COURT SETS DAY FOR SENTENCING SLAYERS OF BOY

Mitigation Hearing of Loeb and Leopold Ends; Judge Will Decide Sept. 10—Whether Two Must Hang.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (AP)—John E. Cheney, retreating chief prosecutor in the criminal cases of Cook county, took full charge today of the fate of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, slayers of a 14-year-old boy, and confessed kidnapers and murderers of Robert Frank.

He set September 10 as the date on which he will announce the penalty for the crime and ordered all would-be spectators barred from the building that morning.

But before reaching that point he struck out as a "cowardly and dishonest" attack upon the integrity of the court and "intended to incite a mob to intimidate this court" remarks which came at the close of the final argument up by Robert H. Crane, state attorney.

Judicial Wrath
The judicial wrath was visited upon critics of the court in general and the progress of the Frank case in particular.

Mr. Crane had received to the last a reply to a denunciation by Clarence S. Darrow, senior counsel for the defense, of testimony given in the early stages of the hearing by James G. Gordon, a detective attached to the state attorney's office. It was Gordon who stated that Leopold had said he hoped to escape the law by pleading guilty before a friendly judge. Mr. Darrow called this testimony "parjury."

Defendant's Conduct
"I do not know whether your honor believes that officer or not," said Mr. Crane, "but if you have observed the conduct of the two defendants and the conduct of their attorneys and members of their families with one honorable exception and he is the old man who sits in sack cloth and ashes, old Mr. Leopold, who is entitled to the sympathy of all; with that one honorable exception, everybody connected with this case has laughed and sneered and jeered. If the defendant Leopold did not say he would plead guilty before a friendly judge, his attitude has demonstrated that he thinks he has one."

Mr. Darrow objected to this statement at once and the judge's eyes blazed as he ordered the court reporters to write it. But he held his fire.

Judge Speaks
It was not until the state had formally rested and the defense and prosecution had agreed upon the brief formalities which were used to put the kidnaping case in the official record that the judge spoke.

Then he ordered stricken from the record the closing remarks of the state's attorney as "a cowardly and dastardly assault upon the integrity of this court."

Mr. Crane's jaw dropped and he paled. The words hit the crowded courtroom with a force that smothered every murmur. Then the prosecutor found his voice.

Actress Confesses Part in Theft of $100,000 in Gems

Plings $4500 in Jewels in Faces of New York Detectives and Tells of Maiden Lane Robbery.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP)—Dorothy Burns, 22, a former burlesque actress, flung $4,500 in the faces of detectives today and confessed a confession which her captors declared solved one of the biggest and most daring gem thefts in the history of Maiden Lane.

Tonight the young woman was under arrest with her husband, James J. Burns, 29 years old, chauffeur, Harry Chance, another chauffeur, and Mark Wollen, a jeweler all charged with having robbed the shop of Alexander Heller, dealer in diamonds at Maiden Lane of $100,000 in jewels last Thursday.

Mother in Custody
The actress' mother, Mrs. Frida Trost, also was in custody. A sixth person—a "master mind," still remains at large. He is unknown and even he the band robbers, who, according to Mrs. Burns' alleged confession, directed the robbery from behind the scenes, received the $100,000 worth of gems through a "fence" and paid the perpetrators of the theft $6000 for the job.

NOTED SURGEON SUGGESTS
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23 (AP)—Dr. Frederick Fehleisen, 60, of San Francisco, internationally known surgeon, and discoverer of the crystalline bacillus, died at his home here today of heart trouble. Dr. Fehleisen's research achievement was named "streptococcus fehleisenii" after him.

His Brow Is Wet With Honest Sweat.

PALMER CARL COOLIDGE

THIS REMARKABLE CLOSE-UP portrait of Farmer Carl Coolidge, sometimes president of the United States, was snapped on the farm of a neighbor at Plymouth, Vermont, where Mr. Coolidge spent his vacation with his father. When the neighbor couldn't get help to make his hay crop, Farmer Carl, donned overalls, rode in a costly limousine to the neighbor's home, and wielded a wicked rake.

GERMANS DEBATE ON DAWES PLAN

Reichstag Is Still Undecided Whether Reparations Shall Be Ratified.

BERLIN, Aug. 23 (AP)—Seven hours of acrimonious and partisan debate in the reichstag concluded the third reading of the bill relating to the London reparations agreement today after which it was decided to take the final vote at noon Friday.

The government is assured of the ordinary majority of the banking and industrial debenture bills which suffice for both these measures and it is believed that the necessary two-thirds majority of the railway bill is also assured. Significant conferences have been in progress to this end throughout the day between Foreign Minister Stresemann and the leaders of the German nationalist party, which, it is rumored, is reluctant to admit the government's admission into the present government in return for the support needed to ratify the London agreement.

WATER DIVERTED FOR UPPER BOISE-PAYETTE PROJECT; 5-DAY RUN

BOISE, Aug. 23 (AP)—Approximately 320 second feet of the natural flow of the Boise river were being diverted today to the New York canal, the main feeder for the Boise-Payette project, under an order from the district court at Caldwell for a five-day run, to supply the upper part of the project with water for orchards and stock purposes.

J. B. Bund, manager of the project, said today that delivery would be ready to make tomorrow. The capacity flow of the river today was 362 second feet, thus allowing 32 second feet to continue down the river, to enter the storage supply above Barber dam, for taking care of the needs of Boise. The capacity of the New York canal is 2500 second feet, so that diversion water today left the canal approximately one-seventh full.

ACCIDENT DELAYS RETURN

County Auditor O. C. Siggins' Car Is Damaged by Truck in Traffic Jam at Idaho Falls.

An automobile accident causing damage to the car owned and driven by O. C. Siggins, Twin Falls county auditor, delayed his return from Idaho Falls where he attended the republican state convention. In a traffic jam on the streets of Idaho Falls his car was crushed by a heavy truck, bending the frame and steering arm and necessitating delay for repairs. Mr. Siggins was accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Elad L. Hodgins. They arrived here late Thursday afternoon.

HOT WEATHER VISITS IDAHO'S GATE CITY

POCATELLO, Aug. 23 (AP)—Southern Idaho is suffering from a belated visitation of hot weather and the mercury in Pocatello reached 89 degrees at 1:30 today, the highest registered this season. Ninety-four was the highest Wednesday, according to A. B. People, local weather observer.

SENATOR BORAH TO INVESTIGATE CAMPAIGN COSTS

Leaves Boise Next Week for Chicago Where Senate Committee Will Meet; Also Wanted as Speaker.

BOISE, Aug. 23 (AP)—With a view to organizing the committee to handle its affairs expeditiously and to select one of the members as vice chairman, Senator William E. Borah, chairman of the senate committee appointed to investigate campaign expenditures of the various national political parties, will leave Boise early next week to confer with other members at a meeting to be held in Chicago.

Senator Borah did not set a date for the meeting, as he is awaiting word from the other senators who comprise the committee as to whether they will be able to attend.

Asked to Speak
The republican national committee has been in communication with Senator Borah, requesting his services as speaker for several big meetings in the east early in September, but the senator says he will be unable at this time to comply.

Following the meeting in Chicago, Senator Borah says he will return to northern Idaho, where he is scheduled for several speeches.

Other members of the investigating committee are Wesley L. Jones of Washington, Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota, T. T. Bayard of Delaware and T. C. Cavanaugh of Arkansas.

PROGRESSIVES AND SOCIALISTS IN ROW OVER NAMING TICKET

BOISE, Aug. 23 (AP)—Efforts Friday to heal the breach between Idaho socialists and progressives over the naming of a LaFollette electoral ticket, met with complete failure when socialists maintained their right to have the LaFollette electors in their column, because of the alleged failure of H. F. Samuel to give all LaFollette supporters a vote in naming the electors.

Several substitute plans were discussed in a meeting with D. C. Darman, personal representative of LaFollette executive committee in Chicago, who is in Boise to try for an amicable settlement, but no agreement was reached, and affairs were in status quo when the meeting closed.

Filipino Tortured Then Murdered and Heart Eaten, Report

Attempt of Christian Native to Sell Pig to Band of Negrillos Is Fatal.

MANILA, Aug. 23 (AP)—A wandering band of Negrillos in the Zambales mountains kidnapped Atance Blanco, a Christian Filipino, tortured him for seven days and then killed him, eating his heart and liver, says a story printed in El Debate, a Spanish newspaper here.

Blanco, the story says, attempted to sell a pig to the Negrillos, but instead of purchasing, they carried him a captive to their village. His torture and death followed.

Some of Blanco's bones are said to have been taken to the headquarters of the constabulary in Zambales province.

VIRGINIA SENATOR IS CONFINED TO HIS BED

LYNCHBURG, Va., Aug. 23 (AP)—Senator Carter Glass is confined to his bed at his country home, Montview, near here suffering with encephalitis. His physician stated this morning that it will be several weeks before Senator Glass will be able to attend to any business or political matters.

ROB GRAVE OF MIDGET.

CLINTON, Iowa, Aug. 23 (AP)—The grave of Baby Barker, famous Clinton midget, who is buried here was opened last night and stripped of jewels. At the time of the midget's burial it was said the tokens were worth close to $1000. She died following an accidental fall in a circus parade in Kankakee, Ill., 12 years ago.

FRAME UP, SAYS FAHY OF ARREST

Declares He Was Working on $2,000,000 Postal Robbery; Accuses Federal Prisoner.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (AP)—William Fahy, postal inspector held under $50,000 bond on a warrant charging complicity in the $2,000,000 mail robbery at Rendont, Ill., recently, was transferred from the Geneva jail to the county jail at Woodstock, Ill., late today. En route he was brought to the federal building here, where he added to his previous assertion that his arrest was brought about by a "frame up" engineered from the federal penitentiary.

BIG LINERS IN PATH OF SECOND DAMAGING GALE

Ten Ships Reach New York Port in Bad Condition From Hurricane; Leviathan Faces Another.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP)—As ten gale-rattled ships made port today with their storm-weary passengers and crews, wireless messages still were warning all ships in this part of the Atlantic to be on the lookout for another hurricane, which, from present indications, threatens to blow up as hotly a sea as that which "recently" swept such havoc on shipping.

Tropical disturbance—considerable intensity now in central 60 miles south of Saint Kitt's Island, the West Indies, and is moving rapidly northwestward. Further advice was promised for early tomorrow.

Fear for Ships
Shipping officials fear a number of the big liners now in the central and north Atlantic sea lanes may run square into the storm.

Among the ships several days out of this port are the Leviathan, the Maestri, the United States, American Republics, and the Ohio and President Roosevelt.

From South American ports still offshore, much smaller and therefore in greater danger, are on their way.

Captain Lost
Of the half score ships to make port today, the Puerto Rico freighter, San Juan, was the worst sufferer. Her captain was swept overboard by a huge wave. The steamer was badly battered in her 24-hour fight with the gale off Hatteras.

Reports from Halifax were that at least four vessels had been wrecked and several lives were believed to have been lost.

MITCHELL WILL RUN ON BOTH TICKETS IF COURT WILL LET HIM

BOISE, Aug. 23 (AP)—Perry Mitchell, republican, who competes by Democrats and progressives, will make the race on both tickets unless the supreme court puts him off one or the other, he announced in an answer to a question sent him by his third-party leaders and made public today. In his statement he expressed his pleasure at the progressive nomination. He will be a candidate for the First district seat.

HEN IS COURT ARBITER

NORTH BERGEN, N. J., Aug. 23 (AP)—Ophelia Naino, a hen belonging to George Naino, was the final arbiter in settlement of a race at law wherein Naino had caused the arrest of Mrs. Tesse Alvord, a Chicago woman, for unlawful possession of property belonging to him—to wit, a brood of young chicks. Naino alleged "Ophelia May" had hatched the brood.

NEBRASKA PROFESSOR DIES

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 23 (AP)—Professor Frederick W. Sanford, 54, chairman of the department of Latin and Greek at the University of Nebraska, died tonight.

Helpless Schooner With 19 Aboard in Dire Need of Help

Locked in Ice and Drifting Slowly Toward North Pole—Ship Asks Canadian Government for Airplane.

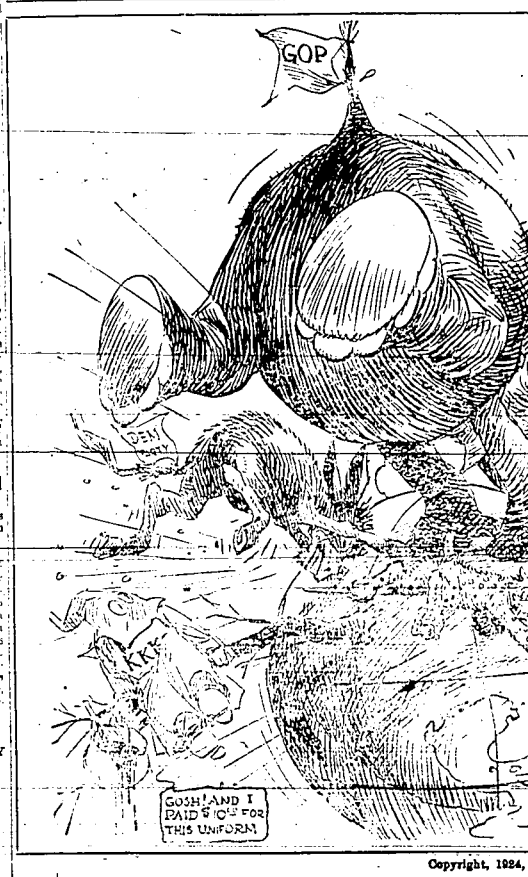

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 23 (AP)—A request that the Canadian government send an airplane to save them was received here today from nineteen men aboard the Lady Kindersley, a gasoline schooner drifting in the ice from Alaska toward the North Pole.

The appeal came through the wireless of the Lady Kindersley, which at the last report was 60 miles from Point Barrow, Alaska, and was forwarded to Ottawa.

Reached Farthest Point
The message from the Kindersley suggested that the Canadian aviator, Patricia, pick up an airplane at the Jericho aviation station, near here, and attempt with it to overtake the Bay-chimo, which was rescued by Borog and is bound for the farthest point she can reach toward the Kindersley through the Arctic ice fields. The plane would fly from the Bay-chimo to the Kindersley, bringing them out by ones and twos.

Drifting to Doom
The Hudson Bay company, which operates the Lady Kindersley and the Bay-chimo on a rescue errand when the steamer Boxer of the United States bureau of education reported last Thursday that the Kindersley had been trapped in the same way that have been many vessels which drifted slowly to doom. The Boxer has been endeavoring to aid the men but areas of water containing loose ice have prevented contact.

IDAHO FOOTBALL TEAM PICKED AS AERIAL EXPERTS

Other Schools Already Looking Upon University of State as Potential Dark Horse; Game at Portland.

MOSCOW, Aug. 28.—Stanford university, which this year jumps into prominence as headquarters of the Warner style of coaching, is giving more than passing prominence in the pre-season analyses to the Idaho game at Portland, October 25. The cardinal element of the season will be drilled by none other than Glenn (Top) Warner, himself, assisted by Andy Kerr, who has been at Stanford for a year and is credited in shape for the arrival of the man whose style of gridiron work has come to be known as the Warner "system."

The "Quadrant" recently cut out news stories detailing the future of the schedule. On their first trip they go to Portland to meet Idaho, "the demon forward-passing team which threw such a scare into California teams last year." Vandal followers will chuckle at that, realizing of course that it is as truthful an assertion as has ever been made. Still, it would seem, expects another Idaho squad of specialists in overhead play.

Second Prediction
This is the second California conference member to get in line pointing to Idaho as the most distinguished "dark horse" on the map at this early date. Stanford expects, and for Idaho this season are for removed from those last year, the Vandal clash at Portland to be one of her toughest. Last year she took the Idaho bunch rather lightly—until they swooped southward undefeated and not scored upon.

Elmer Henderson, who packs around the monkey bus "Glenny Gas" coach at Southern California, declared a short time ago that Idaho could be expected to contribute more than her usual number of upsets in the "Warner" series. Henderson's remarks were "bally" for the Southern Californians but for Idaho men they will be heard with satisfaction.

Although actual practice does not commence until September 15, the date set by conference ruling, Coach Mathews has strings on his veterans—know your line, know your position, here to put on the maroon jerseys, the very minute the bars are lowered.

WHEELER HEARING ON INDICTMENT BRANDED AS POLITICAL SCHEME

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—The setting of the arraignment of Senator Burrin K. Wheeler at Great Falls, Mont., for next week when he was planning a campaign in New York, has been branded by vice-president as branded as an "attempt to prostitute the processes of justice for political purposes" in a statement tonight by United States Representative John M. Nelson, national LaFollette-Wheeler campaign manager.

Representative Nelson pointed out that the senate had censured Senator Wheeler of the charges covered in the pending indictment brought in "the midst of his exposure of the department of justice and Attorney-General Daugherty."

"Senator Wheeler has been demanding a trial of his case ever since last May," the representative continued. "It was only after Senator Wheeler had announced the opening of his speaking campaign in Boston on labor day that he was notified he would be arraigned that very day."

Arabia's People.

The population of Arabia is estimated at 5,000,000 or 6,000,000. The language is Arabic, a branch of the Semitic family of languages, the principal of which is Hebrew. The principal industry of Arabia is raising horses, camels, sheep, cattle and mules. Considerable areas are devoted to agriculture, cereals and coffee being the leading products. There is practically no forest in Arabia, though coffee is exported to some extent. The general climate is tropical. Arabia is considered an extension of the desert of Sahara, which it resembles in surface features. Much of the interior is a vast tableland, about 8,000 feet in height, broken by mountains and arid deserts. The Euphrates draining a portion of the north, is the only river of importance.

Really Nothing New.

The man who smokes his cigar today is merely imitating the old-time West Indian who made his tobacco into cylindrical rolls wrapped in maize leaves. The father was familiar on North American rivers centuries before it was seen on the Thames; and the Eskimo of the "dark ages" piled an ear of corn different from that which serves us so well today. Snowshoes had been used by the Eskimo for hundreds of years before a man strapped a pair to his feet; and not only was the sledges an old-time invention of the Arctic native, but he have adopted its form, and our explorers even use Eskimo harness for their sledges dogs.

Republican Platform is Adopted at Convention

Following is the platform adopted at the republican convention held Tuesday and Wednesday at Idaho Falls, Idaho.

"We, the delegates of the republican party assembled in state convention at Idaho Falls, Idaho, August 26, 1924, hereby adopt the following declarations of principles:

"Since the last state republican convention the country has been deprived by death of President Harding. The republicans are proud of the record he made and experience feelings of the deepest sorrow on account of his tragic death. The wisdom of the republican party in providing for his funeral was a mark of great ability and attainment has been justified in the speed with which his successor has taken the reins of government and proceeded forward in the solution of the grave and difficult questions which have confronted the nation's chief executive.

Coolidge.

It has been recently said that the republican party today finds its strongest justification in the personality of Calvin Coolidge. He has been the nation's chief executive for a little more than a year, during which time he has displayed an intelligence and strength of character and a patriotism which has already stamped his administration as one of the strongest and most helpful that the country has ever had.

We recognize in the problem of taxation one of the greatest that confronts the nation at the present time. This great problem has been attacked by the chief executive in such a manner as to promise to the people of the nation the greatest possible measure of relief.

The budget system, which is purely a product of the republican administration, has itself placed the government upon a business foundation for the first time in its history. It has provided the means of a great saving of money, and providing greatest efficiency in government. This item alone characterizes, in a most important way, a return to common sense government.

Public Debt.

Through the adoption of strict business methods in the administration of the affairs of government, great issues have been met upon our public debt. A reduction has been made in the public debt of over four billion one hundred thirty million dollars.

In the application of the republican tariff, which is now a law, the farmers and other producers of the country have found a logical and deserved reward from the devastating free trade policies employed by the democratic party. We believe, however, that all tariff legislation designed to protect domestic development should be without discrimination, no extended with absolute equality to agricultural production, which constitutes the basic elements of our national supremacy.

The honest and constructive record of the republican party from the days of Lincoln to the days of Calvin Coolidge is such that it cannot be obscured by isolated instances of dishonest officers of the government, who claim office under a republican administration. No party has a corner on government honesty, and on this position we stand firmly, with Calvin Coolidge, in the statement that "the guilty shall be punished."

National Platform.

We endorse the national platform of the republican party adopted at Cleveland in June, 1924.

The republican party presents to the people in the coming campaign a ticket of which it is very proud and the character of Calvin Coolidge is typically American and presents the high minded citizenship, which is an inspiration to the masses of the United States. The republican party is likewise proud of his running mate, Charles G. Dawes, whose great accomplishment as a soldier of the late world war, as chief of supply procurement for the American army in France and as director of the national budget, and as head of the Dawes commission, stamps him as one of the foremost men of our generation.

He has displayed a grasp of international affairs which has placed him in the forefront of students of world conditions. While the ablest of the world have spent years of distraction in attempting to bring order out of the chaos which resulted from the world war, it remains for one of America's most distinguished sons to propose the plan which is destined to place the world upon a sound basis of peace and well being. The wisdom of the republican party in obtaining these particular men for this great service has been fully justified. To the nation's republican administration, in no small measure, is due the credit for the great work by the Dawes commission.

Proved Its Right.

In the production and presentation of these two men, the republican party has proved its right to manage the affairs of the nation.

Congressional Delegation Endorsed.

We heartily endorse the record made by the Idaho congressional delegation in Washington. In Senator Borah the state of Idaho has supplied to the nation a strong, honest, vigorous and able influence for honesty and open-handed administration of public affairs. He has displayed a grasp of international affairs which has constituted a genuine service to the people of the world.

Senator Gooding has displayed a degree of energy and ability which constitute a real, helpful and progressive service.

Commend Congressmen.

We commend our congressmen, Hon. Addison T. Smith and Hon. Burton L. French, for their tireless work in behalf of the people of the state of Idaho, their diligence in public service and their honest endeavors to promote the welfare of the people of this state and of the nation.

Two years ago the republican platform pledged the state administration to strive economy in all affairs of the state, and we now submit that this pledge has been faithfully and efficiently performed by the administration, headed by Governor C. G. Moore. The record of Governor Moore in the administration of the affairs of the state is a source of gratification and pride to the republican party of Idaho.

The administration has been honest, efficient and economical, and the officers of the state have applied themselves with almost unprecedented diligence to the accomplishment of the duties that have devolved upon them.

Further Economy.

We pledge the party to still further simplification and economization in government, and of its subdivision, realizing that taxes are even now too high. We stand firmly against the creation of unnecessary boards, bureaus and commissions; which would further burden the people with unnecessary taxation and furnish an incentive to extravagance. We believe with President Coolidge, that the people should be given a chance to work out their own material and spiritual salvation, unembarrassed and unburdened by unnecessary boards, bureaus and commissions and governmental interference.

Declaring that our agriculture is still "struggling with adverse conditions," as a result of an unbalanced condition brought about by the democratic party, the agricultural plank calls attention to the republican party's record of constructive legislation for the farmer and promises further aid in "bringing about a balanced condition."

Water Conservation.

Conservation of water under the administration of Governor Moore was lauded and the party is pledged to continue to pass new legislation necessary to secure the people the highest use of one of the state's greatest assets, and pledges further the continuous support of measures "to the end that the people may receive the greatest benefit therefrom."

The public utilities commission is commended in a plank that refers to the pending litigation in which the Idaho Power company is appealing from a decision on power rates handed down by the commission and all aid necessary in presenting the consumers' viewpoint is pledged.

We affirm that the federal reclamation act, passed by a republican congress and signed by a republican president and designed to assist in the irrigation of the arid lands of the western states, is sound and beneficial and the national policy. We believe, however, that the time has come when the law should be amended to meet the extra burdens which the farmer, as a result of the world war, has had to bear. We hold, however, that the law should be so amended that all payment charges should be refunded in accordance with the fact finding commission as contained in the Smith bill introduced at the last session of congress.

Re-Service Men.

We favor the continuance of state welfare commission for ex-service men and women of the world war and the re-appropriation of the balance remaining unexpended by that commission for the purpose designated in the act.

We heartily endorse the program of the Idaho Memorial association in erecting a memorial upon the campus of the University of Idaho, wherein may be recorded the history and record of the service men and women of the state of Idaho. As an armory and gymnasium, thereby creating, through donations, a structure of inspiration and practical utilitarian value.

We favor the active interest of the state of Idaho and its officials, in further efforts to secure forest service funds already applied to these projects, and express our appreciation of the confidence suggested by the states of Washington and Montana in the integrity of Idaho in the large expenditures made in the construction of connecting highways.

Auto License.

A proposed amendment to the present automobile tax law so "that no automobile which is not in fact used principally for truck purposes shall be taxed for other than the actual cost of payment of automobile taxes, and still another to strengthen "our automobile law in such a manner as to prevent the legality of our highways," are included in one plank.

We commend the action of the 1923 action of the legislature of the state of Idaho, whereby a non-political banking code commission was created to study the banking problems of Idaho and report to the governor before the convening of the incoming legislature, any available and possible plan which will remedy existing conditions and most fully protect the public interest.

CHINESE STRIKE TIES UP CANTON

Merchants Protest Attempt to Prevent German Shipment of Arms.

HONG KONG, Aug. 28 (AP)—Although the Chinese merchants of Canton maintain that their strike is being carried out successfully, the government asserts that the strike is failing. A strict censorship at Canton makes it difficult to obtain the truth about the situation.

Meaning the exodus of the well-to-do from Canton to Hong Kong continues. Large sums of money and valuables also are being sent to Shanghai and Hong Kong for safe keeping. The inflow of money is creating a great reluctance to stock exchanges here which are experiencing unprecedented booms.

Considerably Excited.

Although the Chinese community of Hong Kong is considerably excited over the strike and conditions are unsettled, the foreigners generally do not regard the situation with apprehension.

The merchants strike at Canton was called following difficulties between the merchants' volunteer corps, known as the fascist of China, and the governor of Sun Yat-sen over the admission of shipment of arms from a German firm to the corps. The corps claimed it had legitimate permission to import the arms and threatened an armed conflict against Sun before he finally released the shipment, August 16.

MEXICAN PRESIDENT SAYS MARKETS OPEN

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—President-elect Calles of Mexico, on a visit here, in a newspaper interview today, declared that "the markets of Mexico and her national resources are at the disposal of all merchants and capitalists who desire to enter into commercial relations with us and who are willing to respect our laws."

The restoration of diplomatic relations between Mexico and the soviet government is a source of satisfaction to his government, General Calles declared.

LAND COMPROMISE REACHED.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—The controversy between the federal government and the state of Washington over lands claimed by the United States as a part of the Yakima Indian reservation has been compromised. This became known today when the department of justice filed in the supreme court a stipulation entered into with the state of Washington requesting the court to enter an order returning to the United States the lands claimed for the Indians.

Grabbe the Realist.
How many of us who write ought to write only about the things that please. How differently did Crabbe. He did not like at all the conditions under which he was obliged to live and work, but he recognized that it might be of great use to record them in literature, artistically, truthfully, and dispassionately. And he became a great artist by writing about the things he detested. To work in this way requires more than self-denial. It requires the force of character.—Lafayette Hearn.

Largest Body of Fresh Water.
Lake Superior is the largest body of fresh water in the world. Its length, east to west, is about 400 miles, with a mean breadth of about eighty miles, so that its area may be taken as about 31,500 square miles. The maximum depth recorded is 1,008 feet and the height of its surface is about 602 feet above the Atlantic. It receives upward of fifty rivers. The lake embraces many large and well-wooded islands, the chief of which is Isle Royal.

Sneeze Signs.
In ancient Greece and Rome to sneeze while rising from the table or bed was thought to indicate approaching death. Yet to sneeze between midday and midnight under favorable conditions signified happiness.

SENATORS TAKE REDS WIN IN YANKS TO CAMP SECOND INNING

Eighth-Inning Rally Gives Washington Lead in American League.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Washington took the lead from the New York Yankees here today as the result of an eighth inning rally which netted eight runs, six of them after two were out. The score was 11 to 6. Ruth hit his forty-first and forty-second home runs and apparently had piled up a safe lead for New York when Pennock weakened in the eighth. The entire New York club collapsed shortly after that. A fumble by Dugan led in the second run of the inning.

With two out and New York still a run ahead, Gossin drove a liner to Witt, but the sun blinded the fielder as he was set for the catch. It went for a three base hit, scoring Dugan and two more runs followed, two after Dugan prolonged the inning with a second fumble.

Washington drove out 18 hits. Rice hit two doubles and three singles, and Gossin hit a home run, a triple, a double and a single and drew a base on balls.

The score: R. H. E.

Boise Railroad Man Must Face Court for Shooting Fellow Employee.

BOISE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Nick Watkins, who shot and killed David F. Jennings Tuesday morning at the Oregon Short Line passenger station, was held for trial in district court and remanded to jail without bail this morning at the preliminary hearing before Carl Norris, justice of the peace.

When court convened this morning, Elbert S. Delane, representing Watkins, announced that he would not call any witnesses and that the defense would rest.

Information charging Watkins with murder in the first degree will be filed shortly by the prosecuting attorney, and court officials are of the opinion that the case will probably be reached late in September.

JUDGE DENIES BOXER'S PLEA

Motion to Quash Indictments Charging Murder Against McCoy Unavailing.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28 (AP)—The motion of attorneys of Kid McCoy to quash the indictments against him charging murder, robbery and assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Theresa Mora August 12, were denied in the superior court today. The motions were based on irregularities in the preparation of the indictment and failure to include the name of Mrs. Jennie Thomas, Kid McCoy's sister, as a witness.

Further arguments on the legality of the indictments were heard.

Frank Heron, foreman of the grand jury which indicted McCoy, and J. Wickenburg, secretary, were called to the witness stand by defense attorneys.

Heron explained the absence of Mrs. Thomas' name from the indictment list of witnesses. He told the court that her testimony had been taken at another time, while the grand jury was deliberating another indictment. He declared the absence of the name an oversight.

Superior Judge Charles S. Crall ordered Mrs. Thomas' name added to the list and overruled all motions of the defense.

Next Tuesday was the date set for McCoy's plea.

COURT SETS DAY FOR SENTENCING SLAYERS

or," he said. "And it could be used for no other purpose," continued the judge sternly, "than to write a mob and try to intimidate this court."

"If your honor please," beseeched the startled state's attorney, "I merely wanted to put my personal feelings plainly before the court. I had no other intention."

"The state's attorney knew," went on the inexpressible tone of the court, "that it would be heralded all over this country and all over the world. And he knows too, that the court had opportunity to do only what he did."

Not Be Intimidated.

The judicial voice came up sharply as he added: "This court will not be intimidated by anybody, at any time or any place, as long as he occupies this position."

Then, scarcely changing his tone, Judge Caverly started reading a prepared statement, in which he flayed critics who have aired their views in public prints or in letters and telegrams to the judge.

"This case is one of the speediest trials of a criminal case ever heard in Cook county in which the state has asked the death penalty," said the statement.

"The judge said he considered ten days about the proper time in which to consider his findings because he had practically 2,000 pages of exhibits to study."

BACK TO ASIA
Japan is said to have a new Chinese policy. Instead of being concerned solely with commercial and industrial exploitation of China, Japan is engaged in what Yusaku Kamekura, in an American lecture calls, "cultural work."

That is, Japan is interesting itself in studying Chinese civilization, along with oriental civilization generally. And also is going about it somewhat as she went about studying western civilization a generation or two ago. It is a striking change. Perhaps it is indicative of a new spirit throughout Asia.

The people of China and Japan," says Mr. Kamekura, "are turning once more upon themselves, exploring their own resources of spirit and seeking a way to victory along paths that are linked with the glories of the past."

This does not mean military glory. Apparently the scholarly Japanese who tell about it, and the cultured orientals behind him, are thinking of something quite different. Disillusioned by the mere material glories of Europe and America, they are regaining confidence in the best elements of their own civilization. They are not preaching "Asia for Asiatics" so much as preaching that Asia has things worth while for Asiatics, which will stand comparison with any values the West has to offer.

When Asiatics speak thus, they command respect among all who know anything of the world, past and present. Asia was the birthplace of civilization. It was Asia that taught Europe, in essential things. The world's great religions have come out of Asia. There are still, no doubt, resources of knowledge and power in that great continent of which the West generally knows little, which have nothing to do with armed force or material success, and which might benefit the West as much as the West's scientific progress can benefit the East.

BEHIND THE "NO TRESPASS"
A traveler in the West has this to say about the desirability of "No Trespass" signs:

"Just at present we are living behind one. It is an our front gate, about 300 yards from our log cabin. The sign says: 'No trespassing, hunting or fishing. Game Preserve.' It is a game preserve unless or undesirable. We don't think so when we note that the overflow of the spring from which we get our drinking water is sought daily by a family of the loveliest deer you ever saw. Nor when we observe the fearlessness of the quail, the pheasant, the rabbit and squirrels. This whole mountainous is a game preserve, protected by 'No Trespassing' signs. And it is a bit of Eden."

The hunter who goes into the woods with a camera instead of gun and wild flower enthusiast who carries nothing more menacing to nature than a pocket guide to native flora are found more frequently today than formerly. There are not yet enough men and game and wild flower preserve, but every one so far established in justifying it.

It is many times over in the minds of the people who appreciate true loveliness when they see it and who are able to have a good time without destroying life in the process.

Not for the Garden
Land tortoises are often purchased by amateur gardeners under the mistaken impression that they will clear the garden of insect pests; they are really vegetables with a special weakness for lettuce.

If your property is desirable and is advertised in the classified "you'll find you" buyer.

Breakfast Food "Matrimonially Speaking"

By Hugh McKay

My wife never has room enough for my things when she parks our suit case.

The percentage of the belongings that I have taken away over a weekend is something like this: Hosiery, 90 per cent; underwear, 10 per cent. Sometimes I don't have quite that high.

"By the way," she says, "just one more thing," of her own and takes out just one more of mine to make room—most of the clothes I'd figured on taking are lying in a neat little pile outside the suitcase.

My extra suit takes up entirely too much room, she reports. It is impossible to crowd in my enormous white shoes. There's absolutely no point in taking my bathrobe, anyway.

And then she discovers quite a few other things of her own that she'd forgotten, but which simply have to go in.

By the time we get off, I'm darn lucky if we have so much as a pair of pajamas and a toothbrush of mine alone.

Tomorrow: My husband never tells me what he's been doing during the day.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MUSK-OXEN

There was great excitement among the Musk-Oxen, for nine new Musk-Oxen had just arrived.

"Tell us about it up in Goodland," they said. "What is the weather like up there? Have you been having nice weather?"

"How are the old folks?" "Did you wonder around the block parts of the country as we used to do?" "You stayed far up North, didn't you?"

"How do you like it here?" "Now, tell us frankly, what is your opinion of the zoo?"

The nine new Musk-Oxen laughed a little, though their faces were rather solemn for the most part. The others were glad to see the new friends and relatives and they asked questions so quickly that the new Musk-Oxen couldn't get a chance to answer.

But at last they did. "How can we tell how we like it here when we have only just arrived?" said the first Musk-Ox among the new arrivals.

"The old folks are well," the second Musk-Ox said.

"It was nice and cool up in Goodland," said the third Musk-Ox.

"Yes, weather pretty fair, though never too sunny," said the fourth Musk-Ox.

"But I'd say we'd been having fairly decent weather," said a fifth Musk-Ox.

"Yes, we stayed right up pretty far North," said a sixth Musk-Ox.

And wandered around where it was very hot and sunny, said a seventh Musk-Ox.

"I can't tell much about the zoo as yet," said the eighth Musk-Ox, "but it looks all right."

But the ninth Musk-Ox had no question to answer and so he asked one.

"Tell me," he said, "do you still follow the good old ways of using your own umbrellas? Of course, we do, but we didn't know if you'd changed your ways since coming here."

"No," said Mr. Musk-Ox who had been in the zoo for some time, "we haven't changed our ways. It used to amuse the people at first when the keeper would tell them that over our brown, thick-hair, the thick-hair which is so straight and long, always acted as an umbrella for us, or a water-proof, and shed the rain."

"People used to think it quite strange, but they came to see that never can be caught in the rain without being able to look out for ourselves."

"Sometimes they call us Musk-Sheep and, though we're half-way between sheep and cattle, it is not correct to call us Musk-Sheep."

"Musk-Ox is our family name."

"Miss Musk-Ox, over yonder, is a bit cross at times. She won't let any Musk-Oxen younger than herself in the same yard with her."

"She makes life miserable for them by bossing them all the time, as she has a tendency to do when the younger ones away from her, as she is all right."

"Oh, it is very pleasant here, and you all enjoy it."

"We're glad you've come. There are not many around here. Look at our part of the world and who can talk over old times and over the scenery we know."

"Well, we welcome you, Musk-Oxen relatives."

And the nine new Musk-Oxen seemed quite pleased to be so welcomed and to have their own relatives on hand, on foot, or on ice, to greet them.

It really made it extremely nice.

And it kept them from suffering with Musk-Oxen homesickness for the far, far lands up North.

What Is a Kiwi?
Visitors at an aviation field heard an officer refer to "Kiwis" (pronounced keewees) and found on inquiry that it applied to young aviators who had not won their certificates as pilots. The term "Kiwi" is now almost universally applied to immature aviators who can't fly.

The Kiwi is the wingless bird of New Zealand, and is practically a miniature man, that giant bird now extinct.

"Oh, so she is! And she stays over night, doesn't she? Well, if that doesn't worry her, I may keep her here, then, and drive out after the dinner."

I could just as well stay at the studio; I have to be in town tomorrow—but we'll see. Don't worry if I'm not here. Come on, Tom, we're all ready!"

Ellen followed them downstairs, her face pale with suppressed weariness, keeping with the foreboding, cold, dull air. When the plans for the day were discussed at the breakfast table, she listened, her face pale, as if she were a stranger.

GRAIN PRICES HIGHER DUE TO FOREIGN NEWS

Continued Unfavorable Crop Reports Also Send Market Up: Wheat Displays Firm Underlines.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—All grain averaged higher in price here today due to bullish foreign news and continued unfavorable crop reports from the domestic corn belt. At the finish wheat was up 1 1/4c, with September $1.22 5/8 to 1.23 3/4, and December $1.27 1/4 to 1.28. Corn scored a net gain of 1 1/2 to 2 3/4c, oats rose 1 1/2 to 1 5/8c and provisions advanced 1 1/2 to 2 1/2c. Wheat displayed a firm undertone throughout the day, largely in sympathy with corn strength and because of lower quotations in Chicago and the advance in Liverpool. A report from Germany telling of the rotting of crops as a result of excessive wet weather, an official statement from the soviet government of Russia stating that about 60 per cent of the planted wheat acreage will be a failure and a report that the Swedish wheat crop will be nearly a million and a half bushels less than last year, also helped to lift the values here.

Pessimistic reports of damage in the corn belt were chiefly responsible for the uptick in corn. Nebraska corn planted of continuously hot dry weather which is firing the crop, and Iowa said low temperatures there were retarding corn which is in need of warmer weather to advance development.

Cattle were firm in line with other grain.

Provisions were strong and active in sympathy with higher quotations in hogs and the strength in corn.

MOORE EXTOLLS LABOR AS DUTY

Idaho's Governor Calls for Observance of Annual Holiday for Nation's Workers.

Declaring that labor is a duty as man shirk without forfeiting his right to daily bread, Governor C. C. Moore has issued a proclamation recommending closing places of business and holding of public meetings in observance of Labor Day next Monday. Text of the proclamation follows:

By legislative enactment the state of Idaho the first Monday in September has been dedicated and set aside as Labor Day.

Labor is a duty as man shirk without forfeiting his right to daily bread. We owe much to labor. By the activity of man has been elevated from barbaric conditions; the forest has been cleared to cultivate land; the oceans have been covered with ships and we have been given comfort and happy homes in place of wilderness.

It seems highly fitting that a day be set apart for paying respect to the dignity and true worth of labor, for by labor we advance and by repose we gain advantages gained. In Idaho, we are especially fortunate in the excellent class of laborers who compose our most sturdy citizenship. Their devotion to a noble trade, their present degree of advancement through the toil and sacrifice of our best men and women.

Therefore, in conformity to law and in keeping with the spirit which has made Idaho a great commonwealth, I, C. C. Moore, governor of Idaho, do hereby proclaim Monday, September 1, 1924, Labor Day, and I do recommend that all places of business be closed as far as possible, that the national flag be displayed, and that gestures be held throughout the state in honor to the men and women who have won so much to the life and prosperity of this entire state.

J. Sweeley, whom she has been elected to succeed as president of the Western Federation of Women's Clubs, from which Mrs. Sweeley retired after four years' service, at the Los Angeles convention, and was elected honorary president.

Mrs. and Mrs. Erickson had not previously visited the Twin Falls county and they were enthusiastic in their expressions of appreciation.

Mrs. Sweeley stated Thursday evening that it was a matter of regret to her that lack of time prevented calling on the women of this community together to meet Mrs. Erickson, but she said Mrs. Erickson expects to return later in the year and then plans will be made for her to meet all of the club women of this section.

Miss Terhune left at once for Springfield driving to Parrott, where she caught the evening train eastbound Wednesday night.

Juvenile Wanderers Halted in Quest for Curry Hay for Pets

Three Little Folks, Overtaken Far From Home on State Highway, Returned Here.

On the state highway three miles and a half away from their home in Twin Falls, three little folks were observed last Wednesday evening, on a quest for curry hay for their rabbits and sister, three and four years old, in a little wagon westward toward Curry, where the youngest explained, they were going to get alfalfa for their rabbits.

A resident of a farm on the highway reported to Probation Officer John R. Ault, the passing of the young travelers. Inquiries were made at the sheriff's office and police headquarters, but no children had been reported missing. Then the original informant reported that she had located the names of the little wanderers. Their father joined the probation officer in a relief expedition and the wandering trip was over.

MISSING AUTO IN GRAND JUNCTION

Sheriff's Office Advised R. E. Bobier Machine Is Located and Suspect Held.

R. E. Bobier's sport model Oakland automobile, taken Monday night from a front of the Elk's club, has been located at Grand Junction, Colo., and two young men in whose possession it was found, are held prisoners there, awaiting arrival of Twin Falls officers, according to word received Thursday evening at the sheriff's office.

Names of the young men were not given in the word received here, but their ages were given at about 25 years and descriptions, members of the sheriff's office and police say, confirming their suspicions as to the identity of the car that was taken.

Deputy Sheriff C. E. Jones, according to Sheriff M. E. Finch, will leave today for Colorado to return with the suspects in custody.

Officers were at a loss Thursday evening to account for the fact that the stolen car had been driven so far from home, and were waiting out on word by scores of messages sent out since after it was missed shortly before midnight Monday. It was suggested that the stolen car may have avoided towns in this region and traveled little frequented routes.

The missing car was painted bright red and was equipped with wheels of wire and a spare tire mounted on the rear.

Word of the location of the car and apprehension of the theft suspects came here indirectly and was delivered to Deputy Sheriff Jones in the form of telephone conversation on another matter with the sheriff's office at Boise to which the message from Colorado had been delivered through error.

MYSTERY AGAIN IN WELLS TRAGEDY

Ogden Man Definitely Declines to Identify Man Killed Here as His Brother.

Ernest Wood, 24, victim of a fatal accident in construction work on the Rogerson-Wells railroad August 9, last, for whose relatives a nation-wide search has been made, did not Ernest Wood, son of Joseph Wood of Ogden, who last week declined to identify the body of the dead man, after viewing it as that of his son, although he said, there were many points of resemblance. Definite statement to this effect was made Thursday by George Wood, foreman for the Pacific Fruit Express company at Ogden, son of Joseph Wood and brother of Ernest Wood for whom another search has been launched since the father declined to identify the body of the dead man here as that of his son.

Ernest Wood, son of Joseph and brother of George Wood of Ogden, has not been seen by his father since he was six years old, although they have had word from him in that time. He was last known to be in Los Angeles in the employ of a railroad as car checker. Ernest Wood was the youngest of his family in Ogden have failed to bring any word as to his present whereabouts. George Wood brought here photo graphs of his late son, and showed them to his handwriting. Neither correspond with those of the dead man. War department records consulted with view to identifying the dead man by means of finger prints contain no entry of the name of Ernest Wood, according to advice just received here, while Ernest Wood of Ogden is known to have served during the war as a member of the aviation corps.

Strong Resemblance

Points of resemblance between Ernest Wood and the dead man include dental work, wound on the shoulder and peculiar natural formation of the foot. Ernest Wood, his brother said, had a scar on his left arm marking a knife wound inflicted by a Mexican bandit of years ago. The dead man had a scar on the middle of the right arm that is believed to have been caused by a bullet wound. Two toes on the right foot of Ernest Wood, according to brother, are the same as brother and brother were joined, while on the dead man two toes on the left foot were similarly joined.

The young man was known here as Ernest Wood died at a local hospital from surgical shock a few hours after being crushed by a falling concrete pile. He has been employed on the railroad construction work only a few days and had worked prior to that time for a few days or weeks at a time for a number of farmers of this region. Acquaintances of the man had told them of relatives living in California and Oklahoma.

Company's liability insurance, in the case of the dead workman would be payable to his relatives if they identified the body.
