MARTIAL SPIRIT TO BE INVOKED

Newspapers of Peking Asked to Help Clarify Public View
on Chinese War

PEKING, Sept. 23 (AP)—With the announced purpose of demonstrating to the people that the conflict now threatening between armies of rival military in northern China is not an individual but a national enterprise, the metropolitan police today circularized all Peking newspapers instructing them to eliminate the terms "Feng-tsin" (Mukden) and "Chihli" in referring to the two armies.

The newspapers were told to use, instead, the terms "rebel" when referring to the Manchurian armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, whose headquarters are in Mukden, and "nationalist" when the central government armies or Wu Pei-Fu are meant. "Peking is in Chihli province."

"The people should recognize the necessity for righteous war," the circular declared, "and should join in denouncing one who dares to defy the government. The press should unite in a campaign to arouse the martial spirit of the government troops."

In the same way, it was stated, Chinese representatives abroad will be instructed to define the position of the central government as opposed to General Chang.

Thus far only minor clashes between the opposing armies have occurred. It is the intention of General Wu to have all his commanders actually in the field before any real campaign, involving concerted action, is started. It therefore is likely to be many days before any consequential battle is reported.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE BUSY WITH SPEECHES

Chief Executive Spends Time in WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Coolidge gave some attention today to the preparation of speeches, four of which are on his program to be delivered in the next two weeks.

On October 4 he will dedicate the monument to the first division here and two days later will open the annual meeting of the American Red Cross.

Considerable interest was shown at the White House today in the statement of John Spargo of Bennington, Vermont, former socialist party leader, that the foreign and economic situation demanded retention of the present administration in office. Mr. Spargo, who left the socialist party in 1917, called on the president today.

JURY'S VERDICT FAILS TO MENTION MURDERER

Harry Connor, Sought by Police in Connection With Death of Mrs. Hunn, Is Not Referred to.

PARADENA, Cal., Sept. 23 (AP)—A coroner's jury, returning a verdict in the death of Mrs. Clifton R. Hunn, killed here last Friday night in her bungalow court home Monday failed to name Harry Connor, alias Harry Garbutt, ex-convict of Joliet penitentiary, as the woman's possible slayer.

Although Connor is being sought throughout southern California on suspicion of having killed Mrs. Hunn, the wife of a Chicago manufacturer, no testimony directly accusing him was introduced at today's inquest and the verdict held that the woman was killed by a gunshot wound inflicted by a person unknown.

Principal witnesses at the hearing were F. R. Gibson and 10-year-old Virginia Hunn, adopted daughter of Mrs. Hunn, both of whom said they were in the house at the time of the slaying.

It was brought out as one of the developments of the case that Gibson, who previously claimed to be Mrs. Hunn's cousin, was of no relation to her.

Both Gibson and the girl testified that Connor had been a dinner guest on the night Mrs. Hunn was killed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—"The intermountain states may be counted in the issue in determining the trend toward the republican ticket," said Ernest Bamberger, national committeeman from Utah today, when he called at republican national campaign headquarters.

The tariff, he said, was the biggest issue in determining the trend toward the republican ticket. He further asserted that the voters in the west were "generally satisfied with things as they are."

NEW-BEAN MACHINE INTERESTS FARMER

New Combination Huller Reported by Growers to be Doing Good Work; Big Harvest Now Under Way.

Bean harvest is well under way in the vicinity of Twin Falls, and some fair yields are reported. The newest novelty in the way of harvesting is the combine bean huller.

This rig, operated by three men, does the work of approximately 15 harvest hands. It is pulled by a large type oil pull and is simple in its mechanism; the beans in the winrows are simply scooped up with a steel toothed roller, operating practically the same as a side delivery hay rake.

This roller in turn places the pods on a rapidly moving elevator which conveys them directly into the feeder. One serious setback for the machine is the danger of small stones being scooped into the hopper, say farmers, but if this rig is at all efficient it will discount the old methods of threshing beans 100 per cent.

One of the unique machines is operating near Curry, owned by the Pond brothers.

SENATORS KEEP IN LEAD; WIN FROM CHICAGO

SENATORS AND GIANTS CLIMB

Washington Is Victorious Over White Sox by a Score of 7 to 6; New York Also Takes a Game.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—Washington kept pace with the Yankees today and by defeating the White Sox, 7 to 6, while their pennant rivals won from Cleveland, retained their lead of two games. The game was hard fought, the league leaders fighting every inch of the way. After Chicago had jumped into the lead, Charley Robertson suddenly weakened and Washington took the lead in the third by bunting hits with errors by Davis and Falk. They continued the attack in the fourth and drove Robertson out of the hole. Ted Blankenship took up the burden and Washington was able to glean only one hit off him.

The cold weather began to tell on Morridge and he was replaced by Marberry. The big right-hander was unsteady when he took up the pitching burden left the Senators in the seventh and the White Sox scored two runs and threatened to go ahead. Two after that the locals got men within scoring distance, but sensational fielding pulled Marberry out of the hole. The batting of Gossia was one of the outstanding features in the Senators' attack.

The score: R. H. E.
Washington 7 10 1
Chicago 6 13 2

Batteries—Morridge and Marberry and Ruel; Robertson, Blankenship and Barrett, Cronse.

NEW YORK VICTORIOUS.
CLEVELAND, Sept. 23 (AP)—Cleveland could not hit Bob Shawkey when hits were needed and New York won the second game of the series, 8 to 2, today.

A wild throw by Ruth in the eighth inning saved the day for the Indians' runs, the ball going into the Yankee dugout, allowing Stephenson to score and placing J. Sewell on third, whence he scored on an infield out. The Yankees scored their first run in the second inning on an infield hit by Meusel and a double by Ward. A double by Pipp, an infield out and a single by Scott resulted in another run in the fourth.

Two bases on balls, an error by Fowler, a single by Meusel and a sacrifice fly by Ward tied the Yankees three runs in the fifth. Scott's second single, a triple by Bengough and a single by Shawkey gave the champions two runs in the eighth, their final run in the ninth resulting from a base on balls to Meusel, followed by Ward's triple. Cleveland filled the bases in the opening chapter. In the fourth they had two on base with none out, and in the fifth with two on and none out, but were unable to score.

The score: R. H. E.
New York 8 12 1
Cleveland 2 11 1

Batteries—Shawkey and Bengough; Smith and J. Sewell.

Each Take Important Forward Steps in Race for Major League Pennants.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Giants and Senators took important steps toward the major league pennants today and now loom strong favorites. The New York Giants beat the Pirates 5 to 1, while the Cubs beat Dazzy Vance at Brooklyn, and leads the Robins one game and Pittsburgh by two and one-half.

The Washington senators turned back a White Sox assault in the latter innings, to win a 7 to 6 battle and maintain its two game lead over the Yankees, who stopped Cleveland, 8 to 2, with five games left for each to play. Pittsburgh, by winning its seven remaining games, including the two with New York and five with Chicago, could still top the Giants even though the latter won their final three with the Phillies.

GIANTS DEFEAT PIRATES 5 TO 1

McGraw's Men Decisively Destroy All Hopes of Pittsburgh for First Place.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Playing like champions in spite of crippled line up the New York Giants decisively vanquished Pittsburgh today, 5 to 1, in the first game of five series. A crowd of 30,000 squared off a world series pitched with enthusiasm saw the McGraw men strengthen their hold on the top and at the same time deal a stunning blow to Pirate pennant hopes.

The triumph put the Giants 24 games ahead of Pittsburgh which now cannot go into the lead even if victorious in the remaining games of the series tomorrow and Thursday. As Brooklyn was beaten by Chicago, McGraw increased his margin over the second place Robins to a full game.

Behind the brilliant twirling of Hugh McQuinn, the Giants played with the sort of dash and snap that has carried them to three pennants in a row and has brightened their prospects of making it four straight. They fought the Pirates with their two brightest infield stars, Groh and Fritch, on the sidelines through injuries, but indeed cracking, the patched up outfield proved its mettle by outplaying the Pirates at nearly every turn. It was a rookie, in fact, who turned the tide in McGraw's favor. Jimmy O'Connell, former Pacific coast star, smashed out a home run into the upper tier of the right field stands in the fourth inning, scoring Lindstrom, rookie third sacker, who had singled ahead of him. The Giants added three more in the seventh when Hank Gowdy singled with the bases full, but that brace of running proved the winning margin.

Lindstrom and O'Connell were the heroes of the Giants winning rally in the fourth while in the seventh passes to Young and Terry and Wilson's single filled the bases which were cleared by Gowdy's single and a wild relay to the plate by Maravalle.

The score: R. H. E.
Pittsburgh 1 7 1
New York 5 5 1

Batteries—McQuinn, Songer and Smith; McQuinn and Gowdy.

BROOKLYN BEATEN.
BROOKLYN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Dazzy Vance fanned 11 men and held Chicago to four hits today, but three of them were home runs and those spelled defeat for Brooklyn by a score of 5 to 4 in 10 innings.

Grantham got two of the circuit awards, both over the right field wall, after two men were out. The first came in the opening inning with nobody on the bases. In the second inning Grantham came up after Vance had walked Adams and Hotheo and repeated his long drive. With the score tied, Hartnett opened the tenth with a liner that bounded into the left field bleachers, scoring the winning run.

The Dodgers bunched two doubles and two singles off Keen in the first inning for three runs, but thereafter they were kept away from the plate by brilliant fielding until the eighth when the score was tied at four all on Johnstown's single, Griffith's sacrifice and Stock's hit. What made three doubles, only one of which counted in the scoring. Catchers of liners by Grantham and Adams saved Keen at critical times. It was Chicago's first victory of the season over Vance and his ditch. Only two hits were secured off Vance in nine innings.

The score: R. H. E.
Chicago 5 4 0
Brooklyn 4 10 2

Batteries—Keen and Hartnett; Vance, Reuther and Taylor.

BOSTON LOSES.
BOSTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Cincinnati defeated Boston, 4 to 1, here today. All of the runs were scored in the eighth inning. An error by O'Neil, double by Shorten and Fowler, Fonseca's single and a pass to Walker resulted in the Reds' four runs. Luque held the Braves to six hits.

The score: R. H. E.
Cincinnati 4 10 2
Boston 1 6 1

Batteries—Luque and Hargrave; Graham, Denton and O'Neil.

TEN-INNING GAME.
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23 (AP)—St. Louis went 10 innings today to defeat Philadelphia by the score of 8 to 7. Day, the rookie hurler, pitched seven innings of good ball, but was retired in the eighth when the locals tied the score. A double by Leola with the bases filled in the ninth again tied the score after the visitors had scored three runs in their half of the inning. Blades' double and a single by Cooney in the tenth gave the Cards the game.

MERCANTILE COMPANY

Which will be you?
three months from now

TODAY both overalls look just about alike to you. You see them on the counter—new, comfortable and sturdy looking. It's really hard to tell which one should cost more than the other.

But look ahead three months from now. You're going to give them some rough treatment during that time. They'll get dirty and they'll be washed.

How will they look then? Will they still fit comfortably? Will they be nice and bright blue? Will they be free from rips caused by strains that the cloth should have withstood.

Think of those things when you buy the overalls, instead of regretting them months later when it's too late.

The extra strength and longer wear that are in the heavy EIGHT OUNCE CLOTH of which only Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls are made is one reason why you may be sure the overalls will look as good to you next month as it does today and fit as well.

The other reason is the famous Oshkosh B'Gosh guarantee—"They MUST make good or we will," which means exactly what it says. When next you buy, INSIST on Oshkosh B'Gosh. Shift the responsibility to us.

E. M. Sweezy Tells of Proposed Legislative Steps to Take Department Out of Politics; New Features.

Members of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association met in the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night with a number of farmers from the Twin Falls section at which time an outline of the proposed legislative action to be taken in the state legislature this year was set forth by Everett M. Sweezy, one of three members appointed by the state association on the legislative committee.

Plans are being made in the bill to be introduced which would do away with a state game warden and in his place a game warden commission of three or five citizens who would serve without pay for a period of five years and have control of the propagation and protection of fish and game within the state.

Not Yet Complete.
Mr. Sweezy, in his outline, which he declared was not complete and probably would not be agreed upon in all phases by the members of the committee before the middle of November, dealt with the manner in which the commission could be put upon a business basis.

He explained the proposal to divide the state up into three districts, each of which has its own game problems, under the authority of three superintendents. Each superintendent is to be responsible to the commission, the game warden in each district responsible to the superintendents. These game wardens would be employed, regardless of political faith and would be hired with a view of getting men who could make a study of game life, under the knowledge that so long as their work was satisfactory, a change in administration would not affect their positions.

Manner in which licenses would be sold was also taken up. A proposal was made that farmers would be permitted to hunt upon their own land without licenses. The bill may also ask that each farmer be vested with the power of a deputy game warden in so far as having authority to designate a license when upon his land.

Numerous other features of the bill were outlined and following a report on this subject, the meeting was thrown open to general discussion to gain an idea of the wants and needs of the farmers and sportsmen which would be the best interests of the state.

Proceeding the report of Mr. Sweezy at the meeting which was presided over by W. R. Priebe, John Sainsbury, game warden for this district, read a report of the game department's activities during the last 19 months. According to the report the work of the department has compared more than favorably with that of other states.

The number of men employed annually by the department fluctuates according to seasons. At least 85 percent of those who have made good during the last four years are still with the department, the report says. Field activities have been carried on in the same manner as in the past. Certain areas were closed to hunting on various kinds of birds where that measure was necessary to prevent the killing off of too much of the game. Game birds were also planted where they would multiply and in sections where heretofore there had been none, the report shows. A strong policy of protection of big game has been followed. Predatory animal work has been carried on extensively by special men. The department has also coputation of his former testimony which you can see in your letter. I observe that since your letter was delivered to me he has once more recanted, and repudiated his repudiation. When he testified before the Brookhart committee I expressed the opinion, which I see no reason to change, that no man should be convicted on any offense on the uncorroborated testimony of a witness whose evil character was so generally known as his.

"It was you, however, who appointed him to the confidential position in the department of justice. You brought him into the circle of your official intimates. You created him a government agent. You gave him his credentials. At the time you did so his character was already notorious, and if I am not mistaken, there was then to be found, in the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, a file in which his previous history was fully disclosed. I can imagine no maladministration in any governmental department more vicious than the employment of men of such character."

MEANS IS SILENT

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 23 (AP)—Gaston B. Means, star witness in the senate investigation in the department of justice, tonight issued a statement declaring he would have nothing further to say regarding his testimony or the reputation of it bearing his name made public Sunday night by former Attorney General Daugherty until he ascertained whether the committee would be called in special session in the near future.

Means asserted that there were many angles to the work which could not be discussed "at this time." He declared, however, that if no meeting of the committee was called he would be glad to furnish any facts or information and facts as were in his possession.

Cooperation has been given the forest service in fighting fires which threatened to ruin game cover and feeding ground. Fish and game work has been carried on under the direction of the new fish commissioner. In 1923 approximately 8,000,000 fish were raised and distributed from the state's various hatcheries. Salvage work was also undertaken. A saving is being made through obtaining fish eggs from fishermen.

Revenue of the department during 1923 amounted to $150,032.13, which is less than that of the year 1922 by approximately $8000, due to matters of legislation which saved money from buying licenses to fish and from trappers' licenses, due to the closing of the season to a more or less extent. While a decrease is shown in 1923 as compared with 1922 during the first six months of the present year a gain is evident of approximately $10,000.

WOULD OPEN MARKET

ROSE, Sept. 23 (AP)—Attempts to open the California market to Idaho alfalfa and alfalfa meal are being made by Mark A. Means, commissioner of agriculture, and G. H. Hock, California director of agriculture, urging upon him the benefits that will accrue to Idaho if the products can be shipped. Idaho has a surplus of hay and California is short in this commodity, but, on account of California's quarantine because of alfalfa weevil, it is at present impossible to ship into that state.

BUT VOTE

The above is a reproduction of a little sticker which yesterday reached The News.

Its message constitutes about the best piece of advice in connection with the forthcoming election that could possibly be given.

Give serious thought to the following figures:

In 1890, eighty per cent of the eligible voters of the country went to the polls and voted.

In 1900, seventy-three per cent cast their ballots.

In 1908, sixty-six per cent.

In 1912, sixty-two per cent.

In 1920, less than fifty per cent of those eligible to vote went to the polls.

In the State of Idaho in 1920 nearly eighty-five thousand persons who were eligible to vote in the general election threw away the privilege and never went near the polls at all. The figures are authentic, they are not guesses.

Is it any wonder that our government is changing in character, that the ideals of the forefathers are being steadily set at naught, that American institutions and traditions which date back to the signing of the Declaration of Independence are gradually going into the discard?

Your radical never fails to vote.
Probably forty per cent of the same and sound, thinking men and women of America never voted at all.

It is the biggest single problem with which a people was ever confronted.

This may seem like strong language, but it is no stronger than the facts warrant.

GOOD WORK.

It would seem that nearly every point in connection with the Jurk trial, verdict and sentence has been reversed, yet there is one more which does not appear to have been called to public attention.

We refer to the work done in connection with the preparation of the case, the presentation of the evidence, and the conduct of the trial by the County Prosecutor of Twin Falls County, J. W. Taylor.

Given a case of this kind a profiling attorney would naturally attempt to make the case as strong as possible, and in the preparation of the case, the presentation of the evidence,
and the conduct of the trial by the County Prosecutor of Twin Falls County, J. W. Taylor.

Breakfast Food

"Matrimonially Speaking"

By Hugh McKen.

My wife begins talking about a new fur coat about this time every year.

She gets out her old one and decides that it doesn't look as well as it once did. She asks me if I think it does.

And then she says, "Oh, well"—and sighs.

And then she starts showing me advertisements in the paper.

"That looks like a wonderful bargain, doesn't it?" she asks, pointing to an offering moderately priced at $325.

But "positively reduced from $530." Every time she goes down town, she tells me about the coats she noticed in all the store windows.

"They don't seem to be showing any muskrat coats this year, at all," she remarks; "all the new ones are nutria and caracul and Australian opossum."

(How can he be so sure?) Finally I say, "Well, maybe you'd better get a new coat. It's pretty near time you put that old one away, I guess."

And that's all that's necessary to make her decide that she doesn't think she ought to spend the money now, and that her muskrat really looks as well as most coats she sees on her friends, and that she'll just wear it another year, anyway!

Tomorrow: My husband gets "Opposite" spalls.

It is not too much to say that the case was one of the most important in the criminal annals of the state.

This is a phase of the case which many would be inclined to overlook.

The work of a County Prosecutor is not as a rule of a spectacular kind.

Frequently he is given altogether too little credit for what he does. Often, indeed, he receives more of criticism than of commendation.

County Prosecutor Taylor has done
good work.

THE TWO-LEVEL STREET.

Chicago built the first skyscraper church in the country, and now it is about to start work on the first double-deck thoroughfare.

It is solving
a very serious traffic problem—in a congested market and business district by making a two-level street. The upper level will be an eighty-foot highway restricted to fast, light passenger traffic and to pedestrians. This deck will be on the same level as Michigan Avenue. The lower deck will be a vehicular highway, consisting of three roadways for trucks and horse-drawn vehicles. Ramps will connect the lower and upper decks and these large ventilating plants will clear the lower levels of dangerous gases.

This experiment is of little interest to the small city, but if it works, it will lead to open a new era in the solution of metropolitan traffic problems. Great cities, in the future, may have layers of traffic piled one upon another just as they now have towering office buildings with layer upon layer of human beings transacting their respective businesses high above the earth.

Such a prospect, though it appears to help out in the problem of traffic congestion, does not present an attractive picture for future domestic life. Surely, if our cities become mazes of towers and subterranean passages, we will learn to use them only as centers of activity. We will go to them to transact our business, to enjoy music and drama, to visit great art galleries and museums. But we will go home to smaller communities where there is room and time for living and where fresh air, green grass, flowers, trees and growing children are thrived.

Somali Fond of Song

Music is a favorite with the Somalis, so dear to the heart of most African natives are unknown to the Somali, who note the best, take great pleasure in singing and dancing.

Their songs are not by any means casual chants that have special significance, and are not, as is the case with the "songs of the forest," there is a "song of the forest" for the finding of water, after a long journey, and songs for the lulling and unloading of caravans, but most of their music is of a religious nature, and there is a "song of praise" sung when the great founder of Islam died, and the name of a saint and toward around with a strong perfume of bees placed in the hands of the saint, and the name of the saint is the name of the saint.

Able to Endure Long Periods of Fasting

Some curious facts with respect to the capacity for fasting as exhibited by various animals are cited by Slegmond Urdin in the Urmann (Frankfurt), according to the Detroit News.

He begins by observing:
"The power of the camel to do without taking food is regarded in most works on zoology as representing scientific peculiarities of animals. But if there were a general knowledge of the ability of many animals to fast for very long periods of time these instances would not be so overemphasized. It is, indeed, generally known that even mammals are able to fast for months during their winter hibernation, but it seems to be almost unknown that the same power exists among the lower animals. The power of fasting is much more widespread in them than was formerly supposed."

Mr. Urdin then refers to an experience of his youth when he put certain snails which had already withdrawn into their shells and closed the opening thereof, as is their custom, into a box, whereupon he forgot them for a period of more than a year and a half. He supposed they were inevitably dead, but when he put them into a vessel filled with water, much to his surprise, they came out of their shells and crawled gladly on the table.

Northern Lights
Prof. Lars Vegard, attached to Christiania university, by assuming that frozen nitrogen is responsible for the beautiful greenish hue that preceded any outbreak of the northern lights, has disclosed the mystery of the green hue that has always been unexplained by scientific men. The scientific world has not entirely accepted his assumption, but regards it as more satisfactory as an explanation than the old theory that certain atmospheric gases caused this exceptionally beautiful effect just before the fantastic dances.

Beginning Counts
The first step, my son, which un-makes in the world, is the one to which depends the rest of our days—Vitality.

Pepsin Has Rival
Pepsin, the digestive substance derived from the pig and largely used by medical men in treating cases of digestion, finds a rival in pharmacy in "papain," a digestive ferment isolated from the juice of the half-ripe fruit of the papaw tree. This substance is said to digest fibrin and albumen more readily than pepsin does. The fruit is sometimes made into jam, though the necessary boiling would probably kill the digestive ferments. Anglo-Indians say that a tough steak becomes tender when placed for a few minutes between two slices of papaw fruit, or even placed near a papaw tree.

Traced Tropical Scourge
The first infection we had that yellow fever was not a contagious disease and that the infection was due to some external cause, appeared during the occupation of Cuba.

It was in 1901 that surgeons and soldiers of the United States army, at the risk of their lives, proved that yellow fever, the supreme terror of the tropics, was not a contagious or a filth disease, but was transmitted from one human being to another solely by a mosquito of a particular type, the steegomyia.

Old American Roadway
The old Spanish road, built across Mexico in the sixteenth century, is believed to be the oldest road on the North American continent. It was built in the form of a letter "T," with the lower portion of the "T" steam starting at Vera Cruz on the Gulf coast, and the northern prong (touches the Pacific Bia) and the southern tip at Acapulco.
Because of this road the west-bound convoys from the Philippines were spared the dangerous navigation around Cape Horn. There is still evidence that this old trail was used by the Indians before the Spaniards broadened it from a pack-mule path to a highway.

Silly Idea, Don't You Know!
The man in the dock was a regular customer of the local police court and had spent quite as much time in the jail as in court. His particular line was breaking into shops of the smaller tradespeople in the early hours of the morning. On this occasion he was charged with breaking into a jeweler's shop, and as he stood in the dock with a constable on either side
the magistrate asked:
"Any witnesses?"
"One witness!" replied the accused with a sneer. "Why, you silly old fool, do you think that when I go out to crack a crib I take witnesses with me?"—London Tri-Bia.

Don't Be Too Hasty
The trouble with the mentality tests is that they grade intellect according to mental agility and cunning. Outside of geniuses, the highest grade of brain is slow thinking. If you have ever consulted a white-headed philosopher, you know that the oracle hears your case, ponders it with deliberation, views it from all angles, then in a terse sentence utters the decision of wisdom. The fast thinker arrives at wrong conclusions oftener than the slow thinker.—Tropica Capital.

Courtesy Among Kaffirs
In Africa when one hears a native host say to his departing guests: "Inimba nache!" (Go in peace) and the response of the guest, "Lala nache!" (Rest in peace) it is hard to imagine oneself among untamed savages—if one keeps one's eyes closed.

A courtesy peculiar to the native African is his manner of receiving even the most trifling gift. No matter how small the object, he receives it in both hands cupped together like a bowl. Try it. It is most expressive.

Must Be
"Ma, did you ever hear a rabbit bark?"
"Rabbits don't bark, dear."
"That's funny! My stork book says that rabbits eat caldage and bark."

Took Sister's Part

ber to take your sister's part, Johnny.
Johnny—I do. I took her part of the cake just about five minutes ago.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

THE MOTOR DOG

Reynolds was a little dog belonging to a little boy named Reynolds.

It was very confusing at times.
Sometimes Reynolds, the dog, would think he had been called and he would rush along to the one who had called,
and when he got there and politely wagged his tail as though to say, "Yes, what is it?" he found he had not been wanted at all.

Sometimes when Reynolds, the boy, went to the one who had called he would find a nice home there which,
of course, was meant for Reynolds, the dog.

But in spite of these little mistakes everything else went very smoothly.
Reynolds, the dog, was very nice.
Reynolds, the boy, was very nice.

Now the mother of Reynolds, the boy, owned an automobile, and Reynolds, the boy and Reynolds, the dog both loved motoring.

They liked to see such a great many things as they did when they were on a ride.

Oh, riding was great, great fun.
Reynolds, the dog, became so used to it that he began to hate walking and running.

Reynolds, the boy, did not like to have to run errands so very much—the motor got to places so quickly.

But he still did enjoy running and games and all such things.

Reynolds, the dog, did not care really about exercise after a time.

It was all anyone could do to get him to take a walk.

"They would say,"
"Come Reynolds, good dog, we'll have a walk."

Reynolds always looked much disappointed.

When they had suggested a ride it would have been different.

It was such fun to sit up in the car and sniff the air and to let his ears flap back and rest but yet see what was going on. Oh, it was delightful indeed.

But Reynolds, the boy, thought that Reynolds, the dog, needed exercise.

So he would say:
"Come Reynolds, you're getting lazy, you really must have some exercise."

"We will have a little run and maybe we will walk to the village."

Well, Reynolds, the dog, did not mind it so much when they walked to the village.

When they went off into the country he did not like it, for that really meant walking and running and plenty of exercise.

When they went to the village Reynolds, the dog, had thought up a little trick, a very excellent little trick, he thought.

He would pass along by the automobiles which were standing outside the stores in the village and he would jump up on the running boards of the cars he thought to say:

"Here I am, all ready for an invitation."

In this way the walks to the village were greatly interrupted by many stops, for at each stop Reynolds, the boy, would have to urge Reynolds, the dog, to come along.

Now one day Reynolds, the boy, had walked to the village. Reynolds, the dog, had been sleeping on the back porch and Reynolds, the boy, had thought he would not bother to awaken him for so short a walk.

After Reynolds, the boy, had been gone a little while his mother thought she would take a ride in the automobile and do a few errands in the village.

So she called Reynolds, the dog, and asked him to go along too.

In the village they passed Reynolds, the boy, walking. His mother thought he was very lucky, she would not run up any luck, she would not run up any luck, she would not run up any

BIG EXPORT BUYING BOOSTS WHEAT PRICE

Eye Also Goes Up When Demand for Breadstuffs Becomes Apparent; Market Closes Higher.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—Big export buying of breadstuffs, including 4,000,000 bushels of rye in the last two days, had much to do with a steep uptick in values today both for wheat and rye. Wheat closed 2 3/4 to 3 1/2 cents higher. September $1.35 to $1.36, and May $1.10 to $1.11, with rye exalted 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents. Corn finished at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents. Oats 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 cents. Provisions varying from 5 to 7 cents decline to 15 to 17 cents advance.

Wheat and rye showed surprising strength throughout the day, but especially in the final dealings. Houses with foreign connections were active buyers of wheat as soon as the market opened, and it was said, took fully 1,000,000 inside of a few minutes. The European demand was associated with reports of stormy weather and severe crop damage in France and Great Britain, and also with an estimate that the wheat crop in Italy was but little more than half of the 1923 production. It was also estimated that the requirements of France would alone equal the entire surplus looked for from Australia.

The fact that the United States visible supply of wheat is the largest since 1919 had some transient bearish influence on the wheat market, and so did any weakness of corn values. Indications of European shortage of local stuffs, however, especially the huge purchasing of rye that appeared to be in progress, led to rallies and made the upward movement of all grain a rapid one in the final dealings with all new bids for rye finishing at a new high price and a backlog of six cents compared with yesterday's finish.

Favorable weather and enlarged rural offerings to arrive led to pronounced weakness in the corn market until wheat strength forced a rally. At one time the September delivery of corn in which heavy trading was unusually small, showed a backlog of six cents compared with yesterday's finish.

Provisions averaged higher owing to an advance in hog values and the bulge in grain.

ADKINS' TRIAL FOR DEATH OF BASQUE IS UP

Menslaughter Charge Faces Man as Result of Shepherd-or's Demise From Injuries Received in Quarrel.

Trail of John W. Adkins on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Frank Marguquina, sheepherder, who died from injuries received in a quarrel near Salmon on June 1, opened in district court Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with the selection of a jury to hear the case.

At the close of court Tuesday evening attorneys announced that they hoped to begin offering testimony to the jury today. Adkins, according to the prosecution, strangled the dead in an argument near the dam. Later the shepherd died in the Twin Falls county general hospital as the result of his injuries.

It is the contention of the defense that Adkins struck in self-defense and to prevent the shepherd from doing him bodily injury. Adkins at the time is said to have been walking with a cane and an argument arose over sheep on a camp near the dam. It is alleged that the shepherd drew a knife on Adkins, who in turn struck him.

At the preliminary hearing, held here before Judge O. P. Davall some time ago, Adkins was held to trial on a charge of manslaughter and a bond of $5,000. A complaint was filed in the district court charging first degree murder and the case was moved for a dismissal of the case on the ground that the state law holds that a higher crime can not be charged in the upper court than that charged in the preliminary hearing. Following argument, prosecution and defense agreed to let the trial go on, on the manslaughter charge.

Attorneys for the defense are Shad L. Hodge of Twin Falls and Ben H. Hagan of Boise. The state is represented by Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor.

DEATH SENTENCE IS PRONOUNCED ON JOHN JURKO

Court Tells Man Who Killed Vandemark He Must Face Callows for Crime; Notice of Appeal Is Filed.

Julius W. A. Babcock in district court Tuesday morning sentenced John Jurko, charged with shooting to death A. B. Vandemark, to hang at the state prison at Boise on the morning of November 14. Sentence pronounced by Judge Babcock followed the recommendations of a jury which heard the evidence in the case and which last Friday night brought in a verdict of guilty of first degree murder and recommended that the death penalty be imposed.

A short time following announcement of sentence W. P. Guthrie, attorney for Jurko and his co-defendant, Homer C. Mills, filed notice of appeal to the state supreme court. The appeal automatically stays execution of the sentence and until the supreme court either reverses the decision or the lower court orders a new trial Jurko can not be executed.

Says He Is Sorry.

"I am sorry for what I did," said Jurko, when asked by the court if there was any reason why sentence should not be pronounced. "My only regret is the time I was in prison. I did not know what I was doing. At the trial several of my main witnesses did not come to testify and I do not think the jury gave me a fair trial."

Jurko was haggard and worn and showed evidences of the strain under which he has been laboring. His only act to speak to the court was to say he had the look of one from whom hope had fled. Judge Babcock, following the statement of Jurko, ordered that he be held in custody for a fair trial and immediately pronounced sentence.

Let Back to Jail.

Following sentence Jurko was led back to his cell in the county jail where he has been held since the shooting and where he will remain until he is taken to Boise, where the state supreme court or unless he appeals a pardon or commutation of sentence, he will be put to death.

Jurko hangs it will be the first hanging in the state of Idaho in many years. It is, according to officials, the longest sentence pronounced in Twin Falls county. The trial was one of the shortest held. One day and the evening session of the second day with the selection of a jury. Monday was taken the second day and Friday was the third and closing day of the trial. The jury took into its hands the fate of Jurko shortly after 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and at 10:30 o'clock that night brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.
