W. H. Conner Wounded Five Times in Gun Fight at Frisco With Police; Has Record in This County.

Bill O'Connors, alias W. H. Conner, known to Twin Falls citizens of 12 and 14 years ago and to the police here, who arrested him on several occasions as the outcome of brawls, lies in a San Francisco hospital with five bullet wounds in his body as the result of a gun fight with police officers there, according to advices received here Saturday. His arrest in San Francisco followed a nationwide search for him in connection with several big robberies.

Conner, as he was known here and in Idaho mining circles, is wanted at Los Angeles, a suspect in connection with the robbery of the Provident Loan association on February 9, 1924, at which time a large amount of jewelry and valuables were taken. He was also wanted at Salt Lake, where records of the police department show he was arrested by detectives on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the American Smelting and Mining company when he "salted" a quantity of ore. He was released on $2500 bond and made his escape. He has been a fugitive from justice since that time.

Record Here Recalled.

In Twin Falls 12 years ago Conner while drunk got into a fight with a policeman whom he overpowered. A call was sent to the sheriff's office and Phil Herriman, now chief of police, arrested the case. The disturbance happened at a local hotel and Chief of Police Herriman upon reaching there found Conner. He immediately placed him under arrest and a struggle ensued. Chief Herriman managed to get the handcuffs on Conner and while they were waiting to take him, Conner broke Chief Herriman's arm.

Charges of disturbing the peace were preferred against Conner by the chief of police and he was fined on that charge. Then the policeman whom he had beaten filed charges of resisting an

Farm Leaders Conference Lines Up Drive for McNary-Haugen Bill; Puts Off Expansion.

ST. PAUL, July 12 (AP)—After forming a permanent organization to represent to congress the McNary-Haugen bill and to further promote the interests of the American farmer, the National Agricultural Relief congress in session since Friday, adjourned late today.

The resolutions as passed at the closing session comprise chiefly the two main issues mentioned in the original call—renewed support of the McNary-Haugen bill and a centralized national farm group.

Efforts to broaden the scope of the organization at present were branded on the floor as "premature." The convention voted to table a motion presented by James Mannahan of St. Paul, representing the Farmers Cooperative exchange, which called for specific legislation demanding reduction of freight rates.

It was the consensus of opinion as expressed on the convention floor that the great importance attached to promoting the principle of the McNary-Haugen bill and that if the farmer gains that he will have at least paved the way for permanent congressional recognition.

The congress created the American council of agriculture to secure enactment by congress of legislation on behalf of the principles of the McNary-Haugen bill and thus secure for American agriculture equality with industry and labor.

George N. Peck of Moline, Ill., representing the Rock Island farm bureau, was elected president of the council by acclamation when Frank W. Murphy of Wheaton, Minn., refused to run in opposition to the Illinois man.

BREAK RECORD FOR SUSTAINED FLYING WITH NAVAL PLANE
WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—The record for remaining aloft in a seaplane was broken here today by Lieutenant W. F. Wood and John D. Price, who landed after piloting a naval plane for 15 hours and 15 minutes. They took to the air late yesterday. The former record, made by them, was 13 hours and 20 minutes.

Government Forces Refuse Offer to Come to Terms With Brazilian Revolutionists.

RIO JANEIRO, July 12 (AP)—The Sao Paulo revolutionists, according to an official bulletin issued by the government today sent a representative with an offer to come to terms, but the chief of the division engaged in putting down the insurrection refused the offer.

"The spirit of our troops is magnificent," the official bulletin says, "and any unconditional surrender of the insurrectionists will be considered."

Another communique issued by the government this afternoon said: "The military operations against the Sao Paulo revolutionists continue with our troops obtaining advantages which restrict the defense of the rebels. It is evident they are employing the final resources at their disposal. The situation is clearly favorable for our troops, whose superiority is evident at all points."

An earlier communique, describing yesterday's operations, said: "Our advance, which started yesterday morning, continued through the day with our artillery disturbing the enemy."

K. K. K. BRAND ON BACK
OF VICTIM OF AMNESIA

Michigan Minister in Hospital Dazed by Experiences of Past 11 Days of Which He Remembers Nothing.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 12 (AP)—The Rev. Owen Van Loon, Methodist pastor of the Community church at Berkley, a Detroit suburb, lies in a hospital here tonight still dazed from experiences suffered during the 11 days he has been missing from his home and still unaware of the "K. K. K." branded in letters two inches high between his shoulder blades.

He talked at intervals during the day with his wife, whom he recognized, but was unable to recall anything that has happened since he left home, a small bag in his hand, to catch an interurban car for Flint, Mich. The bag, its contents undisturbed, was found beside him where he had collapsed on a street corner yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Van Loon said tonight that her husband had not expressed hostility to the Ku Klux Klan and she was unable to explain why the three K's had been seared into his back. The Rev. Van Loon, she said, at one time had offered the use of his church as gathering place for the organization. It was said, however, by friends of the Berkley pastor, that he had on occasions denounced the burning of fiery crosses.

Police admitted having made no progress in their attempt to trace the pastor's whereabouts since the day of his disappearance.

DEBS DECLARES J. W. DAVIS
NEVER WAS HIS ATTORNEY

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Eugene V. Debs today telegraphed socialist party leaders that John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, had never defended him nor tendered legal services in his behalf.

"The truth is that I never saw Mr. Davis or had any dealings with him whatever," the message added.

Mr. Debs is taking a rest cure in a Chicago hospital. The telegram was occasioned by newspaper reports.

Chancellor Expresses Desire to Reach Honorable Agreement With Former Enemies; Sees Hopes Endangered.

BERLIN, July 12 (AP)—Chancellor Marx, in a statement to the newspaper representatives today declared that the hopes entertained by Germany regarding the export report, had given way to anxiety and apprehension. He remarked that the German government had without delay rushed forward the preliminary needed for fulfillment of the reports. The chancellor criticized M. Poincare's latest speech and declared that the spirit with which the Germans were actuated towards the report was one of frank and honorable understanding and plain speaking—a spirit which was resolved to restore not only Germany, but the whole of Europe.

Claims German Partnership.

"The London conference," said the chancellor, "ought to bring Germany nearer to the realization of this aim but many of our hopes seem to be threatened in consequence of the agreement between Premier Herriot and MacDonald in Paris. If the great spirit with which we hope to carry out the experts' report is to become an accomplished fact the victor nations must realize that Germany, whose economic and national existence is at stake must be admitted to negotiations as a partner with equal rights."

"Germany is resolved to assume further heavy burdens imposed by the experts' report, which the British have recognized as being beyond the scope of the Versailles treaty, provided she sees an object in this sacrifice. The German people desire to fulfill the treaty and wish also that the Versailles treaty and Rhineland agreements shall again enter into force. Would begin freedom."

"We want to bring about a state of affairs enabling us to reach an honorable agreement with our former enemies. Finally, we wish to regain our national freedom and our equality with other nations. If France so strongly demands the maintenance of the Versailles treaty, she must understand that we insist upon our rights under the treaty being preserved."

Two New Blazes Break Out During Night at Rivula

Reinforcements Go From Missoula and Spokane to St. Joe Forest; Flames Near Glacier National Park.

MISSOULA, Mont., July 12 (AP)—Fire-fighting crews mobilized in Spokane and Missoula were being sent today to add their efforts to those of the men already in the field fighting several large forest fires in western Montana and northern Idaho.

Fifteen men were sent from here to Rivula last night, where two new fires broke out. Fifteen men were sent from Spokane to fight on Smith creek, in the St. Joe forest and 53 left Spokane today to fight flames in valuable timber on the St. Joe river. Seventy men are fighting a blaze at Coram, near Glacier national park.

Smoke From Forest
Fires Causes Delay
in Air Mail Service

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12 (AP)—Dense smoke arising from burning forest land in California is causing considerable inconvenience to air mail service fliers. It was revealed tonight.

Pilot Winslow, who brought the westbound plane from Reno, arriving at Crissy field at 9:42 o'clock tonight, was forced to rise to a height of 11,000 feet over the Sierras to escape the smoke clouds, he reported. He made the trip in one minute less than two hours, however, which is average flying time. The westbound mail was delayed six hours on account of a storm.

Forest Fires Continue Destruction of Timber From Canada to Southern California.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12 (AP)—Forest fires, several of them of huge dimensions and still out of control, to timber and in some instances threatening small towns along the Pacific coast from British Columbia to Southern California. Oregon was the only state which reported all of the fires within its borders nearly or completely under control. Lines had been established around most of the burning sections and no new outbreaks had been reported.

In northern Washington, two new fires had reached alarming proportions and were threatening valuable timber holdings in Skagit and Whatcom counties. In eastern Washington two fires, one on a seven-mile front west of Twin Lakes and another on a six-mile front in the Shumka creek section of Ferry county, were making headway despite opposition of a large force of fire fighters. A number of fires also were raging in eastern Washington. In the western section of the state, however, all fires

DISCLAIMS WISH OF AMERICA TO RULE TANGIERS

State Department Refuses to Join in Administration of African Zone, but Insists on Guarantee of Interests.

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Refusing to join in the administration of the Tangiers zone as contemplated in the convention signed between England, France and Spain last year, the state department has expressed to these governments the willingness of this country to cede its extra territorial rights there if American interests are adequately guaranteed.

The decision was communicated to the signatories to the convention in a note prepared by Secretary Hughes prior to his departure today for a month's vacation in England and on the continent. The attitude of this government was "sought" in a joint communication presented into May following ratification of the convention by the three governments.

Demands Specific Understanding.

Emphasizing the desire of the United States not only to co-operate but to avoid the placing of any obstacle in the way of an equitable settlement of the Tangiers problem, the note made it clear that the provisions in the tripartite agreement must be made specific before this government could give even tacit approval to them.

Maintenance of the open door, assurance of equality of economic opportunity, judicial guarantees and acceptance by the administration of responsibility for acts of the zone authorities in connection with internal claims were some of the points stressed by the state department as requiring more definite phrase.

The officials declare the policy followed in the note was the same which has governed the attitude of the United States since American interests were first identified with the zone. Adherence to an agreement affecting Morocco would be no new departure, they pointed out, since the United States was a signatory to the treaty promulgated by the Algeiras conference in 1906. It was this agreement which gave the United States and other countries the special rights now proposed to be abrogated.

MCDONALD TELLS
WHY HE RETIRED

Nominee of St. Paul Convention Gives Views on Present Political Situation.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 12 (AP)—Without specifically endorsing Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, whom he said, was regarded by many farmers as the "best" to lead the way out of the present dilemma," Duncen McDonald, nominee as farmer-labor candidate for president at the St. Paul convention, today told why he had withdrawn from the race in favor of the Wisconsin senator.

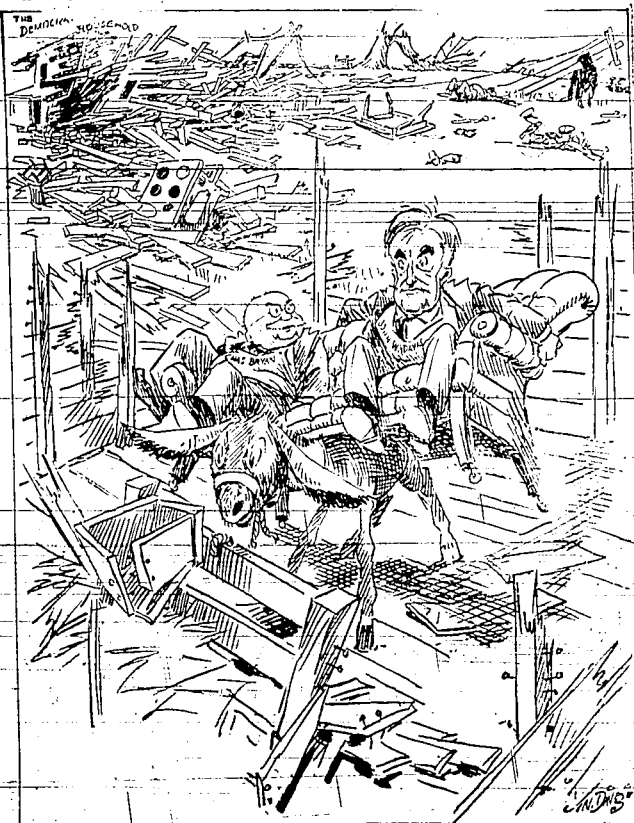

"Our meeting at St. Paul," McDonald said, "was not so much a matter of nominating candidates as the forming of an organization. In the Cleveland conference it was apparent the purpose was the opposite, for capitalizing the popularity of one man. This brought about a division particularly among the farmers, among whom LaFollette is popular and who regard him as the Moses to lead them out of the present dilemma."

Leaves Field to LaFollette.

"Had we continued in the race, there would have been a division and naturally the majority would have followed the banner of LaFollette. In this situation, the only logical thing to do was to withdraw and permit them to follow his leadership. Those who see in LaFollette an remedy for this situation have now decided to place a left wing in the field, farmers and workers, otherwise known as communists. This will permit a clear line of demarcation in which the right and left wings of the farmer labor party may give expression to their particular hobbies. "I am not in sympathy with that party movement generally. I believe, the two dominant parties, who are fostered and financed from the same source should unite their forces as there is little to distinguish them. "I do not believe the selection of women on an alleged reform ticket will bring about the solution which is desired."

McADOO SPIKES RUMOR OF BOLT FROM BOURBONS

Defeated Candidate for Nomination Contributes to Harmony with Declaration of Intention to Give Active Support.

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Several significant events occurred today to show the lightning bolt that changed the atmosphere in which John W. Davis has moved since he became the democratic presidential nominee.

Most important, perhaps, was the clear-cut statement of William G. McAdoo, who sailed for Europe with his family, that he would "give the Davis-Bryan ticket cordial support" and would take an active part in the campaign upon his return in September.

Rumors that Mr. McAdoo contemplated a bolt from the democratic party, and a campaign for the presidency as an independent candidate, thus were definitely spiked. Further evidence of party harmony which democratic leaders locally hailed with satisfaction was the report that David Ladd Rockwell, who managed Mr. McAdoo's campaign for the nomination, would not be averse to joining the managerial staff of the Davis campaign.

Heart-Hylan Coup Denied.

There was also the positive statement of friends of William Randolph Hearst and Mayor John F. Hylan, that the departure of these two men with their families to California was a health seeking mission. Reports of a Hearst-Hylan coup, aimed at obstructing Davis' chances in November, were absolutely without foundation, said their associates.

Mr. Davis proceeded to lay the foundation for his campaign in a laudatory though the manner. He received a few of the most prominent party leaders at his Locust Valley estate; conferred about the selection of a commander-in-chief for his forces, but made no choice; answered a few of the thousands of telegrams of congratulations that poured in upon him; enjoyed a round of golf and a salt-water swim with Frank L. Polk, his law partner and counselor and an announced place for a sojourn next week at the home of Charles Dana, Gibson on Telegraph island, at Vero Beach, Fla.

McAdoo Sails for Europe.

Mr. McAdoo this morning sailed on the Hammer for a six weeks' tour of Europe, Italy and Greece. Mrs. McAdoo, his two daughters and two secretaries.

"The hope of genuine reforms and progress is more likely to be realized at this time through the democratic party than through any of its rivals," was the prepared statement issued when he reached his suite on the Hammer. "I shall, therefore, give the Davis-Bryan ticket my cordial support and shall take part in the campaign on my return in September."

Mr. McAdoo set forth that he was "satisfied Mr. Davis is in full accord with the progressive program outlined in the democratic platform" and confident that "as president he would faithfully execute the party's mandates."

Referring to criticism against Mr. Davis because of his professional activities as lawyer for certain interests, Mr. McAdoo said: "His high character, integrity and services should satisfy every apprehension of this sort. If I did not believe this I could not render aid, because I have always believed that the interests of the people should not be subordinated to a merely selfish partisanship."

Expected to Swing McAdoo Followers.

Mr. Rockwell was the last person to bid Mr. McAdoo adieu. After he said that instead of returning immediately to his home at Cleveland, Ohio, he would spend a few days on Long Island, recuperating from the effects of his strenuous labors in Mr. McAdoo's behalf. Amplifying this statement of last night that Mr. Davis became his candidate "the moment he was nominated," Mr. Rockwell said he stood "ready and willing to take an active part in putting Mr. Davis into the White House."

In view of the fact that he was "contact man" of the McAdoo forces and thus might be invaluable in swinging many of the most influential McAdoo supporters over the militant Davis ranks, Mr. Davis was asked if he would have a place in the management of the Davis campaign.

"I can't say," he replied. "I have been approached on the subject, but not by persons in authority." He indicated he would welcome an opportunity to serve in the campaign, but declined Mr. Davis' prospects in the November elections.

PUBLIC UTILITIES GET BABSON'S ENDORSEMENT

Statistician Discusses Position of Power and Traction Securities; Tells of Former's Advantages.

BAIBSON PARK, Mass., July 12 (Special to the News)—The recent strength and popularity of certain public utilities has brought this group of securities to the front in the investment market. The statistician on the national power and traction issues, made today by Roger W. Babson, the statistician, is therefore of unusual interest.

"Twenty years ago investment bankers were booming traction securities," says Mr. Babson. "Today this group, in the background and power and light issues hold the center of the public utility stage. Fundamentally these two groups are affected by very different factors and their fortunes under any given combination of fundamental business and financial conditions are vastly different."

Three Advantages

"The power and light group enjoys three distinct advantages as compared with traction and rail issues. Labor, a handicap in the operating costs of railroads and traction properties, is very small in light and power plants. Wages are not a factor and increases in payroll make no particular difference in earnings. The fact that labor has not been deflated to any appreciable extent since the war and post-war boom has handicapped all rail and traction properties. In fact, has worked many of them. Light and power companies meantime have enjoyed a decline in operating costs due to the deflation of commodity prices."

"Tightly allied with the wage problem is the problem of depreciation. Again the light and power companies have a distinct advantage over the railroads, both steam and electric. The President of a light company, for instance, can press the button in his own home and draw off from the service that he himself is not using. This is not really everyone in his district is receiving from his company. His installation, repair and complaint departments are relatively small and can be closely watched. He can know that everyone of his customers is getting convenient and efficient service from the company. A railroad with thousands of miles of track, freight handlers and train men constantly in contact with its public has no assurance that it is rendering the kind of service that the management may earnestly desire to give. A single employee through his thoughtlessness or carelessness can make a wreck for the whole system. Traction suffers the same handicap to a smaller extent. The problem of creating and maintaining good will is extremely difficult for railroads and tractions and relatively easy for light and power companies."

Room for Expansion

When potential markets are considered, the average power and light company has much more room for expansion than either of these other groups. We are using but a small fraction of the potential power. New hydro power can be developed and output can be increased to take care of an ever expanding demand, while the mercury boiler presents wonderful opportunities in connection with steam power. The late Dr. Steinmetz, when visiting the Babson Institute last summer, described a relatively simple method for the future of the electrically powered home to be heated economically by electricity. Within the next twenty years we may see this done on a large scale and if so the power and light companies will be called upon to supply heat as well as light and power. Railroads will enjoy an increase in freight traffic as population becomes more dense and as the volume of general business increases, but they have no such field for expansion as that open to this favored class of utilities. Traction has suffered a decline in volume due to the advent of the automobile. As to the future of the auto has not the most daring cars to forecast. This does not mean, however, that our traction properties will go out of existence nor does it mean that the handicap applies to all alike.

Divides Traction

"From the investment viewpoint traction should be divided into three distinct groups. We have the strictly urban lines of our large cities that will continue to be a necessity because they offer rapid and economical transportation in congested districts. The volume of business allows them to carry passengers at a low rate. Their field will grow as our cities grow and they will increase in usefulness as congestion becomes greater. The second class of traction embraces the single track suburban lines. Many of these are being operated by a receiver at this time and it is probable that practically all of them will be replaced by the motor bus. One man can have proven a temporary relief in many cases, but the tendency at present is to increase the use of the 'one man' so that within a few years the payroll problem is as large as ever and nothing of permanent value will have been gained. There is no reason, however, why they should not profit from it. They may be able to make the motor bus show a profit where it has not been possible to break even in the operation of electric cars."

Underlies Steam Lines

"There is, however, a third class of traction which includes the double track high speed suburban electric lines which is worthy of special study. I have recently examined one of these properties operating passenger and freight service between two cities forty miles apart. The figures show that this electric line can carry both passengers and freight cheaper than its steam competitor. It actually provides the most economical transportation between these two cities and no auto bus can compete with it as to speed. As long as such a condition exists its maintenance is not only justified but it should be able to operate at a profit. I believe that this class of high speed double track line is fundamentally sound and that it will gain business rather than lose it over the next ten years. The securities of these double track interurban lines together with those of the strictly urban transit companies justify the serious consideration of the investor and should be included in a broad list of public utility holdings."

"The power and light issues face one uncertainty and that is the development of adverse legislation and unscientific regulation."

At Mercy of Lawmakers

"The soundest public service corporation in the country can be seriously crippled by unreasonable legislation governing the charges for service. The railroads and most of the traction companies have been through the mill on this score. What will happen in the power and light field no one can tell, but the best informed specialists in this line are considerably encouraged by the Southwestern Bell decision. It is hoped that this industry will not be crippled by too much government, state and municipal interference. Traction, even a diversified list of public utility holdings should not be affected to any

Chess Tournament No Place for "Rooters"

Chess is no game, or sport, where the rooster is conspicuous by its absence. The stalker for golf etiquette, who frowns if a robin chirps while some one is attempting to putt, would be considered a noisy nuisance at a chess tournament. A gallery of silent spectators may stand at a respectful distance from two masters of the game. But those of the gallery must keep quiet. If an important move is made—one that appears to have peculiar significance in regard to the outcome of the contest—there must be no cheering. Even snoring appears to be barred if the nod will cause the collar to rattle.

Chess masters regard their pieces by the hour. Minutes will pass while all of the possibilities and eventualities are considered from every angle. There must be absolute quiet for chess is a game for thinkers, and thinkers cannot be disturbed without serious consequences to their train of thought. The escaping of a sigh seems as loud as the exhaust of a locomotive. The dropping of a pin would be regarded as an outright violation of the code of ethics. Chess is a game where concentration rises to sublime heights and where silence is obligatory if not golden. Municipal authorities who have established quiet zones and then been at a loss to know how to maintain quiet in them might learn something from a chess tournament. Place a group of chess players in each zone.—Washington Star.

PEKING CANNOT GIVE LEGATION

Soviet Envoy Must Apply to Dean of Diplomatic Corps for Quarters.

PEKING, July 12 (AP)—The Russian legation here will be turned over to a representative of the Russian soviet government only upon application of such representatives directly to the dean of the diplomatic corps, the Chinese government was informed today.

Such advice was contained in an answer from the powers who signed the 1901 protocol to the Chinese note of last June 27. The attitude of the Chinese government as set forth was that while the legation was under control of the diplomatic corps by treaty, the legation quarter was still Chinese territory. The Russian legation, it was asserted, was not subject to control of the other powers, although situated in the legation quarter.

Stand on Protocol

In today's answer the protocol power ministers emphasized the peculiar regime of the legation quarter, based on the 1901 protocol, saying that that treaty explained the collective administration of the quarter by the powers, independent of the Chinese government.

In conclusion the ministers request the Chinese government to act as intermediary, and asks the accredited soviet representative, now in Peking to enter into direct negotiations with the dean of the diplomatic corps, as the matter may be discussed and arrangements made for the final turning over of the Russian legation.

Diplomatic relations between China and the soviet were established several weeks ago. The legation has been in the custody of the diplomatic corps since the withdrawal of the representative of the old czarist government.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Tyler and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Pierce of Twin Falls are spending the week at Bailey and Ketchikan.

About 35 members together with their husbands and children and several guests enjoyed the picnic of the Ladies' Pioneer club, held in the park Thursday evening. A short business meeting preceded the lunch after which the hostesses, Mrs. M. R. Gill, J. R. Harding, B. E. Potter, H. H. Kilburn and Mrs. Glenn Whitney, took charge of the eat, which were served cafeteria style from two long tables appropriately decorated.

Later Mrs. W. D. Gillis of Piler gave a splendid talk on what is expected of club members at the fair and following her address Mrs. Clouche of Twin Falls explained our duties from a social standpoint. H. E. Powers gave a short talk on school work for the coming year. All expressed themselves as being greatly inspired by the get-together meeting.

LOCAL NINE TO MEET VISITORS

American Falls Ready to Carry Home Score from Blues; Good Record Comes with Team.

American Falls' baseball team will arrive today with the expectations of winning from the Blues, according to the information handed out by Manager L. O. Johnson of the eastern team.

The team from up the river carried out their conquest of other baseball nines last Sunday by walloping the Downey Diamond aggregation with a 24-to-3 score.

Contrary to a recent report of the American Falls game with the Pocatello Blues, their score was not 4 to 3 as stated, but 11 to 5 in favor of the Bears. American Falls played hard ball against the Pocatello Blues for six innings but the Bears' gang of heavy sluggers demolished the defense in the final three rounds and piled up a large score.

Toward to Start Game.

Howard will probably open on the mound against Twin Falls this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the league ball grounds.

Twin Falls with its usual lineup, excepting Mullins, who is absent with a strained muscle, will tackle the team that comes from the dam site town.

A probable lineup for the Blues to face American Falls will be as follows: Batteries—Plynn and Richardson. In the infield Whitel, Scilley, Watson and Johnson will function in the order named, starting at first base and ending with shortstop. For the garden wall Ostrander, Fix and Riley who has been out of the last two games with an injured ankle. This lineup will be considerably stronger than the usual lineup, for Scilley, who will fill Mullins' shoes, covers the infield like a capnet and is easily as capable a player. In addition to this, Riley, a handy man with the bat, is going into the fray, bringing the hitting forces and at the same time not weakening the fielding in the outfield.

FINLAND WINS CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIP

Nurmi Leads Team to Double
Triumph in Gruelling Over-
Marked by Collapse of Over
Half of 40 Starters.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Colombes, France, July 12 (AP)—The United States athletic teams have won the Olympic games, the victories of Jesse Owens, Illinois' A. G. and Emanuel Norton, Georgetown, who took first and second place in the final of the decathlon, making it impossible for the powerful Finnish team to overcome the lead of their American rivals.

COLOMBES, France, July 12 (AP)—Striding to the most thrilling victory of his career under the most trying conditions any runner ever faced, Paavo Nurmi, Finland's superman of the track, led his team to a double triumph in the Olympic cross-country championship today, which witnessed the collapse of more than half of the two score of starters under a terrific heat that parched the grueling 10,000-metre course.

Greater even than his unprecedented capture of two finals the same afternoon last Thursday, was Nurmi's achievement today, for the Finnish runner proved his stamina as well as his speed, where his rivals faltered under the pace and fell like leaves by the wayside in probably the most spectacular Olympic race ever witnessed.

Overwhelms American Victories.

Even Harold Osborne's great decathlon victory for America and the creation of two new world's records, the first when the flashing quartet of American sprinters covered the 400-metre relay in 1:15.5 seconds, and the second when A. W. Winters, the American, battered the 13-year-old boy, step and jump record by three sixteenths of an inch—were eclipsed by the dramatic struggle of the distance runners against the terrific odds.

Along the course that Nurmi raced practically unchallenged to victory they began to go down by the hundreds. Among the first to fall was Edwin Wide, the gallant Swede who started off in the lead, only to drop a victim to sunstroke.

Nurmi, on the other hand, came under the stadium lights apparently strong to finish in front of his stout-hearted countryman, Rinta, who was more than 500 metres behind. Many of the others were able to reach the enclosure gates, but never crossed the finish line.

16 of 30 Starters Finish.

Andia, a Spanish runner, sprawled face downward in sight of the grandstand just as he struggled inside, while Delques, the French star, brought a moan from his countrymen when, after tottering half way round the track, he fell in a heap in front of the official tribune and in sight of the tape. Only 16 of the original 30 starters finished, only three of the eight teams finished.

Finland, with Nurmi and Rinta finishing first and second, defeated the United States by a margin of 11 points to 14, with France third. One of the Finnish contingent, Lehtinen, stopped and started off the track three times in a daze before he finally crossed in twelfth position.

Sweden's Team Collapses Out.

Sweden's entire team collapsed under the terrific conditions. Wide and Bergstrom being taken to the hospital, while about two dozen others had to be given medical treatment, several of them lying in a semi-conscious state for more than an hour after having given their all in their vain struggle.

The Americans next to the Finns stood the long grind best, four of the six American starters finishing, with the negro star, Earl Johnson, leading the contingent in third place, 200 metres behind Rinta. Arthur Stuederoth, Meadbrook club, Philadelphia, finished sixth; August Papper, Finnish-American A. C. New York, eighth; and James Hegan, Dorchester club of Medford, Mass., tenth, but only the first three figured in the team scoring.

John J. Gray, United States, considerably affected by the heat, dropped out not far from the end, while Verne Booth was forced to quit by foot trouble.

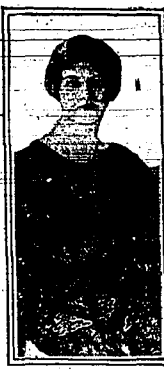

First Triple Triumph.

Nurmi's third victory of the games marked the first triple Olympic triumph since Hannes Kolehmainen, another Finn, accomplished the trick in the distance races in 1912 at Stockholm. Some of the honors, however, go to Willie Rinta, who completed the unprecedented feat of running 39,000 metres in six days, a record-breaking Olympic achievement, capturing two firsts and two seconds for a total of 30 points, which equals the number collected by his more famous teammate.

Though Finland gained slightly on the United States in the long battle for the day, the little Nordic nation now can't catch the Americans, regardless of the outcome of tomorrow's final events, and their only hope now is the chance that they take more first places than Uncle Sam.

BUHL AND POCATELLO MEET FOR THIRD TIME

Buhl and Pocatelto will meet for the third time of the season today on the Ferris field. Twice Buhl has lost, last week by a single score, and hope is strong in the west-end camp that the jinx of the Bears will be broken with today's game.

To date Buhl has never crossed the Pocatelto's plate but unless Cal Grisham's slugging are mistaken more than they think they are they will touch Phillips, the Bear moundman, for more than a few hits.

Pocatelto has a clear record of 1,000 for the season.

This week's game will start at 2:30 p. m., and judging from the crowd that witnessed last week's battle a mob of equal size is expected.

Grisham announces a few changes in the lineup and with Phillips or Aldred on the pitching end for Pocatelto and Faux, with his brother behind the bat, working in the box for Buhl.

TWIN FALLS MAN HURT IN GUN FIGHT ON COAST

Officer. According to Chief of Police Herriman, Conner spent several hundred dollars in fines in getting out of the toils of the law. Soon after his last Twin Falls and nothing more was heard of him until circulars were received here offering rewards amounting to approximately $2500 for his arrest.

Officers Put on Guard.

Local police had instructions to be careful in arresting Conner if he returned and to be sure and "get the drop" on him when they made the arrest and to shoot first in the event he resisted. He was known as a dangerous man. In the Los Angeles territory Conner and Jimmy Hixson were charged with being the leaders of a gang that robbed the loan company.

FEDERAL CHURCH COUNCIL HITS ANTI-DRY OFFICIAL

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Association that "moral chaos and humiliating disgrace" has been brought upon the nation by the disregard of prohibition law by a "relatively small number" of public officials, is made in a resolution adopted by the administrative committee of the federal council of churches.

The resolution urged upon all public officials, including officers of the army and navy, the "imperative necessity of a conscientious and thoroughgoing personal observance of the law regarding alcoholic beverages."

LAFOLLETTE CAMPAIGN FINANCES CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—A tentative program for raising $250,000 in small subscriptions from labor organizations and like groups to back the LaFollette presidential campaign was laid out today at a meeting of the executive committee members of the conference for progressive political action.

Alexander Kahn of New York city was elected to head the financing enterprise, and it was expected that the sum would supplement the total which might be raised for the campaign by general public solicitation, through Representative Nelson of Wisconsin, headquarters at Chicago.

Senator LaFollette did not participate in the meeting, although it was attended by officers of a number of railroad unions. Talk concerning a possible vice presidential candidate was kept hushed at the gathering, on the ground that a larger conference in Washington July 18 would settle the point, but it was stated with considerable positiveness that no project of endorsing Governor Bryan, the democratic vice presidential candidate, would meet with the approval of LaFollette adherents.

BARRISTERS BOARD SHIP

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—Headed by Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, as president of the American Bar association, 60 distinguished lawyers and their families, sailed this afternoon on the liner Berengaria to attend the convention of the association in London on July 20.

The barristers will meet in Westminster Abbey and one of the features of the assembly will be the presentation of a statue of Blackstone, the author of the world's famous commentaries, by the American lawyer.

In addition to those on the Berengaria another party of American lawyers numbering 400 sailed today from Quebec, 200 others on the Lonsdale yesterday and 300 members of the association on the Aquitania last Thursday.

CLOVER

CLOVER—Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Martens and son Donald left Sunday afternoon overland for Spokane. They were joined in Butte by the Rev. E. Zogel of Eden, the Rev. Dammert and Mrs. J. Ghring and son Harold of Twin Falls. They spent Sunday evening at the Theodore Wegener home near Boise and Monday night with friends in Walla Walla, expecting to reach Spokane Wednesday morning. The party will attend the conference there for a week and Mrs. Martens is visiting at the C. P. Long home. Mr. Martens was elected delegate from Clover and Ed Kuebler, who was elected delegate from Twin Falls, was joined with his family to Boise Sunday and from there took the train for Spokane.

Mirinda Ghring, Katherine and Walter Martens are spending two weeks at the A. List home during the absence of their parents.

The beans are looking better in this locality than last week. Some fields have been replanted but most of them are growing nicely the last few days. The night seems to be dying out.

Movie Stars

Are using these rare powders By Edna Wallace Hopper

I did not intend to supply powders to women. My only idea was to furnish them my greatest beauty helps. But thousands of women have urged me by letter and in person, to tell them the powders I like all my friends on the stage and in the movies. I use very costly powders. I have them made to my order, and they cost me $5 per box. Our customers depend on my Youth Cream. It is enduring. That Youth Cream Powder costs $1. But many women prefer light and fluffy powder. If you want that kind, it costs but 50 cents. Both kinds come in three shades—white, flesh and brown.

So far as I know, these powders are the finest in existence. You may be sure that if anyone produced a better powder I would get it quickly. Anyone who has common powders will gain a new conception of what powders should be—adv.

SOCIETY

Edited by Mrs. E. R. Williams Telephone 350.

In honor of Miss Dorothy Roy, a bride of the week, the Misses Margaret, Kate and Mary Deven entertained with a kitchen shower Friday evening at their home on Eighth avenue east. The rooms were beautifully decorated to meet the occasion of the affair being a rainbow of crepe paper from the center of which a large ring was suspended, attached to this were colored ribbons, each guest was asked to select a color and holding it in her hands and wishing as she moved through the rooms the search for the color of the rainbow was begun. The holder of the lucky ribbon found at the end of her ribbon a dainty pair of gold finger rings symbolic of the faded pot of gold, and each guest received a remembrance attached to the end of their ribbon. Many interesting games were growing after which the company were invited to the kitchen where the many useful kitchen utensils were opened by the bride to be. At a late hour refreshments were served to about twenty-five guests.

The Blue Lakes boulevard club met with Mrs. B. C. Elder on Friday afternoon with a large attendance. A musical program in charge of Mrs. Elder and Mrs. Mann given among which were two delightful violin solos by Miss Edna Parrott accompanied on the piano by her sister, Miss Helen. Plans were made for a picnic on August 5 in the city park. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served.

Judge and Mrs. O. P. Drell were hosts at an informal dinner Friday evening for Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barrott.

Members of the J. H. Bridge club were guests of Miss Annabelle Rogers at the C. E. Munson home on Seventh avenue east Friday evening. Miss Priscilla Munson won the honors for high score. Following the games delicious refreshments were served. The Misses Adelle Robinson and Olive and Grace Smith were also guests of the evening.

Mrs. Fred Davis was hostess to the ladies of the Shumrock club last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. McGinnis were guests and twelve members were present. A delightful feature of the afternoon was a shower given for the members. The usual business session was held and ice cream and cake were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be with Mrs. John Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Satterlee were hosts at their country home Friday evening to a delightful dinner dance. A four course dinner was served with covers for sixteen guests. Roses and ferns formed the table decorations, with a centerpiece of white roses in a large cut glass bowl. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown of Ellensburg, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Jones of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Mehl, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Noll, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Lloyd of Hollister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCormick. During the dancing dainty favors were distributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knutson entertained the members of the Kimberley community club and their families Wednesday evening with a radio lawn party. The evening was much enjoyed. Ice cream and cake were served as refreshments.

Complimenting her aunt Mrs. Robert W. Bell of Chicago, Mrs. W. B. Dotson entertained with a Mah Jong party at her home Thursday afternoon. The guests spent a pleasant afternoon at the country home. Among those present were Mesdames H. C. Dickerson, Claire Davis, M. C. Ware, F. W. McElvaine, F. C. Brink, Emma Ashbury, William Sellick, Anna Senior, Frank Hoveman, J. P. Johnston, Frank Baldwin, Harry Jarger and A. E. Stiller. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Senior and Mrs. Beebe. Dainty refreshments were served.

TWO FOREIGN CONFERENCES.

The United States government is going to participate in two important European conferences. At least, it has agreed to participate in one far in inaugurating the "Dawes" reparation plan; and it will be invited to attend the other, dealing with allied debts, as soon as the first is over. It is not likely that the government will object to attending the second, any more than the first, because of its great interest in the subject discussed.

This is getting back into European affairs on a business rather than a political basis. The reparation plan directly involves the billion or so dollars that Germany owes the United States and indirectly, several billions that are owed by the Allies and will probably never be paid unless Germany pays the Allies first. With that business arranged in a way that seems generally satisfactory and likely to produce definite results, all of our foreign debts will be in position to get down to brass tacks regarding their war debts to the United States.

There will be efforts in such a conference, no doubt, to persuade this country to ease the burdens of its debtors on the ground that they were war necessities in a common cause and have been in great difficulties ever since the war, and deserve considerable treatment.

There will probably be no disposition on the part of the American government or people to deal harshly with them. Uncle Sam is no Shylock. But certainly there can be no special favor of remission of debt in the case of any debtor who has never shown any desire to pay what he borrowed, or who would use for war preparations any part of his principal or interest that might be remitted.

SCHOOLS AND ROADS.

"The old one-room country school as I attended," says President Coolidge, "ought to give way to the consolidated school, with a modern building and an adequate teaching force, commensurate with the best advantages that are provided for our urban population."

The majority of Americans will agree with him, though nearly half of the nation's children still attend one-room or two-room schools of the old rural type, in the country or the small town.

These schools are not necessarily inefficient, because many of our presidents, like Mr. Coolidge, have come from them. Yet it is likely that these Presidents would nearly all have been better prepared for their careers if they had attended schools of a modern type, insuring better trained teachers, more highly specialized teaching, better equipment, higher standards and associations with a larger group of boys and girls engaged in the same work.

The "little old red schoolhouse" has often been a wonderful institution, when it happened to have a wonderful teacher. But success has depended too largely on chance.

A VOICE FROM THE CLOUDS.

The "little old red schoolhouse" flying several thousand feet above the earth, talked directly by radio with men on the ground at McCook Field, Dayton, Ohio. The first questions sent up into the air asked the flyer to tell whether he could hear plainly, where he was, what he was doing and how the weather was up there. All of which he answered promptly and clearly.

A little later he told his listeners:

Breakfast Food
"Matrimonially Speaking"

By Hugh McKay.

My Wife Watches the Thermometer on Hot Days.

And, believe me, a watched thermometer always boils!

She certainly has hit on the best possible way of keeping herself overheated and warming up everybody around her. It doesn't help a bit to have some body tell you every 15 minutes what a very hot afternoon it is.

Men at the weather bureau are paid to read the hourly temperatures, but I'll bet that when it comes to talking Fahrenheit and humidity they're not even in my wife's class.

When I get home from the office I try to cool off and forget the weather. But it's just like trying to get away from jazz music as long as the radio's turned on.

I'll give an appropriate reward to any one who can persuade my wife that a thermometer is only a convenience—not a scoreboard!

Tuesday—My Husband Hates to Have Any Other "Treasures" Thrown Away.

"We also now at a bank of clouds several thousand feet high. We will go over them. Up we go up along the side of the bank—now we are at the top, and down we go—down the other side, at a speed of 110 miles an hour. Could you hear me distinctly during the diving and climbing of the plane?"

"And the answer was, 'Very distinctly.'"

Perhaps it is no more wonderful to talk from above the clouds with persons on the ground than it is to talk from city to city and across seas by radio. And yet each time a new feat in such communication is accomplished for the first time, a fresh thrill is felt by the onlooker in this age of scientific discovery and invention.

Of course there are useful purposes which this airplane-to-earth conversing will serve. Money and time and human life undoubtedly will be saved by it in the future. It is needless to pause now over the possibilities involved. Far as he still has to go, man is making tremendous progress in mastering his surroundings and discovering secrets hitherto concealed from him.

"Theistic Scientist"

A "theistic scientist" would, by definition, be a scientist who is a theist. But he would be a theist who is a scientist.

What his particular form of belief might be depends upon his individual ability. Perhaps no two people in the world hold exactly the same religious beliefs, though they may subscribe to the same creeds.

The Sixth Sense.

At a primary-school examination one of the questions was with regard to the five senses. A pupil wrote:

"The five senses are: smelling, seeing, crying, yawning, coughing. By the sixth sense is meant an extra one which some folks have. This is sneezing."—Boston Transcript.

WALLICK BREAKS JAIL AT KELSEO; IS WANTED HERE

Man Facing 5 to 10-Year Sentence Escapes Few Hours Before Twin Falls Official Arrives.

Virgil Wallick, arrested and held at Kelseo, Wash., for Twin Falls county officials on charges of wife desertion and violating the terms of a parole as the outcome of a statutory charge upon which he was found guilty and sentenced to serve from 5 to 10 years in the state prison, broke jail early Saturday morning at Kelseo and at a late hour Saturday evening had not been recaptured, Sheriff M. E. Finch of Twin Falls was notified Saturday.

Wallick's jailbreak, details of which are lacking, occurred but a few hours before the arrival there of Deputy Sheriff John Gabbart, who left Friday to bring him back here to face punishment. Several days ago Sheriff Finch was notified that Kelseo authorities had arrested Wallick and were holding him there on the Twin Falls charge. Plans were made immediately for returning him here and Friday Sheriff Finch drove to Kelseo with Deputy Sheriff Gabbart, who caught the train for Kelseo.

Poses Take Up Search.

Deputy Sheriff Gabbart arrived in Kelseo Saturday noon, but his prisoner had escaped. Poses from Kelseo with the aid of Deputy Sheriff Gabbart are searching for him and it is hoped he may be captured before he manages to leave the country. Judge Babcock some time ago sentenced Wallick to a term of from 5 to 10 years in the state prison on a statutory charge. His sentence was then suspended and he was paroled to the sheriff here. Terms of his parole were that he was to take up a permanent place of abode and support his wife and child. Instead of that he left and in addition to being wanted for violating the parole he is charged with wife desertion.

Little hope is held out by Sheriff Finch that he will be recaptured, at least not in the near future. He believes that Wallick will put as much distance as possible between Kelseo and himself. The telegram received by the sheriff did not say how the jailbreak was made.

DISTRICT OFFERS GOOD STEEL BRIDGE FOR SALE

Span Across Dead Man's Gulch West of City of No Use to Highway District; Would Sell to Best Bidder.

Twin Falls county highway district has a steel bridge for sale. It was announced Saturday at the highway district's office in this city. If it is suitable offer is made for the steel bridge which spans Dead Man's gulch west of Twin Falls it will be accepted; it was understood. This bridge was condemned some time ago and a new bridge that would stand modern highway usage was built within a short distance of the old bridge.

Since that time the bridge has been closed and the district is casting about for some means to get rid of it to advantage. Original cost of the bridge was in the neighborhood of $20,000 and was built more than 15 years ago. Highway districts surrounding Twin Falls either have no canyons or gulches big enough for the bridge or else they are so much larger that the bridge would be of no use.

APPEAL FROM SALARY REDUCTION IN COURT

Appeal from the order of the Twin Falls county board of commissioners reducing salaries of clerical officers beginning with the new term January 1, will be heard in district court here before Judge H. P. Ensign of Halley, Wednesday, it was announced Saturday at the court house. Appeal from the action of the commissioners is made by O. M. Ertter and approximately 20 others.

The county commissioners some time ago announced that a reduction would be made in salaries paid to clerical officers. These reductions range from 10 to 50 per cent. A petition signed by more than 20 citizens was presented to the court asking that it prevent this reduction in the interest of the public welfare through obtaining better public officials.

It is understood that most of the clerical officers at the present time pay the maximum allowed by law and that the citizens wish this to stand as it is.

Commission to Meet Consider Road Bids

Members of the Twin Falls county highway commission will meet next Saturday afternoon at the highway commission's offices above the Idaho Power company for the purpose of opening bids for construction of a 1.2 mile of grading and gravelled road to be lot. Bids for opening these bids was formerly set for last Saturday but due to irregularities in the bids another call was made. The grading and graveling of road to be done will amount to approximately $25,000. It is understood and will be for the section of highway from the filter plant west to connect with the gravelled road to Rogerson near Godwin.

WATER METERS CHEAPER FOR CONSUMERS HERE

Receipts for Month of June Were $4,500, Which Figures Show is Cheaper Than Old Plan.

Since the installation of water meters by the city, water department, the cost of water to the citizens of Twin Falls has decreased, or so a general survey of the situation would indicate despite the protests of some citizens who have larger water bills for the month of June than before, according to Mrs. Katherine Provost, city treasurer. Receipts for the month of June were $4,500, which amount approximately $3000 was paid for the minimum amount or $1.18 net per month.

The remaining $1500 for the month was presumably for houses which figured on the basis of 12 cents a foot for lawns under the old manner of charging for lawn watering is cheaper. For a 50-foot lot this amounted to $6 for the summer. A charge was then made of $1.45 for the five-room house which figured as against the present basis would appear higher than under the present system.

It is the plan of the board, it is a surplus shows at the end of the year to again cut the cost of water to the citizens. It is explained that under the law the city water department can not be a profit-making organization and only sufficient funds to pay for the cost of maintenance can be charged. Another favorable feature under the present plan, it was pointed out, was that so far pressure has been kept up to 75 pounds which is in keeping with fire underwriters rules. This has made possible to do away this year with the alternate days of watering lawns. It was in effect before. All in all, waterworks officials believe the meter system is proving much better than the old method.

NON-RESIDENTS MUST HAVE FISHING LICENSE

Persons Carrying Resident Licenses but Driving Cars with Foreign Auto Licenses Subject to Questioning.

Non residents who wish to fish in Idaho streams must have non-resident fishing licenses and not resident fishing licenses, it was announced Saturday by John T. Salisbury, deputy state game warden. This announcement follows the arrest of a young man 20 years of age who was found fishing in Rock Creek with a resident license but who was driving an automobile with an auto license from another state.

He was taken before Judge O. P. Davall where extenuating circumstances resulted in his being let off with a warning. In this connection Mr. Salisbury said that persons who drive autos with licenses from other states but who exhibited resident fishing licenses would be required to furnish proof that they resided in Idaho. Persons found camped near fishing streams with cars bearing fishing licenses, plaintiffs must also satisfy every evidence of their being residents of this state for at least six months or go through the embarrassment of being arrested and brought into court.

Deputy game wardens also have the power to make arrests for violations of motor vehicle license laws. This was learned through a perusal of the motor vehicle law booklets that have been sent out by the state. It was confirmed in a letter written Mr. Salisbury by P. A. Jeter, secretary of state.

HEAVY RAINS HELP TO FARMERS IN IRRIGATING

Storms in Upper Valley Result in Increased Flow Which Reacts Favorably for Twin Falls Tract.

Heavy rains reported in the upper Snake river valley has benefited farmers of the Twin Falls tract, according to Twin Falls Canal company officials, through an increased water supply. Heavy rain they say has increased the flow of the river to such an extent that between 80 and 90 per cent of the normal flow was available Saturday and will gradually decrease until the supply is again approximately 50 per cent of normal. Officials from the Twin Falls Canal company were in attendance Saturday at a meeting held at Idaho Falls for the purpose of attempting to arrive at some equitable distribution of certain storage waters for irrigating purposes.
