LEGEND TRACES WHITE INDIANS TO SCOTCHMEN

Descendants of Scottish Expedition That Settled in Darien in 1698, Believed Recently Discovered.

NEW ORLEANS, July 21 (AP)—The recent discovery of so-called "white Indians" on the isthmus of Panama by the March expedition has unleashed the legend in New Orleans, versed in the romantic lore of Central and South America.

An expedition of Scotchmen, some say, settled in Darien in the autumn of 1698, by authorization of the Scotch parliament. This expedition, numbering some 1200 persons, included four ministers of the Church of Scotland, who went along to establish a presbyterian organization, and it is told that because of their ascetic tendencies, some of the sturdy Scotch families rebelled against them, and were banished from the settlement.

Driven out by Spaniards. Later, it is said, others of the settlers were driven away by the Spaniards, and it is thought likely many of them fled into the jungles and remained. This, if the supposition is correct, might account for the white Indians.

But the San Blas tribe of Indians have a different story. Many years ago they say so long ago that one can recall the date a band of white men came to Darien and set about to rob the red men of their wealth. In their exploitations, however, the pale face visitors incurred the displeasure of an evil spirit, and soon they died. Their spirits, so the story goes, being secured, were driven into the feverish jungles, where they dwelt as evil overmen. That is the legend of the San Blas tribe.

Pay Penalty for Intermarriage. According to their old chiefdoms, other race. That law still holds, and no San Blas could intermarry with another. It is, it is observed, that now a white man visiting their villages is carefully watched. But there are tales of Pocahontases even among the San Blas, and they say that some of the women of the tribe ran away with pale face men, whom they married, only to be slain later on their babies killed a few days after birth. It is thought improbable by these unofficial historians that the white Indian is of Spanish origin, for the men of Spain were never referred to by the Indians as white men, but as "Juntas," after the Spanish "horseman." This failure of the Indians to refer to the Spaniards as white men while that term was applied to other strangers of the jungles, is considered solid ground for the theory of those that believe the new-found tribe descended from the Scotch.

Feats of Strength. There have recently come to light some extraordinary feats of strength by a Hindoo woman, who is declared by competent observers to be a person of greater physical prowess than the renowned Shylock. The woman in question is Miss Tarabha, born some thirty years ago in a village in Rajputana. One of her remarkable feats is to lie upon the ground and permit a cart laden with men to be drawn across her chest and arms. Suspended between two chairs by her head and feet, Miss Tarabha had a stone weighing a quarter of a ton placed upon her chest; while two men mounted upon it with heavy sledge hammers.

How's Condemned Himself. What a lot of time I waste in advising others! And how I neglect myself! You may say you are sufficiently selfish; that you do not neglect yourself. How about that bad stomach? How about the medicine you take? Both indicate the grossest neglect of yourself. How about that you are not sleeping and recovering your energy? That doubt probably represents neglect of yourself. How about that foolish action that causes you humiliation? You are no better than I am—and I am a fool. —Ed Howe's Monthlier.

Confederate Soldier Pensions. Pensions for Confederate soldiers and their widows are provided by all 31 of the former Confederate states. These pensions are supported by a special tax on assessed property or taken out of general treasury funds. Pension administration is usually under direction of the state auditor or comptroller, though Tennessee, Louisiana, and Florida have state pension boards, and Georgia and Texas each have a pension commission. Through indirect taxation the people of these states also contribute to support the pensions paid by the federal government to former Union soldiers.

BORAH TO HEED VOTERS' WISHES

Promises to Support Fact Finders' Bill Regardless of Own Notion, if Voters Want It.

NAMPA, July 19 (AP)—Although the fact finders' bill, under which Boise project settlers will receive relief is practically certain to become law a few hours after congress reconvenes in December, Senator W. E. Borah has never changed his original opinion that the 40 year extension and five year moratorium is a superior measure, he told a large gathering in a public address here today.

"I received letters and telegrams criticizing me for not becoming enthusiastic over the fact finders bill," the senator said, "but I want to be frank with you. I then believed the 40 year bill to be the best thing for the project and I have not changed my opinion. If I relied on my own judgment I'd still advocate this bill."

"The fact finders bill seems to have met with favor on this project as I have been advised through many letters and telegrams. While I have my own opinion, I am in Washington to carry out your wishes and I will do my utmost for the fact finders bill which you seem to want. Your wishes rule my action and I shall continue for the fact finders measure, but I want to leave with you the result of my judgment."

The late appearance of the fact finders measure, Senator Borah said, caused him not to make it hard to get hearings. The speaker criticized congress as "cowardly" for adjourning before it had acted on so many measures in which the people are interested. He decried that was certain as he will be about any future legislation that the deficiency appropriation measure, which carries as a rider the relief bill, will be passed as an congress meets again.

"I hope," the senator said "that it will be as satisfactory to you as the 40 year bill would have been."

EDEN

EDEN.—Owing to the small amount of water now available for irrigation the system of rotation will be used on the first segregation. Water will be turned out of the laterals of the upper half of the system and rotated with the lower half. The rotation will commence on Sunday evening, July 29 with a run of about 70 per cent for a period of about five days to each half of the system. A delivery of 60 per cent which has been maintained here for the past 14 days has placed a good many of the crops in a maturing condition.

E. M. Patterson, George Jenkins, Robert Chabrous, Tommy Watkins and Claude Woodward drove up to Mulden creek in the Sawtooth range and spent several days the past week fishing. They report a good catch of fish and an enjoyable trip. The Ladies of the Lincoln circle met in regular session last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Frank Fulton. The meeting was a social affair and Mrs. H. E. Leighton, former member, visited the order. Mrs. Frank Fulton and Mrs. E. J. Fuller were hostesses and served sandwiches, ice cream and cake.

Virgil Davies has been quite ill the past week with a light attack of appendicitis, but has recovered and is able again to resume his position at the Fulton store.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Emerson returned Friday from the Wood river country, where they spent several days on a camping trip.

Mrs. H. L. Malony has returned to Halley after spending several days here visiting with her son Otto and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bruno and family returned to Eden Saturday after spending the past year or more in California.

Joe Spencer and friend, Miss Mary Plavel of Richfield, visited over Sunday with his parents. They returned to Richfield Sunday evening and were accompanied by Joe's sister, Mrs. Fessie Strup, who will spend several days there with friends.

The many friends of Ernest Goodnight were saddened to learn of his death, which occurred last Monday at the Twin Falls county general hospital. Ernest was a resident of this community for several years, having owned a farm west of town. He sold out his farming interests recently and entered the contracting business. He also was a member of the Eden baseball club for a number of seasons past, playing his last game with the Eden team only a few days before his death.

The Eden Dairy association is gradually improving its plant here by installing modern, up-to-date equipment, the latest addition being a boiler for cleaning and sterilizing cream cans. Mr. Thornton, manager of the association, reports that increasing business justifies the additional equipment.

Frank Cattle and daughter Gladys, were callers at the A. J. Wilson home Monday. Mr. Cattle is from the Salmon river country and reports a shortage of water there.

A celebration of Pioneer day, July 24, is being arranged here, for next Thursday by a number of committees. The program for the day which will commence at 10 o'clock in the morning and continue until late in the evening, will start off with a well arranged program of musical numbers, readings and a number of addresses by competent speakers, whom the committees are securing for the occasion.

HINES MAKES WORLD LAUGH. Johnny Hines makes the world laugh. He does it by laughing at the world. His fame as a funmaker has no geographical limits. Smiling miles of all-vermooths broadcasts his fun. His appearance on the screen is the signal for general hilarity.

His latest picture, "Conductor 1492," is no exception. Laugh follows laugh as we follow follows laughing wave on a bench.

"Conductor 1492," which is a Warner Brothers classic of the screen—a guarantee, by the way, for good film fare—will be shown at the Idaho theater for two days beginning tomorrow with Hines in the starring role. It is the story of a happy-go-lucky Irishman who comes over to America to try his hand with Danne Fortune, sin a job as street car conductor. Here he encounters many farcical adventures, but his heroism leads him to contacts which win him both fortune and the sweetest girl in the world. How he blunders through good society and bosses his clientele of car riders is more than fun—it is folly.

Supporting him in the cast are the following:

Doris May, Dan Mason, Ruth Renick, Robert Cain, Fred Emmett, Byron Sage, Michael Dark, Dorothy Burns and Cameo, the wonder dog.

"Conductor 1492" was written by Johnny Hines and co-directed by his brother, Charles Hines and Frank Griffin.

From 12 till 2 p. m. the big picnic dance will be served on the lawn of J. L. Maxwell, after which races and other sports will take place. Prizes of $1000 will be awarded to the winners of the various races and none of the winners will be barred from participating. At 4 o'clock a ball game between Hamilton and Eden will be called. The day's entertainment will close with a picnic show in the Rojo theater in the evening.

Merle Fogg is back again to Eden from Rupert where he was taken a few weeks ago for medical treatment for burns he received in a boiler explosion while employed by the Oregon Short Line. He is fast recovering and will be able to resume his work in another week or two. Billie Grace met on Friday evening at the Eden schoolhouse. A large number of members present enjoyed the program arranged by Mrs. Patton.

GERMAN CRUSADERS UNITE

TO END USE OF TOBACCO

LEIPZIG, Germany, July 21 (AP)—An anti-tobacco movement has been launched here and, say the promoters, an anti-strong drink campaign will soon follow.

The Union of Enemies of Tobacco, in session here recently considered the question of smoking among German women, which, it was pointed out, was spreading at an alarming rate. Speakers estimated that many thousands of girls and women, from 15 to 50 years old, had taken to the cigarette within the last few years.

It is proposed, by law or otherwise, to make cigarette smoking less popular among the women and after this move has met with success, then to begin on the men users of tobacco. Nicotineless cigars and cigarettes have appeared recently in Germany, but the Union of Enemies of Tobacco say their members have no interest in these brands, and that their purpose in life is to abolish tobacco smoking altogether.

COUGAR TRAILED BY MOTOR

VISALIA, Cal., July 21 (AP)—O. W. Lovern, pack train concessionaire in the Sequia National park, recently trailed a six-foot mountain lioness through the night by the lights of his automobile. When the car got close to the lioness, she came directly into the glare of the headlights. In his haste Lovern shot through the windshield, but killed the beast. The lioness had frequented the road and occasionally had been seen by motorists to their consternation.

OFFERS ADVICE TO WATERUSERS

Efficiency and Fairness on Part of Farmer and Distributor Imperative.

Says M. H. Lewis, associate professor of irrigation engineering, University of Idaho, in one of a series of articles on "Full Crops in Spite of Water Shortage," the distribution of the irrigation water of Idaho gives employment to a large number of men. During a normal year these men have their full share of trouble. When water is unusually scarce, every water user's anxiety about his crop makes him very quick to suspect that he is not getting his share of the scant supply and adds greatly to the water master's troubles.

"The organization charges with the division of the water of the streams of Idaho among its thousands of individual owners, all the way from the commissioner of reclamation in the state house at Boise down to the humblest ditch walker making his daily round with shovel and fork, is doing its very best to make that division fair. The harvest which will be gathered this fall depends to no small extent on the success with which their efforts are rewarded.

Irrigator's Interests Supreme.
The individual water user is the man whose interests must be served in the end. It is only as the water reaches him that it can be of any service to the people of the state. Accordingly, the whole system is arranged to serve the individual irrigator and by its success or failure in so doing it must be rated.

On the other hand, the water user has a duty in this respect. When he feels that he is being given the worst of it, he should go to the ditch rider in a peaceful frame of mind and discuss the matter frankly. It is very much easier to get satisfactory results by all working together than by working against each other. Before accusing the water master of unfair discrimination he should look around at his neighbor's streams. He will probably find that they are getting just as small a proportion of what they could use as he is. If not, there may be some difference between individual rights. On many canals stock is held and maintenance paid in different amounts per acre of land.

Employ Competent Men.
The proper measurement and distribution of water requires a knowledge of hydraulics and experience in that line of work. Do not expect a man without both training and experience to be able to meet all the varying problems which come up on all canal systems. The competent water master can often help the individual canal owner or farmer under his stream make better use of the water. He can so distribute the water that practically all the users will feel that they are getting all they are entitled to and the resultant good will is a very great asset to a community.

Origin of "Master."
Master was originally used as a title, but only in speaking of a man of high social rank or learning. It gradually was extended in application, but has been superseded by "Mr." The obscure pronunciation doubtless began while the written word "Master" was still commonly employed. Before the end of the Seventeenth century the abbreviation "Mr." (originally only one among many others used for the word in all applications) had come to be restricted to the use in which the pronunciation was observed, and to be the only permitted mode of writing the word in that use. Thenceforward, "Master" and "Mr." were practically two words.

Early Use of Penknives
The penknife is a hold-over from the days before steel pens were known. Originally a penknife was a small knife used to make and mend quills. It was then customary for each man to cut his own pens as he needed them. Nowadays almost any kind of small pocket knife is called a penknife.

Mummies Don't Last

Many persons are curious to know of the "mummy" club to have two sons. One mummy case which had been on exhibition since 1914 was opened and the numerous bandages covering the remains were unwound. Nothing was found inside but a skeleton and some cheap, blue-jersey bandages that had evidently once formed a string. Not only the flesh had disappeared but time had discolored the bones. There was a strong odor of balsam. The mummy was that of Soubi, a king's son, who died in the twelfth century B.C. He was found in Egypt. Soubi was of mixed Egyptian and Asiatic blood and lived about the age of thirty-five.

BLUES RALLY IN NINTH TO WIN

Exciting Game Ends When Flagrant Error Allows Watson to Score From Second Base;

Senational baseball regined in the local baseball park Sunday when the Twin Falls Blues defeated American Falls with a one point margin in an 8 to 7 game. The best game of the season came to an abrupt end in the last of the ninth inning when Watson came from second to third on a wild pitch by Compton. American Falls trailing 7 to 6, Simmons, visiting batter, leisurely turned to pick up the ball, recovering the sphere too late to make the play which would have sent the game into extra innings.

Phillips and Simmons, a battery borrowed from the Peacerville Blues for the occasion by the American Falls club, were careless with the Twin Falls batsmen for the first six innings. Phillips, alleged emery ball star, had perfect control of the sphere, never allowing the pill to be touched during the first two innings, striking out twelve men in six innings and allowing but 3 hits while he remained in the box.

Blues Bump Eckland

When Phillips retired at the end of the sixth inning in favor of Eckland, giant-right hander, the Blues were trailing the small end of a 7 to 3 score. The visitors got their run on scattered hit off Flynn who was given poor support on the part of the infield. With the arrival of Eckland, Twin Falls started a batting rally that probably would have lasted until dark had not Compton relieved him after four men in succession had driven out 4 hits for three runs.

Flynn drew a walk in the eighth inning from Compton and a sacrifice by Ostrander sent him to second. He scored on Burleigh's single in the last of the inning tying the score 7 all. In the first half of the ninth frame Reed made first base on an error. Attempt for two double plays followed but slow hit balls prevented both chances and the third down came when Flynn struck out Barrett, heavy hitter for American Falls.

Watson Makes Hit Home

Watson drove out the apple for two bases in the last of the inning. Richardson sent an easy foul tip to Evans and Compton threw wild to Muller allowing Watson to take third, but the real net came when Simmons turned his back upon the runner and allowed Watson to score.

CALDWELL IS NO MATCH FOR GRISWOLD'S NINE

Buhl Team Slugs Way to Victory Over Boise Valley Team; Keweenaw Regulates Pitching Exhibition.

BULL, July 21 (AP)—Griswold's Grays found Caldwell to be poor practice even when they drove pitcher after pitcher from the box under a deluge of base hits in a lopsided contest which ended with Buhl holding a 20-to-2 score over the Boise Valley team.

Kevian, Buhl moundman, was working in fine form for the game and sent 18 men to the bench via the strikeout route, greatly strengthening the confidence of the Buhl team preparatory to their next contest with Twin Falls.

A delegation of nearly 300 west-enders is expected to accompany the victorious Grays Wednesday evening when they meet the Blues on the Twin Falls lot to maintain their lead which they attained last week in a wild game on Faris field at Buhl.

Coggriff's supporters are equally determined that if managers count they will be on deck to match their lungs with the capacity of the west-enders and are still anxious to go the Buhlites one better by securing an addition to the team in the form of a new player which they contend will strengthen the local lineup.

But Buhl still has another trump up her sleeve and is contemplating closing the stores and making an afternoon of it if it will help Buhl win.

Flynn, Twin Falls' youthful southpaw, has a grudge to satisfy against the Buhl batters, who treated him rather shabbily. The Twin Falls boy is confident of his ability to knock Buhl down and local fans concede him the game against the best of Buhl's pitchers.

Wednesday evening at 5:30 the Twin Falls park probably will be filled to capacity with Sunday fans, fans who don't support Sunday baseball, and a large delegation of Buhl fans.

EXPANSION OF CHURCH LEAGUE IS PROPOSED

Seven-Team League Instead of Original Four Is Suggested for Remainder of Season;

After more than a week's rest the Presbyterian leaders of the interchurch league are preparing to assert their own once more this evening when they will meet either the Methodists or the Baptists to hold their position.

With a large part of the summer now gone the church league has a possibility of reorganizing entirely with six or seven teams instead of the present four.

Knull has a church team that is quite capable of holding its own with any of the teams in the league and this team is willing to join the league. The L. D. S. church is another source of a team which will hold its own with any of the league members at present and the third newcomer is from the Catholic church.

In any event the Presbyterians, who should have met the Baptists on last Friday evening are ready to cross bats with all comers this evening on the Lincoln field at 6:30.

RAILROAD FROM BUHL TO BOISE NEW OBJECTIVE

Mayor Tells Kiwanians Outlook
For Branch to Boise of O. S.
L. Now a Major Point of Chamber of Commerce.

Extension of the Oregon Short Line railway west from Buhl to furnish a direct connection between Boise and Twin Falls is one of the major objectives now being considered by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, Shad L. Hodge, Twin Falls mayor and a director of the chamber of commerce, told members of the Kiwanian club meeting Monday in the course of discussion of recent achievements and projects of the chamber of commerce. The second major undertaking, he said, is the building of a river-boat bridge across Snake river canyon north of Twin Falls.

It is the present purpose of the chamber of commerce, Mr. Hodge said, to take up with Oregon Short Line officials the extension of the line to Boise as soon as the Rogerson-Wells line, which will furnish direct rail communication with California and the south-west, is completed.

The chamber of commerce assisted in raising $18,000 to fund for purchase of the right of way for the Rogerson-Wells line, on which construction now is being pushed.

On recommendation of M. J. Sweigley the club voted to inquire into advisability of erecting a suitable marker at the intersection near here of the original Old Oregon trail with the state highway which now bears that name.

With view to stimulating interest on the part of members of the local club in the Utah-Idaho Kiwanian district convention, to be held August 21-23 in Provo, Utah, a committee was appointed consisting of I. H. Masters, district trustee, and two other members to be named by him.

Guests at the meeting were Dr. J. E. Smith of Moscow and the Rev. J. E. Elder of Oberlin, Kans.

SCOUTS AWARDED HONORS AT CAMP

Sunday Busy Day at Shoshone Basin Camp; Two Sessions Court of Honor.

Sunday was a busy day at the scout camp in Shoshone basin where boys from the Snake river district are in camp. Two sessions of the Twin Falls court of honor were held Sunday at the camp as well as religious services which the boys all attended. A large number of Twin Falls citizens as well as boys of the camp were present Sunday.

Approximately 50 of the boys in camp Sunday received merit badges or promotions. These were conferred by the Twin Falls court of honor with appropriate ceremonies, part of the honors being conferred on the boys at the morning session and part at the afternoon meeting. The camp will be in existence for six weeks during which time it is the hope of the scout officials to have every boy sent in the various troops spend at least one week there taking the test and getting some of the outdoor entertainment which is being provided.

EQUALIZATION BOARD CONCLUDES ITS WORK

County Commissioners Complete Work; Indications Point to Assessed Valuation Near That of Last Year.

Work of the Twin Falls county commissioners, sitting as the board of equalization, was completed Monday evening. While no figures can yet be given, the board announced, it is believed that the assessed valuation of the county this year has about what it was last year, or $2,974,800.17. The personal property rate, however, will show a slight increase, it is thought.

The work of the board during the last six weeks has been in equalizing assessments. Where the valuation assessed has been found too high it has been lowered and where too low a valuation has been found it has been raised. Until requirements of the various county departments for the year have been ascertained the commissioners will be unable to fix the tax levy. It is thought however that these estimates will be in the hands of the commissioners within the next month. The levy will be fixed around the first of September.

MIDDLE WEST GROWERS WILL PUSH RATE FIGHT

Demand for Lower Carriage Charges to Be Continued Despite Adverse Ruling of Commerce Commission.

KANSAS CITY, July 21.—The fight of mid-western states for lower freight rates on grain, hay and grain products has not ended, despite the recent adverse ruling of the interstate commerce commission in dismissing the grain case, Clyde M. Reed, former chairman of the Kansas public utilities commission, declared here.

Mr. Reed, who instituted the application for reduced rates in behalf of Kansas and took the leading part in prosecuting the case for the grain growing states, asserted the fight "has just begun."

"Notwithstanding the decision of the interstate commerce commission," said Mr. Reed, "and the 'velvet' the railroads are getting from it at the expense of the western farmers, the adjustment of the transportation problem, still remains the most important question for the west."
