LaFollette Wants Information on What Is Being Done With Sugar Investigations; Hits at Both Political Parties.

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—By way of a demand upon the United States tariff commission for information as to what it has been doing in sugar investigations, Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, independent candidate for president today promulgated a declaration which impartially attacked both the present republican and the preceding democratic national administrations.

The commission which has power to recommend upward or downward revisions of tariffs, the senator said, had "reason to believe" had been deceived by representatives of sugar interests in submitting a report upon an investigation into costs of sugar production. He reminded the public in this connection of fluctuations in sugar prices during recent years which, in his opinion, he asserted, "some control" even of the government by sugar producing and distributing interests.

Tells of Inflation.

"In 1920, under Attorney General Zahner," Senator LaFollette asserted, "an artificial inflation" of sugar prices to the final top of 30 cents a pound was occasioned while in the spring of 1923, when, he said, "a misleading department of commerce report" on sugar stocks had played a part, they were again rushed up. He asserted that lobby influence and cooperation between Senator Smoot of Utah as chairman of the senate finance committee, and Cuban producing interests in the fixing of American tariff levels had been noted in 1922.

Reviewing the history of the commission's investigation into the sugar industry, Senator LaFollette asserted that the sugar interests had been powerful enough to delay action, "through the highest official channels of the government." Recalling that the investigation had been ordered nearly 18 months ago he requested of the chairman of the commission a complete record of the case.

First Test.

"The report based upon this investigation will largely determine whether or not existing tariff duties are just and reasonable," Senator LaFollette said. "And whether or not they should be reduced under the flexible tariff provision of the Fordney bill. It is the first test on a large scale of the extraordinary powers conferred upon the executive under the flexible provisions of the law. The public has a right to know the exact status of the investigation."

ARREST POLICEMAN IN CONNECTION WITH THEFT

OMAHA, July 29 (AP)—Clifford Baldwin, Omaha policeman, was held today in connection with the holdup of the State Bank of Irvington, Neb., last April 29, when four men robbed the place of $2000. A 10-year-old Irvington boy identified him, a detective said, as the driver of an automobile that waited in front of the bank while two of the robbers locked the cashier and a customer in a vault.

NEXT STAGE OF FLIGHT PLANNED

American Round the World Fliers Plan on Hopping Off July 30.

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, commanding the army around the world flight, called Major General Patrick, chief of the army air service, from Hull, England, today recommending that there be no entertainment for the fliers in the United States "until after the finish of the flight."

The message announced that the fliers would hop off on the next stage tomorrow and added that the planes were in excellent condition and that everything possible has been done to insure success. The text of the cablegram follows:

"Flight leaves July 30. Recommend that no entertainment for fliers be arranged until after the finish of the flight, which should be made rapidly to reduce chances of our planes being damaged and to prevent personnel from becoming relaxed. Our planes are in excellent condition and everything possible has been done to insure our success."

Duncan Sisters in Trial Against Cop
Are Wildly Cheered

Hearing Against Policeman Who Broke Into Home Being Held in Theater.

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP)—A wildly cheering audience today greeted Rosetta and Vivian Duncan, comedienne, when they appeared on the stage of an Evansville theater as complainants against a Circero policeman whom Rosetta claims broke her nose and ribs when she attempted to argue with him the 25th of July after the officer had arrested her brother for violating a traffic regulation.

When an assistant state attorney went through the actions of the policeman as described by Miss Duncan, she started to cry, but desisted when the audience applauded. Court was adjourned until tomorrow, the Evansville justice announcing that he had retained the theater for another day and invited the audience back.

TELLS LAWYERS
THEY MUST LEAD

Secretary Hughes Tells French Bar Association Profession Must Lead World.

PARIS, July 29 (AP)—Lawyers whose diplomas are sealed "by an authority of conscience which is higher than that of any government," must furnish the leadership for the democracies of the world for "if we are true to our profession, we are the apostles of progress," Secretary of State Hughes declared at the reception of the Paris bar association to the American lawyers who are visiting Paris.

Speaking as a lawyer to lawyers, he emphasized the need of democracy of "the expert service of lawyers of broad vision, of those who are trained in the law, but are neither overwhelmed by their learning, nor governed by their technicalities."

Law Systems.

"Our systems of law are unlike in some respects," Mr. Hughes told his French colleagues. "Our methods of administration present certain striking differences, but our sense of justice is common to all. That these differences merely excite sympathy, interest and a desire to understand their historic causes and effects."

Commenting on how much alike are the results attained by different processes, the American statesman declared: "In what is fundamentally a competition of what one ought to enjoy, what one owes to his neighbor, and what constitutes social wrong and essential public justice—we are very much the same."

MINISTERS AT BOISE
OPPOSED TO DEFENSE
DAY, TELL GOVERNOR

BOISE, July 29 (AP)—Members of the Boise Ministerial association opposed to defense test day, set by the war department for September 12, have called on Governor C. C. Moore and Lieutenant Colonel H. A. Padgham, state adjutant general, to urge the withdrawal of Idaho's support from the mobilization of the nation's plan for that day.

Governor Moore, who made public the report of the conference Tuesday, told the ministers that the demonstration planned for September 12 was in accordance with the provisions of the national defense act, June 4, 1920. That act represents the will of the people of this country, as expressed by members of congress, and more than that, it has the approval of the president, Calvin Coolidge, Governor Moore said. "I feel, therefore," he concluded, "that the state of Idaho should stand behind this movement inasmuch as wiser heads than ours have approved it."

DAUGHTER HELD INSANE

BOISE, Idaho, July 29 (AP)—Mrs. George W. White, who shot and killed her baby daughter, Margaret Thelma White, is mentally deranged, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury returned Tuesday afternoon.

BREAKING

French Preparing Proposal Along American's Suggestion Which May End 10-Day Impasse at Expert Meeting.

LONDON, July 29 (AP)—For the first time since the inter-allied conference assembled the French delegates tonight indicated a willingness to surrender under certain conditions, their right to separate action against Germany in case of a reparations default under the Dawes plan.

If the allies can not unanimously agree whether a reparations default has occurred, France is willing to let an arbitration board on which there will be the experts of the original Dawes commission, decide the question.

One condition is that German payments in goods be linked with the question of defaults and France acquire new rights relating to payments in kind which are outside the present reading of the Versailles treaty.

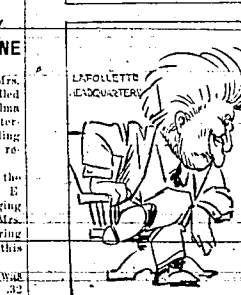

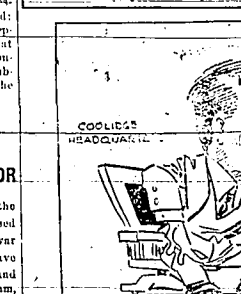

To Make Proposal.

These and other conditions the French experts tonight are embodying into a proposal which they hope will end the 10 days' conference deadlock. Since yesterday's proceedings, which were featured by the timely intervention of Colonel James A. Logan, the American observer, the French delegation has been working to coordinate Colonel Logan's suggestions with ideas of their own in an effort to produce a formula which will solve the problem of default under the Dawes plan. It is to be declared and what penalties the allies intend to inflict therefor and at the same time satisfy the international bankers who will be asked to recommend a $40,000,000 pound loan to investors in order to launch the Dawes project.

STATE TREASURY HAS
$3,776,871 IN CASH

BOISE, July 29 (AP)—Cash in the Idaho treasury at the close of business July 7 amounted to $3,776,871.78, B. E. Hyatt, director of public accounts, reported Tuesday after completing an examination of the state treasurer's office.

COUNTING THEIR CHICKENS

Attorney General Files
Suit to Cancel Oil and Gas Lease; Plan Others

Another Phase of Effort to Clear Up Oil Lease Situation Develops; 400 Permits Are Held Up.

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—The government today developed another phase of its efforts to clear up the oil lease situation. Attorney General Stone issued orders for the filing of a suit to cancel an oil and gas prospecting lease applying to a reservation created by executive order for the Navajo Indian nation in southern Utah.

If the government is successful in this suit, it will take similar action to invalidate more than 20 other such permits, 18 of which were granted by former Secretary Fall of the interior department and which apply to Indian lands in a dozen different western localities.

The suit ordered filed is against J. M. Harrison, the Mid-West Oil company, and the Southwest Oil company, and is based on an opinion recently submitted by the attorney general to the president, in which he held that Mr. Fall's construction of the general leasing act of 1920 was in error when it applied the oil leasing provisions to reservations created by executive order. Mr. Fall's interpretation of the provision was given upon application for a lease by Mr. Harrison, said here to be an official of the Mid-West company and under that construction of the law, the other permits were also granted.

Rejects Applications.

Since the present attorney general placed a different construction on the law, the interior department has rejected all pending applications for permits on such land, numbering some 400. Mr. Stone and Secretary Work of the interior department are in accord that no further leasing of the lands involved should be permitted until congress authorizes extension of the oil or gas law. They feel that congress should express its view as a guiding policy for the executive departments to follow.

Lease in 1884.

The lease sought to be cancelled in the government's action covers land set aside by an executive order of President Arthur in 1884 and applied to 2,560 acres.

The vote was Robertson 174,110; Ferguson 127,489.

War Department Says Nebraska Governor Draws Extraordinary Inferences to Defense Day.

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska "has drawn rather extraordinary inferences from what seems to be a perfectly clear document," the war department declared today in a statement answering the governor's criticism of the "defense day" program for September 12.

Governor Bryan's statement that he does not favor any plan contemplating mobilization of the civil or industrial resources of the country or anything else that savors of a national holiday devoted to preparation for war drew the reply that such "inferences are a source of surprise to the war department."

The statement asserted that the commanding officer of the Seventh corps area on May 31 reported that Governor Bryan had expressed his desire "to cooperate with the department to the fullest extent."

DEFENSE
UP CASE

Prosecution in Bobby Franks Murder Case Rests Today; Alienists' Testimony Will Bring Jury Hearing.

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP)—The state's "mountain of evidence" which Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, expects to send Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks, to the gallows, is complete, the state's attorney announced tonight. He will close his case as soon as court convenes tomorrow, he said. If the defense attempts to introduce the testimony of any alienists as to the mental condition of the two "millionaires' sons, who have pleaded guilty, Mr. Crowe said, he will immediately demand that a jury be called to determine whether the slayers are mentally responsible.

When court adjourned, the state's attorney had announced that he had but one more witness who would take but five minutes. The witness was to have been an assistant state's attorney who was to have testified that Loeb was crying a short time before he confessed.

Changes Tactics.

The evidence, intended to show that at least one of the youths upon occasion was not the emotionless being that each of the accused has appeared throughout much of the trial, will not be placed on the stand because the state's attorney fears he may thereby give the defense an opening to introduce testimony regarding the mental condition of the murderers.

Under a ruling of the supreme court, Mr. Crowe said, if the question of the mental responsibility of a defendant is raised the court must automatically call a jury to determine whether or not the defendant is sane or insane and whether he is responsible for the crime.

Exonerate Opposition.

Defense attorneys who have announced their intention of placing Dr. William A. White, celebrated alienist of Washington, D. C., on the stand as their first witness tomorrow will encounter immediate opposition, Mr. Crowe said. The state will object to alienists giving any testimony having to do with the mental condition of the slayers or to any degree of responsibility for the murder, he said.

"If the question of sanity or mental capacity is raised, the state's attorney said, it would be the duty of the court to automatically set aside the pleas of guilty entered by the two youths and call a jury into the box to determine the issue."

PRICE OF BREAD GOES UP

Vancouver and Saskatoon Bakers Announce Price Advance Due to Upward Swing of Flour. They Say—

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 29 (AP)—Bread prices have been increased 1 cent for an 18-ounce loaf, effective immediately, according to an order issued by local bakers after a meeting today.

Bakers declared the raise to 9 cents a loaf was due to recent increases in the prices of flour and wheat.

DREAD DISEASE
BEING WATCHED

Federal Animal Industry Bureau Has Southern States Under Close Surveillance.

WASHINGTON, July 29 (AP)—Careful watch is being observed by officials of the bureau of animal industry in the anthrax situation in a number of southern states, it was stated today at the department of agriculture. Where the disease among cattle threatens to become serious and gets beyond control of the state veterinary officials assistance will be sent by the federal government.

A suggestion by Senator McKellar of Tennessee that funds be borrowed and appropriated by congress for the California foot and mouth epidemic will be used in the anthrax fight, brought out the information that congress in the rush of adjournment had failed to appropriate the $5,000,000 needed. The work in California has been carried on with scant regular funds now exhausted.

RUSSIAN EXILES WANT TO ENTER UNITED STATES

Large Number in Philippines Waiting for Opportunity to Get into America; May Have to Wait Months.

MANILA, July 29 (AP)—A survey of the condition of the 250 Russian refugees who arrived here nearly a year and a half ago from Vladivostok is to be made by the Philippine health department, the bureau of customs and a physician of the United States quarantine service to determine whether they are qualified to enter the United States. There appears to be little likelihood of the refugees being allowed to land in the United States for many months to come, but Admiral Stark, who led the colony from Vladivostok, expresses the hope that arrangement for admission of most of the Russians may be made.

About a year ago some 600 of the 850 who came here in February, 1923, were sent to San Francisco on the army transport Merritt and reports from them about favorable conditions in the United States have caused their friends and relatives remaining here to renew their efforts to reach America.

The colony of some 7000, headed by Admiral Stark, adherent of the old monarchist regime, was forced to leave Vladivostok by the soviet. They took 10 small ships and set out in 1923 to look for a country in which to land. Several thousand were dropped in Korea and other thousands were left in China, a number of ships being sold en route to obtain subsistence. When they reached the Philippines the personnel had dwindled to 850 and the number of ships to 11. During the last year and a half more of the ships have been sold, leaving six now at the Olongapo naval station.

RECORDS SHOW GREATER IDAHO-TOURIST-TRAVEL

At Least 10,000 Touring Cars Have Entered Idaho During This Season, Which Still Does Not Give Total.

BOISE, July 29 (AP)—A statement given out by the Idaho State Automobile (A. A. A.) association shows that at least 10,000 touring cars have entered the state already this season with the outlook for the number being doubled during the remainder of the season.

"That figure does not give the real total," the association's bulletin states, "but only those of which an actual record has been obtainable through touring bureaus established by the association, plus reasonable estimates on travel before the bureaus were established. This actual total is 71,946."

"Tourists coming into the state from directions not in contact with our touring bureaus will easily total 2000 cars, making the total to date more than 10,000 cars."

The bulletin states that diversions at Green River bureau of cars whose drivers did not intend to come into Idaho number more than 700. More than 450 cars have been diverted over the north and south highway, it is stated, whose drivers had not intended to take that route. In Yellowstone park more than 650 cars have been diverted into Idaho that had not intended to be driven this way. Over 300 cars whose drivers had intended to return east after visiting the park have been sent into north Idaho over the Yellowstone trail, some of them returning by way of the north and south highway.

St. Dusan and the Devil. Dusan, patron saint of goldsmiths, was a painter, jeweler and blacksmith. Being expelled from court, he built a cell near Glastonbury church and there he dwelt. It was in this cell that tradition says the devil had a guest with the saint through the lattice window. Dusan went on talking till his tongue were red hot, when he turned round suddenly and caught his satanic majesty by the nose. Dusan is represented generally in pontifical robes, but carrying a pair of pliers in his right hand. The pontiff-like refers to his office as archbishop of Canterbury and the pliers to the legend of his holding the devil by the nose till he promised never to tempt him again.

Not Such a Bargain

A gentleman at a country fair was solicited by a lady attending one of the booths to buy something. He reluctantly replied that what he would care to buy he feared would be for sale—a lock of her hair. To his amusement and delight, she quickly cut off the coveted curl and suitably received the price offered—$10. The proud purchaser was exhibiting his joy by the time the other—rather glibly by the time she had—had the best of the deal, for to his certain knowledge, she only paid $4 for the whole wig.

Chess an Old Game.

There is no actual information on the origin of chess. It is believed to have originated in India, and its primitive form was called "Chaturanga." It is mentioned in the Hindu literature at least 8,000 years before Christ. It spread through Burma to Tibet, Siam, China, Malacca, Java and Borneo, and was taken from China to Japan. It came westward through Constantinople probably in the Sixth century. The Arabs passed it to Syria during the Seventh century. It was carried to Scandinavia and the north and gradually spread through Europe by way of the Bosphorus and the Danube.

Sling Used by David.

The sling in use in the time of David, and which with few changes is still used by shepherds in Palestine, is made of plaited thongs or of one strip of leather, probably not over 12 or 13 inches in length. The leather is broad at the middle to form a pocket for the stone. Both ends are held firmly in the hand while the sling is whirled rapidly round and round in order, one end being finally released in head that the stone may take its flight.

THE GUMPS—CHANGE CARS

PREDICTS GREAT AIRPLANE SPEED

Swedish Instructor Expects Planes to Cross Atlantic Soon in Two Hours.

STOCKHOLM, July 29 (AP)—Flights between Europe and America in two hours at an altitude of 10 miles and with 2000 horsepower motors, are forecast by S. Lindquist, a well-known Swedish airplane constructor, in a statement published by a leading Stockholm paper.

One of the greatest aims in aviation in the immediate future should be to cut down the flying time between continents, says Mr. Lindquist, and this probably can be done by flying at extremely high altitudes. The effect of gravitation decreases with the increase in altitude and it has been estimated, he says, that a plane which has a speed of 100 miles an hour near the surface of the earth can attain a speed of 1200 miles an hour at an altitude of about 10 miles.

At such a height the rarity of the atmosphere would constitute a disadvantage both to the ordinary motor and the ordinary propeller. But this difficulty can be overcome, declares Mr. Lindquist, by using a propeller with adjustable blades so that the pitch of the blades could be altered with the density of the air, and by using special compressors for the motor which would compensate for the decrease in barometric pressure at high altitudes. Such a motor would probably have to develop about 2000 horsepower. Mr. Lindquist declares that the problems of the adjustable propeller and aerial compression can be solved.

No Need to Bother With the Middleman

A farmer of German descent entered the drug store of a small Ohio town, as the story was told at the Salesmanship luncheon recently by Martin L. Pierce of Canton, Ohio, expert in industrial relations.

"I want an undertaker," he announced to the druggist, who, as it happened, was president of the local Salesmanship club.

"Why, who's dead?" the druggist inquired sympathetically.

"Nobody's dead, but my wife's sick," so "I want an undertaker," the farmer repeated.

"You don't mean an undertaker, you want a doctor; I'll get you one," the druggist replied reaching for the phone.

"Oh, no, I don't; I want an undertaker," the man insisted. "Ain't we been hearing at every meeting of the Salesmanship club how we should eliminate the middleman?"—Houston Post.

Big Family Tree

In the black oak family are the black, red, pin and scarlet oak, Spanish water, willow and laurel oaks, says the American Tree association of Washington, D. C., which for a 2-cent stamp will send you a tree-planting bulletin. Every tree planter is made a member of the association, for there are no dues. Instead of the rounded lobes of the leaves of the other group, all of these have leaves with lobes that are sharply pointed or the leaves are tipped with bristles.

Corrected

A zealous but untrained reformer had obtained permission to speak at the county jail.

"Brothers," he pleaded with them, "lose no time in turning to the pathway of righteousness. Remember we are here today and gone tomorrow." Gloomy voice from the rear: "I've got eighteen years here yet."

STIRRING PLOT IN "TIGER ROSE"

"You think I'll shoot! You know damned well I'll shoot!"

These words, snapped out, shortly, sharply and decisively, came from the mouth of a woman. And the man knew that she meant what she said.

He was an officer of the Northwest Mounted. She was a young girl, aiding her lover to escape the law and the penalty of taking a life.

This is one of the tense, breath-taking scenes in David Belasco's "Tiger Rose," which is to appear at the Idaho theater for two days beginning today.

Would the officer risk the chances of a shot and capture his man? He knew that he was hidden somewhere in the house. He also knew that the girl, named "Tiger Rose," would shoot, and shoot to kill.

Many "Dead Letters"

About 42,000,000 letters pass through the dead-letter branches of the postoffice in the United States yearly because they are undeliverable. This is at the rate of 3,500,000 a month, and assuming that it takes fifteen minutes for the sender to write each of these letters, they represent a loss of 10,500,000 hours which converted into working days of eight hours each, would mean 1,312,500 days.

CHURCH GAMES DRAW INTEREST

Large Crowd Sees Presbyterians Lose 5 to 6 Game to Christian Team.

Errors at three deciding places in Tuesday's session of twilight baseball on the Lincoln lot decided the game in favor of the Christians who knocked the Presbyterians out of top position which they have held since the beginning of the league.

Playing to the still increasing crowd of fans the two teams displayed a well matched brand of ball, the Presbyterians holding the upper hand in hitting while the Christians did on the field.

Three errors in the first inning gave the Presbyterians a bad start, finding themselves with the small end of a 1 to 0 score and no hits at the end of the inning. The score mounted to a 3 to 0 count in the third when Donsett drove the only walk of the game and a home run which Parish drove through the gate at the far end of the field. Hills started a hitting spree with a double ending in five hits and four runs in the fourth inning.

With a 4 to 3 edge the Presbyterians looked to be winners but a spot by Patrick's men once more placed them ahead with a 6 to 1 count as the Presbyterians came to bat for the last time. Cook led off with a three base hit, scoring when Wallace made a sacrifice hit to left field but Hills struck out and concluded the chances of a tie game.

Friday the Methodists and Baptists play for basement honors.

Total Earnings of U. S. Steel Company Amount to $41,381,039, Announced for Second Quarter Year.

NEW YORK, July 26 (AP)—Despite a perceptible slackening in steel orders in the second quarter of the year, directors of the United States Steel corporation today declared an extra dividend of fifty cents on the common shares for the third successive quarter.

In addition to the regular dividend of $1.25 a share on the common and $1.75 a share on the preferred stocks.

There are at least three explanations of the origin of the word "Potomac": (1) That it is derived from "Pethannock," which means "they are coming by water." (2) It is a derivative of "Potowanneck," which means "to make a fire in a place where fires are usually made." (3) The word is supposed to mean "a river of swans."

A SIDNEY FRANKLIN PRODUCTION

The story of a wild-cat child of the Canadian Northwest. Overwhelming with emotion and pathos. Where "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth" is the law.

Touches the heights and depths of human passion. A story of a lone girl cast into a world of men. Life at the ragged ends of civilization. Thrills of a lifetime compressed into six reels.

HIGH HONOR FOR TWO MORE LADS

Public Investiture in Twin Falls Planned for Conferring of Eagle Degree.

Plans are maturing for a public investiture of two Twin Falls boy scouts as Eagle scouts, the highest rank in boy scoutdom that is attained only upon proof of proficiency in 21 phases of scoutcraft. Both candidates for the degree now are in camp at the scout cabin in Shoshone basin, where they are taking the tests leading to the advanced rating.

According to present plans, it was stated Tuesday evening by an official of the Twin Falls scout council, the double investiture will be conducted here next Thursday evening. The degrees will be conferred by the Twin Falls court of honor, and the attendant ceremonial, which scout leaders are planning to make both impressive and interesting, will take place in the presence of relatives, friends and well-wishers of the successful candidates.

Two Other Eagle Scouts. Among boy scouts of the Snake River district, including organizations of Rupert, Burley, Twin Falls and Paul, only two lads within recent years have attained to the rank of eagle scout. They are Robert H. Deles of Twin Falls, and Keith P. Neilson of Rupert, upon whom the degree was conferred at a court of honor session held last Saturday at the boy scout camp.

Names of the scouts who are expected to qualify this week for the eagle degree were withheld by scout leaders, pending the completion of the final examinations.

Regulations in regard to the award of the eagle scout badge provide that the scout qualifying to receive it must have qualified for 21 merit-badges, including first aid, life saving, personal health, public health, cooking, camping, civics, bird study, path finding, pioneering, athletics or physical development, and any ten others.

Like Burley court of honor, at the scout camp late this week, will confer merit badges and approve advancement in rating of scouts in camp meeting prescribed requirements.

Forethought

The small boy entered the shoe-maker's shop, and, unwrapping a small parcel, produced a size 11 shoe. "The shoemaker took it from him, and, after looking at it, asked:

"Well, what do you want me to do with this? It doesn't want mending, does it?"

"Yes," said the boy: "that's father's slipper, and there's a nail sticking in it. I want you to put it right before he notices it."

"You're a kind little boy," said the old man, humming. "You must be fond of your father."

"Tain't that quite," replied the small boy calmly. "You see, the nail's sticking right through the sole, and this is the slipper father spansks me with."

Soft Drinks in U. S.

Each year thirty Americans consume 4,000,000,000 bottles of soft drinks, and this total does not include beverages such as beer made from cereals. These drinks come from 10,000 bottling establishments and over 110,000 soft drink counters. The skilled chemist has provided a host of flavors, which the consumer cannot distinguish from the original. The aroma as well as the color and flavor of fruits is being imitated. These beverages contain nothing dangerous to health, but the food and drugs act demands that such products be labeled what they are.

GOOD PRICES LOOKED FOR ON FARM PRODUCE

Former State Treasurer Tells of Conditions as He Finds Them; Head of Idaho Fire Insurance Company.

Despite water shortages throughout the farming section of Idaho this year, farm products will be an exceptionally good price from early indications and may bring the farmer sufficient so that he will make up in price for the lack of quantity he might have had, according to John W. Engelson, head of the Idaho Fire Insurance company, with headquarters at Boise, who is in Twin Falls after completing a tour through the northern part of the state.

Hay is going to be high this fall, he believes from conditions as he found them and a very good price will be obtained by the farmers who have hay to sell. The Boise valley, said Mr. Engelson, who is a former state treasurer during the Davis administration, is short of water, and not sufficient for absolute needs is to be had. The regular run of water has been completed. Whether or not rain falls over southern Idaho during the next month or two will have much to do with the condition of southern Idaho, he believes.

Mr. Engelson, who is a Twin Falls visitor conferring with J. E. White, the local agent of the state fire insurance company, will remain here about a week before returning to his home at Boise. The company of which he is head has been in the field for several years and during the last year or so following a reorganization has shown tremendous growth. The company invests its money in Idaho bonds and only recently purchased a large amount of the Minidoka project bonds as well as school bonds in Burley and Jerome.

ATTORNEY GENERAL TO CANCEL OIL LEASES

There have been many similar executive orders concerning other parcels of Indian land since that date and Mr. Stone believes that the present suit, which will be prosecuted in Salt Lake City, will determine definitely the government's position for all future cases. This proceeding, it was made clear, is clear, separate and distinct from legal steps taken by the special government counsel, former Senator Alcee Pomeroy and Owen J. Roberts, in the naval oil lease suits. It is, however, "it was asserted, to underline that Attorney General Stone should never have been allowed to sign which resulted from the decision signed by Mr. Fall in the Harrison case.

Give Indians Right

The interior department under that decision, held that Indian land reservations, created by executive order, gave the Indians the right of occupancy and use only of the surface, and that such oil, gas or other minerals contained in the land, remained the property of the United States. Mr. Stone held that the Indians came in to exclusive property rights when the executive established the reservation and that only an act of congress could make it possible for even the Indians to extract it.

Numerical Order

The order of numbers follows: Units, tens, hundreds, thousands, millions, billions, trillions, quadrillions, quintillions, sextillions, septillions, octillions, nonillions, decillions.

SOCIETY

Edited by Mrs. E. B. Williams Telephone 390.

Members of Delta Gamma sorority gave a charming bridge party Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Irene Castello on Second avenue west. The rooms were most attractive with baskets and vases of garden flowers in a variety of colors. There were 16 tables of players, favor for high score being won by Mrs. Asher B. Wilson, and consolation by Mrs. W. H. Dwight. A pleasant feature of the afternoon was the vocal solo given by the following ladies: Mrs. O. P. Duvall, Mrs. Robert Logan, Mrs. W. H. Dwight, Mrs. T. J. Woods, Mrs. Arthur Anderson of Filer and Mrs. J. A. Dygert. Mrs. Duvall played her own accompaniment and also Mrs. Dwight's. Mrs. Merlin Batley was accompanist for the other singers. The patronesses were Mesdames R. A. Read, A. B. Colwell, Leonard Smith, C. D. Thomas, Arthur Anderson, P. W. McRoberts, E. J. Ostrander, Merlin Batley, Sidney Graves, Charles Neely, W. H. Dwight and P. J. Castello. In the evening the younger set were entertained, the diversion also being bridge with the same number of players. Dainty refreshments were served at both affairs, a number of ladies coming in after the card games in the afternoon to enjoy the music and social hour that followed. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Frank Dwight, Mrs. H. H. Behlman, Mrs. Arthur Anderson and Mrs. Boring, all of Filer.

Complimenting Miss Maxine Billings of San Francisco, Miss Louise McMartin entertained with a beautifully appointed supper party Monday evening at her home on Seventh avenue east.

The centerpiece for the table was a silver basket of pink and lavender sweet-peas and silver-vanilla-bell-lavender tapers. The guests were all close friends of Miss Billings. Following supper a social time was enjoyed.

POLITICAL PERSONALITIES

One of the presidential candidates is said to have expressed a desire that the campaign shall be free from "personalities." That is, that it should be free from personal attacks and recriminations against the various candidates.

"This would be the ideal way to conduct a serious and important campaign. A political contest of national dimensions is supposed to be concerned with issues rather than individuals. The principles for which the parties and candidates stand should be the chief subjects of discussion. It is appropriate to go into the public records of candidates, for the light that will be shed on the principles they may be expected to exemplify in public office. But it goes without saying, among intelligent citizens that merely personal matters should be ignored.

Yet it is doubtful whether this campaign will be, or can be, fought on such a high plane. Even though all of the presidential candidates desire it, their followers are not so likely to avoid the temptation of resorting to personalities. The average campaign speech, as everyone knows, deals with personalities more than issues. And for this the campaigners are not altogether to blame. Politics is a very human game. The public itself, being human, regards the men more as human beings than as embodiments of the principles they are supposed to represent.

Feeling, rather than deliberate thinking, usually determines political campaigns. Few citizens think abstractly about politics. The public as a whole feels and votes concretely, for men it likes and against men it dislikes. It will take long political evolution to get beyond that.

TO SAVE LENINGRAD

There is something mournful in the efforts being made now in Moscow to save Leningrad from utter ruin.

Leningrad, it may be well to remind the reader, is Petrograd, which in turn is St. Petersburg, named and founded by Peter the Great, who established the Russian Empire. Peter absolutely created that city, building it on the mud flats at the mouth of a shallow river where there had never been anything but a few fishermen's huts.

It was a strange place for a capital city, according to ordinary notions. The present government is doubtless right in preferring for a capital the ancient city of Moscow, historic and genuinely Russian. But it reminded Peter of Holland, which he loved. He wanted a seaport, too, giving access to the Baltic and thence the outer world, to help in raising Russia to a place of world power. He wanted, also, to break with the Russian past. The Soviet government merely did after the recent revolution what Peter did two centuries ago in changing capitals.

Yet even Russian leaders regret the present decay of Peter's great city, with its empty houses, ruined public buildings, neglected paving, choked canals and general desolation. They will need at least $13,000,000, they say, to put it in repair. For sentimental reasons, if no other, somebody should give or loan them the money.

Yet would it be of any use? For Leningrad—which may be Trotskygrad or some other "grad" next year, with changing political fortunes—is a visible symbol of Bolshevism. It shows nothing else could show just what the Russian leaders have done to Russian prosperity. What is the use of restoring it unless they are willing and able

My Wife Can't Understand What I Do With My Money.
"I remember your having $10 in your pocket only a few days ago," she'll say, when I tell her that I have not that much money to leave with her some morning.

And that brings her around to one of her favorite topics: "I do wish you would keep an account of all the money you pay and how it goes. It's so easy for you to spend a little here and a little there—and you never know where it goes."

Even though I remind her that I'm among the most thrifty of men and cite evidence to prove my point, still she isn't convinced.

"If I can't make out what you did with that last ten, though," she always ends up. "You say you gave two of it for having your shoes re-soled, and—"

I guess the only thing for me to do is just to take an auditor with me everywhere I go.

FROM TALK TO ACTION

During the recent international conference of social workers at Toronto, representatives of the American and Canadian Red Cross were having joint sessions. The discussion ranged from the Junior Red Cross work, soldier relief and health programs on through disaster relief.

While American Red Cross procedure in case of disaster was being described, the theoretical discussion suddenly took a practical and dramatic turn. Word came of the tornado in northeastern Ohio which caused such heavy property damage and loss of life in one city. Immediately the Americans withdrew from the conference and proceeded to the scene of disaster to render prompt and extensive relief.

Few conference delegates ever have such sudden calls to demonstrate their work. No one would wish for frequent opportunities of this sort. Yet it was a fine object lesson in quick action. There was no red tape to unwind. No protracted discussion of plans was needed. Those workers simply rose from the conference tables and departed to the scene of action. Their promptness should have been an inspiration to all the other social workers at the conference and, to other citizens to whom the Red Cross seems only a wartime agency.

Improved Roads on Sound Business Basis

A novel plan has been presented to the county supervisors and the Automobile Association of San Joaquin as a means of both beautifying new California roads and paying a profit: not paying the cost of the roads. L. I. Taylor, a walnut grower, makes the suggestion.

The scheme, says the New York Times, is to plant walnut trees on either side of the roadways at intervals of about 100 feet. The trees are to be cared for as ordinary shade trees, at the expense of the county. At the end of ten years, declares Mr. Taylor, the trees ought to bear about fifty pounds of walnuts each. There are more than 20 miles of roadways already and the walnut trees would occupy about the equivalent of a row of 1500 trees in extent.

In ten years, at the average of fifty pounds of walnuts from each tree, there would be 15,000,000 pounds of these nuts which could probably be sold for 15 cents a pound, net, or about $2,250,000 and this sum would pay a great part of the country's taxes and road upkeep.

Famous Old City

Venice rises high among Italian cities in its supply of picturesque nicknames. The commercial center of the world in the Middle Ages, Venice has been known as "The Bride of the Adriatic" and the "Queen of the Adriatic." To this day what is paid by Venice with elaborate ceremonies to the Adriatic, whose placid waters take the place of streets and bear upon their bosom the trade and life of the city. Venice is known also as "The City of St. Mark," after its patron saint, and as "The City of the Lion," an allusion to the great winged lion in front of the cathedral, holding in its paws the gospel of St. Mark.

Earth's Central Core

Studies of varying velocity of earthquake tremors passing through the interior of the globe led Professor Wiechert of Holland to conclude that the earth consists of a central core of iron or steel, about 5,500 miles in diameter, surrounded by a stony shell nearly 1,000 miles in thickness. The outer shell and the inner layer of rock covering the metallic core, he thinks there is a layer of liquid or plastic material a little less than 20 miles beneath the earth's surface.

Earth's Central Core

Studies of varying velocity of earthquake tremors passing through the interior of the globe led Professor Wiechert of Holland to conclude that the earth consists of a central core of iron or steel, about 5,500 miles in diameter, surrounded by a stony shell nearly 1,000 miles in thickness. The outer shell and the inner layer of rock covering the metallic core, he thinks there is a layer of liquid or plastic material a little less than 20 miles beneath the earth's surface.

Explaining Battleground

"Boy, is this the field on which the great battle was fought?" asked the tourist.

"No, sir; that be at the top of the hill," replied the native boy.

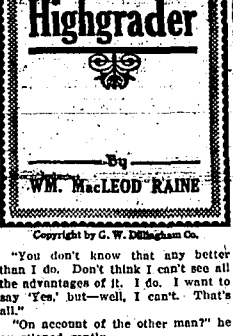

"Dear, dear!" exclaimed the tourist; "that must be a mile away. Why didn't they fight it in this field?"

"I suppose because this field belongs to Farmer Johnson. He never would lend his field for anything but corn for the village sports."

CROP PROSPECT IMPRESSED ON POOLING BOARD

Upper Valley Water Users' Representatives Gain New Appreciation of Twin Falls Production Possibilities.

With newly gained appreciation of the possibilities for crops production in the Twin Falls region, members of the upper Snake river water users' "pooling committee," at the close of a day of intensive inspection of growing fields of beans and sugar beets and other crops in this region, left Tuesday evening, returning to their homes to lay before the upper river users their report on the needs of this region for additional water to bring to successful maturity these crops with their potential return of several millions of dollars.

Members of the committee just before leaving reiterated their statement that they were without authority to divert water from the upper river region to this district, but, they said, they would submit their report as to conditions and requirements here to the upper river users who would determine whether they would give water from their decreed or stored rights to relieve the situation here. Decision of the upper river users, they advised, probably would be reached within the next few days.

Expects Grant of Water.
Belief that the upper river users would authorize grant of from 5000 to 10,000 acre feet of water to the Twin Falls district was expressed Tuesday evening by Carl J. Miller of Castleford, president of the Twin Falls Canal company, who with other members of the canal board accompanied the visiting committee members on their tour of inspection Tuesday.

This amount of water, Mr. Miller estimated, would be sufficient to maintain water delivery through the Twin Falls canal system on the present basis of 45 per cent until about August 20. Bean-growers had advised the committee members that maintenance of water delivery on the present basis for two or three weeks would be sufficient to mature the greater portion of the bean crops.

On their inspection tour Tuesday, which followed a conference Monday evening at which water requirements of this district were set forth by growers and bankers and business and professional men, members of the committee visited farms along the state highway west through Piler and Buhl, swung around through the Lucerne district and through Castleford and returned to Twin Falls over a route between the high and low line canals. In the afternoon they inspected crops and fields in the Kimberly, Hansen and Rock Creek districts.

See Expanding Loss.
On several farms, members of the committee were shown fields or portions of fields of beans already suffering severely for lack of water, and it was explained that beans are just now in a critical stage where the pods are forming and need of adequate water is most urgent.

Luxuriance of growing crops in the main throughout the region traversed called forth repeated exclamations of admiration on the part of committee members both for the natural adaptability of the region for crop production and for the ability of water users here to make the best possible use of the available water supply.

Members of the "pooling committee" who made the trip here by motor were John E. Kelley, Shelby; W. O. Cotton, Idaho Falls; John Lee and N. A. Anderson, Rigby. J. C. Jacobsen of Idaho Falls, the fifth member of the committee, was unable to make the trip because of business requiring his presence in Caldwell.

CLAIMS WATER IN RESERVOIR

Twin Falls Canal Company Authorizes Legal Action to Establish Right to Own Surplus

Significance of a decision reached some weeks ago by directors of the Twin Falls Canal company to assert claim to water carried over from one season to another in Jackson Lake reservoir has been emphasized during the past few days when prospect for serious water shortage has become imminent for the first time this season in this territory.

In explanation of this decision, Carl J. Miller, president of the canal company, stated Tuesday evening that there remained in Jackson lake at the end of the irrigation season last year approximately 27,000 acre feet of water to the credit of the Twin Falls company, out of its total right in the reservoir to about 90,000 acre feet.

Under an interpretation of the contract between the reclamation service and the canal company, this water at the beginning of the irrigation season this year reverted to the government, and approximately 10,000 acre feet of the total amount already has been drawn off by the government.

Attorneys Map Out Course

The problem presented, Mr. Miller stated, was one of altering this interpretation of the contract, and, after consultation with Judge J. R. Bothwell, attorney for the canal company, and B. F. Stoutemeyer, attorney for the reclamation service, agreement was reached by both attorneys that an order of the court would be required. Accordingly, Mr. Miller stated, the canal board authorized its legal representative to institute suit in federal court against the reclamation service to obtain the desired amendment to permit of accumulation by the canal company of reserve storage water from one season to another.
