SENATE LEADER
AT CONFERENCE

Watson of Indiana Selected to Aid Kansas Man; Announces Program to Expedite Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Republican organization of the senate in preparation for opening of the new session Monday was completed today by the unanimous election of Senator Curtis of Kansas, as the party leader and of Senator Watson of Indiana, as assistant leader and whip.

Senator Curtis was unopposed for the leadership. Senator Warren of Wyoming, the senior member of the chamber in point of service, announcing he did not desire the post and other potential candidates withholding their names when the question was put. The Kansas senator lost no time in announcing a new program, due to expedite legislation and afford harmonious co-operation with the executive branch.

Steering Committee.
The steering committee will be convened periodically, Senator Curtis said, to arrange rights of way for important measures, and more frequent party conferences will be held on legislative matters than has been the custom in recent years.

The legislative calendar for the coming session will be confined largely, in the opinion of leaders, to routine appropriation measures and to such farm relief and reclamation bills as have administration backing. Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, a leader in the senate reclamation group, conferred with President Coolidge today on the congressional calendar. He reiterated his opinion that an extra session would be necessary to afford adequate consideration of farm relief and irrigation problems.

West In Control.

While the report of the committee on committees, assigning the three new members—Senators Means of Colorado, McFarland of Rhode Island, and Butler of Massachusetts—and filling vacancies left by the deaths of Senators Lodge and Brandegee, will not be rendered until next week, the lineup of standing senate committees was seen today as placing the west in control of more than the title to senate leadership. Thirteen of the principal committees will be supervised by senators from west of the Mississippi against five headed by eastern senators. Those credited with western helmsmen are agriculture, Norris, Nebraska; appropriations, Warren, Wyoming; prime, Gooding, Idaho; commerce, Jones, Washington; education, Phillips of Colorado; finance, Smoot, Utah, foreign relations, Borah, Idaho; immigration, Johnson, California; Indian affairs, Harold, Oklahoma; privileges and elections, Spencer, Wisconsin; public lands, Ladd, North Dakota; rules, Curtis, Kansas; judiciary, Cummins, Iowa. The eastern-controlled committees are: Military affairs, Wadsworth, New York; naval, Hale, Maine; banking, McLean, Connecticut; postoffice, Moses, New Hampshire; public buildings, Fernald, Maine.

Sheatley Case Remains as Big a Mystery as When Body Was First Found Stuffed in Furnace.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22 (AP)—Re-examination of the three older members of the Sheatley family, and a report of scientific experts to the prosecutor that brownish-crimson stains, a pair of trousers and a red liquid in an upturned fruit jar lid found in the Sheatley home are not human blood were developments today in the Bexley furnace mystery.

Twelve days ago the body of Mrs. Adelle Sheatley, 50 years old, wife of the late C. V. Sheatley, was found practically cremated in the furnace of the parsonage of Christ Evangelical Lutheran church in the fashionable Bexley district. Since that time all efforts of authorities to ascertain how her body came to be in the furnace have been of no avail.

Stains on other articles found in a search of the parsonage last Monday, are yet to be analyzed, Dr. H. M. Brundage, pathologist, and Chemist C. F. Long, told Prosecutor John R. King.

LAFOLLETTE IS THROWN OUT OF PARTY'S RANKS

Associates of Third Party Candidate Are Also Barred From Further Republican Activities; Borah Objects.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin, who belted his party to become the independent candidate for president and who long has been a thorn in the side of the republican senate organization, virtually was read out of the party today at a conference of senate republicans.

Named with him in a formal resolution barring him from further conference of republicans of the senate and from appointment to committee vacancies that may arise in the future, were Senators Ladd and Fowler of North Dakota and Brookhart of Iowa. These three men have been the principal supporters of the Wisconsin senator in fighting administration plans.

Action Unopposed.
Action by the conference came unopposed. It was forced by a group of the younger senators who did not agree with the older leaders that the question of reading out of the party those senators who failed to support President Coolidge and his running mate, Charles G. Dawes, in the late election, should be deferred at least until after the convening of the new congress elected on November 4.

The resolution, offered by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, was vigorously opposed in the conference by Senators Cummins of Iowa, Howell of Nebraska and Harold of Oklahoma. His opposition also brought strong statements of disapproval from Senators Borah of Idaho, who is slated to succeed the late Henry Cabot Lodge as chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Norris of Nebraska, who is one of the insurgent leaders. Neither of these senators attended the conference.

HARDING ESTATE
GIVEN CHILDREN

Boy and Girl of Son of Former President's Wife Are Named in Will

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 22 (AP)—The bulk of the half million dollar estate of Mrs. Florence Kling Harding will go to the two grand children of the former president's widow, Jeanne and George Neely DeWolfe, 15 and 12 years old, respectively, in accordance with Mrs. Harding's will filed for probate today. Most of Mr. Harding's estate went to his widow by an instrument of bequest executed before his death.

The bequest is to be held in trust for the two grand children until they are twenty-eight years old. During the interim they will receive only the income from the estate. The two children live here with their mother, Mrs. Roscoe D. Messinger. They are children of Mr. Harding's son, Marjorie E. DeWolfe, by a former marriage. The son died about 13 years ago in Colorado. Mrs. Messinger received a bequest of $2000.

Precautionary Steps in Arresting Nationalist Leaders Goes on; Student Groups on Strike
Over Demands.

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—The news from Egypt today was less reassuring than yesterday, but still, in the opinion of the authorities, it should not be considered alarming.

The precautionary process of arresting nationalist leaders in Egypt, whose possible activities are considered dangerous to the maintenance of order continued today when a large number of deputes and other prominent persons were placed under safe-keeping.

Those arrested appeared to be mainly men connected with the organization of former Premier Zagloul Pasha, and it is reported that some of them were engaged in plots against the lives of Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, the high commissioner, and others. It is said the Egyptian government itself now is responsible for the business of listening persons of the dangerous element who include some of the student leaders.

New Agitation.
The student activities which appeared to cease upon Zagloul's advice to refrain from agitation have broken out afresh and seem likely to form the center for attracting nationalist efforts throughout the whole country against the British government's demands upon Egypt. Nothing, however, is yet available to test the possible strength of such agitation.

It is stated that the British authorities now will leave measures for the maintenance of order and preventing demonstrations to the Egyptian government and that they will not themselves attempt to place on trial any suspected persons.

The most alarming news of today came from the Sudan where there was a mutiny among a small body of Sudanese troops which resulted in some loss of life. Details of this trouble are still rather obscure; but it is believed the disorder is not likely to spread. It is not clear that the mutiny is directly related to the present Egyptian crisis or whether it is a recurrence of the old trouble in Sudan.

Troops Withdrawn.
The Sudanese army consisted of some 11,000 Sudanese and 6000 Egyptian troops. The latter are now virtually all withdrawn and it had been proposed to increase the Sudanese troops into a sort of military police. It is suggested here that today's trouble might be connected with the men taking a new oath to the British sovereign. In any event, as long as Egypt itself remains quiet little apprehension will be felt regarding the Sudan, because the Sudanese are more opposed to Egyptian sovereignty than to that of the British.

DAPPER YOUTH

BANK ROBBERY

Enters Broadway Bank at Noon and Tries to Force Cashier to Turn Over Money; Escapes in Crowd.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (AP)—A dapper youth today swung briskly through the noon-day crowd on Broadway at 48th street, entered the Chelsea exchange bank on the corner, walked up to Abraham Greengold, a teller, and calmly held him up. Greengold's alertness frustrated the consummation of the crime, but the jaunty highwayman escaped.

The teller, counting currency, looked up as the young man shoved into his cage a check for $3000, payable to "W. J. Robinson" and drawn on the Bayview New York National bank. "Look at the back of it," tersely commanded the check's owner. "Type written on the reverse side, Greengold read:

"Threatens to Kill.
"My partner and I have you covered. If you move head or foot to sound an alarm you die. At ten thirty this morning we killed a teller in the Gotham National bank when he tried to duck below the counter. If an alarm is given, we have to shoot our way out and the first bullet will be yours. Step back six inches, keep your eyes on the counter and pay this check."

Greengold had noted that the young man carried his overcoat over his left arm and held his right hand in his sidecoat pocket, clasp which was unmistakably a gun muzzle which was aimed directly at the teller.

The highwayman stood at ease, a casual smile on his face. Before Greengold had finished reading his orders, another note, pencilled on the back of a deposit slip was thrust at him. It read: "Hand over that bundle at your right marked $10,000." Greengold dropped to the floor, reaching down to electrical alarm, commencing with the bank's special police. The highwayman turned to run and collided with Lewis Rothchild, vice president of the bank, who sought to hold him. The fugitive flung him off, plunged through a half score startled bank patrons and into the street where he was lost in the crowd.

SHIPPING-AND AIRCRAFT WILL GET ATTENTION

Reports of Two Special Congressional Committees to be Received at Short Session Opening December 1.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—With its return to business next Monday, the house expects to receive the partial report of two special committees that have been conducting investigations during the summer recess. One of these is the committee headed by Representative White, republican, Maine, appointed to investigate the shipping board, and the other is the committee in charge of Representative Lampert, republican, Wisconsin which has been inquiring into all branches of aircraft production and operations. Because of the scope of these two investigations, the committee, it is said, are far from completing their task, and both have indicated that a partial report will be submitted on the work that has been accomplished to date.

Examined Thoroughly.
Before the adjournment last spring the shipping board committee took up a thorough scrutiny of the operations of the Washington headquarters of the board and Emergency Fleet corporation. This inquiry later in the summer was extended to operations in New York city and several other points. Several members, including Representative Linberger, republican, California, and Representatives Davis, Tennessee; Connally, Texas; and Bankhead, Alabama, all democrats, made a special trip to Europe to inquire into foreign activities of the board. Despite the summer work of the committee, many phases of the work remain to be investigated, and it is thought by some that the entire field will not be covered before the final adjournment of the sixty-eighth congress next March.

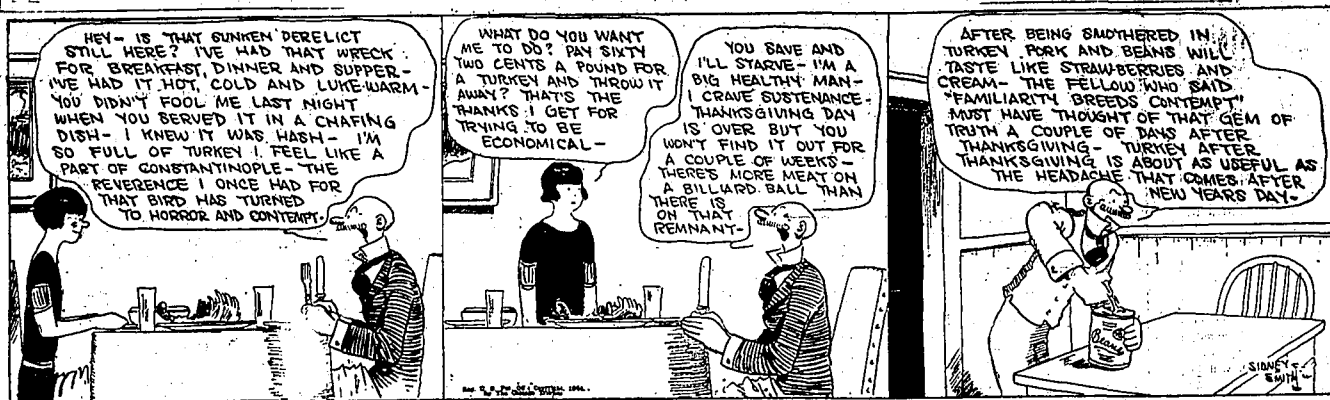

Also at Work.
The aircraft committee also has been at work during the summer months, but it is understood committee members feel they have just scratched the surface of the many phases of their inquiry. Some members even feel that the work may have to be continued over into the next congress, as the committee besides its many regular inquiries that may have occurred in aircraft operation and production also wants to recommend a comprehensive survey for the future development of the government's aircraft industry.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME GOES TO NAMPA ELEVEN

Failure to Convert Goal Loses Football Contest for Twin Falls; Score Ends at 14 to 13 Figure.

NAMPA, Nov. 28.—(Special to The News).—Twin Falls left the state title here today by failure to convert goal after its first touchdown. Outweighed eight to ten pounds per man, the lighter Bruins were unable to stop the Nampa attack. Nampa was forced to kick but once during the game, and attempted but one pass across the goal line in an attempt to score after the Twin Falls line held on the ten-yard line. Twin Falls kicked to Nampa, and after making 15 yards on an end run, failed to make yardage and kicked. Nampa promptly marched down the field to the one-yard line only to be held on downs. The Bruins kicked out and Nampa again plugged the line to the 15-yard line and after failing to make yardage attempted a place kick which was wide of the mark. The first quarter ended scoreless with the ball on Twin Falls 15-yard line. Nampa tried her only pass of the game, which grounded over the line.

Bruins Kicked. The Bruins kicked and Nampa promptly marched down the field through the line, and around the ends, for its first score. Woody carried the ball over and converted. The Bruins kicked and Nampa again bucked the ball within striking distance and attempted another place kick which was wide of the mark. The ball was in the center of the field. The third quarter was the most sensational of the whole game. The spectators were kept in a continual uproar by sensational open work of the Twin Falls team.

End runs and completed passes brought the Bruins their first score a few minutes after Nampa had kicked off. Alford carrying the ball over on a long end run. In the attempt at goal the pass was low and Alford was forced to fall on the ball. Twin Falls kicked off and after a 32-yard run by Ord, Nampa was positioned with the field on the 20-yard line. Nampa kicked the ball out of bounds on Nampa's 25-yard line. Two end runs, one by Alford and the last by Timm, netted the Bruins their score and Alford converted putting the Bruins in the lead. Twin Falls kicked and Nampa received the ball at the goal and ran it back to their own 45-yard line, and from there started a march down the field that resulted in a touchdown and converted making the score 14 to 13.

Exciting Quarter. The last quarter was a see-saw across the field. Twin Falls opening up with an aerial attack in the last few minutes that failed to gain, but holding the heavy charging Nampans back time and time again. Alford and Timm were probably the outstanding performers for the Bruins and the work of the Whole Twin Falls line was a marvel to see. For Nampa, Ricks, the huge fullback, was seldom stopped without a substantial gain, and Ord, fleet half back, got away for several long gains around the ends. Both teams were strong on offense, and the work of Nampa having the edge, because of weight.

Nampa made 21 first downs to the Bruins eight, using practically nothing but straight football. The crowd was about 2300, a good portion of which were from Twin Falls.

NAMPA'S FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP. NAMPA, Nov. 28 (P)—Nampa today holds the southern Idaho football championship for the first time in gridiron history as the result of a hard fought but well earned victory over the fighting Twin Falls high school warriors today at Recreation park.

Playing straight football and battering the Twin Falls line, Nampa high's Bulldogs scored two touchdowns and kicked two goals, while the southerners were making the same number of counts but failed to kick one goal.

Two Responsible. The hard hitting Ricks, and Ord, speedy halfback, are in the large measure responsible for Nampa's win. After time Ricks would batter his way through the Twin Falls forwards with two or three tacklers hanging on but failing to down him. More than once Ord tore off 20, 30 and 40 yards around the line.

The first score came early in the second quarter when, after Ord had placed the ball on the Twin Falls 20-yard line by a brilliant 20-yard run around left end, Ricks and Woody gave Nampa first down on the 10-yard marker. The first score came early in the second quarter when, after Ord had placed the ball on the Twin Falls 20-yard line by a brilliant 20-yard run around left end, Ricks and Woody gave Nampa first down on the 10-yard marker.

For the remainder of the half the ball was in the hands of the Bruins. Ricks and Woody called a drop kick formation but the kick was blocked. Three times during the first half the fighting blue and white team held the heavier Bulldogs within the 10-yard line. Each time the ball backed only into the back of the end. Only one pass was tried in this period, Woody to Jameson, who was behind the goal line. It was incomplete.

In the second half the Twin Falls team came back strong. Nampa kicked to Alford, who returned 10 yards. Two line bucks by Timm and a short forward pass (also to Timm, gave Twin Falls two first downs before the Bulldogs stopped the attack and Alford was forced to punt to Ord, who fumbled the catch and a Twin Falls end recovered. This one hour paved the way for the first Twin Falls score which came on the third play following when Alford, with perfect interference, broke away around right end 30 yards for a touchdown. He fumbled the pass from center, however, and failed to convert the try for point. Score was Nampa 7, Twin Falls 0.

Timm Goes Over. Two minutes later, after Nampa had been left on her own 20-yard line and Gray had kicked out of bounds on the 25-yard marker, Timm, Twin Falls fullback, broke away, this time around left end, 20 yards for a first down. The second and last score of the game. Alford dropped kicked squarely between the goal posts and the score stood, Nampa 7, Twin Falls 13.

The Bulldogs were not to be denied. After calling time out to pull themselves together, they plunged back and end running in which Ricks and Ord were chief factors, worked the ball to the blue and white 18-yard line, whence Ricks battered his way through the entire Twin Falls defense for a touchdown. Woody kicked what proved to be the winning score from place kick formation, and the score stood 14-13.

Nampa Plays Safe. During the remainder of the game Nampa was content to play safe, keeping the ball as much as possible, but playing straight safe and sane football, running only once. Twin Falls, in a desperate effort to score opened up a spectacular array of forward passes and fake plays which were usually nipped at the start by the Bulldog defense, and the ball was in Twin Falls territory most of the time. As the game ended Timm struck through Nampa forwards for a nice gain, leaving the ball on his own 25-yard line with the score still 14-13 in Nampa's favor. It was a great fight and as fine an exhibition of football as has ever been seen on a local gridiron. The game was clean throughout, only a few penalties being called and all but one of these were for off-side. Ricks and Ord were the outstanding players in the Bulldog backfield, with Crooks playing the best football of his career in the line. For Twin Falls Alford and Timm were unquestionably the most consistent and heady players, not only on offense when they were always good

$2,000,000 FUGITIVE IS CAPTURED IN CANADA

LEO KORETZ, who disappeared from Chicago following swindling operations in a "Bayano River Syndicate," that netted him $2,000,000, has been arrested in Halifax, and has waived extradition. Koretz fled a year ago while a personally selected committee was journeying to Panama to inspect his "rich holdings" there. It is said he took $2,000,000 in cash with him. He swindled every member of his own family, leaving his wife destitute.

For some gain, but their defensive work was of the same high quality.

Makes Most Yardage.

Statistics of the game show that Nampa outlasted the blue and white team when it came to a matter of making yardage. In the four periods Nampa carried the ball for 21 first downs, while the Twin Falls warriors were making nine. Nampa tried only one pass which was incomplete, while Twin Falls was completing three for a gain of 15 yards out of eight attempts. Alford of Twin Falls was easily the best punter seen in Nampa this season. He was forced to punt seven times. His shortest punt was 30 yards and his longest 55, and an average of 39 yards per kick. Gray, for Nampa, punted only twice, but place kicks were attempted three different times. Ideal weather conditions prevailed and the field was the fastest the teams have played on this season.

ARMY AND NAVY STAMP TAX IS READY FOR GAME PUT ON BOTTLES

Annual Clash of Two Branches of Service on Gridiron Set for Today.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 28 (P)—The army mule and the navy goat are primed and ready for their annual gridiron tug of war.

Tomorrow the rival service elevens will battle for football supremacy with the odds of victory favoring West Point but with all indications also pointing to the likelihood of a spectacular and closely fought game. With its scene laid in Baltimore for the first time since this gridiron classic was inaugurated in 1890, the twenty-seventh game of the long series will be fought out before the greatest crowd that ever saw the endites and middies come to grips—a vast assembly of 78,000 including President and Mrs. Coolidge and a host of other notables, that promises to rival in spirit and color any of the gatherings that have annually made this game the most picturesque of all.

To Break Deadlock. Both West Point and Annapolis desire to break the deadlock in their long series, which now stands at 12 victories each with two tie games recorded.

With its individual stars and a far more impressive record over the 1924 season so far, is expected to display a formidable attack, but the Navy, despite the loss of five games in seven starts, has poised its preparations for this main objective and will go into the fray tomorrow fit and confident.

SEARCH MADE FOR MAN WHO SET BUILDING AFIRE

before it was discovered and before it was extinguished had not only burned to the ground the pool hall, but a blacksmith shop owned by Sam Peterson and a grocery and meat market owned by A. L. Goodley. For a time it was feared that the entire business district was doomed and only the strenuous efforts of the local fire department prevented it. The pool hall which was covered by $1200 insurance was owned by Earl Judd. Insurance to the amount of $750 was carried on the blacksmith shop while it is said the Cash grocery and meat market carried no insurance.

Careful examination following the fire showed that it started on the outside of the pool hall at the rear. Indications are that it was deliberately started although no reason so far has been found for wanting to burn the buildings. A barber shop in the same block was also badly damaged.

STAMP TAX IS PUT ON BOTTLES

Spanish Retailers Evade New Ruling of Government; Trouble Is Result.

LISBON, Nov. 28 (P)—Certain retailers of Lisbon are at daggers drawn with the government for the alienable reason that the state wants taxes which the dealers don't want to pay. Up to the present time the retailers seem to have the best of it.

The government recently decreed that everything sold in a bottle should pay a stamp tax, the stamp to be affixed to the bottle. This applies particularly to wine, liquor and perfumes. Dealers were given five days in which to comply with the new law. At the end of this time the police visited the countless wine shops and stores selling perfumery, to see how things were going.

They found the wine shops had withdrawn from sale enormous quantities of bottled goods, preferring to wait the chance of a new administration rescinding the present law, or of selling wines and liquor by the glass drawn from barrels. As for perfumes, the women will have to go without. The shopkeepers will sell them nothing and have hidden their stocks away. They declare the collection of the new tax would ruin their business.

CHICAGO SCHOOL SEEKS MILLIONS FOR ENDOWMENT

University Has Development Program Calling for Total of $17,500,000 for the Year
1925.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—The development program of the University of Chicago involves obtaining $17,500,000 during 1925, which will be spent principally for new buildings and creating an endowment fund, it was announced today by Harold H. Swift, president of the Board of Trustees and Ernest DeWitt Burton, president of the University.

In securing this sum for its immediate needs, Mr. Swift said, the institution must rely largely upon its alumni, citizens of Chicago and the middle west. John D. Rockefeller, who has been the university's largest benefactor, made his final contribution in 1920.

The most pressing need for the university, the statement said, was for $5,000,000 for endowment of teaching and research. It is the intention to accomplish within 15 years, if possible, a doubling of the present resources of the university—approximately $54,000,000.

"We do not aim to create a wealthier nor the largest of American universities," said Mr. Swift. "What we seek is to build the best possible university for service in the region and in the particular field where its opportunities and responsibilities lie."

The building program under the $17,500,000 project includes $4,000,000 for instruction and research, $2,000,000 for development of the colleges and $3,400,000 for service buildings. "A committee composed of many of the prominent men and women in this section has been appointed to superintend the campaign."

"It has been apparent for some time that the university could not carry on its work, meeting the continually growing demands of the region, without greatly increased funds," Mr. Swift asserted. "It desires to pay to members of its faculties salaries commensurate with the services it desires to engage some of the world's best teachers and research workers. Hence its ambition to obtain new endowment and then to provide new buildings and some of the most serious work as regards facilities for work."

NEWS FROM EGYPT IS HELD AS REASSURING

The Sudan are giving no trouble to the British and the military at Khartoum today, in which one British and two Syrian physicians were killed, was limited to about 200 men of the eleventh Sudanese regiment, among whom there were severe casualties when the British troops fired upon them. The remainder of the Sudanese battalion aided the British in overpowering the mutineers.

No undue alarm, it is said, need be felt regarding the situation at Khartoum; but it is not known just what the exact situation there is as the telegraph lines are cut.

Public Manifesto.

The students committee today published a manifesto declaring its opposition to the present Egyptian government and calling the attention of all friends of the people to a rumor that efforts are being made to form a new party which will recognize the acts of the aggressors.

The students urge that the entire nation pursue a policy of non-cooperation. They themselves have decided to remain on strike.

It is reported that airplane reconnaissance have been made over the towns of Minieh, on the Nile, 150 miles southwest of Cairo, and Beni Suef, an important port on the Nile, 62 miles southwest of Cairo. At both places, the police are protesting the banks and European establishments.

Ancient Egyptian Dentistry.
The art of treating the teeth when diseased and of replacing them when lost is a very ancient one. Herodotus speaks of the ancient Egyptians as practicing this art, and the Law of the Twelve Tables (Fifth century, B. C.) provides that where "teeth bound with gold" were found, it was lawful to burn or bury the gold with the body of the dead person. An Etruscan skull, with a set of animal's teeth artificially inserted in it, was exhumed in 1855.

Not Strictly Truthful.
The late Henry Waterson, who was fond of journeying at watering places like the Riviera, Florida, was one winter spending some time at Joseph Pulitzer's marble palace near Monte Carlo. He was sitting on the sun-drenched terrace when a group of gilt-haired old ladies passed. When they were safely out of hearing Mr. Waterson remarked: "You know, I do, but the French tangled corsets keep them from telling the whole truth."

FRENCH DEBT TO BE TAKEN UP AT PARLEY

Meeting Called by American

Commission December 1 to Find Way of Getting Return on Money Loaned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—The French debt to the United States will be discussed by the American debt commission at a meeting here December 1. Members of the commission will be informed at the time of results of a series of conferences between Secretary Mellon and Ambassador Jusserand looking to a possible basis for refunding the French government's obligations, which is the second largest amount loaned by the United States to its associates during the world war.

Meetings between Mr. Mellon and the ambassador have been entirely informal and their discussions are understood to have been directed to a clarification of the understanding between the two governments with respect to the French fiscal position. The talks, however, are expected to lead to tangible results, although the meeting of the commission which was called today by Secretary Mellon, probably will do more than go over the situation as it is now known by the treasury here.

Beginning of Empire

in Great Northwest

Large looms the Columbia river in the history of our country. It was the key that unlocked the great Northwest and added three states to the Union—the only portion of the United States acquired by right of discovery, possession and settlement, says the Nation's Business.

It was in the mouth of the Columbia that Captain Gray of Boston sailed his ship Columbia in 1792 and raising the Stars and Stripes, took possession of the Northwest in the name of the United States.

Here, where the mighty Columbia tumbles its waters into the Pacific, Lewis and Clark, first to carry our flag across the continent, reached their western destination in the winter of 1805.

Another six years saw the Astor-Hunt expedition, traveling by land and sea, establish at the mouth of the Columbia the first permanent American settlement on the Pacific coast.

Then followed the outrides of empires, the missionary, the trapper, the adventurer.

Came 1843! Thrilled by the story of the paradise beyond the mountains and fired by the militant cry of "54-40 or fight!" of Senator Thomas Hart Benton, the ox-drawn covered wagon trails started moving westward on the greatest migration of all history, bringing within a little more than a decade 250,000 settlers who established homes, schools and churches, founded an empire, and saved the great Northwest for the Union.

WATKINS GETS FROM FIVE TO TEN YEARS FOR DEATH OF MAN

BOISE, Nov. 28 (AP)—Nick Watkins, former Union Pacific passenger brakeman, found guilty of manslaughter in district court Wednesday for slaying Dave Jennings, fellow brakeman, at the Union Pacific passenger station here the morning of August 25, was sentenced to from five to ten years in the state penitentiary by Judge Dunn E. Brink this afternoon. This is the maximum sentence under the law.

Counsel for Watkins immediately filed motion of appeal to the supreme court. At the same time certificate of probable cause was filed with the court to obtain a stay of judgment, and asking the court to have the defendant admitted to bail. Judge Brink said he would take this matter under advisement until tomorrow.

One Occasion When His

Mind Worked Quickly

Smith was a freshman, older than most of his class. He was tall, lanky and slow. His mind, like his body, worked slowly, and the nervous professor in mathematics, after a long and careful explanation, was wont to say:

"Well, Smith, if you will go over that explanation carefully and meditate on it, I think you will understand. Meditate, Smith, meditate."

So Smith became "Meditate" Smith to his fellow students.

One evening a party of students gathered in the room of one of their number, and Smith was one of them. The meeting was for fun and perhaps mischief, and such a meeting was an infringement of rules.

When the jollity was at its height a warning came that the professor was coming to investigate. The room was cleared at once. Smith as usual was the last and, hearing steps approaching, he crawled under the bed, awaiting the event with no little apprehension.

The professor entered, looked about him, saw that the room was empty, then turned to depart. As he closed the door, a thought seemed to strike him, he re-entered the room and looked under the bed.

"Hey, Smith, what are you doing there?" he cried.

Smith turned his head with difficulty.

"Meditating, professor."

The professor withdrew.—Youth's Companion.

Allowing "Off and On"

Every Year Counted

A lawyer, noted for his success in cross-examination, found his match in a recent trial, when he asked a long suffering witness how long he had worked at his business of tin roofing.

The answer was:

"I have worked at it off and on, for some time, but have worked at it steadily for the last 12 years."

"How long off and on have you worked at it?"

"Sixty-five years."

"How old are you?"

"Sixty-five."

"Then you have been a tin roofer from birth?"

"No, sir; of course I haven't."

"Then why did you say you've worked at your trade 65 years?"

"Because you asked how long off and on I had worked at it. I have worked at the trade 65 years—20 years on and 45 off."

WHITE FLOUR IS BLAMED FOR SMALLER JAWS

Modern Men Harmed by Failing to Use Whole Wheat

Bread, Is Declaration of Englishman.

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Modern men have jaws that are too small, and white flour is responsible for this deformity, according to Sir Harry Baldwin, who recently addressed the Medical Officers of Schools associations on the necessity for the more general use of whole wheat bread among growing children.

The speaker declared that the small jaw was widespread and of comparatively recent origin. The removal of vitamins from flour, he continued, in order to produce white bread was a vicious practice which must be abolished. Otherwise children, especially the children of poor families, which cannot afford a great variety of food, will continue to be underfed.

Prejudice Arises.

Dr. G. Shelby said, at the same meeting, that in his opinion the use of the word "offend" to describe the part of the wheat which is discarded, in making white flour, has been responsible for the prejudice against flour which is not white.

This unfortunate term used by millers has given rise to the opinion that non-white flour is not clean.

Dr. G. Friend, medical officer at Christ's hospital, Hoxham, said that in experiments in feeding boys on white bread and stone milled or whole-wheat bread, he had demonstrated that the use of whole wheat bread reduced the decay of teeth by 50 per cent.

A baker, M. Carter, addressed the meeting and assured the doctors that bakers would be very happy to make whole wheat bread, as it is much easier to prepare than white bread, but he said the public demands white bread, especially customers of the poorer classes.

"Comfort" of Colonial Days.

In 1742 Benjamin Franklin brought out his "New Pennsylvania Fireplace," a rather complicated affair, in which both coal and wood could be used, and which in its later development grew into what is known as the "Franklin stove." As the bedrooms of the colonists were freezing cold in winter, a warming pan was used to heat up the bed before getting into it at night. The warming pan was round, and a foot wide and four or five inches deep, with a perforated metal top and a long wooden handle. This was filled with coals from the fireplace and placed between the bed linen and moved about rapidly. Wood was very plentiful and was used quite freely, the immense fireplaces consuming vast quantities of it.

Sarcasm Is Not Wit.

Native wit loses nothing when it is tempered by courtesy. A smart girl whose speech has never been governed by restraint is liable to degenerate into that social terror, the "cannon," whose every comment is a volley aimed at the cruel and the false. There, in Douglas Goldring's graphic phrasing, is a portrait of the born-elderly gentlewoman who never uses her weapon of wit unfairly and discourteously.

Postman's Whistle Quits.

There are few hours in the day when a New York apartment house is free from noise, remarks the Sun, of that city. Pianos and phonographs and music lessons and ordinary human racket contribute to the volume of sound that floats through the building. But there are a few moments in every day when absolute silence reigns, a silence brought by the shrill whistle of the postman. Just as surely as the traffic policeman's whistle stops the stream of traffic does the postman's whistle stop the ordinary noises of the day. All in the building listen intently in the hope that their own names will be called out. The postman departs—and the temporary quiet ceases.

CAREFUL ABOUT STOCKS
"We are going into the greatest stock boom ever known," says Warren S. Stone, president of the Locomotive Engineers and head of the Brotherhood's banks. "There will be thirty or forty big foreign loans made in the next year or year and a half. They are dressing up old stocks and bonds, foreign and domestic, in new clothes, and selling them to the public. This is a trap to go on until they have got the gold drained out of the country and get most of the suckers' money, and then we are going to have another period of depression."

PROVIDE STAMPS
It may not be so bad as that, but the thoughtless collector of stamps who has had a few stamps, like the one shown, had better provide stamps.

As Wall Street grows active and optimistic, and the market for securities improves, the financial crooks get busy again. There may soon be a deluge of "blue sky" stocks, not worth the paper they are engraved on.

It is a good rule to question every security offered and make the salesman prove its value. It is still safe, in most cases, to put savings into the bank or into first mortgage or real estate. Bankers are pretty reliable, and land never evaporates.

THE HUMAN ZOO

By C. D. Batchelor

MAROONED ON A SOUTH SEA ISLE And who said "Home, Sweet Home!"

Warm Current Exists, No Matter How Called

It was with some consternation that one read in the newspapers that the Gulf stream had been proved a myth. If one of the sacred scientific trinity had died, what was to become of the others—the nebular hypothesis and the law of gravitation?

A closer re-look, however, was reassuring. Remarks the New York Evening Mail. It appears that M. Le Danois, a French scientist, asserts that there is no such thing as a Gulf stream. What he called by that name is a combination of ocean life.

There are, he says, two kinds of water in the North Atlantic, warm and cold. The warm moves in a northward current to some undetermined point and turns backward again. The fluctuations, however, are tidal.

One was a vague memory of reading something very like that in the physical geography book about twenty years ago. Apparently the phenomena exist, whether one explains them by the term Gulf stream or as ocean tides. That which we call a Gulf stream by another name will smell as sweet to migratory herring and sardine and, happily, one can still paraphrase "Home and Italy" regardless of whether Bacon or Shakespeare wrote it. And the warm Atlantic current still saves Europe from a return to the glacial period regardless of whether one accepts the nomenclature of Franklin or that of M. Le Danois.

Finn's Trained to Work

Finn's are good athletes by force of circumstance. They get their training from the day they are born. When the child is old enough to go to school, gymnastics is a part of his education and when he or she has graduated from the school there is strenuous work ahead, work for existence. Women must work as well as men. They are not afraid or ashamed to do hard work, attend the cattle, milk the cows and work in the fields.—Buffalo Express.

To Mend Broken China

Mix a teaspoonful of alum and a tablespoonful of water and place it in a hot oven until it is quite transparent. Wash the broken pieces in hot water and, while warm, coat the broken edges thickly and quickly, as it sticks instantly. Your china thus mended will hold out under ordinary usage.

Sea, Rain and Rivers.

From recent data, calculations have been made of the amount of rain annually falling upon the earth's surface. It is found that it is equivalent to a layer of water of the uniform depth, for the whole globe, of about 2 1/2 inches. The amount falling on the land is equivalent to a uniform depth of 2 3/4 inches. Considering only the land which is drained by rivers flowing into the sea, it is calculated that only 30 per cent is returned to the ocean, and that the rest is removed by evaporation.

Redeliver Moisture

Rain trees of the island of Ferro collect the moisture of drifting clouds and allow it to drip to the ground in steady streams.

"SINNERS IN HEAVEN"
by Clive Arden

"Oh, I quite realize that!" His tone caused her to look up at him. "Why are you laughing?" she asked unsmilingly.

"Why are you so afraid?" he retorted. Nonplussed, she took refuge in a dignified silence. Finishing her breakfast, she looked round the bay at the rugged hill beside them, the palms and dense forest trees in the background, the coral shingle and white sand stretching down to the magnificent blue of the lagoon, in the distance the reef and vast stretch of limitless sea.

The intensity of color and contrast shone in the sunlight with extraordinary brilliance.

"It's all very beautiful," she said at last, conversationally.

"It is!" he agreed warmly, rising to his feet. Drizzling his mug filled with water, he set down the glass on the table.

"Now, please meet my head."

Barbara was concerned over his palor and the lines surrounding his eyes. "You look worn out!" she exclaimed involuntarily. "Didn't you sleep well last night?"

"Not a whit!" He glanced quickly at a watch. "We've got our breakfast, returned fourfold; and she finished her job in silence.

"I'm going on the hill to the wireless," he said, then. "You need not fear the natives. They won't return until they have hunted their numbers."

At last, of course, he continued hurriedly: "I've got to go now. The wireless is waiting for me."

There was no suggestion of her coming. He had no intention of waiting. She watched him disappear. He had a very good reason for his departure. He was a very good man.

He had a very good reason for his departure. He was a very good man.

He explained to the girl, who recognized the wisdom of it, as well as what she deemed the impossibility.

"Two! Against, possibly, hundred! How can we make them fear us?" she asked hopefully.

"Through their superstition," he replied promptly. "Once make them believe we deal with the supernatural, or possess magical powers, and they will make us tabu. The dread of death or disease from violating a tabu will cause them to shun us like lepers."

Barbara, inexperienced in native ways, was only half convinced. She listened incredulously to the scheme he propounded, her knowledge of electricity being limited.

"I will get some sticks," he concluded, rising; and place everything in a basket; that I shall turn in for a bit. This afternoon will strengthen the walls of the hut; and I'll put up a partition. Then we shall each have a room until we can build another hut. Plenty of work before us, if rescue doesn't come soon."

Barbara was helped to collect sticks, an extraordinary number pervading her mind. Croft's spirits rose. He had faced and eluded death too often to fear it. His confidence in this simple ruse puzzled her.

Collecting the rubber shock absorber belonging to the wireless outfit, he broke the sticks into short staves, showing Barbara how to cover them. This done, he proceeded to attach them to the wireless outfit.

He then attached the aerial to the top of the wireless outfit, and the work of the wireless outfit was completed.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE ELM'S USEFULNESS

"My mother said to me," the Elm told Billie Browne.

"Young Elm, you must not only be beautiful, you must be useful."

"For years and years," she said, "Elms have been both useful and beautiful. In the summer time give shade to people as they walk along hot streets, or give them comfort and rest and coolness from your shade as they sit beneath you."

"Then, too, you must be useful, for the wood which you have is strong and can be made into wagons and barrels and the wooden parts of tools."

"This also told me. So I am ready for any purpose at all. During the summer I gave shade to people and they thought I was beautiful and they were very devoted to me."

"It is the way we have always done," said Billie Browne. "I don't wonder everyone loves you." "I told you," she said. "I had always been devoted to the elm tree."

"Ah, but everyone does not love me," said the Elm. "We have our enemies."

"It is hard to believe," said Billie Browne. "But it is true," said the Elm. "Yes," the Elm continued, "the Elm has enemies as our great enemies."

"What are they?" she asked. "The Elm has enemies as our great enemies."

"What are they?" she asked. "The Elm has enemies as our great enemies."

"What are they?" she asked. "The Elm has enemies as our great enemies."

IDAHO SPUD IN BASKETS SELLS AT HIGH PRICE

Carload of Selected Potatoes Brings $3.70 Per Hundred at Kansas City; Highest Price Since War.

Selected Idaho potatoes packed in bushel baskets sold on the Kansas City market last week at $2.70 per cwt. when other potatoes could be bought for from $1 to $1.50, according to the Chicago packer. These potatoes were grown in the Twin Falls region and were packed here by the Idaho Lettuce company, under contract entered into last fall, whereunder from 200 to 300 carloads of selected potatoes packed in baskets are to be shipped from here.

Best Post-War Record.
This sale is recorded in a dispatch to the Chicago Packer from Kansas City, under date of November 21, as follows:

What is believed to be the highest price paid for potatoes in Kansas City since the war times was secured Monday of this week when Thomas J. Murphy sold a straight car of Idaho baking potatoes packed in bushel baskets to the National Produce company for $3.70 per cwt. delivered Kansas City. There were 600 bushel baskets in the car, half Rural bakers and half Russets. Each variety was divided as follows: Half 60 pounds to the bushel, a fourth 50s and a fourth 70s. The potatoes were uniform in size, smooth and attractive. They sold well, according to Earl Findley of the National.

This price is more remarkable when the present potato market is considered. It all goes to show, according to "Tommy" Murphy, that if potatoes are graded properly and packed right, there is a demand at a price far beyond what the ordinary run of stock will bring.

Justified Editorial.
Referring editorially to the transaction, the Packer says:

A carload of potatoes sold this week on one of the big markets at $3.70 per cwt. when other potatoes could be bought for from $1 to $1.25.

The high priced potatoes were packed in bushel baskets and were graded to a certain size. It took work to grade and put these potatoes up in this manner of course, but it certainly paid the owner. What can be done with potatoes in grading and packing can be done with any other commodity.

YOUTH TO SERVE TERM FOR ROBBERY OF BANK

Albert Engstrom, 22, Sentenced at Rupert to 5 to 20 Years in State Prison for Part in Minidoka Holdup

RUPERT, Nov. 23.—Albert Engstrom, 22, who was Thursday found guilty of robbery of the First National bank of Minidoka, November 7, last, was today sentenced by Judge T. Bailey Lee in district court here to serve five to 20 years term in the state prison. Two other men implicated in the robbery are still at large. Participating in his own defense at the trial Engstrom denied that he had been at Minidoka when the robbery took place and stated that he had spent the entire day at Rupert. Testimony by John Kidd, prisoner in the Minidoka county jail where Engstrom has been confined, detailing a confession alleged to have been made by Engstrom was an interesting feature of the state's case.

F., expects to confer the ancient degree upon a number of qualified candidates. Members of the general committee in charge of convention arrangements have been named as follows: O. W. The following heads of committees have been appointed: Finance, S. G. McAnley; hall, A. A. Carlson; social, Ed Ralston. Twin Falls invitation was extended to Idaho Odd Fellows at their annual meeting last October at Boise.

Literary Snippets

Librarians find that many readers delight in discovering errors in classical works and popular fiction and recording them on the margins of pages. Thus it has been noted that in "Around the World in Eighty Days," the hero reaches his club as the clocks of the town are striking "10 minutes to 10"; that in "Monte Cristo," the author or translator makes and leapt to the sheets simultaneously, and Hider Haggard makes an eclipse of the moon take place when the moon is now—New York American.

Power of Laughter.

Will a day come when the race will detect the funniness of these juvenilities and laugh at them, and by laughing at them destroy them? For your race, in its poverty, has unquestionably one really effective weapon—laughter. Power, money, persuasion, supplication, persecution—these can lift at a colossal humbug—push it a little—widen it a little—tear it by the centurion; but only laughter can blow it to rags and atoms at a blast. Stan in Mark Twain's "The Mysterious Stranger."

The art of being able to make a good use of moderate abilities wins esteem, and often confers more reputation than real merit.—Rochefoucauld.

DISPUTE AUDITORS' CLAIM

Pier Hardware Company Assigns Denial Liability for Additional Payment on Account of Audit.

Liability for payment to Harkins and Sells, Salt Lake accountants of $2491.79 or any other sum in excess of $1000 already paid for services of the firm in connection with an audit completed in February, 1923, of the books of the Pier Hardware company, is denied by Nicholas H. Shearer, W. M. Olson and G. M. Nichols, assignees of the Pier Hardware company, in an answer filed in district court here Friday by Shearer and North, attorneys for the defendants in a suit instituted by the accountants. The demand of the accountants, according to the defendants' answer, is based upon claim for payment for services in connection with the audit which was "outside the scope of their employment and not called for by agreement."
