CREDIT SCHEME
TO HELP CHINA
TAKING SHAPEA "Dawes" Plan to Straighten Out Financial Difficulties of Nation Is Reported Under Way.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—A "Dawes" plan for China, arranged by business men rather than diplomats at an international conference soon to be called by China herself, was reported in financial circles here today to be taking tentative shape.

American business interests operating in the far east have meanwhile suggested to the state department that such a parity plan favor the funding of old Chinese obligations, instead of endorsing new loans. It was also learned that Chinese representatives have already been sound as to the acceptability as possible delegates Dr. J. W. Jenks, the economist of Cuba university, and Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles, a member of the Dawes commission.

To Invite Powers.

Revelation of the new development has come with receipt of recent advice from Peking which indicate that Dr. C. T. Wang, the new foreign minister of China, proposes to invite the various foreign powers interested in China to attend such a parity at Peking soon. The meeting would be to discuss ways and means to bring China out of her present financial depression and "back into credit."

The "Dawes" plan aspect as seen here is conditional upon what representatives China invites the various governments to send. It seems to be generally assumed, however, that Dr. Wang will "invite business men," the minister feeling that to invite officials would merely act to cement other experience like the nine powers customs treaty. This instrument has been moribund ever since its adoption at the disarmament conference for failure of all the powers to agree specifically, because of the refusal of France to become a signatory.

The state department phase brings to light that ten of the leading American corporations operating in China about six months ago formed a protective association for the purpose of safeguarding their activities across the Pacific. The American material controls committee of the Chinese government is the official title.

WOMAN STRANGLED TO DEATH; MAN IS HELD
AS MURDER SUSPECT

DETROIT, Nov. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Lee Bowers, 27, was found strangled to death in her apartment in Selden avenue, early today. Police are holding Lee Hawkins, 30, on suspicion, although they expressed belief he could not have harmed the woman for he had a broken arm and shoulder and carried his arm in a cast.

Hawkins told the police he and Mrs. Bowers came here from Alabama about a month ago. He said he left Mrs. Bowers at 7 o'clock last evening and returned at midnight to find her body on the bed.

Army of Ranchers Defies City
In "Water War" for Dying Crops

LONGPINE, Inyo County, Cal., Nov. 17 (AP)—An army of ranchers without guns, with no acknowledged leader, but acting in unison, backed by wives and daughters, tonight is camping on the Alabama gate of the Los Angeles aqueduct, defying all county and city authority in its determination to ward off Los Angeles water until the city shall make settlement of the "water war" that has waged for years in Owens river valley.

Late today Sheriff Charles Collins of Inyo county served the assurances with the county's superior court order designed to restrain the ranchers from interfering with the aqueduct, but it had no appreciable effect on the situation.

Served on Black One.

Copies of the legal document were handed to each man. Some put them in their pockets. Others threw them into the spillway where hundreds of gallons of water are rushing by every minute away from, instead of toward the city of Los Angeles.

"Who is your leader?" the little army was asked.

"We have none, but we are acting together," was the reply. "The big city has fooled us ranchers long enough taking the water and the land and let-

PERMIT FROM FOREST
SERVICE TO HUNT DEER
WILL NOT BE ALLOWED

FLAGSTAFF, Arizona, Nov. 17 (AP)—Acting on authority of Governor Hunt, a sheriff's posse left here today for the boundaries of the Kaibab national forest for the announced purpose of arresting hunters who leave the game refuge with deer in their possession. This refuge was opened to hunting today by forestry service, officials announced.

FOREST IS OVERSTOCKED.

OGDEN, Nov. 17 (AP)—B. E. Gery, acting forester of district No. 4, said today that R. H. Budge, district forester who is now in Kaibab forest, had issued permits to 40 persons who reside near the forest to enter the reserve and hunt deer. The district forester's action, Mr. Gery said, was in accordance with recommendations made by investigators who studied the overstocked condition of the forest and compiled a report for the department of agriculture.

STOCK MARKET
RENEWS STRONG
UPWARD TREND

Trade Revival Theory Causes
Prices and Trading to Shoot
Skyward; Industrials at Post War Boom Peaks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—The stock market having obtained its "second wind" over the week-end after running at a furious pace in the ten business days preceding election, today bounded forward on the second lap of the "bull" movement which is found on the speculative theory that a marked revival of trade is in prospect. Sixty issues were lifted to new peak prices for the year during the day's trading which fell slightly short of 1,500,000 shares, with net gains of one to six points scattered throughout the list.

The average of 29 leading industrial stocks mounted to the highest level since the post war boom was at its height in the early part of 1920, while the average of 20 leading railroad shares was at the highest point in more than seven years.

Hesitates Slightly.

The market hesitated slightly at the outset as professional traders held off to find out whether the public was going to "buy them" or "sell them."

They did not have to wait long because buying orders began to pour in over commission house wires from all sections of the country. The tremendous demand for stocks in the last week has resulted in a sharp decrease in the "floating supply" with the result that some sharp advances occurred in many of the popular speculative issues.

Speculative interest continued to shift from group to group, with the best gains being recorded by the high grade rail, public utilities, motors and merchandising issues, especially those in favorable earning positions.

New York Central led the advance in rails by moving up more than two points to 119, its highest price since 1912. Buying of this group was stimulated by reports that the October 1934 dividend for the land he waste. We're going to stay on these gates until Los Angeles comes to terms and there's nobody who can put us off, at least nobody but the militia."

Threaten Aqueduct.

"But," said one man, and his threat was echoed by a chorus of a dozen others, "if there is a single one of us hurt in showing us out of here, it will mean the destruction of the Los Angeles aqueduct."

Campfires sprang all around the big spillway as supper time drew near in the valley and wives, and daughters from the ranches throughout the district began preparing the meal in old-time pioneer fashion over the open flames.

Bodding arrived in large loads for the "army of occupation," and every evidence was apparent of an intention to stay on the job until it is finished or until the militia comes.

In reply to an oft-repeated question as to what proportion of the ranch population was behind the seizure and opening of the waste gates, the correspondent was assured by more than a score of men that "from 95 to 100 per cent of the Owens River valley approved the move."

RONDOUT MAIL
ROBBERY TRIAL
IS UNDER WAY

One of Robbers Tells of Parts Played by Postal Inspector
and Others in Two Million Dollar Holdup.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Jesse Newton, one of the six confessed Rondout mail robbers, today told from the witness stand the story of his part in the $2,000,000 holdup.

Brent Glascock, another of the confessed men, directed the operations of the bandit band, Newton said, and James Murray and William J. Fahy, former postal inspectors, supplied information concerning movements of the mails. Murray, Fahy and Walter McComb are now on trial for complicity in the robbery.

First to Suggest Job.

Newton said that Murray was the first to suggest "some good jobs around Chicago," and plans were laid to intercept a $100,000 currency shipment in Indianapolis. This fell through, however, when the band learned that its information was erroneous. Fahy, Newton asserted, was the person who told them the money was to pass through Danville, Ill., and not Indianapolis.

Then, the witness declared, Murray gathered information concerning the shipments of currency over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad and a new plan was laid to hold up one of the more heavily laden trains. Newton and his brothers, Joe, Willie and Willis, and Brent Glascock and Herbert Holliday, all of whom have pleaded guilty, met in a south side cafe to perfect last minute arrangements. Willis and Holliday rode the "blind" of the train out of Chicago and the other four drove to Rondout in two automobiles.

Used Flashlight.

"Glascock stopped the train with a flashlight," Jess Newton continued; pretty soon Holliday came up to me with two men, the engineer and the fireman, and told me to take them and the flagman up to where the cars were standing. I let them sit on the bumper of one of the cars.

"Pretty soon Holliday brought Willie over to me. He was shot. We put him

FRUIT COMPANY SUES
STATE TO RECOVER ON CORPORATION PENALTY

BOISE, Nov. 17 (AP)—Suit against the state of Idaho to recover $431.85 corporation fees and penalties, was started late this afternoon in the supreme court by the Earl Fruit company. The company claims these fees were illegally collected by the state when the Earl Fruit company took over the Earl Fruit Company of the Northwest in 1923.

The Earl Fruit company started doing business in the state in 1913, the complaint sets forth. In 1917 the Earl Fruit company of the Northwest was formed to handle Idaho business, and the parent company sought to have its charter cancelled. This the complaint alleges, the state refused to allow.

In 1913 the parent company took over the northwest branch and in order to have its charter reinstated, the complaint claims, was forced to pay fees and penalties for the period from 1917 on. This collection, the complaint alleges, was illegal, and the suit is brought to recover the fees thus collected.

THREE LINES OF
ACTION PLANNED
BY COMMISSION

Agricultural Relief Organization
Gets to Work; Discuss Problems With President Coolidge at Conference.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The commission recently appointed by President Coolidge to make a comprehensive analysis and report on farm problems with a view to arriving at a program for the permanent stabilization of agriculture decided at its initial meeting today to proceed along three lines, namely, the study of pending farm legislation, inquiry into the administration of present laws, and plans for inculcating in the farmer an appreciation of the value of co-operation.

Eight of the nine members of the commission, comprising leaders in farm life from every agricultural section of the country called at the White House before entering executive session at the department of agriculture and were welcomed by Mr. Coolidge.

Follows Address.

Mr. Coolidge in discussing the agricultural situation as it stands today is understood to have followed in general the subject as outlined by him in a public address last week before the association of land grant colleges.

Proposed Legislation.

Proposed legislation expected to come under the commission's study, it was believed, includes the McNary-Haugen export corporation bill, the Norris-Sisclair bill, Capper-Williams and Curtis-Aswell measures—all either awaiting consideration at the coming short session of congress or the passage of completion in conference. Consideration of these and any other measures that may be proposed later is expected to be given with the hope of correlating or eliminating objectionable features and arriving at a plan which will suit all interested parties.

Present farm laws will be gone over, it was said, for the purpose of determining whether they are being properly enforced or are grouped under the proper department or bureau and whether it would be advisable to transfer responsibility for their administration.

Millionaire's Life
Made Miserable by Hounding Woman

Witnesses Tell of Events That Led to Disorderly Conduct Complaint Being Filed in Tombs Court.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—An office boy, a stenographer and a chauffeur were witnesses today when Miss Maxwell Buell of Westchester, N. Y., appeared in Tombs court as defendant to a charge of disorderly conduct with Jefferson Livingston, "ketchup king," as the complainant.

Their testimony with that of Livingston was that Miss Buell made life miserable for the millionaire, that she had walked in upon him and his friends at dinner at the Waldorf Astoria; had driven him from his automobile when it was caught in traffic jams; and had carried a gun when she visited Livingston's office to demand money.

Miss Buell and Livingston were charged with breach of contract, declaring that he did not keep a promise to pay her $1750 a month for life. He contended he had settled with her for $12,500 cash.

She was arrested at Livingston's Wall street office last Thursday and taken to a police station in her own sedan after a scene which the "ketchup king" declared as the climax to a series of embarrassing episodes.

Magistrate Simpson declined the request of Miss Buell's counsel that the charge be dismissed and the request of Livingston's counsel that she be sent to Bellevue psychiatric ward for observation. Trial will be resumed Wednesday.

FARM BUREAU PLANS MEETING AT POCATELLO

State Federation Conference in Gate City Will Be Attended by Many; Notices Are Mailed to Leaders.

POCATELLO, Idaho, Nov. 17.—Preparations for the annual meeting of the Idaho Farm Bureau Federation, which will be held at Pocatello November 20 to 22, are moving rapidly forward. Notices of the meeting have been mailed out to 250 farm bureau leaders in this state by Secretary Nash and every farm man and woman have been extended an invitation to attend. Indications are that this will be one of the largest gatherings of farmers to be held in this state for some years. This convention will last for three days. The program committee is arranging the program schedule with the idea of getting fully considered and action upon the many phases of the agricultural program which is being developed by this organization, and to permit, also, some needed entertainment features. Following musical numbers, morning and afternoon, a routine business session of 25 to 45 minutes will be held, after which an agricultural address by a speaker of state or national prominence will be given.

All to Attend. All delegates and visitors to the convention will attend these sessions. At 11 o'clock each morning, and at 4 o'clock each afternoon, the convention will dissolve itself into conferences for the special consideration of some special farm problem. Reports and conclusions of these special conferences will be made by a specially named spokesman of that conference, and action of the convention had on the matter when such report shall be made.

In addition to the general call for the convention, or annual meeting, invitations have been issued by the Federation to the Co-operative Marketing organizations of the state for a joint conference on the problems confronting that industry, and to the extension division of the University of Idaho to attend for a joint conference of county agents. The Idaho Beet Growers' state committee have also been called into joint session, and arrangements are being made for the leading poultrymen of southwest Idaho to attend and have a joint conference on poultry problems.

During the convention trip will be made to the Kraft cheese factory, the Kahn potato packing plant and the Idaho-Oregon Egg Producers' plant; all recent acquisitions in distribution and processing of Idaho farm products. Rural women's work will be considered in conference, and in addition to special features of interest to them, a farm and city banquet will be held at the Bannock hotel Friday evening, November 21.

GRANDSON OF GARIBALDI WANTS TO FIGHT

GENERAL PEPPINO GARIBALDI, grandson of the great Italian liberator, has declined the challenge to a duel sent him by General Vaxil, commanding the Roman legions of the fascist, who charges Garibaldi insulted the fascist in a message of protest, in which he asserted many former Italian soldiers had been attacked in cowardly fashion by the fascist. Garibaldi declined the duel, declaring he intended to fight the head of the fascist, Premier Benito Mussolini.

EGYPT CABINET WOULD RESIGN

Demonstrations of Sympathy Follows Premier's Announcement That He Wants to Quit.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 17 (AP)—Demonstrations of sympathy by the populace of Cairo have been held here after the surprising news became known that Zagloul Pasha, the Egyptian premier, had presented the resignation of his cabinet in the chamber of deputies.

The chamber had met to elect a president and other officers and nobody expected anything unusual, but the premier, in a brief statement, announced that he had informed the king he was too tired to continue in office and must tender his resignation. The premier added that he hoped to be happier as an ordinary member of parliament. With a wave of his hand he left the chamber, accompanied by his ministers.

The members appeared to be stunned but soon adopted a vote of confidence in Zagloul by an overwhelming majority and then adjourned.

The premier and his ministers repaired to the senate where a similar statement was made by Zagloul. Efforts are being made to induce the cabinet to withdraw its resignation. To a number of deputies and senators who visited him tonight for this purpose, Zagloul said: "I can not work amid intrigues." This was interpreted as showing that in addition to divergencies of opinion in the cabinet itself, there have been attempts to undermine Zagloul's authority.

NEW LANGUAGE URGED FOR USE OF ALL NATIONS

John Carroll University Professor Thinks Countries Should Speak Same Tongue; Proposes Ido.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17 (AP)—A new universal language, Ido, which he terms "the most perfect language in existence," is being advocated by the Rev. F. L. Odenbach, seismograph observer of John Carroll University here. Speaking recently of Ido, Father Odenbach said: "The telephone and radio have brought the peoples of this earth within speaking distance, but the scenes enacted are suggestive of what must have happened at the Tower of Babel. The remedy, however, is in Ido, a language which may be learned at home in a few months. The salient features of this new and perfect vehicle of thought follow: The alphabet is the English one, with a single sound for each letter; the spelling is absolutely phonetic; every word has but one invariable meaning. "The accent is governed by a single rule: The infinitive form has the accent on the last syllable; all other words of more than one syllable on the last but one.

Twenty Endings. "There are but 20 grammatical endings to be learned by heart. All nouns end in "o," all adjectives in "a," and all adverbs in "e"; the rest are used for the conjugation of the verb.

A dictionary of 10,000 roots, with about 75 suffixes, forms the material of this auxiliary language. The Ido dictionary thus put at our disposal some 30,000 words, twice as many as Shakespear used.

GOMPERS IS AROUSED OVER SHOOTING OF MEXICAN IN CONGRESS

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 17 (AP)—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, told a delegation from the Mexican Confederation of Labor Saturday that the shooting of Deputy Morones in the Mexican chamber seemed "an attempt at assassination of the republic of Mexico and the freedom of the people of the country."

Mr. Gompers' remarks in greeting the Mexican delegation were embodied in a formal public statement issued at headquarters of the American federation.

"The attack was directed on Morones by enemies," the statement said.

PLANS FOR ARMS PARLEY ADVANCE

Commissions of League Select Experts to Aid Group Frame Armament Agenda.

GENEVA, Nov. 17 (AP)—Preparations for the proposed international conference for the reduction of armaments were advanced a step when the military and permanent military commissions of the league of nations selected the countries which will furnish six experts to sit with the special committees which are to help in framing the agenda of the arms conference.

France and Italy will each appoint a military representative, Great Britain and Japan naval representatives, and Brazil and Spain an air expert. Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Belgium will each furnish one substitute delegates for each of the above three groups.

The military commission also drew up a preliminary category of military and civil experts from whom will be chosen the commissions which later will conduct an investigation of the armaments situation in Germany and other central powers under the treaty of Versailles.

FIRST OF PLAY SERIES COMING TO LAVERING

"Kempy," which comes to the Laving Saturday night, will afford nearly every member of the Olsen Players an exceptional opportunity to do clever work. Mitchell was the featured comedian and other leading roles were assumed by the authors of the comedy, Messrs. J. C. and Elliot Nugent. "Kempy" is a slice of life itself, a pleasing mixture of sentiment and merriment, with a fine undercurrent of family loyalty.

The story centers around the well-to-do family named Bence, who lived on the main street of a small New Jersey town. "Dad" Bence, an elderly, retired business man, has married off his oldest daughter and is spending all of his energies and bank account to the task of getting his second daughter, Kate, a temperamental young lady, safely married. Into this situation is injected "Kempy," James, a young plumber, who wants to be an architect, and who arrives to repair a water pipe. Following a lovers' quarrel over Kate's latest ambition, to be a musical comedy prima donna, she elopes with the dumbfounded "Kempy" who is really smitten by the charms of Kate's younger sister, Ruth. The second and third acts of the play are devoted to a highly amusing manner to straightening out this complication and to the task of arranging marital affairs to the satisfaction of everybody.

It is more than likely that "Kempy" will draw one of the largest audiences yet attracted to the Laving theater, by the admirable performances offered by the Olsen Players. They have expended considerable money in securing this play and will undoubtedly be well rewarded.

Happy Thrift

HAPPY thrift doesn't mean doing without what you want. It means doing without what you thought was what you wanted—and found wasn't. It means doing without such mistakes before you mistake them.

The only insurance against buying wares you don't want is knowing wares advertised. You can depend upon home furnishings, clothes, foods you see pictured and described everywhere. They are what other folks want, buy and are thrifty about. Wide enjoyment lowers their prices. Thrift again! And they serve to the very limit of their claims.

THE GUMPS—WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN?

BRITISH AUTO
TRADE PICKING
UP IS REPORT

Motor Car Industry Which Seemed Dead Shows Surprising Turn; Prices Higher Than in United States.

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The British motor car industry, which appeared as though the sleep of death was nigh when the tariff against foreign cars was lifted last spring, must have been merely playing possum. Never has it been a more robust, active, eager and optimistic business than when the annual motor show at Olympia revealed a multitude of glistening cars.

That there is fierce competition from without the country, as well as within, one could see in the show. Under the vast arched roof of Olympia stood French cars, American cars, Dutch cars, Italian cars; all eager for a place in the occasional English sun. But there were more British models than ever before, and they were, many of them, cheaper. Especially has there been a welcome decline in the price of the smaller cars that appeal to men of moderate purse.

Smaller Production.

Automobile prices are still considerably higher here than in the United States. Most likely they always will be, for no such gigantic mass production as goes on in America is ever contemplated on this side. But the day when only the wealthy or near-wealthy of Europe could afford automobiles is gone. The light car—tiny in size, puny in horsepower it may seem to Americans—made for Europe's internal combustion car a dramatic one. The cars of seven and eight horsepower, seating two persons and capable of getting 30 miles and more out of a gallon, are priced this year under $750. They have four-wheel brakes, low-pressure balloons, tires and many of the other up-to-the-minute necessities.

Above this baby car type, which becomes increasingly popular, there are generally speaking, three grades. There is the small car of 12 to 15 horsepower, the medium car with power ranging up to 20 horsepower, and then the more expensive, heavier, luxury cars, so-called. Taxation of $5 per horsepower per year and the high cost of petrol have given the light car its chance to develop, and the makers have done such a good job of adjusting the products to these conditions that the low-power automobile is probably a permanent thing in England. The roads are almost all good, and the grades moderate, so that cars of great pulling strength are little needed.

American Car Popular.

American cars, especially those of the middle class, which sell in the United States at between $1,000 and $3,000, continue to be popular in England. There is in some extent, however, a prejudice against them because they are American cars. Some rail at them as too "standardized," and lacking in the finish and comfort of European products. But most of the prejudice is an outgrowth of post-war economic conditions and the growth of ardent nationalism now so apparent throughout Europe. Few buyers, however, worry much about who built a car. The average Briton buys what he thinks will give him the most satisfaction for his money, whether it flies the Union Jack or no.

WAR DEPARTMENT ASKS
FOR RECORDS FROM MEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP)—The war department has issued an appeal for war time officers, field clerks and enlisted men of the army in France, requesting that they forward to the department any papers they may have which would throw light upon the participation of war units to which they were attached.

"No war time papers should be thrown away," the department declared. "Even an informal note or a rough sketch may be the key to an important situation."

The papers are desired in order that the historical section of the general staff may complete a series of monographs covering the participation of the American forces in the various operations of the world war, and also that "all orders, reports, diaries, memorandums, maps, telegrams, messages, informal notes, etc., bearing upon activities or operations may be with the records of the proper units to file in the adjutant general's office."

WHEAT GETS SETBACK ON CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 (AP)—Wheat—Underwent something of a setback in price today after announcement that the United States visible supply total had increased to nearly 100,000,000 bushels. The wheat market closed heavy. The wheat market closed $1.53 1/2 to 1.53 3/4, and May $1.50 1/2 to 1.50 3/4 with corn at 7 1/2 to 1 1/4 gal. oats, 1.8 to 3 1/2 up, and provisions varying from 12c decline to a rise of 7 to 8 cents.

The first wheat market was influenced chiefly by reports of frost in Argentina and by an upturn in quotations both at Buenos Aires and Liverpool. Subsequently, word was received that Argentine frost had done but little damage. Profit taking sales here tended to weaken activity and it was estimated that new purchasing for trans-Atlantic shipments amounted to 1,500,000 bushels. Heavy clearances for Europe also were noted as well as the fact the primary arrivals are smaller than has recently been the case. One reason given for the big increase shown in the visible supply total was that wheat heretofore blocking terminal yards, is being put into storage and therefore bulging the visible supply.

Corn increased important strength. Gossip was current that very little new

But the best gains were recorded in the public utility, railroad, automotive and merchandising issues. Trading was in large volume, the day's falling slightly below 1,700,000 shares.

The principal news developments of the day was the decision of the executive committee of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas national company to recommend the inauguration of dividends at the rate of $2 a year on preferred stock which will require $1,500,000 annually. Net income applicable to such dividends is expected to be in excess of $5,000,000 for the current year. The announcement, which was not made until after the market had closed, undoubtedly was a disappointment to many traders who had expected the full rate $7 to be established at this time.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP)—Raw sugar advanced 1-8c today to the basis of 5.00, duty paid. The only sale reported was 3000 bags Cuban to an outport refiner, prompt shipment.

Except for December, which was higher on speculating, raw sugar futures after a steady advance, reached another commission house selling, influenced by the more favorable weather in Cuba. Final prices were 12 points higher on December and one to three lower on later deliveries. December closed 4.12, March 3.17, May 3.29, July 3.29.

Refined sugar was firm and unchanged to 15 points higher, but business continued light. Fine granulated is now quoted from 7.15 to 7.40. Refined futures were nominal.

One Thing He Did Know
A magnate on trial had a very good idea of the value of a speech attracted a large gallery, and one of the listeners was so deeply impressed that he leaned over to the defendant and said: "What a lawyer that man is. Pearls of wisdom drop from his mouth. I don't know about the rest, but he is magnificent." "But I do know that what he is saying is costing me at least a dollar a word."

Is This To Be a Gland Age?
In a recent press dispatch, a London physician stated that the Golden Age of man bids fair to be the glandular age, when salvation will be taken in a tablet form. He said further that the average man believes that his thoughts, actions and feelings are controlled by his mind. But it is possible to show that mind is under the despotic sway of the ductless glands, which generate in the system the chemical forces on which depend health, happiness and morality. Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, prepared in tablet form provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment.

SAVING THE CARBLES.

Notwithstanding the tremendous outlay in connection with the "Safety First" campaign, the constant risk of grade crossings is apparently almost as great a problem as ever.

Machines can be constructed which will rarely if ever make a mistake,
but the fallibility of the human equation is probably as great as it ever was.

In Wisconsin one of the most elaborate pieces of mechanism ever devised for the safeguarding of life has been set up at a grade crossing near Racine. At the crossing there is an actual barrier of complex mechanism.

The barrier differs from the ordinary crossing gates in its yielding and braking equipment. An automobile may safely run into this barrier. In a test, a passenger motor car, traveling sixty miles an hour, was run into it and was gradually stopped within thirty feet without any injurious shock or jar. A heavy truck was effectively brought to a stop within a safe distance from the tracks even though no attempt was made to shut off the power after the barrier was struck.

To make this marvelous device perfectly safe under all circumstances,
two signals are erected at the side of the track to warn approaching trains of the position of the barrier.
If the barrier works, a colored light indicates that fact to the approaching train. If a failure occurs, a red light shows and warns the train.

But this is not all. On the other side of the barrier a preliminary warning to motorists is located far enough away to permit the driver to stop his car before he gets to the barrier.
This warning is a long arm from which hang flexible steel tendrils covered with bamboo. The arm swings out across the road if a train is approaching, and the "whiplash" ends strike the car with a rattling noise. As the arm swings out, an illuminated sign announces "Train Coming."

This looks like an infallible arrangement, warning the careful automobilist, unceremoniously stopping the reckless motorist and even announcing to the locomotive engineer that all is well or not. But its very complexity is indicative of the uncertainty of the human element in the problem and also of the occasional failure of even the most ingenious devices.

The way to eliminate the crossing problem is to eliminate grade crossings.

STILL MORE BOOT-FREE BONDS.

The voters in various states and cities on November 4 authorized about six hundred million dollars more tax free bonds. All of these will soon be thrown upon the market, and all will probably find ready buyers. The national increase in the volume of untaxed securities this calendar year is expected to reach two billion dollars, making the grand total outstanding somewhere near fifteen billion dollars.

The public improvements to be paid for by the new issues, it may be assumed, are nearly all desirable; and if the localities concerned are willing to stand the expense, that is their own business. A regard for the future of the country, however, raises the inquiry as to when this kind of thing is going to end. Before many years there may be fifty-billion-dollar or one hundred billion dollars of American capital invested in untaxable securities.

Every good economist recognizes this policy as unsound. If incomes are taxed, it is fairer and better to tax incomes from all sources, which was the apparent intent of the existing income tax law. Bonds issued at present can not be affected, but there is a growing demand for Congress to forbid new tax-exempt issues.

SWEDEN AGREES
TO ARBITRATION

Makes Treaties With Germany
and Norway to Settle All Its Disputes Hereafter.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 17 (AP)—Sweden is doing her bit towards paving the way for universal arbitration against war, and has permanently safeguarded
all her relations with two of her neighbors, as is shown by two official announcements just made here. Arbitration treaties with Germany and Norway have been signed, and others probably will follow soon.

The provisions concerning rules and constitution of the arbitration committee in the agreement with Norway are drawn up in conformity with Sweden's proposal before the League of Nations in 1920. The two parties pledge themselves to submit to a permanent constitution committee all disputes of whatever nature which can not, within a reasonable period, be settled through the usual diplomatic channels and which are not to be submitted to the permanent international court.

The Swedish treaty with Germany is similar but has a codicil to the effect that in case Germany joins the permanent Court of International Arbitration
at The Hague or becomes a member of the League of Nations the settlement of disputes shall be transferred to the world court.

the school. As a result, a large num-school by attending and observing the work of the pupils. The pupils of the third and fourth grades, with Miss

RECLAIM THREE MILLION ACRES
OF SWAMP LAND

Cost of Missouri - Arkansas
Project To Be $50,000,000;
World's Greatest Work Engineers Declare.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Nov. 17 (AP)—What engineers describe as the world's greatest drainage reclamation project is now nearing completion at an ultimate total cost of more than $50,000,000. Nearly 3,000,000 acres of swamp lands in the St. Francis river basin of southeastern Missouri and northeastern Arkansas will have been made tillable.

Excavations will total upwards of 500,000,000 cubic yards, according to engineering estimates, or more than in the construction of the Panama canal.

Jump in Value.
Lands which were virtually worthless now are valued at from $10 to $100 an acre. Corn, wheat, cotton and a number of other crops are successfully raised on the soils built up by deposits brought down by the Mississippi and other large rivers.

With the removal of stagnant water,
the mosquito has disappeared, and with it malaria. Home seekers have poured in by the thousands.

The Little river drainage district,
the largest ever organized, has authorized a new $5,000,000 bond issue to provide additional drainage and flood protection for its one-half million acres.

The plan originally adopted and carried out provided for the diversion of the water of the hill streams by digging a channel on the northern border
of the district to the Mississippi river.
This was paralleled by 40 miles of levees. More than 700 miles of ditches then were constructed to carry off the surface waters. These ditches, which are 100 feet wide and 15 feet deep, empty into Big Lake, Arkansas.

The cost of drainage has been met by bond issues, retired in 20 years by taxes levied on the lands according to benefit. The average cost has been around $20 an acre.

DRINK HANDICAPS

BRITISH NATION

While Drunkenness Has Decreased Since 1914 Amount Used Still Hurts Labor.

LONDON, Nov. 17 (AP)—While it is generally admitted that drunkenness
has greatly decreased in Great Britain since 1914, there is still much room for improvement, according to some of the country's big employers of labor.
At a luncheon of the Business Men's (National Commercial Temperance)
League, Sir Dyson Mallinson, head of a firm of cotton brokers, said England could be the envy of the world but for the handicap imposed by the drink habit. Sir R. Murray Haydon, an employer of 40,000 workers, testified to the extremely practical work of the National Commercial Temperance
League.

For every 20 shillings spent on education in England, this speaker said, 70 shillings was spent on drink.

Drunkenness had decreased, but the picture was marred by the fact that clubs had sprung up where public houses had disappeared. He expressed admiration for America's courage in adopting prohibition.

DADDY'S

Mary Graham Bonner
AUTHOR OF "THE NATURELAND NEWS"

BROWNIELAND BULLETIN

"I've a copy of the Brownieland Bulletin," said Billie Browne to the others.

"I brought that out this time, together with some of my Brownie helpers, as I hadn't enough items this time for the Natureland News."

"Let's hear the Brownieland Bulletin," they all said.

So Billie Browne sat on a little stump and the others sat around and read the following:

"There will be a Christmas holiday party given at Brookwood-on-the-lake. Invitations are just out. Several little girls are mad and aren't speaking to each other just now, but it is to be hoped that as the Christmas season approaches this will not be the case."

"It is so awkward to give a party
when some don't speak to others!"

"Besides it is so foolish."

"Games are going to be the feature of Lucy's holiday party. The most popular game is hide-and-seek but Come-home, come-home wherever you are," is set to be the way this game ends at Lucy's because there are such wonderful and such difficult places
for hiding."

"This is the Brownieland greeting
to the Boys and Girls:

"Merrie Christmas, girls and boys—
May you get magnificent toys."

"Then we have one for the reindeer:

"Reindeer, pray do not be sad.
Automobiles are a bit of a fad.
You will all be the way this year
From our high place you'll never fall."

"There is to be a Thanksgiving party before all this, however. The Dirt, the Little Dog.

boys will dress up as girls and the girls will dress up as boys.

"The boys are planning to look as much as possible like girls and they will take off the ways of girls."

"It is to be hoped they will not forget their parts as was the case in a party like this last year."

"Last year the boys dressed as girls forgot they were girls at one time and started like wrestle."

"The little music box sends word to the Bulletin that it and all music boxes never get tired of playing the same tunes over and over."

"In fact they have the same spirit about the tunes no matter how many times they are played and nothing discourage them except when they are not wound up."

"Then they are very sad."

"A horse sends word to the Bulletin that he hopes there will not be many whips sold this year and can't we do something about it?"

"He says that when it is known that horse sense means good sense it seems unfair to strike a horse. He says he cannot bear it when he passes by a shop and sees people trying whips to see which is the best—and he doesn't mean anything pleasant."

"We are glad to use his message and hope that living rose more and more kindly and humanely treated all
the time."

"The Animals' club sends word that they hope people will think they show up pretty well, even in spite of the fact that they can never say a word in defense of themselves if anything goes wrong, nor can they ever praise themselves."

"And people can always say little nice things about themselves."

"The dining room chairs have sent word to the Bulletin that they are as stiff as ever, and still refuse to un-bend, and the living room sofa sends word it is the same soft, comfortable, lax, friendly sofa."

"Dirt, the little dog which was running around without any friends, has a master now. He could hardly believe it when he was welcomed and loved and the living rose more and more kindly and humanely treated all
the time."

"That is all the news in the Bulletin
this time," Billie Browne ended.

you count right?"

"Oh, yes, I did, but someone brought

FIRE DESTROYS CAR TOP

Small Boy Makes Dangerous Exit From Blazing Machine; Origin of Flames Is Unexplained.

J. M. Vance of Boise, connected with the engineering department of the Idaho Power company, lost the top of his car at Hazelton on Sunday afternoon in an accident of an unusual kind.

Mr. Vance parked in front of a friend's house and while he was with, in the little son of his host climbed into the car as it stood at the curb. In some manner fire attacked the curtains, spread to the top and before long the upholstery was also ablaze.

Attention of the boy's father and Mr. Vance was called to the situation by the cries of the youngster who at first, was unable to get out but finally crawled over the seat and managed to escape by a rear door.

The car was brought to Twin Falls Sunday afternoon and will be repaired here. Engine and running gear is undamaged but new upholstery, curtains and top will be necessary.

COURT RULES ON ISSUE ON SALMON

Holds With Counsel for Settler That Settlement Must Precede Foreclosure Suit.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (AP).—The supreme court today held that all settlers furnished water by the Twin Falls, Idaho, Salmon River Land and Water company must be considered parties to any suit brought to recover on "settlers' contracts" to pay for the irrigation project.

The decision was handed down in a case brought by the Commonwealth Trust company against Max and Margaret Smith. The court held that the questions presented could not be determined without consulting the interests of all settlers owning the water rights in the irrigation company.

Supreme court of the United States, in a decision handed down in a suit instituted by trustees for Salmon River Land and Water company bondholders against Max Smith, Sunday River project settler, to foreclose on a water contract, has held, according to word received here Monday by T. K. Hackman, attorney for Smith, that all of the project settlers who're delinquent payments on their contracts must be made parties to the suit for foreclosure on such contracts. This decision affirms decisions rendered in the case by Judge P. S. Dietrich in federal district court at Boise and by the federal circuit court of appeals at Francisco, and supports the contention of attorneys for Smith that foreclosure must be reached by determination of a basis for settlement of issues arising from reduction in the area of the project because of inadequate water supply.

When the suit was instituted about four years ago it was being pending in the state courts about 300, and in federal court about 75 actions for foreclosure on Salmon River water contracts. Settlement since has been made in many of these cases on the basis of an agreement subsequently arrived at, whereby a proportionate share in water rights issued for lands that were later reclaimed was transferred to each settler in the restricted area who accepted the terms of the settlement.

WOUNDED YOUTH FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Burton Eberhart of Twin Falls Desperately Injured by Accidental Discharge of Shotgun.

Shot through the left leg, side and upper arm, Burton Eberhart, 24, of Twin Falls, victim of an accidental shooting Sunday afternoon near Declo, Idaho, is a patient in a hospital at Burley awaiting a desperate fight for life. His condition Monday evening was reported to be favorable. Danger from shock was believed to have passed and only possibility of development of pneumonia or of serious infection in the wounds was feared.

First aid promptly applied by his wife, a bride of last spring, is believed to have materially improved Eberhart's chances for recovery. She tore strips from his shirt to improvise bandages and staunch excessive loss of blood.

The accident occurred at about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon when Eberhart, who was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Eberhart and Miss Thelma Erickson of this city, being in doubt about the road to take back to Twin Falls started to get out of the Ford coupe in which they were traveling to make inquiry. As he opened the door the shotgun at his side fell to the running board, disengaging the safety lock and causing discharge of the weapon. The loss of shot, though the left leg, several shot entering the left upper arm and two or more piercing the chest where they are believed to have penetrated the lung.

Drives to Declo.
Mrs. Eberhart, after bandaging the wound, drove the car to Declo, where further assistance was given by C. P. Kennedy, formerly of this city and now employed at the pharmacy of Declo, and from which place a surgeon was summoned from Burley, about nine miles distant.

Mrs. Helen Werner, mother of the injured man, was summoned Sunday evening to his bedside and returned here Monday afternoon, having been given encouragement as to his condition by his doctor and hospital attendants.

Mr. Eberhart for several months past has been manager of Werner's bicycle and repair shop here.

Bullet Fired by Boys Crashes Through Dwelling on Seventh Avenue East and Bursts Itself in Wall.

A bullet accidentally discharged from a .22 rifle Sunday afternoon by some boys who had been shooting at a tin can narrowly missed Mrs. D. A. Dunahue in her home on Seventh avenue east. The bullet, entering at the west side of the house, crashed through two walls, an overhead picture frame in its path and buried itself in the east wall. Five persons were in the three rooms through which it passed but no one was hurt, though Mrs. Dunahue only a moment before had passed through a doorway in the direct line of the bullet. Glance from the picture frame flew all over the room and into the food that was spread on the table.

IMPRESSIVE TRIBUTE TO GEORGE ACKLEY IS PAID

Memorial Service at Methodist Church Occasion for Eulogy of Citizen Called by Death.

Impressive tribute was paid at memorial services Sunday evening at the Methodist church to the memory of the late George Ackley, whose death occurred here suddenly last week and for whom funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at his former home at Caldwell. The memorial service included special music by the chorus choir. In a eulogy delivered on this occasion, the Rev. H. G. Humphrey said:

"An ocean of grief and loss is not a time for sorrow and wailing. We do express our sense of loss to this church and this community, but our master note at this time is not sorrow, but gratitude for his Christian character. A man of integrity has been faithful in his home among us. A man has left a 'good name' that the scriptures declare is 'rather to be chosen than great riches.' A Christian brother has been called up higher to be a ruler over many things, because he was faithful here on earth. A member of this church has been true to his vows and has honored his Lord by his daily life. A member of a worthy lodge has been promoted to behold a temple not made with hands eternal in the heavens. A genial, warm-hearted human friend has been honored and trusted here by the confidence of his brothers. He has kept his faith and now goes to give an account to God, whom he had learned to know and to love."
