DIAMONDS MAY
HELP TO SOLVE
MURDER MOTIVE

Mysterious Killing of Los Angeles Man Similar to That of Mrs. Mors; Smuggling Plot Is Suspected.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11 (AP)—A diamond studded trail that was marked here last night by the killing of Harry Katz, jewel and antique collector, musician and Bohemian, led tonight to the safe deposit vaults of a downtown bank whose time clock, rigid on the holiday, is expected by officers, to reveal at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning an array of gems which may throw some light on the motive for the Katz slaying.

The man who was shot down on his own doorstep, is declared by police to have been under surveillance for some time as the center of an underground jewel trade whose source of supply the officers were seeking to fathom.

Garried Diamonds.

Wherever Katz went he carried diamonds, several of them at a time and all valuable, say his acquaintances. He bought real estate with diamonds. He borrowed money and gave diamonds as security.

Diamonds and violins were his hobbies. He had 22 of the latter in the luxuriously furnished apartment on which threshold he was killed.

On Katz' body when he died were a diamond pin and diamond rings worth thousands of dollars, according to a police inventory.

More diamonds, many of them, are expected by the police to be found in the Katz safety deposit box when the bank time clock permits its opening tomorrow morning.

Similar Motive.

Officers working on the case expressed the belief that the motives for the killing of Katz and the killing on August 12 last, of Mrs. Theresa W. Mors, jewel collector and antique dealer, in connection with whose death Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, is being held.

Each was cut down by a .32 caliber bullet. In each case a "thick, heavy set man" was identified with the killing.

Late today the police detained Guy Peterson, former business associate of Katz, with whom the dead man had had several law suits. The officers are checking Peterson's story of his movements last night.

Dry Forces Waging
Fight Against Rum
Fleet in Atlantic

Every Effort Being Made to Break Up Illicit Liquor Traffic Says Report Telling of Activities.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The administration is making every effort with the means at its command to break up the rum fleets stationed off American shores and to bring about a "total disarmament," the treasury declared tonight in a formal statement embodying a report by the coast guard covering operations in October.

The statement announced that there was an increase in the number of seizures of rum-running boats last month. It added that the coast guard was making satisfactory progress in combating the rum fleets. Plans of the guard for which money was provided near the close of last congress are rapidly maturing, the treasury said, adding that with increased facilities and supplies under the extra appropriations the guard will serve as an effective weapon against the illicit trade.

Nowcasting Colors.
Special attention is given in the coast guard report to the part steamers flying Norwegian flags are taking in attempts to bring liquor into the United States. The coast guard said it was "surprised" to note the number, enumerating and naming ten of them as recently lined up in the rum fleet off New York and New Jersey.

"The administration is determined," the statement said, "to make every effort with the material it has to combat and if possible break up the rum fleets which have become a national disgrace off the coasts. The complete routing of rum row will take time but as increased facilities are put into operation the end of rum row is forecasted."

Armistice Marked by Parades of Disabled Who Want Government to Help Them.

PARIS, Nov. 11 (AP)—War's human wreckage, typified by thousands of crippled polios, brought home this armistice day to the people of France.

The derelicts of the great struggle made the day their own as they marched in sad, quiet processions in many of the cities of the republic to present to their authorities their humble petitions for better treatment.

NINE DIE FROM DRINKING CIDER
AT ELKS' HOME

Succumb to Arsenic Poisoning; 17 Other Residents Reported Ill, Four Seriously; Barrel Believed Source.

BEDFORD, Va., Nov. 11 (AP)—The number of deaths at the Elks national home of poisoning believed to have resulted from drinking apple cider containing arsenic was increased to nine to night when W. H. Hutchinson of Corry, Pa., died. Seventeen other residents of the home are ill, at least four seriously.

Physicians called in after about 25 of the aged residents of the home became ill after drinking the cider at the noon meal yesterday, all diagnosed the case as arsenic poisoning and a subsequent investigation by the county authorities and superintendent Charles Mealy of the home was said to have led to the belief that the source of the poison was the barrel containing the cider. The arsenic is believed to have been left in the barrel from a tree spraying compound which it previously contained.

Americans Celebrate Signing of Armistice That Ended World War

CHICAGO CELEBRATES.
CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—The rout of activities was stilled momentarily at State and Madison streets, known as the "world's busiest corner," at 11 o'clock this morning, while thousands of Chicagoans bared their heads in still November drizzle to face east in tribute to the world war dead.

The scene was in striking contrast to one at the same corner six years ago, when other thousands joined in a demonstration of wild hilarity over the signing of the armistice. As the hands of a great clock at the corner pointed to the hour of remembrance, traffic policemen brought the throngs at the street intersections to a halt. As the din of street cars, traffic whistles and motor vehicles ceased, the unnatural quiet was punctuated by three volleys fired by a squad of marines, followed by the silvery notes of "taps" as the thousands faced toward Lake Michigan. While tears welled in the eyes of many, the bugler's taps swelled into "The Star Spangled Banner."

As the notes died there was a second silence followed by a shrill blast of traffic officers' whistles as the jam was unraveled and the thousands again started on their way.

Legion Exercises.
At noon, American Legion exercises were held in Madison Square park at the Eternal Light. Here gathered 25,000 men who fought in the war—Americans, Britishers, Canadians, Italians, Frenchmen—for a simple service that opened with prayer and ended with "taps." Then the uniformed veterans marched up Fifth avenue to the Mall in Central park, where addresses were delivered by Mayor Hylan and Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state under President Wilson.

COURT ENTRANCE URGED

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—Entrance of the United States into the permanent court of justice, moral support of the protocol, adopted by the assembly of the league of nations margin by which Senator Smith, W. at Geneva, participation in a disarmament conference in Geneva in 1925, official recognition of the league of nations, as "a going concern," were the four chief points of a program outlined today by the Rev. Dr. William P. Merrill of New York to be urged Iowa's 39 counties. The senator's map upon the government and the people jointly has shown a steady drain through the United States by the religious out-day, his lead this morning having stood at 737.

Think Efforts Already in Progress for Manufacturing Precious Metal Successful.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Scientific American announced today that it would direct an attempt to convert quicksilver into gold, during a series of experiments already in progress under Professor H. H. Sheldon, department of physics, New York university.

"We believe the effort will be successful," said E. E. Price, editor of the publication. "The experiments probably will take from two to four months."

STOCKS CLIMB
TO HIGH PEAKS
ARMISTICE DAY

All Recent Records Shattered in Wild Burst of Bullish Enthusiasm on Markets; Total Sales Nearly 250,000,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—All recent stock exchange records were swept off the boards today in a wild burst of bullish enthusiasm that reached its maximum intensity in the industrial shares, net gains in which ran from 1 to nearly 10 points.

The day's total sales, falling just below 2,500,000 shares, were the largest since November 12, 1919. The total number of stocks traded in 1924 was the largest since 1919. The previous record established only yesterday. The general price average of the industrial shares broke through to the highest level since the "spring" of 1920, while the general railroad average was the highest in several years. The day's closing prices were established during the day was 99.52 of which were industrials and in addition 18 other stocks duplicated their maximum quotations of the year.

Opening Light.
First hour's business while embracing a large number of shares was not as voluminous as the corresponding period in three previous sessions, owing to the restraint imposed by a continuation of profit taking in the railroad shares. The ease with which these offerings were absorbed, however, re-ignited public confidence and rails were soon headed upward under the leadership of Southern Pacific buying of which was accelerated by unconfirmed rumors that the stock would be placed on a 27 dividend basis at Thursday's meeting of the board of directors.

Memorable steady accumulation was taking place in the oil and copper cases which were regarded as "out of line" with the general industrial list. Bullish enthusiasm soon permeated the tobacco, sugar, equipment and textile shares. After midday, speculative interest converged on the so-called pivot industrial with the swelling tide of buying rising to extraordinary heights with American Can which rode out of the session on the crest of a tidal wave of buying orders that literally swamped the brokers on the floor, the stock soaring 9.34 points to 150.34, the highest price in its history, and 55 points above the year's low established last April.

Steel Sales Large.
United States Steel common, the day's transactions in which ran well over 100,000 shares, were lifted up to 115, a new high price since 1919. Other active stocks to attain new peak prices were American Locomotive, the American Tobacco issues, American Smelting, Associated Dry Goods, Corn Products, Pullman, Radio Corporation, United Drug, Savage Arms, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit preferred, Pure Oil, General Asphalt, Texas Gulf Sulphur, United States Cast Iron Pipe, Foundation Company, International Business Machines and American Bank Note, representing practically every industry whose securities are listed on the exchange.

A sensational advance brought forth the usual crop of rumors, most of which revolved around dividend possibilities. Wall street heard that American Steel was to be split up on a five to one basis and the equivalent of $10 dividends declared on the new corporation was to constitute part of its $200,000,000 surplus and many others of the nature, all of which lacked official confirmation.

Obscure Day.
Trading in all securities markets was suspended for two minutes at 11 a. m. in observance of Armistice day when the Chicago and other wheat markets were closed for the day.

CHICAGO GANGS
READY FOR WAR
OVER SHOOTING

Police Baffled in Effort to Find Three Slayers of Gangster; Many Notorious Characters Are Questioned.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Chicago's gangland habitues had trigger fingers cocked for action tonight while the police searched fruitlessly for some one to clear up the slaying of Dion O'Bannon, notorious gang leader, high jacker and bootlegger, who was shot to death by three men yesterday as he stood among the roses of his floral shop.

Upwards of half a hundred widely known gangsters have waited in and out of the state's attorney's office since the murder. Some of them came voluntarily, some of them were sent for, some were "pals" of "Dionny" O'Bannon, and others made no secret of the fact that they were glad he is dead, but all added gambling to his other gang activities and had made some bitter enemies as a result.

Police were inclined tonight to the theory that he had been slain as a result of a quarrel among two factions of bootleggers. They were also investigating reports that O'Bannon recently had added gambling to his other gang activities and had made some bitter enemies as a result.

BOUGHT GUNS WHOLESAL.
DENVER, Nov. 11 (AP)—Wholesale purchases of guns and ammunition were made by Dion O'Bannon, Chicago gangster, who was shot and killed in Chicago Monday, while he was in Denver last month, says a story printed in the Rocky Mountain News here tonight.

The purchases included a machine gun, hundreds of shells, several rifles and a number of pistols, according to the story. These were taken back to Chicago by O'Bannon when he left here October 20, the story says.

At Summer Cottage.
O'Bannon spent a month at a summer cottage in Jarr canyon, southwest of here, it was claimed today. With him were Louis "Diamond Jack" Alterio, his chauffeur, and three women, two of whom were said to be wives of O'Bannon and his chauffeur.

While here, the News says, O'Bannon entertained lavishly, his entertainment was a dinner table with a few days before he left, he retained cowboys for miles around to stage a private rodeo in Jarr canyon. Moving pictures were taken of the affair. O'Bannon is said to have taken a reel containing the rodeo pictures with him to Chicago.

Reorganization Changes in Coolidge Cabinet Start With Notification of Bureau Chief to Quit.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Two developments in the reorganization of the official family of President Coolidge were made known today but at the same time it was emphasized at the White House that no other immediate changes are in contemplation. Secretary Davis of the labor department, it was learned, has asked of Mr. Coolidge to be relieved of his post on March 1, next. At the same time President Coolidge announced the selection of Theodore Douglas Robinson of New York, a nephew of former President Roosevelt, to be assistant secretary of the navy, an office made vacant last September by the resignation of Theodore Roosevelt, who then entered the gubernatorial race in New York. It was stated officially at the White House that no further considerations have been given, so far, to the reorganization of his cabinet, since he received intimations other than from Mr. Davis that any members wished to resign.

Judge Bishop ordered a verdict of not guilty returned on one indictment and on the others that the findings be returned to the court to be opened and read tomorrow morning.

ICE DESTROYS SCHOONERS IN ARCTIC OCEAN

Conditions Worse This Year
Than Ever Before, Old Timers in Seattle Ports Say;
Tell of Disasters.

SEATTLE, Nov. 11 (AP)—How the ice in the Arctic Ocean, the worst this year that white men have ever known in the waters north of Alaska, worked to destroy two gasoline schooners, the Arctic of San Francisco and the Lady Kindersley of Vancouver, B. C., was related by Captain John Backlund, master of the sailing schooner C. B. Holmes, which is wintering here.

"I have been going into the Arctic since 1907," said Captain Backlund, "but never before did I find the ice so extensive as this year. The bergs were not so large as I have seen them, but the pack was tremendously more extensive."

Winds Cause Ice.

"The cause of the great fields of ice along the northern Alaska coast this summer was the prevailing westerly winds. There is the same quantity of ice in the Arctic each year, but the winds determine where the fields will form. With easterly or northeasterly winds, it will be found off the coast of Siberia."

Captain Backlund said the Lady Kindersley and the Arctic were lost by following leads through the ice, which closed upon them. Members of the crew of the Arctic made their way ashore to Point Barrow, Alaska, over the frozen ocean. The men of the Lady Kindersley were taken aboard the steamer Borer, of the United States bureau of education, after a hard struggle with canoes and skin boats over and through three miles of ice. The cargoes of the Arctic and the Lady Kindersley were abandoned.

Watch for Way Out.

"When I go into the Arctic ice," recalled the captain, "I always watch for a way to get my vessel out. I was 80 miles from Point Barrow while the Lady Kindersley was lost in the ice and her men were trying to get away from her. I was forced to go south, west in the ice, away from them, to keep from being caught myself."

The C. B. Holmes landed her cargo at Point Barrow before she hurried for hering Strait. According to reports here, only one other vessel succeeded in delivering a cargo at Point Barrow, the northern tip of Alaska, this year. She was the whaler Namuk, which for a while was believed lost.

MASSSES OF ICE NOW VANISHING

Colorado's Famous Glaciers Slowly Disappearing Due to Hot Dry Weather.

BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 11 (AP)—Colorado's glaciers are vanishing slowly, according to Professor Junius Henderson, curator of the museum of the University of Colorado.

Disintegration of the ice sheets has resulted largely from the excessive hot weather and the dry seasons during the last few years. The great ice masses on the glacier peaks of the Rockies have been in slow retreat for the last 22 years, Professor Henderson declares.

Retreat Rapid.

"However, the retreat has been very rapid since 1913," he said, "for climatic conditions have been unfavorable to the accumulation or preservation of ice during that period. This is particularly noticeable in the Arapahoe glacier, the largest in Colorado."

"If disintegration continues at the present rate, all the glaciers in the state will disappear with the possible exception of two, the Arapahoe and the larger St. Vrain."

Part of Cycle.

Professor Henderson expressed the opinion that the recent dry seasons were only part of the "climatic cycle" and probably would not continue unfavorable.

Detailed study of the Arapahoe glacier reveals that the great ice sheet has retreated 40 feet within the last 22 years. Corresponding loss is shown in others, large and small, Professor Henderson says.

of Jerome on Thursday afternoon. A good attendance was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings and family left the last of the week for Portland where they will spend the winter with relatives.

Suspension Bridge.

The Scientific American says that the suspension bridge over the Snake river near Twin Falls in southern Idaho, is the highest in America, if not in the world. The actual measurement is 345 feet from the floor of the bridge to the stream, and the length of the span is 658 feet. Aside from its extreme height, the bridge is of interest because, although materials had to be hauled a great distance, the structure was completed in four months.

LITTLE IS LEFT OF FAMOUS TOWN

Goldfield, One-Time Bonanza of the West, Ruined by Fires
and Now Almost Deserted.

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Nov. 11 (AP)—Two feet within a year have little but blackened and crumbling ruins in this one-time bonanza town of the West.

From 1906 to 1908 the town had 20,000 people. The lure of gold had brought them from everywhere. Some of the lots on which charred skeletons of structures stand were bought and sold, in a frenzy of speculation, for from $20,000 to $50,000. Miners took $200,000,000 in gold from the region about the city.

Nothing Left.

Today nothing is left of Goldfield's former glory but the five-story Goldfield hotel, which by some miracle escaped both fires. For the moment it represents practically the entire business of the town. The postoffice has temporary quarters at one end, the bank at another. Every inch of ground floor space is occupied by interests vital to the community.

The old-timers still hope that more gold may be found and that their town will stage a "come-back."

AIR CRUISERS WILL BE SENT TO HAWAII FOR BIG MANEUVERS

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 11 (AP)—Every usable airplane and seaplane attached to the battle fleet will be sent from San Diego to Hawaii in the near future for six months maneuvers with the surface craft of the fleet, Captain Stanford E. Moses, commanding the fleet air force, has announced. This, he said, would be the mightiest force of aerial fighting craft assembled in one general movement by the navy since the world war.

A flight from San Diego to Hawaii by the new C. S. type planes soon to arrive here from Hampton Roads also is contemplated, Captain Moses said. He said this proposed flight would lead the way to a trans-Pacific flight by way of Honolulu and Midway islands.

It was estimated that about 70 planes would be used in the Honolulu maneuvers. Captain Moses said that attempts to solve many theoretical problems never before undertaken will be made.

INDIAN CAPITAL
AT DELHI SOON
TO BE FINISHED

English Headquarters Being Moved From Calcutta to New Site; First of Buildings Ready Next Year.

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Despite unforeseen obstacles had many delays incident to the great war, the work of raising the new Indian capital at Delhi has gone steadily on, and latest reports to the India office indicate that the first of the new buildings will be occupied by the end of next year.

Thus will be realized one of the greatest building achievements of modern times. The new Indian capital is rising from a desolate and barren waste. The present English monarch, as king-emperor at his coronation ceremony in 1912, announced the decision to transfer the capital of India from Calcutta to Delhi, not the old city of that name, but an entirely new municipality to rise from a reclaimed desert outside and beyond the old settlement.

Cost Is Enormous. It was in 1913 that the town planning committee reported in favor of the so-called Raisini site, beyond old Delhi. Although the intervening years of war and reconstruction have doubled the expense of the original project, which will cost at least $45,000,000, and many more millions in years to come, the work has never once been suspended since it was started.

The principal architect of the new Delhi is Sir Edwin Lutyens, who plans to make it his crowning achievement. Associated with Sir Edwin are Herbert Baker and a score of lesser famous architects.

BUFFALO MUST BE KILLED OFF

Between 200 and 300 Head of Animals in Montana to be Slaughtered This Winter.

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 11 (AP)—Between 200 and 300 buffalo on the Montana national bison range west of here must be slain this fall, Frank Rose, the superintendent, announced. A census taken last summer showed 700 buffalo, 500 elk, 23 mountain sheep and 100 deer on the range, and an inspection of the grasses convinced the superintendent that the preserve was about 40 per cent overstocked.

The sale of buffalo to parks and zoos is not great enough to bring the herd down to the required size, and so a large number will be slaughtered and sold on the meat market. Each fall the herd is reduced in this manner, but this year a far greater number than ever will be killed.

Third Largest. The Montana buffalo herd is third largest in the world. The range, containing 18,000 acres, is under the supervision of the United States biological survey.

So far Mr. Rose has obtained the services of but two cowboys to help in segregating the animals to be slaughtered. Few riders are willing and able to do this work. The buffalo is a stubborn animal and the chances are ten to one he will charge the rider who attempts to cut him out of the rest of the herd.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Settling to early American life authentically pictured in what is described as the largest and most complete collection in America, will be exhibited to the public for the first time today when the new American wing of the Metropolitan museum of art is formally opened. It houses rich collections of early American prints, paintings, furniture, fabrics, fireplaces, wood carvings, silver, glass, pottery, old tile and other ceramics. Included in the collection are complete rooms that have been taken from old houses, inns and taverns which were centers of activities in colonial and revolutionary days. The south facade of the wing is the original front of the old United States assay office which stood at Wall street for more than a century.

Shortly after launching, the Giant Submarine "U-1" with its Gray Pennants Is Welcomed to the Sea and Preparations Are Made to Complete It for Voyage across the Atlantic

Giant Sub Able to Cross Atlantic
With Crew of Eighty-Seven

The fighting efficiency of Uncle Sam's navy will be greatly increased, officials believe, by the "U-1," the giant submarine, nearly twice as large as any previously built here. It is said to be capable of sailing as fast and as far as the battle fleet in any kind of weather and will not need the services of a "mother ship." The huge boat, the first of a fleet of nine similar fighters to be built, can cross the Atlantic and return without replenishing its supplies of fuel. With a displacement of 2,164 tons, it develops a speed of twenty-one knots at the surface and nine knots when submerged. It is 311 feet six inches long, has a maximum breadth of twenty-seven feet eight and five-eighths inches and will carry a crew of seven officers and eighty men.

Over Thousand Accidents an Hour

An average of twenty-one accidents occur every minute in the United States, according to figures compiled by the government, those caused by automobiles leading in number. Baseball is said to head the list of mishaps in athletics and sports, while polo has the lowest figure in a similar report made up by an insurance body. This record does not include accidents to campers or persons on hiking trips or pleasure tours. One insurance company reports that fifty-six policy holders were accidentally killed in the past ten years while engaged in recreation.

An Artistic Storm Door
for the Home

There seems to be no happy medium between the expensive glassed-in porch and the ugly, dark storm door upon the more modest house. One home owner could not afford the glass porch, but he could see no reason why he could not make the storm door as artistic as possible.

Almost every storm door on the street was painted a dull gray, regardless of the color of the house or its trimmings. His house had rich brown shutters, trimmed with cream, so he made the storm door of tongue and grooved cypress, which has a pretty grain, put in a gorgeous window, and stained the door with a dark-oak oil stain, then finished it with a varnish.

The door was hung with iron T-hinges painted with gold-bronze paint, which gave a pretty effect against the dark-brown stain.

The result was a sturdy storm door which harmonized with the rest of the house and was not an eyesore.

This hint may be useful to other homeowners who are dissatisfied with the appearance of the front of the house in storm-door time.

MILLIONAIRES' SONS
GO TO WORK IN STORE
AS REGULAR EMPLOYEES

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—Two sons of millionaires began their business careers in an Albany department store Monday.

Raymond Mellon, son of Charles S. Mellon, former president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, punched the time clock at 8:30 a. m. and began his duties of sweeping floors and unpacking toys for the Christmas trade.

Charles H. Sablin, Jr., son of Charles H. Sablin, New York banker, checked the Christmas stock in a maze of crates and barrels.

The boys have rented small rooms in a lodging house street and have declared their intention of making their small salaries meet their weekly expenses.

Mr. Sablin, Sr., began business life as a clerk in a local bank and Mr. Mellon learned the railroad business by starting at the bottom.

WIFE ASSUMES
DRAMATIC ROLE

Woman Attempts to Prove Orphan Was Child of Former Husband; Found False.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—A six week's old boy—a wife from Kansas City, Mo., was the chief actor in a domestic drama, revealed before Supreme Court Justice Gavegan, that had as its main theme the deception of a wealthy former husband.

Confronted by evidence gathered in Kansas City, St. Louis and Hannibal, Mo., Mrs. Lydia Marks admitted that she had obtained the baby under false pretenses and brought him here in an attempt to persuade the husband she recently divorced, that the child was hers and that he was the father.

Her former husband, Arthur Hudson Marks, millionaire organ and automobile manufacturer, was responsible for today's court action which ended with an order for the return of the child to the Willow sanitarium in Kansas City. The boy was given into the custody of Dr. H. H. Henshaw, superintendent of the sanitarium, upon whose writ of habeas corpus Mrs. Marks had been compelled to produce the infant in court.

Marks, it was developed at the hearing, was divorced by Mrs. Marks in September, 1923, when it is understood, he settled her $300,000 in cash and placed $100,000 in a fund to be held in trust for her. They were married in December, 1917. Mrs. Marks, the former Lydia Locke, concert singer, previously had been married to Lord Reginald Talbot of England, Earl Harold's grandfather.

The bite of the black snake is regarded as poisonous. Actually, the bite of a black snake is not as harmful as a cat scratch, because the black snake has no poison sacks and keeps its teeth a good deal cleaner than a cat keeps his claws.

MARS IS CHILLY
SCIENTISTS SAY

Average Temperature on Planet

About Like It Is Here on Cool Bright Day, Assertion.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 11 (AP)—The average temperature on the surface of Mars, except near the poles, is not unlike that of a bright cool day on the surface of the earth, it was disclosed here at the annual meeting of the national academy of sciences.

W. W. Coblentz and other scientists made measurements for 24 nights at Flagstaff, Ariz., where it was determined that the brighter portions of Mars are cooler than the dark regions. Temperatures in the polar regions fall as low as approximately 70 degrees centigrade—about 94 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

C. K. Burgess of the bureau of standards, reading a paper at the national academy of science meeting here said that one of the most striking differences between the earth's temperature and that of Mars was that a far greater variation in temperature occurred daily on the surface of Mars. This, it was said, was particularly true near the equator.

CAPTAIN BLOOD OPENS

at IDAHO THEATRE. J. Warren Kerrigan, who has the role of Captain Blood in Rafael Sabatini's famous novel of the same name, which will be the attraction at the Idaho theater today and balance of the week, has lost his beautiful curly locks and the head of Lord Mont's club. For several years Kerrigan's hair has been admired by the fair sex and it was with regret that he allowed Director David Smith to shave his pate for the production.

Kerrigan is a true artist and willing to go to great personal sacrifices for art's sake. In several sequences he even allows his head to grow and his hair to become unkempt. In others he appears without visible hair on his head, save his eyebrows, lashes and goatee. During the major portion of the production, however, his head is graced with a curly wig hanging over his shoulders.

The story, which ran as a serial in The News and is completed with this issue, is set in the period of 1685 when men wore wigs. The custom originated in France in the fourteenth century when an elaborate curled wig covered the head of Louis XIII to cover baldness.

It was adopted as a distinctive figure of court dress by Louis XIV and was introduced into England under Charles II. Wigs are still used in Great Britain as part of the official regalia of the lord chancellor and of the speaker and clerks of the house of commons. It is the professional dress of judges and barristers in Great Britain and Ireland. The judge's wig gives to his decisions a weight and sacredness they would not have were he bareheaded.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Dorothy Mackrell, appearing as Martha in Harold Bell Wright's "The Mine With the Iron Door," which will be seen at the Orpheum theater Thursday, is a native of England. As a child she was a dancing and vocal instructor and she appeared in the London Hippodrome, the Century theater, New York, and in Ziegfeld's Follies. She is known as one of the greatest emotional actresses on the screen.

The picture is full of the subtlest action—action that grips the spectator with its story of human hearts toward a great happiness.

Rupert Football Team Loses to Twin Falls by Score of 36 to 0; Advances Step Toward Championship.

The Twin Falls high school football team advanced another step toward the state championship by defeating the Rupert high school by a score of 36 to 0, on Lincoln field here Tuesday afternoon. FILER DEFEATS BUHL IN CLOSE GAME WITH SCORE ENDING 7 TO 6

FILER, Nov. 11.—(Special to The News).—Buhl kicked goal special victory for Filer high school here this afternoon in what fans consider one of the most evenly matched games of the season, when Buhl was defeated by a score of 7 to 6. Working under a handicap of one touchdown made during the first half of the game, the Filer Wildcats fought desperately in the second and last half managed to score a touchdown, which was followed by kicking goal and victory.

The game was featured by a number of completed passes on both sides and the largest share of the game was played in the center of the field with both sides losing the ball on downs. Both goal lines were in danger, however, once or twice, but the grim determination of the opposing team kept these within inches of scoring.

The game was witnessed by a fairly good-sized crowd. The Filer stars showed in observation of Armistice day and turned out to root their team on to victory. Buhl came up with a strong delegation behind his team. While snow which fell the night before made the ground a little soft it was almost ideal for football. The cold weather while disagreeable to the fans, kept the teams working at high speed and in fine condition.

WENDELL GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT AT HANDS OF JEROME ELEVEN

JEROME, Nov. 11.—(Special to The News).—Playing on their home field the Jerome high school here this afternoon decisively defeated the Wendell football eleven by a score of 33 to 6, in which Wendell made its first and only score in the first quarter of the game, resulting from a pass followed by a fumble and recovery and a run for touchdown of approximately 45 yards.

Nothing daunted, however, the local team came back and at the end of the first half had scored three touchdowns. Of the five touchdowns made Jerome kicked three goals following. Long gains by Heimaker around the end and consistent gains through the line by Blakemore, tackle, and Smith, fullback, featured the game.

With the victory today, Jerome has won four games and lost two. They won from Rupert, Shoshone, Buhl and Wendell. They were defeated by Gooding and Filer. Football officials here today intimated that they would be willing to play Twin Falls on Thanksgiving day in the event that Twin Falls is not playing for championship at that time.

HILL ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH MAKING BREW

Congressman Before Court to Test Volstead Act; Judge Hands Down Opinion on Manufacture of Beverages.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11 (AP)—In ruling on the admissibility of certain testimony today at the trial of Representative John Philip Hill, in United States court, Judge Morris A. Soper declared it his opinion that it was the intent of congress, as set forth in section 29 of the Volstead act, to permit the manufacture of fruit beverages and cider for home consumption regardless of the alcoholic limit on one-half of one percent set forth elsewhere in the act.

Judge Soper added, however, that should such beverage be in fact intoxicating their manufacture would be a violation of the law, as would their sale or delivery except to persons having permits for the manufacture of vinegar.

Not Intoxicating.

The judge also declared that in his opinion defendants in such cases could offer evidence to show that their beverages were not in fact intoxicating. This statement was interpreted by lawyers present as meaning that the burden of proof rests upon the government.

Judge Soper's opinion in part follows:

"The question for discussion is whether the defendant, admitting that he made cider containing more than one-half of one percent of alcohol by volume, that is admitting it for the purpose of this decision but contending that it was made exclusively for use in his own home, may offer evidence to show that the cider was in fact not intoxicating."

"While the question is not free from doubt in my opinion such evidence may be offered."

Doubt Arises.

"The doubt arises from the fact that congress seems to have used the word 'intoxicating' in a different sense in one section than that employed in another. Section one defines intoxicating liquor to include among other things, any fermented liquor containing one-half of one percent of alcohol by volume which it fit for use for beverage purposes. . . . Section 3 of the act makes it an offense for any person to manufacture any intoxicating liquor except as authorized in the act. Section 29 specifies penalties for violation of the act and concludes with the following sentence:

"The penalties provided in this act against the manufacture of liquor without permit shall not apply to a person for manufacturing non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his home but such cider and fruit juices shall not be sold or delivered except to persons having permits to manufacture vinegar."

"It is obvious that by the concluding sentence of section 29 of the act, congress intended that persons engaged in the manufacture of non-intoxicating cider for use in their homes and not for sale should be in a class by themselves, at least in some particulars, otherwise the sentence has no meaning or use whatever."

Questions in Text.

"If it was intended to punish manufacturers for manufacturing cider in their homes which contains more than one-half of one percent of alcohol by volume, there was no necessity for the provision for the act without the sentence already provided such punishment."

"If, on the other hand, it is intended by congress that persons who make cider containing less than one-half of one percent by volume should not be subject to punishment, there was no need for the provision, for the reason that the other provisions of the act did not provide punishment for such persons."

Reasonable Explanation.

"The only reasonable explanation for singling out home manufacturers of cider for special mention in this section, to my mind, is that congress did not intend to subject them to the strict provisions as to the alcoholic content of the product specified in section 1, but instead to prohibit the manufacture of cider for home use, which should be, in fact, intoxicating."

"If this section is so interpreted then there is a reason for its insertion in the act."

"In order that the decision on this point may not lead to misapprehension, perhaps I should also state that it is perfectly clear that if cider manufactured in the home, although it be exclusively for use in the home, is in fact intoxicating, it is a violation of the law to manufacture it."

Law Provides.

"And also that the law specifically provides that cider and fruit juices so manufactured shall not be sold or delivered except to persons having permits for the manufacture of vinegar."

LODGE'S FUNERAL IN BOSTON TODAY

Body of Massachusetts Senator Lies in State at Home of Chum Prior to Ceremonies.

BOSTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The body of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge still rested tonight in the Beacon street home of his chum, Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, viewed by none but his family, while the door from time to time came near of the persons who during the past two days have sought to pay personal tribute to his memory at the bier. For the most part they were persons in the commoner walks of life. The word to all was that the senator's family wished to be alone with their dead until the funeral services tomorrow.

The services, to be held a noon in Christ church, Cambridge, where Senator Lodge was married and where similar services over the body of his wife were held nine years ago, will be as simple as they can be made, but will be marked by the attendance of many who are probably as distinguished as any that has gathered over the great man of the country, excepting the president. With Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of War Weeks will be a committee of 24 of his colleagues in the United States senate.

Notable Gathering.

Committees and delegations will be there also from other bodies of the nation, from the state and city and from Harvard college, and Edward F. Gray, British consul general, will attend under direction of the British ambassador, Sir Esmé Howard, and will later place a wreath over the grave of the Lodge family lot in Mount Auburn cemetery. There his senatorial predecessor, Charles Sumner and other notables are at rest.

By proclamation of Governor Cox, all official state activities will close during the hour of the funeral. The courts in this city will close from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. and Federal Judges James Morton and James A. Lowell will attend the service.

TRIBUTE IS PAID WAR PRESIDENT

Friends and Admirers of Former Executive Hold Armistice Day Services at Tomb

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Friends and admirers of Woodrow Wilson gathered today around his tomb in Bethlehem to pay a tribute to the national hero and to pay a tribute to the armistice day.

The ceremonies were quiet and impressive, recalled by contrast those of a year ago when the cheers of thousands greeted the former president as he delivered a brief armistice day speech from his S street home.

The same committee of men and women who arranged the first pilgrimage to the war president's home were in charge of the ceremonies and many of those who stood with reverent attitude in the chapel today had been members of the annual pilgrim band that turned out to honor their former chief in previous Armistice days.

VERNON AND CLEVELAND QUINTET TO COME HERE

Musical Treat in Store for Lyceum Course Audience When Company of Artists Give Program.

Paul Vernon and his Cleveland symphonic quintet are to be presented Thursday evening at the high school auditorium by the Twin Falls Lyceum course and audience in the second number of Twin Falls Lyceum course for this season.

The aim of the Cleveland symphonic quintet is to present the best in musical art in such a way that it can be enjoyed by all and especially by those who believe themselves unmusical, as well as the musically cultured. It is headed by Paul Vernon, for several seasons a leading violinist with the famous Cleveland symphonic orchestra, a man who believes implicitly in the future of American music, knows how to make a popular entertainment instructive and knows how to make an educational program entertaining. He has chosen a group of artists whose abilities are beyond cavil.

The quintet uses two violins, a viola and viola d'amore, cello, piano and organ. In the viola d'amore group, played by Lloyd Da Costa Jones, is a feature of which comparatively few organizations can boast.

Mr. Vernon is eminently fitted as director, principal violin and violin soloist of the quintet. He is a graduate of the Illinois Wesleyan college of both liberal arts and music, and following his graduation, was instructor in the same school. At 21 he headed the violin department of the Gray Musical college at Bloomington, and was also conductor of the choral society and orchestra. During the war he took a prominent part in the musical work of the navy, stationed at Great Lakes and Newport, R. I., and then followed three active years of teaching in the Cosmothen School of Music and the Metropolitan conservatory. He studied with Samuel and played in the Chicago Civic orchestra under Frederick Stock and later with the Cleveland symphony.

Lloyd Da Costa Jones was a member of the Cincinnati symphony orchestra for four years. He studied with Max F. Fiedel of Chicago and the great master, Eugene Ysaye. He has played under many noted conductors, including Reiner, Gabrielse and Dehnay, William Chesman, viola artist, is a product of the Oberlin conservatory. He has wide experience in chamber music groups and symphony orchestras. William "Currier" Williams, Jr., cellist, is one of Chicago's gifted soloists, a son of Day Williams, well-known artist of that city.

Blanche Wehler, pianist and organist, is a pupil of Henry Purmort Farnes and Beryl Rubenstein, two of the finest teachers in America.

CANADA HONORS DEAD.

MONTREAL, Nov. 11 (AP)—Canada's dead in the world war were honored today by the unveiling of a cenotaph in Dominion square by Governor General Byng, former commander of the Canadian corps in France.

of floral offerings with an American flag draped above the flowers and just below it the flag of George Washington, past of the American Legion of which he was a member.

Bishop James E. Freeman of the Episcopal diocese of Washington opened the ceremony with an invocation and followed with the reading of several passages from the Scriptures.

After the service the gathering adjourned to the foot of the peace cross in the cathedral grounds where Huxton Thompson, chairman of the federal trade commission, delivered an eulogy to the late war chief.

"One again we are assembled to do honor to the unknown dead," Mr. Thompson said, "and on this occasion we here join with him, his commander in the chief, the most illustrious of all that great army of immortals who made Armistice day possible."

The current events department of the Twentieth Century club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Walker on Main avenue west. The program was a most interesting one, opening with a community sing led by Mrs. E. G. Sturdivant. Miss Minnie Farrar told of her experiences on Armistice day in France; Mrs. H. W. Clouche gave a summary of the convention of the state federation at Moscow; Mrs. H. C. Dickerson read a tribute to Henry Cabot Lodge; and Mrs. L. Friedman read an article on Armistice day. The usual current events were given in response to roll call. Light refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. L. Friedman and Mrs. J. W. Chapman. Mrs. Barber of Kansas City, Mo., was a guest.

The only way to please "coffee cranks"

The man who is hard-to-please on coffee is apt to be a mighty good judge of coffee. So much so that he gets "fussy" about it. He knows when a cup of coffee "gets home" to him—and when it doesn't.

Yet there is a very simple way to please these hard-to-please coffee drinkers. This taste-finding chart shows how. In fact, it is based on hundreds of tests made with M-J-B Coffee by people who admit frankly that they are "coffee cranks." It will help you find the exact coffee strength, the exact coffee-taste, that satisfies "your man." And, once you do, stick to it! Make his coffee the same way every time!

CHEAPER LUMP COAL

You can save 50c on the price of certain kinds of lump coal. To you it may seem cheap, until you are obliged to call the chimney sweep.

Then is when you'll begin to weep, and wish you had left the coal in the dealer's heap.

Because when the house is cold, you'll not enjoy your sleep.

Whatever a man sows, that shall he also reap.

The average housewife burns 50 pounds of coal per day—that means saves 1 1/4 cent per day—this is something like the tariff. If you don't understand it ask John Graham, he knows. If John fails, ask Jim Whelan.

Our laying mash is still $3.50 per hundred weight.

THE PLAGUE.

Those with an eye on the progress of the pneumonic plague in Southern California will be interested in recalling the fact that the present is not the first outbreak of the kind in this country. In 1919 a number of cases developed at Oakland, California.
These were promptly dealt with and the disease stamped out.

The pneumonic plague, as its name indicates, attacks the lungs as, similarly, the bubonic type affects the glandular system of the body. The third type of plague, the septicemic,
is primarily an infection of the blood stream. According to the current number of the Journal of the American Medical Association, it is generally felt, however, that the pneumonic plague arises as a secondary manifestation of the bubonic, more particularly in those countries generally subject to plague outbreaks.

In a general way there is little danger of a spread of the disease in this country although the inroads made by it in the past, notably in China and Manchuria, have been tremendous. In the past twenty years there have been as many as five hundred cases of plague of all types in the United States but in no case has there been anything approaching a general outbreak.

Quoting again from the journal referred to we find that "the plague situation in the Pacific Coast is serious but does not call for hysterical alarm. Sanitariums have long known that the danger of such an outbreak
as that at Los Angeles was never altogether absent. For a number of years plague infected ground squirrels
and rats have been encountered occasionally in California and the human disease is known to have occurred
in recent years in parts of Mexico,
notably in Vera Cruz."

All of which may be accepted as indicating that the plague is really no new thing in America; that in the past it has been held to a minimum and that there is little ground for the thought that the present outbreak will be any more deadly or widespread than those of the past.

WORTH WHILE.

In this day and age there is not a great deal of encouragement for read shows outside of the bigger cities.
Yet there are thousands of people in and around Twin Falls, Blaine, Fil-
more, Jerome and other nearby towns who thoroughly enjoy a theatrical performance of the better kind.
For these an opportunity for a real evening's entertainment will be given in the engagement here of the Motion Open Players. This company is composed of men and women possessed of a degree of talent rarely obtainable
outside the large theatrical centers.

They are visiting small towns because they prefer to do so, getting along with incomes which are small compared to the earnings which are made by the company individually. They are in the theatrical business for the sake of the theater, with all its rich tradition. They offer real plays, produced in a scholarly and artistic way.
In short they appeal to the theater lover rather than the theater goer.

There is no speculation involved in the purchase of tickets in the performances of this gifted company, and their coming to Twin Falls should be regarded as an event worthy of all entertainment.

Performances here will be under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Twin Falls, which organization a debt of gratitude is due for their share in the undertaking.

few years ago when casual drunks
were given so many hours to leave town.

It cleaned up the particular locality but it didn't cure anything. The plague merely passed the trouble on to some other section.

Deportation on a national scale is quite another thing. Here we return to their native soil that element of our immigrants which, as a country, we are unable to assimilate. The mother country may not want them back, but here's the responsibility, not ours.

With the I. W. W. menace, jail sentences as close as possible to the scene of the disturbance would seem to be the straight-up method which should be followed. To merely chase them across the line into another country does not seem to quite fill the bill.

Relic of Primitive Days.

Primitive man wore a collar for ornamentation before he wore much of anything else, so the stiff collar is not a modern part of man's attire. In the fourteenth century neck chains, or "liver collars," were worn in England, symbolizing allegiance to one or another feudal baron. These collars are still used in European officialdom by orders of knighthood. The collar cut do became the vogue among the rich.
Later, when starch was introduced from Flanders, more people could afford the ruffles, and they assumed such proportions that a proclamation was issued against them. Even the church took steps to reduce their size.
In the United States collars were in general use in 1820. They stood straight up and were conducive to nothing but comfort.

York. It was the college of Alexander Hamilton, John Jay, Robert R. Livingston, De Witt Clinton, Hamilton
Fish and many other outstanding figures in the history of this nation.

ARMENIA GIVEN
RUSSIAN HELP

People Find Refuge in Soviet Russia Where Turks Fear to Follow Them, Is Report.

ERIVAN, Armenia, Nov. 11 (AP)— Armenia, which three years ago was starving and destitute, is now on its feet. If the Bolshevik regime, under which the country at present exists, has not given Armenia all the political advantages and freedom its people sought, it has at least brought peace and security to the desolate little state in the northern reaches of Asia. The Armenian no longer fears the Turkish invaders, who for hundreds of years
made him a prey to their racial hatred and religious fanaticism. Where the European armies failed to keep Turkey
at bay, the Red army of the Bolsheviks has held it in repression and has given the Armenian people a chance to live their own lives unmolested by warlike neighbors.

Better Off Today.

From the standpoint of their material welfare and health, the people are better off today than they have been for many years. Officials of the government estimate that within three years the country will be self-sufficient, and that within ten years it will be a prosperous community. Crops this year have been good and there is an abundant supply of food. Clothing, however, is scarce and expensive, and a good part of the rural population is still clad in threadbare garments. The fates of thousands of orphan children which successive wars and massacres left in their wake, are especially wellert. They are being cared for by workers of the American Near East Relief organization in the huge Russian army barracks on the Alexandropol plain.

The Orator and the Place.

To every orator his own inspiration,
though there have been some, like Gladstone, who soared above all limitations. The Pitts spoke little about state parliament; it is doubtful whether or whether would have been supreme outside. It was not merely the sun, but the sun bursting through the windows of the commons house that inspired the younger Pitt's finest declamation. Lord Rosborough spoke best outside parliament, because he required a great canvas, space, air, his tory, as opposed to parliamentary indignity; Peel spoke best in the house because he was essentially a house of commons man.—Man-lester Guardian.

Present Responsibility

While we have no say in regards the kind of man timber out of which our ancestors were made, we must remember we have a say and are responsible for the man timber out of ioned.

Shy at Advertising

Although advertising rates in Constantinople newspapers are low, merchants do not want to spend the money for space—and as a consequence the city has thousands of small shops and none of any great size.

WRECKS FURNISH
NATIVES LIQUOR

Treasure Hunters Abound
Along Coast Near Canadian Border; Find Much Whiskey.

TACOMA, Nov. 11 (AP)—The days of treasure seekers after pirate caches
may be gone for the Steroid South Sea, but they are just beginning for the residents along the ocean beaches of this state. More than one vessel, laden with liquor from British Columbia and bound for ports in Washington, Oregon and California, has piled up on one of the beaches as the result of gales or poor navigation or both.

Crew Escapes.

The last run-ner to suffer such a fate was the halibut boat, Alf, loaded with 212 cases of whiskey and gin. It is believed that the Alf was headed for Willapa Harbor, north of the Columbia river. A storm built up and the craft evidently opened up her seams. To save themselves the crew headed for the beach at high tide. They escaped, leaving the Alf at the mercy of waves and sand. Before custom officers arrived much of the liquor had been removed, and the rest of the cargo could not be salvaged because the waves had dug a "grave" for the vessel. But the sea didn't sink the wreck into the sand and the beach and the liquor within reach of industrious and thirsty treasure hunters.

Nature's "Fireworks"

St. Chino's fire, the flame-like appearance seen in stormy weather in the rigging of vessels and on lofty lightning rods, is nearly akin to lightning, says "Nature's Magazine."
The aurora, in its many beautiful forms, is the most ambitious electrical display produced by nature.

MR. AND MRS. STORK

"It is nice," said Mrs. Wood this Stork, "to have relatives particularly sharply," she added, "when they don't bother you."

"We have such
fine relatives too.
They come from different parts of the world, but we are the only ones
belonging to the North American
family of storks."

"We shouldn't be named by the name of Wood this Stork. It's a foolish name, but someone once thought it was a good name, as we go."

"He is very ugly."

do look like birds of the this family,
and the name has stuck.

"I've never thought it worth while to bother about changing the name."

"I might have changed my name,"
she added, "if your name had been different, Mr. Stork. But your name was the same as mine, and so we both kept it."

"Yes," said Mr. Wood this Stork,
"we have the same family name."

"And, after all, it is very convenient.
When a young man, Miss Stork, would tell Mr. Stork she doesn't have to tell her friends what her new name is to be."

"She doesn't have to say:
"Now, shall I have my linen marked with my own initials or with those of my husband?"

"Of course she hasn't any linen to mark, but if she had any it would save a great deal of thought."

"Yes, we have many relatives. There is Cousin Black Stork from Europe and Cousin Black Stork from Africa, with his quiet suit of feathers and his bright red and blue trimmings about his face and beak."

"These cousins in Africa built big nests out of sticks, and the people about all love him just as the Stork
family is loved in Europe."

"Many and many a story has been written about my European cousins."

"Then there is Cousin White-Necked Stork from both Asia and Africa. His family is a well-traveled one."

"People say travel broadens one, but I never broadened a Cousin White-Necked Stork or his family. Not but what he is ever-so-nice, but he isn't any wider or broader now than his great-great-great-grandfather was years ago."

"They're all about the same size."

"I have a black-necked cousin, too.
His family comes from Australia, as a rule. He is very handsome with his black and white suit and his fine looking white eyes."

"Oh, he belongs to a splendid looking family. He is here in the zoo, too."

"Yes," said Mrs. Wood this Stork, "it is nice that he's here and he can tell us news of his family and of life in the old days back home from where he comes."

"There is Cousin Maroon Stork
from Africa," said Mr. Wood this Stork, and there is Cousin Indian Adjutant. He is very ugly."

Mr. Wood this spoke in a very low voice.

"He is really hideously ugly, and not at all like the others. He looks much like a vulture."

"There is Cousin Maguari Stork
from South Africa, who wears a fine black and white suit, too. He is a fine creature."

There is Cousin Jabiro, who looks something like Cousin Adjutant. He doesn't wear any feathers on his head or neck, as he says they'd be in his way. I agree with him about this. He wears a single admission of feathers on the bottom of his feather collar should be, if he had a feather collar."

"He has a tuft
of white down on his bald head—but though he has a bald head he's very young—a mere child."

"Mr. and Mrs. Stork walked up and down their zoo home."

Then, after they had had their exercise they looked over their nice high home nest on top of a zoo house, and smiled at each other because they were so pleased with it.

"They had lived in it for many years
and were so fond of the zoo home nest."

Then they each put one leg under a wing, stood upon the other remaining wing—and had—so comfortable sleep—
though no one else would have found sleeping in such a way very comfortable."

Ignoramus

"I don't think," complained Little So-sie after her first day at school, "that my teacher knows as much as she thinks she does."

"Why not, dear?" asked her mother.

"Why, she even had to ask what street I live on!"—American Legion

CAPTAIN BLOOD
By Rafael Sabatini

Bishop rapped out an oath, and then, shaken by a sudden fear:
"What the devil may you be?" he asked.

"I am Lord Willoughby, Governor-General of His Majesty's Colonies in the West Indies. You were informed, I think, of my coming."

The remains of Bishop's anger fled from him like a clock. He broke into a sweat of fear. Behind him Lord Julian looked on,
his handsome face suddenly white and cold.

"But, my Lord," began the Colonel.

"Sir, I am not concerned to hear your reasons," the Lordship interrupted harshly. "I am on the point of sailing and I have not the time."

The Governor will hear you and no doubt he will reply to you. If he waved to Major Mallard, and Diablo, a crumpled, broken man, allowed himself to be led away.

To Lord Julian, who went with him, since none deterred him, Bishop expressed himself when presently he had sufficiently recovered.

"This is one more item to the account of that scoundrel Blood," he said through his teeth. "My God,
what a reckoning there will be when we meet!"

Major Mallard turned away his face that he might conceal his smile, and without further words led him a prisoner to the Governor's house that so long had been Colonel Bishop's own residence. He was left to wait under guard in the hall, whilst Major Mallard went ahead to announce him.

Miss Bishop, was still with Peter Blood when Major Mallard entered. His announcement startled them back to reality.

"You will be merciful with him,
you will spare him all you can for my sake, Peter," she pleaded.

"To be sure I will," said Blood,
"but I'm afraid the circumstances won't."

She offered herself, escaping into the garden, and Major Mallard watched the Colonel.

"His Excellency, the Governor, will see you now," said he, and threw wide the door.

Colonel Bishop staggered in and stood waiting.

At the table sat a man of whom nothing was visible but the top of a carefully curled, black head.
Then this head was raised, and a pair of blue eyes solemnly regarded the prisoner. Colonel Bishop made a noise in his throat, and stared into the face of His Excellency, the Deputy-Governor of Jamaica, which was the face of the man he had been hunting in Tor-tuga to his present undoing.

The situation of best expressed to Lord Willoughby by Van der Kuylen as the pair stepped aboard
the Admiral's flagship.

"Id is very beautiful!" he said,
his blue eyes twinkling. "Cabin Blood is fond of hoodry; you remember, do be able blossoms. So?
Ha, ha!"

POWER PROJECT GIVEN BACKING OF CANAL BOARD

Directors Authorize Manager Burton Smith to Continue Investigation; Maintenance for Next Year Put at $150.

Cost of development of between 4000 and 15,000 horsepower of hydroelectric power by diverting water from the Twin Falls irrigation system into a canal to the "low line" canal, is to be determined by Burton Smith, general manager for the Twin Falls Canal company, under authorization given by directors of the company at a regular meeting here Tuesday. Mr. Smith has made investigations of possible use of water in the irrigation system for power development, and announced his preliminary conclusions at a recent meeting of the Rotary club.

The directors' action in this regard came after a committee appointed recently to draft and report resolutions to the annual meeting of the canal company stockholders next January, appeared before the board at its meeting Tuesday and urged further investigation of power development possibilities suggested by Mr. Smith. M. J. Swartz, chairman of the committee and other members are C. E. McClain, Twin Falls; W. G. Sampson, Hansen; B. P. Buffington, Bluff; George Leonard and William Conant, Picher.

No Change in Levy.
The directors levied an assessment of $150 on a mere maintenance charge for the coming year. The assessment as usual will be payable in two installments, one in March and the other in October. The levy which is in the same sum as last year, is expected to bring in a revenue of $240,500. This amount, the directors estimated, will be sufficient to meet operating expenses and upkeep of the system during the year, under a program of strict economy.

The directors directed curtailment of ditch cleaning and repair and improvement operations which have been pushed under the direction of Manager Smith during the past several weeks while fair weather has made possible completion of much of this work. The directors' decision in this regard was prompted by considerations of money saving.
