On Maximum Basis. The committee report said the provisions of the bill relating to the regular army were based on maintaining a force of the same maximum as that provided for in appropriations for the current year—39,000 men, including 125,000 enlisted men, exclusive of 8,000 Philippine scouts.

LONDON, Jan. 2 (AP)—England is being swept today by a furious gale, the fourth in six days and the worst on record for 31 years. It has spread minor havoc throughout the country and caused a further serious rise in the water in the Thames valley, where scores of roads are impassable except by boats.

The force of the blow necessitated the suspension of flying at Croydon, the airforce for London, passenger planes, stopped one of the channel steamer services and caused the cancellation of racing meets and football games.

Lorry in Harbor. At Folkestone a heavy motor lorry was blown into the harbor and at Portgait a street car was blown sideways against a house, the shock sending glass flying from the windows in car.

The senate appropriations committee reported the first supply bill of the session, that for the postoffice and treasury departments. President Coolidge was said not to be in favor of international conferences and armament conferences such as has been proposed by Senator Borah of Ohio. The funds equipped from this date to meet such maturing certificates as may be due as a result of deaths of the beneficiaries and the additions to the fund are expected to be able to pay for the gradually increasing maturities of the future years.

Sells Treasury Notes. The first step taken by the treasury was the sale to limit of $50,000,000 in five-year four per cent treasury notes and a like amount of special treasury certificates of indebtedness, the latter being redeemable at the option of the treasury, so that funds temporarily will be available when desired by issuing the special securities. The sale of the notes was sent back to the treasury, all maturing influences to open market operations were eliminated. The securities were sold at par of 100 cents on the dollar.

THE GUMPS—LIVES OF GREAT MEN, ETC.

1925 Farm Outlook Best Since 1919, Says Babson

Famous Statistician Sees Better Condition Facing Agricultural Industry; Tells of Developments.

HABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 2.—What was the most significant development of 1924, so far as business is concerned? The question put today to Roger S. Babson, the statistician, brought an immediate answer outlining the recovery of the farmer and the effect this recovery may have on business during 1925.

The year 1924 marked a decided change in the position of the American farmer, says Mr. Babson. "As we enter 1925 he is better off than he has been at any time since 1919. Two main factors have contributed to this improvement; first and foremost has been the rapid and substantial recovery in the price that he receives for his products and second, the trend of those non-agricultural commodities which he buys has been downward.

The year's corn crop totaled 2,436,000,000 bushels, a decided increase from the 1923 crop, and is also substantially under the average output. However, the tremendous jump in prices which amounted to over 60 per cent from the low of this year more than offsets the decline in production, and as a result, the year's crop is estimated to be worth 40 per cent more than last year, respective valuation figures being $4,405,668,000 and $2,317,220,000.

The wheat crop was not only substantially greater in volume than the 1923 crop, but the price that the farmer received was 41 per cent higher. Hence, it is estimated that the year's wheat crop is worth 54 per cent more than last year, or $1,186,606,000 against last year's farm value of $735,995,000.

The oat farmer was benefited also to a great extent the value of his crop being estimated at 35 per cent more than last year, or about $728,405,000 against approximately $511,137,000 last year.

The changes in the 1924 farm value of other important crops as compared to last year have dropped about 30 per cent. However, the yield is placed at 13,153,000 bushels, against last year's yield of 10,140,000 bushels. Hence, much of the substantial price decline has been counteracted and he will probably receive close to $1,487,000,000 for his crop, against $1,747,616,000 for last year.

and the narrowing of the price scale. All of these mean that the farmer is again in the market with both money and the inclination to spend it.

Farmer's Position. "A return-implic absence and to get the full significance of this development we must understand just where the farmer has been and why he has been there. In 1913 things were supposed to have been in a reasonable balance. We may assume that the farmer was then receiving $1 for his crops, $1 for his livestock and that he was paying $1 for the industrial commodities that he needed. Under these circumstances trade may go on freely and equitably.

In 1923 the situation was somewhat better, but still the farmer's income from his crop was only $1.40, while the things he needs in the industrial world cost $1.75. The year 1924, however, has seen the readjustment completed. Farm prices for crops have risen to $1.55. The farmer is again in the market for the first time since 1920. He has almost a billion dollars more than he had last year, in cash, and the momentum of his crops in each year is almost to be filled.

"This balancing of the income and outgo is vitally important to the farmer and to those who do business with him directly, but it is also of unusual importance to everyone in the United States regardless of occupation or financial position. First, the farmer is a primary producer. Money in his hands works its way through our whole commercial fabric. More important than this is the fact that the farmer represents fully 30 per cent of our total market, and it is impossible to have a period of real prosperity until all groups are relatively prosperous and are buying actively.

"The return of the sun of the soil to our markets, therefore, deserves first position as the most important and significant development of 1924. General business as reflected by the Babson chart is now slightly above normal. We may or may not see continued and growing prosperity this year, but at least one of the necessary conditions for such prosperity has been fulfilled.

Price Remains Stable. "In 1923 the situation was somewhat better, but still the farmer's income from his crop was only $1.40, while the things he needs in the industrial world cost $1.75. The year 1924, however, has seen the readjustment completed. Farm prices for crops have risen to $1.55. The farmer is again in the market for the first time since 1920. He has almost a billion dollars more than he had last year, in cash, and the momentum of his crops in each year is almost to be filled.

COLORADO CAVE HAS 40 ROOMS

Attempts to Be Made to Have Latest Discovery Declared a National Monument.

DENVER, Jan. 2 (AP)—Colorado's newest underground cave, already known to contain 40 rooms, will be explored further within a few days. Exploring its availability as a national monument, Coloradans who have penetrated the subterranean passages during winter exploring work have been completed, the cavern will rival the cave of the Wind near Colorado Springs, known to thousands of tourists.

The largest room in the cave is 100 feet long, 30 feet high and 15 feet wide, according to J. M. Babian, a local explorer, who has done most of the exploring. The smallest room is about six feet square. There still is much exploring to be done. This includes a search for the opening believed to be somewhere in the rugged, rolling hills of Park county, primarily covered with timber and unpopulated.

Mr. Babian says the cave has three levels. The rooms are filled with stalactites and stalagmites, many of weird shapes. A second is clearly defined in the figures. A crown crystal is shown, and an Indian moccasins easily is discerned. On the upper level two large rooms have been named the Queen's Chamber, because of their great beauty. Temperatures within the cavern are about the same winter and summer. The main formation is the most magnetic known.

The cave is 18 miles north of Ballou and 25 miles southeast of Huenes Vista near the Fremont county line. The property derived its name, Porcupine cave, from the fact that porcupines live within it.

Before the German had time to run the lieutenants on him, punching him right and left and knocking the German all over the village square. So round was the beating he gave the German that onlookers had to drag him away, but soon was in sympathy with the loser when they realized that the French expatriate of war was saying back mouth-of-murdering eyes, "and we'll settle it right here."

Orpheum THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

The Ten Commandments, which comes to the Orpheum early next week, brings into sharp juxtaposition the gorgeous pomp and pageantry of ancient Egypt at the time of the Exodus and the complex civilization of the present day. The first part of the picture is a superb revelation of the pilgrimage of the Children of Israel from the land of the Pharaohs, the pursuit of the chariotry of the Egyptian monarchs, and the escape through the divided waters of the Red sea, and their passage through the wilderness to the heights of Sinai, receives from Jehovah the code of laws for the righteous government of mankind. In the modern story, which forms the second part of the picture, the ideas of "paganoid life" and "thought to America" is set forth in an equally impressive and, at times, startling fashion. The love story involving one who scoffs at and one who obeys the laws of the Deceitful, and the adorable woman who is the heart's desire of the sheltering-love-philosophy and marries one human in the typical and marriage.

DAHO "BREAD" One of the season's finest casts was assembled for "Bread" at Metro-Goldwyn's screen version of the Charles Norris novel, which is coming to the Idaho theater next Monday for a run of three days. In keeping with "Bread" (the title) Manager Joe K. The contract for 1600 inches of Fresh Butter-Nut bread and each evening during the run of the picture each adult will receive a loaf of bread absolutely free of charge. These loaves of bread also have something to do with $30,000 in gold for the Idaho nation. In "Bread" the chief role of that of a girl awarded between a love-for-business' life and that of the home is played by Mae Busch, who has lately appeared in such successes as "Name the Man," "The Christian," "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" and "Broken Barriers."

The leading man is Robert Frazer, and other players include Pat O'Malley, Wanda Hawley, Hobart Bosworth, Myrtle Stedman, Ward Crane, Raymond Lee and Eugene Deser.

ORPHEUM Judging from the number of people who literally had to force their way into the Orpheum theater yesterday, "Hiroshi" is more popular than ever. His latest feature length Pathé comedy, "The Water," opened in a storm of applause and is being perfectly safe to say that this is the greatest and funniest comedy that Hiroshi has ever made. Indeed, anyone who can see this picture without laughing long and hilariously, must be a queer specimen of humanity.

ROCKNE REFUSES CALIFORNIA GAME

Coach of Notre-Dame Football Team Gives Reasons for Not Playing the Bears.

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 2 (AP)—Katie Rockne, coach of the Notre Dame football team, late today issued the word that killed all chances of a meeting between his eleven and the University of California team here.

Rockne, who has been considering all day the proposal advanced by alumni of both institutions, said his team had received a severe quarter-back in the new year's day clash with Stanford.

Harry Bubblercher, quarterback, is in the Pasadena hospital with a broken ankle bone in a cast; Joe Bach has a strained vertebrae, and Bill Gorman has two fractured ribs. The latter two players are out in the hospital.

Three injuries, said the coach, would greatly weaken his team.

Resume Studies.

Moreover, he added, his men were scheduled to resume their studies at Notre-Dame January 3.

Nevertheless, it is possible to arrange a game with the Golden Bears, he declared, the contest would be played in the Berkeley stadium and not in Los Angeles.

The Rockne men leave tomorrow for San Francisco.

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP IN MADISON SQUARE FIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—Louis "Kid" Kaplan of Meriden, Connecticut, won the world's featherweight championship in Madison Square Garden tonight by scoring a technical knockout in the fifth round of a fifteen round title match with Danny Kramer of Philadelphia.

The end came after one minute and eleven seconds of fighting in the ninth round when Max Baer, Kramer's manager, ordered his fighter to save himself from further punishment.

The Philadelphia southpaw was battered into complete submission by the Meriden boy, but manly stayed on his feet in the face of Kaplan's relentless attack.

Kaplan will be recognized as world's featherweight champion by the New York athletic commission by virtue of his victory. The commission ruled that the winner of the elimination tournament would be the world's champion inasmuch as Johnny Danter, former champion, returned to the commission to award it to the winner of this tournament.

BOXER LOSES BY FOUL

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 2.—After taking a severe lashing, "Young" Webb of Dayton, disqualified himself for the sixth round of the New Year's fight in a most unusual manner by fouling when he kicked his opponent, Philbin, University of Michigan freshman, by the legs and threw him over the ropes.

The blow Philbin, the winner, received when he landed outside the ring was the most telling punch inflicted upon him during the bout. Webb, on the other hand, was out on his feet, and was unable to leave the ring for 15 minutes after he was sent to his corner.

Arguments on the motion will be heard a week hence.

BIG CREW RIDES CITY OF SNOW

16,000 Men and 417 Motor-Driven Plows at Work on Streets of New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—Sixteen thousand men and 417 motor-driven plows and sweepers were at work tonight removing an eight-inch fall of snow from the city's wide expanses of pavements—the first real snowfall of the winter here.

The snow was accompanied by high winds that caused the clouds to pile up. The temperature was 24 above zero. Several flurries were delayed in getting into town and there were a few minor traffic accidents throughout the city.

Ships Damaged.

Two ships damaged off the Atlantic coast of the Chesapeake Bay owned most of her troubles to the Atlantic which broke out in her hold—a short time after she had cleared New York for Charleston and Jacksonville. The Mohawk had to be beached at Loxley, Del., after 200 passengers had been transferred to the other ship.

The other ship, the British tanker Colonia, narrowly averted being blown ashore off Seabright, N. J., when caught in the gale as she was approaching New York in ballast from Norfolk.

The weather bureau predicted the snow probably would continue most of the night—but the wind would die down and the thermometer rise.

Pneumonia Affects Hogs

Pneumonia, caused by overcrowded conditions among hogs during recent severe weather in a number of instances in this region has been mistaken for hog cholera, according to Dr. W. A. Sullivan of Boise, inspector in charge of United States bureau of animal industrial activities in Idaho, who with Dr. H. H. Rogers, deputy state veterinarian, investigated Friday a number of affected herds in this region.

Owners were advised by the veterinarians to guard against swine becoming overheated through crowding about straw stacks or otherwise, since this condition is favorable for development of pneumonia.

There has been no hog cholera outbreak in this county since last April, Dr. Sullivan stated.

Chemists and Physicians Report on Chicago Millionaire's Demise Pleases Shepherd.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2 (AP)—Chemists and physicians who examined the exhausted body of William Nelson McClellan, 21 years old "millionaire orphan," who died a month ago, have decided that the young man's death was due to typhoid fever complicated by a secondary internal intestinal hemorrhage. Coroner Ewert's report announced today after their reports had been submitted to him.

William D. Shepherd, who with his wife, the boy's guardian, reared young McClellan and inherited his fortune, accepted the findings "as a complete vindication of any suspicion that another homicide have attached to him and in a statement indicated that he expects to bring legal action against those he believed responsible for the investigation.

The inquest into the death, which was to have been resumed today after the report of chemists and physicians was continued until next Tuesday. Meanwhile assistant state attorney who have been investigating circumstances connected with the death, examined new witnesses regarding Shepherd's visits to a research laboratory during the year ago.

The coroner's report of the autopsy findings consisted chiefly of the synopsis of the report of the chemists and physicians and said that there was nothing abnormal found. He did not disclose the secondary hemorrhage or conditions which might have caused it.
