WESTERN ARID LANDS SEEN AS NATION'S HOPE

Columbia Basin Irrigation League Declares for Reclamation Program to Support Increasing Population.

PASCO, Wash., July 14 (AP)—Declaring that the "country's dependence must rest largely on irrigation of western arid lands" for maintaining increased population, the Columbia Basin Irrigation League in its third annual session here today, was pledged on record in the report of its resolutions committee as proffering the Columbia basin irrigation project toward this end.

The committee, of which N. W. Durham of Spokane was chairman, declared that "even as an immensely limited potentiality—twenty million acres at the extreme estimate of authorities."

The report in part was as follows: "Federal reclamation of arid lands is the declared purpose of the democratic and republican parties as expressed in their platforms for 1924. We commend their vision and assure the leaders of all parties that the west stands eager to perform its full part in the national service."

Farms for 40,000 Families

"The Columbia Basin Irrigation League, in third annual convention in the city of Pasco, Wash., July 14, 1924, with delegates from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, proffers the Columbia basin irrigation project for the conversion of nearly 2,000,000 acres of desert and semi-desert soil into a rich and beautiful oasis. When reclaimed the Columbia basin irrigation project will provide irrigation farms for 40,000 American families, will add 500,000 population to this region, and will quickly repay, from the proceeds of its produce, the entire cost of its construction.

"We invite the nation's consideration to the merits of this project. The available water supply is ample for three times as much land. The soil is as productive under water as the choicest lands anywhere. The climate is mild, healthful and invigorating, with an exceptionally long growing season. The project is traversed or bordered by the main lines of four transcontinental railroads—the Union Pacific, The Northern Pacific, The Great Northern and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, and several branch lines.

Markets at Hand

"Immediate markets are waiting in the cities of the Puget Sound and the Columbia river, in the mining towns and cities of Idaho and Montana, and in the growing cities of the Inland Empire between the Rocky and Cascade mountains. And the surplus, if a surplus should come, can readily and cheaply find the open markets of the world.

"Though the conditions will be excellent for fruit growing it is not expected that this project will be extensively planted to orchards. The plan is to make it inviting to dairy producers, stock growers and growers of products especially suited to canneries and evaporators.

"The nation's need of this and other meritorious projects is imminent. Secretary of the Interior Work has truly said that 'One summer's drought such as occurred in the memory of those now living would put this most prosperous country in want.'

"The country's need is better balanced agriculture, not restricted production of food. The nation needs increased production and larger consumption of these wholesome products. We import constantly enormous quantities of foreign sugar. The need is increased production of beet sugar.

Importing Food Now

"Even now, in time of peace and with the present population, heavy imports of foreign foods are needed to feed our people. It is the part of statesmanship to consider carefully the situation that will be presented 10 or 15 years from now, when 15,000,000, or 20,000,000 more people will be calling for food.

"Population increases while the public domain dwindles. The arable homestead land is gone. Broadly speaking, there are no more homesteads worth the taking. But increased production the nation must have.

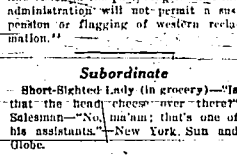

"These are facts that should be our guide in planning the American people and the government at Washington. If there shall be vision of statesmanship in the future at the national capital, as there has been statesmanship like vision in the past, congress and the administration will not permit a restriction or flagging of western reclamation."

Cause of Petrification

This process is called petrification. When wood or the carcass of an animal apparently turns to stone we say it petrifies. The word "petrify" itself means turning to or making into stone. It is from the Latin "petra," a rock or stone, and "facio," to make or to do. But the fact is, organic matter does not actually turn into stone. This is what really occurs: Water containing dissolved minerals, such as calcium carbonate and silica, infiltrates through the organic matter. Particle by particle, as time passes by, the calcium carbonate or silica takes the place of the organic matter. After thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands, it seems that the wood or animal has turned to stone, for often the original form and structure are retained in the process. The organic matter really only acts as a mold while the stone is being formed from the minerals in the infiltrating water.

Origin of Tattooing

It is impossible to say when and where the custom of tattooing began, but it is of very ancient origin. In the tombs near Thebes were found painted representations of white men with tattooed bodies, and in his contemporary Caesar writes of Britons being tattooed.

Happy Thrift

HAPPY thrift doesn't mean doing without what you want. It means doing without what you thought was what you wanted—and found wasn't. It means doing without such mistakes before you mistake them.

The only insurance against buying wares you don't want is knowing wares advertised. You can depend upon home furnishings, clothes, foods you see pictured and described everywhere. They are what other folks want, buy and are thrifty about. Wide enjoyment lowers their prices. Thrift again! And they serve to the very limit of their claims.

When you keep an eye on advertisements, you save right. You buy what you think you buy.

Advertisements remove the blindfold from buying—read them carefully

WATER CONTROL
ESSENTIAL NOW

Accurate Measurement Important Factor in Shortage, Specialist Points Out.

When water is as scarce as it is this year every effort must be made to make the best of it, says Mr. R. Lewis, associate professor of agricultural engineering, University of Idaho, in one of a series of articles on "Full Crops in Spite of Water Shortage." Before any material may be used with the greatest efficiency some means of measuring this material must be devised and then its use must be controlled by measurement.

This is as true of irrigation water as of everything else. There is a very great variation in the acre which is irrigated in the measurement of water on the various irrigation systems of Idaho. It will be found that there is less fighting and quarreling over water and more economy in its use on those projects where proper measurements are made than on those where everybody helps himself or where the ditch-riding just guesses at the size of stream.

Use Weirs and Orifices
On many canals and laterals it is found that the crops on the lower ends are burning up while those at the upper end are in good shape. It is of no use to wear at the ditchhead and accuse all the men on the upper end of the ditch of being water hoards unless proper measuring devices are installed on all diversions. No man can guess at the flow of water in a series of farm laterals, some of which run slowly, others fast, some through grass and weeds, and others through clear channels, and come even near the truth. The only possible chance of getting a fair distribution of the water, and that means an economical use, is by the installation of proper measuring devices.

Weirs and orifices of standard forms are the most satisfactory methods we now have of measuring water to the individual farm. Even in a fair district where they have been installed they should be examined carefully at intervals by a competent man. It so happens that in most cases a weir which is out of order will deliver more water than it is supposed to. For this reason careful inspection of the measuring devices will help in getting water to the end of the canal.

Help the Ditch-riders
The watermeters and ditch-riders of the West are going to have more gray hairs this fall. In the majority of cases these men are doing their very best to distribute the water equitably. This subject deserves more notice than is available here so we will discuss it next week.

The University of Idaho through the agricultural college will be glad to furnish any water user in Idaho a bulletin telling how to install and use weirs and orifices.

Color of Gold
When you look at a bit of pure gold you are quite well satisfied that it is of a light yellow color. It only appears so. The white light reflected from its surface has the effect of adulterating the color rays from the metal and it appears much lighter than it really is. If this white light is eliminated, the color is a brilliant orange. Hence to its greatest possibility of thinness, it becomes transparent to light and held up and looked through, it becomes a lively sage green. Reduced to a paste, it becomes a rich red and when vaporized it becomes purple.

Victory Over One's Self
You may talk of Gettysburg's "Bloody Angle" or Waterloo's "Smoking Barrage," but in every man's life there is no battle more severe, and no victory more honorable than when a man fights with himself and wins the victory. Victory over one's self is the greatest feat in the world, and surely he who cannot control himself cannot control other people.—Exchange

TAMMANY'S GRAND CHIEF

Judge G. W. Olvany Succeeds
O. E. Murphy as Result of Congressional Election

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—Tammany hall today chose General Sessions Judge George Washington Olvany grand chief to succeed the late Charles E. Murphy, and voted its "undivided and loyal support" to the Davis-Bryan ticket and the "progressive and forward looking platform" of the national democratic party.

The vote for Judge Olvany, before it was made unanimous by the 68 men and women representatives of 23 districts, was reported to have been 22-3 to 3 for Martin G. (Marty) McCue.

"The call is too strong to resist," Judge Olvany told the executive committee of Tammany hall after he had been escorted to the "fourteenth street program" by two veterans of the organization—a man and a woman, both gray-haired. Surrogate James A. Foley, who had been elected grand chief last May, immediately after Murphy's death, had accepted and then on the advice of physicians, had declined the post.

"In a few days I shall resign from the bench and undertake to carry on the work so ably, usefully and successfully performed by Charles F. Murphy for more than 22 years," Judge Olvany's statement continued. "Our first great public duty will be to roll up a great vote for our national ticket."

The election of Judge Olvany, a former district leader of Tammany, was a compromise between an active leader upon whom the district chief had insisted, and a man from the ranks as advocated by those who caused Surrogate Foley's election in May. That it was a compromise was evident from the fact that the election was held in a hall, and not in a court, and that it was held in a hall, and not in a court, and that it was held in a hall, and not in a court.

To Be Successful

To be successful in anything, one must cultivate the habit of thinking completely around his problem. Little or big. To be satisfied with thinking two-thirds or three-fourths of the way around is to stand back deliberately while one else gains greater efficiency, prestige and leadership. Many people fail because they do not think their problems through and take time enough to do it properly.—Selected.

When the flag is hung vertically, to be viewed from one side only it should be hung so the blue field and stars are to the right as the spectator faces the flag. As a banner across a street the flag should be hung with the field of blue toward the north, in streets running east and west, and to the east in streets running north and south.

Desert Showers Count
The effect of a single shower on the southern margin of the Children's desert is noted by Charles Barling: "The farmers, who plant corn near the sea coast, where the atmosphere is more humid, taking advantage of this shower, would break up the ground; after a second they would put the seed in; and if a third shower should fall, they would reap a good harvest in the spring. It was interesting to watch the effect of this trifling amount of moisture. Twelve hours afterward the ground appeared as dry as ever; yet, after an interval of ten days all the little weeds faintly thrust with green patches; the grass being sparingly scattered in hanks there a full inch in length. Before this shower every part of the surface was bare as on a high road."—From Desert Trails of Arizona, by Isador Robinson.

ERROR CAUSES BLUES DEFEAT

1 to 0 Victory Taken by American Falls Team; Pitching and Fielding Feature.

An error backed up by a hit gave American Falls a single run that meant victory over the Twin Falls Blues in the best baseball game of the season which was played here Sunday and which ended with the visitors holding the single tally in a 1-0 score.

Only a usual crowd was present to see the game which was by far the most interesting game of the season and a record-breaking group is expected next Sunday when the two teams meet again on the local diamond.

While the game can not be described as a pitchers' battle entirely, both teams and Flynn, opposing moundmen, were working it top form, Howard depending upon a fast sidearm delivery which baffled 10 local batters and held the Blues to four slugs, and Flynn playing his usual cool-headed brand of baseball, fanned seven and allowed five hits.

With the exception of the error, at first which allowed the first visitor to score, Twin Falls kept the infield and outfield covered like a fog, never lifting the defense once and thrilling the fans with quick plays on the bases continually.

The Blues never allowed a stolen base, but they themselves stole three from Simmons, the opposing catcher. A double play in the seventh inning, Lebrass to Mullins to Fir, was perhaps the most brilliant play of the game and completes the fielding bouquet.

Visitors Better Batters.

As batmen the visitors proved to be superior to the locals and poked out two two-base hits and three singles while the best Twin Falls could get was four singles.

Compos and Ostrander divide honors of the stick for the day, each with two hits in four trips. Welch and Garber hit nice doubles for the other two big hits of the game, all of the hits being well scattered.

Reed, first man to the plate when the game opened, reached first on a ground ball which was poorly fielded by the Blues and resulted in their first run. Two more ground balls made two outs and sent Reed to third where he scored on Compton's single. This was the beginning and end of the scoring.

Twin Falls made ineffectual attempts to score for five innings, Watson being the only local to reach second base.

Best Chance Flyovers.

The big inning for Cosgriff's men was in the sixth when Ostrander reached the bases when Howard lost his usual control and walked. Bellamy and sent Watson to first with a fast ball aimed at the catcher's head. The latter pulled the ball and batted it. This populated the bases for the locals with two men out. Richardson came to the plate and the fans asked for nothing less than a home run and as a result got a strikeout which ended the Blues' best bet on the scoring end.

Two singles in the eighth gave the Blues another false hope when Simmons with next throw caught both runners between second and third.

Satisfaction over the game, the umpires and the time of the game was generally expressed and the only thing to mar the afternoon occurred in the eighth frame when Lebrass laid down a beautiful bunt along the first-base line. Apparently the pitcher and first baseman thought the same way, each depending upon the other and as a result Lebrass reached first without an effort and some highly colored words passed between Howard and American Falls' heavy hitter, who left the field. Speedy peace negotiations were effected, however, and the war in the enemy's camp was postponed until the end of the game. The box score follows:

TWIN FALLS TO MEET BUHL IN SEVEN WEEK SERIES OF CONTESTS

Twilight Baseball Between Grays and Blues to Open Wednesday on Buhl Diamond; Teams Evenly Matched.

The Blue and Gray reunion will be staged at weekly intervals during the next two months it was announced Monday by manager Cosgriff, who declares that contest which will be held will be staged during that time when Buhl and Twin Falls will engage in a twilight series of seven inning games.

The first of these games is scheduled for Wednesday evening on Ferris field in Buhl, with alternate game to be played on the local lot.

Long standing rivalry of the two towns seems likely to bring about one of the most interesting series of the season as the two teams are equally matched and capable of a high grade of baseball.

POCATELLIANS TAKE SMALL END OF SCORE

Grissold's Team Gets First Victory Away from Bears with 5-4 Count. Home Runs Feature.

BUHL, July 14.—The second game of the Buhl-Pocatellian series resulted in a defeat for the Bears, breaking their unbroken chain of victories.

Grissold's men playing hard ball drove in five runs while the visitors were managing four points, held a double contest which also figured for Sunday's contest of the Buhl lot.

Pocatellians took the lead early with their heavy hitting stunt and held the upper hand until the seventh inning when Fuller poked out a home run and tied the score 3 all. Another homer for Buhl in the eighth scored two more men and gave Buhl the game.

Crafty bunting was resorted to by Pocatellians in the ninth inning, when with a man on second the third base coach drew a wild throw from the field by pretending to run home. This allowed the visitors to score a fourth run across the plate, not enough to tie the score, however.

KIMBERLY TAKES SLOW GAME FROM SUGARMEN

Jarman, sugar factory pitcher, proved to be an easy mark for Kimberly batters, who won the game, which the home team took with a 15-3 count.

Thompson, pitching for the Kimberly nine, found no trouble in baffling the visitors and held them to three runs while the locals were piling up an enviable score.

Rugged fielding and slow baseball characterized the entire contest.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR ADOPTING DAWES REPORT

There will be more than 150 delegates, experts and advisers present when the British prime minister welcomes them to the conference and hears the responses of the leading plenipotentiaries.

France, Belgium and Japan will be represented at the conference table by several delegates. Ambassador Kellogg will be the only accredited representative of the United States but throughout the deliberations Colonel Jan can be seen from New York where he was nominated by the democrats as the running mate for John W. Davis, the party candidate for the presidency.

Laying aside partisan politics for the time being, residents of Omaha where the government has a time clock donated a cigar store, and of Lincoln, where he served as mayor and city commissioner, gave him an enthusiastic welcome in which thousands participated.

Mayor Frank Zollinger of this city, a republican, voiced the sentiment of the occasion when, in presenting the governor to the crowd of men, women and children gathered on the front lawn of the executive mansion, estimated to number about 1,000, he said that the nomination of his fellow citizen had brought out the people and their government.

Responding, Mr. Bryan told his audience that the "respect you have shown for the high position for which one of the great parties has nominated me, is a fair indication of the spirit of the American people and their government." He declined, however, to discuss national politics, saying that he could make no statement on that subject until he had been formally notified of his nomination. He added that he would request that the formal notification take place in Lincoln.

Round of Falculation

From the time Mr. Bryan stepped from the train that carried him from Chicago, his day was one round of calculations. Several thousands of persons were at the depot to cheer him while many others who lined the flag-decorated streets, joined in the welcoming home, as a parade that followed the governor's car made its way to the executive mansion, where he was greeted by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Ernest Harnsberger of Ashland, Neb.

Governor Bryan told his friends and neighbors he was glad to get back upon the porch to shake hands and to home and then invited them to come greet his wife and daughter. The hundreds readily responded while officers of the Nebraska national guard kept the crowd in an orderly line as they filed by to extend their congratulations personally.

LINCOLN GIVES BRYAN WELCOME

Nebraska Capital Stages Rousing Reception for Returning Governor-Nominee.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 14. (P)—Governor Charles Bryan tonight was ready to resume the tasks of the governorship tomorrow, following a day given over to a rousing reception by fellow Nebraskans who welcomed him from New York where he was nominated by the democrats as the running mate for John W. ## FOREST FIRES RAGING IN FOUR CALIFORNIA FORESTS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14 (AP)—Fires rage in four national forests today and in the privately owned timber lands of Washington. In the Tahoe national forest a call for help was made as the situation was reported critical and reinforcements were necessary. Four hundred men have been on the firing line.

Three series fires were "running wild" in the Santa Barbara national forest reserve, according to telephone message from the fire rangers' headquarters. The flames were being driven by a high wind and the fire fighters were baffled by the intense heat. Good timber was reported burning.

The Sierra national forest and the Sequoia national forest blaze, while still considered dangerous, were said to be under control. In Washington the Stevens county fire was out of control with flames along a six-mile front and the Pend d'Oreille county blaze had burned over 2,000 acres. A rain in Oregon aided the fire-fighters in controlling the blazes in the state.

THOUSAND MEN FIGHTING FIRES IN SISKIYOU FOREST

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 14 (AP)—Approximately 1000 men are fighting fires sweeping through heavily timbered sections of Siskiyou county tonight. Efforts are being concentrated in an effort to keep the flames from spreading down the mountain sides into the valley settlements.

There are 15 or 20 fires penetrating into the vast forest domains of the central and northern Siskiyou regions, including the famous Scott's valley, principal agricultural section of the country, said reports reaching here tonight.

Nearly half of the fighters have been concentrated on the flames burning in the vicinity of Mount Shasta city, where is located the summer school of the Chico state teachers college. This fire was reported under control several days ago but gained a fresh start. Opposing it are students, loggers, tourists and campers. Several other small towns also are in the fire-threatened area.

Fire fighters tonight predicted that the flames would be checked within another day but said that serious damage already had been done to virgin timber and sawed logs in the milling districts.

DAVIS CONSULTS WITH DEMOCRATIC CHIEFTAINS

Puts Off Announcement of Campaign Plans Until After Notification Ceremonial to Take Place at Birthplace.

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, spent today conferring with party leaders from various states, preparatory to writing his address of acceptance which will formally open his campaign and reveal the tactics he will follow.

While the nominee has not announced any of his plans in detail it was learned that the notification ceremony would be held in Clarksville, W. Va., his birthplace. The date is likely to be about July 28.

Senator R. L. Owen of Oklahoma, author of the federal reserve bill called upon the nominee today to urge upon him the importance of emphasizing charges of the republican party's responsibility for the recent currency deflation which, according to Senator Owen, "broke the heart of the west."

Published reports to the effect that the chairmanship of the national committee had been offered to Clem Shaver of Clarksville, who was chiefly responsible for Mr. Davis' pre-nomination campaign were denied today by the nominee, who said he had refused the post to no one as yet.

Much-Traveled Bottles.

Knowledge of the direction and speed of ocean currents is of great importance to navigators. Since it is very difficult to measure these directly the United States hydrographic office accomplishes it approximately by means of what are known as "bottle papers." These are small paper slips with directions for their return to the proper authorities printed in the principal languages of civilization. They are given to vessel captains, sealed in bottles, and thrown overboard with the time and place they were put over noted on them. After months or years they come back to Washington. One drifted nearly across the Atlantic and back. Another made a dash across the widest part of the Pacific, taking more than two years, another dropped near the Cape of Good Hope, was picked up on the west coast of Australia.

The Human Hair.

The length of life of the hair varies with age, sex, character of hair and individual peculiarities. Each hair has its determined length of life, and this is not the same for every hair of the same sort. The rate of growth, especially in young women, is from 2 to 6 mm., or about 1/4 to 1/2 inch, during each of the first ten days of growth, or about 3/4 to 1 inch a month. When it reaches a length of 10 to 12 inches its rate of growth is reduced one-half and later toward the end of the normal life its increase is hardly perceptible.

The New Electric Rates

Established by the Public Utilities Commission of Idaho for the Idaho Power Company

The prevailing rates for electric service, which have been established by the Public Utilities Commission, have equalized the cost for the same service in all communities of southern Idaho, and give customers served by the Idaho Power Company, the lowest rates for electric service charged by any utility in Idaho.

In December, 1923, the commission said that the Idaho Power Company was entitled to a small increase in rates amounting to 1 3/4 per cent, but the rates that have been established by the commission have resulted in an actual reduction in the average rate received by this company during the first four months after the new rates became effective, as shown by the following figures:

Price received by this company during the months of March, April, May and June, 1923, under the OLD RATES; for all current sold in Idaho

1.45 Cents Per Kilo-Watt Hour

Price received during the months of March, April, May and June, 1924, under the NEW RATES, for all current sold in Idaho

1.44 Cents Per Kilo-Watt Hour

This result does not show the complete effect of the NEW RATES as sufficient time has not elapsed to show the effect on seasonal service, but is published at this time so that the public can be informed of the results to date.

In an effort to make the meat inspection department more nearly self supporting an amendment to the present ordinance governing fees charged for inspecting and slaughtering cattle and hogs was ordered drawn up at the regular weekly meeting of Twin Falls city council held Monday night at the city hall. Under the plan proposed an increase of 15 cents on the inspection fee for hogs will be made which will make the cost of having each hog inspected 25 cents. A charge of 50 cents per head will also be made for inspecting cattle for slaughter.

The resignation of W. C. McPherson as sanitary inspector which was tendered some time ago was accepted at the meeting to take effect July 15. During the interim between his leaving and obtaining a man for this work effort will be made to get a local man to take over the task temporarily. It was also decided at the time to give fifteen dollars until August 1 to come to the city hall and see the board of health. The board is already paying maintenance charges on this water. It was pointed out that it could get part of its expenses back through the city's maintenance cost to the property owner.

An ordinance was also ordered drawn up by City Attorney A. J. Myers, defining duties of each of the commissioners and the mayor. This will be passed at the next council meeting. Bills allowing the city to accept 60 shares of the Idaho Vista district school of the city. The city is already paying maintenance charges on this water. ## TWIN FALLS HARDWARE STORE CHANGES HANDS

Shipman Brothers and W. O. Wyckoff Purchase Interest of M. E. Jensen; in Business Nine Years in City.

W. C. Wyckoff and C. R. and W. O. Shipman have purchased the Twin Falls Hardware company in the Johnson building on Main street from M. E. Jensen who has been head of that store for the last nine years in this city. Still retaining the Crozier Truck company which was recently purchased by the Shipman Brothers, C. R. Shipman and Mr. Wyckoff will have charge of the hardware store and W. O. Shipman will continue as the active head of the transfer company.

Both Mr. Shipman and Mr. Wyckoff have had considerable experience in mercantile business and plan upon enlarging the already large stock of the hardware store. Mr. Jensen's plans so far as can be learned call for retiring from active business and of taking care of his large land holdings on the north and south sides of the Twin Falls tract.

But one owner, and that that store on the street has been made by the hardware firm since its establishment here nine years ago.

Passing tourists going to the same place having an extra place invited him to ride. In this manner and for the rest of having the sign painted on his back he has come this far by his journey, having walked all told but 10 miles. He called at the Chamber of Commerce and announced his intention of leaving this morning for Boise. Going from there to Weiser and then on into Oregon and Washington. He declared that he had traveled all over the United States this way.
