PRICE FIVE CENTS

IDAHO TO GIVE PRESIDENT A
BIG PLURALITY

Moore Has Lead of 8000 With Few Precincts to Hear From; Smith Has Lead of Approximately 18,500.

BOISE, Nov. 5 (AP)—Idaho will give President Calvin Coolidge a plurality of between 17,000 and 18,000 votes over his nearest opponent, Robert M. LaFollette, progressive, returns from the state showed tonight. Governor C. C. Moore also was elected over the progressive, first F. Samuel, by a plurality of 8,000, with Frechafer, the democrat, a poor third.

The vote on the presidency follows: Coolidge 61,252; Davis 21,158; LaFollette 42,647.

President Coolidge carried 36 of the 44 counties in the state, the other eight going to LaFollette. Davis failed to carry a first and second place in any of the three normally democratic strongholds. The president ran about 4,000 ahead of Governor Moore and carried six counties in which Moore finished second. Moore, however, jumped into the lead in Nez Perce county, which gave LaFollette a margin over Coolidge.

Frechafer Loses County
A. L. Frechafer, Payette attorney, democratic nominee for governor, lost his own county to Coolidge on the presidency and to Samuel the third party secker of the gubernatorial chair, but came out first in Custer, a Bourbon stronghold, home of L. E. Dillingham, democratic state chairman. Moore's home county remained in the republican column while Samuel's home county, L. H. Houser, gave his third party candidate the heaviest vote.

Senator Borah polled better than for votes to one for his democratic opponent, Frank Martin, but the latter, who was high man on the democratic ticket.

Congressmen Returned.
Both Idaho congressmen, Benton L. French and Addison T. Smith, went in to office by safe pluralities. French polled 23,127 votes as against Mitchell's 16,910, received on both the democratic and progressive tickets. Mitchell refused to comply with a recent supreme court ruling and would not express a preference for either ticket, which would have been the case if he went on the Bourbon ticket in some counties and the progressive in others.

Congressman Smith had a three-cornered fight for his seat in the Second district and received 39,270 votes to 20,823 for Shulberg, third party candidate, termed by his party leaders the "Magnus Johnson of Idaho," and 13,890 for John B. Wilson, democratic Smith and Wilson both live in Twin Falls county which gave the congress man twice as many votes as the progressive and three times as many as his fellow-townsmen.

BOISE, Nov. 5 (AP)—Returns from more than half the precincts of Idaho state office elections were received today for Governor—Moore (r) 49,630, Frechafer (d) 18,617, Samuel (p) 42,174.

G. O. P. PILE UP
ILLINOIS VOTE

One of Biggest Ballots in History of Chicago Cast; Coolidge Has Immense Majority.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5 (AP)—Tabulation of related returns in Tuesday's general election in Illinois swept chiefly to gratify the political appetite of virtually every voter, and made the race on the republican ticket. As the swamped election judges and clerks, handling one of the biggest ballots in voting history, began to arrive at complete totals on the race for president down the count climbed upward.

The $100,000,000 road bond proposal, the two housing propositions, and the canal lease project met the voters' approval, it was believed. When nearly 5000 precincts of the state had been counted, Coolidge held a vote of 1,192,137, Davis had 460,973 and LaFollette 276,063. It was 460,000 more votes than the combined total received by Davis and LaFollette. President Harding in 1920 obtained 1,420,460.

Senator Deneen was following the commanding lead of the president. In 4749 precincts out of 5989 in the state his vote was 1,112,585 against 624,563 for Albert A. Sprague, his democratic opponent. United States Senator McKinley in 1920 received 1,381,381 votes in defeating Peter A. Waller. The governor ran in about the same number of precincts reported, had a vote of 1,125,650. The tabulation showed 4974 precincts out of 5989 in the state, Small 1,125,650, Judge Norman L. Davis, democrat, 807,160.

DEATH FROM PLAGUE.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP)—One new death, the first in 48 hours, tonight increased the total of pneumonic plague victims in Los Angeles to 26. Seven patients are under treatment in the isolation ward of the general hospital, according to health officials.

Total in Electoral College Is 343 With Probabilities of Going Higher, Tail End of Election Shows.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—The tail end of the election returns both presidential and congressional, as they trickled in slowly throughout the day, gave no evidence of reducing President Coolidge's large majority in the electoral college, but gave possibilities of increasing it further.

The republican party lines in the congressional contests seemed to be holding tight as the day closed and the question seemed to be only the margin of working majority for the party in the house and senate. The republicans, on the face of the available returns, were holding the gains made in the county during the first 24 hours.

Two senate contests were outstanding. In Iowa, Senator Brookhart, who has supported the LaFollette policies and who repudiated the republican national ticket was trailing his democratic opponent who has been credited with republican support. But the returns from the rural districts in Iowa were coming in slowly and Mr. Brookhart was confident they would restore him to first place—just as they did in his primary and in his election campaign.

Practically the same situation prevailed in regard to Magnus Johnson, the farmer labor senator from Minnesota.

Late today President Coolidge's total in the electoral college was 343 votes, with probabilities that it would be higher; the total for John W. Davis, the democratic candidate, was 136, with possibilities of some small addition, and LaFollette's lag still was the 13 votes from his one state of Wisconsin.

SOUTH DAKOTA TO COOLIDGE.
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 5 (AP)—Victory for President Coolidge in South Dakota was conceded tonight by Alva Boganter Parker, state manager of the LaFollette campaign. Mr. Boganter had refused all day to admit the Wisconsin senator's defeat until returns from that district showed him definitely out of the running. He told the Associated Press that Coolidge's victory was apparent with the three-fourths of the state reported.

LaFollette Is Undismayed by Returns Which Decisively Defeated Him.

MADISON, Nov. 5 (AP)—After issuing his first public statement on the election in which his independent presidential candidacy was overwhelmed in a landslide vote for President Coolidge, Senator Robert M. LaFollette began tonight to shape his plans for the immediate future with special reference to his return to Washington to prepare for the short session of congress.

His statement, issued late today, after a return from virtually every state of the country had been scrutinized by the senator and his closest political advisers, said: "The progressives will not be dismayed by this result."

"So far as I am personally concerned," it said, "I am enlisted for life in the struggle to break the combined power of private monopoly system over government and to restore it to the people."

Senator LaFollette passed a quiet day at his farm outside Madison where scores of telegrams from friends and supporters from all sections reached him throughout the day. He was in good spirits and chatted pleasantly with all who called to visit at his Maple Bluff farm.

His remarks to friends revealed a buoyancy of spirit and a faithfulness of optimism for the future of the cause he has championed. Thus far little thought has been given to the future program of the independent forces, decision in this matter awaiting, according to those close to the senator, an exchange of views between the leaders of the principal groups which contributed time and energy to the LaFollette-Wheeler campaign.

This question likely will be foremost in the political discussion between the senator and his friends after his return to Washington probably early next week.

Victory and defeat were roommates in the LaFollette household today, for father and son congratulated and consoled on returns from the general election.

At Least 100 Votes to Spare Certain for Republicans Late Returns Reveal; LaFollette Gets One.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—The full measure of the republican victory at the polls could not yet be taken tonight, but the returns showed that President Coolidge would have at least a hundred votes to spare in the electoral college and the largest popular plurality in history.

The showing made by John W. Davis remained unchanged through today and, although Senator LaFollette began to creep up a little in one or two western states, there was no certainty tonight that he would receive the electoral vote of any state group except that of Wisconsin.

Certain Victory.
On the face of today's congressional returns the republicans made certain of a paper majority, at least, in both senate and house, but doubt whether the margin would be great enough to give the administration the whip hand over the combined opposition of the democrats and the LaFollette bloc.

As the presidential figures stood tonight, with only a handful of electoral votes still in doubt, the indicated strength of the three candidates in the electoral college was as follows:

Returns From Last 200 of Iowa's Precincts Cuts Down Lead of Steek for Senator; Result Is Uncertain.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 5 (AP)—The official canvass of ballots cast in Tuesday's election in Iowa may be required to decide the contest between United States Senator Smith—W. Brookhart and Daniel F. Steek, republican, and democratic candidate respectively, for the senate. This possibility appeared tonight as returns from the last 200 of the state's 2418 precincts slowly cut down a lead for Steek, which this afternoon mounted to more than 12,000 and brought forth a statement from Senator Brookhart that the Ottumwa lawyer apparently had defeated him.

The senator's campaign manager, Louis H. Cook, also issued a statement saying Steek apparently would be the winner by about 5000 votes and dozens of congratulatory messages were being received by Steek when the straggling returns suddenly shifted to the favor of Brookhart and Steek's lead was reduced from the thousands as counties completed their tabulation, then steadily by smaller figures until it stood at 1000 votes with less than 100 precincts not reported.

Brookhart Territory.
The major precincts were largely in rural territory where Brookhart had shown an advantage over his opponent and all politicians concerned admitted the result might be favorable to the senator, should the swing continue.

Tonight the uncertainty somewhat dampened the ardor of Steek enthusiasts who already had planned an old time birthday celebration for the victory. The concession made by Brookhart and his manager during the afternoon had been the signal for preparations in various cities both by republicans and democrats—the former planning to join the celebrations as they apparently had joined with the democrats voting against the senator, because the latter break with regular republican party leaders.

Steek's approach had been probably as much of a surprise to the candidate, the democrats and republicans of Iowa as it was to politicians throughout the country and they were quick to characterize it as a notable achievement and a turn in the political affairs of Iowa that might terminate the stormy Brookhart career in the senate.

The close race was emphasized by a comparison of virtually complete county totals tonight in which it was disclosed Senator Brookhart had carried 56 counties and 43 had gone to Steek. With the exception of Woodbury, Cerro and Park counties with the cities of Sioux City, Mason City and Des Moines, Steek carried all the more populous counties, while Brookhart trailed him closely or led in the others. Steek won Brookhart county, Washington, by 4217 to 3575.

Congressional Survey Shows An Actual Majority 218 For G. O. P.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Related returns from the republicans the best of today in the house and senate. But it appeared that final reports from all districts would be necessary before there could be a determination whether President Coolidge could expect a real working majority in the next congress.

Returns from 359 of 435 congressional districts gave the republicans an actual majority—218—but in this total are included nearly a score of the LaFollette insurgents.

Have 170 Seats.
The democrats, meantime, had made certain of 170 seats and the farmer-labor party of two.

On the basis of these returns the republicans had made a net gain of over 100 seats over the democrats, recapturing 20 seats as against four now held by republicans which were moved over into the democratic column.

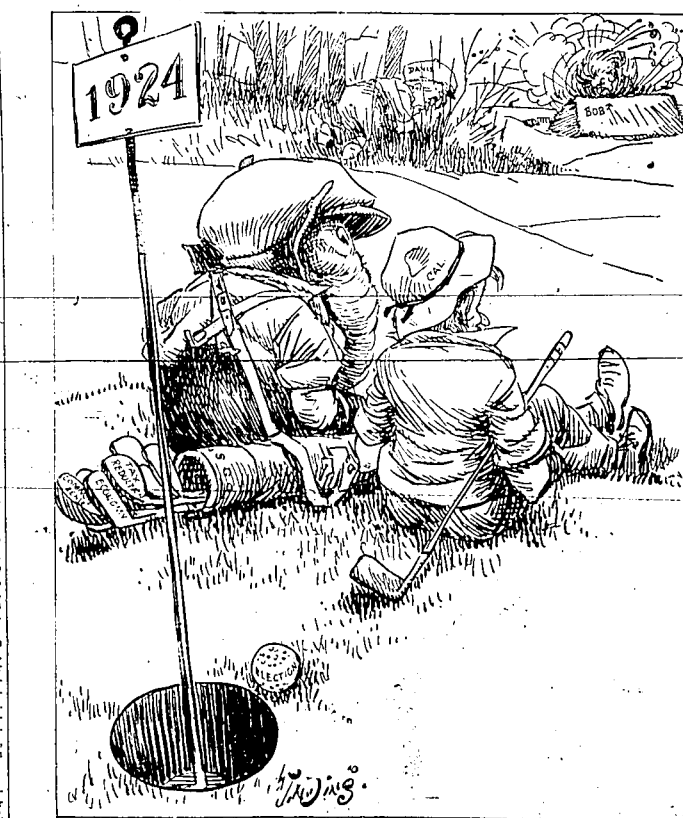

At adjournment last June the house lineup was: Republicans 225, Democrat 203, and three scattered.

In the senatorial contests, the most surprising result was in Iowa, where Smith W. Brookhart, republican, who publicly repudiated his own national ticket, had conceded his defeat at the hands of Daniel F. Steek, a democratic lawyer of Ottumwa. Mr. Steek was generally credited with receiving support from many regular republicans.

Gain Three Places.
The republicans, however, apparently had gained three senatorial seats on the basis of returns received early tonight. These were Massachusetts, Kentucky and Oklahoma.

The democrats had elected eleven senators while 17 republicans had been chosen or had such leads as to make Russia Develops Deep Sea Fishing Grounds as Source of Food for Her Millions.

ABRANGHEL, Russia, Nov. 5 (AP).—Soviet Russia has made strenuous efforts this summer to develop its sea fisheries as a source of food and in this connection, it was announced recently, new fishing grounds have been discovered off Juguraki in the Arctic waters adjacent to Russia. The fishing-banks were located quite by accident.

It was during a cruise of the steamship Malgynin, of 1500 tons, with Russian sea scientists aboard, who were doing research work for the purpose of determining the waters pertaining to the country's maritime boundaries. Biological, hydrographic, fishing, meteorological, and other problems of the Polar regions that great schools of fish were encountered. Further investigations in the same waters, off Juguraki Shear,

TO MARK HIS TICKET

PLYMOUTH, Vermont, Nov. 5 (AP)—Colonel John Coolidge, father of the president, was the first to cast his vote when the polls opened in this town, the president's birthplace.

Colonel Coolidge refused offers by several persons to drive him in an automobile over the miles of hilly road that separated the Coolidge home from the polling place in Frank H. Moore hall at Plymouth Union. He hitched up his horse and buggy and drove to the hall, accompanied by his housekeeper, Aurora Pierce. There the two ballots were deposited in boxes improvised from butter pails. It has become a tradition in Plymouth that Colonel Coolidge will cast the first ballot on election day.

There are 24 registered voters in the town of whom one-half are women.

fighter was used as a target for practice by the naval air forces. Six bombing planes took part, sending the Iwama to the bottom in less time than was anticipated.

It was expected that the Iwama would provide two days' practice for the bombers and naval attaches of foreign countries.

The Iwami, formerly the Russian battleship Orel, was a unit of the Baltic fleet. She survived the battle of the Sea of Japan, May 27, 1905, only to be captured by Admiral Togo's fleet. As a unit of the Japanese fleet the Iwami took part in 1924 in the operations which cleared the Pacific of German raiders.

FAST LIVING STUNTS GROWTH

Americans Have Lost Two Inches in Height Since Civil War Days, Says Expert.

DETROIT, Nov. 5 (AP)—People of America have lost two inches in stature since the civil war, according to Dr. John Harvey Kellogg, dietitian and superintendent of the Battle Creek sanitarium.

"Stunted growth is resulting from our modern 'eat and run' habits," Dr. Kellogg said. "The American public give little or no thought to the proper

"The stature of the American people has dropped two inches in the last 60 years, due to the modern American custom of bolting our food."

"A height in stature of over six feet prevailed in the early sixties; today the average normal height of the American people is much below six feet, a condition attributable to our modern quick lunch counters and hurried mode of living."

As a result of the fisheries, the Russians came back as the fisheries, the Russians "bombers" fished and traded along the Norwegian coast. Gradually in the nineteenth century the fishing passed into the hands of the Russians, who confined themselves to the purchase and shipping of the fish. In the five years ending in 1912, more than 140,000 tons were thus purchased. Most of this going to England. With the revolution this trade was annihilated, but now the Russians are using fishing craft in Norway, which to catch a great own fish, thus bringing about a new saving for the

ELECTION CAUSE PRICE ADVANCES IN WALL STREET

Markets Shoot Upward From Favorable Returns Showing Republicans Again in Control of National Offices.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—Wall street registered its approval today of the results of Tuesday's election by pouring an avalanche of buying orders into the stock market which carried nearly two score issues to new peak prices for the year on net gains that ran from one to three and one-half points. Total sales, which approximated nearly 1,750,000 shares, were the largest of any single session in about two years. While the market was without definite information as to the complete makeup of the next congress indications that President Coolidge would probably have a working majority in both the senate and house stimulated the buying of all classes of stocks. Bulls were particularly strong on the speculative theory that the failure of the radicals to obtain a dominating position assured the safety of the transportation act of 1920, facilitated the consummation of several large railroad mergers now pending and improved the possibility of increased dividend payments on some of the high grade issues, notably New York Central and Atchafalpa, current earnings of which are well above present dividend requirements.

Bonds Favorably.
London's financial community also reacted favorably to the Coolidge victory, buying orders for sterling exchange from that center being of sufficient proportions to carry the rate on demand bills up more than three cents to the year's high level of $4.57.

Bond prices improved in sympathy with the rise in stocks with the heavy demand for railroad bonds as the principal feature. Cotton, sugar and grain prices also improved slightly. In the stock market 15 railroads broke through their previous high levels, including New York Central, Atchafalpa, Missouri Pacific common and preferred, "Early" common and preferred, Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line and Wabash preferred "A."

In addition, "Big Four" made a sensational gain of 10 points, and Nickel Plate and Jersey Central each showed net gains of 5 1/2 points. Establishment of a new high record for all time by freight car loadings for the week ended October 25, was an important factor in the buying of these shares.

Vanishing Languages.
Nowhere in America has there been such a diversity of Indian languages as in California. But these languages are now rapidly disappearing. Several of them are known only by five or six and others by only twenty or thirty living persons, and hardly a year passes without some dialect, or even language, ceasing to exist through the death of the last individual able to speak it. Efforts are being made to record all these languages for the sake of the light they throw on the ancient history of the Pacific coast—Sun and New York Herald.

MAN WHO CAST VOTE FOR LINCOLN AGAIN MARKS HIS BALLOT

FLINT, Mich., Nov. 5 (AP)—Theodore Canright, 93, who voted for Lincoln and who has cast his ballot at every presidential election since, kept his record this year though he fell at his home yesterday and was so seriously injured he was unable to go to the polls today. Mr. Canright had visited a newspaper office to tell of his voting achievement and to declare he intended to vote again today. As he reached home he fell from the porch, cut a deep gash in his head and suffered internal injuries. Newspapermen notified City Clerk King, who made an exception and sent an absent voter's ballot to the aged man.

OVER-SEA ROAD FROM FLORIDA WILL BE BUILT

Contracts Signed for Highway Running From Mainland to Islands, a Distance of 150 Miles Into Ocean.

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 5 (AP)—Contracts have been signed and things are shaping themselves for an early beginning on the first unit, at both ends, of the long dreamed of overseas highway between Key West and the mainland of Florida, a distance of approximately 150 miles. Contracts signed by the county commissioners of this (Monroe) county call for construction of the roadway and bridges from Stock Island to Saddle Bunches and the causeway and bridge from Key Largo to Dade county. Approximately 25 miles of the road are provided for under the contract just signed, about equally divided in distance at the two ends of the line. Stock Island, upon which the city of Key West is located, is about two and one-half miles from Boca Chica and the latter is approximately one mile from Saddle Bunches, which with Sugar Loaf, will make it possible to extend the road for more than 15 miles without further bridging. After leaving Sugar Loaf going eastward another stretch of islands makes it possible to extend the road 30 miles or more with minimum bridging.

The undertaking represents one of the most spectacular pieces of construction in the country, and its completion will match the famous overseas railroad built by the late Henry M. Flagler. The latter road, undertaken down the east coast of Florida about a quarter of a century ago, later was pushed on to this city by throwing up of coral rock from the bottom of the sea upon which to build the roadbed for mile after mile.

ANCIENT RACE ONCE IN WEST OPINION HELD

Finding of Queer Stones and Flint Leads California Man to Think Sierras Saw Old Inhabitation.

VISALIA, Cal., Nov. 5 (AP)—Archaeologists of the University of California are to be invited by W. H. Hart, a pioneer resident of Woodlake, Tulare county, to go with him back into the Fresno valley country in the high Sierras to inspect a recent discovery which the mountaineer believes indicates that some race preceded the Indians in that country. Pending the visit of scientists Hart is guarding his secret and has told few people of the location of his find.

In the heavily wooded and rocky section within walking distance of General Grant national park, Hart says he uncovered a considerable deposit of flint, entirely unknown to Tulare county mountaineers. Flint cut into shapes and sizes somewhat resembling broken weapons of warfare and possibly bits of some ancient pottery likewise different from that known to have been made by the Indians, caused the finder to look further and he now believes his discoveries were merely surface indications of what may be found beneath the layer of six feet of soil which covers the small area. He made no attempt to dig, confining his search to what might be seen upon the surface.

Flint Diamonds
Five small stones resembling diamonds were picked up. Two of these Hart had tested by a San Francisco jewel expert, who, he says, pronounced them real diamonds of rare excellence. If they are real diamonds Hart declares they are the only ones ever found far back in the Sierra Nevada mountains, and believes they must have been brought into that section by some age-old civilization which frequented the region. Hart has lived for 55 years in these mountains, has made a study of the Indians who used to live there, their habits and customs. He is convinced they cannot be responsible for the articles he discovered.

Maybe You're Losing Money and Don't Know It!

CONSIDER the man who invested only $1000.00 in our stock when we first offered it to local people in January, 1918.

He is $472.50 richer today. By November 1, 1924, his $1000.00 had earned dividends for him amounting to $472.50. But that sum would have been lost to him if he had NOT invested his savings.

How much will YOU stand to lose in one year—in two years—in ten years if you do not INVEST the money you save.

It isn't really so much a question of whether you can AFFORD to invest, but it is more a question of whether you can afford NOT to invest. Can you AFFORD TO LOSE the extra dollars your savings could earn for you if you had them safely invested?

Taylor Gashes Hand to Prevent Suicide

Prosecuting Attorney Intervenes When Stranger Threatens Self-Destruction.

Prosecuting Attorney J. W. Taylor has a gash across the thumb of his left hand as a result of a successful effort to prevent fulfillment of a threat Wednesday afternoon in the sheriff's office here by an unidentified man to take his own life by gashing his throat with a knife.

The threat was made in the presence of several persons. It came after County Commissioner T. Dan Connor had expressed the opinion that the commissioners would not authorize his admission into the county hospital.

"All right," the stranger exclaimed, "I'll just end it all." He took a knife from his pocket, opened it and raised it as though to slash his throat.

Connor and others caught the stranger's arm but were unsuccessful in losing his grasp on the weapon, when Mr. Taylor took a hand in the affair.

The stranger whose name had not been given Wednesday evening to the sheriff, told Mr. Connor that he had come here recently from Nevada; that he suffered from asthma, so severe that he could not work, and that if denied admission to the hospital, he would throw himself off the rimrock at Rock Creek canyon.

UTAH GOES TO G. O. P. WITH EXCEPTION OF GOVERNOR'S ELECTION

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 5 (AP)—With returns from nearly half the state in yesterday's general election yet incomplete due to heavy scattering of ballots, Carl Mendenhall, republican state chairman, tonight issued a statement claiming election of the entire republicans ticket with the exception of Gov. Charles R. Mayhew, who was defeated by George H. Dern, democrat.

The Coolidge and Davis vote from calculations based upon the returns so far tabulated seem to indicate a vote greater than that of the democrats and progressives combined.

Based upon a calculated state vote of 100,000 the republican ticket would give Coolidge 51,000, Davis 54,000, LaFollette 25,000, according to tabulations of the Salt Lake Tribune.

Congressman Dag H. Dalton and E. O. Leatherwood from the first and second congressional districts respectively, won over their democratic opponents, Frank Francis and James H. Waters.

It is not expected the definite poll will be known until tomorrow.

HAWAIIAN DEMOCRAT LEADS

HONOLULU, Nov. 5 (AP)—Virtually complete returns from all the Hawaiian islands today gave William P. Jarrett, democrat, a lead of 4000 for delegate to congress over his republican opponent, Philip L. Rice. Jarrett is the incumbent.

Indications are that the territorial legislature, which in 1923 composed of 44 republicans and one democrat, will consist this time of 12 republican and three democratic senators, 24 or 25 republican representatives and five or six democratic members of the house.

DAVIS' SISTER GLAD HE WAS NOT ELECTED PRESIDENT OF NATION

YONKERS, N. Y., Nov. 5 (AP)—Mrs. Hilary G. Richardson, sister of John W. Davis and wife of the pastor of the First Unitarian church of Yonkers, said tonight that she felt "tremendously relieved" because her brother was not elected president.

"It has not been any special strain," she said, "although we all have been on the anxious seat for fear he would be elected and have to spend four years in that very grave and difficult position."

"It is an honor, certainly, to be head of a nation, but there are other things to be considered. We all were hoping that it would not come to pass."

"Of course I voted for him—all the members of the family did, but simply because he was in the race. I can gladly reiterate that we are enormously relieved."

THREE WOMEN GIVEN SEATS IN WISCONSIN LEGISLATIVE HALLS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 5 (AP)—For the first time women will sit in the legislative halls of Wisconsin, as a result of the election yesterday.

Three women were named to the assembly by the voters of the state and will take their places at Madison with the coming of the biennial session in January.

Helen M. Brook of Coloma, will represent the Green Waushara county district. Mildred Barber of Marathon, will be assemblywoman for the first Marathon county district. Price county will be represented in the assembly by Helen P. Thompson, Park Falls.

All of the victorious women were named on the republican ticket.

Two other women who were candidates for the legislature survived the primary and secured a place on the general ballot. They were Margaret P. Frugstein, Waunakee, and Sister P. Schlenkerberg, Milwaukee. They were candidates on the democratic tickets in the sixth and eighth Milwaukee county districts, respectively.

DAWES WATCHES MOUNTING VOTE IN CONFERENCE

Newly Elected Vice President
Sets Affairs to Rights to Serve Nation in Capacity as National Official.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5 (AP)—The American electorate by their votes have called into public service again Charles G. Dawes.

Elected to the vice presidency after having three times served in public capacity and at a time when he had cast aside all thoughts of office, Dawes today read the returns and set about arranging his multifarious affairs so as to heed the call sounded yesterday at the ballot boxes of the nation.

Mr. Dawes did not expect to be nominated for the vice presidency last June, but once nominated he did expect to be elected because he told his close associates many times he regarded the cause for which he was the principal spokesman as one that would appeal to the majority of the American people.

Matter of Fact.
The vice president elect accordingly last night and today accepted the mounting count of ballots for President Coolidge and himself in a matter of fact way. He was calmer by far last night than any of his associates, and friends who gathered at his home in Evanston to receive the returns and today he went about on his usual course much as if nothing had happened.

The only events that differentiated today for Mr. Dawes, from any of the quiet days he planned for himself after the return of his reparations work in Europe, last spring, were the deluge of congratulations, written and spoken. He acknowledged the spoken ones with a funny little smile about the corners of his mouth, but never with the laugh and backslapping which so often reveal the feelings of victorious candidates.

Reads Congratulations.
The telegraphic congratulations he read and for the most part laid aside for reply during the quiet days he plans to spend in Evanston before going to Washington next March there to be sworn into office. There were a few in which he received immediate response, including one from his running mate, President Coolidge, and from his democratic opponent, Charles W. Bryan.

These replies he said, he would rather not make public for he had decided that he would issue no public statement and make no public expression. His attitude was that he had spoken during the campaign and the American voters yesterday had responded and with that the incident was closed, except that he had been asked "to do another job."

To Stay at Evanston.
He plans to spend the four months that intervene before he takes up that job at his home in Evanston, winding up his business affairs and as he said today, "with my family, my books and my friends." He has no intention of taking a vacation for he asserts, and his appearance indicated, he is in good condition physically as when he began his somewhat strenuous speaking campaign. He plans no trips to Washington before next March, unless he should be called there by President Coolidge. He will make no speeches. The life that he had laid out for himself when he came from Europe will be his, at least until he goes to Washington.

Proud of Citizen.
The quiet university suburb of Evanston is proud of its foremost citizen and gave evidence of it today with a display of flags and pictures of the successful candidate. It does not want to lose Mr. Dawes and it will not, for under present plans he will retain his home there and spend only such time in Washington as the duties of presiding over the senate require.

NEBRASKA IS STRONG FOR REPUBLICANS IN LATE RETURNS GIVEN

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 5 (AP)—The republicans made practically a clean sweep of Nebraska in yesterday's general election. Not only did they carry the state for President Coolidge, but they re-elected Senator George W. Norris over his democratic opponent for the senate, J. J. Norton, named at McCullum's nomination, over J. N. Norton, democrat, and obtained a majority in the state senate and state house of representatives.

In the congressional races, however, they divided honors with democrats, each side re-electing three, all of whom are incumbents, leaving the state's delegation to congress unchanged. President Coolidge's plurality continued to swell as the returns came in. 1899 of 1914 giving him a total vote of 203,856, compared to 131,485 for John W. Davis and 99,925 for Senator LaFollette. Senator Norton had 18,000 precincts tabulated was 250,282. Mrs. Thomas was 161,031.

Nebraska's newly-elected governor had a total of 172,123 votes. Mr. Norton 172,123 and Dan Butler of Omaha, nominee of the progressive party of Nebraska, who endorsed Senator LaFollette, had 81,457 when 1908 precincts had reported.

A constitutional amendment to remove the party circle from ballots for state officers, was decisively defeated.

CONGRESSIONAL SURVEY FAVORS REPUBLICANS

Coleman Dupont of Delaware, who defeated James M. Tamm, democrat, Charles B. Dutton, who came in ahead of a field of six in Illinois, and Capper of Kansas, Borah of Idaho, Keyes, New Hampshire; Edge of New Jersey and McCarry of Oregon; Jess H. Metcalf of Idaho; and J. H. McCarry, Master of South Dakota, and Guy D. Goff of West Virginia.

Democrats Elected.
Democrats elected are: Heflin, Alabama; Hiram A. Adams, Harrisburg; Randall, Louisiana; Harrison, Mississippi; Simons, North Carolina; Blease, South Carolina; Tyson, Tennessee; Sheppard, Texas, and Carter Glass, Virginia.

The upsets in the house were widely scattered over the country. The democrats won six seats they now have in the house, but they elected the republican over his republican opponent in another district. They lost four of their six seats in New Jersey; two in Illinois; one in Wisconsin, each of Ohio, Michigan, Delaware, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Oregon and in Nevada.

Gain in Maryland.
They gained a district in Maryland, one in Kansas, and elected their candidate in the eighth district over the republican incumbent.

Return to the house of the floor leaders—Longworth, Ohio, of the republicans, and first class of Tennessee, democrats—was assured, while it appeared that there would be no upsets in the New York delegation, the largest in the house, despite the heavy Coolidge plurality in the empire state.

Among those returned in New York was Representative Laguardia of the twentieth district, an avowed LaFollette supporter. To run as an independent, and Jacobstein, an upstate democrat, who had the LaFollette endorsement. The LaFollette forces held their strong in the several counties where their allies in nearby states, among them Sinclair, North Dakota; Clague and Keller, Minnesota; Reid and Michelson, Michigan; and Woodruff and James, Michigan, and Kvale and Wefald, farmer-labor, Minnesota, were re-elected.

Vote of Confidence.
Representative Langley, republican, of Kentucky, who had been elected to the federal penitentiary under charges of having violated the prohibition law, obtaining a vote of confidence from the house, despite the fact that he had been re-elected for another term while in the sixth Maryland, Representative Zihlman, republican, who was exonerated by a house committee, which investigated charges that he used official influence improperly, won additional vindication from voters in his district.

One woman, Mrs. Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, will sit in the next house, the first woman to represent a congressional district east of the Mississippi.

Socialist Doubtful.
Whether there would again be one socialist in the house remained in doubt pending returns on the coast, in which Victor Berger of Wisconsin, first was behind and then was leading. In three of the four states whose delegates remained in the contest—Montana, Nevada and North Dakota—Coolidge was leading, but LaFollette was trimming down the republican lead and Davis was trailing in the third of North Dakota and Montana the preponderance of Coolidge strength was considerable, while in Nevada his plurality had almost disappeared as the late returns rolled up the total for LaFollette.

New Mexico Dispute.
The dispute in New Mexico was between Davis and Coolidge, with Davis maintaining a comparatively slender lead. Among the LaFollette leaders there were continued presidential aspirations. LaFollette gains in the country sections of the states still in dispute sent in their reports. To some extent their expectations were met during the day, but the republicans still hoped that not only Montana, Nevada and North Dakota would be retained, but that in the end Coolidge also would take New Mexico from Davis.

This hope grew as Minnesota and Iowa, two of the states on which LaFollette had staked his expectations, continued during the day to hold the Coolidge majority. In Iowa the Coolidge victory began to assume the proportions of a landslide with the republicans making nominal counting almost no votes to LaFollette's one, while in Minnesota the day's figures appeared to give Coolidge indisputable command.

Tremendous Swing.
Taken all in all and considered in the light of the fate it dealt out to local as well as presidential candidates in the west and northwest, this situation represented a tremendous swing backward of the pendulum which two years ago turned the politics of the western country upside down, sent two farmer labor senators to Washington, almost swept the republican party out of office in the house and gave LaFollette a balance of power and a virtual veto over the republican administration.

At least two interesting figures in the recent political life of the capital, Senator Magnus Johnson of Minnesota, and Senator Smith Brookhart of Iowa, appeared tonight to have been left high and dry by recession of the LaFollette tide which in 1922 rose quite as suddenly as it now has fallen. Senator Brookhart, a boon companion of LaFollette in senate politics, had conceded his defeat at the home of a democrat who had received the open support of many republican leaders. At the same time his friends look on upward saying Senator Johnson, however, who sought re-election on the farmer labor ticket with LaFollette's support, still insisted that the full returns would elect him, despite considerable loss on the day's returns by his republican opponent.

Unsettled Area.

Two years ago both Minnesota and Iowa as well as the Dakotas and several sections of the northwest, appeared to be one vast configuration of unrest with the man from Wisconsin as the towering figure that loomed all hopes for relief. As recently as last summer Brookhart swept everything before him in Iowa when he sought re-election against the republican incumbent, John D. Warner, while in South Dakota, Senator Sterling, a republican regular of regulars was denied a re-nomination at a republican primary.

LaFollette has failed to make an appreciable dent in the electoral strength of Coolidge; he has seen some of his ranking lieutenants go down before an overwhelming counter offensive of the republican administration, and may even have lost his hold on a sufficient group in the senate and in the house to make his position as an important factor in legislation.

It is the apparent belief of the LaFollette men that even as matters stand before an overwhelming counter offensive of a national party organization for use in future campaigns. In a statement issued today in Mason, the senator declared he would go on as he had begun, and called for his followers "to close ranks and give themselves for the next battle."

North Dakota.
FARGO, N. D., Nov. 5 (AP)—Senator Robert M. LaFollette continued to cut down the plurality of President Coolidge in North Dakota this afternoon and early tonight when returns from his stronghold in the western part of the state found their way to national tabulation headquarters.

DAVIS LEADS OKLAHOMA.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 5 (AP)—Straggling returns tonight maintained the lead established early in the tabulation of the returns in Oklahoma. With 2256 precincts reported out of 3181 in the state the count stood Davis 181,913, Coolidge 159,251, LaFollette 12,122.

FRATERNITY.

Many different things are named as the primary "need" of the times, by as many different persons, each with his or her own viewpoint. A Canadian educator recently, in a public address,
named his choice as "fraternity."
"There are three watchwords of progress," he stated, "liberty, equality and fraternity. Two of these we have; the third is yet to be found."

"Travel often rather elongates your conversation than broadens your mind.
What really broadens your mind is to find out your brother man, and while broadening your mind broaden your sympathy as well."

Probably fraternity is the most difficult of the three qualities to obtain.
It is comparatively simple to accept,
or even to promote liberty and equality in theory, at least, and to work for their practical development. Fraternity requires an opening of the heart as well as the mind. It calls for sympathy even where complete understanding is lacking.

As "charity" is called the most important in that other group of three great words, perhaps "fraternity" is the most important of these "watch-words of progress." It is a word richer in meaning than is commonly realized.

COLLEGE Nihilists.

Harvard seniors have formed a Nihilist Society, made up of members who refused to register for the election and thereby proved their fitness for such honor. Furthermore, they have issued a manifesto as follows:

"We are opposed to all existing presidential candidates, being convinced that Coolidge is an obsolete buff, La Follette is a crazy radical in the pay of Bolshevik Russia and Davis
a servant of the moneyed aristocracy
of Wall Street's sink of iniquity."

Dreadful, isn't it? And to think that probably all of those daring
young men, thinking their daring young thoughts and broadcasting their extremely young opinions of things social and political will outlive their contemporaries, addition and general indignity, and develop into orderly citizens and respectable fathers of families!

INVESTMENT CHANCES.

The World's Work tells of a woman who ran the following advertisement
in a New York newspaper:

"Widow with $15,000 from her husband's life insurance wishes to invest
it to obtain highest possible return.
The investment must be safe and must give regular income. Reply, giving full details."

Appearing only once, in one newspaper, and occupying only half an inch of space, this brief ad demonstrated two things. One was the tremendous number of persons reached by even such a small advertisement as this.
The other was the astonishing number of promoters and get-rich-quick specialists waiting to take advantage of every ignorant investor.

The advertiser in this case received fifty-five prompt replies. Only four of these replies were the sort that would appeal to an experienced investor, for either, either, either or suitability. And one of this small group had a tempting offer in it, since the writer first offered a good guaranteed railroad stock and then added that if she wished to take a "reasonable business chance" he could offer her something with larger returns.

All the other fifty-one replies, with the exception of one offer of marriage,
were out-and-out promotion schemes, faked at the worst, very uncertain at the best. Out of gum, opium, aerial transportation, "opportunities" in many varieties of manufacturing and selling enterprises, all promising "handsome"
returns, or the doubling or tripling of her investment within a year's time,
were set enticingly before the widow.

ROME CHANGES
TRAFFIC RULES
TO AID TRAVEL

Driving on Left Side of the Road Is No Longer Permitted
in Ancient City; Adopt Plan
of Americans.

ROME, Nov. 5 (AP)—One of the most radical changes in the aspect of the Eternal City that will greet the eyes
of thousands of pilgrims next year, will be the complete change in traffic regulations. The city authorities have decided to make the rules of the road to the right instead of to the left, as they have been through the centuries.

Work already has begun to change
the switches on all street car lines to conform to the new regulations which are expected to be put into effect
within a few months.

Sticklers for the old order of things,
however, are predicting a peck of trouble in making the new rules effective.
Custom plays a leading role, particularly in the capital city of the peninsular kingdom.

Experiment Tried.

It is recalled that 12 years ago the same experiment was tried by Mayor
Nathan, the only British born mayor
Rome has ever had, when he was making the Roman traffic rules conform to those of the rest of Italy. Everywhere else, except in a few large cities, the rules of the road have always been to the right. But Mayor Nathan ran against a snag, viz: The wine carts.

For generations it has been the custom to transport native wines in barrels on quaint two-wheeled vehicles.
The drivers, who are on duty nearly all the time, do most of their sleeping in the daytime, and have trained their horses to go without need to accentuated destinations. Throughout generations these men have been trained to keep to the left. Wine carts exist
now in as great numbers as ever; so it is predicted that it will be difficult to change the habits of the wine horses
as it was when Mayor Nathan tried the experiment.

AT THE IDAHO.

A Zane Grey story and Paramount picture, featuring Antonio Moreno and Helene Chadwick, couldn't be anything but first class entertainment, and that's just what it is. "The Border Legion" at the Idaho theater is, perhaps, the finest story by the most popular author in America
today made into one of the most important screen vehicles shown in Twin Falls in many a long day.

One of the "Our Gang" comedies,
"High Society," and the International News Weekly showing the exclusive scenes of the ZR-3 crossing the Atlantic ocean are on the same program.

ORPHEUM.

"Secrets," the first National picture, starring Norma Talmadge, now
at the Orpheum, is her greatest picture.
In this production Norma plays four roles, that of a girl, a young mother,
a middle aged matron and an aged woman.

The picture is cast in four periods,
1923, 1888, 1870 and 1865, and the action takes place in the far west and in modern society settings. In all four periods Norma displays a remarkable range of characterization.

PLAYERS ARE COMING.

Those who remember the Moroni
Globe Players in their single Twin Falls engagement when, last season, Jane Globe was presented, will be interested in knowing that the company is to again appear here.

No better quality of theatrical entertainment is offered anywhere than that of this capable group of eleven people. Three engagements have been made for the evening performance
to be given on the opening of November 22, when "Kismet," one of the cleverest comedies of the season, will be offered.

The company comes to Twin Falls under auspices of and with the personal guarantee of the Twin Falls Business and Professional Women's club by which season tickets will be offered to all those interested in the theater.
The performances listed for Twin Falls constitute an opportunity of a most unusual kind and one in which the Twin Falls patrons should be highly interested.

Because of her fifteen thousand dollars.
Fifty-one dubious schemes against four honest propositions is a rather startling contrast. Is it any wonder that foolish and ignorant persons with small sums to invest are misled, tricked and cheated every day?

CHAPTER XXIII—Continued

"Perhaps it will be best," M. de Rivaroli took up a paper. "Before going further, I have to observe that M. de Cussy has exceeded his instructions in admitting you to one-fifth of the prizes taken."

"That is a matter between yourself and M. de Cussy, my general."
"Oh, no. It is a matter between myself and you."

"Your pardon, my general. The articles are signed. So far as we are concerned, the matter is closed."

"But, mon Dieu! It is your concern, I suppose, that we cannot award you more than one tenth share."

"You are quite certain of that,
M. le Baron; that you cannot?"
"I am quite certain that I will not."

"In that case," said Blood, "it but remains for me to present my little account for our disbursement, and to fix the sum at which we should be compensated for our loss of time and derangement in coming hither. That settled, we can part friends, M. le Baron. No harm has been done."

"What the devil do you mean?"
"Is it possible that I am obscure?
My French, perhaps, is not of the purest, but—"

"Oh, your French is fluent enough," too fluent at moments, if I may permit myself the observation. Now, look you here, M. le Filibustier, you have accepted serv-

"My superior officer! You! Why,
you are just a common pirate."

ice of the King of France, you and your men. The first obligation of an officer is obedience. You are old to consider yourself, as you appear to be doing, my allies in the enterprise I have in view, but my subordinates. In me you behold a commander to lead you, not a companion or an equal."

"Oh, be sure that I understand," Captain Blood laughed. He was recovering his normal self amazingly under the inspiring stimulus of conflict. The only thing that mattered him was the reward that he had not had. "I assure you, my general, I do not forget, for instance, as you appear to be doing, that the articles we signed are the condition of our service; and the articles provide that we receive one-fifth share. Before us that, and you cancel the articles; cancel the articles and you cancel our service with them. From that moment we cease to have the honor to hold rank in the navy of the King of France."

Captain Blood rose, his officers
rose with him. Captain Blood bowed.

"M. le Baron," said he.
"You shall be advised of my response," M. le Baron retorted.

That resolve proved to Captain Blood's way next official business brought these two together. Wal-verstone was the cause of Captain Blood hunting and sailing with the admiral while he sat at dinner. The old war had returned with his ready set a mocking Frenchman's
remarks and had been sung in jail.
M. de Rivaroli bade his visitor be admitted.

There entered now into his presence a Frenchman and a Dutchman,
dressed with care and in sober
richness in black and silver, his
swarthy, clear-cut face scrupulously
shaven, his long black hair in
ringlets that fell to a collar of fine
point. In his right hand the gentleman carried a broad black hat with
a scarlet ostrich plume, in his left
hand an ebony cane. His stockings
were of silk, a bunch of ribbons
marked his garters and the black
rosset on his shoes were finely
edged with gold.

"Your people have arrested the
wrong man, M. de Rivaroli," Captain Blood began. "Instead of the French officer, who used the green-
est provocation, they have arrested
Captain Walverstone. It is a matter which I beg you to reverse without delay."

"Sir, you—you are insolent! But of insolence that is intolerable!"
"M. le Baron, you waste words.
Justice is justice in the New World as in the Old. That justice I invite you, with submission, to administer."

"With submission?" snorted the
baron in a lower scorn.

"At the same time I will remind
M. le Baron that my buccannery number 800; your troops 500; and
M. de Cussy will inform you of the interesting fact that any one bucca-neer is equal in action to at least three soldiers of the line."

"You will do me the favor to wait in the ante-room, M. le Captaine. I desire a word with M. de Cussy."

When the door had closed, the baron loomed his fury upon the head of M. de Cussy.

"So, these are the men you have enlisted in the King's service, the men who are to serve under me!
What explanations do you offer me,
M. de Cussy? I warn you that I am not pleased with you. I am,
in fact, as you may perceive, exceedingly angry."

The Governor seemed to shed his chubbiness. He drew himself stiffly erect.

"M. le Baron, it was folly to have arrested the buccannery captain. It would be madness to persist. We have not the forces to meet force."

M. de Rivaroli condescended to be mollified. It was necessary that he should save his face.

"Very well," he said. "Be as good as to recall this Captain Blood."

The Captain came in, armed and very dignified. M. de Rivaroli found him detestable; but discommended.

"M. le Capitaine, I have taken counsel with M. le Gouverneur.
From what he tells me, it is possible that a mistake has been committed. Your captain shall be released."

Captain Blood bowed.

"And now, sir, you have had the night for reflection in this matter of the articles. Am I to understand that you confirm or that you repudiate them?"

"I have considered that, too," he announced. "And whilst my opinion remains unaltered, I must confess that since M. de Cussy has pledged us, it is for us to fulfill the pledge. The articles are confirmed, sir."

Blood and his officers were summoned a week later to a council which sat to determine their operations against Spain. M. de Ri-varoli laid before them a project for a raid upon the wealthy Spanish
town of Cartagena, which was rich in gold loot. Captain Blood professed astonishment. Surely instead of M. de Rivaroli to state his grounds for it, he should do so with the utmost frankness.

"You mean, sir, that we are to sail across the Caribbean on an adventurous expedition, neglecting that which lies here at our very door. In our absence, a Spanish invasion of French Hispaniola is possible. If we begin by reducing the Spaniards here, that possibility will be removed. We shall have added to the Crown of France the most coveted possession in the West Indies."

Captain Blood laughed outright.
He had suddenly read the Baron's mind. M. de Rivaroli, blundering by his mirth, scowled upon him disapprovingly.

"Why do you laugh, monsieur?"
"Because I discover here an irony that is supremely droll. You,
M. le Baron, General of the King's Armies by Land and Sea in America, propose an enterprise of a purely buccannery character; whilst the buccannery, an urging one that is more concerned with upholding the honor of France. You perceive how droll it is."

"M. le Filibustier," cried Rivaroli
in a thick voice, "it seems that I must again remind you that I am your superior officer."

"My superior officer! You! Why,
you are just a common pirate!" M.
le Baron, I have the honor to wish you good-day."

He walked out, and his three captains, although they thought him mad—rolled after him in loyal silence.

Nevertheless, it was to Cartana that they sailed in the middle of March. Valentin, a mighty vessel of eighty guns. Each of the four other French ships was at least as powerful as Blood's Arabella, which was of forty guns. Followed the lesser buccannery vessels, the Elizabeth, Lachesis, and Atropos, and a dozen frigates laden
with stores, besides canoes and
small craft in tow.

They made up an imposing fleet,
led by M. de Rivaroli's flagship, the Victory, a mighty vessel of eighty guns. Each of the four other French ships was at least as powerful as Blood's Arabella, which was of forty guns. Followed the lesser buccannery vessels, the Elizabeth, Lachesis, and Atropos, and a dozen frigates laden
with stores, besides canoes and
small craft in tow.

"Your people have arrested the
wrong man, M. de Rivaroli," Captain Blood began. "Instead of the French officer, who used the green-
est provocation, they have arrested
Captain Walverstone. It is a matter which I beg you to reverse with-
out delay."

There entered now into his presence a Frenchman and a Dutchman,
dressed with care and in sober
richness in black and silver, his
swarthy, clear-cut face scrupulously
shaven, his long black hair in
ringlets that fell to a collar of fine
point. In his right hand the gentle-
man carried a broad black hat with
a scarlet ostrich plume, in his left
hand an ebony cane. His stockings
were of silk, a bunch of ribbons
marked his garters and the black
rosset on his shoes were finely
edged with gold.

VICTORY SHOWN FOR G. O. P. IN COUNTY VOTING

Revised Figures Containing Complete Count in Belated Precincts Confirm Earlier Indications.

Complete returns from 27 out of 28 precincts, made available with the completion Wednesday of the voting count, showed that Calvin Coolidge, Senator Borah, Congressman Addison T. Smith, Governor C. C. Moore and all state officers, carried Twin Falls county in Tuesday's election with pluralities ranging from 800 to 2800 votes. Progressive candidates ran, second and democratic third, in the precinct from which no report had been received Wednesday there were only 12 registered voters.

The county elected republican senator and three members of the state house of representatives, and elected republicans to all county offices with the exception of sheriff, where the democratic incumbent was re-elected. Members of the county's delegation to the next session of the state legislature will be O. J. Duval, Twin Falls, senator; Frank L. Stephens, Twin Falls, E. R. Brooks, Buhl, and W. D. Gillis, Piler, representatives.

Complete returns from the 27 precincts showed: Coolidge, 3079; Duval, 1449; Stephens, 2774; Brooks, 3074; Senator Borah, 5674; Martin, 1750; Congress: Smith, 5026; Wilson, 1674; Shulberg, 2183.

Moore, 3034; Prochaska, 2161; Samuels, 2183. An unusually large percentage of "scratched" ballots and lack of adequate supplies for counting made counting of the vote slow work, and election boards in some Twin Falls precincts, did not complete their work until noon Wednesday.

Completion of the count did not change any of the results indicated by earlier returns Tuesday evening.

Unofficial returns compiled from the 27 precincts from which reports have been received show the following results:

Senator: O. P. Duval, republican, 3751; W. P. Alworth, democrat, 2061; George Akeley, progressive, 3043. Representatives—Republican: E. R. Brooks, 3088; W. D. Gillis, 3074; Frank L. Stephens, 2774; Democrat: W. D. Gillis, 2774; T. J. Lloyd, 2425; C. H. Taylor, 1939. Progressives: W. P. Hiltner, 2840; W. P. Sheldon, 2841; L. Walton, 2099.

Commissioner, First district: A. E. Kline, republican, 3577; T. Dan Connor, democrat, 1430; W. R. Hatfield, progressive, 2508.

Commissioner, Second district: Ivan O. Lincoln, republican, 3246; O. E. Carlson, democrat, 2482; D. E. Doty, progressive, 2508.

TURNER GETS IN MIXUP WITH GUN

Former Hansen Resident Held by Police Following Alleged Shooting Through Window.

Ira Turner, 35, resident of Hansen, who has been employed in this vicinity picking potatoes, was arrested Wednesday evening by the police. He is alleged to have taken a 16-gauge shotgun owned by Andy Flynn, out of a car parked on Shoshone street south and used the weapon to fire a shot through a second story window into the kitchen of the California lodging house, 214 Main avenue south. Mrs. Z. C. Curz, wife of the proprietor of the lodging house and her seven-year-old son, were in the room at the time and both are said to have narrowly escaped being hit by the shot that shattered the window pane. Evidence in the case will today be laid before the prosecuting attorney, it was stated at police headquarters.

GUN FOUND AND IDENTIFIED

The shooting occurred at about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening shortly after Mr. Flynn discovered the loss of his gun from his car. The gun, which witnesses said had been left by Turner at a pool hall on Main avenue south, where it was discovered by Officer Del Kincaid, was identified by Flynn as his own.

Turner was lodged after his arrest Wednesday evening in the city jail. Several persons are said to have told the police that shortly before the shooting Turner made threats to shoot a Mexican.
