. I respond pleasantly: "I don't know, dear. Why don't you call 'Information'?" She might be able to help you."

Tonorrow: "My wife expects brass."

not only to save France money immediately but, through its new note of conciliation and reasonableness, to prevent the need of immense armament hereafter to defend France against a desperate Germany bent on revenge.
Such a policy, originating in France where it was most needed, should benefit all the world. Military economy and conciliation naturally go hand in hand anyhow.

NATIONAL SPORTSMANSHIP.

The American naval hero, John Paul Jones, might be surprised if he could see, from his sailor's heaven, the use to which the latest American warship named after him has been put.
The destroyer John Paul Jones left a Japanese port the other day, after a hurried call and a forced run, with a spare airplane belonging to the British aviator, MacLaren, who wrecked his original plane in Burma. Reaching Hongkong, the destroyer will turn the plane over to another American destroyer, which will rush it to India to enable the Briton to continue his flight.

The American warships are rendering this service because there were no fast British craft in the vicinity, available for the purpose.

Such a voluntary service on the part of the United States navy, to help a British airman in his efforts to beat the American fliers around the world, is surely a fine specimen of sportsmanship, to which the famous John Paul Jones himself would hardly object.

Individual sportsmen do that sort of thing right along. Why should not a nation be as sportsmanlike as an individual?

Lee Statue Gigantic

The height of the Goddess of Liberty is 111 feet; 151.41 feet to the extremity of the torch. The figure of General Lee on Stone Mountain is to be 140 feet from the top of his hat to the bottom of the horse's hoofs. It is said that a man standing on the general's shoulder would need a step ladder to reach his ear. The sculptor says: "The distance from the horse's knees to the top of General Lee's hat is 120 feet. The depth of the relief on the extreme point will be about 20 feet, while the average depth of stone to be removed over the whole surface—300-odd feet in length, by about 200 in height—will be about 4 feet."

Missing the Sights

Senator Underwood said in a discussion of spiritualism at a dinner party: "There is one sure thing about the spirits raised by Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle—they talk in a light way about heaven."
"The details that these spirits give us reached me of the little girl who, rummaging in a drawer, exclaimed: 'There! Grandma's gone to Heaven without her spectacles!'"—Los Angeles Times.

BIG BULLFROG

"I'm quite ready to eat anything I see," said Mr. Bullfrog. "I'm the king of the pond as it were and so I will eat delicious bugs and insects and little turtles and fishes and I will even eat small frogs."

Some think that is a shocking habit and perhaps it is.
"But then you know I rather enjoy the taste of frog!"

"An important creature such as I am should have some rights. Now I do not become a bullfrog in a hurry. It takes me a second year and sometimes even a third to become a full-sized bullfrog. I remain a little learning tadpole for a good length of time."

"Maybe that is why I'm a smart old fellow when I do become full grown and sit around in my splendid, kindly fashion as ruler of the pond."

"When I say that it takes me a second year and sometimes a third to become a full-sized bullfrog I mean that it takes a member of our family that long."

"It takes me two years to become a bullfrog. And now I shall enjoy myself."

"If enemies come for me I find them. Young Mr. Bear thought to catch me in his paw the other day, but I was too quick for him."

"I got down into the mud and when Mr. Bear pulled up his paw all he had was mud."

"Goo-a-room, goo-a-room, goo-a-room. I call that a joke."

"And Mr. Long Beak Bird as I call him, or Mr. Heron as he would have on his visiting cards if he had visiting cards, came the other day."

"He might have caught me if I had been sitting upon the mud for I could not go down far enough but what he would be able to go down after me with that long and very unpleasant beak of his."

"But I was sitting by the side of the pond and quick as a flash I was in the water and he had missed me."

"Oh, you may think as you see me sitting here that I'm not paying attention to what is going on about me."

"You may think that I'm dreaming the time away as I sit here blinking."

"But I'm on the watch for everything that is going on."

"Quick as a flash am I!"

"There! Did you see that bug? He came near and I caught him."

"I was so still he had scarcely noticed me. But I had noticed him."

"But I think I will go and call on a young Miss Bullfrog whom I would like to ask to be my mate."

"I'm not such a sociable old fellow, but I do feel that it would be nice to have a companion."

"After a time we will go our own way—I will long for my solitary life again—but I will explain all that to Miss Bullfrog."

"It was having the old guns in my hands again and being allowed to use them," he muttered. "If I could only have them back and be mounted on a good nag I'd ride through this whole rat trap of a village. It's the danger of being killed in a corner, with no show of fighting luck, that takes the heart out of me."

"I'm waken withasha. Everything will come out all right. Sorrel Horse will fix it so we can steal away to the police within two days."

"Why does he wait and risk our being snarled by some word from High Wolf?"

Scissors sighed and shook his head. "It's the Indian in him. He's as keen to have us go as we are to go. But he can't change his nature. He's got some plan in his head and he's working it out. His elk dream is part of it. He must take so many steps in this particular dance even if it costs his own life. But remember this: He has much influence with the braves and squaws. They fear him. He'll be one of the first to know if there is a smoke-signal, or hard-riding messenger. In case of either he'll rush things. I believe that he will begin to pick up all the loose threads tomorrow. Then it's a hard ride and the Lord help us!"

CHAPTER XI

The Show-Down.
On the second morning after Dinadale's exhibition of marksmanship

Scissors jumped from his couch and announced:

"Something will happen today. I feel it. The waiting is ended. I am waken withasha, and I know the waiting will be ended today. Get up and be ready for whatever happens. We have much to do."

Dinadale sprang to his feet, crying: "Show me something to do. It seems as if I had been in this cursed place a million years. What shall I do?"
"First, eat your breakfast. The girl is bringing it now. I must see Sorrel Horse and finish our trade."
"How do you happen to know so much about Indians?" curiously asked Dinadale after the girl had placed the food on a robe and had departed.
"Played with Sioux boys when I was a boy. After I became wakan I forgot lots of things, but what I learned about Indians seems to have remained with me. Sometimes I find myself singing some of their old songs, songs I hadn't thought of for years."
They made short work of the meal, and Scissors said: "Stick by the lodge. I'll finish my talk with Sorrel Horse very quick."
"And you said there was work to do," grumbled Dinadale.
"We've spent our last night here if we're ever to see Deadwood City again," assured Scissors. At these words Dinadale became nervously alert and eager.
"The inmates of the village no longer avoided Scissors, or pretended not to see him; but he knew there was only one man in the village who did not wish to see him writing under the Ogakala knives. He walked aimlessly among the lodges and approached the lodge of Sorrel Horse in a casual manner. On reaching it Scissors halted to watch Sorrel Horse go through his morning custom of hanging his medicine bag to the medicine pole outside the entrance.
"It is thus," mumbled Sorrel Horse without looking at the white man. "The ponies are ready. Two Knives Talking will pay for them now?"
"He comes to pay. But the medicine will not work until he has reached the ponies."
Sorrel Horse led him into the lodge and dropped the flap, and said:
"The young white man will be very sick when you go back to him. He will be sick from eating too much meat. Two Knives Talking will stay by him to make him well. He cannot leave his sick brother to watch Shuncakuta break turn on the open place outside the village. All the Ogakala will want to see the new medicine. While they watch, the white men will go among the bluffs and follow the pony trail south where they will find ponies hobbled and feeding. Two guns are there and a bundle of dried meat. Now will this white man pay?"
And he pointed to an array of jugs and several kettles filled with water.

THE MARKETS

WHEAT MARKET TAKES DECIDED UPWARD TURN

Higher Quotations at Winnipeg and Bullish Opinions on Legislation Lead
To Price Strengthening

CHICAGO, June 4 (AP)—Breader speculation based partly on higher quotations at Winnipeg and partly on bullish opinions about farm legislation gave a decided upward swing today to the wheat market here. Closing prices for wheat were firm at 1 5/8 to 1 3/4 net gain, July $1.05 1/8 to 1.05 1/4, and September $1.00 7/8 to 1.01, with corn 3-4 at 1 1/8 up; oats showing 3-4 to 7-8 to 1 1/2 advance, and provisions unchanged to 12 to 15c down.

Wheat began to climb almost as soon as business began. With dry weather conditions coming from the American and Canadian west, and from the Pacific coast states, the Chicago market quickly responded to strength shown at Winnipeg where July delivery went to a larger premium over Chicago despite buying here and selling there.

Besides, in some quarters the defeat of the McNary-Ingalls bill was taken as a motive for greater confidence on the part of numerous buyers who were said to have been awaiting what was described as normal functioning of the market aside from legislative factors. On the other hand, the move today for enactment of a substitute farm bill at Washington seemed also to have a decided stimulating effect.

The favorable weather including frost in some sections of Illinois, did much to lift the corn market. In oats, shipping call was brisk.

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Stock prices today were mixed and unsettled, day under the leadership of the railroad shares, but a wave of realizing and professional selling of the oil stock developed towards the close, undermined the entire market and cancelled most of the day's gains. Expanding trading activities, which carried the total sales to almost 800,000 shares, reflected the influence of favorable Washington developments.

Outstanding strength of the railroad stocks, which maintained their lead throughout the day, indicated that Wall Street placed great emphasis upon the scant possibility of adverse legislation in the waning session of congress. The broad buying movement of the rails, particularly in the southern and southwestern sections, carried a half dozen or more issues to the highest level of the year.

A decline of 20 points of French francs today, which was the second time this week provided the feature of the foreign exchange market.

Call money, after opening at 3 percent, receded to 2 3/4 where it held until the close.

As low as 3 3/4 percent, but the prevailing rate was 4 to 4 1/4 on the longer accommodations. Commercial paper was active with rates unchanged from 4 to 4 1/2 percent.

DUMB BELLS

decline of 3-10 in the raw sugar market today established the lowest level recorded in the past two years. Offerings were more liberal and at the close Chicago was available at 400 duty paid. Sales included 2000 bags Cuban, June shipment, at 5.00, 5000 bags prompt at 5.02 and 5000 bags June at 4.98.

Refined was easier, influenced by the lower cost of raws and prices were unchanged to 10 points lower. Fine granulated is still quoted from 6.70 to 6.80 with new all at the inside level. Refined futures were nominal.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, June 4 (AP)—The wool market in general is unchanged. Transactions have been made at considerably below quotations, but this should not be taken as indicating a general market. Prices depend much on whether the buyer has orders booked. There seems to be a little better feeling concerning the goods market. Slightly more inquiry was noted for the coming light weight season.

Oxygen Blowpipe Used for Breaking Up Metal

The breaking up of large, solid masses of iron or steel, for the purpose of remelting, has heretofore been such a slow and costly operation, as to be seldom indulged in, and many blocks of metal of this kind have therefore been abandoned as worthless. The oxygen blowpipe, a cheap and simple apparatus and quick in operation, has wonderfully changed all this, says the Compressed Air magazine.

For example, we can have a cylindrical mass of metal, technically known as a "ladle set," more than six feet in diameter, of equal length, and weighing more than forty-five tons. A most hopeless case. A long piece of one-quarter-inch iron pipe is connected by flexible hose with a "bottle" of oxygen. The free end of the pipe is made red hot and the oxygen slowly and carefully turned on. The end of the pipe begins to burn with intense heat and when thrust against the block it begins to bore a hole right into the mass to a depth of three feet or more. The hole will be, say, an inch in diameter, and the molten metal will flow out of it in a little stream. In this way a considerable number of holes are quickly burned. These are charged with slag and fired all at once after the block has been placed in a special pit.

American Girls Easily
Best Dancers in World

"The American girl makes the best dancer in the world, has none."

That is the sweeping statement made by Miss Fawn Gray of New York, herself a dancer, who has just completed a "round-the-world" trip, during which she studied dancing in various cities, according to the New York World.

"Next to the American girl comes the English girl for all-around dancing," continued Miss Gray. "I danced in London, in Paris, at Monte Carlo and at Deauville, and, strangely enough, there was more real competition in London than at any other place. In Paris, the girls are out a little too stiff for graceful dancing."

"You'd imagine that the French girls would be the most graceful and accomplished in showing off their dresses, wouldn't you? Well, while I was there a competition was held to decide the best mink in Paris, and it was won by an American girl."

Miss Gray visited Honolulu on her trip, and while there danced Hawaiian dances in competition with local Hawaiians.

"I won all three of the contests in which I took part," she concluded, "so that the group of girls I have mentioned that the American girl is the best dancer in the world, now wouldn't it?"

Identifying Pictures

French chemists have perfected new methods of identifying pictures, according to the American Chemical society. The group of rays known as ultra-violet light is used to light the picture, and they examine the suspected canvas with the spectrometer. This puts in relief the retouchings, scrapings and changed signatures which constitute a false picture. By employing the ultra-violet ray they make the white and certain varnishes stand out by fluorescence. By scraping off small amounts of paint they have made spectrographic analysis and have been able to determine, for example, in a false Renoir, the presence of a cadmium yellow, when Renoir only used chrome yellow.

When Asquith Laughed

Mr. Asquith was addressing a political meeting one day when someone in the audience made a very personal remark concerning Mrs. Asquith.

"Who said that?" demanded the speaker angrily.

There was a sudden silence. Then a man in the rear stood up and pointing to a farmer wearing a dilapidated straw hat, shouted: "It was him who ate the cow's breakfast on his head."

The reply was altogether too much for Mr. Asquith, and he had to join in the general roar of laughter.—Boston Transcript.

Storage is Held in Reserve for Twin Falls Water Users

Canal Company Management Making No Draft On Jackson Lake, Where Level Is Declining After Reaching Peak at 481,860 Acre Feet; Water Master's Reports Made Public

Increasing draft upon storage water in Jackson lake reservoir is an interesting fact indicated in excerpts from reports of G. Clyde Baldwin, watermaster, on water conditions on Snake river during the past week which were made public Wednesday by Burton Smith, general manager of the Twin Falls Canal company.

The Twin Falls Canal company is drawing out none of its storage water in Jackson lake, conscious of opinion of water users under the Twin Falls canal system as indicated to the officers and directors of the company. Baldwin strongly to the view that it is better to hold this water in reserve to meet requirements later in the season. Water deliveries through the Twin Falls canal have been maintained from natural flow of Snake river at approximately 80 per cent of normal.

Water Level Lowering.

Jackson lake water level reached its highest stage this year May 27, when it contained 481,860 acre feet, according to the watermaster's report. The quantity of water in storage in that reservoir was reduced June 2 to 444,180 acre feet, all of the natural flow of the stream being released through its headgates.

Water now being diverted at Milner for the North Side has been released into the river from accumulation in Lake Wendat.
