IDAHO SUPREME COURT ACTS ON 1923 MEASURE

Creation of Bar Commission Held Invalid so Far as Appropriation Is Concerned; Must Pay Expenses.

BOISE, July 3 (AP)—The act of the 1923 legislature creating the Idaho bar commission, which provided for an appropriation to be made out of a fund created by a tax on lawyers, was held invalid by the supreme court today.

The law has been before the court several months undergoing a test for constitutionality, and came out limping because of a lack of appropriation. It was submitted to the court in the form of an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the state auditor, to pay the travel expenses of N. D. Jackson, one of the commissioners, while attending the organization meeting last summer. The writ was denied because, the court finds, there is no appropriation from which expenses can be paid.

The remainder of the act, however, is valid, the court found, and if the commissioners elected by the members of the association, to carry out the provisions of the act, desire to continue in their office, paying all expenses out of their own pockets, or by some other means, and take the chance of being reimbursed when the 1925 legislature meets, it will be perfectly proper for them to do so, as the law is constitutional.

REPLY TO GERMAN NOTE

PARIS, July 3 (AP)—The reply of the ambassadors' council to Germany's note relative to allied military control, which will be submitted to the allied governments for their approval, takes cognizance of the note's promise to permit the resumption of international military effects against July 25. The council undertakes no engagements with regard to the date of withdrawing military control, as it will depend upon Germany alone if operations are terminated by September 30 as Germany demands.

MIRANS RELEASED

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—Gaston B. Mirans, former department of justice agent, sentenced yesterday for conspiring to sell whiskey illegally was released from the Tombs tonight on $25,000 bail remittance have their way on the federal circuit court of appeals.

Progressives To Keep Reds Out of Party Convention

'Communists Not Admitted' Is Inevitable Sign Above Door of Committee Room; Inspect Credentials Closely.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 3 (AP)—'Communists not admitted' was the inevitable sign over the door leading to the credentials committee of the conference for progressive political action opening here tomorrow. Neither as participants nor as spectators, if the committee managers have their way, will adherents of that political school be admitted.

The committee today closely inspected the credentials of arriving delegates, approving only those from established bodies known to have no connection with the communists.

Crypus asking for visitors seats to the convention unless they were known were asked their names and the blunt question: "Are you a communist?"

If the answer was in the affirmative, seats were denied them.

One of the problems before the committee was the status of William Mahoney of St. Paul, a member of the national committee of the conference and also of the national committee of the communists-national farmer-labor party, formed at the June 17 convention in St. Paul. Mahoney went on the governing body of this conference representative of the farmer-labor party of Minnesota. Then, shortly before the spring convention of that organization he organized the farmer-labor federation of Minnesota. Later he was succeeded as state chairman of the regular Minnesota body by Fred Pike and then accepted a place on the committee.

Three to Pay With Their Lives for Murder of Halsey

Trio Exhibits No Signs of Emotion as Sentence of Execution Is Pronounced.

ROSWELL, N. M., July 3 (AP)—Mrs. Katherine Halsey, Arthur Archer, and Luther Foster were sentenced to death here today for the murder of Fred Halsey, husband of the condemned woman, near Hope, N. M., last August.

The trio exhibited no signs of emotion as the sentence was pronounced. The date set for the triple execution was August 1.

Still maintaining her innocence, Mrs. Halsey said as she heard the sentence:

"God will have mercy on my soul."

HAMMER BLOW PROVES FATAL

Lumber Worker Sustains Fracture of Skull in an Alleged Altercation in Camp.

BOISE, July 3 (AP)—Unconscious for 24 hours after he should have fractured by a blow from a sledge hammer at a lumber camp near Pioneerville, C. C. Fox, 53, died in St. Alphonsus hospital this morning at 2 o'clock.

The hammer was thrown by William Bridges, a fellow workman, during an altercation, witnesses say. Bridges is held in Idaho City on a charge of injury to a manager, filed today by John H. Myers, prosecuting attorney of Boise county. Bridges will be held there until Saturday, when he will be arraigned, probably before James Haley, judge.

Mr. Fox was employed by M. A. Zupp, Boise, a logging contractor.

DATE SET FOR HEARING OF RAIL MEN'S DISPUTE

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP)—The United States railroad labor board today set July 24 as the date on which representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen must appear to take part in the hearing of their dispute with the western railroad. The controversy involves increases in rates of pay sought by the employees and changes in rules sought by the carriers.

TWO KILLED

BRADFORD, Pa., July 3 (AP)—Two men, Paul Frank of East Weare, N. H., and Victor Doppler of Lewis Run, Pa., were fatally injured and four others seriously injured this afternoon by an explosion which wrecked the plant of the Lumbert corporation of Pittsburgh.

Lewis Run, Pa., is the plant at which Lumbert gas was extracted from natural gas, begun operation several weeks ago and the first shipment of Lumbert gas was made last night.

Little hope is held for the recovery of the injured.

SERIOUS CHARGES FILED AGAINST COLONY LEADER

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 3 (AP)—Charging fraud, deceit and immorality, a petition seeking a receivership for the life of David at Benton Harbor was filed in circuit court here today. The petition brands "Kling" Benjamin Purnell, fugitive colony leader, as a "religious impostor," "plous fraud" and a "bigamist," charges he taught gross immorality, encouraged immorality and practiced revolting rites.

SUSPECT HELD FOR MURDER OF UTAH RESIDENT

Lava Wastes in Craters of the Moon District Scene of Strange Killing; Claim to Have Confession.

POCAHELLO, July 3 (AP)—The lonely lava wastes of the Craters of the Moon section of Idaho was the scene on Monday of one of the strangest murder tragedies in the history of the state, according to word received this morning from Arco. Fred Kobyluk, an Austrian of Park City, Utah, was enticed into the lonely lava area, shot three times and the body carefully hidden.

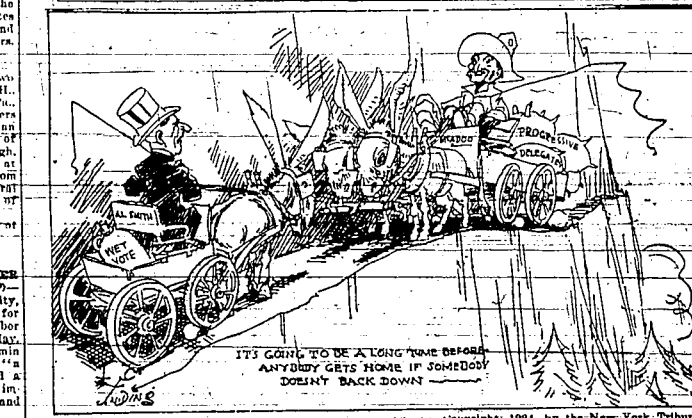

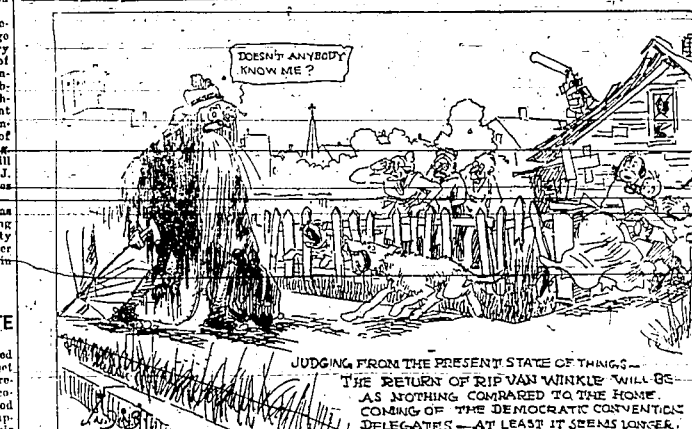

A desire to secure sufficient money to attend an aviation school was the motive for the killing, according to the signed statement of Arto Latham, a well-known Arco resident, who has confessed to the murder. Latham is in jail at Arco and made a written confession last evening. According to the story Latham met Kobyluk and another Austrian by the name of Eluk at Park City. They were on their way to jobs they had secured. Kobyluk is said to have had considerable money with him.

HERO OF MERRIMAC OFFERS SCHEME TO BREAK UP DEADLOCK

Hobson Tells of His Plan to Get Delegates Out of Tiresome Convention Voting.

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—Richard Pearson Hobson, one-time hero of the Merrimac, tonight evolved a plan for getting delegates out of their seats.

"Get the leaders, McAdoo and Smith, have their runs and then, at a certain time, let the high man accept the presidential nomination and the low man the vice presidential nomination," he said.

"With both men on the ticket we can sweep the country. The plan and anti-klan matter will be buried forever. McAdoo will carry the west, Smith will carry the east and both men will carry the south."

When last seen Hobson was looking for George Breunert and other leaders to present the plan and a delegate with tired feet who heard of the plan was starting a Hobson for president boom.

TODAY'S PROGRAM AT NEW YORK CONVENTION

Convention called to order at 1 p. m. by Permanent Chairman Walsh.

Invocation by the Rev. Mansfield Spencer of the Church of the Stranger (Independent) of New York city.

Singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

LIEUTENANT MAUGHAN ENDS RETURN JOURNEY

MITCHELL FIELD, NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan, who flew from here to San Francisco between dawn and dusk of today, completed his return journey tonight. He arrived at 8:30 o'clock, daylight saving time, having flown from Dayton, Ohio, in four hours and six minutes.

"Had a fine trip," Lieutenant Maughan said on alighting. "Wan't sick, wasn't hungry, wind was against me both ways, but the machine worked like a bird. I am glad it is over but wouldn't mind doing it again. The kindness shown me everywhere made it worth while."

CONVENTION TIEUP CONTINUES; CONSIDER NEW PLANS OF ACTION

Close of Sixty-First Ballot Finds Grip of Leading Candidates Unshaken and Tie-up Still in Effect; Pass Record Mark; Rumor Schemes for Compromise and Change in Rules.

KLAN SPEAKER THREATENS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 3 (AP)—Senator Oscar W. Underwood, Governor W. W. Bradley and the entire Alabama delegation at the democratic national convention were threatened with political death for their advocacy of the anti-klan plank by a speaker at a Ku Klux Klan—naturalization—ceremonial here tonight.

VARIED PROGRAM FOR EDUCATORS

Pensions for Teachers Asked at Washington Conference; Regret Law Violations.

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—Reports of its committee on resolutions and nominations were adopted today at the final business session of the National Education Association's convention.

Resolutions approved called for endorsement of the Sterling-Rood education bill, demand for permanent tenure guarantees and pensions for teachers, approval of the child labor constitutional amendment and of the anti-educational measures taken by the government, recommendations for the establishment of tribunals for consideration of international disputes to prevent future wars and request for the disregard of laws, especially those forbidding the liquor traffic.

A proposal from a member of the Ohio delegation to approve America's participation in the league of nations caused a stir and was withdrawn. Jesse H. Newlin, superintendent of schools of Denver, was unanimously elected president of the association. All officers named by the nominations committee also were elected.

Talk Compromises

One plan proposed was that both McAdoo and Smith be called upon to withdraw, permitting their strength to go to some compromise candidate. This proposal was pronounced "absurd" by David Lunt Brockwell, the manager for McAdoo, and was characterized as "a mere holding bid" by the strongest of the contending elements of the convention, that the party chiefs consulted over possible methods of amending the convention rules to permit of a choice.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 3 (AP)—Even by surpassing the party record for continuous balloting, the democratic national convention has failed to nominate a candidate for president.

At the close of the sixty-first ballot the convention adjourned after midnight until 1 p. m., July 4, with the deadlock tighter than ever and the grip of both principal contenders unshaken.

The McAdoo management placed the blame on the favorite sons who, they said, by remaining in the balloting when they should have withdrawn, had prevented the real strength of both Governor Smith and Mr. McAdoo to be shown.

Plugging steadily through a day and night session, the convention had rolled off a total of 61 ballots, more than the previous high record of the party, made in 1904 when Stephen Douglas was nominated for the presidency after taking fifty-nine.

Held to Rut At the adjournment, after a seething process that had swung a hand full of states back and forth among the leaders, the situation appeared to be almost precisely where it had been twenty-four hours before. McAdoo remained the front with Smith trailing second place and all the others trailing far behind.

So agonized was the tangle and so determined the plan of campaign that was being laid down by the strongest of the contending elements of the convention, that the party chiefs consulted over possible methods of amending the convention rules to permit of a choice.

Democrats Set New Balloting Mark at Party Convention

Record Starts After Delegates Pass Fifty-Fifth Without Nomination; Session in 1860 Is Recalled.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 3 (AP)—When the democratic national convention reached the fifty-fifth ballot tonight it tied the record of party history and as no nomination was reached, the convention then began setting a new record.

The greatest number of ballots here, so far, in a convention was in that of 1860 which nominated Douglas, S. C., where 57 ballots were taken; it then adjourned and reconvened in Baltimore, where two more ballots were taken—59 in all, and Douglas was nominated.

The next approach to the old record was in the Baltimore convention in 1912 which took 45 ballots to tie the record of Woodrow Wilson and coming after that was the San Francisco convention of 1920 which took 44 ballots to nominate James M. Cox.

FRIENDS OF BRYAN WANT ACTION TO STOP TIEUP

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 3 (AP)—William Jennings Bryan's influence to effect adjournment of the democratic national convention to meet in another city is sought in a telegram to the committee on resolutions from John W. Gaines and John A. Pitts, Nashville democrats. The message charged the New York galleries with "harassing" and "intimidating" delegates and said the delegates were "exhausted" and "need time for mature second thought."

SENATOR KEEPS CLOSE WATCH ON CONVENTION

LaFollette Prepares His Message to Be Delivered at Cleveland Conclave; Friends Praise Him Highly as Candidate

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP)—Secluded in his home but in continuous contact with the democratic convention proceedings at New York by wire and by personal representative, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin prepared today his message at the third party convention at Cleveland, one of his friends doubted that the document, along with associates of the republican and democratic party platforms and conduct would be a notification that he intended to accept a presidential nomination.

At the same time the senator intended to withhold the document until it could be given to the delegates assembled at Cleveland. Messengers awaited the hour to take it in person but there was a substitute plan to send it by wire if delay even later tonight was required.

In spite of a desire on the part of LaFollette supporters to synchronize his nomination with the July 4 holiday it was stated that the senator's reason for delay especially with the democratic convention unfinished. Among the few admitted to conference with him today were those who came straight from New York. It was declared that in addition to the actual showing of the delegate ballots there the visitors gave Senator LaFollette their views as to conditions prevailing and the decisions of the delegates and that this would come in for comment in the campaign promulgation to the Cleveland gathering.

Receives Address.

During the day the senator was presented with an address by the LaFollette for president committee headed by W. J. Laidlaw, secretary, urging him to become a candidate for president. Explaining that the committee was formed last February when the investigation in Washington revealed a condition of venality, corruption, and degradation in public office that shocked the moral sense of mankind, Mr. Laidlaw raised him for initiating the investigations. Then reviewing Mr. LaFollette's long public career, he continued in part:

"Our conviction, born months ago, that the American people must turn to you for independent leadership, has been confirmed by recent developments. The republican party not alone refused to purge itself but sought to conceal and to condone its iniquities. The party of Lincoln is no more. In its place stands an unprincipled band of public spoliation and party politics, united only in common service to predatory wealth.

Rape Democrats, Too.

"Neither can the organization and leadership of the democratic party serve as an instrument for clean government and national regeneration. Drawing its life-blood from the same corrupt sources as the republican party, the democratic party comes to the task of governmental purification with hands stained with war frauds, shipping board and alien property scandals, and gross degradation of the American people long for some department of justice.

"new medium through which they may express and enforce their desire for clean government and progressive public service. They see in you the instrument through which they may work out their own economic and social salvation and rescue of the government from the malign forces that threaten its life."

PROHIBITION IN SASKATCHEWAN TO BE DECIDED BY REFERENDUM

REGINA, Sask., July 3 (AP)—The eyes of students of prohibition throughout the world are turned on Saskatchewan to see whether this province will follow Quebec, Alberta, Manitoba and British Columbia in turning to government sale as the best method of dealing with liquor. The question will be before the voters in a provincial plebiscite July 16.

The province of Saskatchewan has been dry since 1916. A plebiscite in 1920 continued the dry regime by a vote of 60,000 to 25,000. Last year a petition for sale of liquor under provincial control was denied by the Saskatchewan government. When the province was made dry and when it was kept so, women voted, as they will in July.

Quebec has never been dry, but adopted government sale to meet criticisms of the liquor traffic. Alberta, Manitoba and British Columbia adopted government dispensaries after trying "hard dry" prohibition.

TOURIST PARK NOTES

P. L. Hawkes, whose home is Preston, Idaho, came from Onkley and left for somewhere west.

John W. Berg of Crescent City, Cal., is going to Ruth, Nev.

Another pleasant meeting of old acquaintances occurred in our park recently. P. L. Shoenberger, who lives on Seventh avenue east, is a frequent visitor in the park and during one of his visits he met Fred Timm of Manchester, Iowa, and he learned that Mr. Timm and Mrs. Shoenberger were schoolmates more than 30 years ago.

A series of meetings of the two families at the home of Mr. Shoenberger and in the park resulted. Mr. and Mrs. Timm are much pleased with this country, but their young daughter has seen nothing but dust and anguish.

John Ladasevich and party from West Springs, Wyo., are going to Boise.

William A. Eutzel and family are trekking from Portland to Salt Lake City.

Sam Lyon and party are on the road from Duluth, Minn., to Boise.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Taber are returning to Spokane from Pontello.

J. M. Thompson and family from Roseau, Mont., have been spending some time in the park and are now going to Boise.

PEONS DRIVEN OVER BORDER BY MEXICAN LAND ALLOTMENTS

MEXICO CITY, July 3 (AP)—Peonage as it may seem, the first effect of the national agrarian program, intended to provide a bit of land for each of Mexico's long downtrodden peons, is to swell the tide of emigrants to the United States, according to Cesar Cordoba, general secretary of the National Agrarian Commission.

This emigration, says Mr. Cordoba, results from the fact that wealthy landowners, when they learn that their peons have petitioned the national government for land, conspire with venal local authorities to instigate a veritable reign of terror against the petitioners. Without money or work the peons are unable to remain until the red tape involving a division of lands is unwound, and are forced to migrate.

Mr. Cordoba maintains, however, that data in the files of the commission shows that the real cause of Mexican emigration is lack of land and that there is virtually no emigration from sections where the good effects of the agrarian laws have been felt.

Had Proved Herself Too Good a Teacher

The man and the girl loved each other very dearly, says a writer in the Pastor Review, London. But, alas, though rich in love and good, they were poor in the currency demanded by the butcher, the baker and the candlestick combine.

So the man said: "Beloved, I love you too much to ask you to share a life of penury. I will work hard and acquire much wealth. Then I will turn and we will be married and live happily ever after."

So the man departed.

Now, the girl was of a practical nature and she said to herself: "I, too, will endeavor to make some money."

So she considered what money-making pursuit she might follow and she determined to start a correspondence college for women.

She advertised largely in the press, assuring her sisters that she could teach them "how to be beautiful," "the art of fascinating men," "how to win and keep a husband," and many other subtleties.

And before long she realized that she was a success and that her wealth was very considerable.

Accordingly she wrote to her man: "Come home, I have more than enough for both of us."

But he came not. For among the pupils of the correspondence college had been one living in that distant colony whether he had gone. She had found the course of very great merit for she had learned how to be beautiful, she had fascinated men, she had won him and there is no reason to suppose that she had not also learned how to keep him.

Pure Water Does Not Conduct Electricity

Pure water does not conduct electricity to any appreciable extent. A column of chemically pure water one twenty-fifth of an inch long has as much resistance to the passage of an electric current as a copper wire of the same diameter as long as from the earth to the moon. What makes ordinary water a moderately good conductor is not the water itself, but the material dissolved in it. When, for example, a molecule of salt is put into water, it breaks up into what are known as ions, one positively, the other negatively charged. If then an electric current is given a chance to pass through the water, it rides on the ions which carry the electric charges through it. If there are no ions, that is, if there are no salts in solution, the current cannot get across. But all water outside of chemical laboratories contains enough dissolved substances to make a fairly good conductor, although chemically pure water is not.

Servants with references

EVERY housewife of today commands a retinue of servants. Modern industry places them at her disposal. Many services, which in the past meant early rising and back-breaking toil for the women of the household, are today performed deftly and unobtrusively by the inventions of modern science.

Like her grandmother, the woman of today wishes to know something about the servants she employs. She prefers to have them vouched for by some responsible person. So when the manufacturer comes out squarely and advertises his vacuum cleaners, kitchen cabinets, washing machines, electric irons or gas stoves, she knows that he is standing behind his product. She can feel that her confidence in the honest service of his goods will not be abused.

That's why it pays you to read the advertisements. Through advertising you learn not only what is good, but what is trustworthy.

An advertisement is more than a reference—it is a certified check of satisfaction.

Mrs. R. B. Marsh, who leaves Saturday morning for the east to spend the summer, was given a delightful farewell party Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. O. Spilberg on Third avenue north. Delphinium and gypsophila in an artistic arrangement decorated the rooms. Bridge was the amusement for the afternoon prize for high score being won by Mrs. Marsh, who also was presented with a handkerchief shower arranged in the form of a corage bouquet. Mrs. H. S. Shultz received the consolation. Light refreshments were served after the games. With the city clad in bunting and flags, and the small boy busy exploding fire crackers at the first streak of dawn the day promised to be clear and sunny and ideal for the celebration.

Boys made up in red, white and blue uniforms, and the parade will be followed by vocal music at the park at 11 o'clock led by Mrs. I. H. Masters. At this hour also at the city park is scheduled the address of the day by President A. H. Upham of the University of Idaho.

EXPLODING FIREWORKS CAUSES SOME EXCITEMENT
Started by an explosion which, some said, caused just the report of a shotgun, county employees rushed into the hall, at the courthouse Thursday afternoon expecting to see a general jail delivery with the warden or sheriff, standing, a gun in hand, attempting to prevent the prisoners from escaping. The explosion, however, was caused by a giant firecracker set off on the second floor of the county building and men and women returned to their desks just a little bit disoriented, but the excitement was not from some more real cause. Older employees, however, seemed to have solved for their alarm by relating the time that there was an attempt of jail break and the wife of the sheriff at that time stood and emptied a revolver at the fleeing prisoners.
