COMMITTEE IS BUSY ON DRAFT OF PLATFORM

Final Report To Be Submitted Wednesday at Republican Conclave; Gooding Seeks Farm Aid Action

CLEVELAND, June 10 (AP)—Preparation of a final draft of the platform which will be presented tomorrow to the republican national convention has been entrusted to 16 members of the resolutions committee.

The subcommittee was instructed to present their conclusions to the full committee at 10 a. m. tomorrow for ratification. Charles B. Warren of Michigan, chairman of both the drafting and full committee, said tonight the report would be ready for the convention shortly after noon tomorrow.

Gooding on Committee.

In addition to Mr. Warren, members of the drafting committee are: Senators Gooding of Idaho, Smith of Utah and Watson of Indiana; Speaker Gillett of Massachusetts; Representatives Mills of New York, Madden of Illinois and Vane of Pennsylvania; Governor Hyde of Missouri; B. B. Crenge of Texas, William Traynor of Kentucky, Edgar J. Adams of Oregon, H. B. Anderson of Virginia, Lewis H. Smith of California, William B. Greenough of Rhode Island and Rex Culp of Kansas.

Thirty-five minutes was set aside at the suggestion of Senator Gooding of Idaho for discussion of the agricultural situation, which he declared is the "greatest issue facing the American people."

Before this subject was taken up, however, discussion was back to prohibition with W. H. Stanyon of Baltimore representing the association against the prohibition amendment urging a modification plank.

Moderation, he contended, should be left to states. He declared opposition to a general law enforcement plank, insisting the convention would thus evade the issue.

A plank of law enforcement meaning "the same in New Jersey as in other states" was advocated by Fred B. Smith of New York.

"Let it be for prohibition," he declared, "straight from the shoulder." Governor Blaine of Wisconsin, one of the strongest opponents of the Volstead act, said he would support the resolution made public yesterday which, among other things, call upon President Coolidge to call congress into special session and condemn the official acts of former Attorney General Daugherty and Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior.

MILLERAND DRAWS OPPOSITION; WILL QUIT PRESIDENCY

Trouble With Deputies and Senate Leads to Sudden Decision; National Assembly to Name Successor

PARIS, June 10 (AP)—Alexandre Millerand, the eleventh president of France, will resign from office tomorrow. His resignation will be read before houses of parliament and his successor will be selected by the chamber of deputies and senate meeting as a national assembly at Versailles Friday.

The president's determination to resign came after the reading today in the houses of a presidential message presented by the new premier, Frederic Foulcois-Marsal, in which M. Millerand declined to resign and an adverse vote against the ministry by both chamber and senate and finally the adoption of a motion offered in the chamber by Odegar Harriet, leader of the radical socialists, which in effect eliminated any government favorable to or suggested by M. Millerand.

M. Millerand's swift decision to resign in the face of adverse votes leaves the victorious left majority in somewhat of a quandary, with two outstanding candidates—M. Doumergue, president of the senate, and M. Painlevé, president of the chamber—rivals for the presidential nomination by the majority caucuses to be held not later than Thursday.

WILL ARRANGE FUNERAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10 (AP)—The funeral of Peter Clark MacFarlane, author, who killed himself at the entrance to the city morgue last night, awaits the arrival of a son from Las Vegas, N. W. Next Friday, Mr. MacFarlane was to have addressed the graduates of the Pacific Grove grammar school in the list of which his son, Will, was included.

SENTENCE THREE AT TOKIO

TOKIO, June 11 (AP)—Three of the men who on Saturday night held a demonstration at the Imperial hotel, breaking up a dance attended by Americans and other foreigners as a protest against the American exclusion act, were sentenced to three days in jail. Two others were fined ten yen each. They were charged with disturbing the peace.

GEORGIA MEN GIVEN SEATS

Convention Confirms Action of National Committee; Negro Heads Delegates

CLEVELAND, June 10 (AP)—Affirming the action of the national committee, the credentials committee of the republican national convention voted overwhelmingly today to seat the delegation from Georgia headed by Henry Lincoln Johnson, negro national committee man from that state, and that from Mississippi, under Perry W. Howard, a negro assistant United States attorney general.

Immediately after the decision in the Mississippi case the delegation from that state formally ratified the election of Howard as national committee man to succeed M. J. Mulvihill of Vicksburg, whose delegation lost its fight for a place on the convention floor.

The Georgia and Mississippi contests were the major ones appealed to the credentials committee and after they had been disposed of the committee went into night session to clean up the applications in contest from Texas, the district of Cuba and the tenth Tennessee district. Sepia A. Jones abandoned his appeal on the delegates to the national committee in seating the delegates at large from Arkansas under National Committee man H. L. Remond.

The victories gained by Johnson and Howard, who argued their own cases, were greeted by wild cheering on the part of their delegations as well as many negroes.

BORAH ORDERS HIS NAME WITHDRAWN IF SUBMITTED

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Senator Borah of Idaho gave instructions to Cleveland today that his name be withdrawn if it were presented to the republican convention as vice presidential candidate.

He urged former Secretary Kanyon for the nomination and it was said he had recommended him at a conference with President Coolidge.

Senator Borah, communicated his wishes in a telegram to John W. Hart, national committee man from Idaho.

"If my name is presented to the convention," the telegram said, "please ask delegation to promptly withdraw same and positively decline for me. Make no mistake about this."

BELIEVE NEW CABINET FRIENDLY TO AMERICA

TOKIO, June 11 (AP)—The new ministry formed yesterday by Viscount Takaraki Kato, president to the Kenzaigai, is generally greeted as a triumph of cabinet making. The inclusion of Kurekichi Takakashi as minister of agriculture and Kimura, minister of communications, leader of the Seiyukai and Kakushin clubs, respectively, it is believed will insure the solidarity of the three parties which overthrew the Ki-yota cabinet.

The appointment of Baron Shidehara as minister of foreign affairs is considered as assuring that the keynote of the cabinet's foreign policy will be friendship with America. Shidehara is the most friendly towards America of highly placed Japanese.

CONGRESS UPHOLD BAN ON MALT TONICS

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Physicians may be prohibited by congress from prescribing beef and malt liquor for medicinal purposes. The senate court holds in an opinion by Justice Sanford in cases brought by James Everard's breweries of New York, and Edward and John Burke, importers, who attacked the White-Campbell act, that court declared the distinction made by congress when it permitted the prescription of spirituous and vinous liquors under the prohibition amendment and prohibited the prescription of malt liquor is not unreasonable or without a substantial justification.

SOLDIER BONUS PLANS BALKED BY FINANCES

Distribution of Cash Hits Snag In Form of Legal Questions; Would Use Money From General Fund

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Government plans for distribution of the soldiers' bonus, upset by the failure of congress to appropriate needed funds, were hung up tonight on the legal question whether the war and navy departments and the veterans' bureau may use money appropriated for general purposes.

President Coolidge has ordered Director of the budget, to exert every possible means of carrying out the plan and the director had a dozen conferences today with officials of the three arms of the government which have charge of the work.

Will Go Ahead.

The discussions apparently left the problem unsolved, although the war department gave notice of its intention to go ahead, using unexpended balances from several activities and planning to have these funds replaced when congress convenes next winter. Some officials in the comptroller general's office said the war department plan was risky, but Comptroller General McCard's official opinion of the proposal has not yet been received.

The statute against creating a deficiency was declared to be rigid and the war department's proposal, it was said, would mean that it would end in six or eight months sums intended to last them through the whole fiscal year.

Director Lord counseled war department and veterans' bureau officials to try to "struggle along" in completing the plan, using such clerks as could be spared from other work. In event that is done, the war department will be charged almost six months in performing its war records of the men who are to receive the bonus for the task is one of the greatest ever attempted by any government agency, officials declared.

YOUTHS TO DENY MURDER CHARGE

Legal Battle in Franks Case Starts Today; Two Suspects To Plead Not Guilty

CHICAGO, June 10 (AP)—The first big move in the legal battle to save Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb from the gallows for the kidnapping and killing of Robert Franks will come tomorrow when the youthful sons of two Chicago millionaires will plead not guilty to indictments charging kidnapping for ransom and murder, each crime punishable by death.

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, said today that he will ask that the charge of kidnapping for ransom go to trial first and that the state will insist that the youths be placed on trial by July 15, the earliest date possible under the law. Defense attorneys have not indicated their action, but were expected to ask for a continuance or a change of venue that a fair trial at present is impossible in Cook county, meanwhile, the state, which has declared it has a "clear hanging case" against the two university students, continued to exert its efforts to pile up evidence that the youths are sane, believing that the defense will assert but boys were insane when they committed the crime.

In this connection a score of students and friends of the boys were questioned by the state's attorney today as were some of the faculty members of the university they attended.

Friends Boost Hoover.

If Lowden is to be permitted to eliminate himself, the Hoover supporters are convinced that the draft of today's opening session gave evidence of inexorable demand that the man finally selected for second place on the ticket be of a type undeniably in the pocket with the policies of the president. That quantity, they say, is possessed by Mr. Hoover in the highest degree.

The short session today did no actual work beyond ratifying a convention program prepared in advance, but by tonight all the committees including that named to draft a platform had completed their work with ease and regularity.

Most of today's session was given over to the keynote address by Theodore Burton of Ohio, notable for its serious and dispassionate tone and its lack of forensic display and built around an application of the party to uphold the hands of the man in the White House.

Little Noise.

There was little of the confusion and none of the riotous noise-making what often has played so great a part in American political history. Only the faintest murmur of applause to a demonstration and in such cases the cheering was awakened by a play upon the chord of party solidarity and republican tradition.

The greatest outbreak, lasting but a minute, took place when Mr. Burton declared the country trusted Calvin Coolidge above congress and plauded

Nomination Ballot Holds Attention of Federation Envoys

Women's Club Delegates Center Interest in Their Own Election Affairs; Westerners Win Support

LOS ANGELES, June 10 (AP)—The nomination germ, rampant today, in Cleveland republican convention halls, jumped to Los Angeles and produced a lively contest in the race for the presidency of the General Federation of Women's clubs, to be in session here. The ballots will be cast tomorrow.

The nominating committee of the national federation will select two candidates for the office of president and second vice president, but from the floor came an additional nomination in each case.

The write-in candidates named from the floor are Mrs. William S. Jennings of Florida, for president, and Mrs. John Right of West Virginia for second vice president. Mrs. Jennings, however, tonight announced she would not compete against the committee's candidates.

The ballot as submitted by the committee includes the following: President, Mrs. Wallace Perham, of Montana, and Mrs. John D. Sherman of Colorado; first vice president, Mrs. Edward Franklin White of Indiana; second vice president, Mrs. W. B. Alvord of Michigan, and Mrs. Florence Dier of Pennsylvania; recording secretary, Mrs. John Hays, Jr. of Georgia; treasurer, Florence C. Flores, of Texas.

The convention heard from Mary T. Murphy of Chicago, chairman of the division of child welfare, a strong plea for childhood's right to its childhood years unmarred by the breadwinner of labor. Miss Murphy urged improved educational advantages and better protection from fire for children in school as well as for the child to earn a livelihood in factories.

DISAPPEARANCE OF IDAHO MAN IS CLEARED UP

LaMonte Miller, Formerly of Twin Falls, Who Dropped From Sight at Contact, Located in Salt Lake

Editor Twin Falls News.

Dear Sir: Will you kindly print a copy of this article, which I had printed in the Caldwell Daily News, in justice to this young man?

He was a resident of your town at the time he disappeared, took an active part in helping coach your high school football team last fall.

Yours very respectfully,
W. M. J. A. MOWERY, 423 Cleveland boulevard, Caldwell, Idaho.
June 8, 1924.

The article from the Caldwell News: LaMonte Miller, who had been employed by the Pyro Fitter company of Dayton, Ohio, as a traveling salesman, and who had been visiting since May 18, was returned to home and friends in Caldwell on the first of this week and is stopping with his parents in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Mowery.
Mrs. Mowery is authority for the statement that the young man left Twin Falls on May 10, for Contact, Nev., and was traced from there to Wells, where he was one of those who were searching for him was concerned, he dropped out of existence, all efforts by telephone and telegram failing to locate him.

It now develops that on May 30 he was picked up on the streets of Salt Lake in an unconscious condition and taken to the Eighth street emergency hospital in that city where he underwent a surgical operation at the hands of Drs. James Bray and B. B. Potter.
According to a statement made by these surgeons a piece of silver that had been placed in the young man's skull after an injury received in 1920 became dislodged and was pressing against the brain. After the silver piece had been adjusted by the Salt Lake surgeons something like 16 hours elapsed before he was able to tell who he was or where from. Dr. Bray notified his wife, who had returned to the home of her parents in Caldwell in despair of ever locating him.

It is understood that after his disappearance and prior to the time when he was picked up on the streets of Salt Lake, Mr. Miller is not entirely clear as to his conduct and admits that he wrote several checks on a Twin Falls bank where he had been doing business, but in which he had no funds. Mrs. Mowery says the News to state that, although there have been no threats of prosecution, she wants it known that if holders of any such checks will hold them until Mr. Miller gets on his feet again they will be cared for. The young man, who is a world war veteran and a member of the American Legion, is now at the Mowery home at 423 Cleveland boulevard, Caldwell, and is said to be gradually regaining his health.

To substantiate her assertions an above related Mrs. Mowery has submitted to the News the following statement signed by the Salt Lake officials who found Mr. Miller on the street and took him to the hospital, and the by the surgeons and nurse in charge. The statement gives a full explanation of the unfortunate matter and the News gladly gives the same publicity. It follows:

To Whom it May Concern:

On the night of May 29, LaMonte Miller, of Caldwell, Idaho, was found on the streets of this city in an unconscious condition and after an operation was performed it was found that a piece of silver that was placed in the back of his head some time previous was pressing against the brain. After a thorough examination we find that said Mr. Miller was not responsible for himself at times for an unknown period before May 29, 1924, and would advise the public to give this man a chance to redeem himself for any misdemeanor he may have committed.

We the undersigned, swear that these statements are true.

Los Angeles Police Find Copper Coils At Chaplin's Home

Cops Visit Comedian but Find Queer Device Is Only for Softening Water

LOS ANGELES, June 10 (AP)— Members of the district's "dry" squad raided Charlie Chaplin's home in Beverly Hills, acting on an anonymous tip, and found the motion picture actor's cellar was indeed crowded with queer copper pipes and a contraption with a gas flame beneath it—all very suspicious looking.

By asking questions, however, they learned what their informant had not taken the trouble to find out; the queer boiler and the copper coils constituted a water softening device. Beverly hills water is too hard for domestic use, Chaplin's representatives asserted.

BLUES SET FOR TWO CONTESTS

Bears and Giants From Pocatello Expected to Furnish Opposition This Week

The Pocatello Bears on Thursday and the Pocatello Giants on Sunday are the schedule of opposition for the Twin Falls baseball team for the rest of the week.

The Bears are in for a big surprise when they face the present Blue nine which will probably be as follows:

On first, Walcott will take his customary place with Lehrs and Mullins on second and shortstop and Kieffer on the hot corner at third.

On Sunday the negro team which played in Twin Falls last summer will meet the Blues and while the Giants lost two of the three game series they played last year they are quite able to take care of themselves this year with a strengthened lineup.

Wendel is another town which is seeking a date with the Blues. They have a perfect record for the games they have played so far, having beaten on Mountain Home, Glenns Ferry, Hailley, Gooding, Rhoshone and Richfield. Buhl is another likely candidate for Twin Falls.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH TEAM WINS GAME; SCORE, 23-2

The Christian church baseball team both won and lost the game scheduled for Tuesday evening with the Presbyterians. The score was 23 to 2. As only three of the Presbyterian squad appeared a lineup from the Christian church team was furnished and for four innings the score was close. Then it occurred to the "Carnities" that in case the improvised team won they would be accused of beating themselves, so in the fifth inning 19 runs were scored on Bevercombe and Truchoud, erstwhile Presbyterian moundmen, and the game was called in the sixth on account of darkness.

Parish takes the credit for the Christians' "victory" with a long strikout record.

The next church baseball game is scheduled for Friday between the Christian and Baptist churches.

Government Must Be "Saved," Say LaFollette Men

Insurgents' Proposed Platform Provides for Radical Undertakings

CLEVELAND, June 10 (AP)—A proposed platform embodying the views of the LaFollette insurgents was placed before the republican executive committee today by the delegation from Wisconsin. It declares the paramount issue to be the rescue of the government and industry from the "grip of private monopoly"; pledges a house cleaning in the government departments at Washington, and proposes reform of railroad, tax, tariff, banking, conservation and agricultural legislation.

Public ownership of railroads and water power is advocated; the Mellon tax plan is condemned and congressional action is demanded to promote and protect farm co-operative organizations and to lower farm freight rates.

PARTY CALLED ON TO RALLY FOR COOLIDGE

Burton, in Keynote Address at Cleveland, Stresses Confidence of American People in Chief Executive

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 10.—The republican party was called upon today by Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, the temporary chairman of the national convention, to rally about the leadership of Calvin Coolidge.

"The people—and all the people—have confidence in Calvin Coolidge," Representative Burton declared in sounding the keynote of the convention. "In the great army of rulers, kings and prime ministers entrusted with power, there is none who can surpass him in honesty of purpose, in courage, or in high devotion to the welfare of his country."

Need Leadership.

Mr. Burton asserted that "by far the greatest share of our citizenship looks to President Coolidge rather than to congress for leadership," and he urged the party to take its stand with Mr. Coolidge on all of the controversial issues which have arisen between the executive and some members of the republican majority in congress.

He recommended that the party declare for American adherence to the world court with minor modifications and reservations. He regretted that congress refused to accede to Mr. Coolidge's wishes in enacting the Japanese exclusion provision of the immigration bill. He declared the new tax law abundant in defects and should not be taken as the last word in tax revision. He disclaimed enactment of the bonus bill over the president's veto with the assertion that "conditions created by it must be met and its provisions must be willingly accepted."

Cause Not Deserved.

Much of the blame visited upon republicans in the session of congress just ended, he told the convention, however, "is not deserved because on many major questions the party has not commanded a majority in either branch."

Enumerating the achievements of the republican party in the last four years, he paid high tribute to the memory of President Harding, told of the accomplishments under his leadership.

Varied and varied were the accomplishments cited by Mr. Burton, ranging from the achievements of the arms conference and American unofficial participation in the work of the reparations experts committee through the field of domestic activities resulting from legislation and executive undertakings. He pronounced it a record, in which the party could take its stand, "confident that when the ballots are cast in November in numbers like the falling leaves of autumn this nation will elect Calvin Coolidge with a republican congress and again crown our efforts with victory, thereby assuring a yet more splendid future of progress and peace."

DEATHS

HALL—Albert Hall, pioneer resident of the Hansen district, died Tuesday morning at his late home, aged 4 years. Death followed an illness of several months. The body was removed to the Blue and Starward mortuary, Twin Falls, where funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Hall is survived by his wife and two children, a son and a daughter, Mrs. J. P. Scherup of Hansen.

for the election of senators and representatives who would work and vote within the party followed.

The convention came to its feet again when Secretary Mellon, whose tax plan was voted to table in a republican congress, arose to make a routine motion relating to convention organization.

Again and for the last time today, the great arch of the convention hall rumbled with a roll of cheering when the presiding officer led to the front of the platform Addison G. Proctor of St. Joseph, Michigan, last survivor of the delegates who nominated Abraham Lincoln 64 years ago.

After they had thus voiced their adherence to past traditions and current leadership of their party, the delegates began filing out to their hotels, without waiting to hear a glee club concert that was to precede adjournment.

Tomorrow they will listen to another party pronouncement by Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, as permanent chairman, go through the motions of settling delegate contests, along lines already worked out, and perhaps receive and adopt the platform.

The presidential and vice presidential nominations will be made on Thursday.

MANY VISITORS HERE FOR ELKS' STATE CONVENTION

There was erected an immense welcome arch across Shoshone street in front of the Elks lodge home. A great canopy of purple and white streamers was completed to cover the ceiling and walls of the Elks big lodge room in which convention sessions will be held, opening at 10:30 o'clock this forenoon, following registration of delegates and visiting members.

"Hello, Bill!"

The Elks club rooms Tuesday evening presented a scene of intense activity while committee heads and members made final survey of their work in preparation for the convocation, and an atmosphere of good fellowship prevailed with dozens of delegates and visitors meeting and renewing acquaintanceship with their lodge brothers of other Idaho Elks lodges.

Each incoming convention visitor told of other members of his lodge on their way to Twin Falls and there was a warm reception for each addition to the throng of assembling Elks.

Plans for the grand street parade, boxing exhibition and baseball game, featuring the entertainment program, in preparation of the convention, overshadowed considerations as to personnel of new officers of the association to be elected by the convention and there was an entire absence of political maneuver either as to election of officers or choice of the next meeting place.

Opens Today.

Opening at 10:30 o'clock this forenoon, when Shad L. Hodgkin, Twin Falls mayor, will express Twin Falls' welcome to the assembled delegates and convention visitors, with responses to be made by A. M. Peterson, president, and C. L. Stewart of Boise, past president of the state association, and Judge G. W. Edgerston of Idaho Falls, deputy exalted ruler, the convention will recess at noon for an afternoon of pleasure, beginning with the grand street parade at 2 o'clock; boxing exhibition for which the gates at the ball park will open at 4 o'clock with the first preliminary scheduled to begin at 5:30 o'clock; reception for visiting ladies at 4 o'clock in the Elks club rooms, and closing in the evening with dancing at the Elks lodge room and at Dunsmuir, both of which have been handsomely decorated for the occasion.

Business on Second Day.

Second day sessions will be given over more largely to business of the convention with reports of committees and a business session in the forenoon and election of officers and designation of the next convention city as the final order of business in the afternoon, to be followed by a baseball game between the Pocatello Bears and the Twin Falls Blues at 3:30 o'clock and dancing in the evening.

The American Legion auxiliary opened the festivities for the week with an apron dance at Danceland on Monday evening. This was the closing social event for the year and was attended by a large number of merry-makers. Prizes were given for the best waiters and those excelling in the fox trot, those for the ladies being won by Mrs. Wilbur Rowberry and Mrs. Freeman East and for the gentlemen by Bruce Johnson and Wilbur Rowberry. The ladies' prizes were bouquets tied with glingham bows and for the gentlemen cakes wrapped and tied with glingham bows. Punch was served throughout the evening.

Miss Jean Emery entertained the Tri-C Bridge club Saturday evening. Favor for high score was won by Miss Aylson Booth, and consolation by Miss Nova Clahr. Dainty refreshments were served after the games. Miss Mae Alford and Miss Nova Clahr were guests.

This afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock there will be a reception at the Elks club complimentary to the wives of Elks in attendance at the convention. Every effort is being made to make the affair delightful in every way. A stringed orchestra will provide entertainment. In the receiving line will be Mrs. Shad L. Hodgkin, wife of the mayor of the city; Mrs. Herbert G. Lauterbach and Mrs. Tom A. Chapin. The reception committee is composed of Mrs. C. E. Wright, Mrs. Dorman Johnson, Mrs. Emma L. Warren, Mrs. R. P. Parry and Mrs. Truman Boyd.

Mrs. John M. Maxwell, Mrs. Zenas Smith, Mrs. Herman Dole and Mrs. Irbly McFarland will preside at the tea table and a boy of young girls will serve. It is hoped that all ladies whose husbands are Elks will make every effort to attend and make this affair a credit to the city.

About 40 young men and women who were members of the cast of the Elks' Bones of 1924 recently presented here, were guests Tuesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Sabin at their home on Fourth avenue east.

CONSTANTLY IMPROVED BUT NO YEARLY MODELS

Dodge Brothers Motor Car retains its basic design year after year.

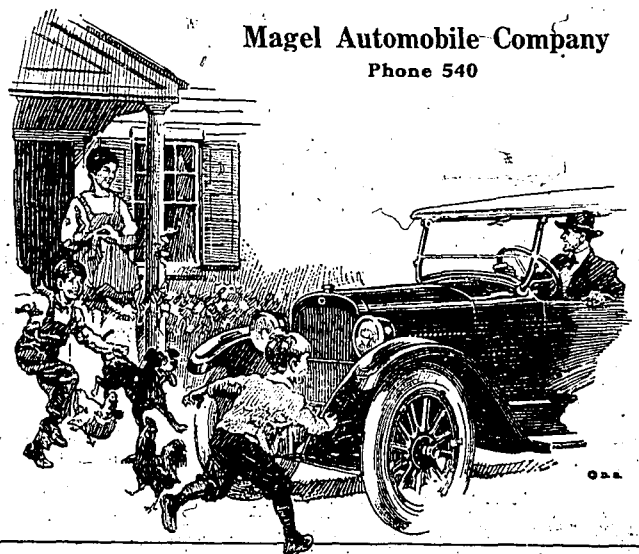

Improvements are made constantly, but there are no radical, annual changes.

This policy protects owners from the rapid depreciation-loss which invariably attends the periodic announcement of new types.

It also enables Dodge Brothers to effect an appreciable saving in manufacture; and this saving is faithfully returned to the buyer in the form of surplus value.

Nearly a Billion Dollars Loss

Statistics show that almost a billion dollars was lost to the public through the purchase of worthless stocks during the past year.

That's a tremendous amount of money, and it seems so foolish when this loss could have been easily prevented.

The old saying, "Investigate before you invest" invariably leads to the door of a bank, and if the banker's advice were followed on all investments, the losses now so staggering would be practically nil.

Talk to your banker before you make investments and thus save yourself from loss.

THE TAX RELIEF.

The expiring Congress will be forgiven much, because it lowered taxes.
Its revenue law may be unscientific in principle and wrong in many details, but the average taxpayer is not given to close analysis. The law does grant relief to millions of citizens, in their income tax payments—moderate relief this year, in a general cut of 25 per cent, and the prospect of a cut of one-half or more in next year's payments.
The "higher brackets" gain little; but the majority are not much concerned about that.

It would have been better, well-informed persons may admit, if Congress had made a greater reduction on the income taxes on big fortunes, and coupled it with legislation to stop the increase of tax-exempt securities. That might have brought under taxation again a large volume of wealth now escaping the income tax, and poured into productive enterprise again hundreds of millions now hurled in public bonds and encouraging public extravagance.
Such action is so logical, according to economists, that it must come sooner or later.

In the meantime, there is a noticeable perk up of business because of the general cheerfulness caused by relieving the small tax burden of the many.
That effect may be more psychological than scientific, but it is an economic fact just the same.

ABOUT POWER RATE EARNINGS.

The Idaho Public Utilities Commission, in its dealings with the Idaho Power Company does not guarantee the company a fixed rate of earning. It did, however, fix a rate upon electrical energy under which the company may operate, which rate is calculated to provide a return upon the company's investment of seven and a half per cent on all business except irrigation pumping, upon which the earning rate is fixed at five per cent.

The company, it is to be assumed, must exercise due diligence in the conduct of its business in order to effect such earnings. If it fails to earn this amount or any part of this amount, the responsibility for such failure rests upon the company and not upon the commission.

This, in plain words, would seem to be about the situation with respect to what is frequently referred to as "guaranteed earnings" by the company, under permission of the Idaho Public Utilities Commission.
It is offered merely in the interests of a correct understanding as to the action taken. The difference would seem to be more apparent than real.

WHY HAVE FOREST FIRES?

This is the beginning of the season when representatives of the United States Forest Service increase their efforts to instill caution in the heart of the camper in order to prevent forest fires. The organization recently issued a list of "don'ts," mostly quite fam-ilar, but always needing repetition. Perhaps restating them in a positive form is worth while.

Always watch your camp fire. Build your fire apart from underbrush, dry leaves and slash. See that your watch is out and break it in pieces before dropping it. Stop on and grind into the earth the ashes from your pipe, cigar or cigarette. Dispose of inflammable articles by some more suitable method than throwing them from your automobile. Use your own common sense to help preserve your own forests. Watch out for the person who does things liable to cause a forest fire and report all such persons promptly as you would any criminal.

There are two outstanding ideas in the list. First, the forests belong to all the citizens and destructive forest fires are a loss to all citizens indirectly if not directly. The other is the obvious truth that the use of common sense covers all the other rules for forest fire prevention.

The camping season is on, but don't let the season of provocation forest fires be postponed indefinitely!

A BAD TEETH PARADE.

Addressing an audience of dentists in one of the large cities, a school official says there ought to be a public parade of children in the public schools who have defective teeth. The size of the procession, he said, would astonish everybody. In examining many thousand pupils, it has been found that only fifty-three per cent of the boys and sixty-five per cent of the girls have "teeth that might be rated as good."

And why do the girls have better teeth than boys? The official thinks it is "because they are less afraid of the dentist's chair."

It would make an impressive and not altogether pleasant picture—the parade suggested, with thousands of boys and girls marching, presumably with mouths open, to show their bad teeth. Something might be accomplished that way, in dentally backward communities.

The idea of the parade was to impress upon the dentists the need of greater attention to the teeth of the young. Dentists, however, are usually alert enough on that subject. It is fathers and mothers who need to be impressed.

PLANES AND PIGEONS.

An airplane beat thirty-five carrier pigeons from New York to Washington last week. It made the flight in five hours. The swiftest pigeon took an hour and ten minutes longer.

That makes the famous winged messenger look a bit cheap. And it is getting to be an old story. Planes nearly always pass birds. It has been discovered that the fastest planes outfly oagles.

Yet man has no great reason for boasting, as yet. Though the carrier pigeon, like many another far-flying bird, is not so swift as a man-built gas machine, he is more dependable and potentially. His merits show in a prolonged flight. If the carrier pigeon had entered their champions in the present airplane race around the world, it would be safe to bet on the pigeons.

Breakfast Food
"Matrimonially Speaking"

By Hugh McKay.

My wife is a moth-buster.
And it seems to be her greatest ambition to turn me into one, too.
The sight of one of the little creatures will bring her to her feet with a wild cry of "There's a moth—catch it, Hugh!"

And with that, I'm supposed to drop anything I'm doing and dart around the room like Aunt Betsy's partner, grabbing for the moth, until I've made a kill.

But the development of moth hunting, that sprays and sprinkles all over the house.

I'm almost overcome every time I go into my closet to look for a pair of shoes.

And the minute I walk in the front door I begin to wonder if I haven't wandered by mistake into a combination hospital and garage.

It's come to the point that if I do don't stop all those disinfectant odors, I'm going to take sides with the moths and fight back!

Tomorrow: "My husband does in church."

Is a Gland Operation
Necessary?

By a new discovery the life giving gland substance which is sometimes administered by expensive operations may now be supplied in tablet form.
This treatment is highly recommended by European and American scientists, who have proved that the internal administration of gland extracts has a very marked effect upon the corrosive glands of the human body, often rebuilding them to normal activity.

Such a treatment is now offered to the public in the form of Glandogen, a highly concentrated glandular tonic in convenient tablet form, prepared from the glands of healthy young animals and compounded with other valuable ingredients. Glandogen is obtainable at Schramm-Johnson Drug

"Walled Lakes" in Iowa

There are a number of so-called "walled lakes" in Iowa, among them one in Wright county.—They were formed as a result of glacial action.
The shore lines were gradually built up by the action of the waves against the shore together with the expansive action of the ice. In some cases the walls look as though they had been built by man. The lake in Wright county has a wall from 3 to 10 feet high, the stones of which range in size from three to a hundred pounds.

PINK-EDGED SULPHUR

"For a long, long time," said the Pink-Edged Sulphur Butterfly, "no one knew I existed."

"In fact no one knew that there were any members of the family about."

"And when we were discovered, a good many years ago, the people all said:

"What a pity we did not know about this beautiful butterfly before!"

"But then they added that they were glad to know about our family then."

"We are cousins of the Sulphur Yellow Butterflies and in ways and looks we are a good deal like them."

"The ladies of our family do not dress in quite such bright colors and often they do not have the black touches on the top parts of their back wings.

"But they're charming creatures even though they do not go in for quite so gay an attire as we do."

"An attire is a dress or a costume.
I've been told," the Pink-Edged Sulphur added, "and I think it's a new word. It sounds so superior and rich, somehow."

"I like to use it. And I do use it on all state occasions. By state occasions I mean all special occasions such as when a distinguished guest such as Billie Brownie comes to call on me."

Billie Brownie made a very fine bow and smiled happily at the compliment.

"As you notice, we gentlemen of the family wear beautiful pink touches."

"That explains our name. Yes, we edge all of our costumes with pink
as Billie Brownie comes to call on me."

"There, you see I used that word again! I have taken such a fancy to it."

"We like it where it is pretty chilly.
We're Northern Butterflies and it is very often we go where it is very warm. We like it sharp and cool and it seems to agree with us."

"Certainly it agrees with your looks," said Billie Brownie, "for so beautiful a butterfly gentleman as you are I've seldom seen."

"And I do not say so because I want to be polite. Nor do I say so because I want to return the polite compliment you paid me."

"I really, really mean it. I think your pink edges are the loveliest touches I've ever seen and I have seen some handsome butterflies in my day."

"You're not very old, are you?" asked the Pink-Edged Sulphur.

"No," said Billie Brownie, "but I do travel about a great deal to see Mother Nature's children."

"She lets me do this which is so good of her, and then, too, the Fairies and the other Brownies and the rest of my little friends like me to tell them stories of what goes on around them in the world."

"I'm the chief story teller, as you might say, of England and Brownie-land. But they like stories of what really happens."

"They like to know what different little creatures really do, and then my stories are retold so that others hear them."

"Mother Nature has given me the power to understand the speech of her children and to make them understand me, too, so I can hear what they have to say and can pass on what I hear for others want to know about butterflies and birds and animals and all."

"And I'm so glad I have seen you, lovely Mr. Pink-Edged Sulphur Butterfly."

Met Misfortune With True American Spirit

They had shut off the largest oil well in America three days before.
There were not enough pipe lines to handle the flow. It had filled a 1,000-barrel tank in 20 minutes; then, to prove that its performance was no fluke production freak, had filled three more tanks in exactly one hour. When we arrived the monster well still, but preparations were being made to open it up, writes Max Bentley in Harper's.

They opened it up cautiously when they were ready. They thought they were ready. The driller waving an imperious signal. The chief roughneck on the rig waving a lever.

"Stand back, everybody!"

"Guns, faintly, blue and transparent, sprayed thinly from the flow pipe.
With an ear-splitting roar the oil came.
A six-inch stream shot from the pipe against the splash box. The pipe trembled, buckled, reared backward. Then as we looked, roared to the spot, came disaster. The top of the well blew off. Through every obstacle that man had assembled the ruthless monster to its way to freedom. A jet-black stream leaped cleanly upward until it attained a height of 200 feet. As the oil began falling the deep green of the pine trees was dotted away. On the instant they were turned a greasy black and their befooled branches literally rained oil.

The owner of the largest oil well in America had watched the proceedings from a convenient hillside. Slitting loosely in his saddle, had pulled down, he had lety over the preparations.
It meant a lot to him to save that well, but he gave no sign. He could only lose; it is to his everlasting credit that, losing, he lost cleanly and gamely.

Made Stable in Cellar
for His "Nice Mules"

William Conquest so loves his two mules that he keeps them in the cellar of his house at Queens boulevard and Tremble street, Winfield. Queens and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals worried about them so that Conquest was taken before Magistrate Doyle in the Flushing court, says the New York Herald-Tribune. L. Ray, an officer of the society, said that somewhere in the case there was undoubtedly cruelty to animals, but Conquest said not.

"They are nice mules," he said, "and they have a good time in the cellar.
They like to stay there. Every time I put them in the stable they are uncomfortable, and as soon as I leave the door open they go back to the cellar."

"Why not put them in your dining room?" asked the magistrate.

"Well, I might," said Conquest.
"They're nice mules. But they prefer the cellar."

"But the officer says their health is endangered," said the magistrate.

"You can't hurt a mule," said Conquest.
"They're just mules. They don't get sick. They're just mules until they die."

As no evidence was offered to show that the mules were other than frisky and happy, the magistrate dismissed the charge. He directed the officer, however, to keep an eye on the mules and see how they were treated.

In sweeping her gaze about to de-found Dinahle, and there was a quick dash of interest in the dark eyes, and the hand holding the cards gave a convulsive jerk. Then she was intent on her work, her head slightly bowed, her soft voice calling the game.

Dinahle proceeded to the Bed Rock to secure a room. The illiterate landlord gave him a boisterous welcome and enquired him for relating the attractions of the Grand Central, and promised some most unusual "floor looked over a man's shoulder and was amazed at the striking resemblance

He endeavored to retreat and go to his room, but Scissors saw him and caught his arm and proudly informed him:

"I've been telling them about you." Then in a shy aside: "Fond' think this place was full of life. Every by the way the dust is coming in. A whole ounce in just one place. Yes, sir. The price is a dollar now. Demand is more'n I can fill.—Thank you, sir.—Now, gent, I'm going to turn out just one dozen more before I move on. After this you'll have to come San Juan Joe's tent to get them. Always could do it, I'm wakin'. I've forgot lots of things, but I know Indians. Who wants a picture of the great Crazy Horse, who first came, first served?"

Pyrites, frowning severely, pushed his way to Dinahle's side and secured his attention.

"Did that fool tell you Joey's talk?" he asked.

Receiving a negative Pyrites growled an oath and jeered:

"Might have known it. I don't see why Joey trusts him to do errands. He always forgets if he finds any one to listen to his yap. Joey wants you to drop in and see him soon as you can.
He sent Scissors to tell you. When you didn't show up he sent me. Every time a body sends Scissors on an errand he gets to mooning round with his paper cutting."

"All right, Pyrites, I'll trot right along."

San Juan Joe was in the tent, walking among the various bank games.
On beholding Dinahle he motioned him to the bar and joined him at the lower end, which happened to be deserted.
After they had been served and the bartender had retired San Juan said:

"Rather talk here. Looks as if we'd met by accident, you know. The game must be played on the jump. I went over to the express office to see about sending out some dust. Patrick & Saulsbury's agent has decided to take no chances on the Indians cutting the Black Hills off from the railroad and plans to send out the coach tomorrow.
I've given 'Webb his last orders."

"I spoke to the agent about you, explaining how the Indians had cleaned you out and that you were keen for work. I dragged Scissors in off the street and made him tell about your gun-play among the Indians, and the agent wants you for an extra. But we must bet that that. You must take some one's place. I've arranged to have one of the regular guards filled up with scalp-tail, with plenty of drink on the side. He won't show up.
All you've got to do now is to call on the agent and say I spoke to you. You know what to tell him."

"I'll make a good talk. How much is going out?"

San Juan Joe's pale face colored slightly and his right hand gripped the bar to stop his tendency to tremble. He whispered:

"Two hundred and fifty thousand.
Think of it! Quarter of a million!
Sounds more the last day. Do it four times and it's a million. It'll be the biggest killing ever made in any mines at any time!"

"And there'll be a mighty hot chase to get it back."

"No! That's the beauty of it. This Indian scare will hold all the men to the gulch. The timid won't dare to go in a posse and they won't let the men with sand go. They'll hold them by squalling about their duty to the women and children. But even if there wasn't any Indian scare it would work smooth. We'll pack the gold to a place where few white men have ever been.
They could hunt a year with an army and not find a trace. You and Webb will be out of the gulch and the men then straining out to the coast and meeting us later, or you can stay with the bullion in the hills and light out after every one thinks you've skipped.

Reach, the chief and I will be masked and will come back here. Talk with the agent and I'll explain later."

Dinahle's face darkened.

"You're all right, Joe. But I don't know your chief, the man you call Number One. I'll stick by the dust till I get my share of it."

"Glad to have you do that," readily agreed San Juan. "Horseshoe knows us and he prefers to ride for it and get his later. We plan to work together and do more work. We want you with us. You'll make a good one to guard the stuff. But it'll be long work, as we won't dare quit town for a month or six weeks."

"I never get lonesome when I have quarter of a million for company," said Dinahle, with a grim smile. "And I ain't doubting your chief any. Your word goes for him as well as for yourself. But I always do a good one to guard close to my earnings. You're planning to stay here and sell out sort of natural, huh?"

"The selling out is already planned.
I've been talking it for some time.
Folks will think I'm off for South Africa with Kinky. She thinks I'm going with her. I had intended to. But I'm through with her."

"I thought you were helplessly in love with her."

"I am," groaned San Juan. "And that's why I'll not go to South Africa with her. She doesn't care for me except to have me stand by and scare off folks who bother her. No more shoddy work for mine. I've had enough."

Dinahle and Amos Roberts, the captain of the guard, rode in advance of the treasure-coach. Throughout the hills and at the various ranches, or stations, relays of horses had been waiting for a month. Horseshoe Webb, sitting in a horse saddle, was one of the dign men galloping along beside the coach. A few hundred feet in the rear came two more guards.

All the men carried their rifles ready for instant service, although no attack, in the hills at least, was expected. Good time was made over the corridor road, and none of the twelve men observed anything to arouse suspicion. Ten of the guards had made the trip several times and scoffed at the idea of road-agents daring to try for the gold. The holding up of one consignment and the theft of twenty-five thousand dollars only proved it was foolish to send out treasure under a guard of two men.

Roberts admitted Dinahle immen-sely because of his exploits among the Ogishila. Credit for the escape from Slim Butte was given almost entirely to him despite his insistence that Scissors deserved all the praise. Deadwood City could imagine the picture man in only one role, a harmless and very good fellow, a paper picture.

So Dinahle's vehement disclaimer were accepted as the workings of modesty.

Roberts elected to ride with the new man and he kept his tongue wagging incessantly. Dinahle listened, shrewdly appraising the man and concluding that the fellow would know no fear in an emergency, but would be easily deceived. Among other gossiping things Roberts said there would have been thirteen guards if one of the regulars hadn't been intoxicated when it came to pull out from the gulch.

"And thirteen is unlucky. I'm mortal glad he quit. Not enough agents in the hills to hold up this outfit," he boasted.

"Should any not. Guarding a coach is soft money. Injuns may give us some fun, but the agents will think twice," replied Dinahle.

Clavilux Plays for Eye

The clavilux is an organ-like instrument that plays light on a screen for the eye, just as music is played into the air for the ear. The instrument blends the qualities of color and of light—now rising and falling in soft gradations, now pulsing into impressive splendor, now fading into abrupt darkness. Sonatas of light and symphonies of color are thus made possible.

FEDERAL REPORT PUTS WHEAT TO HIGHER MARK

Prices Advance Suddenly on Announcement of Crop Statistics; Invaluable Advance in Month.

CHICAGO, June 10 (AP)—Wheat went up with a rush today nearly five cents a bushel. The impulse came from a flurry of buying due to the government crop report indicating that the United States would have best little wheat to export this season. Closing prices for wheat were strong, but the tip of the high, July $1.08 1/2 to 1.08 3/4 and September $1.00 7/8 to 1.10, with corn 1.38 to 1.34 up, oats at 34 to 1 1/8 to 1 1/4 the gain, and provisions varying from 25 decline to a rise of 12c.

Most of the big advance in wheat values, the livestock seen in many months, took place almost as soon as trading began, but the tip of the high was reached on a fresh wave of buying just before the finish. The government as to winter wheat showed so much great loss than had generally been feared, that the trade was taken by surprise. Heavy selling to realize profits led to only moderate reactions from the bulge in prices and the demand expanded with sufficient energy to force the market to equal the highest price yet reached this season by the December delivery.

Foreigners were said to have had a considerable share in the purchasing that so suddenly lifted the wheat market. They were also credited with having taken future deliveries on a liberal scale as well as securing what available for immediate shipment. Other buyers included eastern houses that of late have been doing little in the market. Miscellaneous purchasing too was of unusual extent.

Corn and oats responded readily to the rapid upturn of wheat. Continued cold, wet weather was an additional push factor, sending December corn to a new high price record for the session.

Despite hog market weakness, provisions rallied with grain. Continued cold, wet weather was an additional push factor, sending December corn to a new high price record for the session.

FULL DAY OF FESTIVITY FOR ELKDOM AHEAD

Business Houses to Close Early For Boxing Exhibition Featuring Afternoon's Entertainment Program

Boise Elks lodge's drill team, one of the best organizations of its kind in the country, will present at 7 o'clock this evening on Shoshone street in front of the Elks' club, a public exhibition drill as an additional attraction of the Idaho Elks' association. Beginning at 7 o'clock this afternoon with the grand street parade for which a sufficient number of floats have been constructed to make it one of the most pretentious events of its kind in Twin Falls history, a second feature attraction of the day is to be provided in the boxing exhibition to be staged, for the accommodation of a record attendance, in Twin Falls ball park. Visitation by the guests at a reception to be given at 4 o'clock in the Elks' club rooms, and dancing by the Elks and their ladies in the Elks' lodge room and at Danceland will bring the day's events to a close. In addition there will be cars available in front of the hall, on which the days of the convention, for visitors to see places of interest in and about Twin Falls.

Business to Knock Off.
Announcement was made Tuesday evening that a request will be made for closing of business houses at 5 o'clock this afternoon to permit of attendance at the boxing exhibition in which the preliminary is to begin at 5:30 o'clock. Acquiescence on the part of several business houses in this arrangement was announced. Gates at the ball park where the exhibition is to be staged will be opened at 4 o'clock. Tickets for the exhibition were selling rapidly Tuesday evening at the Elks' club, Maculey's, McTeale pharmacy and Murphy's, where they have been placed on sale.

Henry Potter of Ririe, Idaho, and Ed Sheppard of Salt Lake, principals in the main event of the boxing exhibition, will arrive here Tuesday evening at 11 o'clock. They will be met by participants in three preliminary bouts to precede the main event already on the ground and taring to go, according to statement Tuesday evening of C. A. Bailey, in charge of this event. The ring in which the several events of the boxing exhibition are to take place was completed Wednesday afternoon, the except for the main event will be put in place this morning. R. E. Bohrer is to be referee for all events.

Wide Interest in Bout.
Keen interest throughout the intermountain region attaches to the outcome of the main event since, if it is decisive, it will determine the superiority of one contender over the other, each of whom in two previous meetings, has one victory and one defeat to his credit.

The street parade, according to announcement Tuesday evening by U. I. Hodgins, in charge of this event, will form at 1:30 o'clock on Second avenue north and will move off promptly at 2 o'clock. There are to be two bands in line, and the announced order of march is as follows:

Game Is Real Feature.
Prediction that there will be a different result when the football game meet the Twin Falls Blues in the ball game that is to be the principal feature of Thursday's entertainment program, is responsible for heightened interest in this event. The Blues in a series of three games played against the Blues here recently, won all three games from the local club. That, however, was before the addition of Lethbrun, Scilley, Kiofner and "Pete" Mullins to the roster of the Blues; hence the prediction of a result that will be otherwise.

SUIT ON SHEEP TO GO TO JURY

Presentation of Evidence Completed in Case of Bowman Against Adams and Beech

Issues involved in the suit of R. A. Bowman of Boise against L. R. Adams and Tom Beech of Rupert and the Western Bonding and Mortgage company, on trial in district court here since last Friday, will be submitted for determination by the jury following argument by the attorneys at the opening of the court's evening session. Introduction of evidence on the part both of the plaintiff and the defendants was completed late Tuesday afternoon.

H. C. Hazel, chief counsel for plaintiff, stated Tuesday evening that the argument for the plaintiff would be opened by W. B. Cameron of Boise, and closed by Shad L. Hodgins, Twin Falls. Argument for defendants will be opened by Homer C. Mills of Twin Falls and closed by John P. Reilly of Portland. The action involves Bowman's claim for $50,000 and defendants' counter claim for $3675, growing out of dispute over a feeder's contract under which Bowman delivered 13,000 sheep to Adams and Beech in Twin Falls in the fall of 1922 with the understanding that he was to buy them back at a greater price than that for which he delivered them to the feeders. The dispute arose over weighing of the fattened sheep which eventually were sold by the defendants to purchasers other than Bowman.
