CONGRESS WILL CONSIDER FARM PROBLEM FIRST

Tax Reduction Not to be Taken Up at Short Session Under Present Plans of Republican Administration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Tax reduction at the coming short session of congress will not be attempted under present plans by the administration and although some congressional leaders have expressed a desire to take up such legislation it now appears that attention will be directed primarily to appropriation and farm measures.

It is understood that Secretary Mellon, who conferred for more than an hour with President Coolidge today, considers it impracticable to attempt to reopen the tax question at the three months' session with a new law just going into effect.

New Law Result. Administration officials point out that the actual results of the new law relative to the surplus available for future reduction will not be felt until after December 15, and the benefit of the new rates will not be received until payments are paid next year on this year's taxes, leaving opportunity to survey the entire situation carefully before concentrating upon the tax question.

While no final decision has been reached, neither have any plans yet been made by the treasury or the president. It is understood, in regard to recommending additional tax reduction before the meeting of the new congress in December, a year hence.

To Repeal Position. Secretary Mellon, however, it is understood, expects in his annual report to restate his position on tax reduction along the lines he recommended at the last session of congress. This scheme providing for a larger cut in the high surtax rates than was finally approved by congress is expected to be the subject of President Coolidge. In his recent speeches Mr. Coolidge also has indicated a desire to cut further the surtax rates as well as all other taxes.

What congress itself may attempt, however, is recommended from the administration, is regarded as threatening to some extent an element of uncertainty into the situation now crystallizing as the December session approaches. Several congressional leaders also are already pressing for an extra session after March to take up tax reduction and other measures.

He also estimated that 10,000 charges of bootlegging have been brought into court during the last five years.

Fate of Hill Now in Hands of Jury On Dry Law Charge

Congressman From Maryland Soon to Know Fate in Test of Volstead Act for Making Cider Beverage.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12 (AP)—The case of Representative John Philip Hill of Baltimore, who has been on trial in the United States court for the last three days on an indictment charging violations of the Volstead law, went to the jury at the beginning of the afternoon session of the court today and not having reported a verdict at 5:30 o'clock Judge Morris A. Soper adjourned court directing that the verdict, if one were reached, be sealed and presented to the court tomorrow morning.

Judge Soper's charge to the jury preceded the argument of counsel. He directed the jury to dismiss the fifth and sixth counts of the indictment accusing Colonel Hill of maintaining "a common nuisance at his home on the ground of insufficient evidence."

Burden with Government. Judge Soper declared at the outset that the burden of proof was on the government to satisfy the jury of the defendant's guilt and later refused the request of District Attorney Woodcock to instruct the jury that the burden of proof rested upon Colonel Hill to prove that his fruit juices were not intoxicating in fact, Mr. Woodcock contending that section 33 of the Volstead act shifts it from the government to the defense.

Judge Soper directed the jury to give Colonel Hill the benefit of all reasonable doubt.

First Four Counts. "The matters for your decision are involved in the first four counts of

RAILROADS TO GET ATTENTION FROM CONGRESS

Preparation for Legislation at Short Session Involving Carriers Announced by Esch-Cummins Co-Author.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 12 (AP)—Preparations for railroad legislation in the short session of congress will get under way in Washington immediately, Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa, co-author of the Esch-Cummins transportation act, announced here tonight prior to his departure for the capital.

The result of the election has an materially improved the situation, Senator Cummins declared, that the opposing factions in the railroad controversy can now get together on the economic question involved and take the railroads out of politics.

During the next ten days, the Iowa senator plans to hold a series of conferences with President Coolidge, Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and representatives of both the railroad operators and their employees in an effort to agree on a program of legislation.

LaFollette Considered. Senator Cummins expressed the hope that Senator LaFollette, with whom he differs on a part of the railroad program, will meet him half way.

"It would seem," Senator Cummins said, "that the result of the election has demonstrated that LaFollette can not have his way. Inasmuch as I am willing to concede a part of his railroad program, it would seem there is a fair opportunity to reach an agreement."

In addition to railroad bills of his own which are pending in congress Senator Cummins said there are about 100 other bills proposed regulation of the railroads. All of them, he added, center in the same three things—consolidation of systems, adoption of a settled policy of governmental interference in disputes between the railroads and their employees and final valuation of the properties necessary for rate-making purposes.

STOCK MARKET BATTLE SCENE MUCH TRADING

Furious Struggle Between Bulls and Bears of New York Exchange Continues Unabated; Sales 2,420,000 Shares.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—The battle between the bulls and bears on the New York stock exchange continued today with unabated fury, with the day's honors about evenly divided at the close. On total sales that exceeded 2,420,000 shares or less than 50,000 shares below the record established yesterday, the general industrial prices average advanced slightly, while the general railroad average declined.

Prices of many of the popular industrial and utility stocks, such as United States Steel common, Bethlehem American, Southern Pacific, New Haven, Union Pacific and St. Paul, bowed 1 to 3 1/2 points under the towering load of profit-taking sales and bear selling but they did not break apparently because there were too many investors and speculators who had not shared in the first outburst of post-election strength waiting to pick up stocks on recessions.

Increased Vigor. Meanwhile, bullish operations continued with increased vigor in other sections of the list, at least 50 stocks climbing to new 1934 high records during the session. Shifting of speculative interest from one group to another indicated that profits piled up in some of the recent strong spots were being converted into cash and reinvested in other issues believed to be "out of line" with the general market.

United States Cast Iron Pipe was the day's outstanding individual feature, soaring 12 5/8 points above last night's close to a record high for all time at 139 1/2, as compared with the year's low of 61 established last February. General Electric jumped nearly six points to 266 3/4 but forfeited 2 1/4 points of its gain at the close. Other individual strong spots included Price common, Jersey Central, Goodyear Rubber prior preferred, Mannett Sugar, Otis Steel preferred and Sears-Robuck, all of which closed 3 to nearly 6 points higher.

Behind Market. At times the ticker tape was 20 minutes behind the market. Some unscrupulous speculators tried to take advantage of this fact shortly after noon by spreading wild rumors that United States Steel was then selling two points below the ticker quotations apparently hoping thereby to bring about frenzied liquidation by excited traders, but the ruse failed to work.

Bear traders attempted to unsettle the general list by launching an attack on Foundation Company common on the announcement that the directors had failed to declare the extra dividend expected in some speculative circles. The stock broke over 7 points to 85 1/4 before effective buying support was provided, but this selling had little effect on other parts of the list.

BIG SMUGGLING CONSPIRACY IN U. S. UNCOVERED

Agents of Custom Service Succeed in Breaking Up Large Band of Jewelry Criminals Across Country.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Agents of the customs service have succeeded in breaking up one of the greatest smuggling conspiracies in recent years, it was disclosed tonight at the treasury where it was said that customs agents in half a dozen sections of the country in recent months have seized and identified smuggled jewelry valued at more than a quarter of a million dollars.

Information as to the success of the agents' efforts which were inaugurated with the killing of Los Angeles last week by August of Mrs. Theresa Moran, with whose murder "Kid" McCoy, has been charged, was received here today when agents of the service in New York notified the treasury they had unwound details of the smuggling operations.

Smuggler in Flight. The treasury was informed that a man named Medlanski, now in flight to a foreign country, was the person who actually had brought the jewelry in.

Any information concerning the identity of Medlanski was withheld by the officials, but it was indicated that their knowledge was not definite as to how long he has operated or how much jewelry in the aggregate has been smuggled into the country. The fact that the trail was picked up on the death of Mrs. Moran, it was stated, was regarded as no significance as far as her death itself was concerned.

Whether Medlanski operated for himself or as an agent for higher-ups was not indicated, but according to customs service records, he was the head and forefront of the active operations and had enlisted a dozen or more aides in disposal of the jewelry.

Several Handed. Victims of the conspiracy were numbered by officials at "several hundred," scattered widely over the country. The agents have seized all the jewelry they have been able to find but it was said that possibly as much more never would be uncovered. Innocent purchasers have stowed it away in safe places or are wearing it, not knowing its origin.

The jewelry possessed by Mrs. Moran

Woman in Gangster Murder Questioned and Then Released

Chicago Police Still at Sea in Effort to Find Slayer of Gunman; Theory They Had Proves of No Use.

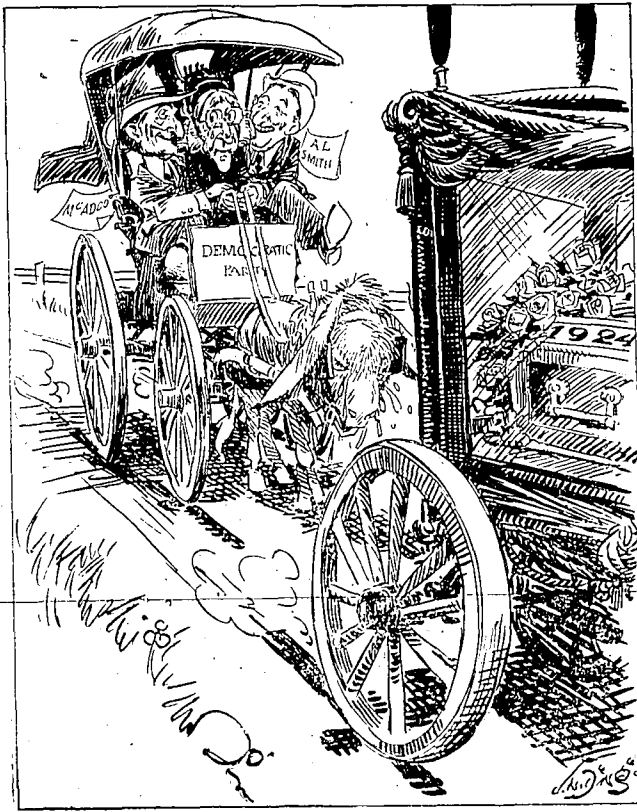

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Margaret Collins, who has been termed by the police the woman in the Dion O'Bannon murder case, surrendered today and in the course of a few hours was released. The young lady, who said her real name was Mary and that she had lived until recently in New York, denied ever having known the florist-store runner other than as a customer. She told assistant state's attorneys that she had never shipped the face of Mrs. Michael Carrozzo nor that she even knew the wife of the Italian labor leader. The police had been working on the story that a Miss Collins, friends of O'Bannon, had attacked Mrs. Carrozzo, while they, Carrozzo, O'Bannon and several lieutenants of both men were seated about a table in a downtown cafe. A fond followed and, the police theorize, the death of O'Bannon was its culmination. Carrozzo had not been apprehended tonight.

Father Testifies.

At the inquest into the death of the gang leader, Charles O'Bannon, the victim's father, testified as to Dion's boyhood and early youth. The coroner's jury continued the inquest until Nov. 25.

O'Bannon's body lies in a funeral parlor a few doors from his floral establishment. About the tier are heaped thousands of dollars worth of wreaths and flowers.

It has been learned that an old gang-hand custom will be followed Friday when members of rival factions in the underworld will temporarily bury the hatchet and walk side by side behind the coffin of their dead leader and sworn enemy.

U. S. Cruiser Gives Up Search for Lost Yacht in Atlantic

Further Effort to Find Three Missing Men Classified as Futile by Commander of Ship Trenton.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—Convinced that further search in the North Atlantic for the missing American motor yacht Lief Ericsson would be "futile," the cruiser Trenton has decided to abandon the search. Captain Kahlbus informed the state department in a wireless message today that in view of the heavy weather which has prevailed during the two months since the Ericsson was last heard of on her voyage from Bergen, Norway, to this country, further effort to locate the small craft would be hopeless.

Three on Board.

On board the Ericsson were William Nutting and Arthur Hildebrand, American writers, and Eric Todahl, a painter.

Coincident with the receipt of the message from the Trenton, the navy department was informed today that the derelict recently reported as having been sighted in the path taken by the missing yacht had been previously sighted as early as September 5, and therefore could hardly be the Ericsson.

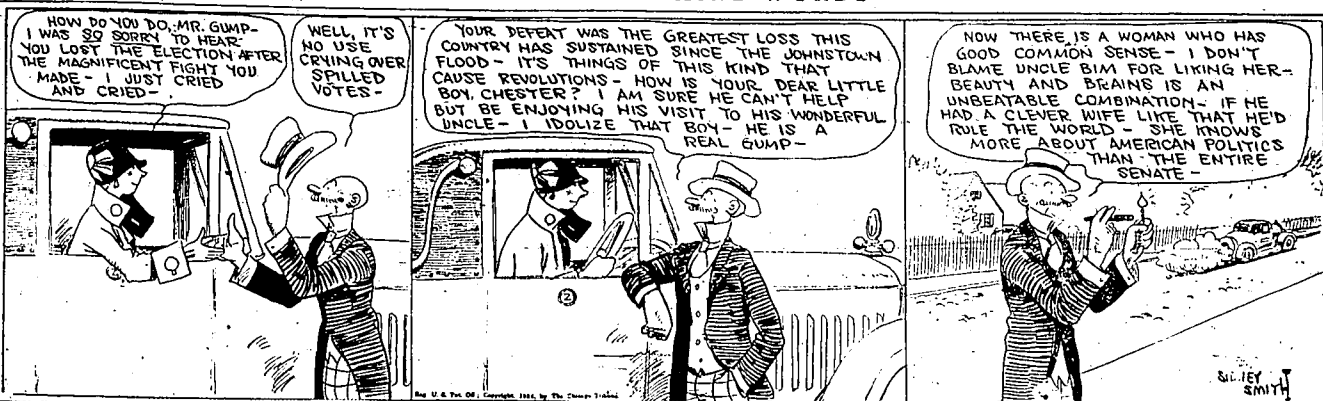

BELIEVE HUSBAND SAFE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Mrs. William Nutting, wife of the commander of the motor yacht Lief Ericsson, refused to be downcast tonight on being told that the United States cruiser Trenton was to give up its search for the little craft, whose crew of four ceased to follow the route the Vikings took to North America.

"I shall continue to believe that my husband and his companions are safe until it is proved that they are not," Mrs. Nutting said. "You know, they may have had to put into one of the coves along the coast of Greenland. I'm still hoping."

ISLAND DOCTOR
JOURNEYS MANY MILES ON DUTY

Iceland District Physicians Ride
Vast Distances to Care for Natives; Travel to Homes Is Difficult.

HOFN HORNAFJORD, Iceland, Nov. 12 (AP)—Village doctors in the United States are often called upon to make trips that occupy hours, or even days, to the homes of their patients, but in Iceland the district physician, as a matter of routine, often covers hundreds of miles by horseback in the ordinary course of his duties.

The government physician of the Hornafjord district, stretching along the southern coast line, has one of the most difficult territories to cover in the kingdom. His district embraces more than 100 square miles, most of it in remote valleys or along the narrow strip of coast. It is surrounded by huge mountains, many of them active volcanoes, scores of glaciers and great snowfields, and in the course of each inspection he must cross more than 100 rivers, few of which are bridged at any time of the year. In the spring these rivers, fed by the big glaciers that wind down nearly every valley, become swollen torrents, and it is often hours before the doctor can find a safe ford for his pony. The usual inspection trip, made every few weeks, requires at least nine days, and sometimes a fortnight.

Calls Frequent.

In addition, although Iceland is an unusually healthy country with few serious diseases, numerous calls are frequently made for the physician, who must start out at any hour of the day or night, usually preceded by a guide sent by the patient himself. Accidents frequently occur in the fish drying sheds along the coast, or among the herders in the mountain valleys, and as the district physician is the only one within hundreds of miles, he must be ready on call at any time. His trips are always made on the stout Icelandic ponies, capable of carrying large loads over rough and difficult trails.

One of the diseases known in the cities of the world are met with in this remote district of south Iceland, shut off as it is from close contact even with other districts of the kingdom. No case of venereal disease has ever been reported at Hornafjord, and epidemics are unknown. Bronchial troubles, however, are rather frequent, and there have recently been some cases of pulmonary tuberculosis.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 12 (AP)—Unless the American people eat more whole grain breads, more vegetables cooked to retain the lime salts, more whole milk and natural sweets, "the next two or three generations will be a nation of weaklings, so far as bone and teeth are concerned," Dr. C. B. Fowlkes of Birmingham, Ala., asserted in an address before the American Dental association.

"In the matter of diet, the dental profession has an opportunity for doing a real service in outlining a diet that furnishes the necessary lime salts to build tooth and bone structure during the pre-natal and pre-school period, as well as during childhood to the eighteenth year," Dr. C. B. Fowlkes said.

"One has only to look about him to see that the American people are not eating the right kinds of bread, rice and sweets, to say nothing of properly proportioned vegetable diet," the speaker declared. "He stated that it is possible for any individual to reduce decay in his own mouth 75 per cent by proper home prophylaxis, and that proper mouth hygiene would reduce the percentage of contagious diseases in children, such as mumps, measles, scarlet fever, etc."

Hour Long Duel Is Fought; Principals Are Both Wounded

Two Receive Serious Injuries as Result of Sabre Battle Over Expulsion of Fencer.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 12 (AP)—An hour long sabre duel in which both principals were seriously wounded was fought today between the Italian fencer, Senor Oreste Pulitelli and M. Kovacs, the Hungarian fencing judge at the Olympic games. The duel was fought at Nagy-Kanizsa, on the Jugo-Slav border.

The seconds stopped the fight because of the adversaries' wounds and fatigue. Senor Pulitelli, who was the aggressor in the duel, offered his apologies to M. Kovacs and a reconciliation was effected while the spectators cheered.

The encounter was the outcome of an incident at Paris, when Senor Pulitelli blamed M. Kovacs for his expulsion from the Olympic fencing contests.

UNION HEAD ACCUSED OF REFUSING TO PAY SCALE TO HIS MINERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—The United Mine Workers national headquarters issued a statement tonight charging Warren S. Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, with inconsistency in handling union labor at the Coal River collieries, controlled by the brotherhood members.

The statement said that Stone had refused to pay the Jacksonville agreement union coal wage scale because he claimed the company could not afford it. It charged also that the Coal River Collieries had resorted to the practice of eviction and that the company lately imported strike breakers to operate some of its mines.

Coal River board cases were then cited by the statement, in an attempt to show that when acting for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Mr. Stone opposed wage reductions which some roads requested on the grounds that they were unable to afford the union scale.

Bolshevism, she characterized as an international disease and she promised to fight hereafter, wherever she might be, for the principle of liberty, which she said was the most essential thing in human life.

Ex-Cabinet Member.

The dinner at which she spoke was presided over by Colonel Joseph Wedgwood, a member of the cabinet in the late government, and tribute was paid to her in speeches by Bertrand Russell, pacifist, who called her "one of the foremost friends of freedom in the world," and Rebecca West, the writer, who praised her courage in "climbing down after she had been disillusioned in her two years' stay in Russia."

Miss Goldman began her speech by saying she had come to England seeking one of the country's traditional liberties—the right of asylum.

Little Hope Given.

Bertrand Russell indicated little hope that she would receive it. He said that during the regime of the conservative government which preceded the labor government, he had approached the foreign office, seeking asylum in England for Miss Goldman but the foreign office "turned her down indignantly."

the indictment," the judge said in his charge. These counts charge the unlawful manufacture and possession of wine.

The issue of fact to which your attention is directed are rather narrow and few," he continued, "for the reason that there is no dispute in this case that the defendant did manufacture and possessed the liquors in question and that he testified to that effect on the stand."

"The question for you to decide is whether the articles which the defendant admits that he manufactured, answer to the description of these articles in the counts of the indictments. Now the description in the first and second count is intoxicating liquor, to-wit: 25 gallons of wine. The question for you to decide on those two counts are two in number. First, was the article wine, and, second, was it intoxicating."

DISPUTE ARISES BETWEEN UNIONS ON JURISDICTION

Sixteen Affiliated Organizations Ask for Expulsion of Carpenters for Alleged Failure to Observe Rules.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 12 (AP)—A jurisdiction dispute of the first magnitude within the ranks of the American Federation of Labor struck fire today in convention of the building trades department of the federation, in which sixteen affiliated international organizations demanded the suspension of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, with 250,000 members, from the federation.

The action, the result of a four-year controversy between the carpenters and the international union of sheet metal workers over the right to do certain work with metal sash and door fixtures, climaxed in a formal resolution approved by the convention today in which the carpenters union was charged with having "openly, continuously and flagrantly defied the laws, rules, regulations and decisions of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor."

"Immediate suspension of the charter" of the carpenters organization and "forfeit of all rights as an affiliated member of the American Federation" was demanded, "until such time as that organization complies with the law by re-affiliating with the building trades department."

GIRLS RESERVE CLUB FOR BUHL SCHOOL PROPOSED

Whether a Girls' Reserve club is organized in the Buhl high school, similar to the Blue Triangle club in the Twin Falls high school, depends upon decision on the part of Buhl citizens relative to proposed employment of permanent Y. W. C. A. secretary to supervise and assist in activities of the girls' Reserves in ten southern Idaho towns. This was determined Wednesday when Miss Helen Plack, Y. W. C. A. secretary for southern Idaho, and Miss Rhoda Foster of San Francisco, representative of the Y. W. C. A. national organization, met with members of the faculty of the Buhl high school to consider organization of the proposed new club.

"Members of the faculty are familiar with the plan and purpose of the Girl Reserve movement, and the girls themselves are ready to form a club," Miss Foster stated here Wednesday evening. "A decision as to whether the plan is to be carried into fulfillment is to be reached at a meeting Thursday evening of representatives of the churches and women's organizations of Buhl."

LODGE FUNERAL HELD IN BOSTON

Simplicity Marks Rites for Senator; Body Lies in Family Vault; Many at Services.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 12 (AP)—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, whose career as statesman and scholar was ended by death here last Sunday, was laid at rest today in the Lodge family vault in Mount Auburn cemetery between two tall American elms on the slope of a hill and by the shore of a lake. The services at the tomb and Christ church, where a distinguished group of mourners gathered, were as simple as the homage of hundreds would permit. The simplicity was relieved only by a military and naval guard of honor, two soldiers, a sailor and a marine with draped colors and with arms.

Delegations representing nation and state, city and town, and organizations whose activities he abjured, were present at the church services.

Close Friends Only.

By wish of the family, only those close to the senator in public and private life were admitted in the old church.

Outside a reverent crowd of hundreds, some of them high in social standing or in public life, formed a congregation that stood through the services.

These services were as simple as the ritual of the Episcopal church would permit, and there was no departure from the book. Bishop William Lawrence, head of the Episcopal diocese, layman and classmate and lifelong friend of the senator, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Prescott Everts, rector of the church.

Through the reverent crowd the cortege moved again. As in the procession from the home of Dr. W. Sturgis Bigelow on Beacon street, Boston, where the body had rested since Monday, to the church, only members of the family and the pallbearers, with Bishop Lawrence and Rev. Mr. Everts, accompanied it. The roster of pallbearers, drawn from Senator Lodge's contemporaries, was not complete, disabilities due to age making it impossible for two to serve.

Through the winding paths of Mount Auburn cemetery the cortege was taken to the family vault, a Gothic structure of red sandstone.

At Christ church, Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of War Weeks, with governor Cox, occupied the first row on the left of the casket, facing the church, while behind them on the left were the official delegations. On the right were family and friends.

BROKER'S HELD IN MURDER CASE

Shooting of Diamond Merchant in His Apartment Leads Police to Arrest Man.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12 (AP)—An explanation, unsatisfactory to the police of what he was doing during the seven minutes between 5:35 p. m. and 6 p. m. last Monday, within which period Harry Katz, diamond broker and musician, was shot and killed in his apartment here, caused Hal Hail, real estate broker of Santa Monica, to be held in the city jail Monday, charged with suspicion of murder.

Hail told police the night of the killing that he had been negotiating a realty deal with Katz and left him in 5:35 o'clock Monday evening. At 6 o'clock Katz staggered down the stairs and into an apartment on the floor below, where he died in a few moments from a bullet in his neck. Officers investigating the case declared that it would have been virtually impossible within that seven minutes for another man to enter the apartment, mount the stairs to Katz' quarters and await Katz' answer to his knock, shoot the diamond broker and escape the way he had come. On this theory they took Hail into custody late today and booked him on suspicion of murder.

Real Estate Man.

Hail has a real estate office on South Vermont avenue here, although he lives in Santa Monica. He is 41 years old, married and has three children.

Mrs. Hail, who is a daughter of the pioneer Shookles family of Santa Monica, when informed of her husband's arrest, said that she knew Hail had been acquainted with Katz. She said that Hail spent yesterday at his home and went to his office as usual this morning.

After Hail's arrest, officers announced that they had located at his office diamonds and jewelry valued at approximately $1200. Hail is alleged to have admitted to the officers that the jewels belonged to Katz, but declared they were given him by the latter to be marketed.

Legal procedure today prevented the officers from opening jewel vaults belonging to Katz, which they believe contain a prince's ransom in sparkling diamonds for the finding of more jewels. The shrouded mystery which surrounded the killing of the diamond broker.

BIG SMUGGLING PLOT IS FOUND BY AGENTS

was the first to be identified positively. From that beginning the agents, it was said, ran down a series of clues in Pacific coast cities. They found much jewelry both in San Francisco and Los Angeles, the latter city where Mrs. Mora had her home, providing the greater quantity.

Trail Leads to East.

The trail led eastward and the port of entry was found to have been New York from which base Medianski, according to customs officers, directed the distribution and sale of the jewelry. There were many diamonds among the smuggled goods and these left plain tracks for the agents to follow.

With the killing in Los Angeles Monday of Harry I. Katz, another trail was opened and this, it developed today had resulted in the finding of more jewelry which is now enroute to New York for examinations by agents who have been in charge of the case.

CANADIAN IMMIGRANTS.

It appears that our highly restrictive
immigration law is working to the advantage of Canada. At least, that is the way Canada looks at the matter.
The Dominion wants more population, and immigrants excluded from this country are turning thither.

There has been a remarkable stimulus to Canadian immigration in the last few months. Immigrants from Great Britain have increased one-third,
and those from other countries, excepting the United States, have nearly doubled. There is a decrease from this country.

The gain, however, is really offset by the steady stream of Canadians pouring into the States. They are coming at the rate of 20,000 a month, which is more than all of Canada's European immigrants put together.
Even if, as Canadian figures indicate,
there are 4000 former Canadians returning every month from this country,
Canada seems to show a net immigration loss as a result of the drain to the States.

Thus there is a double loss to the Dominion, along with a sort of double gain to this country. The new immigrants in Canada are mostly of good stock, and are a welcome addition to the population, but still it takes time and effort to get them adjusted to Canadian life. The transition from Europe to Canada is more difficult than the transition from Canada to the United States. Canadians are the most easily assimilated of all foreigners who come here, and the most welcome. Canada seems to be fitting immigrants for this country. "And with very liberality, she is giving us more of them than we receive from all the other nations together."

SENATOR LODGE.

The death of Henry Cabot Lodge removes an interesting figure from the field of American politics and there can be no question but what his counsel will be missed, not only in the Senate of the United States but throughout the nation.

Senator Lodge was a man of rich education and a degree of wisdom born of long experience in the particular field to which he gave his attention.
He was a close student of both men and politics. He was not in any sense the group type of statesman, preferring, apparently to sail his own course without respect to party affiliations or political obligations. Notwithstanding the complete independence of action which appears to have characterized his entire career, he has been frequently held up as the leading example of high-browed partisanship to be found anywhere.

Senator Lodge was never a popular figure in politics, but few will question his sincerity or impute other than honest motives to his conduct. He brought to bear upon the problems of government a richly stored mind and a wealth of understanding. His contribution to society will grow in value
as the years pass.

DAWES DELIVERS ADDRESS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Charles C.
Dawes, vice president elect, yesterday made his first public address since his election a week ago. It was to a chorus of the Chicago Civic Opera company.
Entering out of the Auditorium the ater box office, the vice president elect encountered the "hymn of the resurrection of Samson and Delilah." The chorus spied him and in a moment had surrounded him, cheering and singing.
Mr. Dawes, somewhat abashed by the unexpected reception, reached for his pipe and failing to find it, made a speech.

Ancient Card Game

The origin of the game of whist is very obscure, but under its old name of triumph it was generally played about 1800. It is a game of interest and a Christmas sermon in 1829 at Cambridge in which the allegories were based on the game.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 12 (AP)— spare a little hour in the outlying district, that is given over unsolicited and almost completely to housing diseased dogs, cats, birds and horses,

and to spreading the gospel of humane endeavor.

In order to carry on their chosen work, H. H. Jacobs works as a bookkeeper, quint a dozen miles daily to her desk, while her sister, white-haired and frail, is housekeeper. In the 20 years since they began the enterprise, and it has been carried on solely through their own means and without monetary assistance, the Jacobses have cared for hundreds of animals, patiently nursing the sick back to strength and providing for the strays and discarded till good homes were found.

One example of appreciation is the action of Governor P. P. Baxter, who canceled the state house flag at Augusta, Mo., to be displayed at half mast when Garry, his Irish setter and faithful companion, was buried with seven of his forebears. The Jacobses are proud of Governor Baxter's friendship, and display his photograph when the incident is related.

Friendly Act.

In their community neighbors testify to friendly acts of these women that have touched human life as well, as there has been no criticism that unnecessary time and money were expended upon animals while youth went neglected.

Boys and girls, as well as grownups for miles around call regularly at the Jacobs' home for advice in caring for their pets, and the Misses Jacobs take advantage of the visits to drive home lessons in humane treatment and correct feeding.

WANTS RUSSIA RECOGNIZED.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 12 (AP)—
United States Senator William E.
Borah of Idaho, speaking Tuesday night before the convention of the state council of republican women, declared he does not believe the reconstruction of Europe can be effected except by the recognition of Russia by the United States. Emphasizing that he was "speaking for himself alone," Senator Borah added that he does "not believe it possible to have disarmament, open markets or settled economic questions in Europe without first settling the Russian problem."

$40,000 for Girl Hurt in Crash

ENNA SWENBERG (NY CT)

JUST AS A JURY was being sworn in to hear testimony in Miss Eva Steinberg's $40,000 suit against the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit company of New York, the company offered a settlement of $10,000, which was accepted.
This is said to be one of the largest damage suit settlements ever made.
She was injured in a collision between two trains and had to be carried into court on a stretcher, attended by her sister and Dr. Paul Lapides.

NEW PLANET SIGHTED

BY OBSERVERS FROM STATION ON MOUNTAIN

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 12 (AP)—The new planet first reported about two weeks ago by the Heidelberg, Germany, observatory, was sighted Tuesday night by Lick observatory of the University of California, official announced today.

From the peak of Mount Hamilton, where Lick observatory is situated, the astronomers obtained a good view of the unnamed new comer to the range of earthly vision. Its location was placed as between Mars and Jupiter. A remarkable feature was that its orbit seems to be longer than that of most planets.

At Lick observatory it was described as a minor planet, or asteroid, terms interchangeable. It was explained that the first message from Berlin referred to it merely as "an object," but that its nature was ascertained definitely last night by extended observation.

About a dozen such minute bodies are discovered every year, it was stated.
The new one is classed astronomically
as of the ninth magnitude.

Their Industry Gone

Picking pebbles for use in huge grinding mills used to be a profitable industry along the Pacific coast.
Science has invented a steel ball which does the work more quickly and lasts twice as long. As a result the market for pebbles is destroyed. The pebble pickers are hunting new jobs.

COST $21,366,255

Nearly $12,000,000 Devoted to Helping Victims of Great Japanese Earthquake.

OVER 3,000 BUSY CHAPTERS

Aid to Disabled War Veterans
Paramount and Reaches
Nearly $4,000,000.

Washington—More than $21,000,000
was the total of funds expended in all activities of the American Red Cross during the last fiscal year, ended June 30, says a statement issued by the National organization.
This expenditure was almost one-sixth of the amount of money disbursed by the Red Cross in the war year, July, 1917, to June, 1918. Of this extraordinary sum $11,631,933 was America's contribution to the Red Cross for relief of the Japanese earthquake victims. This was increased to $11,768,803 by appropriations from general funds of the Red Cross, and it represented probably the largest expansion of outpouring of beneficence by a single nation in the history of the world.

Over 3,000 active Chapters expended during the year $4,869,000. The National organization disbursed $15,497, 255, making the total $21,366,255—all for humanitarian work which reached practically around the world.

In announcing the year's record of American Red Cross activity the executive officials at Washington emphasized the chapters' constant and never-failing work of the Red Cross depends almost wholly upon the nation-wide support of the organization from the memberships enrolled during the annual roll call which this year will be in progress from Nov. 15 to 27, when everyone is asked to join or renew their membership in the American Red Cross.

Soldier Service Paramount

Service in behalf of the disabled veterans of the World War and their families is a paramount obligation of the Red Cross. The organization, through its chapters, is constantly in touch with this duty in 2,659 communities throughout the United States—
the chapters alone during the year expended in service for veterans about $2,000,000. The National organization expended $1,755,850 of $17,555, $25 applied to assisting war sufferers toward recovery from disability and distress.

This work is constant in hospitals,
sanitariums, camps, soldiers' homes,
in the community, for example, in helping disabled men and women to places where they were transient residents $173,076 from national funds alone was required to help solve their problems. Every Red Cross service is ever at hand ready to meet the incidental need of these men and women.

The enlisted men in the Regular Army, the Navy, and the Marine Corps, with their home ties, mean a never-ending Red Cross service which leaves constantly full interpretation. In this work a total of $655,295 was applied in meeting an obligation under the Red Cross charter which has been fulfilled for over 20 years.

Domestic Operations Extensive

In the past year Red Cross operations were almost wholly confined to continental disaster relief and the regular necessities. Relief work following disasters called for immediate activities in 192 places and a total of $737,607.87 was spent in this service.
In 33 major disasters trained workers were kept at the work of rehabilitation for many months.

In carrying on the health activities
a total of $141,856.66 from Red Cross
national funds, and $284,000 from Chapter treasuries—approximately $125,756 in all—was applied, giving some idea of the extent of Red Cross activity in the field of public health nursing, nutrition instruction, and spreading knowledge of personal hygiene and care of the sick in the home.

For advancing the cause of human safety, the First Aid instruction, local by chapters and over extensive national territory by the Red Cross Instruction car covering trunk line railroads, and in teaching water safety and increasing the membership of the Red Cross Life-Saving Corps, the total cost was $287,274.71, of which $216,231.71 came out of national funds.

Army of Over 5,600,000

The Junior Red Cross in the schools
—with over 5,600,000 in its "J" service
—was added with $233,510.75 to which it is estimated the Chapters added
some $277,000—a total of $510,510.75.
In various other domestic activities the Red Cross spent $25,472.19 and the Chapters in their numerous voluntary services expended an additional $1,645,000 during the year.

Foreign obligations, aside from Japan, were met with national funds
as follows: Relief of refugees in Greece, $200,857.18; Junior Red Cross projects, $39,573.75; League of Red Cross Societies, $165,000; other international and foreign work, $221,555.71.
The American Red Cross budget for 1925 is $1,614,770.85, or $655,295.96 less than the budget for the year ended last June 30.

Daddy's Evening
Fairy Tale

THE BIG WASH

"We are so cordial," said one of the two washbuds.
"So cordial," said the second wash
tub.
"We welcome a big wash," said the first washbud.
"We have fun when there is a big wash," said the second washbud.
"There is always a chance some of the water may spill over and that is an excitement."
"Then we like the soapy, foamy
water."

"And we like all the activity and fun of having the clothes moved about as they come in to accept our invitation to join the Big Washing Party."
"Yes," agreed the first washbud.
"That is true. But you know the one who washes the clothes says, every single week:
"Dear me, what a big wash!"
"She doesn't seem to like it so much. But still we can't help being cordial, you know."

"Now and again she seems to be very busy over other things, and a week goes by when no washing is done at all."
"Then there is high excitement, and
she says:
"My, my, what an enormous wash,
what a simply huge wash!"

"Well, you know we feel that as long as we do not entertain the week before, we should surely make up for it the following week."
"Then when she is ironing, she says:
"Gracious, but I didn't realize the wash was as big as all this. It just seems as though I couldn't get through!"

"And, the joke of it is, that as she is ironing and she is saying this,
the playful soiled clothes are being joined by other playful soiled clothes
for the next week's wash."

"It is a great joke."

"A great joke," said the second washbud.

"And the two washbuds then sang
their washbud song:

Washbud one,
Washbud two,
Oh, what splendid
work we do.
We just as they are,
So nice and clean,
We are always cordial,
We're never mean.

Washbud one,
Washbud two,
Soppy washbuds,
Clothes love you.
They are always
And splendidly sing
With you this song
Where Soap is King.

They also know
That to see them
Drooping all
They needn't do.
They come along
Just as they are,
With dirt and spots
From near and far.

But you don't mind
How dirty they seem,
You welcome them
With your soap-and-cream.
Oh, washbud one,
And washbud two,
You will always
Always do.

The two washbuds did not sing now.
They took a little rest, for soon another big wash would be coming along and the washbuds were going to be fresh and ready for their party.

And no matter what anyone said
about the big wash, the two washbuds liked it, for what would they do with themselves if there weren't big washes?

Washbuds would have little fun in life if clothes were always clean!

PRICE OF WHEAT GOES DOWN ON THE MARKETS

CHICAGO, Nov. 12 (AP)—Good grain reported in Argentina, pulled down the price of wheat heavily today, but sharp rallies resulted from important late commission house buying here and loss on corn strength. Wheat closing quotations were unsettled at 1 1/4 to 1 1/2c net decline. December $1.52 1/2 to $1.53 1/2, and May $1.42 1/2 to $1.43 1/2. Corn final bid 1 1/4 to 1 1/2c, net, varying from 25c decline to 1 1/4c gain, and provision 12 1/2c lower to 10c advance.

Asks from the better crop outlook in Argentina, the fact that a decline in wheat prices was to have been expected on account of the possibility of the recent advance, 10 cents a bushel, and the fact that the Liverpool market had under gone a decided downward move today, a surplus of wheat was expected to be sold in the near future. The fact that in the Liverpool market a decline of 1 cent a bushel before an irregular recovery set in.

Apparent deficit of new export business acted as a check on rallies in the wheat market. Only modestly higher quotations for the week, but the fact that the Liverpool market had under gone a decided downward move today, a surplus of wheat was expected to be sold in the near future. The fact that in the Liverpool market a decline of 1 cent a bushel before an irregular recovery set in.

COURT'S DECREE IS ASKED TO FIX CLAIM TO WATER

Heirs of Late Henry Schodde Seek Guarantee of Right to Divert 100 Inches of Snake River Flow.

Application of a court decree establishing their claim under filing made in 1895 to 100 inches of the flow of Snake river for irrigation of approximately 200 acres of land in Minidoka county, is made in a suit instituted in district court here Wednesday by Minnie Schodde, widow, and eight other heirs of the late Henry Schodde, against W. G. Swenson, state commissioner of reclamation, and G. Clyde Thibodeau, watermaster.

The decree that is asked, it is set forth, would be supplemental to the decree of the district court in 1913 in the case of the Twin Falls Canal company against Charles N. Fuster, wherein claims to waters of Snake river in this district were adjudicated, and the priority of each claim was established.

Pumps Replace Waterwheels.

Under the Schodde filing water was diverted from Snake river over a period of 20 years by means of waterwheels, which in 1915 gave place to pumps operated by electricity.

Heirs of Henry Schodde, named with Mrs. Minnie Schodde as plaintiffs in this action, are Minnie, Thomas, George, Lottie, Fred, Joe and Frank Schodde, and Clara Adams.

The action was instituted through attorneys E. A. Walters and R. P. Parry of this city.

CACHE VALLEY DAIRYMEN BUY BLOODED STOCK HERE

Logan, Utah, Men Take Many of Registered Guernsey Cattle Offered at J. A. Waters Sale.

Logan, Utah, dairymen and breeders at the sale here today of J. A. Waters' registered Guernsey cattle herd, bought a number of the animals for shipment to Cache valley to add to dairy herds in that region. The sale was well attended and the animals offered brought good prices. A registered bull sold for $300 and two top cows sold for $250 each. One 2-year-old heifer brought $250.

The top price for grade stock offered at this sale was $97.50 for a 2-year-old heifer, and yearling grades brought from $55 to $85 each. Auctioneers were E. O. Walter and R. L. Shearer of Piler.

CAPTAIN BLOOD.
Initial showing of the photoplay version of Rafael Sabatini's historical novel, "Captain Blood," at the Idaho theater Wednesday was witnessed by an audience that evidenced its thorough approval of the offering, which reviewers have pronounced one of the greatest films since "The Birth of a Nation."

Those who had read the story found satisfaction in the fact that the cinema version has faithfully followed its text even to details, and the audience as a whole delighted in the presentation of a powerful drama of cold steel and warm hearts, soft words and hard eyes, powder and lace, cutlasses and velvet.

J. Warren Kerrigan, Jean Paige, Allan Forrest, James Morrison, Otis Harlan, Charlotte Merriam and a large cast do some good work. Love interest is well defined, suspense cleverly sustained and there is a haven of comedy and thrills of combat that cause real shivers.

Tom Birchell, opera baritone, singing in costume a prologue to the photoplay, himself provided a splendid number and contributed generously to the offering as a whole.

Winter Weather Comes To Twin Falls Region

Precipitation for the period was recorded at 12 one-hundredths of an inch.
