Ten Nations in Conference Voice Hope Americans Will Be Able to Settle Europe's Reparations Problem.

LONDON, July 16 (AP)—The importance with which the European powers view America's participation in the inter-allied conference on German reparations was clearly indicated today during the deliberations of the delegates of ten nations, when the British prime minister, Ramsay MacDonald, formally welcomed at the foreign office.

Mr. MacDonald extended a special welcome to the American representatives, Ambassador Kellogg and Colonel James A. Logan, Jr. He remarked that America's mind illumined the Davaos report, which brought the delegates together, and he hoped that the Americans, although only officially spectators, would be able to help the Europeans out of the deadlock and the reparations negotiations of the past six years.

Seek Sans Ranc.

The members of the other delegations likewise voiced the view that the presence of the Americans was likely to materially aid in bringing about an allied agreement that would make the Davaos plan workable, thereby placing reparations on a sane and reasonable basis satisfactory to the allies and acceptable to Germany.

Plenipotentiaries representing Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy, Japan, Portugal, Greece, Rumania, and Liberia, together with representatives of the United States, were seated around the table when Premier MacDonald made his welcome address. After remarks by various delegates, technical committees were named to formulate an agenda upon the basis of the Franco-British communiqué of July 10. The committee will continue their work tomorrow morning after which a second plenary session of the conference will be held.

Domination Got Representation.

The British dominions tomorrow probably will add their own voice to the conference, the question of dominion representation having been the first misunderstanding to occur in relation to the conference. Negotiations have been proceeding between the colonial office and the various dominion representatives in London and it is understood that the question has been settled to the satisfaction of Ireland and Canada which demanded a representative of their own if they were to be bound by the conference's decisions.

WOOL RIDING LACKS VOLUME

BOSTON, July 16 (AP)—Although the wool market is much improved no large volume of bidding has developed. So far, suitable for the American industry continued to move quite regularly. Pooled wools are showing considerable activity. Crossbred wool is being put in fair volume. Western growers it is estimated still have 25 per cent of the season's clip.

Davis Leaves New York Without Reaching Decision; Confers With Bryan.

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—John W. Davis, democratic presidential nominee, spent several hours with political advisers today but when he left for his home in Loudon Valley, Long Island, in the afternoon, it was said that he had reached no decision as to his choice for campaign manager or a national committee chairman.

It was learned that Mr. Davis is consulting with his running mate, Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, with regard to the campaign and that consultations which have been conducted by telephone have not been concluded.

The democratic standard-bearer also conferred with Clem Slater of West Virginia, Governor Silzer of New Jersey, David F. Houston and others. He announced he was severing all legal and "business" connections. To this end he notified his law partners, that he was withdrawing from the firm of Watson, Jennings, Russell and Davis. He also resigned his directorates in the Atholton, Topock and Santa Fe railways, the United States Rubber company and the National Bank of Commerce of New York.

EL PASO, July 16 (AP)—Meager reports of a battle between federal troops and police in Chihuahua as an aftermath of the recent elections, were strengthened Wednesday morning when it was reported that telephone lines between Juarez and Chihuahua City had been cut.

A serious clash between the troops and police in Chihuahua City was reported a few days ago by the timely information of several shots were fired.

FIRE SWEEPING
BOISE FOREST

Fifty-Five Men Fighting Flames
Now Out of Control in Central Idaho Reserve.

BOISE, July 16 (AP)—A forest fire, fanned by a high wind, was entirely out of control Wednesday on the Boise national forest, seven miles above Layman, near the town of Burley, according to a report received at the forestry office here. A force of 55 men was reported fighting the flames and more men being prepared to be rushed to the scene. Boise forest warden said Wednesday it is the largest fire of the season, and considerable apprehension was felt as to the extent of damage that might result.

FOREST FIRES RAGING IN

FOUR WESTERN STATES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16 (AP)—Four states, California, Oregon, Nevada and the Pacific coast, and the province of British Columbia, continued to be visited by forest fires today and reports indicated that many of the fires were out of control. The fires in the state of Oregon and the province of British Columbia were placed under control either by fire fighters or heavy rains. In California, forest fires were burning in several areas of great destruction while in the Sierra national forest the flames were subdued after having swept a circular area 12 miles in circumference. Two hundred men were engaged on this fire. The Tahoe national forest advanced 5 1/2 miles and destroyed 75 cattle and a saddle horse which were on the range. In the same forest was being held in check.

High Wind Rekindles Flames.

Reports circulated as to the Santa Barbara national forest fire, although the latest word received here by the federal forest service indicated that 200 men on the fire line greatly exhausted by fighting a blaze that was being defied by the wind. The fire in the Bull Run section of the Sequoia national forest broke out anew because of a high wind but it was expected that it might be brought under control by nightfall. Fighting started 12 fires in the Klamath national forest in the last 24 hours but most of them were extinguished.

Eastern Washington and northern Idaho forest fires today were destroyed by fires in the Fond O'Radle river valley, Washington and near Kellogg, Idaho, and a fire was burning near the town of Buhl toward the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines. A fire on Flag creek in the St. Joe river valley, Idaho, had spread over four sections of valuable timber. Its progress was so rapid the fire fighters' camp and supplies were consumed. Western Washington fires were extinguished by a rain last night.

Eight hundred emergency fire fighters were placed in the forests by the federal officials, hoping to check the fires in western Montana and northern Idaho which had spread over several thousand additional acres the last two days.

Large fires on the slopes of the McManis and Carver mountains, south of Revolt, Idaho, were placed under control but the big fire at Bonad resulted in the killing of more fire fighters.

GERMANY LIFTS EMBARGO ON

FLOUR AND GRAIN PRODUCTS

BERLIN, July 16 (AP)—The embargo on German grain flour and grain products has been removed by a decree of the ministry of agriculture which, however, promises to curb the export of these products if "it assumes alarming proportions."

The government justifies its action by pointing out the difficulties of the farmers who are unable to dispose of their products at home.

The Vorwärts attacks the government's measure as communistic and says it will result in raising the price of home-grown grain under world market prices to world prices. The newspaper says, will work grave hardship to the German workers.

GRAIN PRICES
TOUGH NEW TOP
MARK FOR YEAR

Wheat, Corn and Oats Smash
Season High Record; Hog
Values Advance; Volume of Trading Greatest in Months.

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—It was a red letter day for high prices today in every grain pit on "change." Influenced chiefly by crop failure reports from Canada, wheat, corn and oats all soared above top record quotations this year. Even hog values at the stock yards felt the effect and smashed the season top record.

Although official figures on the volume of trading were unavailable tonight, opinions from brokers were that the aggregate of wheat transactions today in Chicago equaled or perhaps exceeded yesterday's total, which was computed at 69,138,000 bushels. The largest amount on record in more than a year. Corn business done here today was also of mammoth proportions.

The climax in the wheat pit today was reached just before the market closed and was largely due to Winnipeg dispatches received by one of the principal grain firms here declaring that the crop damage situation in Canada was such as to warrant predicting $1.50 as the probable price goal of wheat.

One of the most significant developments in the wheat situation was an announcement that demand for newly harvested wheat in the United States had become so active that half the receipts at Minneapolis were sold as far away as Oklahoma. It was noted that most of the new wheat arriving in Minneapolis was going direct to the mills.

In this connection, the fact was pointed out that wheat prices at Kansas City practically duplicated the action of the market in Chicago, and jumped five cents a bushel.

COTTON TRADERS GET SCARE

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Alarmed over increasing reports of damage in the southwest from heat and drought, cotton traders started a buying movement today which whirled prices fully $4.50 a bale over the previous night's close. At its high point of $25.95, the cotton was just $11 a bale above the low level of two weeks ago, partly owing to the arrival here today of 1500 bales from Bremen, to apply on delivery, the July contract did not respond fully to the strength of the new crop positions. The market closed a little down from the top but still 35 to 71 points higher.

State's Attorney Is Told Leopold and Loeb Planned to Hold Parents for Ransom.

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, whose trial for the kidnapping and murder of young Robert Franks will open in a few weeks, planned to abduct their fathers for ransom, according to information brought to the state's attorney's office today. They had also planned to make Thomas Loeb, 10-year-old brother of Richard, their victim.

Both plans, however, were rejected when flaws appeared, the informant stated. Loeb's father was ill and could not have been kidnapped without serious danger of detection, while in the case of Mr. Leopold, the youths believed that the fact that Mr. Leopold was dead would make it more difficult for them to exact ransom from other members of the family.

President Hears Promise of Strong Support in Nebraska and California.

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—President Coolidge's conference with William M. Butler, chairman of the republican-national committee, to map out further the immediate republican campaign plans was postponed today until early next week.

The postponement of the conference with his campaign manager will afford Mr. Coolidge further opportunity to gather reports on the political situation in various states. He was furnished with summaries on the situation in five states today through the most extensive series of political conferences in many days at the White House. The president's political advisers included Raymond Benjamin of San Francisco, who was state chairman in California for six years prior to 1922 and who had general charge of republican activities in that state, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and Idaho in the 1920 campaign. Representative Vane, a republican leader in Pennsylvania; Carmie Thompson, one of the Coolidge prevention campaign managers and a party leader in Ohio; Senator Brandegee of Connecticut and Representative McLaughlin of Nebraska.

All the president's callers said they presented hopeful reports to the nominee.

Destroyers Seek in Vain

Countrymen in the Orient
Voice Confidence of Aviator's
Safety; Offer Possible Explanations of Absence.

TOKIO, July 16 (AP)—Japanese destroyers have not yet found trace of a British aviator, the British aviator, and his companions, who left Yokohama early yesterday morning for Paramashiru island, Kuriles, a flight of 450 miles. British officials, however, do not believe the aviators are in any danger.

It is thought probable that they may have landed at Broughton bay, Shimushu island, one of the smaller Kuriles group, about half way between Yeforofu and Paramashiru. Lieutenant Colonel L. G. Bromme, who blazed the trail for McLaren and who accompanied him on his latest flight, laid a supply base at Broughton bay in case of necessity.

Two Boats in Search

The Japanese destroyer Isokaze has searched as far north as Shimushu without finding any trace of the aviators. The destroyer Isokaze, which was awaiting McLaren at Paramashiru, is making a search of the Kuriles from the north.

The officers of the destroyers report that the weather is cloudy but there is no wind.

HOUSE OF DAVID "KING"
MUST RESTORE $20,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 16 (AP)—Benjamin Purnell, "king" of the House of David, must pay to John Hanel and wife of Grand Rapids, Mich., $20,000, the United States circuit court of appeals ruled today in upholding the decision of the southern district court of Michigan.

Hanel and his wife became members of Purnell's House of David in 1912 and then turned over $20,000 in property when they joined his alleged religious colony. They quit the organization in 1920 and brought suit to recover the property and also payment for labor. They contended that the House of David was not a religious organization, but a financial scheme organized and operated by Purnell for his personal profit.

The federal court previously had issued a decree dissolving the House of David, which gained much notoriety in the Michigan courts when witnesses testified of immoral practices of the colony of which Purnell was "king."

United States Globe-Circling
Flyers, Two-Thirds Over the Course, Cross Channel in a Storm to London.

LONDON, July 16 (AP)—Six bronzed American birdmen, 244 flying hours out of Seattle and with two-thirds of the world's circumference behind them, glistened in the English channel just outside of London this afternoon ready for their first real rest on the round the globe flight and for a week of preparation for their final dash across the Atlantic via Iceland and Greenland. They left the Lebeqer airport, outside Paris at 11:05 a'clock this morning, fought headwinds all the way across the English channel but the journey from the continent in otherwise perfect flying condition and landed at the British airbase just three hours and four minutes later to be greeted by a crowd of enthusiasts who warmly embraced them as they climbed stiffly from their cockpits.

Through the planes will go to engines and for a general tightening up process before they hop off some time next week for Kirkwall in the Orkneys, the last European stop.

As the planes approached, Mrs. Stuart McLaren, wife of the British round-the-world flyer, excited as a school girl, watched the machines anxiously and whispered to a companion: "It's wonderful but I wish it were my husband coming home." She was one of the first to congratulate Lieutenant Lowell L. Smith, the American commander, who landed out of the fuselage of his plane and gave her a word of good cheer about her husband.

There was an informal reception when the aviators landed. Frederick H. Stedje, owner of the Los Angeles embassy and Major Davidson represented the embassy. Mr. Sterling presenting a letter from Ambassador Kellogg who could not be present because of the opening of the reparations conference.

SHEEPMEN ARE OPTIMISTIC

CASPER, Wyo., July 16 (AP)—A spirit of optimism prevailed among sheepmen at the twenty-first annual convention of the Wyoming Wool Growers association which opened a three-day session here Tuesday. In speaking of the future wool market, Dr. J. M. Wilson, president of the association, of McKinley, said:

"I believe the future of the wool market for a period of years is better than it has been since we have had the large sheep industry in Wyoming."

Officers of the National Wool Growers association were scheduled to address the convention Wednesday.

The convention went on record as being in favor of a constitutional amendment providing a direct levy for production and destruction and voted to ask the state legislature to provide a fund of $75,000 to be used for this purpose.

WHEELER WON'T
SUPPORT DAVIS

Montana Senator Promises His Vote to LaFollette but Will not be Running Mate.

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Senator Wheeler, democratic Montana, will not support John W. Davis, the democratic presidential nominee.

Announcing this decision today Mr. Wheeler, who directed the senate inquiry into former Attorney General Daugherty's administration, said: "I intended, however, to support the democratic state ticket in Montana and work for the reelection of Senator Walsh."

On his own vote, Senator Wheeler said it "likely will be cast for Senator LaFollette." He declared, however, that he would not accept that the LaFollette ticket if it endorsed as a vice presidential candidate a former friend.

In a brief statement outlining his intentions, Mr. Wheeler said that when the democratic nominee is elected "is the attorney for the principal interests of Wall Street, I can not and will not support him."

Senator Wheeler's announcement was accepted by LaFollette supporters as definitely eliminating him from the field.

LOW PRICE FOR WOOL FOUND IN CLOTHING COST

Department of Agriculture Gives Results of Study of Paradoxical Situation; Supplies Short; Price Low.

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—In its effort to determine the reason for the present low price of raw wool in the face of reduced wool supplies and decrease in the number of sheep in the principal wool producing countries of the world, the department of agriculture has found clothing prices too high.

"All branches of the textile and clothing trade regard clothing prices as too high," says the department, "but each feels that economies can best be effected by the others. Retailers feel that any reduction must take place in the manufacturer's selling price. The clothing manufacturer contends that the present wage scale makes it impossible to effect economies in production costs. Some of the clothing manufacturers and wholesale dealers feel that more efficient organization in the retail trade would bring about lower clothing prices."

Raw Wool Minor Factor

Raw wool is a comparatively small factor in the price of clothing the department adds, an all wool suit averaging about five pounds of wool, and the difference between a high priced and a low priced suit being mostly in the quality of the linings and bindings, and the labor used in making the cloth and the suit.

"The present low price of raw wool can not continue in the face of reduced supplies, unless a radical change takes place in the consumption of woollen clothing by the American public," the department states. "American wool growers are receiving 20 cents a pound less for their wool now than a year ago, despite low world stocks, decreased imports during the last ten months and a decrease in the number of sheep in the principal wool producing countries of the world."

Many Explanations Given

Curtailed buying of woollen goods and clothing because of high prices, backward seasons, high rents, changes in style of women's wear, two pant suits, and increased use of silk and cotton goods have been advanced by the trade as the reasons why the price of raw wool are under those of a year ago, despite the American import tariff on wool.

"The price of raw wool in London is approximately 10 cents a pound lower than the London price plus import duty resulting in decreased imports and the re-exporting of large quantities of foreign wools imported into the United States and held in bonds. Total wool imports into the United States in the ten months ended April 30, 1924 were 200,000,000 pounds as compared with 430,000,000 pounds the corresponding months a year ago."

Runaway Cashier Fatally Wounded by Posse Member

Wyoming Coal Company's $6,000 Payroll Found Near Where Fugitive Falls.

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., July 16 (AP)—Clyde N. Fisher, cashier of the Gunn County Coal company here, who disappeared yesterday morning at the time the semi-monthly payroll of the company vanished, was shot and fatally wounded early this morning by J. Walker, mine foreman and friend of Fisher. He died a few hours later without making a statement.

Walker, who was one of several who had been searching for Fisher soon after the disappearance of the mine payroll, encountered the cashier a few miles from town about 1 o'clock this morning. Called upon to throw up his hands, Fisher is said to have complied by raising one hand. The other, in which he carried an object, remained at his side. Walker, declaring he believed Fisher had a revolver, opened fire, and the cashier fell to the ground. Walker approached and found that the object in the man's hand was a water bottle. Fisher was taken to a hospital where he died.

Search of the vicinity where the shooting occurred revealed a cache of food, water and blankets, also the entire amount of the payroll, more than $6000, with which Fisher is alleged to have fled after obtaining it from a bank.

Fisher, according to police and mine posse officials, dashed from the bank with the payroll and escaped in an automobile shortly before noon yesterday. Posse on horseback and in automobiles were soon in pursuit. Two airplanes from a flying circus here were pressed into service and for several hours they circled overhead in an unsuccessful effort to locate the fleeing cashier. Early last night Fisher's abandoned automobile was discovered several miles from town.

Fisher had been in the company's employ six years. He leaves a widow and two children, who, acquaintances here say, live in Iowa.

3 1/3¢ a meal for Electric Cooking

Isn't it almost unbelievable that an average meal for an average family can be cooked electrically for 3 1-3 cents?—yet this was the average amount paid during the month of May, 1924, by the 5098 Idaho Power customers who use electric ranges for cooking.

The Average Amount Paid for Electric Cooking During the Month of May by 5098 Range Customers - Was $3.14

This was even lower than the average amount paid by 4990 customers during the month of April, which was $3.23. The average rate per Kw. H. of 2 1/2 cents is a much lower cooking rate than that which prevailed in more than 6000 other communities in the United States.

Why Dread Warm Weather Cooking

There is every possible advantage to Electric Cooking and none of the objectionable features connected with other methods. Your kitchen is as clean and cool as any other room in the house. All the work and nuisance of handling coal, ashes, matches and kindling fires is eliminated. Just a snap of the switch gives you instant heat.

Actual figures prove beyond doubt that Electric Cooking is also MORE ECONOMICAL than other methods, as well as being more efficient. Once you have used an electric range, you will wonder how you ever did without it.

Come in today and see the many beautiful models we feature. There's a style, size and price to meet your requirements.

FISH AND GAME OFFICIALS HERE

R. E. Thomas, State Game Warden, and W. M. Kaeli, Fish Commissioner, in City.

R. E. Thomas, state game warden, and W. M. Kaeli, state fish commissioner, arrived in Twin Falls Tuesday evening on their way overland from Boise to Henry's lake, where they will aid in getting a field station for the transplanting of cutthroat trout fish eggs from there to the fish hatcheries near Ashton.

Mr. Thomas and Mr. Kaeli, who was appointed the first of the year by Governor Moore to succeed George Isaac of Pocatello, who resigned, arrived too late to attend a meeting of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association held at the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening.

It was at the instance of a letter sent out by Mr. Thomas that action of voting to close the sagehen and grouse season in southern Idaho was taken. Speaking of the damage that has been done this year through the shortage of water and through the small amount of snow which fell last winter, Mr. Thomas declared that not only has the shortage of water been bad for game birds, but also for other game.

Fish, too, have suffered this year from the shortage of water, said Mr. Kaeli, and many letters have been received asking for the closing of more than 100 streams to fishermen. The condition is such in many instances so little water is available that fish may be gathered in all sizes.

Speaking of the necessity for saving sagehen and grouse from slaughter this year, due to the large numbers which will surround waterholes, Mr. Thomas declared that if the season was "not closed" and "not spring should come on next year, the sagehen and grouse would be almost entirely exterminated, where if the season is closed this year, there will be plenty of birds.

The situation this fall will be good for duck hunting and for pheasant hunting, said Mr. Thomas, lack of water will make better duck hunting and should result almost in a hunters' paradise and still not do great damage to this class of birds. Pheasant too are in evidence in numbers, promising plenty of good shooting.

Mr. Thomas and Mr. Kaeli expect to be gone from Boise for two weeks and to stop for a while at the hatcheries of Idaho Falls, Pocatello, Blackfoot and Maing. At Blackfoot they will attend a meeting with the fish committee of the K. of P. lodge there concerning the distributing of fish.

RESENTED BY COUNTRYMEN

MAYENCE, Germany, July 16 (AP)—When an Algerian soldier of the French occupation forces fell into the Rhine near here recently he was saved by Fritz Werner, a German, who soon afterward was decorated with a medal for bravery by the French authorities.

The newspapers of unoccupied Germany have given Werner a good deal of space, and several writers suggest that he had better continue to make his home on the "other side of the Rhine," and not intrude upon the soil of Germany proper "if he knows what is good for himself."

COUNTY TO HAVE NAMES OF 30 ON BRONZE TABLET

Twin Falls County Soldiers and Sailors Killed in World War Are to Be Honored in Memorial Planned.

MOSCOW, July 16.—Names of 30 Twin Falls county soldiers and sailors who lost their lives in the world war are to be cast in bronze as a part of the permanent record to be preserved in the war memorial armory and gymnasium to be erected on the University of Idaho campus, according to Paul Davis, director of the Idaho War Memorial association.

These names, published by the memorial association and the American Legion, are taken from war department records.

"We feel that this list is not complete," says Mr. Davis, "and that some names are missing. We would, therefore, appreciate the co-operation of every person and all civic, fraternal, religious and other organizations in helping us to secure the correct name of every man who gave his life for his country. It is imperative that this list contain the correct name, as it is our purpose to cast the entire list in bronze for the 'hall of memories' in the Idaho war memorial. For further information or for the purpose of correcting any name or adding additional ones, write to the Idaho Memorial association, box 1521, Boise, Idaho."

TO ENGLAND FOR LAW

Four hundred members of the American Bar Association have left for England to attend an international bar convention in London.

It is a good thing that those lawyers go and talk things over with their professional brethren in England. It may be a good thing for their country, too. They will undoubtedly be impressed with the simpler, more direct and more effective court procedure of England, especially in criminal cases.

The two countries started even in the theory and practice of law. Our American law is based upon the English common law. There was a time when American administration of justice was much improved over the British system. Court procedure was pretty effective and satisfactory in this country when England still had its Star Chamber delays. Then somehow law in each country seemed to develop in the opposite direction. In the last century England has greatly simplified its judicial methods and expedited justice, by emphasizing essentials, while America has developed a judicial system that is complex, technical and dilatory beyond any in history.

It is an old maxim that "justice delayed is justice denied." Thousands of Americans have justice thus denied right along, in civil suits, because they lack money or patience to see them through the long series of trials, retrials, appeals, reversals, etc. Communities over and over again have justice thus denied because technical and frivolous objections are allowed to interfere with the punishment of guilty criminals. In this matter, at least, America should not be too proud to learn from present-day England.

TREE PLANTERS

If the whole country had the tree planting zeal of a few individuals, there would be no fear for the future of the forests or the timber supply of the United States. Legislators would feel the urge of that zeal and would enact constructive laws for reforestation and conservation. Farmers would feel the urge and would restore growing trees to their cut over woodlands. City dwellers would be so to it that streets were lined with trees and that park trees were carefully guarded against destructive insects or fire hazards.

THE HEAD OF THE AMERICAN TREE ASSOCIATION

as part of his effort to increase public interest in tree planting, has been hunting for the champion tree planter of the United States. He has discovered T. C. Luther of Mechanicsville, N. Y., who plants about four hundred thousand trees a year. Far from resting on his past accomplishments in this line, Mr. Luther seeks to improve his record and plant five hundred thousand trees this year.

If five hundred thousand individuals who have never planted a tree in their lives would agree to plant one sapling this year in appreciation of Mr. Luther's larger efforts, real progress would be made in spreading the gospel of the tree.

A little girl, not so many years ago, found a tiny maple seedling with the little wing not yet fallen from the sprouting seed. She took it to her mother, who planted the wee thing near the back porch. The child is a young woman today and the little maple has grown into a graceful and shade-giving tree which reaches well up toward the sky.

My Husband is Always Claiming for "Home-Made" Things.

He says that we're living in the delicate period of human civilization, and that if he explores a thousand years from now, find a cat opener or a piece of old paper they'll have the key to our whole way of living.

He's continually telling me how tired he is of canned soup and grocery store potato-chips—and bakers' rolls. He always orders three helpings of them, of course, but he never misses the opportunity to tell how inferior he thinks they are.

"Why when I was living at home we had all these things made right in the house," he explains over and over again, "and home-made bread and home-made cookies and home-made preserves and home-made—"

And so on!

He's a great believer in home industry, all right. He doesn't stop to figure out that if I made all these things he talks about, I'd be putting in a 12-hour day in the kitchen.

He forgets that I'm a housewife, not a manufacturer!

HANSEN

HANSEN—Mrs. Earl Hendler and daughters, Maxine and Shirley of Kimbely, are guests at the home of Mrs. M. C. Weaver this week.

Mrs. H. W. Omelchuk of Twin Falls visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Will Comer, the first of the week.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Caton on Thursday, July 10.

Mr. and Mrs. James of Marquette and May Arbuthnot visited Friday at the home of Mrs. Martha Bryant, Miss Arbuthnot is a niece of Mrs. Bryant.

Mrs. R. A. Foster has been on the sick list the past week.

W. R. Bollen of Gooding, district organizer of southern Idaho of club work for boys and girls, was here over Sunday and gave an interesting talk before the regular church services on Sunday morning in which he related the value of club work for Idaho boys and girls.

He stated that he had made arrangements to have a demonstrator for girls' work here some time in August.

Harry Breen left the last of the week for Pocatello, where he has secured employment.

Rich, from came down from Twin Falls, Idaho, for a two days' visit at the home of Mrs. Collette.

Judge Hansen was calling on old friends in town Friday and attended chautauqua.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hoffman and Mr. and Mrs. John Riley and son, all of Idaho, are visiting at the homes of the latter families.

The chautauqua which closed in Hansen Tuesday was a success from every point of view. Interest increased as the program progressed from Friday until Tuesday and the people of this community felt nothing interfere with their attendance and support of the splendid program. The quarters report that the financial part of the chautauqua was all net without any one having to put in but $3 each and that is better than any year previous.

Church services on Sunday morning were held in the big chautauqua tent where they were attended by a large crowd.

Music was furnished by the community chorus and Miss Genevieve Gilbert sang, "A Tree," which was followed by a reading of Edgar Guest's beautiful poem, "It Takes a Heap of Living," by Roseth Knapp Brad. The Rev. Tom Haggard gave a forceful address on his two main objectives, property destruction and moral decay.

UNUSUAL ZOO VISIT

Billie Brownie was invited to pay a visit to a zoo, which made him very much pleased.

He was always pleased when he received these invitations. And those in Brownie and Fairland were pleased, too, because they knew that Billie would come back and tell them all the news.

First of all he saw the True Sea Snake.

"I'm a poisonous snake," he told Billie Brownie. "Oh yes, indeed, I'm poisonous."

He seemed quite proud of this fact. "I might as well be poisonous. It's safer this way. And that was what the first True Sea Snake or True Sea Snake thought, too."

"So this is the family custom. It would not be my place to change this custom."

"Nor would it have been the place

"We like being poisonous, too. It is a means of protection to us."

"I can understand that," agreed Billie Brownie. "Aren't you, rather unusual?" he asked. "I've never seen you before."

"I am one of the first to be in a zoo," he said. "In fact I may be the only one. But of this I am not sure."

"I am supposed to be quite interesting and the people in the zoo are all quite excited about having me here."

The Highgrader

He restrained himself no longer. Mirth passed in rich laughter from his throat, doubled him up, shook him until he had to hang onto a wagon wheel for support. At last he wiped tears from his eyes, climbed into the wagon, and continued on the way to the Jack Pot.

At intervals his whoop of glee rang out joyfully on the night breeze. Again he whistled cheerfully. He was in the best of humor with himself and the world. For he had played a pretty good joke on Bleyer and Verinder, and they would appreciate it all full with a day or two. He would have given a good deal to be present when they made a certain discovery.

Moya smiled when Verinder told her how the tables had been turned. Or would she think it merely another instance of his depravity?

The road wound up and down over scented hillsides and through gorges which cut into the range like sword cliffs. From one of these it crept up a stiff slope toward the Jack Pot. One hundred and fifty yards from the mine Jack drew up to give the mules a rest.

His lips framed themselves to whistle the fragments of a popular song, but the sound died stillborn. Sharply through the clear night air rang a rifle shot.

Jack did not hear it. A bolt of jagged lightning soared through his brain. The limp hands of the driver fell away from the reins and he fell to the ground, crumpling as a dry leaf that is crushed in the palm.

From the shadow of the bunk-house two men stole into the moonlight heavily like awkward beasts of prey. They crept steadily forward, rifles in hand, searching the darkness for a sign of the huddled man beside the wagon.

The first looked stolidly down upon the white face and kicked the body with a heavy boot.

"By G—d, Dave, he is quite w! Jack Kilmeny.

"The other—it was Peale, the Cornish miner—had stepped on a spoke of the wheel and pulled himself up so that he could look down into the bed of the wagon. Now he broke out with an oath.

"The wagon's empty."

"What?" Trefoyle straightened instantly, then ran to see for himself. For a moment he could not speak for the rage that surged up in him. "The d—d robber has made fool of w! he cried savagely.

In the fury they were like harpies, cursing impotently the man lying with a white face shining in the moonlight. They had expected to pay a debt of vengeance and to win a fortune at the same stroke. The latter they had missed; the disappointment—the loss—stripped them to stark primitive savagery. It was some time before they could exert in their revenge.

"He'll interfere w! us no more—not this side of h—l anyway," Peale cried. "Go on. As w! you put him in a cage where he'll lie safe."

They threw the body into the wagon and climbed to the seat. Peale drove along an unused road that deflected from the one running to the Jack Pot.

CHAPTER XIII

Mr. Verinder Is Treated to a Surprise.

The morning after the making of the ore Verinder came to breakfast in a mood so jubilant that he could not long keep to himself the cause of his exultation. Kilmeny and Farquhar were away on a hunting trip, and none of the ladies except Moya was yet up. He was especially eager to tell his news to her, because she had always been such an open defender of the highgrader. She gave him his opening very promptly, for she was anxious to know what had occurred.

"Has some distant connection passed away and left you a fortune, Mr. Verinder? Or have you merely found a new gold mine since I saw you last?" she asked.

"My love, you're a good guesser. Miss Verinder, I found a gold mine last night. Consider if you could think where."

Her heart beat faster. "You're so pleased about it I fancy the quartz must have been sacked up for you ready for the smelter," she said carelessly, aware what had occurred.

Verinder flashed a quick look at her. "K—h, what's flow's that?"

Moya opened her lips to confess what she had done, but the arrival of a waiter delayed this. Before he had left, Lady Farquhar entered and the girls' chance was temporarily gained.

"I was just telling Miss Dwight that we've found another gold mine. Lady Farquhar—and of all places in the bed of a wagon!"

"In the bed of a wagon! How could that be?"

"Fact, 'pon my word! High-grade ore, too, we fancy, but you'll know more about that when we hear from the 'hazards'."

The matron interpreted the look of triumph—it was almost a jest—that the mine owner flung toward Miss Dwight. She did not understand what he was talking about, but she saw that Moya did.

"It'd tell us just what happened we'd be able to congratulate you more intelligently," the latter suggested, making her anxiety.

"Jove, I wish I could—like to tell you the whole story. We pulled off a splendid surprise on one of your friends. But the deuce of it is—this sworn to secrecy. We played the highgraders' game and stepped a bit outside the law for once. Let it go at this, that the fellow had to swallow a big dose of his own medicine."

Moya nudged one more question home. "Nobody hurt, I suppose?"

"Only his feelings and his pocket-book. But I fancy one highgrader has learned that Dobyerna Verinder knows his way about a bit, you know."

The subject filled Moya's thoughts. She asked Kilmeny after all failed to take advantage of her warning? Or had his opponents proved too shrewd for him? From what Verinder had told her she surmised that Jack had tried to reach the railroad with his ore and been intercepted. But why had he not changed his plans after her talk with him? Surely he was not the kind of man to walk like a lamb into a trap baited for him.

Late in the afternoon Moya, dressed in riding costume, was waiting on the hotel porch for India and her brother when she saw Verinder, coming down the street. That he

WHEAT AND CORN TOUCH

NEW HIGH FOR SEASON

Damage to Canadian Crop Causes Rise to Buying Side: Quotation at $1.50 a Bushel in Winnipeg Predicted.

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—A wild stampede to the buying side of the wheat market today sent prices whirling up as much as 5.8 cents. Reports that a large part of the Canadian crop had been irreparably damaged fifty per cent and that $1.50 a bushel would be the lowest possible price were chiefly responsible.

The new high price records for the season were made here both for wheat and corn and for oats and hogs as well. Wheat closed excited with a 3.8c to 5.8c net gain. Sept. $1.20 1/2 to $1.27 and December $1.29 to $1.32 1/2. Corn finished 3.4 to 4.1 1/2 up, oats at 1 to 2.4c advance, and provisions showing a rise varying from 1/2 to 42 cents.

At first the wheat market here showed a downward tendency owing to rains over part of the drought district in Canada. Prices failed to break to any unusual extent, however, and a sudden advance ensued, stimulated by dispatches from trained observers telling of favorable conditions to which rain would afford no relief. One Chicago expert wired from Davidson, Sask., of having seen thousands of acres of wheat that would scarcely give back the seed, and of other fields burned nearly bare, worthless to harvest.

Trading on a big scale quickly developed in the wheat pit but the upward sweep of the market proved to be of a somewhat restrained character until near the end of the day. Then, in the final fifteen minutes, prices leaped 2 cents, and finished at the topmost point reached. Throughout complaints from south of the Canadian boundary and reports of hot winds in some sections were a contributing factor.

One of the influences, however, was the increasing sensational character of crop damage news from Canada. A good deal of the late buying was ascribed to foreigners.

Corn and oats acquired much of their strength from wheat. Bullish crop reports regarding wheat in Ohio and Indiana were also given notice, and so too were rumors about injury to the oats crop in Canada.

DELINQUENT TAX INCREASE, CAUSE OF CUT, DEFENSE

County Commissioner Tells Why Board Would Reduce Salaries of Officials; Appeal Case Up in Court.

Unability of farmers to pay their taxes and the steadily mounting delinquent tax list caused the county commissioners to take drastic steps and reduce taxation to the lowest possible degree through reducing the salaries of county officials, O. E. Carlson, a member of the board, testified Wednesday afternoon in the hearing before Judge H. P. Essig in the district court in an appeal from the commissioners' order taken by O. M. Etter and others to prevent this reduction. Mr. Carlson took the stand late Wednesday afternoon following the testimony of 12 others and when court adjourned at 5 o'clock to resume at 10 this morning he was being cross-examined by Mayor Shad L. Houlgin, attorney for the plaintiffs.

During the day, Mr. Houlgin called a number of witnesses who testified to the work of their departments and of the charges paid for the time the United States entered the world war, which were the same as now paid. Efforts were made by the prosecution to show that a reduction of from $200 to $500 a year proposed in the salaries of these officials would not only bring about a condition where such officials could not live on the salaries they received, but would undermine and neutralize public service to such an extent that officials worthy of holding office would be unobtainable.

Mr. Carlson, called by the defense, declared that the board in deciding upon the reduction did so only after a careful survey of the financial condition of the farmers as indicated through the number of delinquent taxes during the last year or two which he said were continually mounting. The commissioners also took into consideration, he said, the present cost of living, which he asserted had been reduced approximately 20 per cent below that of war time.

Following the testimony of Mr. Carlson in response to questions from the defense attorneys, Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor and Judge James B. Howell, Mr. Houlgin cross-examined as to the exact amount saved through the reduction of salaries. He also inquired as to the number of inmates who have been dismissed in order to reduce expenses. Four have been relieved from duty, Mr. Carlson said, and between $13,000 and $15,000 saved by reductions.

Whether the reports of Twin Falls county banks show larger deposits this year than last was taken into consideration in surveying the financial condition of the county was also inquired into. While reports drawn up show that approximately three quarters of a million dollars in debts had been paid off during the last year in Twin Falls county, Mr. Carlson declared he did not know whether this would have any direct bearing on the amount of delinquent tax receipts. Savings made by heads of departments in their departments was also brought out by the plaintiffs.

First to take the stand was Probate Judge O. P. Duvall, who declared that for the year ending in July his office had had 7298 civil and 200 criminal cases as well as 60 estates and 16 guardianship matters, or more than one case a day for the year. Fees of the court amounting to $3025 had been taken in during that time, he said.

St. Clair Stewart, county assessor, was the second witness. He told of salaries paid by Twin Falls business concerns as compared with the salaries of county officials. Sheriff M. E. Finch told of the work of his office in which he and his deputies had traveled 47,000 miles and collected $9000 in fees. O. C. Higgins, county clerk, and Miss Charlotte Pond, county superintendent, were among county officials to testify. Those who testified in addition to these were L. H. Griffin, R. C. Letch, O. M. Etter, B. H. Battifolion, Frank Hall and James Fitzgerald.

WOOD CHARGED WITH MURDER OF CALLAHAN

Preliminary of Hagerman Valley Man Set for Saturday Morning at 10; Employs Lawyer to Fight Charge.

First degree murder charges were filed Wednesday afternoon by Prosecuting Attorney M. F. Ryan at Grand Jury against B. P. Wood, who a cornerer's jury Monday afternoon said was responsible for the death Sunday evening of Hagerman valley rancher, when a shotgun set in Wood's cherry orchard exploded and sent a charge of heavy buckshot into the chest and face of the young man, causing almost instant death.

Preliminary hearing for Wood has been set for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock before Probate Judge E. E. Bennett at Grand Jury. Wood, it is understood, has retained a Gooding lawyer, W. T. Stanford, and will fight the charge. It will be the claim of the defense that Wood set the loaded shotgun in the orchard and tied a clothesline to the trigger and then to a cherry tree to frighten away persons stealing his cherries, and that the gun was set so that it would not endanger the life of the person who entered the orchard.

Wood, when informed of the charge that has been filed against him, was undisturbed, officials said, and obtained a lawyer to prove his innocence of the charge. He is being held in the Gooding county jail where he was taken Monday morning following the shooting. Wood is said to be a widower with three children who range in age from 11 to 20 years who are taking care of his Hagerman valley ranch during his stay in jail. The two Arterburn boys who were with Callahan on the night of his death will testify at the preliminary hearing to be held Saturday.

Cooler Wednesday Is Report Weather Man

The highest point reached by the mercury Wednesday was 83 degrees, according to United States government readings. This was a decided slump over Monday, when the highest part of the day pushed the mercury to 97 degrees. During the coolest part of the 24 hours covered by the readings Wednesday, the temperature was 45 degrees which was 10 degrees cooler than for Monday. Cool weather interspersed by hot days has almost entirely eliminated bean blight which for a time threatened Twin Falls farmers. Very little of this disease, said by pathologists to have been brought on by the extremely hot dry weather, is now in evidence.
