AMERICA'S AIR NEEDS TOLD TO INVESTIGATORS

House Committee Informed by Officials That Defense of the Skies Is Best in World; Too Few Ships.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Information in number, but superiority in material, design and general efficiency distinguished the American air service as compared with those of other countries, Secretary Wilbur and Rear Admiral Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, today told the special house aircraft investigating committee.

"We feel we are not behind," the secretary testified, "as far as the navy is concerned, the condition is satisfactory except we need more ships. I believe that no other nation has anything better than we have."

Leading World. Admiral Moffett was the same opinion, saying "nobody is ahead of us; in fact, we are leading."

"We are so far ahead of anybody else in naval aviation," he added, "that it will take them a long time to catch up."

The superiority existed, Admiral Moffett said, despite the fact that only 224 of the 840 planes of all kinds belonging to the navy would be relied upon for satisfactory operation under war conditions. Most of these 224 planes were built during the last three years and already were beginning to be obsolete, he told the committee, because new types were being designed, which were the superior of any in the world.

Special Airplanes. The United States, the admiral continued, was far ahead of any other country in the development of special airplanes for use against the catanapant system of launching bombing machines from ships, for instance, being a thoroughly American invention. Pointing out that 117 planes were on duty aboard the USS Yorktown, he said the department plans to supply all battleships with two fighting and one observation plane and destroyers with one machine.

Both Secretary Wilbur and Admiral Moffett disagreed with suggestions that the next war would be waged entirely in the air, asserting that the navy for landing bases and relatively limited range of action would always subordinate airplanes in importance to floating ships. Secretary Wilbur said that planes from their scouting activities, apart from a "trifling" addition to warfare, while Admiral Moffett declared "the airplane is merely a new arm but will not displace anything."

Both witnesses also opposed the proposal for a unified air service, expressing the opinion that naval aircraft should be controlled only by persons thoroughly conversant with naval conditions and problems.

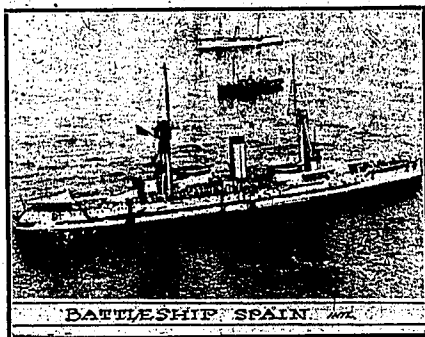

Talk of the possibility of an invasion of the United States in case of war by means of aircraft alone was described by the admiral as foolish. Such an invasion, he said, could be made only by use of floating bases, such as airplane carriers, or permanent bases on the American continent.

Dead Spaniard Wins Two Lottery Prizes Totalling $140,000. Tickets Among Effects of Man Who Died Lifts Widow and Children From Poverty to Undreamed-of Wealth.

MADRID, Dec. 22 (AP)—A dead man today won a goodly portion of the annual Christmas lottery prizes. He was Senor Quintana, and he died last Friday, leaving behind in his effects two lottery tickets. When the lucky numbers were posted today it was found that one ticket called for a twentieth part of the first prize, that the other had won the tenth prize, altogether the two tickets brought to Quintana's family nearly one million pesetas, or about $140,000.

Just before he died, Quintana's house was robbed. There was only sufficient money left behind to bury him and his widow and children were facing a cold and hungry Christmas. Now they will have more wealth than they ever had dreamed.

SUICIDE THEORY IS GIVEN JURY

Defense in Trial of Kid McCoy for Murder Claims Woman Killed Herself in Despondency

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 22 (AP)—Smuggled jewels, the action of her divorced husband, Albert A. Mora, and a troubled conscience over her relations with Kid McCoy, ex-pugilist, now on trial for her alleged murder, caused Mrs. Theresa Mora to commit suicide, according to declarations before a jury in court here today by H. L. Geisler, defense attorney.

The contents of the attorney sustained the defendant's story of the woman's death as told on the witness stand last Friday.

Outline Reason. Before the death of Mrs. Mora several thousand dollars worth of jewelry, branded as smuggled goods, was placed under seal by federal authorities, the attorney pointed out, her former husband had threatened her life, and she brooded over her relations with Kid McCoy, with whom she lived.

With this triangular foundation for a suicide motive, Geisler fought back at the prosecution's statements early in the day that McCoy killed Mrs. Mora "because her attitude toward him changed and he saw his meal ticket slipping away."

Mora Protests. The divorced husband of the woman, sitting in court was aroused to protest when Geisler reviewed testimony indicating that he had fought with his former wife, thrown books at her, been arrested for safe burglary at the Mora antique shop and had threatened to kill Mrs. Mora.

"Why didn't you call me to the stand?" Mora demanded. A bailiff silenced him.

Geisler explained that Mora's attorneys had arranged not to have him called "to save further embarrassment."

Deputy District Attorney Charles Frickie, opening for the prosecution, declared "McCoy doesn't know what love is any more than he knows what constitutes a gentleman."

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

A senate committee heard arguments on the proposed Boulder canyon dam. The department of agriculture began its campaign against the poultry pest.

J. A. Hovner was appointed director of the justice department's investigation bureau.

Secretary Wilbur and Rear Admiral Moffett outlined aviation needs to a house committee.

A. W. Hall of Pennsylvania was appointed director of the bureau of engraving and printing.

Official phases of the inauguration of President Coolidge March 4 were agreed upon at a White House conference.

President Coolidge, it was made known, is recognizing in patronage matters the reading-out of the republican party of insurgents who opposed his election.

It was learned that the Washington government will engage in no controversy on the subject of gun convention until congress makes known its attitude on the question of appropriating funds.

TAKE TOLL OF STORM DAMAGE OVER COUNTRY

Temperatures Higher Following Severe Cold Spell; Heavy Snows Follow; Northwest Still Suffering Some.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Telephone and telegraph companies and the railroads in the middle west began taking toll of the damage to their properties from the cold wave and subsequent sleet and snowstorms of last week. At the same time, they were making preparations for renewal of heavy snows throughout the upper half of the Mississippi valley.

The communications and transportation services continued to improve today as the temperature rose, excepting in the far northwest, thermometer readings were above zero at all points and the weather bureau predicted that the temperature would continue to moderate throughout the central section of the country. A minimum of 18 degrees above was forecast for the Chicago area tonight.

$1,000,000 Damage. The Illinois Bell Telephone company, first of the communications companies to make a definite estimate of damages wrought during the week, said that a $1,000,000 loss had been suffered because of the storm. More than 21,000 poles were blown down throughout the company's territory. The sleet froze on the lines, in some instances more than an inch thick. Peoria, Ill., was the center of the heaviest damages. Repairs again worked south from Peoria and found mile after mile of wires on the ground. In most of the Illinois cities outside Chicago telephone service was hampered and toll service almost completely suspended.

Snow was predicted for the entire upper Mississippi valley, with rains to the south. These may be followed in this section by a snowstorm of almost blizzard proportions later in the week, the weather man indicated. A heavy storm, the bureau reported, was developing in the far west and another of slightly lesser intensity in Manitoba.

Firemen Engage in Water Fight While Building Is Ablaze

Angered by Being Hit With Steam Fire Fighters Engage in Free-for-All in Oregon.

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 22 (AP)—Angered because a stream of water from a fire hose was accidentally turned upon them, firemen at Reedport, Oregon, engaged in a free for all water fight while an apartment house was burning Sunday, according to word received here.

In his haste in starting to play the water upon the flames, one fireman accidentally, it is said, turned a stream upon a fellow member of the volunteer organization. In retaliation a stream was returned and others joined in.

While the fire raged someone broke into the apartments and made away with clothing and jewelry.

MEXICAN BANDIT LEADER IS DEAD

American Posse Puts End to Raids of Gang From Across Boundary in Gun Fight.

BRAWLEY, Cal., Dec. 22 (AP)—Manuel Diaz, said to have been the leader of a gang of bandits who for two years have been crossing the Mexican boundary and raiding American farmers, was shot and killed at Bonds Corner, near here, by a posse led by Deputy Sheriff "Buck" Dobbs. Seven other members of the gang escaped in an automobile.

Diaz and his men were raiding a stock barn at Bonds Corner when they were surprised by the posse. Dobbs put a bullet through Diaz' patrol arm as he raised his gun to fire, and a volley from others in the posse dropped him in his tracks before he had run a hundred yards.

The gang is credited with having carried off thousands of dollars worth of cattle and property during the past two years.

PILOT GAMBLES WITH DEATH IN LEAP AND DIES

First Air Mail Aviator Killed When Engine Quits High in Air and Parachute Fails to Open in Jump.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Trusting his life to the odds of skill, composing his parachute after his airplane failed in a blinding snowstorm, Clarence Gilbert, air mail pilot, last night leaped into space high in the clouds over the little town of Kaneville, Ill., and lost in his gamble with death.

His body, with strands of the parachute which failed to open still attached to his belt, was found near Kaneville today shortly after searchers had found his smashed plane with its burden of mail following a 15-hour hunt along the air mail route.

His death marked the first night fatality of that band of transcontinental birdmen who for six months have been winging their way across a continent in good weather and bad, making a schedule almost to the fraction of a minute with their cargoes of mail.

Gilbert, who entered the air mail service last August, left here last night shortly after 7 o'clock in a snowstorm and near zero weather, guided only by the blazing beacon and signal lights that mark the path of the airmail carriers to Omaha.

Five minutes later a second plane, westbound, took the air here and the pilot, in this machine, maintaining a lonely vigil as he rushed through the night, reported upon reaching Iowa City, the first stop, that he had seen the lights of Gilbert's machine far below him through the snow at Kaneville, 50 miles west of Chicago. When Gilbert failed to arrive at Iowa City, the first stop, the route was aroused by telephone operators and scoured the country for miles around.

First intimation of the fate of the lost airman came at 10 o'clock when his smashed and twisted plane was found by the searchers about a mile from Kaneville. Less than an hour afterward the body, half buried in a snow drift, was found. It was literally broken to pieces. Farmers, who during the last few nights of sub-zero weather, had scanned the skies each night to see whether the intrepid men of the air would still make their schedule, only to see the night lights of the mail planes glide through the sky on the dot, gathered the body of the fallen airman and hastened to the nearest telephone to spread the news. Shortly before the body was found, another plane sent out on a searching expedition had picked up the mail from the wrecked plane and was rushing it on toward the west.

Gilbert had trouble with his plane in the snowstorm and near zero weather and, believing a crash to be imminent, leaped for his life, trusting that the parachute with which all fliers are equipped, would open as he hurtled down through the snow. For some reason the silk did not unfurl.

Gilbert was 25 years old and came from Plainville, Kansas. He had been on a relief schedule, flying between Chicago and Iowa City. He was trained in the army aviation camp at Fort Riley, Kansas. A widow, at present visiting relatives at Junction City, Kansas, survives.

Daylight Robberies Net Chicago Crooks $133,000 in Goods

Furs, Jewels, Shoes and Clothes Taken in Six Burglaries; Follows Quiet Night in the Windy City.

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Chicago holdup men seemed determined today to make a merry Christmas for themselves with the loss of more than $133,000 worth of furs, jewels, shoes and clothes in a series of six daylight robberies committed after what police called a quiet night.

Furs valued at $100,000 were taken from the shop of Nathan Teitelbaum by robbers who found their way into the store through a double maze of interlocking alarm wires.

In the others $10,537 worth of jewels was taken from two jewelry stores, $725 worth of shoes from two shoe stores and $5000 worth of clothes from a cloak shop.

COMMUNISTS OF FRANCE DOING LITTLE DAMAGE

Premier Herriot Tells Correspondents Rumors in Paris Are False; Party Is on the Decrease, He Asserts.

PARIS, Dec. 22 (AP)—Premier Herriot, who has been ill for a number of days, received the Paris representatives of the foreign press this evening to discuss recent rumors regarding communist uprisings. He requested the correspondents to send out the following statement:

"I had the pleasure the day before yesterday of receiving your conferees of the French press and I took advantage of the opportunity to give them some explanations concerning the supposed communist peril that has been reported as menacing our country. False news was being spread in Paris.

No Differences.

"That is why I apply to you, who are sincere friends of France, and ask you not to allow to be created abroad, an idea that France is at grips with social differences and menaced with imminent and grave troubles.

"Since the end of hostilities, France has not ceased to work to heal her wounds. She lives in absolute calm. She has not known, shall not know, any violence.

Party Exists.

"Assuredly, there exists a communist party in our country, as in many other countries, but it is far from increasing its forces. It sees them decrease. It has only a few representatives in parliament. The communists ran up against the robust good sense of our rural districts and the clear sightedness of our laboring population. That party is no more active today than formerly. It tried to mobilize its forces and organize a vast meeting Sunday. Its numerous appeals, however, resulted in bringing this year less than half the number that responded last year.

Could Repress Trouble.

"I told your French conferees that the government would be able to repress, with the greatest energy, any attempt that might be made to disturb the peace. But I have a firm conviction that such a thing will not happen.

"Do not allow to be propagated false news meant to mislead. Help us to destroy these false reports, not only in the interest of our country, but in the interest of truth. You know that I am working for general pacification. It is a work that interests all the nations of the world. I ask you to give that work your hearty co-operation."

GERMANY SEEKS TO JOIN LEAGUE

Country Opens Up Problem of Armaments in Note to Geneva; Asks for Information.

GENEVA, Dec. 22 (AP)—Opening up the whole problem of German armaments, Germany has sent a note to the league of nations, touching the question of Germany's joining the league. In the note, the Berlin government declares its view that if international conflicts arise, Germany should remain absolutely free under the league covenant to determine how far she would take an active part in such conflicts.

The text of the note, which is published by the league secretariat tonight, shows that Germany desires an exceptional position as a member of the league, because of her lack of armed strength, though she denies any intention of asking for special privileges.

Germany maintains that if she is obliged to participate in all of the league military sanctions she would be compelled to waive her right to neutrality — "the last defense of a disarmed people."

Lengthy Negotiations.

The reaction in league circles to the German note, which the Berlin government also transmitted to all the governments represented in the council, is that it will be certain to necessitate lengthy negotiations with the power and presumably delay the date when Germany will formally apply for admission to the league, if so ever does. It inevitably links the league question with the general problem of inter-allied control and future investigations of German armaments which may be carried on by the league, the nature of which the council now is endeavoring to define.

Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the foreign minister, himself penned the note given tonight which forms the second chapter of the negotiations inaugurated when Germany dispatched her first communications on the same subject direct to all the powers having seats in the council.

SPANISH MINISTER SEEKS SATISFACTION FOR AUTHOR'S ACT

PARIS, Dec. 22 (AP)—Viscount D'Eza, former Spanish minister of war, has arrived in Paris for the express purpose of obtaining an apology or satisfaction from Vicente Blasco Ibañez, the author, for what the statesman considers an insulting reference regarding him in the writer's manifesto against King Alfonso and the military dictatorship. The manifesto is entitled, "Alfonso Unmasked."

The viscount's present plans, it is said, are to publish an article in Le Figaro calling upon Ibañez to make a retraction. In the event the author declines the viscount's friends say he is prepared to seek out Ibañez in his retreat at Mentone and publicly challenge him to a duel.

REGULATE DRINK IN IRISH STATE

Restrictions on Hours of Opening of Clubs Passed Through Dial by Government.

DUBLIN, Dec. 22 (AP)—The Free State government has passed through the Dial a bill to check the abuses of the sale of drink in Ireland. The measure is concerned with restrictions of the hours of opening, and the placing of clubs of all classes in the same position, with regard to hours of sale, as the ordinary drink shops.

While the Temperance party considers the measure too moderate, the licensed trade is much disturbed and has called upon the senate to delay passing of the bill till a government commission has inquired into the whole matter. Ministers have indicated the opinion that there are more than twice too many shops for the sale of drink throughout the country, and the trade contends that in abolishing those surplus to requirements the government must compensate the dispossessed.

The trade also demands a reduction of the license duty proportionate to the restriction in the hours of sale, and bids its members to withhold all support, financial and electoral, from any candidate for the Dial who will not pledge himself to sustain its demands.

MOTOR TRUCKS AID RAILROAD BEAR TRAFFIC

Vehicle Divides Honors in Freight Transportation and Has Place, Says Pennsylvania Line Official.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—Elmer Lee, vice president in charge of operations of the Pennsylvania system, sees the motor delivery truck sharing the honors with the freight train in future transportation, now that the railroad industry has become permanently divided into what he calls wholesale and retail departments.

Vice President Lee holds the view that the chief problem in regard to the handling of freight as between railroads and motor trucks, are not those of competition—but rather those of co-ordination. "The part of the motor vehicle," Mr. Lee said, "is not to do what the railroads are already fitted and equipped to do with full success and satisfaction; it is to do what the railroads are not able to do at all, or else do only with difficulty and imperfect success."

"Such profits as the railroads are able to make at all come practically altogether from the mass transportation of freight and passengers over at least considerable distances, in other words from what may term the wholesale departments of transportation. This is just the form of service in which experience shows that trucks cannot consistently earn real profits. On the other hand, those forms in which the trucks can and do make money are almost invariably the strictly retail forms in the rendering of which railroad operation practically always involves losses, and sometimes very heavy ones."

As a result of the use of motor trucks in the handling of short distance packages, or, in railroading, "less-than-carload," (L.C.L.) freight, has been developed on the Pennsylvania railroad until more than 20 routes are in operation. Most of these serve the suburban zones of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and, to some extent, the eastern shore of Maryland. The extension of this trucking service has been accomplished practically within 12 months, and research and studies are under way to extend it further. The management feels it has proved that the speedy and mobile new auxiliary releases heavier railroad equipment for heavier traffic uses, increases efficiency of general service and effects important economies.

FRANCE TO PAY AMERICAN DEBT

Retiring French Ambassador Tells Gathering His Country Intends to Settle.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Jules Jusserand, the retiring French ambassador, told an audience here today that France after a moratorium for a breathing spell could and would begin repayment of her war debt to the United States. He made it plain, however, that France expected preferential treatment as compared with terms granted by the United States to other war debtor nations because, he said, France suffered the great loss in life and blood, the greatest in fortune comparatively and financially, because "France was the battlefield."

Against Communism.
The French ambassador spoke vigorously of France's determination to hurl back communism. He said he did not believe it was a real or a grave danger.

"We are a steady nation," he said. "The soil of the French revolution is not the soil of modern France. There are no centuries of abuses to give rise to a real revolution today. As we said to the Germans at Verdun: 'Thou shalt not pass.' We shall say to the bolsheviks and the communists, 'You shall not come.'"

AMERICAN WOMEN HARD TO PLEASE

Parisian Dressmaker Tells of Manner in Which Selections of Creations Are Made.

PARIS, Dec. 22 (AP)—A celebrated Parisian dressmaker was talking the other day of the various foreign women, Spanish, Italian, American and English, who crowd the shops of the French capital. Long experience had given her definite ideas of the characteristics of each group of customers.

"The tall, dark, flashing-eyed woman whom the poets have called the 'fiery-tempered Spaniard' becomes merely a weak little woman when she is shown pretty dresses," said this observer of human nature. "When prices are quoted, even if they are high, she goes through the mental process of translating the figures into pesos, and is immediately aware that she is getting a bargain. Like the Italian woman, she never haggles over the cost; under no circumstances are these southern women willing to give the impression that they cannot afford a little caprice in the way of a creation worth from 5,000 to 10,000 francs."

"Furthermore these women do not come to Paris to have dresses made according to the traditions of their own countries, so they bow to French taste and never make suggestions to us; they take what we offer."

"The American woman, on the contrary, often attempts to impose her will upon us," continued the dressmaker. "It often happens, however, that in spite of the power of the dollar we do not yield to certain fantastic requests of our American customers which, if carried out in their dresses, might compromise our reputation as classic dressmakers and inflexible tailors. The American woman is not a perfect customer by any means. The majority give us only the address of the hotel in which they are stopping. This would be a detail of slight importance if the bills were paid upon delivery, but a great number of them leave Paris without having settled, and we have nothing to do but wait for a check dated from some city of the new world. But they invariably pay."

"The English women alone are perfect customers," concluded the dressmaker, "they never bargain and they always pay cash. They are almost all 'gent ladies in their own land,' either through birth or marriage. A middle class English woman would never think of coming to the rue de la Paix for her dresses; she knows she cannot afford it."

VIENNA RIOTS OF UNEMPLOYED GROW SERIOUS

Five Thousand Mounted and Foot Police Patrol Streets to Break Up Mobs Demanding Increased Dole.

VIENNA, Dec. 22 (AP)—Five thousand mounted and foot police patrolled the streets from early morning until late tonight to prevent rioting by the unemployed.

The unemployed, aggregating 20 per cent of all branches of organized labor, passed a resolution which declared if doles were not increased in time for them to make Christmas purchases they would spoil the fun for everyone else. Police President Shober therefore forbade all demonstrations.

Ridden Down. Nevertheless, bands of unemployed repeatedly tried to march upon the city hall this morning to hold meetings. Attempts to break through the police cordon proved a failure and many of the unemployed were ridden down by the mounted police. Fifteen leaders of the demonstration were arrested.

To alleviate the hardships among the men who are out of work and in an endeavor to prevent any trouble, the government has voted ten billion kronen for immediate distribution.

INTOXICANTS FIGURE IN THREE COMPLAINTS

Two Plead Guilty to Misdemeanor Charges; Third Accused of Illegal Possession, to Make Defense.

Intoxicants figured in three criminal complaints issued Monday at the instance of the prosecuting attorney's office, involving three men in three different misdemeanor charges.

Anastasio Gran, charged with creating a disturbance while intoxicated near a dwelling house, told Probate Judge O. P. Duval he was so drunk he had no recollection of what had happened. He elected to serve out in jail a sentence involving payment of $50 fine.

Albert Evans, charged with illegal possession of two and one-half pints of liquor when he was arrested Saturday night by the police, pleaded not guilty on arraignment before Judge Duval. He was admitted to $300 bond and hearing was set for this afternoon.

Hearing before Justice of the Peace Mallory in the case of Joe Hunter, charged with attempt to commit a statutory offense, was postponed to today.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR SAMUELS' COAL MINE IN IDAHO FALLS SUIT

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 22 (AP)—As a sequel to the much mooted question as to the development of the Teton coal mines, which entered so extensively into the recent campaign for governor of H. F. Samuels, progressive candidate, comes the announcement today that a suit has been filed against Samuels, who Teton Coal company and Karl A. Reichert, by Robert H. Harlin, Samuels' former partner and associate.

The complaint asks that Stanley Crowley of Idaho Falls, be appointed receiver of the property. E. M. Holden of this city has been retained to represent the plaintiff in the action. The complaint asks for the dissolving of certain leases entered into by all parties concerned on the ground that Samuels and Reichert are attempting to defraud the plaintiff of his share in the property.

The details of the complaint are interesting in the extreme. They set forth that the sum of $75,000 was to have been provided by Samuels for the development of the property, in return for which Samuels was to acquire a certain interest in the mines; that Samuels was to organize a corporation to be known as the Idaho Progressive Coal company, in which Samuels was to have an additional bonus of $85,000 for organizing the company with interest rated at seven per cent. The complaint further states that when a favorable state government made the proposition a likely one, he, Samuels, was to sell the property to the state.

Harlin also states in the allegations set forth in the complaint that the company is at this time insolvent, with worthless checks being issued freely.

Harlin alleges that he is a practical coal miner, with years of experience, but that neither Samuels or Reichert are trained in mining and that through their manipulations the company has been dissolved.

The complaint is a lengthy one and sets forth in detail the incidents which led to Samuels and Reichert becoming involved in the property.

Joe-K Says:

"THE CHRISTMAS THAT LIES BETWEEN": in childhood the fire burned brightly within us; in old age the light of Christmas will reflect in our faces and our natures. But in the meantime we must keep the spirit alive so that it may glow the warmer, and softer in old age. And we can only do this by fanning into flames the smouldering embers of the Christmas spirit which is in every one of us. God implanted it there. It was good that we should have it, or He would not have given it to us.—(Continued tomorrow).

DEEP BLANKET OF SNOW FALLS ON TWIN FALLS

White Christmas Seems Assured When Day-Long Storm Brings Nearly 14 Inches of Snowfall.

Forecast for today: Continued cold.

A white Christmas in Twin Falls seemed assured Monday evening when a snow blanket nearly 14 inches deep covered the ground. A storm that continued without intermission throughout the day brought snow Monday to a depth of 10.6 inches in addition to the 3.3 inches of snow that had fallen during the 24-hour period ending Sunday evening, according to records of the government weather observer's station here.

The snowstorm began Saturday evening and brought with it a welcome change in temperature, the mercury rising Monday to 25 degrees for the highest point of the day and holding at 15 above for the lowest. High mark Sunday was recorded at 28 above while minimum was recorded at 10 below, according to the weather observer.

Snowfall brought out not a single sleigh in Twin Falls, but the number of cars that plied the streets frequently flourishing in drifts, was not much less than the accustomed number. Deliverymen experienced difficulty in making their rounds, while mail carriers, heavily burdened with Christmas mail, bore the brunt of the weather. Hope-transported snowplows were set to work by the municipal street department cleaning sidewalks.

Trains on Schedule.
Trains on the Twin Falls branch were not delayed by the storm and there was no interruption here in communication lines. Branch line trains ran on schedule except on Sunday evening when the westbound passenger train waited at Minidoka for connection with the main line train bringing college students home for the holidays.

Official reports had not been received Monday evening as to weather conditions at Jackson Lake reservoir, but advice was received by W. T. Loeble to the effect that three feet of snow had fallen in the Tetons. Snow was piled high in the hills at the headwaters of Salmon river and tributary streams that provide the water supply for the Salmon river project.

Moisture content of the snowfall here was given by the weather observer as nine-tenths of an inch for both Sunday and Monday.

No instructions were given Mr. Keel as to the manner of voting the canal stock, although commissioners in informal discussion expressed their approval of the administration of Burton Smith, who is completing his first year's term as general manager for the canal company.

Issuance of a warrant in the sum of $23,000 to meet semi-annual interest charges on Twin Falls general obligation bonds, was authorized by the commission at this meeting.

MANY EVENTS IN STORE FOR WEEK

Observance of Christmastide in Churches to Include Young People's Programs.

Christmas week, which opened Sunday in Twin Falls churches with special services, among the more prominent of which were elaborate musical programs given in the evening at Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian churches, is to be marked by a number of Christmas exercises arranged especially for the benefit of the younger folks with Christmas trees and distribution of gifts.

Children and others participating in exercises this evening at Methodist and Presbyterian churches have been asked to bring old or clothing to be used in Christmas relief work in Twin Falls.

Exercises at the Presbyterian church will include a Christmas play, "The Nativity," to be presented under direction of Mrs. H. C. Reynolds, with musical program in charge of Mrs. James S. Keel.

The Methodist Sunday school Christmas program to be given at 7:30 o'clock this evening is to consist of dramatization scenes in the life of Abraham, Joseph, Moses and David, with a reader showing all leading up to the Messiah, and a dramatization also of the Bethlehem shepherds scene with Christmas carols.

Offers Musical Program.

Pupils of St. Edward's parochial school are to give a program of vocal and instrumental music this evening at the Lavinger theater. There is to be a Christmas tree with stockings for the children.

On Wednesday evening a carol and communion service is to be held in the Ascension Episcopal church, beginning at 10:30 o'clock, and on Sunday evening, next, high school students are to give in this church the mystery play, "Adeste Fideles."

On Christmas eve also the Sunday school of the Lutheran church is to give its Christmas program.

More than 100 children are to be guests of the Salvation Army at a Christmas program with tree and distribution of gifts to be held Wednesday evening at the Salvation Army hall on Shoshone street south.

The Christmas program by the Bible school of the Baptist church is to be given on Thursday evening.

Festival services are to be held on Christmas day in both St. Edward's church and the Lutheran church.

VETERAN HEARS FINAL SUMMONS

W. W. Humphrey, Pioneer Stage Operator of Yellowstone Park, Dies After Long Illness

W. W. Humphrey, 80, veteran of the Civil war, and for many years vice president and general manager of the Montana and Yellowstone Stage company that operated stages through Yellowstone national park in the early days of that region, died here Monday evening, following an illness of several months that last week became so grave as to require his removal to a hospital where he expired. The body was taken to the Grossman mortuary. Arrangements for funeral services have not been completed.

Mr. Humphrey had been for nearly 20 years a resident of Twin Falls, coming here with P. S. A. Bickel, engineer for the Twin Falls Land and Water company, when this region was brought under irrigation. He was himself active in reclamation affairs and with view to reclamation of a desert area east of Milner made water filings a number of years ago.

Left for Dead on Field.

Mr. Humphrey served for three years during the Civil war as a member of company F, 188th New York volunteer regiment, and was discharged with the rank of corporal in consequence of severe wounds which he sustained at the second battle of Hatcher's Run, Virginia, when he was left for dead overnight on the battlefield. A rifle bullet that entered his right breast at that time was removed several years later from a point beneath his left shoulder blade.

Mr. Humphrey was born December 14, 1844, at Corning, New York, where he enlisted in the military service when the Civil war opened. At the close of the war he came west and spent several years in Montana before engaging in the stage line enterprise with which he was identified for 20 years.

He was an active member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and was a past commander and had served for many years as chaplain of Dan McCook post, Twin Falls, of which he was a charter member. He was a member also of the Elks lodge here.

Besides his wife, Mr. Humphrey is survived by one sister, who is now in St. Petersburg, Florida. He was one of a family of four sons and three daughters.

Punch was served throughout the evening from an attractive table featuring the colors of the season. In spite of the inclement weather and the heavy snowfall there was a large attendance, a number of guests being present from Filer, Hansen and Kimberly.

THE SUB-MAN.

Fritz Hartman, confessed killer of more than two dozen men in Hannover, Germany, has been subjected to the study of, and is like no many of our own distinguished murderers. The impressive thing about the experts' testimony is their verdict that Hartman is not insane—that he is not mentally irresponsible, in the ordinary sense, but "mentally inferior." That is, he simply hasn't enough of the human mind to realize what a monster he is.

Nach has been said of "supermen." We have the opposite who might be called a "sub-man." If the psychologists are right, he is really less than human—what we sometimes call a "throw-back," but thrown back further than we usually think possible for members of the human race.

If we accept the evolutionary explanation of man's creation, there is a reversion to the cave man. It is not an imaginary comparison at all. Hartman's home was almost literally a cave, where he slept and lay in wait, and where he dragged his victims and slew them horribly for a livelihood. It is a reversion to a far distant time when, as the evolutionists hold, man had not yet developed even the social or tribal instinct.

If all this is true, we can only think with a shudder of what "the wonder child," the "paragon of evil," the "sub-man," has risen from, and struggle on more earnestly toward a state of super-humanity.

AMERICAN BIOGRAPHY.

Great Britain has a British Dictionary of Biography which supplies the essential facts about the lives of important Britons, in all lines of activity, from the beginning of the nation down to the present time. The United States, though better off than England in the matter of ordinary dictionaries or lexicons, has never had such a work. The need has always been felt, but the undertaking has been delayed and avoided because of its vast labor and expense.

Now it is made possible by the munificent action of the New York Times, which gives five hundred thousand dollars to pay the cost of getting the necessary manuscript ready for publication. The project will be carried out under the direction of twelve learned scholars. There will have to be a huge amount of research, and to mention the systematic planning of the work and the employment of scores of men and women to write it in suitable form when the material facts are available.

Such a work will supplement our lexicons and encyclopedias. It will enable any American, in a few minutes, to familiarize himself with the character and achievement of any leading American of the past. It will be a sort of historical "Who's Who in America." Through it, America will know herself better. It is people who make a country, and there is fascination as well as useful knowledge and patriotism in a better acquaintance with the makers of one's own land.

This is a very business-like way to go about the matter. American business and American philanthropy, working in hand, are rapidly making all knowledge accessible to all Americans.

MAYA TRIBE WAS WELL EDUCATED

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 22 (AP)—

The Maya tribes of Mexico, ancestors of the Aztecs, probably had the oldest civilization of the world and evolved the first system of mathematics, according to Professor A. L. Kroeber, of the University of California department of anthropology, who has just returned from making excavations in Yucatan.

Professor Kroeber said the Maya civilization dated back at least 2,000 years before the time mathematical calculation as used now was first established in India in the fifth century. Some scientists estimate, he added, that the Mayas flourished as far back as 5,000 years before the fifth century.

"As the Greeks preceded the Romans with a high standard of civilization, so the Mayas preceded the Aztecs in Mexico," he continued. "Buried pottery and ruins of cities recently discovered show a high state of civilization between 200 and 500 A. D. by a race known as the Mayas, which was copied later by the Aztecs."

The Mayas in Yucatan achieved higher things in art and literature as well as science. They were the inventors. The Toltecs immediately preceded the Aztecs and doubtless gave them the benefits of Maya civilization.

About the year 500 A. D. when the decline of the Mayas began, started a period about which little is known, but it may be assumed that the culture of the Mayas was carried to the north from Yucatan into the high plateau country where Mexico City stands.

"The Aztec records cover about two centuries prior to the Spanish conquest. The Aztec ruled their captive tribes with a high hand, taking from them the tribute which enabled them to build their cities."

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

RAINY DAY CLOTHES

"I love a rainy day," said the first rubber boot.

"Why wouldn't you?" said the second rubber boot. "A rainy day is the only day you get a chance to go out."

"That's true," said the first rubber boot. "I didn't say that that was not perfectly true. It is one of the reasons why I love a rainy day."

"I love a rainy day, too," said the old skirt.

"Well, I have a nice time on a rainy day," the old hat said.

"And so do I," said the old coat.

"And so do I," said the old petticoat. "Why, I'm such a wretched old thing that I wouldn't have any wearing any more if it were not for a rainy day."

"Of course," said the old skirt. "It isn't nice to belong to things. They don't belong to you."

"I mean every once in awhile it is hard to know how very little you're really liked."

"I don't suppose there is a creature who doesn't hate her rainy day clothes once in awhile."

"I mean that every now and then people will say."

"Oh, wouldn't it be wonderful not to have to wear rainy day clothes on a rainy day?"

"It would be so nice to feel one could wear one's good clothes then."

"So do I," said the old coat.

And look just as nice on a rainy day as on any other."

"But of course they realize their good clothes would not be good clothes for long if they did that."

"And so they always wear them."

"But at times we're not so popular, as they wish we weren't so old in appearance as well as in months and often years."

"They wish, too, they could be so enormously rich that they would never have such things as rainy day clothes—but I suppose all of us have our troubles, and not being popular at all times is one of ours."

"Oh," said the first rubber boot, "maybe some feel that way at times, but not often."

"The joy of rainy day clothes is that those who wear us can have a good time in spite of the weather. They don't have to worry or fret."

"They can just enjoy the public and the swishing, sloshing, delicious rain."

"I don't know whether there are any such words, but even then we know a rubber boot doesn't get much education."

"When I and my partner here go to school we aren't taken into the classrooms."

"We're left right outside with the other coats and rubber boots in the closet and we just don't say anything or think anything or learn anything."

"Oh," said the old hat, "I like the rainy days. And I'm glad I am a rainy day hat."

"I'm as nervous in a wind if I were a best hat. I was a best hat once."

"So you see I know. My time was always spent wondering if it would rain or if it would blow or if the clouds meant this or that."

"Now I am entirely carefree—yes, an entirely carefree hat."

"I have no responsibilities, and I can enjoy myself."

"Good for the rainy day clothes," shouted the two rubber boots.

"Good for the rainy day clothes," they repeated, and then they jumped about before they were taken from the corner of the back hall where they stood.

After that they jumped about just as their owner told them to do, which was really most obliging of them, most extremely obliging.

WHEAT PRICES BREAK ON CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Sharp—Backs in the price of wheat today resulted from heavy selling that was done under the leadership of a house which recently has been conspicuous on the buying side of the market. The advance in the price of wheat was contained the heavy loss in price, and that a reaction was overdue. Wheat closed yesterday 2 1/4 to 3 7/8 net lower, May $1.72 to 1 7/8, and July $1.47 to 1 1/2 to 1 7/8, with corn 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 down, oats 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 down, and provisions varying from unchanged to 2 1/2 decline.

Nearly 5 cents in some cases was slipped from wheat values today, the most decided cut for a long while. Much of the selling which forced prices down appeared to be based on the fact that the general upward trend of the market had lasted six months and that the advance in that time had totaled about 60 cents a bushel. Slowness of immediate export demand also was a leading factor and on likelihood was the principal slackening of activity on the part of the non-professional traders.

Sheep—Receipts 18,000; active; fat hams 25 to 50c higher; bulk $17.75 to 17.90; top $17.50; choice clipped $14; yearlings 50 to 75c higher; prime 93 pound weight $15; fat sheep 25c higher; heavy weight fat ewes $8 to 8.50; feeding lambs 15 to 25c higher; bulk $15.50 to 16; top $16.10.

WOOL

BOSTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—Although trading is less active on the wool market, prices are strong in all lines. Domestic fleece wool seems well sold up by some of the larger houses. The better class of this stock is still showing a slight upward movement. Domestic is a little firmer, also half blood and combing wool. The short wools in particular are strong.

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES

Low, 1924	90.27	81.00
Total sales	1,515,300 shares.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—Stock prices opened firm today, reacted sharply when the call money rate advanced to 3 per cent and then advanced to 4, and made irregular recovery in the late trading when violent bullish demonstrations took place in a few high priced specialties. The average of 20 leading industrials rose to the highest level since 1919, due largely to the nine point jump in General Electric, which established a record top at 29 1/2. The day's sales totaled slightly above one and one-half million shares. The advance in call money was due to the extensive calling of loans by banks as a result of the $15,000,000 deficit in reserve shown in the weekly clearing house statement last Saturday. It was estimated in some quarters that the total amount of loans called was close to $30,000,000.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—The price of raw sugar was steady and unchanged today at 4.77 for Cuban, duty paid. No sales were reported. Inaugure of 43 December notices caused rather irregular changes in that position, which after opening ten points higher, broke 45 points and closed 30 points net lower. Other deliveries were easy under smaller liquidation, prompted by favorable Cuban crop reports and expectations of increasing new crop receipts, with final prices 1 1/2 to 6 points net lower. December closed 3.25, March 2.85, May 2.96, July 3.08.

Refined sugar was unchanged to 20 points lower and is now quoted at 7.10 to 7.30 for the fine granulated.

Olive Trees

The olive is "beyond all others" the tree of civilization. From the day you plant the tree, about sixteen to eighteen years must pass before it begins to produce any return—seventeen years of care, work and unremitting preparation. In southern France, in the Arrondissement Grasse, one third of the country is planted with olives, and supported a population of 60,000 in the year 1880. In other two-thirds, which grew no olives, contained a population of 10,000. In the olive-growing district of Tunisia, 150,000 people live in an area of 600 square kilometers; but close by are districts inhabited by five or six people to the square kilometer.

Time From a Cat's Eyes

The Chinese peasant, who has neither watch, clock nor sun dial, tells the time from the eyes of a cat. The degree of dilation of a cat's eye varies through the day, contracting and expanding as the light grows strong or dim. The Chinese peasant has merely to note the size of the pupil in order to know at once the hour of the day. This method, which has not a little originality, must, however, be somewhat inconvenient if the feline time-keeper should happen to be off some-where on business of its own.—Paris Le Petit Parisien.

Skyscrapers Shrink

Few people know that the skyscraper, our modern cities shrink in winter, as the steel of which they are built contracts. This shrinkage is .001 of an inch for each degree of temperature change.

AUTO CARRIES MAN TO DEATH IN SNOWSTORM

Glenn O. Street, Well-Known
Motor Accessories Salesman,
Is Found Dead Under Car
Near Hagerman.

Crushed under his car when it left the highway Thursday evening about six miles northwest of Hagerman and hurtled about 50 feet down an embankment, Glenn O. Street, 46, salesman for the Motor Mercantile company of Salt Lake, and a resident of Twin Falls since 1910 and widely known throughout southern Idaho, met instant death, according to verdict of a coroner's jury impasseled at Hagerman Sunday evening, a few hours after the discovery of the body under the wreckage of the machine. The body was brought here Sunday evening.

Funeral services, it was announced Monday evening, will be held at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the O'Connell chapel here, and will be conducted under the auspices of the Elks lodge with eulogy to be delivered in connection with the lodge's ritualistic service by the Rev. Louis P. Nilsson, rector of Assumption church, Episcopal. Burial will be in Twin Falls cemetery.

Mr. Street's residence is at 430 Third avenue east. Besides his wife, he is survived by six children, ranging in age from four months to 12 years.

Leaves Road at Turn.

The fatal accident is believed to have occurred shortly after Mr. Street left Bliss in a blizzard of snow, and returning to his home here at about 6:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The car left the road at a point where the highway makes a sharp turn, and seems to have plunged straight ahead down the embankment that falls several hundred feet with Snake river at its foot. The overturned car, with the body underneath, was found on a ledge against tree and shrubbery about 50 feet below the road.

Search for Mr. Street was begun Sunday, when Mrs. Street, who had been told by her husband in a telephone conversation shortly before he left Bliss that he would return home in a few hours, became alarmed over his failure to arrive Saturday night. She was unable to find any trace of him after he had left Bliss. Mrs. Charles Owen of Bliss, one of those with whom Mrs. Street had communicated Saturday night, on learning that Mr. Street had not returned home, notified Gooding county authorities and went herself with her husband in search of the missing man.

Many at Accident Scene.

Several persons, including Mr. and Mrs. Tom Horn of this city, were at or near the scene of the fatal accident when the body was discovered, and there were passing at the time or shortly afterward a number of university students returning home for the holidays who had left the train at Bliss and were making the remainder of the trip by motor with relatives or friends. An inquest to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the accident was ordered by Dr. J. H. Cronwell, Gooding county coroner, and was held at Hagerman Sunday evening. It was the verdict of the coroner's jury that Mr. Street had come to his death as a result of an accident and that his death had been instantaneous. The chest had been crushed by the weight of the car which was lifted in order to remove the body.

Talks With Stage Driver.

Shortly before he left Bliss Mr. Street had engaged in conversation with Verne Dobbs, driver of the Boise-Twin Falls stage that was then returning to Twin Falls. Mr. Dobbs stated last evening, Mr. Dobbs said that he would beat the stage to Twin Falls. The stage driver said that a severe storm was raging so that he was compelled to stop the stage five times in making the descent of the Bliss grade into Snake river canyon. He said that he expected Mr. Street to pass the stage, and when he did not do so, suspected that he probably had changed his plans and de-

Manager Joe Koehler of Idaho Theater Invites Management and Employees of Several Institutions to Be Guests

Management and employees of Twin Falls postoffice, American Express company and Mountain States Telephone company offices here, and of Twin Falls daily newspapers are to be guests today of Manager Joe Koehler, at a showing of Tom Meighan in "Tongues of Flame" at the Idaho theater. Invitations extended Monday by Mr. Koehler stated that he desired to express by this means his appreciation of assistance and co-operation given him by the institutions to whose personnel the invitations were extended.

NEED FOR HELP SHOWS INCREASE

Organizations Co-operating in Christmas Relief Work Make Appeal for Assistance.

Extent of need in Twin Falls at Christmas time is considerably greater than was indicated by reports made to a recent meeting at which representatives of churches and civic and fraternal organizations canvassed the situation and made their plans for extending Christmas cheer, according to statement Monday evening of Mrs. John R. Ault, to whom organizations participating in the Christmas relief work had delegated the task of ascertaining the extent of need here.

In connection with this announcement Mrs. Ault requested that persons who expect to attend Christmas exercises this evening at Presbyterian and Methodist churches do not neglect to bring donations of food and clothing that have been requested. Baskets are to be made up for distribution Wednesday, Mrs. Ault stated.

A similar appeal was made Monday by Captain A. Wathen, commandant of Salvation Army corps here, who requested that donations of food and clothing for Christmas distribution be made available to the Army not later than this evening. Baskets are to be made up early Wednesday morning, Captain Wathen stated. Request was made for donations that will vary the quality of fare in homes of Twin Falls unfortunate ones, and gifts of chicken or fruits were suggested as being most acceptable.

Recent appeal for assistance in the Christmas relief work of the Salvation Army brought gratifying response, Captain Wathen stated, but there is need still for food of all kinds and for clothing, especially for children.

Captain Wathen told of one community in the vicinity of Twin Falls where neighbors have united to make substantial contribution of food and clothing, and did not to attempt the trip in the storm.

Mr. Street was rated one of the most capable salesmen in the employ of the concern he represented, whose general manager, Vern Culver, arrived here Monday from Salt Lake to assist the family in arranging for funeral services and settling Mr. Street's estate.

Mr. Street was a member of the Elks lodge at Pocatello and was a member of the Episcopal church.

BURSTED WATER PIPE DAMAGES TWO STORES

Thaw Releases Flood in Elks Building, Breaking Through Ceiling and Soaking Furniture and Merchandise.

Water released by bursting of an overhead pipe on the second floor of the Elks building Sunday morning broke through the ceiling and poured down into rooms on the first floor occupied by the Hoosier Furniture company and the W. H. Wright and Sons company store, causing damage that is estimated at several thousand dollars.

Damage to merchandise in the Wright store, Bryan Wright, manager, estimated at about $300, while E. E. Hollingsworth of the Hoosier Furniture company, stated that damage to furniture on the main floor and in the basement would be considerable.

The leak was discovered early Sunday morning by a little girl who passed the building and noticed water running down the stairs leading to the Elks club rooms.

The pipe, which was to have served the third floor when the building should be completed according to original plans, was laid between the ceiling and the roof over the second floor.
