PREMIERS GET TOGETHER ON PEACE PLANS

Dawes Report Figures Prominently as Basis of Negotiations Between British and French Executives.

LONDON, June 21 (AP)—New ways to a peace understanding in Europe, with the experts' report on reparations figures prominently, are being discussed at Chateau court tonight by the British prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, and the French premier, Edouard Herriot. The head of the French government arrived this afternoon to begin again the personal negotiations among the allied premiers which were interrupted when M. Poincaré was defeated.

In private confidential talks tonight and tomorrow, the two premiers will survey the whole range of European affairs since the armistice, exchanging views on the experts' proposals and try to decide how they are to be made effective. M. Herriot will return to London tomorrow and proceed to Brussels for a conference similar to that with Mr. MacDonald after which the date for the new allied conference will be announced. It probably will be held the middle of July.

Herriot is in quest. The prime minister is entertaining the French premier at the residence of his official residence in the Buckinghamshire hills, far enough from London, Mr. MacDonald hopes, to insure privacy and informal discussions, which he insists must characterize the first meeting with M. Herriot. Only one interpreter—Downing street—and another from the Quai d'Orsay will sit with the premiers and only the briefest record will be made. It is not likely that even the usual formal communications will be available to the press.

Mr. MacDonald learned that French correspondents planned to accompany M. Herriot, he reiterated the private and careful nature of the meeting. M. Herriot, on arriving in London gave the following brief message to the British people:

"I have the greatest faith in the Anglo-French entente and have worked for it with all my heart. Negotiations between our two countries have done much in the past and it is absolutely essential both now and in the future for the peace of the world."

HELMER GETS ROAD JOB.

Mr. Helmer's price for the work is $53,000.

Fear Formation of New Party to Cause Confusion at Polls

Action Taken at St. Paul Results in Second Farmer-Labor Organization; Is Opposed by State Body.

ST. PAUL, June 21 (AP)—Formation here this week of the new national farmer-labor party makes the second national organization of similar name in existence, while in Minnesota there is a state farmer-labor party independent of both national groups.

Confusion in the use of farmer-labor names, by the groups, while there is no official relationship among them, is bound to result, leaders of the state organization said here today in speculating as to the probable effect the new national farmer-labor party would have on state politics.

The state party did not endorse the convention here this week and the action headed by E. F. Pike, state chairman, denounced it and refused to participate in its deliberations, but the group headed by William Mahoney of St. Paul took no prominent part in the deliberations. Mahoney is a member of the national committee.

Several leaders in the state organization today said they "feared the state party would lose votes in the fall election due to the adoption of the 'farmer-labor' name," by the convention here, as many members of the party tonight were able to state through confusion in party lines.

Many state farmer-laborites are bitterly opposed to the communist controlled national party formation, they think some of the state farmer-labor candidates in the fall election are affiliated with the national party and accordingly vote for someone else.

Credit Corporation Ships Blooded Dairy Cattle to Farmers

Newly Formed Organization Loans to More Than 200 Banks in the Northwest.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 21 (AP)—The $10,000,000 agricultural credit corporation has made loans to more than 200 northwest banks, which have aggregate deposits of more than $30,000,000, it was announced today. Officers of the corporation said that its activities have had the effect of increasing deposits throughout the northwest to a marked extent.

The corporation today shipped two cars of carefully selected dairy animals from Barton, Wisconsin, where they had been collected by its buyers to Bismarck, N. D., for distribution to farmers of that vicinity, to whom the corporation has contracted to sell cattle on long time payments. Another carload was started from a second home, a long center at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, to Mandan, N. D.

PROVIDE WATER FOR NORTH SIDE

Decision Reached at Idaho Falls Means Saving of Crops; Offer Free Release.

IDAHO FALLS, June 21 (AP)—Crops on 165,000 acres known as the North Side Twin Falls project will be saved from destruction by combined drought and junior water right conditions as a result of a decision reached here yesterday by the committee of nine, the executive committee of irrigation districts No. 36, to offer that section a block of water gratis for two years.

The tract, which has only very recent normal flow water rights and only about another week's storage rights from the Jackson lake, Wyoming, reservoir, has according to R. E. Shepherd, already abandoned the possibility of raising potatoes, sugar beets and other crops this season and made the idea of a water release to the dairy industry by providing water for the 75,000 acres of corn now suffering from the lack of water.

Although the announcement has not yet received much publicity, canal company representatives calling on O. Clyde Baldwin, watermaster, today offered gifts of water to north side farmers, and it is worth noting that a large block could be contributed by the Upper Snake River valley users. Members of the committee from the lower valley are interviewing canal company officials throughout the section with a view to getting a liberal release from the users here who have been benefited by the late rains and cool weather which has retarded the runoff from the hills. The only cost to the water users on the north side tract is the expense incident to the trip of the committee through the upper valley.

STEAMER HITS SAND BAR.

BUFFALO, June 21 (AP)—The Edgewater, a small excursion steamer, went aground on a sand bar at the head of Grand Island this afternoon. She was carrying a party of excursionists on the river trip around the island. Launches from La Salle, on the American bank removed the passengers safely.

COOLIDGE MEN GETTING READY FOR CAMPAIGN

President Confers With Butler And Other Political Advisers In Interests of His Drive for Election

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21 (AP)—President Coolidge conferred today with William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee, and other political advisers in the first of a series of conferences at which the program for the national campaign is expected to be outlined.

Arriving here today, Mr. Butler reported the party headquarters were set up in Chicago and declared "we are ready for the campaign." He told Mr. Coolidge the nomination of Charles G. Dawes for vice president had been enthusiastically received, particularly in the western states.

The president had luncheon with Mr. Butler, Charles B. Warren, ambassador to Mexico, and chairman of the resolutions committee at the national convention, and Charles D. Hillis, national committeeman from New York. This afternoon a more extended conference was held aboard the Mayflower, the presidential yacht, on a short cruise down the Potomac.

Hughes Attends.

Others in attendance at that time included Secretaries Hughes, Hoover and Davis; Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, Representative Burton of Ohio, who delivered the keynote address of the national convention; J. H. Borah, national committeeman from Connecticut, and W. I. Glover, third assistant postmaster general.

Actual opening of the campaign will await conclusion of the democratic convention which opens next week. Meanwhile Mr. Dawes will come to Washington, at which time policies and the program will be more definitely drafted.

Among the pending questions is the selection of the advisory committee to the national committee. Mr. Coolidge has indicated it will be chosen jointly by the national committee and himself and that its duties will be prescribed by the national chairman and the national committee.

Some significance was attributed to the possibilities of this advisory committee.

Both Candidates Are Confident of Winning Party's Nomination

McAdoo Sets Goal at 450 Votes as Minimum; Smith Refuses to Be Worried.

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—A minimum of 450 votes for William O. McAdoo on the first ballot in the democratic national convention is the objective disclosed today by his campaign managers.

The bulk of the first ballot vote will come from those state delegations instructed for McAdoo either through primaries or caucuses. While averting estimates in figures or names of states, his managers assert that the total will swell after favorite son votes have been cast.

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—The New York state delegation of 90 votes strong, today elected officers and chose its leaders to conduct the fight for the nomination of Governor Smith, Franklin D. Roosevelt, the governor's campaign manager and the man who will propose him for the presidency, was elected floor leader.

United States Senator Copeland of New York City was chosen to represent his state on the permanent organization committee.

The delegation, which came uninvited, adopted a resolution, pledging its "loyal, unanimous and continuous support to the governor."

Governor Smith returned to his headquarters just long enough this afternoon for a chat with newspapermen, then he rolled up his faded bathing suit and departed for the shore to escape the sweltering weather.

All that Smith or his campaign managers said today indicated that confidence in his nomination was snowballing among his supporters. "You can write the headline now boys—Smith wins the nomination," said the governor. To which Mr. Roosevelt added:

"There is not the slightest doubt about it."

CREW REPORTED MISSING

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21 (AP)—The British steamer Clan MacMillan has been sunk in the Bay of Bengal and the crew of the vessel is missing, according to advisers received by the marine department of the chamber of commerce here today. No particulars were given.

The Clan MacMillan is a steel screw vessel of 4100 net tons equipped with wireless and her port of registry is Glasgow.

McADOO AND SMITH TO BATTLE FOR TITLE AT BIG BOUT IN NEW YORK

Contest for Nomination Honors Simmers Down to Two Candidates; Favorite Sons Look on; Sharp Fight Expected; Missionaries Have a Smile for Every Visitor.

FARRIS NAMED CHAIRMAN

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Frank H. Farris of Rollo, Mo., one of the delegates at large to the democratic national convention, has been selected as chairman of the rules committee. This committee has assumed unusual importance during the present convention because of the possibility that it may have to deal with the abrogation of the two-thirds rule.

SENATE SCRAP NOT SETTLED

Party Leaders See Little Hope of Peace in Rhode Island; Republicans Flee.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 21 (AP)—The breach in the ranks of the state senate, created yesterday when its republican members left the state, was still unhealed tonight. The senate was in recess until next Tuesday and the deserted democrats throughout the day gathered in little groups to discuss ways and means of getting the republicans back again. Leaders of both parties declared there was little hope of peace.

As the result of a conference today at the invitation of the Providence Chamber of Commerce between representatives of civic and business organizations of the state, a committee was appointed to seek conferences with both parties "to endeavor to devise some method of alleviating the present situation." A bundle of acid-soaked papers, fanned from which sickened members, was placed in the senate chamber.

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—The fight for the democratic presidential nomination has become a resolute tug of war between the supporters of McAdoo and Smith, with partisans of a dozen favorite sons looking on with an apparent air of grim satisfaction over the prospect.

Three days before the national convention begins in Madison Square Garden, the McAdoo and Smith camps both are making unqualified claims of a victory already won; but none the less the groups of unpledged delegates who characterize the first pre-convention period were all but obliterated from the picture. McAdoo and Smith and their political lieutenants, not only held the center of the stage but almost may be said to constitute the show itself.

There is a complete realization, of course, that the Klan question and some of the other matters before the convention, are submerged but temporarily. They are expected to rekindle the rivalries they have created since the last democratic convention before the convention before it is over. But today and for two or three days and a week to come, the delegates and their leaders are engrossed in the much more personal and human struggle of two now outstanding democrats for the greatest honor the party can bestow.

Missionaries at Work

The time for the fire works is already here and the political sky over Manhattan is illuminated tonight with a display of pyrotechnics that long has been in the process of careful preparation. The contest has become a struggle matching in intensity the most celebrated in party history and with added modern qualities of feverish haste and perfect organization. Distributed everywhere the missionaries for Smith and McAdoo are carrying their gospel into every nook and corner where the delegates are to be found.

There are handshakes and welcoming smiles for the uninitiated as they step from the trains, candidates' literature, badges and souvenirs are thrust into their hands as they pass through the lobbies of their hotels and are slipped under their doors; their ears are assailed with an unceasing pean of praise for the qualities of the favorite candidates. And they are assured solemnly by the Smith men that Smith is certain to be re-elected by the McAdoo men that McAdoo is the only possible winner.

Treasury to Refund $16,000,000 July 1 On Overpaid Taxes

Comptroller's Decision Makes Payment of Big Sum Possible; Contested Claims May Not Be Settled.

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—The treasury will be ready July 1 to refund more than $16,000,000 overpaid in income taxes March 15 as a result of the subsequent 25 per cent reduction granted by congress.

In a decision rendered today, Comptroller General McCarl advised the treasury that it may use any funds appropriated for the repayment of illegally collected taxes and Secretary Mellon immediately laid plans for paying back the extra 25 per cent turned in by 1,085,000 persons. The decision removed the barrier to the refunding of the overpayments occasioned by failure of congress in the closing hours of its session to pass the deficiency bill which carried money for that purpose. "The taxpayers' right to refund," the decision said, "is an obligation upon the appropriation for the fiscal year when the right arose and not necessarily the appropriation for the fiscal year when the claim is made."

Congress since January has provided $117,000,000 for the treasury in refunding taxes illegally collected. About $30,000,000 of this fund remains available under the McCarl decision can be used in settling with those who on March 15 paid all the taxes then due for the year.

Few of the refunds will be large, the accounts seldom exceeding one hundred dollars. Repayment of the extra 25

RADICAL CHIEF GETS SUPPORT OF SOCIALISTS

Mayor of Milwaukee Would Put LaFollette at Head of Independent Party Ticket; Berger Gives Endorsement

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 21 (P)—A resolution favoring Robert M. LaFollette to lead a new third party but showing opposition to him as an independent candidate of either of the major parties, was introduced to the platform committee of the state socialist convention here today by Milwaukee's socialist mayor, Daniel Hoan.

Shortly afterward Congressman Victor Berger, socialist from the fifth Wisconsin district in addressing the convention stated that the socialists of this state should be for Mr. LaFollette as an independent candidate on a third party ticket, providing they could do so "honestly" and "fairly" without injury to the movement that the socialist party stands for.

Explains Resolution.

Mayor Hoan explained his resolution to mean that he favored LaFollette to lead a new third party, but was opposed to him if he ran on an independent republican or ran as an independent democrat.

"LaFollette's platform is not very radical, but you cannot resist capitalism in one town alone and succeed in hurting it," Congressman Berger said. "I cannot see that my socialism would brush off very easily by my brushing against LaFollette. We must get results quickly or be prepared for feudalism."

"LaFollette always took great care to hang on to the bandwagon, but during the war he stood firm, even when it was dangerous and I shall never forget that he stood firm."

Get Organized.

The convention permanently organized at the afternoon session by making its temporary organization permanent. Four committees were appointed, one on platform and policy, one on party administration, one on relations to labor and one on relations to co-operative and farmer organizations.

Just before the committee retired to go to work, Chairman Louis A. Arnold called for resolutions to be presented to the platform committee and it was then that Mayor Hoan presented his resolution, relative to LaFollette and Congressman Berger made his address advocating LaFollette and certain conditions. Both Mayor Hoan and Congressman Berger, together with William Coleman, secretary of the convention, are delegates to the conference for progressive political action at Cleveland on July 4 when the LaFollette question will come up for discussion.

The convention then adjourned until 10 a. m. tomorrow when the committee will report and a full state ticket will be selected to enter the field in November.

Three French clowns have received the purple ribbon of the "palme academique" with the rank of officers. The profession has been recognized in France.

What Harold Missed

Harold is one of those literal-minded men to whom subtleties are as vague as the nebular hypothesis to an Eskimo. In addition to this mental embarrassment he is as bashful and shy as a bald-headed man under a spotlight. He is still wondering why the young women he took for a ride in his new chummy roadster suggested he learn to drive with one hand and why she laughed when he said, "If I ever lose an arm I shall quit driving an automobile."

Among the peasantry of Europe it is a superstition that it is unlucky to carry anything from the house on Christmas morning until something has been brought in.

Ten Reasons Why You Should Prefer—

for Economical Transportation

- 1 Chevrolet is modern in appearance. All models are of streamline design, and fine, durable finish. Close models have genuine Fisher Bodies.
- 2 Chevrolet is modern in construction. It has standard sliding gear transmission, Remy electrical equipment, modern cooling system, suction fuel feed with tank at rear, demountable rim, safe steering mechanism—in fact all essential engineering improvements found in the highest priced cars.
- 3 Chevrolet is fully equipped as sold. We quote prices on complete cars only. Chevrolet is all there, ready for use as soon as you put on your license plates. Compare the fully equipped Chevrolet with other cars, plus their missing equipment, and satisfy yourself which costs least.
- 4 Chevrolet transportation averages less cost per mile than that of any other car at any price. This cost includes the list price of car, insurance, operation, maintenance, annual depreciation and interest on your investment. Why pay more per mile for lower quality?
- 5 Chevrolet has the most powerful motor of any low priced car. Its supremacy for hill climbing and hard going is well known. Where there are meat hills there are most Chevrolets. Why drive a slow car and hold up the line when it costs less to be a leader?
- 6 Chevrolet yields solid comfort in riding. This is due to its long wheel base, correct body suspension on extra strong and resilient vanadium steel springs, well-sprung and padded upholstery, deep seats with ample leg room, and correctly inclined backs. The double ventilating windshield and cool motor make driving a pleasure instead of a discomfort.
- 7 Chevrolet service costs are low because so few hours per year are needed in service stations. Chevrolets are built to stay together, and do not require you to be always near a service station. When adjustments or repairs are needed the Chevrolet Flat Rate System keeps the cost down to the minimum.
- 8 Chevrolet is a quality car. You are proud to tell of your ownership of a Chevrolet. Your Chevrolet tells the world that you appreciate modern quality and are a good judge of value.
- 9 Chevrolet is built for safety. It steers firmly and easily and the steering gear will not lock itself. It holds to the road even at high speed on gravel. Its braking power is ample. It is easy to handle and accelerates so quickly it enables you to get out of a bad position promptly. It is one of the few cars granted Class A rating by insurance underwriters.
- 10 Chevrolet is easy to buy and easy to trade. In buying a home, you always consider what you could get for it if you ever wanted to move. Be sure the car you buy has a good trade-in value, so that when the time arrives to get a new one, you can make a good deal. Chevrolet's trade-in value is high because of the big demand for this well-built, long-lived automobile.

QUARREL ENDS
IN SHOOTING

Well-Known Golfer-Hit by Bullet Following Argument With Advertising Man

DENVER, Colo., June 21 (AP).—Willie Leith, proprietor of a golfing school and widely known professional golfer, was shot through the mouth and dangerously wounded late this afternoon during a quarrel with John R. Morgan, one of the proprietors of an advertising agency. The shooting occurred in Morgan's office. Leith was taken to the general hospital and Morgan was taken to the city jail, for questioning.

According to E. J. Fleischauer, partner of Morgan in an advertising service, Morgan had been looking for Leith all day to collect a bill. About 4 p. m. this afternoon Leith called the advertising company on the telephone and inquired for Morgan, who was out of the office. A few minutes after the call Morgan returned to the office. Leith arrived a few minutes after Morgan, and, according to Fleischauer, ordered the office, removed his coat and started swearing and threatening Morgan. Morgan, then, according to Fleischauer, who witnessed the shooting, remonstrated with Leith who continued to abuse him. Morgan then picked up a gun which was lying on his desk and attempted to scare Leith. The men grappled and the gun was discharged.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gager drove to Twin Falls Thursday evening.

On Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Aid society was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. J. Blick with Mrs. W. C. Brown assisting hostess. Miss McKee gave a very interesting address, her topic being "Should the Bible Be Taught in the Public School." There were about 30 members and guests present, and at the close of the meeting, the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Sixteen Campfire Girls will leave Saturday morning for their outing. They will camp in the Hagerman valley. Mrs. G. Putnam, Mrs. F. Wilson, Mrs. D. D. Eldridge and Mrs. H. Fryer will accompany the girls. Mrs. C. Sims and Miss McKee will join them the first of the week.

SONORA PROJECT
CONTRACT READY

Negotiations Virtually Closed
For Big Development Undertaking to Cost Millions

NOALES, Ariz., June 21 (AP).—Contract for the construction of a great hydro-electric project for development of waste land in the state of Sonora, Mexico, has been virtually closed between the government and American and Mexican capitalists, it was announced here today by Sol Grossbard, a New York engineer.

Building of the project will involve expenditure of several millions of dollars, he said.

Mr. Grossbard, who is associated with the venture, was a factor in negotiations which resulted in the completion of a deal for development of mica deposits in Russia. The engineer returned here from Hermosillo, where he has been at work on preliminary details of the Sonora electrification project, he said. Surveys have revealed sufficient water supply for 200,000 acres of virgin land, according to estimates, made public here. Under the hydro-electric contract, two dams are to be built, one at Molino de Cameros on the San Miguel river, and the other about 15 miles from Hermosillo on the Rio Sonora.

Engineers will go to Hermosillo within five weeks to start up working plans, according to Mr. Grossbard.

BLUES TO MEET WENDELL SQUAD

Cosgriff Sets Local Nine on Northside Champions for Fast Game in League Park

Cosgriff's crew of hot wilders today meet Wendell's undefeated northside team which is prepared to give the blues a stiff battle on the league grounds at 3 o'clock.

The main interest to the local fans will probably be the work of the new addition to the local club, Flynn, a southpaw, who is suggested as the probable moonshiner for the fray.

With several other minor changes in the lineup Twin Falls should present as strong a team as faced Pocatello two weeks ago.

Wendell may prove to be a team entirely under-rated by the local fans who are prone to believe the Blues far better than the northsiders. Wendell is capable of handling all of the northside teams successfully and Glenn Ferry, which was beaten by the Blue club by a low score last to Wendell and this hints of a strong team to face Twin Falls this afternoon.

WHITE SOX AND BROWNS DIVIDE

Riot Completes Day on St. Louis Field; Tigers Beat Cleveland; Yankees Win.

ST. LOUIS, June 21 (AP)—Chicago and St. Louis divided a twin bill here today, the visitors winning the first game, 6 to 5, after it had been interrupted by a riot, and the Browns notting out the White Sox, 7 to 6, in the second game.

Trouble came in the sixth inning of the first game when Umpire Holmes banished Manager George Siler and Pat Collins of the Browns from the game for protesting Holmes' decision on balls and strikes. Siler and Collins started for the showers, when a fan, incensed at Holmes' action, hurled a pop bottle at the arbiter. Holmes called Siler back on the field and immediately about a half dozen bottles, some of which narrowly missed striking the umpire, were showered on the field. Policemen and plain clothes men rushed on the field and Owner Phil Ball of the Browns left a box and conferred with the police on the field.

At the same time a crowd of fans broke down the gate in right field, leading from the bleachers, and swarmed on the field. The game was further delayed while the fans were sent back to the stands and the gate repaired.

Umpire Holmes announced tonight that he would send his report on the affair to President Johnson of the American League tonight.

Ken Williams of the Browns hit his 17th home run of the season in the seventh inning of the first game.

First game: R. H. E.
Chicago 6 11 5
St. Louis 5 11 5
Batteries: Thurston and Croux; Lyons, Vangilder, Wingard and Pat Collins, Hago, Severid.

Second game: R. H. E.
Chicago 7 10 3
St. Louis 6 11 2
Batteries: Crenshaw, Leverette, Connally and Croux, Wirtz, Shocker and Severid.

INTER-CHURCH LEAGUE TEAMS BEING FORMED

The inter-church league is at last beginning to round out into a preliminary form. For the present four teams are in the field, the Christian, Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist churches, and a tentative schedule for next week has been planned with the Baptists and Christians meeting once more on Monday evening at the Lincoln field at 8:30 and on Friday evening the Presbyterians and Methodists will start for a seven-inning game.

The two last named teams are rather slow in being organized but give promise of developing into the strongest teams in the league.

The games are proving to be a popular evening diversion for the participants as well as the onlookers whose numbers are increasing with each game.

MEANS MODIFIES BAN ON CALIFORNIA GOODS

BOISE, June 21—Idaho's second modification of the quarantine against California products because of the foot and mouth disease, was issued Friday by Mark A. Means, commissioner of agriculture. It permits the shipment in to the state, under proper regulations, of bees and bee supplies, trees, shrubs, vines, plants, bulbs, roots, greenhouses, plants, fresh fruits and vegetable and all raw products of the soil. All these products must originate in areas defined by the federal government as being free from foot and mouth disease. Cans in which the products are shipped must be disinfected.

The first modification was issued in May and became effective June 1, admitting citrus and dried fruits under federal inspection in California. The modification issued Friday becomes effective June 25 and is very similar to a modification issued by the state of Oregon to become effective June 21.

SUGAR FACTORY NINE WINS, 8-5

Early Lead Figures in Victory of Twin Falls Team Against Oakley; Game Today.

Twin Falls' sugar factory squad stopped out of the local district Saturday afternoon and traveled to Oakley, where they trimmed the Oakley nine with an 8-5 score in an interesting game featured by many brilliant plays and fast fielding on both teams.

The sugar factory outfit played nice baseball throughout behind the pitching of "Jim" Scelley. The first two innings were complete triumphs for the sugar men. In the first inning John Nye poled out a homer with two men on bases that upset the Oakleyites and in the first two stanzas the Twin Falls team gathered in seven runs.

After this spurt the sugar factory team dropped back and the Oakleyites piled up their five runs, holding the Twin Falls nine to a single run in the remaining innings.

Brilliant running catches by Hunter, Oakley shortstop, featured for the Oakley team, with Elliott's home run and for the visitors close teamwork with Ellis and Nye's slickwork figured.

The lineups for the two teams were as follows:

Twin Falls—Cowles, 2b; Gerboth, 3b; Lehnas, ss; Riley, c; Nye, cf; Finkle, 1b; Scelley, p; Low, rf.

Oakley—Hunter, ss; Elliott, 3b; Bates, p; Martindale, 2b; Geringe, 1b; Clark, 1b; Spargo, cf; Davidson, c; Purcell, rf.

Today the sugar factory team meets the Burley club on the Burley grounds and preliminary plans for the formation of a southern Idaho league with the various teams including Burley, Oakley, Kimberly, Declo, sugar factory, and others being considered.

Fiske and Gerboth are probable twirlers for Sunday's game with Mussell working behind the plate, in the

All Conditions for Fishing Favorable

Fish and Game Association Head Says Situation Never Better; Quotes Reports.

Conditions for fishing in Southern Idaho generally are never more favorable than at the present time, according to statement of W. R. Priebe, president of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association, who during the past few days has received numerous reports as to road and stream conditions.

Good catches are being obtained by fly fishermen in the Lost River region which is accessible in five hours driving over good roads by way of the new Trail creek summit, Mr. Priebe said.

Fishing is reported good on little Wood river.

Water is low at Magic dam, and fishermen for the most part are going farther for their fish.

Everybody is catching fish on fish creek where bait is being used.

Roads to the northern fishing grounds are generally good except for a few miles where grading is in progress on Timmerman hill.

Small fish are being caught in streams of Shoshone basin—outside the forest reserve—and in Salmon canyon; but fishermen are going north for the big ones.

Place of Riley and Scelley, who will occupy their customary places with the Blues.

FRIENDLY WITH SINNERS.

Of all "movements" in New York city, there is none more remarkable than the social enterprise known as the Marshall Stillman Movement. Its latest activity is an effort to raise $100,000 to build what the New York World calls a "club house for gunmen
and lawbreakers on the lower West Side."

"That sounds questionable, to put it mildly. It is enough to give many a respectable citizen an apoplectic stroke. To think of soliciting money for such an outrageous purpose! What can those crazy social workers be aiming at?"

Well, right there the World comes in with a bit of explanation, which may or may not be convincing. The Marshall Stillman Movement, it appears, is the only social enterprise that treats the criminal as a human being, not necessarily an enemy or unfriend.
"It deliberately makes friends with the crooks. It refuses to squeal on them. It chums with them and gives them a chance when they need it. It does all this without preaching. And it finds that under this treatment
many of the crooks begin to reform themselves—even insist on reforming themselves."

When you think of it, the founder of a much greater movement treated sinners that way.

CURE FOR DISAGREEABLE
CHILDREN.

The day is approaching when children with violent tempers will no longer be regarded simply as born disagreeable. A healthy, normally developed and properly cared for child has its noisy and tempestuous days, but it is not habitually ugly and it rarely has tantrums. Physicians and educators know this and are teaching it to parents who have not found it out for themselves.

A recent development in the field of child hygiene is that of expert treatment for youngsters who do have such bad habits as temper tantrums, destructiveness, pugnacity and so on.
All these and also acute shyness and sudden extreme variations in personality are treated at the habit clinics for young children conducted by the Community Health Association of Boston and directed by a child specialist in that city.

The clinics attempt to correct the undesirable conduct or personality defects of children and to promote their mental health, just as habit clinics
try to cure physical defects and promote bodily health.

Out of 130 children treated at the Boston habit clinics in 1923, less than one-sixth failed to improve. More than 100 youngsters were placed in happier adjustment to their homes and families and playmates.

When other communities take up similar work there will be fewer "bad" or "spoiled" youngsters and despairing parents. To any one who truly loves children this is cause for real rejoicing.

BAH-BAH FOR EUROPE.

Europe will be full of American college yells this summer. And if transatlantic shipping is to be saved from financial ruin, evidently it is to be saved by college students and their money.

American, British and French lines are eagerly bidding now for student traffic to Europe, to fill a stowage otherwise nearly empty since immigration was knocked in the head by restriction laws.

The college student has never been thought of before as a very profitable subject, to do business with, even by college boarding houses. His seldom has more than enough money to pay his tuition and next week's room rent,

not to mention the more essential costs
of tobacco, shoes, athletics and dining parties. But there is a tremendous lot of him, numerically speaking.
It is possible to gather up a good many thousand students capable of producing the modest sum of $250 or thereabouts for a trip to Europe and back, and so the shipping men are busily harvesting them in this commencement season.

A trip to Europe is a fine way to spend the summer vacation and a particularly fine way to end up a college course. Hereafter, if the Atlantic liners was rich from such passenger, the college degree will be considered valid unless supplemented by an Old World tour.

But it said, too, that college students are usually able to get more enjoyment and benefit out of Europe than tired business men and retired capitalists. Wherefore Europe is welcome to whatever it gets out of them.

Breakfast Food
"Matrimonially Speaking"

By MRS. HUGH MCKAY

My Husband Makes Early Morning
Promises.

If I ask him at the breakfast table,
there's almost nothing he won't agree to do later in the day.

No matter what's suggested in the way of things to be done around the house, he always has a "leave-all-that-to-me" attitude.

"I'll paint that third story floor when I get home this afternoon," he says.

Or: "Don't you bother about repairing the window box. I'll do all that this evening."

But when he comes home at 5 o'clock
I can see that he's forgotten every good intention he had at breakfast.
He's hot and tired and not in anything like the right mood for activity.

If I venture to remind him that this was the evening he'd decided on for cutting the grass, he gives me a hurt look—no more than to say, "You're the last person I'd have expected to find throwing that back at me."

on the lecture platform as a "hoodoo oratory, humor, wit and satire, he

he calls this shilling of trick, chance idea that they have a hoodoo.

Grathwell will thoroughly dispense such false ideas.

Here is a young man who was handicapped by poverty and wrong environment, who had to support a family at seven; was blacked thirty—all because he worked on the principle that a pound of pluck

His message is delivered with the

Daddy's
Evening
Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MR. MOON'S MORNING

"It was almost morning. Such a beautiful clear morning as it was, and though later on in the day it would be warm, it was cool and fresh in the early hours.

Soon the sun would be up, but as yet
Mr. Moon was the ruler of the sky.
"Mr. Sun will be here soon," Mr.
Moon said, as he looked over the sleeping villages and towns and farms and cities.

But I will take a little peep at morning just as morning arrives.
Mr. Moon sat up in the sky—on the edge of nothing, it appeared, and soon he saw a little girl named Mahalia walking along a country road.

"Why, there is my little friend Ma-halia," said Mr. Moon to himself.
But even if he had said it in a very loud tone of voice he was too far away for Mahalia to have heard him really.
He couldn't shout at her—especially as morning was coming along and he was feeling sleepy.

"Why, there is Mr. Moon," Mahalia said as she looked up at him.
"What a pretty moon you are, sitting off in the sky like that."
It was a shame, but Mr. Moon didn't hear that speech. He was almost asleep now, but he woke himself up and blinked his eyes and looked about him some more.

Mahalia was still looking at the moon.

She had been allowed to get up very early as she had wanted to see the

"Why, There is Mr. Moon!"

moon disappear and the sun rise for the day.

And upon one morning she had been told she could do this.

Later in the day she would probably be very sleepy. But now she felt wide awake and very cheery.

There was something so fresh and nice about the early morning.

It made her feel so like doing things—why, she knew she could do anything now, she felt so strong and well and full of life.

"Oh, it is such a beautiful morning," Mahalia said.

If it had not turned out to be a beautiful morning Mahalia had planned to turn over and go to sleep and get up early on another morning.

But the night before all the signs had been for a good day following, and when Mahalia jumped out of bed at the bustling alarm clock shrilly awakened her she could see that the day was perfect.

She gathered some flowers which were covered with dew.

And she listened to the birds as they began to awaken and to chirp and to talk over their plans for the day.

Mr. Moon up in the sky was very much pleased.

"I'm getting a little glimpse at the morning," he said, "and it is so pleas-

Old Superstitions

Two very old stage superstitions are never to quote "Macbeth" and never to wear real flowers on the stage. This is seldom done, even now.

There may be a good reason for this superstition, because if the petals should drop they might cause players to slip on the stage.

Squirrel Liked Golf Balls

Mrs. Archie McLean of near Mon-squirrel carrying a golf ball to his nest. She followed and found 68 balls, which she replaced with nuts.

"I think I shall call the very early morning Mr. Moon's morning time."

All through breakfast Mahalia was so gay and so happy. The flowers she had plucked were so beautiful, and Mahalia was full of the early morning and of the beauties of it, and of Mr.
Moon and of Mr. Sun who had taken his place in a most magnificent fashion.

She had loved the wonderful air of the early morning. But as the day grew older Mahalia began to grow quite sleepy.

But what did it matter?

She had seen Mr. Moon's morning and had thought it very, very lovely.

"Why should I? Law is a weapon to bolster up the rich and keep down the poor," he flung back with an acid smile. "But there's law and law.
Even in our class we have our standards, such as they are."

"Now it's you that isn't fair," she told him quietly. "You know I meant nothing like that. The point is that I don't know what your standards are.
Law doesn't mean so much to people here. Your blood runs freer, less evenly than ours. You don't let the conventions hamper you."

"The convention of honesty, for instance. Thanks, Miss Dwight."

"I didn't want to believe it, but—"
The pentence in her vivid face pleaded for her. He could not refuse the outstretched hand of this slender lance-straight girl whose sweet vitality was at once so delicate and so gallant. Reluctantly his palm met hers.

"You're quite sure now that I didn't do it?"

"Quite sure."

"Even though I'm wild and lawless?"

"Aren't you?" she flashed back with a smile that took him a second to analyze they might otherwise have had.
Mirth overflowed in his eyes, from which now many little creases radiated. "You're a good one, neighbor.
But since you will have it, I am. I reckon my standards even to honesty wouldn't square with yours. I live in a rough milieu where where questions have two sides. It's up to me to play the game the way the other fellow plays it. But we'll not go into that now."

Strong, clear-eyed and masterful, she knew him a man among ten thousand.

"Reg pardon. The captain's eyebrows lifted inquiry."

"Kilmeny," the American corrected.
Nonchalantly the captain came to time. "Same name as ours. Wonder if by any chance we're of the same family. Happen to be any relation of Kilmeny, what died in Colorado fifteen years ago?"

Jack looked at him quietly. "A son."

"Makes us cousins. He was my father's brother."

The westerner nodded coolly, not in the least impressed.

It would have been easy to read hostility in his bearing, but India smiled back her brother with hand extended.
"Glad to meet you, Cousin Jack. Member me? Last time you saw me I was a squalling five-year-old."

"Still am. You've improved in your personal appearance. Last time I saw your eye it had been beautifully blackened, kindness of Ned."

"Forgiveness of Mr. Slip was swollen for a week, her brother laughed as he extended his hand.

"Ned got cussed for fightin' with a guest. Served him jolly well right," Miss Kilmeny said.

Joyce called forward into the picture perfectly. Her radiant beauty took the westerner's breath.

"You'll stay with us for luncheon," she said with soft animation. "For, of course, this is an occasion. Long-lost cousins do not meet every day."

Verinder, making speechless sounds of protest at this indiscretion, grew vered in the face. Would he have to sit down to eat with a criminal at large?

Jack hesitated scarcely a second.
He could not take his gaze from this superb young creature, whose every motion charmed, whose deep eyes glowed with such a divine warmth of molten gold.

"Thanks awfully, but I really can't stay."

He bowed to one and another,
turned upon Joyce that look of dumb worship she had seen on the faces of young men, and swung off into the plains, as elastic-beeled, confident, and competent a youth as any of them had seen in many a day.

India's eyes danced. She was Irish enough to enjoy a situation so unusual.
"Snubbed, Joyce, by a highwayman,"
she laughed.

But Joyce merely smiled. She knew what she knew.

He glanced whimsically at her.
"Don't be too sure of me, neighbor.
I'm likely to disappoint you. You'd have to make a heap of allowances for me if I were your friend."

"Isn't that what friendship is for—
to make allowances?"

"You've found that out already, have you?"

The long-lashed lids fell to her cheeks in self-defense. Not for worlds would she have had him guess the swift message ready to leap out toward him. He seemed to be drawing her soul to his unconsciously. Tingling in every nerve, atrophied with an emotion new and inexpressible, she drew a long slow breath and turned her head away. A hot shame ran like quicksilver through her veins. She whipped herself, but her own Was she the kind of girl that gave her love to a man who did not want

His next words brought to her the

"What about you, sister—what about Miss Seligson—did she believe me guilty too?" He could not quite keep the self-consciousness out of his voice.
"Haden? you better ask her that?"
she suggested.

Kilmeny's alert eyes had swept again and again the trail leading up the gully. He did not intend to be caught napping by the officers. Now he rose and offered her a hand up.

"Your friends are coming."

Swiftly Joyce came to earth from her emotions. In another moment she was standing head to the fugitive, her gaze on the advancing group. Captain Kilmeny was in the lead and was the first to recognize her companion.

Moya took a step toward her friends,
so that for the first time Jack Kilmeny stood plainly revealed. India's pretty pliant face set to a red-lipped soulless whistle. Joyce stared in frank amazement. Verinder, ruffled in caste and respectability as only a social climber dubious of his position can be, ejaculated a "God bless my soul!" and collapsed beyond further articulation. Captain Kilmeny nodded to the westerner without embarrassment.

"Mornin', Mr. Crumh."

"Good-morning. But you have the name wrong, sir."

"Reg pardon. The captain's eyebrows lifted inquiry."

THE MARKETS

WHEAT VALUES SET BACK; HARVESTING UNDER WAY

Prices Apparently Not Affected by Announcement of Plans for Big Grain Control Merger by Producers

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—Harvesting under way in the southwest with favorable conditions had much to do today toward giving a material setback to wheat values. No apparent influence on prices resulted from talk about proposed plans for combining big elevator interests and farm co-operative bodies. Wheat closing quotations were unsettled, 1 3/8 to 1 3/4 net lower, July $1.15 to $1.18 3/8 and September $1.14 3/4 to $1.17 3/8 with corn 3/8 to 1/8 to 1 3/4 down; oats 5/8 to 1 1/8 to 1 1/4 off and provisions at 2 to 10c decline.

Favorable weather and crop reports from the winter wheat territory southwest were supplemented by suspicious advance regarding spring wheat in the northwest. Gossip was also current that farmers were receding and that was noticeable absence of the aggressive buying which of late had been so effective in lifting the market.

Although a little advance in prices followed the opening, weakness then developed and throughout the remainder of the day the market showed but little power to rally.

Week end trading on the part of the numerous holders who were reluctant to leave risks until Monday kept the wheat market, under pressure during the last hour. It was said, however, that most of the selling came from owners who were in a position to realize profits.

Reports that were more optimistic about outlook for the new corn crop led to a sharp decline in the price of December delivery of corn. July delivery, though, held relatively firm. Oats prospects were regarded as generally bearish.

Lower quotations on hogs weakened the provision market.

BOSTON, June 21 (AP)—The situation in the wool market has shown very little change for the last few days. Foreign wool in particular is extremely dull. ## NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Stock prices continued to point upward in today's trading, but a few spots in the market although sufficient selling developed in spots to give the market an irregular appearance at the close.

An unexpected burst of buying in the oil group, which had been the cause of the popular issues surging to cover, was one of the features of the session. Extreme gains of one to two points were recorded by producers and refiners, the Pan-American issues, Midland, Houston, Maracaibo and Atlantic Refining preferred, but some of these were reduced before the close. Unusually active trading in trade and commodity oil, which improved fractionally.

Smoothing Concrete

Concrete in the rough was for a long time treated with carborundum or some other abrasive stone to remove from it unsightly surface board marks. Concrete houses where a cement wash or paint is later used are usually treated in this way.

A electric machine which works dry, that is, without the application of water, performs the task much more quickly and produces a more perfect surface. The cutter disc operates at a speed of 2,000 revolutions, under pressure. One set of cutter will finish about 3,000 square feet of surfacing.

The discs revolve only when pressed upon the surface of the concrete, and operate absolutely square to it.

Pettin Grouse Roses

Marshal Pettin, one of the outstanding figures of the World war, has been awarded a medal by the French Agricultural society for developing a new species of blue roses. This rose, it was said, may be kept flowering for weeks. The marshal bought an abandoned farm on the Riviera, southeast of France, just after the war and his success with roses has been phenomenal. Rupture makers are organizing to market the Pettin brand.

Anthracite Substitute

Construction of an oven that turns lignite into a substance with heating properties similar to anthracite has resulted from experiments conducted by the bureau of mines co-operating with the University of North Dakota and the Canadian government. Four years ago congress appropriated $100,000 to carry on our experiments. Lignite char should be available in periods of hard coal famine that may occur in the future.

Built Own Guillotine

Isidor Hoppel, nicknamed "the Jackal," was for many years the executioner in the French penal settlement at Cayenne, French Guiana. Recently he killed a convict in a quarrel and was himself sentenced to be hanged. Not having much confidence in his successor he petitioned to be allowed to build his own guillotine, which favor the government granted.

The News is ready for the permanent carrying clause.

RUPTURE

Expert Coming to TWIN FALLS

Will Give Free Demonstration MONDAY AND TUESDAY JUNE 23 AND 24

PERRINE HOTEL from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

One Day Only

They Come Many Miles to See Him.

On the above date the noted rupture appliance expert, C. F. Redlich, will give a free demonstration of his appliance. You will at once realize the difference between his highly efficient and modern appliances and your mist or expert in personal steel or wire bandages or ill-fitting elastic trusses with their obnoxious leg straps. These mostly make the rupture worse instead of better until at last it gets beyond repair.

Mr. Redlich's special appliances will give you security and comfort for years to come, mainly because these effective devices are scientifically applied by an expert in personal steel or wire bandages or ill-fitting elastic trusses with their obnoxious leg straps. These mostly make the rupture worse instead of better until at last it gets beyond repair.

EXCURSION TO TRAVEL OVER JARBIDGE ROAD

Chamber of Commerce Plans Trip for Twin Falls Citizens to Acquaint Them with Possibilities of Gold Camp.

With view to furtherance of the Twin Falls-Jarbridge road improvement project, the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce is perfecting arrangements for an excursion of Twin Falls representative citizens to leave here at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, next, to traverse the route proposed to be improved to the Nevada gold mining district, which at a conference of citizens of both Twin Falls and Jarbridge, mutual advantages of the proposed improvement will be discussed and some attention probably given to ways and means of carrying the project to a successful conclusion.

One of the principal purposes of the excursion is to provide an opportunity for Twin Falls citizens to acquaint themselves with the recent rapid development of the Jarbridge district and its possibilities for the future in relation to the Twin Falls country, which is felt, should be the principal shipping point and source of supplies for the Jarbridge district.

Competition for Twin Falls.
Activity of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce in connection with the Jarbridge road project was set forth recently by Shad J. Hodgins, Twin Falls mayor, in an address before the Rotary club, in which he asserted that there is growing sentiment in Jarbridge in favor of an Idaho outlet by way of Mountain Home and argued that if the present volume of trade coming from Jarbridge to Twin Falls is to be preserved to Twin Falls, some way must be found whereby the road between this place and Jarbridge can be put in first class shape and so maintained. Improvement now in progress with the aid of federal funds of roads from interior Nevada into Jarbridge also is regarded as an important factor in connection with the Jarbridge road situation, although the southern outlet is closed by weather conditions during the winter months.

MOTOR TRAVELER DIES; FATALLY STRICKEN HERE

Illness with which David Summers, 71, was stricken while a guest in the tourist park here last Monday, caused his death early Saturday at the county general hospital, where he had been received for treatment. Death was attributed to heart disease. Mr. Summers, with two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Summers and Mrs. Frank M. Roberts, and her husband, was traveling overland from their home in Zillah, Wash., to his former home in Memphis, Mo., when he was fatally stricken here. The body was removed to the P. J. Grossman mortuary, and will be taken today to Memphis, where burial will be made beside the grave of his wife, whose death occurred some years ago.

Outlook Called Good For Huge Bean Crop

Growers' Association Management Says Prospects Excellent for Big Production.

Prospects for a bumper crop of beans in the Twin Falls district this season are deemed excellent by the management of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association which Saturday issued the following statement calling attention to the fact that the period for enrollment of new members in the association this year will close July 1: "The bean crop is looking fine and promises to be a bumper. The Southern Idaho is building a large new warehouse to be completed in time to handle the crop of the bean growers' association members, of whom there are nearly 400 at present. June is the last month in which members can come in to the association to participate in this year's pool. Bean growers who are expecting to come in this year will have to sign up this month."

Another Outfit Goes To Work on New Line

Railroad Building Contractor
Arrives With Horses
and Equipment From Wyoming.

Another railroad building contractor, holding a sub-contract from the Utah Construction company, passed through Twin Falls Saturday with six carloads of horses and six carloads of grading machinery on the way to begin active operations on the Rogers-Homer line of the new line. The outfit was brought from Sheridan, Wyoming, where it had been employed recently.

Saturday's train to Rogers carried along as passengers 10 workmen for whom call had been made Saturday morning by telegram to Secretary C. F. Dwight of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Other materials and equipment forwarded Saturday to Rogers included one carload of hay, two cars of dynamite, two cars of bridge material and one car of water pipe.

EXHIBITS FRESH BERRIES PICKED 11 MONTHS AGO

W. D. Averitt, well known farmer, with a place about two miles south and west, and who has made a close study of the fruit business for a number of years, exhibits a quantity of black raspberries which have been in cold storage for 11 months. Mr. Averitt says that the practice of placing small fruit, mainly berries in cold storage for long periods is in use generally in the state of Washington, mainly around Puyallup and Sumner from which points they are shipped by the railroad packed in paraffin barrels to the eastern market. The berries are packed with sugar in the proportion of one-third sugar to two-thirds berries. They retain their full flavor and while it is impossible to avoid a little crushing, appear almost as fresh as when picked. So far Mr. Averitt's experiments have been with comparatively small quantities of berries but there is no reason why the process should not be a success with any quantity.

AWAIT DECISION IN WATER SUIT

Judge Lee Hears Argument on Objections to Demand as to Delivery Basis.

Decision as to the sufficiency of objections raised by counsel for the Salmon River Canal company against the demand of R. Rayl and others for delivery of irrigation water on a basis of 1 5/7 shares per acre, was taken under advisement by Judge T. Bailey Lee at the conclusion of argument by attorneys Saturday in district court at Burley. Judge Lee stated that he would announce his decision at an early date.

Demand of Rayl and others made in this action against the canal company for a restraining order to prescribe the method of water delivery was not at issue in the argument Saturday, which related only the canal company's demurrer and motion to bring in as additional parties to the action, all water users of the project who now receive water on the basis of one share per acre.

In support of the demurrer, J. B. Marrow of Boise, an attorney for the canal company, argued that plaintiffs in their complaint had failed to state sufficient cause of action in that they had not alleged that 1 5/7 shares of stock had been transferred to the credit of the plaintiffs and others similarly situated who receive water on the basis of one share per acre, and had not alleged that water was available for uniform delivery on the basis of 1 5/7 shares. The canal company, they contended, could not be expected to deliver water except in accordance with its records of stock to the credit of each water user.

In refutation of this argument, Homer C. Mills of Twin Falls, attorney for the plaintiffs, argued that 1 5/7 shares had been made appurtenant to each acre under the project, and in support of this assertion he referred to records in foreclosure suits instituted by the successors to the construction company wherein tender was made of an additional 5/7 share per acre upon settlement of the company's claim.

Counsel for the canal company argued that this tender had not been accepted but that, on the contrary, it was being resisted by the defendants in the foreclosure suits.

Parties plaintiff in attendance at the hearing Saturday included C. L. McFarland, J. E. Pohlman, G. A. Sallo, J. A. Arviler. Members of the canal company board present at the hearing were G. M. Hall and T. J. Douglas.
