

Copper Outlook Improved Says Noted Statistician

Roger W. Babson Sees Better Demand for Metal Which Is Now Selling for Fifteen Cents a Pound.

HAIRSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 23.—Higher prices have been forecast for copper for over two years and while there has been some strengthening in quotations, the increase has been slight. The copper industry has seemed to lag behind the other industries. Both producers and investors became discouraged. Recently, however, there has been a real strengthening in the price of the metal which is now selling around 15 cents a pound. In commenting on this today, Roger W. Babson, the statistician, made the following statement:

"It is true that copper has suffered a long period of depression. The dullness has been due to many reasons. One of the tremendous surpluses that was produced during the war. Unlike many articles of food and other commodities, surplus copper was not destroyed but was available at the end of the war for commercial uses. It has taken about six years to mop up surplus war production. The second reason for the continued low prices has been the opening of great low grade mines in South America, Africa and other foreign countries. We have all ways known that copper existed in parts of Africa and only the high price had been demanded since the war. The war was needed to give investors courage enough to develop these distant prospects. Unfortunately for the rest of the copper industry, however, these new developments became real producers only after the war was over. Adding war surplus to new cheap production, it is quite remarkable that copper prices did not go much lower than they did.

Situation Improved.

"Today the situation is much improved. The surplus supplies have been used up. The market has become adjusted to these new low grade producers in South America and Africa, while the demand has continued to increase. General business is running at 6 per cent above normal. Copper is in a better position today than it has been for several years. This is evidenced not only by the strengthening in the price of the metal and the increased employment in the industry, but by the fact that investors are again becoming keenly interested in copper securities. The recent declaration of dividends by leading producers has naturally increased this interest.

"The copper industry is inseparably bound up with the public utilities and railroads. It is inconceivable that the public utilities can continue to prosper without the copper industry prospering with them. The public utilities, especially the power and light companies, are in better condition today than ever before in their history. They not only are popular with investors but are entitled to this prosperity being on the eve of the most brilliant and spectacular developments. It is very easy for light and power companies to secure money for new developments and improvements.

Spent for Copper.

A portion of this new money is being spent for copper. The railroads are spending billions of dollars for new equipment. This year should see more railroad securities sold than any previous year for nearly a decade. As soon as railroads can afford to do so, they are bound to spend a certain amount of money on electrification. All this should benefit the copper industry. In addition to these two corresponding general demand for copper in connection with building and for other industrial purposes is constantly increasing. The low price for copper during the past few years has been of itself a factor in developing these new uses for the metal. Therefore, there is a sound basis for the improved situation.

"All this does not mean that the copper industry is going to boom again as it has in times past. Owing to the fact that it has been difficult and costly to materially increase production, the demand of copper is very elastic. When the demand has fallen or the price has fallen to a point below production cost and when business boomed there has been a shortage of the metal and prices soared. These two corresponding broad movements in copper securities and fortunes were added or lost in time. Of course it is possible that these old conditions may return but it is very probable that they will not.

"The low cost producers in South America, Africa and elsewhere have completely changed the industry. In place of a speculative industry it has now become a stable industry. It is no longer a speculative investment but a safe, conservative one. The investor, however, should be in a position to make money in the stock market. He should be in a position to buy securities when the price is low and then to sell when they become popular."

So let the littlest kid get the treat of their lives.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Thrills, suspense, excitement, love interest, natural comedy and unusual human interest are the features of "The Silent Accuser," the Metro-Goldwyn picture at the Orpheum theater. It was produced and directed by Chester M. Franklin.

"The Silent Accuser" is a dramatic and also agrees to introduce a new star to the screen. The new star is Peter the Great, an unusually intelligent police dog. If there is such a thing as personality, Peter the Great has it. He is the brother of Strongheart.

Peter the Great plays the title role of the story which was written by Jack Boyle and adapted to the screen by Frank O'Connor and Mr. Franklin who have examined their yarn with fast action. The cast is headed by Elvira Backlund, Raymond McKee and Earl Metcalfe.

"The Silent Accuser" is one of those rare pictures which has caught gripping power on grownups and children. Neither can fail to respond to its certain appeal. Cameraman Charles Brayer is responsible for the splendid photography.

BILL WOULD PERMIT EX-SERVICE MEN TO ASSIGN BONUS PAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Representative Andrew, Republican, introduced a bill yesterday which would permit former service men to assign their bonus from the government to patriotic, educational and philanthropic organizations.

The bill is intended to allow generous and veteran to receive their bonus benefits in public purpose," said Mr. Andrew.

PREHISTORIC ANIMAL BONES ARE UNEARTHED

LONDON, Jan. 23 (AP)—A collection of fossil bones, including a skeleton of a small and a large fossil, were unearthed at a recent excavation of an office building foundation at Charing Cross, one of the busiest traffic centers of London, has been identified by a geologist, Mr. H. H. Burck, prominent paleontologist and naturalist.

The fossil remains of the hippopotamus, the mammoth, the auroch or great ox, and a great variety of other animals.

Although no stone implements were found on this site, these have been found at nearby places during the past few years. It is believed that the prehistoric animals had dug at their companion. The "terrace" from which the fossils have been taken and which is a great deal higher than the bull, are ancient beds of the River Thames.

The recently unearthed collection has been presented to the Royal College of Surgeons.

securities should be considered with the steel securities or other copper securities representing basic industries.

"One thing more should be remembered: investors in copper stocks should be sure to get the correct information. Many of these properties have been badly in competition with the newer low cost producers. These holders of copper stocks have seen their investments steadily decrease and result they are sick of copper. On the principle that the burnt child will dread the fire they will buy no more copper stocks, even the stocks of these wonderful low cost mines.

"The young people who are investing in copper must be born and bred. This is going on but it will not be many years before a new group of shareholders are ready to back the industry. Who are these investors? They are the young people who are making money in the stock market. They are the young people who are buying securities when the price is low and then to sell when they become popular."

MISSOURI LEGISLATOR TAKES GUN AWAY FROM THUG IN STATE HOUSE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 23 (AP)—Emerging from a scuffle in the corridors of the statehouse with a robber whom he had disarmed and routed yesterday, Representative Frey, 71 years old and more than six feet tall, wrapped up one bleeding hand and stalked into the house where he introduced a bill providing stringent punishment for hold-up men.

Stepping into a corridor from a room near the house chamber where scores of persons had assembled, Mr. Frey heard the sharp command, "Get back in there and give me what you've got." A man thrust a revolver into his face.

Mr. Frey said he immediately knifed with the robber—and wrenched the weapon from him. The revolver snapped twice in the struggle and some way the legislator's hand was cut. The weapon was not discharged. Mr. Frey's assailant ran down the corridor, in growing fits of rage and pursuing feet spurring steps, plunged down the capitol steps and escaped.

The vestry of the church will meet on Monday evening, January 26, at 7:45, in the office of the irrigated lands company.

CHAPLIN PAYS FINES OF TWO NEGROES WHO LAUGHED AT PICTURE

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Jan. 23 (AP)—Simon Shackelford and Bennie Brown, negro youths, went to see a motion picture film here recently in which a celebrated comedian, distinguished in the screen by a derby hat, a wisp of a mustache and enormous grotesque feet appeared.

Shackelford and Brown began laughing when they sat down and as the film went on they arose to a sustained crescendo of mirth that broke across the show. On complaint of police officers, the youths were arrested for disturbing the peace and fined $5 and $3 respectively.

Brown and Shackelford had decided that it was a sad and serious work until yesterday when they received checks from Charles Chaplin reimbursing the amount of their fines. But with the checks went a warning from the actor that in the future the intifugal pair would laugh too loudly at their own risk.

WHEAT AND RYE MAKE BIG JUMP

Grains on Chicago Market Reach New High Levels in Wild Trading.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (AP)—Wheat today outdid itself in amassing high price records but rye took the palm away even from wheat. Enormous speculative trading here in both the bread grains was accompanied by a jump of 7.4 cents a bushel for rye. The extreme advance took wheat to $1.06 a bushel, May delivery, and carried rye to $1.76 for the same month.

Today's big wave of wheat buying came about largely from reports that Argentine, Australian and Canadian wheat was moving faster upward in price than wheat in the United States. Dealers said that the dock strike in Australia was becoming more severe seemed to imply greater curtailment of breadstuffs supplies for the southern hemisphere with corresponding increased demand from Europe for shipments from countries north of the equator. Rye was especially affected by reports that 5000 tons of rye flour had been bought in Germany for Russia. The only available surplus stock of rye left in present is said to be in the United States.

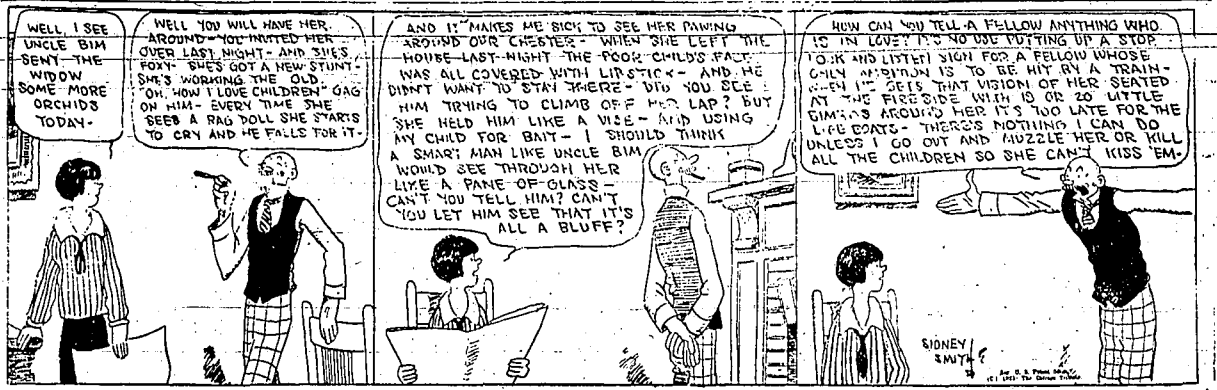

DECREASE SHOWN IN U. S. WOOL SUPPLY IS REPORT OF BULLETIN

BOSTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Statistics showing the decrease in the amount of wool held in the United States by dealers and growers will be published in the Commercial Bulletin tomorrow. Wool stocks on January 1, according to the annual survey of the Bulletin, totaled 66,344,004 pounds, as compared with 117,284,283 pounds in the same hands of dealers and growers at the beginning of 1924.

Stocks of domestic wool this year were 37,285,133 pounds, while last year the domestic wool in stock aggregated 82,811,205 pounds. The supply of foreign wool held diminished from 34,473,283 pounds to 28,808,459 pounds this year. Of the total of six-six million pounds of wool in the United States at the end of 1924, Boston dealers held 40,259,004 pounds.

The Commercial Bulletin will say that the decrease shown by the survey confirms the previous general assumption that wool stocks have decreased very considerably, not only in the United States, but in all the world markets.

TOWAN INVENTS NOISE FILTER

Professor of Physics Perfects Device to Eliminate Sound; Many Uses Outlined.

LANA CITY, Jan. 23 (AP) - By running successive waves of sound to interfere with each other's transmission, Dr. Stewart, professor of physics at the University of Iowa, has perfected a device which he believes in time may be used to eliminate undesirable noises and to adjust sounds to an individual's auditory taste.

The establishment of quiet zones for hospitals and the requirement of mufflers for automobiles testify to the penetrating nature of sound waves. Dr. Stewart says, through the most minute crack, and even through an apparently solid wall. With the theory that sound waves would expand themselves where they placed in conflict with one another, Dr. Stewart worked out this device, which he calls an acoustic interference filter.

The results are obtained, Dr. Stewart explains, not by placing obstructions in the path of the sound, but by setting up a sort of battle between the various waves, thus causing a disordered trans mission.

A brass cylinder tube, one-half inch in diameter and 12 inches long, containing nothing but air and open at both ends, is caused to transmit all tones of a piano up to a certain note and above that tone, the sound is rendered inaudible. With another and slightly different tube, the tones below this note, or any other note, will be refused transmission, whereas, all higher tones pass freely.

"Other equally remarkable results of a similar nature can be obtained," said Dr. Stewart in explaining his device. "The filter will have open and free from obstructions, have, at regular intervals, branching tubes and chambers. At each branching point waves are reflected backward through the tube. The design of the branches can be made in such a manner as to produce a backward reflection and an interference of almost any group of tones.

Dr. Stewart explained that he considered the device truly a filter. It is a new device made of metal plates containing sound waves and will find application in many acoustic devices in use today.

The telephone, the phonograph and every musical instrument will be improved by the use of this device," Dr. Stewart said. "In fact, there is opportunity to improve the possibility of the elimination of undesirable notes and the enjoyment of sounds adjusted to an individual aesthetic taste."

THREE YEAR SEARCH FOR CHICAGO MAN ENDS IN CALIFORNIA

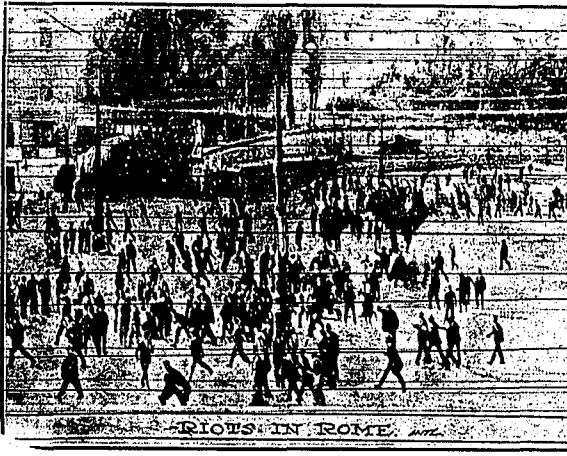

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23 (AP) - A three-year search for Raymond J. Blischoff, wanted in Chicago on charges of larceny and embezzlement involving the flooding of hundreds of investors in oil and mining schemes, ended here today with his arrest in the fashionable residence district where he and his mother and sister have been living.

Blischoff, 34, and a number of associates were indicted early in 1922 on a business built up, it is alleged, after the collapse of a stock broker by promising fabulous profits to the purchase of "various oil and mining stocks" handled by the firm. Most of the men included have been arrested, convicted and sentenced for their part in the alleged swindle.

BERLIN OVERTURN BY PLACES OF AMUSEMENT

BERLIN, Jan. 23 (AP) - There are today so many places of amusement in the German capital that they interfere with each other's business, and but few of them do well financially. Most marked in recent years has been the development of the opera and the revue. While before the war Berlin had two operas, it now has four; while it boasted of one revue in 1914, six are now competing with each other.

Tiny Camera Is Built under Lens with Jeweler's Tools

Requiring the use of jeweler's tools and magnifying glasses in the construction, a miniature camera with para that work, and less than an inch in length, has been made for the royal doll house of the queen of England. Three months' continuous work by experts was necessary to complete the tiny instrument. All pieces were formed by hand and carefully checked with larger cameras to insure accurate shape.

The lens is a minute disk of crystal, and the shutter may be operated the same as in the real article. A small panel for autographing is provided in a holder on the back. The bellows may be easily opened out and folded for inserting the camera in a carrying case which has been furnished to the queen, mostly blind and decorated, is also a part of the tiny photographic outfit.

Improving the Headset

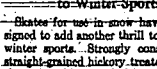

A French amateur has found that the purity of tone of the headset may be greatly improved by piercing the diaphragm with a series of small holes. It is drilled through the diaphragm in a series of concentric circles. The idea has been tested in both wire telephony and radio, and it is said, results in a precision and clarity of tone unobtainable otherwise.

Preventing Tail-Light Theft

In some instances the theft of tail-light bulbs is prevented by the use of a simple device to remove the bulb from a tail lamp, the new method of the ultra celluloid window in the side of the lamp giving access to the bulb, motorists will appreciate an equally simple remedy, especially where police regulations are strictly enforced, as the absence of a tail light may mean a fine. In place of the flimsy celluloid, out a section of strong open-mesh wire to the same size, and slip it into place; it may be secured if desired, but if it is fitted tightly, this is not necessary. With this in place, the bulb can only be removed by taking out the red glass, and as the split-wire ring holds the bulb in place it is not usually easily taken out, the average motor thief will transfer his attentions to some other car.

Snow Skates to Add a New Thrill to Winter Sports

Skates for use in snow have been designed to add another thrill to the list of winter sports. Strongly constructed of straight-grained hickory treated with oil, they are said to hold the weight of the heaviest adult while being light enough not to tire the children. The runners are of rustless steel and the top is covered with compressed rubber to provide a non-slip surface. The skates are attached to ordinary skis.

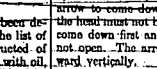

An Arrow Parachute

An arrow parachute gives the young sportsman a new type of amusement. The arrow is made of a heavy cord of cloth, heavy cord being tied to the corners of the cloth. The arrow, just above the head, as shown in the drawing. The arrow is handled in the usual way with the cloth folded over the head. While it is traveling upward, the cloth is held tightly around the neck, but as soon as the arrow starts downward the cloth spreads and fills up with air, causing the arrow to descend.

Cheap Aluminum Paint

Banana oil, which is commonly used in making up aluminum paint for exterior work, is a liquid, however, which made a satisfactory and cheap paint of this kind without banana oil. Instead of using a solution of equal parts of linseed oil, turpentine and spar varnish, to which was added a piece of gum arabic the size of a bean. These ingredients were heated together and then concentrated in a vacuum, and the resulting paint was found to be as satisfactory and good covering quality. Besides having a soft, lustrous finish, this paint looks up well in the dark.

CRUDE OIL FUEL FOR USE IN CAR

Swedish Inventor Announces Attachment for Engine to Permit Use of Substitutes.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 23 (AP) - A solution of the problem of how to drive an automobile on crude oil, and at one-third the cost of gasoline, is claimed by a Swedish inventor, Nils Anderson, who has perfected an engine attachment for this purpose after several years of experimenting. Anderson's device can readily be installed on any ordinary motor and makes it possible to use crude oil, kerosene, wood alcohol, or gasoline.

The inventor says that the reason why crude oil cannot be completely vaporized, and without special treatment the residue would clog the engine. He solves this by exposing the oil to intense heat, which abstracts such ingredients as carbon and sulfur. "They remain in the form of a combustible fluid and are consumed during the explosion in the cylinder. When using crude oil the motor must, however, be started with gasoline from a separate small container, while the oil is carried in the regular gasoline tank of the car.

The crude oil attachment consists of a special carburetor and exhaust pipe, together with the necessary connecting rods for manipulation. Among the advantages claimed are a smaller quantity of oil consumed per mile, less lubrication, no overheating of the engine, and a reduction of about 70 percent from the cost of running a car on gasoline.

MAIL ROBBER MUST FACE MURDER CHARGE IN EASTERN COURT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP) - General Chapman has reached what is regarded as the most critical point in his long, spectacular career when federal officers agreed to turn him over to Connecticut authorities for trial on charges carrying the death penalty.

Described in police circulars as the most dangerous criminal of the age, Chapman, who escaped in March, 1923, is wanted on a Connecticut indictment returned at Hartford charging first degree murder in connection with the killing of James Shelly, a postman, at New Britain last October, and Assistant Attorney General Benjamin C. Connerly for his transfer from federal to state jurisdiction so he can be tried.

SWEDEN FEARS SOVIET

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 23 (AP) - Plans of deputies to the Swedish parliament to demand forward measures to reduce armaments and to cut expenses for a national defense, may not be carried out, according to political observers, because of the renewed anxiety felt here in regard to the intentions of Soviet Russia.

The recent uprising in Estonia is one of the circumstances which is causing concern to the government. Another is the lack of certainty as to what disposition the Russian government will make of the so-called Wangling fleet confiscated by the French government in French colonial waters, which it is stated will be turned over to the Soviet government.

METEORS LOSE RUPERT GAME; SCORE 27-18

FILER EMERGES VICTOR AT BUHL

Twin Falls Is Defeated Second Time by Visitors; Five Man Play Causes Local Squad's Undoing.

The Rupert high school basketball team defeated the Twin Falls squad in a fast game on the local floor Friday night by the score of 27 to 18. The game was characterized by the fast tempo and general roughness. Ability to throw up a good defense and short passes proved the undoing of the Meteors. The Rupert squad repeatedly kept the locals from scoring by the splendid defense displayed. The passing of the Meteors was not their best, but doubt as to the superiority of Coach Harry Wester's men, and they displayed from that seemed almost certain championship caliber. The Twin Falls team played a fast game and were not without their share of laurels. Martin and Weaver were down the floor men, these only to be set back by the five man defense thrown up by Rupert.

The north sider used the five-man defense to the best of advantage, and when they swept into the offense their man was left under their own goal, this making a four-man offense. For the first 40 minutes the local fans were treated with watching a team as the defensible. Stone and Burgher both worked this method of working the ball down the floor. The offense of the visitors started when Burgher or Stone would take the ball on the top-of-nail step down the floor dribbling and then playing short passes which were used almost to perfection. The passing of the Rupert squad was short and accurate. These men passed with speed and quickness that baffled the local hoopers. Burgher and Hyde were the scoring stars for the Minidoka county team. Burgher netted 12 points, including goals and one free throw, while Hyde was successful in ringing three field goals and two free throws.

Tree That Sheltered Penn.

One of Tallent county's historical trees was destroyed by storm recently, says an Eastern (M.L.) dispatch. The tree was a white oak, an outstanding feature. It sheltered a house of the Society of Friends, known as Third Haven meeting house, was uprooted and fell with a crash. The tree made sheltering of 60 feet of "shedding" where the Friends used to go to hitch their horses and teams, when attending service. This tree was one of the original grove under which William Penn of Philadelphia preached when touring Maryland and where Lord Baltimore at one time worshipped. A tree like this fell five years ago and about five years previous to that one other fell.

Inventions Suggested by Nature.

The rain of the modern invention is the device of the aeroplanes of the Hindoo Kutch ocean. Its inner jaw has a long beak or ram, by means of which it can pierce not only fish, but the sides of timbered ships. Even the fishes have forestalled human inventions. Nearly every body knows that branches of trees are not all plants and the trunks and branches of trees are round instead of any other shape. The existence of tall plants and trees depend largely on the wind force and a tree with a square trunk and branches would offer so much resistance to the wind that it would be continually having its branches snapped. It is for the same reason that engineers build tall chimneys and pipes for bridges round in section in preference to any other form.

FIRPO MAY GET CHANGE TO BOX

Tex Rickard's Choice of Best Heavyweights Interests "Wild Bull" in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 23 (AP)—Louis Angel Firpo, when shown clippings today of the recent New York newspaper reports that he had been placed seventh in Tex Rickard's list of the world's best heavyweight fighters, said: "I am only the seventh best heavyweight in the world."

Firpo did not complain about the choice of Dempsey, Willis and Gills, but the mention of Welter was a little smile. When he caught sight of Rickard's list of the world's best heavyweights he said: "I am only the seventh best heavyweight in the world."

May Fight Spalla

In the event the proposed match between the Argentine and Tommy Gills does not materialize in London, Firpo has an offer from the French promoter, M. Solal, for a bout with Genaro Spalla at Nice, where fight fans from Genoa, Turin and Milan are expected to swell the gate receipts. In this connection, it is said Firpo's demands for money are rather modest. He appears to be desirous of rehabilitating himself in Rickard's eyes.

"Perhaps if I knocked out Spalla in a couple of rounds," the South American said, "Mr. Rickard might name me a couple of places in his list."

Supports Measure

Smith of Clearwater, who said he was prosecuting attorney during the time when L. W. W. says he was a member of the group in north Idaho supported the measure ardently.

"Organized labor need not fear that this measure will work a hardship on it," he said. "Organized labor would be glad to see any act set out in this bill that would have any effect on meetings with organized labor and I have found it as patriotic as any in the state and actuated by just as high ideals as any member of this legislature."

Fuld of Blain in speaking for the bill said it had been before the state affairs committee several times and that it is that time Mr. Taylor, who had represented the lumber industry, was not before the committee nor was any other representative of the industry. Railroad barons were represented, however, he said.

Pond of Burdock said he thought the bill was a "little too binding in some of its clauses and mentioned the one, which says: "Work done in an improper manner."

"Strong Enough"

Boyle of Coeur said the present law was plenty strong enough for the mining industry and that the proposed law was too drastic.

SHRINERS ARRANGE DANCE

Club Members—Make Plans for Most Elaborate Masonic Social Event of Season to be Held Next Month.

Members of the Shrine club of Twin Falls, at a meeting called by F. H. Taylor, newly elected president, and held Friday evening in chambers of commerce offices, made plans for a Masonic dance to be given during the month of February. The affair, it was arranged, would be the most elaborate Masonic dance of the season and would be carried out on a more pretentious scale than any of the Masonic dances previously given this season.

phone message without consent of the persons for whom intended will be punishable by imprisonment of one year in the county jail or a fine of $5,000 under the terms of the Bennett act, one of four bills introduced in the senate of the eighteenth legislature this morning. The present law applicable to telegraphic messages only.

A new sanitary code for the operation of restaurants, cafes, hotel dining rooms and other places serving meals to the public was introduced by Cuffin of Fremont county by request of state legislators of this class under supervision of the state department of public welfare and makes violations of the act subject to fines of from $10 to $100 or six months imprisonment.

County Changes

One of the other bills substituted for an earlier bill, places progressive charges for filing cases on a flat rate basis, eliminating the fee system now used. The other by Hailey of Newhall, amends the compiled statistics in and the law with which persons practicing veterinary medicine can obtain a license without taking the state examination. Applications must all be made prior to January 1, 1926.

Refrigerator introduced his senate and memorial introduced his bill on permanent delegation to work for early federal recognition of the United States hydroelectric development project. The original measure was withdrawn because of slight technical error.

Progressives received two bills when the senate state affairs committee reported this morning. The first came when the body recommended that the Kirkpatrick bill to abolish the state fund be withdrawn. This automatically means its death because the rules forbid action on any bill until after it is printed. The second law came when the bill by May and Rigney, providing that municipalities in this state keep a complete list of all contributions received the same fact. Any one of the authors, immediately was given unanimous consent to withdraw the measure. Members of the committee said this bill carried to drastic effect the provisions of a constitution, possibly it would send a donor, who party or candidate with the county auditor, to the penitentiary for from one to ten years.

Garland's bill to give fundholders of chemicals, fungicides and germicides used in the production of a crop, a firm on the crop, was withdrawn after the agricultural committee had recommended that it be not printed.

Four bills on relating to the boundaries of Elmore county, and the others applying to the issuing of teachers' certificates, reached third place on the calendar today but retained their places for a day because of some delay in committee work.

The senate adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Science of Forest Fire Fighting Gets Much Consideration

Advisory Committee Takes Up Problems of Protection; For- estor in Favor of Experiment Stations.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (AP)—Science, as applied to forestry in fire fighting, reforestation, insect cutting of aged woods and forest life and treatment of swampy forests, was discussed before the advisory committee of the Lake States experiment station meeting here today.

Dr. Raphael Zon of St. Paul, director in chief of the station, asserted that the number of fires in the Great Lakes States of Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin have not increased in the last five years, although the fire menace has grown larger.

Greely Speaks. William H. Greely, chief forester of the United States forest service, told the committee that he favored the establishment of experiment stations for research work.

"The government now is erecting five of these stations, but we need more," said Mr. Greely. "We want to get too far in investigating the soundness of our methods for unless we build on a sound basis, we will have to do it all over again later."

"The forest of the future can be improved over the wild forest of the present—much as the scientific method has improved the yield of the near-wild growing punch orchard of the yesterday year ago," said Mr. Greely.

Tree-Planting. Professor Henry C. Cowles of the University of Chicago told the committee that research had disclosed that not too few in investigating the soundness of our methods for unless we build on a sound basis, we will have to do it all over again later."

National Vote Fraud College Reverted

DR. W. J. STROVICH, A SMILING GEORGE ROSHEAN

OPERATIONS OF A NATIONAL SCHOOL of ballot fixing have been described to a New York grand jury by George Roskhan, a chauffeur, who confessed that he mutilated ballots in the 1920 election and charged $1000 to be paid to him by Nathan D. Perlman, republican, who defeated Dr. William Irving Strovich for congress from the fourth New York district, Philadelphia, Boston, Jersey City and Hoboken were among the cities in which Roskhan said his "pupils" in ballot fixing worked. He asserted he turned them loose there after a course of instruction in the use of a "magic ring," which contained a small lead pencil with which they mutilated the ballots after being appointed voters. He said he charged the pupils $1000 for a course of instruction and classified bodies: "I am an original ball fixer." His classes, he said, were so large he had to hire a suite of offices to instruct them. Congressman Perlman denied the charges.

FRENCH ORET-BOBAN

Inference in the chamber, was due to unfavorable reaction in the United States senate. Deputy Marin's speech in the chamber on the treaty that "the treaty was a common cause" reached the conclusions that full payment of France's debt to America would be "a moral inquiry" for the reason that "the allies owe France something" for protecting the world from the possibility of much assistance by the entire chamber, except the communists—even Premier Herriot himself approved—that it was taken as expressing the parliamentary view. This construction was made quite certain by the majority of the newspapers in advancing this theory of settlement and regarding the matter, not as a partisan political speech, but as an outburst of French patriotism.

Proceeding Gradually. Senator Herriot's speech in only, and the American reaction to the debt policy as favored by M. Marin was such that the government's supporters in the chamber had to vote against the Marin address, in order to prevent the government from proceeding in this aspect of the case, reproaches were hurled for the standing by Deputy Marin's theory. It turns the theory of the vote of French opinion which it is impossible to stifle. It also declares that M. Marin "spoke not as a partisan, but as a Frenchman in the name of all of us." La Libre brings out the same point, accusing the government majority of neglecting the political ahead of national interest.

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. B. Mearns, 1008 Blue Lake boulevard. Mrs. William Warburg and Mrs. Wilcox were assisted hostesses. Mrs. Earl Smith presided during the business and devotional session. A number of committees were appointed and important business transacted. MOTOR LICENSE FEES REVISION SEEMS LIKELY

S. Claud Stewart, Assessors' Executive Committee Chairman, Says $12 Minimum Finds Favor.

Change in Idaho's motor vehicle license law that seems most likely to meet approval of the state legislature, according to S. Claud Stewart, Twin Falls county assessor, would provide for collection of a minimum license fee of $12 for car not exceeding 1700 pounds weight and of $1 additional for each 1000 pounds weight.

Mr. Stewart, who is chairman of the executive committee of the state assessor's association, returned Friday from Boise where he attended sessions of an annual meeting of the association which gave major consideration to proposed revision of the motor vehicle license law.

The proposal for collection by the state of a annual registration fee, which proposal also contemplates an increase in the gasoline tax, Mr. Stewart stated, seemed to have been sidetracked because of apprehension on the part of the legislators that counties would claim to receive a share of the revenue from the gasoline tax.

Districts Retain Fee. Under the plan that seems to be favored now, Mr. Stewart stated, the county assessor would retain the whole amount of the automobile license fee collected within their borders. Under this arrangement, it was estimated the revenue from this source to counties and highway districts would be about the same as under the present plan which provides for collection of license fees by districts of 75 per cent of the total license collections, the remainder going to the state.

The new plan would at once reduce the license fee on 3900 Ford cars in this county from $15 to $12 it was estimated, while heavier cars in many instances would pay larger amounts, although in accordance with their weight and not, as at present, in accordance with their relation to an arbitrary classification.

Suggestion was made to state officials by Mr. Stewart that license plates be given out by applicant by the county assessor, thereby doing away with expense of mailing from Boise.
