FRANCE TO HOLD FAST TO CLAIMS

Hope of Persuading Britain to Drop Idea of Arbitration for German Default Held Out to Senate by Herriot.

PARIS, July 11 (AP)—The joint text drawn up in Paris by Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Herriot during their interview in connection with the interallied London conference represents all the progress that has been made up to the present toward an accord between France and Great Britain, the French premier declared before the senate today explaining his negotiations with the British prime minister. He said that the Chequers interview bound neither country.

Replying to interruptions concerning MacDonald's declaration in the house of commons on the interallied debts, M. Herriot repeated the substance of the Chequers conversation which was confirmed in the joint text of the Paris interview, in the course of which Mr. MacDonald agreed that both governments should study the question in the spirit of equity.

Wants Compensative Out Senator Duxset, who preceded M. Herriot, declared that the Dawes plan surely reduced Germany's debt to the allies and that France consequently was justified in asking a reduction of her interallied war debts. He asked the premier if he was taking steps in that direction and also whether he has in view any further funding of the war of the interallied war debts. He asked the premier if he was taking steps in that direction and also whether he has in view any further funding of the war of the interallied war debts.

M. Herriot answered that he was powerless on the question of the war debts and appealed to the spirit of equity of the allies, which he had done at Chequers. He agreed with Senator Duxset that it was impossible to stabilize French currency before the debts that were hanging over the country were disposed of. But, he added, that he had no other means of action than repetition of the argument that the allies had put their resources in common France was the heaviest loser.

Herriot Praises Dawes Senator Raymond Poincaré, interrupting, said that the Americans, when they were ready to ask for payment of the sum owing to them, would surely propose arrangements running over a considerable number of years "and as long as we continue to pay, Germany must be made to continue to pay us." The interallied debts ought not to be settled mathematically but justly, M. Herriot added.

"The Dawes plan," he said "would continue to be called the 'Dawes plan' in honor of 'the most devoted and disinterested of the experts'."

He thought, however, that the Bonar Law proposition of January, 1921, at

Bird's Comment on Convention Takes Guardian to Court

Neighbors Complain as Crow Cries 'Haw-Haw' at Underwood Vote.

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—An aftermath of the democratic convention was heard in Police Magistrate Goodman's court today between Mrs. Xuei Schlott, west-side rooming house keeper and Miss Virginia Pope, manager of a "bird hospital" next door.

Among Miss Pope's feathered menagerie, Mrs. Schlott said, was a crow which screamed so loudly that it drowned out convention proceedings received by radio at the rooming house.

After each "Al-bama" casts 24 votes for Underwood," Mrs. Schlott said, the crow cried: "Haw-haw, caw-caw-caw."

Miss Pope alleged that in all the 16 years she had owned the crow no person had ever complained. Magistrate Goodman adjourned the case until health authorities could complete an investigation.

NO DECLINE SHOWN IN IDAHO POTATO ACREAGE

BOISE, July 11 (AP)—Farmers in Idaho have planted the same acreage of potatoes this year as last, or 67,000 acres, according to the report for July issued Thursday by Julius H. Jacobson, United States crop statistician for the state. Their early intentions were to reduce 11 per cent, but the California situation apparently influenced the growers of early potatoes to increase their early acreage intentions, declared Mr. Jacobson.

"Some of the sugar beet acreage, which failed to develop a good stand," says Mr. Jacobson, "was reseeded to potatoes. The Idaho Falls district shows an acreage increase of about ten per cent. Twin Falls decreased its acreage some 2,800 acres, and the Nampa-Caldwell district planted about the same as last year—72,500 acres."

FEDERATION OF LABOR FAVORED AS FARM MODEL

St. Paul Conference in Accord on Need for Strong Central Organization but Hangs Up on How to Get It.

ST. PAUL, July 11 (AP)—Although agreeing that farm relief legislation is necessary and that an organization similar in scope and power to the American Federation of Labor is needed to carry on its work, members of the resolutions committee of the national conference of farm organizations are unable to determine today how such a central organization should be formulated.

While the resolutions committee was in session, several hundred delegates to the conference which opened a two-day session here today, were meeting elsewhere, discussing different phases of the agricultural situation.

In the debate before the resolutions committee, of which William Hirth of Columbia, Mo., is chairman, it was contended by several of the members that a central committee, formed of delegates from every state and representing all farm organizations, should formulate any legislative action to be taken in the interests of agriculture. Some were opposed to this proposition, claiming that the central committee should be elected only from the farm leaders and should act only in the capacity of a mouthpiece for the organizations now existing.

Demands Sinking Differences.

Lack of co-operation among the national leaders has been charged by the farmers, according to Carl Gunderson of Mitchell, S. D.

"If the conference is over to accomplish any definite action, all differences among the farm leaders should be immediately eradicated."

He said "we are on the right track and we must pull together."

Defining the attitude which the United States said must adopt toward agricultural interests, Representative J. L. Dickinson of Iowa, addressing the general conference, stated that "the

Idaho Delegation's Live Elks Get New Home in Boston Zoo

Secretary Fox Turns Over Custody of Animals Taken to Convention for Parade.

BOSTON, July 11 (AP)—Three live elks, brought here by the Idaho delegation to the convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks for the parade which yesterday concluded the fraternal session in this city, were today given to the Franklin park municipal zoo. They were named by the Idahoans, "Little Bill, Miss Idaho and Harry," the latter being the given name of Elks Secretary Fox of Pocatello, who led the state group.

THOUSANDS TELL THEIR SYMPATHY

President and Family Find Many Messages on Return From Burial of Son.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP)—Except for the regular semi-weekly cabinet meeting, there were no engagements at the White House today and both President and Mrs. Coolidge spent the day in seclusion after returning from Vermont where their younger son was buried yesterday.

The special train with the president and his family, members of his cabinet and others who accompanied the body to its last resting place returned to the capital early this morning. The White House was at once reopened to visitors, the flag run to full staff and the usual routine of official life resumed.

The executive and his family however spent the entire day in seclusion. Late in the afternoon the president and his father, John C. Coolidge who returned with him from Vermont sent for an automobile ride and to the naval dispensary to have the father's eyes examined. The latter is to remain at the White House for an indefinite period.

More than ten thousand telegrams and thousands of letters of sympathy have been received at the executive mansion since the bereavement.

VILLAGE RUNS FROM TORNADO

Inhabitants of Minnesota Hamlet Take to Cars When Twister Strikes.

PIESTONE, Minn., July 11 (AP)—Between 45 and 50 persons—virtually the entire population of the town of Abit, six miles west of Piestone—escaped serious injuries, or possibly death, when they packed into three automobiles and "climbed" a small tornado which passed through the little town at 4 p.m. today. Two residences, a warehouse and garage building were wrecked by the twister, which also cut its way through a cornfield near Abit. No one was injured.

STRONG WIND SPREADS FIRE

WEEKEND REDONDA ISLAND

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 11 (AP)—All government foresters have been rushed to the aid of inhabitants of Redonda island north of Powell river who are engaged in a desperate battle with forest fires that are sweeping the island.

Although no lives have been reported lost, it is feared that the camps of big logging interests on the island have been wiped out, together with standing timber of great value.

A strong wind was spreading the flames so rapidly that, according to passengers arriving from Campbell river on the steamer Cheakamus of the Union Steamship company, only a heavy rain would check them.

Mother Love Loses Fight Against Fire For Three Children

Mrs. J. P. Laxson, Welsco, Probably Fatally Burned Following Heroic Effort.

WEISER, July 11 (AP)—Mother love made a grim fight against fire here early Friday morning and lost.

Dean, 3, Walter, 4, and Raymond, 7, are dead and their mother, Mrs. J. P. Laxson, is probably fatally burned, following her heroic attempt to save two older boys from injury, when a fire of unknown origin destroyed their home. The flames spread so rapidly that after carrying the two older children to the roof of the porch, Mrs. Laxson was unable to return for the baby Dean and he perished.

The mother and the two older children were discovered huddled together on the porch roof by Al Blaw, an auto mechanic. Flames were shooting all around them. Blaw begged the woman to jump but she refused when her babies expressed fear. Finally he persuaded the boys to leap from the burning roof into his arms.

As the mother dove her car up to the porch and pleaded with Mrs. Laxson to jump down on the auto top. But this she also refused to do. Then he found a plank and placed it against the roof and she slid to the ground.

The injured were rushed to a hospital but the boys were so badly burned that doctors expressed no hope for them. Raymond died at 3:15 o'clock Friday afternoon and 10 minutes later attendants announced that the grim reaper also claimed his brother.

The mother, attending physicians said, has slight chances for recovery. It was thought that in her attempt to enter the house and rescue the youngest child she inhaled much smoke and her lungs are seriously affected. Her hair was burned from her head.

Poison in Olives Blamed for Death Of Four Persons

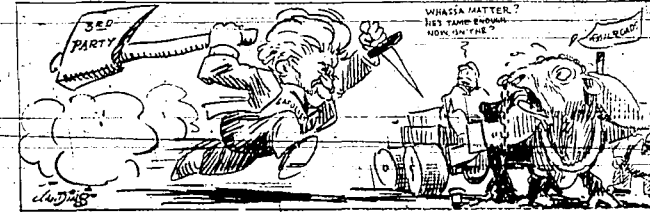

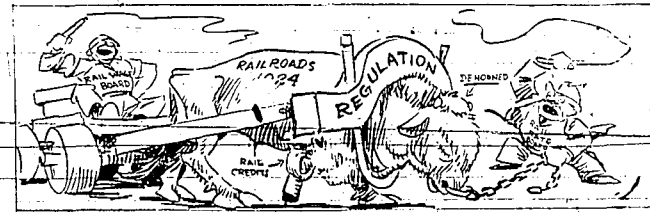

Call Is Sent Out for Airplane Delivery of Serum to Save Survivors.

BILLINGS, Mont., July 11 (AP)—Symptoms of botulism poisoning have developed in two of the three survivors of the party of seven stricken at Cody, Wyo., a summer resort, Tuesday evening, after eating among other food, some imported ripe olives, physicians said here tonight.

They were Tolbert N. De Richardson Jr. of Germantown, Pa., whose brother, Thomas Peter, died at a hospital here today, and Miss Eugenia Jones of Cody, who is being treated at the hospital here today. The others, including his sister, Sara Ellen, who has shown symptoms, still are at a local hotel under observation.

Massive orders have been sent to Kansas City for a supply of a serum that combats botulism. Dr. A. J. Mo-vius has asked that it be speeded here by airplane.

Thomas Peter De Richardson, the fourth victim, died about noon. His condition appeared to be hopeless last night, it was believed, but it was realized this morning that death would be the probable outcome of his illness and his brother and sister were sent for. The young man was 23 years old and was a junior at Yale university.

PARTY CHIEFS PAY RESPECTS TO CANDIDATE

McAdoo, Smith and Hull Among Numerous Callers Received by Democratic Nominee Before Leaving New York.

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—Before leaving tonight for what he hoped would be a quiet week-end at his country house at Locust Valley, Long Island, John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, put in a busy day receiving a continuous procession of callers among them, William G. McAdoo, Governor (Smith and Cordell Hull, chairman of the democratic national committee.

After an hour's conference alone with Mr. Davis, Mr. McAdoo said he had called simply to pay his respects to the nominee, whom he had known for years, when asked whether he would support Mr. Davis and Bryan, the Californian replied: "I'll deal with that question in a statement that I shall issue before I sail for Europe tomorrow if I can find time to prepare it."

Rockwell Pledges Support
Simultaneous with Mr. McAdoo's call at the house of Frank L. Polk, where Mr. Davis spent the day, David Rockwell, who had charge of Mr. McAdoo's campaign for the nomination, made a call on the latter. Mr. Rockwell pledged his support and asserted that no candidate ever had had a clearer title to the nomination than Mr. Davis. Mr. Rockwell told correspondents that it was impossible to him that Mr. McAdoo should decline to give his support to his successful rival.

Though Mr. Davis discussed party organization, especially the selection of a national chairman and campaign manager with Mr. Hull and George White, who had charge of the Cox campaign in 1920, he reached no decision as to the choice of a democratic field marshal for the forthcoming campaign.

Hull to Quit Chairmanship.
Mr. Hull said after his visit to the nominee that he would not continue as national chairman after the opening of the campaign, and Mr. White said he thought it very unlikely that he would again take charge. "Clem, mayor of Baltimore, W. Va., an old friend of the family who, by reason of his being a member of the Davis campaign, had been considered a possible chairman, spent a large part of the day with Mr. Davis. The nominee so far has been receiving suggestions from these and other leaders but probably will not make a choice until next week."

Joseph Daniels, former secretary of the navy; George Brennan, Chicago leader; David Hunter Miller, a member of the legal advisory staff of the peace commission; Herbert C. Polk, New York state chairman; Hollis Randolph, chairman of the congressional delegation; John S. Cohen, John B. Cotton, a son of Mr. McAdoo's law partner, were others who paid more than perfunctory visits to Mr. Davis.

Davis T'anna Vacation.
After selecting a national chairman and arranging for the certification ceremony, Mr. Davis hopes to be able to turn the machinery of party affairs over to his manager long enough to take a vacation of perhaps two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson today invited Mr. and Mrs. Davis to visit them at their summer home at Islesboro, Maine, for the interim and the nominee will accept if he can clear up organization problems by the end of next week.

When the Davis motor car drew up amid the hedges, trees and flower gardens of his Long Island home tonight, the nominee stepped out, looking to associate chiefly with golf sticks and books for a couple of days.

NEW IMMIGRATION RULE
PINCHES 75,000 BRITONS
Holders of Steamship Tickets Thrown into Distress Because of Additional Requirements for admittance.
LONDON, July 11 (AP)—The new American immigration regulations came effective Thursday, much to the distress of 75,000 British subjects who had bought steamship tickets, and to the financial disappointment of steamship companies which had sold average space to that number of passengers.

RUSSIAN SOVIET CHIEFS WANT MERCHANT MARINE

Trotzky and Associates Urge Development of Shipping to Handle Growing Exports and Form Naval Reserve

MOSCOW, July 11 (AP)—Minister of War Leon Trotsky, commissar Leonid Krasin and other soviet officials, at a great public gathering last night, urged Russia to create her own merchant marine to take care of the country's growing exports, avoid dependence of foreign owned vessels, strengthen the red navy in time of war and secure lower freight charges. Trotsky who in spite of his recent defeat within the party councils, seems to retain a firm hold on the masses, received a tumultuous reception. Although looking careworn, the popular head of the red army spoke with his old-time fire and vigor. He declared that Russia is the real naval power, 39,000 of 53,000 blunders of her frontiers consisting of coast lines.

"My desire to see Russia build up her own ocean tonnage," he said, "is prompted by the existence of a monopoly in foreign trade which this nation holds. This is faced by another monopoly in the form of foreign maritime transport. The time may come when Russia will be threatened with a coalition of the owners of foreign vessels, against Russia's monopoly of foreign trade."

"As this monopoly is one of the bulwarks of the soviet state I am sure the government will not depart from its avowed policy of controlling the country's overseas trade. We must, and shall, therefore, construct an all Russian merchant marine."

NEGRO'S HEAD STOPS BULLET WIFE FIRES IN "PLAYFUL MOOD"

Focastello Colored Man Accused to Charge in Attitude When Pellet Is Removed.

SATL LAKE, July 11 (AP)—"Dat bullet he did laht heavy on mah head," ruminated Alvin King, negro, after surgeons had removed a 20-caliber musketeer bullet from his forehead where it had lodged after being shot by his wife here today in what he termed "one of her playful moods."

"We was jes' havin' a little argument when Myrtle became extraordinary playful and fired up on me," King told the police.

"Ah has a slight headache, but it mos' probably is due to the change in attitude between the couple, which was formerly lived, and Satl Lake, where we resides now."

King gallantly refused to sign a complaint against the erring spouse and the case was dropped. The case told the police that an important engagement to play baseball and was leaving town with his team immediately.

MADISON-SQUARE-GARDEN BECOMES SWIMMING POOL

Scene of Historic Convention Undergoes Transformation for Summer; Has Only Short Lease on Existence

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—A great gawped in the floor of Madison Square Garden today—a pit that had blue walls and that Saturday will be filled with clear cool water. The garden was undergoing a transformation that will change it from a convention hall into a gigantic swimming pool where 14,000 or more persons may be accommodated in a day. It will remain that way until Labor day. Then other things will take place. Then other things will take place. Then other things will take place.

MARCONI PREDICTS ERA OF CHEAPER WIRELESS

Inventor Tells of Experiments Showing Attainment of Better Results With Use of Less Power.

ROME, July 11 (AP)—William Marconi, inventor of wireless, today described before an audience in the historic capitol the bill the recent achievements in wireless, especially the new system patented by the Marconi engineer Frankia and predicted an era of cheaper wireless communication. Mr. Marconi told of experiments with his new system under the new system had given better results than with 200 kilowatts power under the old system. It was possible, he added, to communicate between England and St. Vincent, Cape Verde, with stations of one kilowatt power.

The related experiments which had been made in communicating between England and America with waves nine to ten metres in length instead of those of thousands of metres, as usually used. Mr. Marconi recalled the experiments made last month between Egypt and Argentina which he said would render possible the transmission of cheap but efficient stations.

Farmer Uses Fumes of Tractor Exhaust to Combat Gophers

Sends Deadly Gases Through Tunnels and Exterminates Animal Pest in Fields.

SALEM, Ore., July 11 (AP)—Several colonies of gophers were exterminated by Fred Kurtz, farmer, who lives near here, when he sent the gas fumes from the exhaust of his tractor through the runways of the gophers.

Mr. Kurtz said the fumes penetrated the small tunnels in the ground and that he saw the smoke coming out as far as 100 yards away. He declared that a few days later the vegetation showed no more signs of being gnawed by the gophers and that no more new tunnels had appeared on his farm.

The method of killing the pests is not new but very few farmers use it, Kurtz declares.

STATE TREASURER TO AGAIN SEEK OFFICE

D. F. Banks Announces Candidacy on Republican Ticket in Home Town of Caldwell; There Four Years.

State Treasurer D. F. Banks has announced his candidacy to succeed himself, according to word received in Twin Falls. Captain Banks formally announced his candidacy last week while visiting in his home city of Caldwell and is understood to have made the announcement after many friends had urged him to accept another term.

During his term of office beginning in January, 1921, he has done much, his friends say, toward putting the state on a sound financial basis. Captain Banks is a former service man, having been in command of Company G, Second Idaho Infantry, in 1916 on the Mexican border and he served in the world war in France with the 14th field artillery, of which the Twin Falls national guard unit at that time was a part.

In January of 1919 when the state department of finance was first organized under Commissioner Guy E. Hoover, Mr. Banks was one of his chief assistants and gained considerable valuable experience at that time. In 1920 Mr. Banks was made commissioner of finance and remained in charge of that work until taking office as state treasurer.

For the past 18 months of this biennium, Mr. Banks has been working for the corresponding period of the last biennium, figures show. The appropriation for 1921-22 was $29,957 while that for the 1923-24 period was $28,020.

POLICEMAN'S BULLET KILLS MAN STRIPPING AUTOMOBILE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 11 (AP)—Henry Christanson, 41, of Castle Rock, Colo., died in a hospital here last night of wounds received when he was shot by a member of the police guard. According to the police, Christanson was stripping accessories from a stolen automobile and attempted to flee after a command to surrender.

TOURIST PARK NOTES

George Miller and family, and Mrs. Miller's sisters, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Ada Davis, from Vancouver, B. C., are going to Cedarvale, Ohio, to visit the ladies' mother W. H. Davis, whom they have not seen for 32 years. Mr. Miller is an engineer on one of the Pacific coast boats that run between Vancouver and Chinese and Japanese ports. He gets ten days layoff every two months, but this time he expects to take a regular vacation and see something of the United States. They will go to California over the southern route.

Toodles, the dog that figured largely in a kidnapping and rather a pupanap case last August, is again the victim. He has been stolen again and is supposed to be somewhere in California. Mr. Egli and family from Grand Junction were our guests for several days last year, and while here they were notified to look out for Toodles, as they had reason to believe that he was coming this way. He arrived in a Boston, Mass., car, and was immediately claimed by Mr. Egli and was shipped back to Iowa. After a stay of nearly a year in southern California, the Egli family are going back home.

R. W. Russell and son are enroute from Baker, Ore., to Yellowstone Park. P. H. Deede and friend from Oakland, Cal., are going to North Dakota. O. A. Crowder from Reno, Nev., was a late arrival Thursday night, and left for Yellowstone Friday morning.

Ira T. Keoghe and party from Chapman, Kansas, came by way of Salt Lake City, and are going to Nampa. Wm. Mosier and family came through the park from Casper, Wyo., and left for Portland.

L. O. Brown and party from St. Joseph, Mo., are out for a vacation. They have visited all of the sights along the way, including the geysers, and are now going to the coast. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Varner are returning to Grand Junction, Iowa, from an extended trip along the coast.

R. H. Fisher and three friends from Reno, Nev., came from Jarbridge, and departed for somewhere north. W. Wyllie and family are making their way from Tacoma, Wash., to Ohio. J. L. Powers from Cutbank, Mont., is here.

R. C. Sedell and family from Duluth, Minn., are taking in the sights of this section, with Portland as their destination. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hubbard are going to American Falls from Placerville, Cal.

J. E. Woodmore and family from Medicine Lodge, Kan., are going to try the climate of California. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lake and three children have been feeding the little bears in Uncle Sam's big park and are going to swell the population of California.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Perry from Washington, D. C., are enroute to Los Angeles. Of course they came through. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Wright from Bangor, Maine, are going to Los Angeles. For a wonder they did not come through the big playground.

Mr. A. Noffsinger and family from Crystal, Mich., left for Portland Friday morning. Clyde Shinnery and family from Lansing, Mich., came from McCammon, Idaho, and departed for Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Engh from Puyallup, Wash., are going to try trout fishing in Yellowstone park. Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hollibaugh are trucking from Ogden, Utah, to Portland.

C. W. Biggs and party from Tacoma, Wash., came from Mountain Home, and after a short stay, departed for Oregon. Mr. A. Thompson and family from International Falls, Minn., have made the usual pilgrimage and are now enroute to Portland.

Mine in Sweden Has Been Worked for Over 700 Years

"The oldest company in the world is that which owns the Falun Mine in Sweden. This mine has been worked for 700 years without a break and has never changed hands. The company is called the Stora Kopparbergs Bergslags Aktiebolag, and there is evidence that it was mining copper in the year 1225."

In these 700 years the Falun mine has yielded over a ton of gold, 16 tons of silver, and about half a million tons of copper. Now it produces 30,000 tons of iron pyrites every year. The mine is a huge hole in the ground, nearly a quarter of a mile long, half that distance across, and some 200 feet deep.

Men dig for iron pyrites 1,000 feet below the level and there are 18 miles of galleries containing nearly 3,000 separate chambers. A descent into these depths is a strange and rather terrifying experience. First the visitor must don heavy black serge overalls and a wide-brimmed black hat. He is given an acetylene torch shaped something like a kettle.

The visitor makes his way down a path of duckboards. The air grows colder and colder, and at the end of ten minutes he must walk warily in case he slips on the ice. The galleries are fearsome places with holes 800 feet deep, into which the visitor might fall if it were not for the red flares burnt by the guides.

THE GUMPS—THE SECRET PLAN

MANY CAMPS AT WORK ON ROAD

Contact Man Says Trains Will Be Whistling in by Nov. 1; Mining Companies Busy.

"Trains will be whistling in by November 1, next," according to word received from H. H. Hyde, chairman of the publicity committee of the Contact Commercial club, in a letter to the editor of the Twin Falls News. "They have a big camp here working on the line and are laying off the grounds for the depot and trackage," he continues.

"There are some 15 camps strung all along the line from Rogers to Wells with at least 20 miles of the leveler stretches already graded at various points along the line. "The Gray Mining company has started up operations on their big tunnel that is to run back four and a half miles, paralleling the contact. The Nevada Bellvue company, better known as the Delano group, announce that they will start operations immediately to complete their 1000-foot tunnel by the time trains are running into Contact. This mine has some $6,700,000 worth of ore blocked out on the dump and is the best-developed mine we have."

"The Oro-Copper company announce they are starting up on their properties on Middlestack and the same goes for the time trains are running into Contact. This mine has some $6,700,000 worth of ore blocked out on the dump and is the best-developed mine we have."

"One new store building and one garage building are now under erection in Contact. This is in addition to some half dozen stores, many cottages and the new 50-room hotel building, built during the past four months. "This district has been visited by several mining men the past three weeks and several deals are under way that will mean a large amount of development work and consequently a good sized payroll soon."

Fine Architecture in Picturesque Old City

On the bumpy, incredibly leisurely line from Charles to Bowen is the city of Dreux, by no means unknown to architects, and quite deserving of a visit from them. It only for its old houses and its four notable "monumenta historiqua," says a writer in Scribner's Magazine. Of these latter, the superb beffry of the old hotel de ville stands forth as one of the finest in France. From the east its well proportioned profile in its harmony with the simplicity of that facade, and from the west, towering up at the end of the Grande Rue, there is just that wise choice of ornament to endow it with a restrained richness and a sense of excellent taste. The Gothic tracery patterns are especially free and lovely.

A good snail's journey away is the yellow stone form of the Eglise St. Pierre, a product of those interesting periods when the late Gothic and the early Renaissance arts were mingling together. One of the towers is complete, very clear cut and fine, while the other for some reason was stopped abruptly, and remains untouched and undorned, presenting a strange outline of unfinished piers against the sky.

Of an entirely different character is the Echo des Reubes Pillon, alias the Tribunal of Commerce, alias the Hotel de Dieu, a sixteenth century block of stone and brick, capped by a huge blue slate roof and sporting a certain last-civilized-civil window. The simplicity of its mass is very splendid; but this seems insufficient to attract any "ohs" or "ahs" from passing tourists.

"Shirt of Nessus" Told in Old Fable

"The shirt of Nessus" is a phrase used to describe the torture of remorse. According to one version of an ancient legend it was a gorgeous, gold-bedecked garment given to the wife of Hercules by a centaur who hated him. With it he gave the advice that if ever she found her husband's affection waning she should persuade him to don the shirt, when his love for her would return.

Years passed, and Hercules, after the fickle fashion of mythical heroes, grew tired of his wife. She thereupon thought herself of the centaur's gift, which she begged her husband to wear, says London Tit-Bits. He put it on, only to find that it burned and tortured him, and finally caused his death, for he built a great funeral pyre, laid himself upon it and bribed a friend to fire it rather than endure the torments of the shirt, which clung to his body and could not be removed.

A centaur was a legendary creature with the body of a horse and the arms and head of a man. Therefore if we say of a horseman that he sits his horse like a centaur we mean that he rides so perfectly that he and the animal seem to be one.

Indiana's Steam Bath

The steam bath has been used by the Sioux and other Indians of the Northwest for generations. The framework of the bath closet is made of lumber willow sticks, over which are thrown blankets and skins anchored with heavy stones.

In a hole in the center of the bath are white-hot stones, on which the bather splashes cold water to make steam. Periodically he drinks cold water to induce perspiration. In the meantime the bather lathers his body with a bundle of tightly-bound straw. After thirty minutes of this he runs to a stream and plunges into the cold water. For soap the Indian uses fine mud at the bottom of the stream. A twenty-minute sunning completes the semi-weekly bath, says Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance in the Mentor magazine.

RESERVE BOARD SEES REDUCED PRICES COMING

Decrease in Industrial and Trade Activity Marks Business Readjustment; Call for Credit Lessens.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP)—An important readjustment of business conditions characterized by decreased industrial and trade activity and lower prices was declared by the federal reserve board tonight to be under way throughout the United States.

The board called attention to reduced earnings by industrial works with consequent calls for less in their buying power and sharp decreases in production.

The lowered prices have carried to every commodity except food which remains almost unchanged.

"The considerable expansion of production during the early months of 1924," the board said, "was followed by important curtailment in certain industries in response to a lessened volume of current purchases and a hesitancy on the part of manufacturers in placing forward orders. In fact, there has been in recent months a larger decrease in production than in the corresponding months of the year, and in consequence stocks of these commodities have been reduced.

Money Market Easy.

"The recession in business activity has been accompanied since April by a decreased demand for credit for commercial purposes, and this together with the continued inflow of gold imports has brought about an unusual ease in the money market. The decrease in the volume of commercial borrowing, however, has been less than the additional purchases of investments of commercial banks so that the total of member bank credits in use is not only larger than at the beginning of the year, but larger than any previous period."

In connection with the credit situation the board said that the earning assets of the 12 federal reserve banks was lower at the beginning of this month than at any time for six years. There were approximately $225,000,000 below the figure of the same date last year. The declines in earning assets have been general in all banks, but have been particularly large in the New York banks.

Practically all important industries showed decreased employment in the last two months as compared with a year ago.

Biggest Payroll Cuts.

The largest reductions in payrolls were reported in the automobile, iron and steel and women's clothing businesses.

The reduced earnings of factory and other industrial workers were reflected in smaller department store sales. Mail order houses also showed smaller movements from their shelves during May and early June.

Prices of commodities at wholesale dropped more than a full per cent average in May, and a great drop appeared in prospect for June, complete returns for which are not yet available. The general level with the exception of food prices for May, the best reported, was 6 per cent below the level of May, 1923.

Compared with a year ago, the report added, the sharpest price decreases were in building materials, house furnishings and metals. Prices of farm commodities and foods, which did not advance in early 1923, when most other groups showed increases, suffered much smaller declines.

policy of this country must be one of dual purpose—to put agriculture on a basis parallel with industry.

Although the McNary-Haugen export corporation bill was defeated in the last congress, its purposes continued with renewed strength, according to A. Sykes of Ida Grove, Iowa.

Great Fight in Progress.

"The greatest fight ever inaugurated in behalf of the farm legislation is now being made and it will continue to a glorious finish," he asserted.

An equalization of prices for farm products, protective tariff for all produce without discrimination and a strong agricultural federation were advised by Gilbert N. Haugen, representative in congress from Iowa and co-author of the McNary-Haugen bill.

"If it is necessary that we always have high taxes and high transportation, let us also give the producers of the country's food the protection which industry and commerce now enjoys," he said.

The conference, which will continue tomorrow, adopted a resolution expressing "heartfelt sympathy with the grief-stricken family of President Coolidge."

Testing Battery Polarity

A simple method of determining the polarity of a battery or cell, and at the same time roughly measuring its strength, is as follows: Dissolve 1 part of potassium iodide in 25 parts of water; place the solution in a shallow dish, soak several pieces of white blotting paper in it, then remove them and allow to dry. To test a battery, place one end of the paper and touch it with wires leading from both poles of the battery, keeping them about 1/2 in. apart. A dark-brown spot will immediately be produced where the wire from the positive pole touches the blotter. A dead cell or battery will produce no spot. A little experience in judging the rapidity with which the spot is formed, and the shade of the color produced, will soon enable one to tell the condition of the battery fairly accurately, whether it is nearly dead, half charged, or fully charged. This method is applicable to both storage batteries and dry cells, although the wires must be further apart in the case of storage batteries.

Cleaning Crystals with Alcohol

The sensitiveness of a crystal determines to a great extent the receiving range of a set. Some crystals are much better than others in this respect, but even good ones are soon spoiled by improper care. Air causes the surface of the crystal to oxidize gradually, which of course decreases its efficiency. Dust particles in the air also lodge on the surface and adhere to it. The most trouble is, however, caused by handling the crystal, as the oil on the hands and fingers, which is impenetrable to the naked eye, insulates the surface of the crystal, and for this reason crystals should never be touched. An excellent method of cleaning crystals, which will in many cases restore the original sensitiveness, is to give them a bath in alcohol, using an old toothbrush to scrub them.

Salt Is Tougher than Steel

Strands of wire made from ordinary rock salt by a Russian chemist are reported to be tougher than those of steel. The inventor expects the process to aid in hardening and strengthening common metals, and believes that the treatment, if applied to other minerals may result in materials that would permit moving machinery to travel at much greater speeds. The scientist said to put new rock salt under high heat pressures, thus changing its form and increasing its flexibility and strength.

Towing Small Boats

When the stream is flowing so fast or the wind blowing so hard that it is difficult to make headway by rowing, the simple start shown in the drawing offers an easy way of towing the boat along the bank or shore. The boat line to both bow and stern, as shown. By paying out on the bow part of the line and holding in the stern line, the boat can be kept nearly parallel with the bank, while if only a bow line is used the current or wind will cause the bow to dig into the bank, making towing difficult. If a narrow creek is encountered, its mouth can be crossed by the method as follows: Let out the bow and haul in the stern; this will cause the boat to lie close against the mouth. Fasten the towline to an oar pushed slantingly (toward the water) into the bank. After walking across the creek in the boat, the oar is pulled out, which can readily be done on account of the slant at which it is placed.

SECRETARY HUGHES ON WAY TO BAR MEETING

Head of Department of State to Be Guest of French Barriers Before Proceeding to London.

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP)—Secretary Hughes will spend at least two days in Paris during his trip to England and the continent, which will begin tomorrow. Definite decision to include this visit in his itinerary as the guest of the French bar, was announced today. He will be absent from Washington about one month.

Coming from New York on the Boregon, with the American Bar association's delegation to the international meeting of lawyers, the secretary plans to remain in London from July 21 to 28. It was denied there was any present prospect that he would continue to Berlin before returning to Washington about August 15.

Also the premier conference opening in London about the time of his arrival, however, some observers considered it possible that the intimate connection between the subject of the reparations under discussion there and certain details of the German-American treaty might occasion passing attention of the secretary.

It was officially announced that Mr. Hughes did not contemplate taking any official part in the London discussions or in any other diplomatic conversations which might ensue.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT PLAYS GOLF

Davis' Score Not One to Be Envyed by Many Duffers, But Drives to Perfection for Links.

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—If the democratic nominee is elected there will be another golfer in the White House. Wilson and Harding played, but Coolidge does not.

Thousand of duffers won't envy John W. Davis' score. He's happy when he breaks a hundred on the Piping Rock course near Locust Valley.

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor is convalescing satisfactorily at a Coney Island hotel, it was announced today by his physician, Dr. Julius Auerbach.

While a nurse is in attendance, Mr. Gompers is not confined to his bed. Dr. Auerbach said Mr. Gompers suffered a nervous breakdown due to overwork in connection with the democratic convention. "He overstrained himself both mentally and physically," said Dr. Auerbach. "He went to work during the convention like a man of fifty years, instead of one of 74. There is no danger if he will take care of himself."

BUILDING AND LOAN COMPANY ON FEET AGAIN

Subscriptions to Stock Beginning to Come in Again Following Six Months' Trouble From Embezzlement.

During the last few days payment has been resumed on stock in the Mutual Building and Loan association of Twin Falls and new subscriptions of stock are beginning to come in, according to James H. Hall, secretary of the association, in announcing upon a report of the directors of the organization made on June 30, 1924.

"Six months ago it was our duty to advise you that we had sustained a considerable loss through the embezzlement of our funds by trusted and respected employees," says the bulletin, "and we are now able to report that the greater part of this loss has been recovered and that we are now entering upon a period of healthy growth upon the foundation of our present splendid membership.

The condition of our loans is excellent. Collections have been generally satisfactory and there is now a substantially low percentage of delinquency. In spite of the heavy expense connected with the adjustment of the problems of the past six months, we are able to report net earnings of $5,922.80, which are being credited to dividends and reserve.

Every dollar received from our stockholders of last year, which was in 1924 will earn at least 4 per cent, which will be credited to the stock.

"Six months ago we faced a deficit, due to the embezzlement of over $18,000. Of this amount we have recovered about one-half. The earnings of the next six months will restore the balance, so that by the end of the year the entire loss will have been wiped out."

The directors themselves have been in management during the last six months, says the bulletin, and for the present at least this arrangement will continue. The board feels the necessity of the strictest control and will act accordingly. A change has been made in the accounting methods at the suggestion of the state commissioner of finance and a change made in the by-laws. The change in the by-laws effects the manner of withdrawals and of dividends to the best interests of the stockholders.

FINCH RESIGNS FROM BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Resignation Accepted and E. A. Walters Named as Successor on Mutual's Committee.

E. J. Finch, one of the directors of the Mutual Building and Loan association of Twin Falls, resigned at a meeting of the board of directors held Friday evening, and Judge E. A. Walters, a large stockholder, was elected to fill his place. Mr. Finch's resignation as a director has been in the hands of the board for the last month or six weeks and was accepted at the meeting held Friday evening.

Mr. Finch in handing in his resignation, declared that he believed a larger stockholder should have the position he held and for that reason he asked to be relieved of his duties. He will retain his stock in the company. In addition to the resignation of Mr. Finch and the election of Judge Walters, the board discussed the future policy of the association. Officers of the company as they now stand are: O. J. Johnson, president; P. E. Chamberlain, vice president; H. N. Gentry, secretary; C. C. Hazel, W. H. Parley, Floyd Norman, George H. Caldwell and E. A. Moon.

"40 AND 8" MEMBERS LEAVE FOR CEREMONY

More than 20 members of the Twin Falls county 40 and 8 veterans of this city will leave this morning for Bailey where they will attend a celebration and initiation to be held there this afternoon and evening. Plans have been made for the attendance of members of the veterans from a number of cities in southern Idaho and it is understood that more than 100 will be present. Initiation plans call for the introduction of 25 into the order, which is a branch of the American Legion. A banquet is planned this evening at the Hiawatha hotel, where the members will make their headquarters. Among those who leave this morning for the meeting are William Wall, Charles Austin, A. J. Myers, C. A. Bailey, R. P. Barry, Dr. E. E. Smock, W. D. Howell, Charles W. Wise, William Loken, H. J. Bonell, W. D. Gilla, P. R. Tabor, Fay Rogers, Leonard Avant, E. E. Ostrander, M. G. Hatley and A. Dorman Johnson.

DELEGATE TELLS OF CONVENTION

Dr. W. F. Pike Says Davis and Bryan Best Men Party Could Have Named.

Nomination of Davis and Bryan as democratic candidates for president and vice president are probably the best selections the convention could have made, in the opinion of Dr. W. F. Pike, who arrived home Friday noon from New York, where he took part in the convention as one of the 16 delegates from Idaho. The selection of these two men, said Dr. Pike in an interview Friday evening, was a great piece of political strategy. Davis will carry the east because he was the choice of the Smith men when they saw that Governor Smith could not be nominated. Bryan will carry the west and the south because he is well known and liked and because the McAdoo followers are for him.

Perhaps no other two candidates could have been selected who would make such a combination unless it was Davis and Walsh, said Dr. Pike. Davis, in his opinion, was nominated as the result of an understanding with the Smith men who wanted him so long as their own candidate could not be selected, but were afraid to come out openly for him for fear the McAdoo delegates would oppose him. It was for this reason that McAdoo delegates first swung to Davis and that Davis gained an impetus which could not be stopped before the Smith men came out openly for him.

Klan Comes Up—Had it not been for the part played in the convention by the Klan question the situation might have been different. McAdoo was tabulated pro-Klan regarding whether or not he was or not and Smith was tabulated as opposing the Klan, and when this condition occurred, Dr. Pike said, many saw the futility of trying to get either man over as the democratic nominee and were ready to settle upon some other man. However strong McAdoo and Smith opponents would not hear of it and as a result the break did not come until both sides were exhausted and ready to listen to reason.

On the twenty-fourth ballot, said Dr. Pike, the Idaho delegation called a conference for the purpose of swinging to some other candidate. The result of this conference, said Dr. Pike, was that five were ready to go to Davis and the remaining eleven determined to stay with McAdoo. Idaho's delegation being under the unit rule was as were most of the western states, they did not swing over until the hundred and first ballot.

Bryan's Action—When William Jennings Bryan got up on the convention floor and talked against Davis, his supporters almost gave up hope of him as a compromise candidate. Then Ralston withdrew and refused to again come back and the tide again swung to Davis. Delegates were gorgeously entertained, said Dr. Pike, by the New Yorkers. This had a good effect for Smith, which was, however, lost by the tactics used by Smith supporters in the convention hall, where their governor's name was cheered wildly each time it was brought up and the name of McAdoo either jeered and hissed or greeted without applause.

Western delegates under unit rule had a much easier time of it than did the eastern delegates because during the convention delegates under unit rule had an opportunity to get away for a while while the others had to remain as each of their votes counted. Dr. Pike has been gone approximately a month from the convention, attending a convention of the American Medical association at Chicago and did some post-graduate work before going on to the convention.

BOY SCOUT EXECUTIVE TELLS OF CABIN CAMP

Boys Having a "Good Time in Shoshone Basin Says Hawley; Now Bunch Will Leave Today.

They scouts in summer camp in Shoshone basin at the scout cabin are having an excellent time, according to P. Douglas Hawley, district scout executive of Twin Falls, who came in from the camp Thursday evening and left Friday morning. Likes, swimming, games and other entertainment is the order of the day, according to the executive, and the boys are having the time of their lives and have classified the camp this year as the best ever held.

Wednesday, said Mr. Hawley, the boys were taken to Heaven dam, where they went swimming and had an opportunity to see beaver, badgers, and deer, as well as other wild animals. Boys from Filer, Hazelton, Burley, Rupert and Twin Falls are expected to go into camp today and take places for those who are returning. Plans for the coming week call for an overnight hike to Goose creek. This hike will be held Monday and Tuesday probably, he said.

During the afternoons in camp baseball games are played and a series of such games are planned. Scout golf is also being played. Plans are made for holding a negro minstrel show this evening while Sunday will be occupied with an archery tournament. The boys, the scout executive said, are sleeping two to a tent. There are 39 tents and the boys are getting excellent food. An exceptionally good cook has been obtained for the camp.

New campers will leave this afternoon following the arrival of the noon train. Boys may appear at the depot and arrangements will be made for taking care of them.

Mail to and from camp is received at least twice a week. All of the boys are well and having a good time, the executive said.

BENCH WARRANT ISSUED FOR WALLICK'S ARREST

Five to Ten Year Sentence Against Man Wanted Here for Wife-Desecration; Held at Kato, Wash.

Virgil Wallick, held at Kato, Wash., for Twin Falls county officers, must face two charges upon his return here. One for wife desecration and also for violating his parole. A bench warrant was issued Friday by Judge T. Bailey Lee calling for the arrest of Wallick for violating the terms of a parole granted him by Judge Babcock some time ago on a statutory charge.

Wallick was sentenced to serve from 5 to 10 years for a statutory offense and the sentence was then suspended and Wallick paroled to the sheriff of Twin Falls county with the understanding that Wallick would take up a permanent abode and support his wife and child. He failed to comply with these terms, according to papers filed by Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor calling for his arrest, and will probably be sent to the state prison to serve out the term.

Wallick was arrested by Sheriff J. W. Taylor at Kato, Wash., after Virgil Wallick, wanted here on a wife desecration charge, is expected to return with his prisoner Monday, it was announced at the sheriff's office.

SPORTSMEN TO MEET ON GROUSE QUESTION

State Game Department Says Sage Hen and Grouse in Danger of Being Entirely Killed Off.

Members of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce rooms for the purpose of discussing whether or not the season should be closed in southern Idaho on sagehens and grouse. A circular letter to gun clubs and sportsmen's associations sent out by the state game warden, E. E. Adams, asks that this matter be given serious consideration.

According to the letter, the birds are in danger of being almost wiped out if the season is not closed for this year at least. Last year, says the letter, drastic weather conditions caused the death of many of these game birds and this year they are again coming back into their own. Due to the shortage of water and the small amount of territory yet open in which they may be hunted this year, the damage from hunting will be great.

The department wants the sportsmen give their attention and sanction the closing of sagehen and grouse hunting this year. The meeting Tuesday evening is open to the public which is invited.

state manager for the Central States Life Insurance company of St. Louis with headquarters in this city, left Friday evening for Salt Lake, where he will confer with company officials who are passing through on their way to attend a conference of underwriters to be held in California.

Want Crop Statistics—A letter from the United States department of labor has been received by the Twin Falls county commissioners asking for data as to condition of crops, the amount of agricultural products that will be harvested and of the prevailing wage scale for various classes of farm help. The commissioners will attempt to obtain this information for the federal farm bureau.

Appeals to Supreme Court—An appeal from judgment rendered the plaintiff by District Judge Babcock will be taken to the supreme court, attorneys for the Idaho Lettuce company filed notice in the county clerk's office Friday. Judgment was awarded plaintiff L. F. Walker June 13, 1924, and the defendant appeals on the denial of the motion for new trial made by the defendant.
