BIRTH OF CITYMany Attend Celebration in Honor of Twin Falls' Twentieth Anniversary; Pioneers Participate.

Stirred to a high pitch of enthusiasm by allusion to Twin Falls spirit and review of its achievements, about 150 Twin Falls citizens and several guests spent three enjoyable hours Friday evening in the Hotel Perrine dining room at a banquet arranged by Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce for the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the city of Twin Falls.

The assemblage included many of Twin Falls citizens who had participated in the building of the city from its earliest days.

Trace Growth.
Speakers traced outstanding events in the city's history and ventured forecasts as to its future progress, emphasis being laid on the important part that co-operation and common loyalty to a common aim had played in the almost sensational development that has marked Twin Falls development up to the present time, and that must be relied upon to bring even greater development in the future.

Reminiscences colored the remarks of M. J. Sweeley, toastmaster, and the addresses of Representatives Adair, T. Smith and C. D. Thomas, all of them being pioneer residents of Twin Falls. Other speakers were C. C. Oigeneux, assistant superintendent of agriculture for the Union Pacific system; Judge E. A. Walters, the Rev. Arthur G. Pearson and Joe Koehler, Shad L. Hodgkin, Twin Falls' mayor, opened the program and introduced the toastmaster.

Sing Songs.
Under leadership of C. E. Booth, the assemblage joined during the first part of the evening in the singing of a number of songs. Orchestra music was furnished by a musical organization composed of Benjamin Benedict, Fred Friedman and Eugene Akers, all Twin Falls young men, who received their musical education here.

In his opening remarks Mr. Sweeley called for persons who were residents of Twin Falls in 1913 to stand. Four persons, Mr. and Mrs. Ene Prothero, George F. Sprague and Ivan T. Lin, came forward to their feet. A greater number, including Representative and Mrs. Smith, James McMillan and C. E. Booth, stood when the toastmaster introduced residents of the city in 1904. Persons whose residence here dates from 1905 also were called upon to stand and he introduced.

Review Events.
Referring to a series of 22 large placards that were displayed one after another as the address proceeded, Mr. Thomas reviewed outstanding events

Prevails.

OGDEN, Sept. 5 (AP)—Prayers for rain will be uttered Sunday in the Mormon churches of Ogden and its vicinity, following receipt of official recommendations from the president of the church that such action be taken. A few weeks ago the Catholic church services included prayers for rain and a fine storm drenched Ogden and its vicinity a few days later.

The recommendation of the Mormon church, signed by Heber J. Grant, Charles Partridge and Anthony W. Ivins, the first presidency, reads as follows:
"Because of alarming conditions prevailing throughout the intermountain region and by reason of the protracted drought which has long prevailed and still persists, we recommend that at the Sabbath day service which will be held on Sunday, September 7, which is fast day, special mention be made in the prayers offered and Divine assistance be solicited to the end that the prevailing drought may be broken."

TEAPOT DOME REEVE.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 5 (AP)—Appointment of a receiver in the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve receivership to succeed Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, resigned, probably will not be made until October, if at all, Judge T. Blake Kennedy of the United States district court, declared this morning.

HERE IS ONE MAN who has punched the Prince of Wales smack on the jaw—and got away with it. Mason said the prince was only a fair boxer.

ASKS FOR WARRANT
ON FIRPO CHARGES

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—An application for a warrant to bring Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine boxer, before Henry H. Curran, commissioner of immigration, for a hearing on deportation proceedings was sent to the secretary of labor in Washington by Mr. Curran today.

The commissioner made this announcement after the hearing of several witnesses and the examination of evidence submitted to him by Canon William Sheaf Chase, who for the past month has been collecting evidence which is said to show that on a previous trip to this country Firpo illegally brought Blanca Picart, a country woman, to this country.

On the basis of evidence obtained within the last day or so I have applied for a warrant for the arrest of Firpo."

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 5 (AP)—Otto Meek, reputed wealthy rancher of Baker, Nev., reported to the police that negotiable securities which he said had a face value of more than $3,000,000 had been stolen from his automobile while it was parked on Main street here this afternoon.

Meek said the securities belonged to the Mammoth Land and Power company of Baker, Nev., with which company he is connected. He refused to state the present market value of the securities but said he was en route to New York to turn them over to brokers.

He said he left the securities in a suitcase in the front seat of his automobile and when he returned in about an hour the bag was gone.

Meek was unable to shed any light on the theft, saying he was traveling alone and knew of no one who was aware of the contents of the suitcase.

ARMAMENT CONTROL SOON

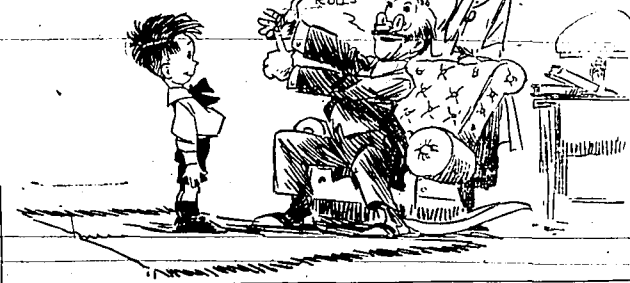

BERLIN, Sept. 5 (AP)—The international control commission and the German military authorities agreed today that control of German armaments would begin on Monday and the government issued a communique appealing to the people to avoid any obstruction of the commission's work, or hostile action which "would involve the danger of perpetrating the present state of affairs with all of its humiliating accompaniments."

POLO GAME POSTPONED

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—The first game of the international polo series between the American and English teams, scheduled for Monday morning, has been postponed until Tuesday, Sept. 9, the United States Polo association announced tonight. Today's rain is responsible for the postponement.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5 (AP)—Three blocks Fred de Ormond traveled, and in each block he stole an automobile, it was testified at his preliminary hearing here today on a charge of grand larceny. The first car he stole crashed into another before he had gone a block, according to witnesses, the second ran out of gasoline just after he got it started; the third was taken away from him by a policeman who by that time had learned what was going on in the neighborhood. He was held for trial in superior court under $3000 bail.

MAIL BANDIT'S
WIFE ASKS AIDMrs. Roy Gardner to Carry Fight to Washington for Brain Operation.

PHOENIX, Arizona, Sept. 5 (AP)—Mrs. Dollie Gardner will carry to Washington her fight to induce federal authorities to permit an operation on the brain of her husband, Roy O. Gardner, to relieve him of a mania which she believes caused him to attempt to hold up a Santa Fe train in Arizona on November 25, 1921.

Gardner, a notorious mail bandit, is serving a 25-years term in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Continue Efforts.
His wife, in Phoenix today enroute to Washington, expressed her determination to continue her efforts to do everything in her power to aid her husband. She will go to Washington with affidavits from members of the jury which heard the evidence and disagreed on an insanity verdict at Gardner's trial here in December, 1921, and from United States Judge William H. Fawcett, who presided, and recommended the operation, according to her own story.

Mrs. Gardner said she realized the operation, if successful, would cause her husband to be liberated.

Back in United States But Unable to Reach Boston as Planned for Friday.

BOSTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Fog and thick weather that rolled up along the Maine coast, brought about an abrupt landing by the American world-circling aviators at Bangor, Maine, today while a crowd of nearly 10,000 persons awaited them at the Bangor airport. Reaching the mainland of the United States after an absence of nearly five months, in which they completed the virtual circumnavigation of the world by air, the fliers received by telephone the congratulations of high army officials who had gathered here to meet them.

Forced by fog to turn back with his squadron of 11 planes with which he hoped to continue the voyage to Boston, Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service, found a telephone call from Lieut. Lowell H. Smith, awaiting him on his return here. Smith's first greeting to his chief was: "Sorry we had to disappoint you, sir, but the fog was too thick for me to take a chance with these men and our ships."

General's Greeting.

General Patrick replied: "Mighty glad, indeed, to have you, as you could get through safely. We went up to meet you and realize what the conditions were."

"Everything is O. K. for a get-away tomorrow," Smith replied.

"Will look for you tomorrow, then," replied General Patrick. "You boys have done splendidly, the aviators to Boston. Taking the telephone, Assistant Secretary of War Dwight Davis, who had accompanied General Patrick in another plane and who had just alighted, said:

"Welcome to our country. Sorry you had to come down."

To which Lieutenant Smith replied: "We did our best, sir, to come through. Look for us tomorrow."

Comrades Greet Them.

A greeting to old comrades came from Lieut. St. Clair Street, aide to General Patrick, who commanded the Alaskan flight in addition to piloting the main route for the world tour.

"Hello, Smith," he said. "You fellows have done a fine job. Hope you came down all right. See you tomorrow."

The aviators, who alighted on the waters of Casco bay, Maine, without mishap, tonight were planning to proceed here as early as possible tomorrow where prearranged program of ceremonies is to be carried out. Then according to arrangements made by General Patrick, the planes will be overhauled, the out-motors removed and landing gear substituted. On Sunday, according to plans, they will push on to New York City. They will land at Mitchell field from where they will continue their flight to the Pacific coast.

RAINING AT PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Maine, Sept. 5 (AP)—Rain began to fall here late tonight, convincing many in some quarters whether the world fliers would be able to resume their flight tomorrow as planned. The weather bureau in Washington today ordered storm warnings from Sandy Hook to Eastport, advising that a disturbance reported over eastern Maine was moving northward and increasing in intensity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—A waterspout, the first in the history of New York harbor, started from the New Jersey shore at 3:15 this afternoon, swept across the bay and stirred up a volume of spray which whisked overboard part of the cargo of a barge near Governors island. Old tars stared at the phenomenon in amazement for squalls are rare in these waters.

The spout, which originated in a thunderstorm, lasted three minutes.

Self-Styled Defenders of Shanghai Meet Attacks of Kiangsu Forces; Main Fight Expected Soon.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 5 (AP)—General Chi Shieh-Yuan, the Kiangsu leader, continued today to throw his strength against the right wing of the Chekiang army, self-styled defenders of Shanghai, which rests on the Yangtze river at the little town of Luchow, west of Wooming, the outer anchorage of Shanghai. His immediate objective is believed to be Wooming, where he hopes to secure assistance from warships for his advance up the Yangtze to Shanghai.

He failed to make any headway there yesterday, despite the use of artillery which both sides have now brought into action and again today was being held, according to the headquarters staff of the Chekiang army.

Protect Railroad.

Whether the main battle is to be fought on this is not yet clear. Apparently General Lu Yung-Hsiang, the commander of the Chekiang force, feels that his wing at Wooming, on the Shanghai-Nanking railway, east of Shanghai, where he has established his headquarters and where he is sending reinforcements, needs guarding to prevent the enemy penetrating his province and menacing the Sunkiang-Hangchow railway. This line gives him an easy means of communication southward to Chekiang.

Some wounded have arrived in Shanghai, there being no field hospitals at the front and the Chinese Red Cross units, having retired. Therefore the seriously wounded have to come to this city for treatment.

Others May Join.

Interest still centers in the possible attitude of General Chang Tso-Lin of Manchuria, and General Wu Pei-Fu of Chihli; both of whom have declared that they have no intention of interfering in what they declare is a local fight between two tunchuns. However, it is felt that there is a possibility of some of Wu's soldiers stationed west of the present fighting center drifting into the Kiangsu army, the cause of which chief is understood to favor. Dr. Sun-Yat-Sen, the head of the south China government, who has been short of funds for some time, it is thought is not in a position to intervene at present.

Formosans Killed.

TOKIO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Several Formosans of Japanese nationality, have been killed by Chinese soldiers at Amoy, China, according to newspaper dispatches from the Chinese city. It is said that the men were killed during disorders in connection with the civil war in China. The Japanese navy department has dispatched four destroyers from the Pescadore islands, near Formosa, to Amoy to protect Japanese subjects.

Picture.

SVONSETT, N. Y., Sept. 5 (AP)—Under cloudy skies and in a chilly wind the Prince of Wales today played his fifth polo game in six days, giving his fans a positive thorough workout. Despite the cool air which caused the small group of spectators assembled on the W. R. Grace field to put on overcoats, horses and men were dispatched with persistence after the first seven-and-a-half minutes of play.

A light rain fell during the last two periods and the prince returned from the field in a downpour.

There were no crowds this time to trouble the royal visitor and as he swung down from a pony, took off his spurs and stood in a light brown sweater and riding clothes smoking a cigarette between chukkers, male his attendants and Major Metcalfe, his equerry, stood near him.

As the prince walked to his motor car, one of the photographers stepped from behind a hedge and got to work. Inspector Burd of Scotland yard started at the cameraman.

"I don't mind, just," said the prince, turning to stop his secret service guard.

The inspector glanced reprovingly at the photographer and contented himself with the remark: "You're interfering with his generosity."

LAYING CORNER STONE TO MARK SCHOOL OPENING

Masonic Grand Lodge of Idaho to Have Charge of Ceremonies Surrounding New Science Hall.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, Sept. 5.—(Special to The News.)—Formal opening of the university year will be marked by the laying of the cornerstone of the new science hall by the Masonic Grand Lodge of Idaho, Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 17. The grand lodge, holding its annual meeting at Lewiston Sept. 16, 17 and 18, has provided time at the center of its program for the trip to Moscow. This will be the first occasion in the history of the Idaho grand lodge on which this body will actually take charge of a dedicatory ceremony; hitherto such ceremonies have been conducted by proxy.

Indications continue to point to a record-breaking enrollment, say university officials. New students accordingly are especially urged by Miss Ella Olson, registrar, to have their admission credentials sent in advance, rather than to bring them when they come. The admissions committee must have time to evaluate the credits, the ages and delay and confusion in registration will result if they are not sent in advance.

Examinations.

Examinations for students from non-accredited high schools will be given on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 12 and 13. This will make it necessary for such students to come in advance of the regular opening date.

The opening faculty meeting will be held Saturday morning. That afternoon at the home of President A. H. Upham the reception for faculty members and their wives will be given. In the evening the adjourned faculty meeting is scheduled.

Arrival of the special train will be the big event for Sunday. This train, one in which the Union Pacific takes particular pride, will start from Portland and pick up students at all points in Southern Idaho.

Registration.

Registration will consume both Monday and Tuesday. University classes will start Wednesday morning. That forenoon the freshmen will assemble for their annual convocation. The cornerstone ceremony in the afternoon will be the feature of the day.

The student and faculty reception Friday evening in the university gymnasium will be the final event of the opening week.

PASSENGERS TO RIDE ON ROADBED OF GOLD RAILROAD ANNOUNCES

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 (AP)—Passengers on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad east of Denver, are to ride on a roadbed of gold.

The right of way, it was announced today, for 400 miles, will be ballasted with the slag from the gold and silver mines of Colorado. Each ton of this ballast contains $2 worth of gold ore but the quantity is too small for the smelting companies to get out profitably with machinery now in use. Great piles of this slag have accumulated in and around Denver and other parts of Colorado and the Burlington management has contracted for a large part of it.

The roadbed of gold in time will cover the entire Burlington system, the announcement said.

Swallow's Nests as Medicine.

The Chinese highly prize the swallow's nest for its supposed medicinal value. The doctors of China regard it as a tonic capable of restoring a patient's lost vigor, and it is also said to be efficacious in curing lung disease and smallpox. As a table delicacy the article is also highly considered, and a sumptuous Chinese dinner is not complete without a dish of this, to the celestial taste, palatable food. Swallow's nests are rich in albuminous matter. They are produced chiefly in the vicinity of the Malay Archipelago, such as Borneo, Sumatra, Java and the Philippines.

Queer Dusun Customs.

Many things are believed among the Dusun tribe on the island of Borneo. A man may not mention his own name, that of his father, mother, mother-in-law, or father-in-law. It is forbidden, or at least it is unwise, to point at the rainbow because the story which is pointed will not stay. There is a general belief in the existence of tailed men, who are said to be cannibals. Giants called Temptalongol figure largely in the folklore of the people. These seem to be supernatural beings who have a liking for visiting burial places and calling on the dead to rise from their graves.

False Values of Oneself

Be very slow to believe that you are wiser than all others. It is a fatal but common error. Where one has been saved by a true estimation of another's weakness, thousands have been destroyed by a false appreciation of their own strength.—Cullen.

ARMY OFFICER GIVEN HEARING

Captain Finds Long-Sought Report Against Him of Revolutionary Activities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5 (AP)—A report long since said to have been missing from the war department files in which William J. Burns, formerly of the department of justice, accused Captain Paxton Hibben of "revolutionary utterances and activities, turned up yesterday at the meeting of the army board of inquiry investigating Captain Hibben's fitness to continue as a member of the officers reserve corps.

The document which Captain Hibben said he often had futilely sought in the war department files that he might prepare a defense against its charges, was discovered by the accused officer when he again took the stand in his own defense. In going over a mass of papers which had been introduced by the prosecution, the report turned up Captain Hibben had a hasty conference with his chief counsel, Colonel John J. Bradley who asked for an adjournment of the hearing to give him an opportunity to study the Burns' charges. The case was continued to next Monday.

To Higher Court.

Today's hearing also brought forth the announcement that Captain Hibben's case would be carried to higher authorities, possibly President Coolidge, if the inquiry board found against him.

Of the Burns report, Captain Hibben, after denying many of the allegations and criticizing some of its interpretations of his utterances and actions declared: "If Mr. Burns doesn't understand English, it is not my fault."

He characterized as a misinterpretation a passage of the report crediting him with seditious utterances with regard to soviet Russia.

"What I did say," he testified, "was: 'My belief is that under present conditions the Russian people are working out a government which will be a democratic one and result in the welfare of the people.' I stand by that declaration," the captain added.

FARMERS' PLIGHT BOORBONS FAULT

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace Lays Blame at Door of Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5 (AP)—Secretary Wallace, in a statement made public today by the republican national committee, declared that the "plight of the farmers during the past four years was directly due to democratic blundering and the unwise statements of persons, murmuring 'daddy,' and 'mama.'"

"In the late summer of 1920 members of the democratic administration sent out notices that the price of farm products must come down," Secretary Wallace said. "War surplus was thrown on the market. Farmers were called on to pay their notes, thus forcing crops on the market. The word went forth that agriculture must be deflated and as prices began to drop through this pressure, buyers withdrew from the market except as hand to mouth needs which added impetus to the decline."

"Democratic senators and representatives in congress and in important administrative positions have themselves been most unparliamentary critics of this ruinous democratic policy. The result of it all was perpendicular drops in the price of farm products with everything else remained high. The democrats had given the farmers such a push into the valley of depression that it was six months after the republicans came into power before the price drop could be checked."

Soap Bubble's Thickness.

As a soap bubble floats in the light of the sun it reflects to the eye an endless variety of gorgeous tints. Each of these tints corresponds to a certain thickness of the substance forming the bubble, scientists claim. Near the highest point of the bubble, just before it bursts, can be seen a spot which reflects no color and appears black. This is the point at which this black point is said to be the two-million-five-hundred-thousandth part of an inch.

LOST BOY CLUE TO DOUBLE MURDER IS BELIEF OF POLICE

CHICAGO, Sept. 5 (AP)—Investigation of a theory that an eight-year-old boy was found wandering Chicago streets 15 months ago had been made an orphan by a double murder, was resumed by the police today upon the return of the lad from Dighton, Mass.

He had been identified as the lost son of Mrs. Clarence Smith of Dighton, but after having the boy for several months Mrs. Smith became convinced that the lad was not her son, and he was returned here. When found the boy was unable to talk coherently, but pantomimed snapping of a pistol at two persons, murmuring "daddy," and "mama."

A "Piece" of Sea.

I want awfully to tell you, today, about a little "piece" of green sea, and gulls, and clouded sky with the usual golden mountain-brooks to the southward. It was wonderful, the sea near at hand was living emerald; the white breasts and wings of the gulls as they circled above—high above even—were dyed bright green by the reflection. And if you could only have seen, or, any right word would only come to my pen to tell you, how wonderfully these illuminated birds floated hither and thither under the gray purple of the sky.—R. L. S. in "A Letter."

Look-at-Garde.

Many card players are particular about the cut of the cards. They must be divided and put back with the most meticulous care. A slovenly cut brings good luck to the dealer and bad luck to the cutter. Some imagine that special tables or positions at the tables are lucky in them, and refuse to play unless they can get the places they desire. Others conceive that certain members are unlucky to them, and nothing will induce them to play with them. To drop a card on the floor when playing is generally regarded as a bad omen.

Defies Belief In Unlucky 13 and Is Held for Killing

Detroit Man Married on Friday, the Thirteenth, Now Stands in Shadow of Murder Charge.

DETROIT, Sept. 5 (AP)—Thomas Boyce, who defied superstition last June 13, a Friday, when, in cell 13 of the old Australian convict ship, then on exhibition on the Detroit river, he was married while 13 witnesses attended and 13 mirrors were broken, stood in the shadow of a murder charge today. An 11-year-old boy, Bernard Bellanger, told police that it was Boyce who struck Clyde Keller, 45-year-old butcher, over the head with a hammer. Keller's body, with a hammer beside it, was found in a moving van at the rear of Mrs. Irene Bellanger's apartment early Monday.

Boy Brinks Down.

The boy, one of two children of Mrs. Bellanger who is a divorcee, broke down, police say, while Boyce, Mrs. Bellanger and Mrs. Frances Rice the lad's aunt, were in court seeking release from custody through habeas corpus proceedings.

The story the boy told, police say, was that his mother, his aunt, Boyce and Keller were drinking at the Bellanger home Sunday night. Boyce, the boy said, struck Keller over the head with a hammer, Keller falling, but getting up and staggering from the house. He fell down the outside stairs and died when the others reached him, the boy said. He was then dragged to the moving van, the police were told.

"Caesar" Once Family Name

The name "Caesar" was the family name of the first five Roman emperors, originating in Sextus Julius Caesar, who was a praetor, 208 B. C. The family became extinct with Nero in 68 A. D., and the title "Caesar" became simply a title of dignity. Both Augustus Caesar, born September, 63 B. C., who died in August of the year 14 A. D., and Tiberius ruled during the life of Christ. Augustus was reigning at the time of the birth of Christ.

Perfidious Savages

IN THE Torres Straits Islands in the East Indies, there are no trees suitable for canoe building. So the natives, a cruel, treacherous race, import their canoes from the Fly River Delta in New Guinea—another place with an unenviable reputation. The distance between these two places is over four hundred miles, and no natives in that region travels even one-quarter of that distance.

The word is simply passed on from tribe to tribe. On the strength of this vague order a canoe is built. Then it is relayed back. Each tribe of bloodthirsty cannibals tests and discusses it before passing it on. Finally the payment, shell necklaces, spear points, arm bands, makes its way to the canoe builders in the same leisurely fashion.

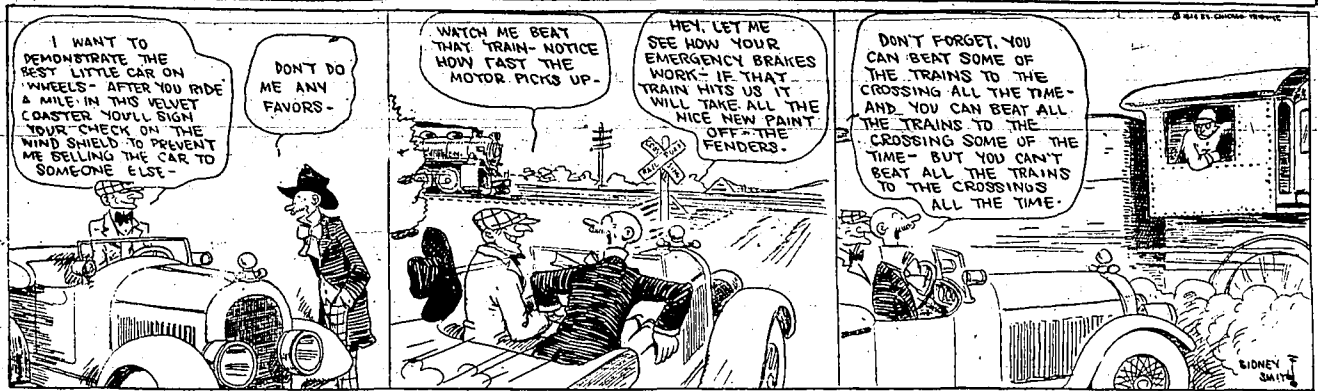

There is reason for this honesty in savages to whom perfidy is natural. If any of the parties in this complicated transaction were to risk being dishonest, their credit would be ruined. And though these natives may kill and eat each other, they hold barter inviolate.

Even savages understand that in commerce it pays to be honest, and to let the world realize your honesty. So in modern business. Advertising must be honest and it is a proof of honesty. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its quality, usefulness and value.

The man who advertises is inviting your inspection. He is letting his goods stand on their own merit. He can't afford to deceive you. You can depend on him. That's why it pays to read advertising and to buy advertised goods.

Any one can spend money—the reader of advertisements spends wisely

BUREAU MAKES GROUND WATER INVESTIGATION

Artesian Wells for Irrigation Purposes Subject of Report Made by Mines and Geology Department.

MOSCOW, Sept. 5.—(Special to The News).—The Idaho state bureau of mines and geology has just completed an investigation on ground water in the Camas Prairie district, in Camas and Elmore counties, with a view to its use for irrigation purposes, and has issued a preliminary report of the work done by Arthur M. Piper, field geologist with the bureau, preparatory to a more thorough discussion of the problem at a later date.

More than 50 flowing artesian wells have been drilled on the prairie during the closing months of 1923 and 1924, in most cases for domestic water supply. Mr. Piper states, "The hope has risen that such wells could be used for irrigation purposes, for with few exceptions farmers of the district have no rights in the surface water of the basin."

Recommends Work.
After an investigation of sources of water, geological and geographical formations, Mr. Piper recommends development of ground water supply for irrigation purposes "without reservation." "The wells which have as yet been sunk furnish water without pumping, and while certain details of construction should be observed in order to insure the largest possible flow and long life for each well, should the practice grow in popularity for irrigation, there is no reason to believe that the artesian supply will ever be wholly depleted by the most flagrant waste."

The basin which is susceptible to artesian water for farming use comprises an area of 138,000 acres, and approximately 50,000 acres of this land, all of which is arable, is included in the area within which flowing wells may be obtained without excessive expense, the bureau report states. The town of Fairfield is in approximately the geographical center of this area.

Close to Surface.
"In the wells that have been drilled in the basin, nearly a foot in eight and a half miles wide and 28 miles long and having an elevation of about 5000 feet, two artesian reservoir rocks have been proven within 500 feet of the surface," Mr. Piper states. "Both are loose fine-grained sands within which water is retained under pressure by enclosing strata of sandy clay. None of the rock formations which underlie the proven reservoirs crops out within the basin of Camas creek, and their exact character and thickness are not known. It is very probable, however, that such alternation of permeable and impermeable rocks persists for several hundreds of feet below the proven reservoirs, and every prospect is a potential artesian reservoir."

The bureau recommends that test holes should be continued to a depth of 100 feet, unless greater or shallower is found to be profitable, when the possibility of developing deeper flows of importance will have been exhausted. "A means of controlling the discharge should be placed on each well, drillers are cautioned, and close grouping of wells is also to be avoided."

Superstition Explained

The superstition connected with lighting three cigarettes with one match has its origin in the fact that in the old Russian funeral service three altar candles were lighted from one taper. It was considered an evil omen to make any other light in groups of three and, therefore, three would follow such an act.

Making Money Fast

"Well," said the lawyer, "have you decided to take my advice and pay this bill of mine?" "Yes," stammered the client. "Very well," said the lawyer. Then he turned to his clerk and ordered him to add "to Mr. Smith's bill," for further advice.—London Tit-Bits.

Left-Handed.

Do left-handed people differ from other people? An eminent physiologist says left-handedness means an abnormal sex balance, that the right side is the predominantly sexual one, and that, consequently, left-handedness means in a man more or less effeminacy, and in a woman more or less masculinity. Watch a man clasp his hands. A left-handed man will have his left thumb on top, and will be in some degree or other effeminate.

Again watch a woman manipulate her hairpins. If she uses her left hand, her character will show the relative masculinity. At least, so says the Austrian scientist.

When it became known that the klanmen contemplated appearing in their regalia at the funeral of Charles Willard, Captain Bigelow sent word to klan officers that they would not be permitted to appear on the streets with their regalia, but that they could join them at the grave and remove them before leaving the cemetery.

Prior to instructing Sheriff Gulligan to appear at military headquarters immediately if he wanted to come to Herrin, Bigelow had ordered the sheriff to abandon his avowed intention of coming to Herrin with a machine gun and had also instructed Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas, who participated in Saturday's clash, not to enter Herrin.

Further encouraging reports on the political outlook were presented to Mr. Coolidge, Senator Herrell of Oklahoma declaring his state would go republican, both in the presidential and senatorial contests. Senator Reed predicted that Pennsylvania would cut the democratic representation in its congressional delegation.

Although discussing the foreign situation in the brief conference with some of his visitors, Mr. Coolidge made no comment on the proposal by Prime Minister MacDonald on a disarmament conference. He recently made it known that he did not consider the time appropriate for such a conference until the reparations plan had been put into complete operation.

MILITARY RULE PREVENTS CLASH

Captain in Charge at Herrin Forbids Klanmen's Appearance in Regalia.

HERRIN, Ill., Sept. 5 (AP).—The iron hand of military rule asserted itself here while the impact was being held into the deaths of the six men slain in Williamson county's latest clash. It was the edict of Capt. Harold Bigelow, in command of the 18 militiamen who have been kept here to prevent a renewal of civil warfare, that prevented the local klan from appearing in public in klan regalia at the funeral of one of the victims of last Saturday's affray between klanmen and Sheriff Gulligan and his force, and again it was Captain Bigelow's order that dissuaded the sheriff from coming over from the town of Marion to get the automobile he had intended to seize Saturday when the clash resulted.

When it became known that the klanmen contemplated appearing in their regalia at the funeral of Charles Willard, Captain Bigelow sent word to klan officers that they would not be permitted to appear on the streets with their regalia, but that they could join them at the grave and remove them before leaving the cemetery.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN HEAR REPRESENTATIVE SMITH

Representative Addison T. Smith, addressing a meeting of the Women's Republican club Thursday evening in the high school building, sounded an appeal to American citizens to exercise their privilege and duty in voting and urged most earnestly in politics—the business of government. During the past few years, he said, the general plane of American politics has been elevated. Every American man, woman and child, he said, should take an active interest in politics. He expressed praise for manifest interest in politics displayed by Twin Falls women, and voiced regret that business and professional people fail so often to take an active part in political affairs.

GRISWOLD ADDS TWIN FALLS MEN TO SQUAD

Newhall, Lehrbas and Riles From the Bigges Will Play With Buhl Against Pocatello Bears in Series.

Cal Griswold is preparing for the Pocatello Bears with a vengeance, and there is no doubt that high grade baseball will be witnessed by local enthusiasts who travel to Buhl to witness Sunday's contest.

To date the Bears have held a slight edge on the Grays, slight, but enough that they are recognized as superior to the Buhl nine. Such will not be the case Sunday.

Following the disbanding of the Twin Falls squad the Buhl manager has signed up "Polly" Lehrbas for the shortstop position, and added "Bill" Newhall to the pitching list of the Grays.

With this trio of stars and the collection of heavy hitters which Buhl already boasts, the Grays will easily equal Pocatello, on paper at any rate.

PROMISE THRILL FOR CROWDS AT ROUNDUP CLOSE

Riders and Rodeo Performers Competing Here in Frontier Exhibition Stage Excellent Show.

Speed, strength and skill were emphasized in the several events staged Friday afternoon on Athletic field at the second day of Twin Falls' roundup under direction of Howard Tuttle of Idaho Falls. Broncho riding, bulldogging, calf-roping and as special and novel feature a wild cow milking contest and roping of a coyote—performed with precision of clockwork and the rapt attention of a crowd of several hundred persons was held almost continuously from first to last.

Score of widely-known riders and rodeo performers here as participants in the various roundup events have determined today the closing day to present for the approval of a record crowd that is expected, all of the thrills to be found in the largest of similar affairs. In their own words, they are going to "give them both barrels and then some."

Marie, Gilson of Havre, Mont., world's champion cowgirl broncho rider, who Friday gave two sensational riding exhibitions, will today undertake to ride any of the outlaw horses that may be selected by the crowd. She gave a splendid performance Friday, riding the famous bucking horse, "I. B. Dan," and will today ride one of the hardest buckers of the Tuttle string.

Tuttle Will Ride.
Howard Tuttle, widely known rider who will this year direct Idaho Falls War Bonnet roundup, will ride for exhibition today two outlaw horses.

The following assignment of horses and riders for today's broncho riding events was announced Friday evening: "Norman" (Cowan) "I. B. Dan," Jesse Counts on "Indian Tom," Powder River Thompson on "Red Ann," Oklahoma Curley Roberts on "Sear Face," Hoke Blackstone on "Black Hawk," Owen Fletcher on "Moonshine," Floyd Stillings on "Indian Killer."

Extracts from the bullboggling events today will be Scout Marsh, Smokey Moore and Jack Counts.
Coyote Leads Chase.
At the end of a free-for-all chase, a young coyote that was extricated some days ago from a snare and has been kept in a cage at the municipal waterworks, bullboggling was roped and securely tied by E. L. Melton of Hammett, this event constituting one of the out-of-the-ordinary stunts of the roundup.

SOCIETY

Edited by Mrs. F. B. Williams Telephone 353.

The home of Mrs. and Mrs. W. E. Sanger of Blue Lake boulevard was the scene of a pretty party Friday afternoon, when their daughter, Barbara, entertained a number of her girl friends. The hours were from 2 to 5 and the party was spent with much delightful games on the lawn, after which dainty refreshments were served. The guest list included: Elsie Anderson, Grace and Esther Ratcliffe, Frances Murray, Marie and Pawnee Gracey, Edna Stover, Anna Sweeley, Anna Walker, Edith Shipman, Agnes Richins, Naomi and Ernestine White, Dorothy Minnick, Essie and Reon Briggs, Beulah Holland, Wilma Clear, Lucille Gentry, Evelyn Dickie and Georgia Gose.

Complimenting Miss Selma Johnson retiring superintendent of the Twin Falls county general hospital, the nurses of the institution gave a charming dinner Thursday evening at the Chautauque. Pink and white asters were used for decoration with nut cups and place cards to match, and covers were laid for 17. Miss Harriet Ege acted as toastmistress and many clever toasts were responded to and Miss Johnson gave a short talk. "Stunts" and take-offs on "familiar" faces about the hospital caused much merriment.

Former residents of Missoula now living in Twin Falls county are making plans for a picnic to be held in the Buhl city park Sunday, September 7. A picnic dinner at noon will be the special feature of the day. All Missoulians are invited to bring their own lunch and dishes for their families.

SCHOOLS HEAD GIVES IDEALS; ASKS SUPPORT

Superintendent Ernest D. Bloom, Entering Upon Work Here, Tells Objectives of American Education.

Outlining objective and ideals of the public school system in Twin Falls and throughout the United States and bespeaking support and co-operation on the part of the community at large with the schools' administration and teachers, Superintendent Ernest D. Bloom Friday issued the following statement:

"What is this rumbling sound that comes to our ears? It is being heard from one end of this great nation of ours to the other. From the turbulent Atlantic to the peaceful Pacific, from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian border, comes this rumbling sound. Its echo is heard about all other sounds. It is produced by millions of tiny feet. The childhood of the nation is being marshalled into the school rooms of the land. Twenty-five million pairs of feet are to be seen wending their way into the school rooms of the country. Some with joyful shouts and faces full of glee; some with groans and faces filled with despair.

Doors are swung ajar to receive this throbbing, pulsating body of children; this never ending stream of humanity, and we would not have it otherwise.

The greatest gift to be bestowed upon modern civilization, the gift of America to the world, is the American public school. Republican government is centuries old, for republics were known when Grecian civilization was flourishing in the centuries before the advent of the Christian era, but the public school is of recent origin. The public school was founded but little more than a century ago and developed upon the principles laid down by that great educator and statesman, Horace Mann, developing to its present status and holding a place, second to none, in the very life and well being of our country.

America Leads World.

Nations the world over have patterned from the American public school. Educational systems of foreign countries are being reorganized and worked out along lines and plans of our public schools. Children of classes who never before have had the privilege of receiving an education are now being given that privilege. They are no longer destined to live as their ancestors lived, but they are now permitted to develop side-by-side with children of other groups. This probably being the outstanding feature of the American public school system.

The great cosmopolitan character of the American public school has probably more than any other factor, been the cause of the rapid advancement of our nation's educational system. Children of all classes and groups; of all political parties and factors; of all religious creeds and dogmas as well as those of no religious tendencies; of all classes of society; of all races and colors; of high and low, rich and poor, enter the doors of the American public school and receive training from the hands of the same teachers and are taught the principles underlying the very foundations of our national existence.

Vital to Nation.

"The nation cannot exist without its public schools. They are the very life of our national existence. This coming generation must receive an education in order to be fitted to meet the burdens and responsibilities that will be theirs. In the words of Dr. E. B. Bryan of the Ohio university, 'We must educate or we will perish by our own prosperity.' Problems are confronting us at the present time that sometimes seems to us to be engulfing this nation into dark despair and political parties as well as men and women are seeking for their solution. But men and women of America, and especially of Twin Falls, our problems are small and few in number as compared with those complexities that will face our children and our children's children. May our schools seek to train and develop a citizenship whose strength of character and keen insight will enable them to face the various problems of the future and render a proper solution of the same.

Our nation cannot afford to be governed or controlled by any group representing dogmas or creeds, by factions or classes, each seeking for power of self-aggrandizement, but let us rather seek to build within our country a citizenship founded upon 'service to others.' A citizenship that is willing to give just a little more than is asked of it; a citizenship that is willing to get down to work, and hard work; one that will accept responsibility to meet and cope with the every-day problems of life. Above all else let the outstanding aim of our schools be that of building character, clean, strong and wholesome character.

Let us seek to have our pupils appreciate this more intensely and then to achieve by arduous effort and correct conduct the good that lies before them. Mentally alert and keen to become thinkers and active doers. We want them to be losing just as little of their time in or out of school as possible.

Wound Strengthen Appeal.

While character should be the outstanding aim of our public schools, we also want to build strong, healthful bodies because a strong, active mind needs a strong active body with which to put into action the thoughts that are ours, and, also, a strong active body needs a strong active and willing mind to make it render the service that we should rightfully expect of it.

Our schools should be places where children love to come, where there is supreme joy as these boys and girls go about their daily work. The spirit of our school rooms should be one of harmony and happiness, one where children seek to know the truth and not one where they are glad when the day is over and dread to return when once they leave. We mean that our public school, as an institution, must be a vital, living, throbbing institution.

Twin Falls is proud of its public school system and rightfully it should be, for it holds a high place among the educational systems of the state, and ranks among the best of the entire northwest. The school system is well organized and stands as a tribute to the splendid men who have had charge of the administrative work of the schools in the past and under whose direction the education system of this community has been brought to its present high place. Although these men are now gone their splendid influence and high ideals still remain as a vital, living factor in the life of this community.

For Boys and Girls.

It is a pleasure to me your newly elected administrative officer to come into your city and contribute what I can to the best interests and welfare of this community. I do not seek to the splendid men and your present superintendent, Mr. M. C. Mitchell, but rather I seek to build for myself a place in your community. A man is doomed to failure at the start when he tries to imitate.

I ask for our public schools this year the same hearty support and co-operation you have given in the past. We are here for the best interests of the boys and girls of this community and our policy shall be one of construction and has been briefly stated in the preceding paragraphs. We always welcome constructive criticism and will gladly listen for suggestions wherein we can make our public schools render the greatest service possible to this community. We are very human and claim no supernatural powers, but we are vitally interested in boys and girls and have their best interests and well-being at heart.

Character in Faculty.

We have sought to select the best persons to be obtained to place in direct charge of our children. Men and women of character, has been our first aim. We hope our selections will vindicate this desire and that they will contribute of their very lives to the boys and girls over whom they have direct supervision. None of them are supermen or superwomen, but we expect them to do their duty and be a vital link in our educational system.

The principalships of our grade buildings are filled by the same persons who have held those positions for several years and we bespeak for them your hearty support and co-operation. Miss Fannie M. Perkins, principal of Lincoln school; Mrs. Ethel Gray, principal of Bickel school; Miss Clara Billard, principal of the Washington school.

We feel that we have been extremely fortunate in obtaining the services of Miss Mary Ruth Fisher to take charge of our Junior-Senior high school and for her, also, we ask your hearty cooperation and support.

Now that the school election is over, let us boost for a year in our public schools, that will not only enable us to hold our present status, but will make our school a vital factor not only in this community but whose influence will go beyond our immediate boundaries and whose desire is to build for character, citizenship, industry and service.

Heart of World's Work.

Let us adopt as our prayer for the success of our schools this year, the prayer uttered by that great American, Dr. Frank Crane: 'O God, Thou has put into our hands the future of the race. We are made co-workers with Thy spirit in creating the world that is to be. Thou has put every new generation in the lap of the old, that there may be continuity of growth.

Awaken us to our responsibility. Stir us up to our incomparable privilege. Make keen within us the conviction that we have no work more vital to do than to teach.

'Reveal to us the school as the heart of the world's work.

Vast problems press upon us. The world is upheaved. The masses seethe in their ferment of untried theories. Yet the way is as simple!

It lies through the child.

The road to the Golden Age runs through the school house.

There is no reform, however far-reaching, no establishment of justice, however revolutionary, that might not better be accomplished 'by patience' through the instruction of the children, than through the schemes of politics or the violence of war.

Arms and disorder, destruction and overturning, are man's way. The school is Thy way.

Lay upon the conscience of every teacher the divinity of his employ. Give him the enthusiasm of his opportunity. Show him the beauty, the majesty, of his calling, the marvel of his art, the proper pride of his craftsmanship!

Make every parent realize that the best gift in his power for the child is the school!

Lay deep in every child's heart an unshakable ambition to learn, to know, to come to mastery.

And unfold to us increasingly what education means! Shake from us the ghost grip of the past, the narrowing hold of tradition, while we still preserve what is good.

Deepen, broaden, enlarge our conception of the school. Make us glad to spend more for it, as the best of all investments for the security of the world. And show us that there can be no salvation for the race that does not first mean salvation for the child, but striking from his brain the chains of ignorance, from his heart the 'iron' rim of superstition, and from his hands the curse of the unskilled!
