LIABILITY FOR FARMER RELIEF WITH CONGRESS

Grangers Oppose Appropriation for Maternity Bureau

Resolutions—Passed by Executive Committee of State Farm Organization Against Sheppard Towner Fund for Idaho.

BOISE, Feb. 4.—Resolutions urging that an appropriation be made for the Idaho branch of the maternity bureau under the Sheppard-Towner act, have been passed by the executive committee of the Idaho state grange. Ash county members announce. The following reasons are given: "Relief from taxes is more necessary than advice to mothers whose thrifty ways for maternity advice that may be secured from more reliable sources. "Advice from family doctors is more apt to be practical and costs nothing, while advice given at public clinics is often too hasty to be correct and the money paid for such doctors and nurses is wasted. "Only careful nursing, not advice, saves the lives of mothers and children. "When a community cannot care for its own poor, the county hospital will be abandoned. "This so-called maternity act casts reflections upon the ability of the farmers to manage their own affairs. It makes mothers seem careless and incompetent by the presence of an adviser. Mothers are burdened with over-work made necessary by high taxes. "If farmers plan to so called 'welfare' wives whom they seek to advise. "We resent the effort of imprudent and selfish women who are creating further appropriations to maintain this maternity bureau. "The rural mothers proved themselves during the war just as efficient as city women and we believe further than rural mothers are capable of getting along for themselves, their homes, and their children. "We hereby urge that the forbidding of this patronage which degrades the pride and dignity of American homes and mothers."

President Makes Known His Stand on Agriculture Legislation; Has Done His Duty Through Commission Report

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (AP)—Responsibility for enactment or failure of legislation to aid the farmers is regarded by President Coolidge as now resting entirely in the hands of congress. The president's position, as made known yesterday at the White House in that, having studied the report of the report of his agricultural commission recommendation as to farm legislation and given congress a few weeks to consider them, it is up to congress and parties to carry its agriculture committee to obtain enactment of legislation before adjournment March 4.

Failure to Enact Bills. Failure to enact bills based on the agricultural commission's report will be regarded by the president as evidence that the congressional committee entrusted with farm legislation do not believe in the present farm situation as of an emergency nature and accordingly he will not be disposed to call an extra session of congress to consider such legislation. Some members of congress, holding that passage of the farm aid bills is impossible in the time remaining weeks of the present congress, have proposed that the president call a special session of the new congress after March 4 to take up such legislation. This, it is made plain, Mr. Coolidge has no intention of doing.

Keen Separately.

The agricultural committee of the senate and house met separately before the announcement of Mr. Coolidge's views. The senate committee meeting to begin hearings on the basis of the agricultural commission's report adjourned until Monday without calling any witnesses. Chairman Norris announced it was decided to hear members of the committee first and, at most of them had returned to their homes during a temporary recess of the commission, nothing could be done until next week.

Hearings were continued by the house committee with Representative William Reynolds, Michigan, explaining his revised co-operative marketing bill designed to carry out the agricultural commission's recommendations. The committee decided to have drafted for use as a basis of consideration, a bill embodying all of the commission's recommendations excepting the suggestions relative to the tariff.

Two New Measures. Two additional agricultural bills made their appearance during the day. Chairman Huggins of the house agricultural committee, presented a measure containing some of the features of the McNary-Haugen surplus marketing bill which the agricultural commission refused to endorse. Senator Capper, republican, Kansas, reintroduced his bill meeting a favorable reception. The hearing board such as has been recommended by the president's commission.

BREAK FEARED IN OPIUM MEET

Developments Unsatisfactory to American Delegation at Conference; May Refuse to Sign.

GENEVA, Feb. 4 (AP)—So unsatisfactory from the American standpoint were today's developments at the International opium conference that, if they stand as the last word of the delegates, it may be impossible for the American delegation to sign the anti-narcotic convention, which is now near completion. Such was the impression resulting from the American delegates tonight. Stephen C. Porter, head of the American delegation said last night that he thought the action was the most serious that had occurred, because it struck a blow at the most vital element of the American program, which is that opium production should be limited to medicinal and scientific needs. Unable to Agree The sub-committee which has been struggling with this question for two months, today concluded its afternoon that they had been unable to agree because of reservations made by Turkey and Persia, particularly, explained that their opponents, whose very existence depends on their opium export, were not ceasing entangling the opium poppy unless other crops are given them in return and this costs money. Mr. Porter would soon to find difficulty in signing a convention which does not ratify the American principles, because of the very nature of his instructions.

For COMFORT, EFFICIENCY, HAPPINESS

ALL too little attention has been given the matter of kitchen lighting. In many homes in the other rooms of the house are plenty of lights and lamps. But in the kitchen, the busy housewife's workshop, all too often there is but one dim, inefficient light.

A Kitchen Light that is Scientifically Right!

An all white light—easily kept clean an ornament to your kitchen. This Daylight Kitchen Light floods every corner with cheerful, mellow light, never glaring in the eyes, but a light that penetrates every nook and corner. A light that will help you do your work more quickly and more efficiently—that and an ornament to your kitchen. strain.

TRY IT FREE FOR 15 DAYS

We want every housewife who has electric lights in her home to try one of these Daylight Lights in her kitchen. We make this offer. Use one for 15 days. If you wish it to remain in your kitchen you may pay for it with small amounts each month. If not, we will remove it at no charge to you.

Have one installed in your kitchen NOW.

THE POSTMEN'S RAISE

All taxes are unpleasant, but there is no objection that mailmen have expressed in the country's call for increasing postal salaries three hundred dollars a year.

They are levied in the form of increased rates on certain kinds of mail matter, and are less open to criticism than previous rates designed for the purpose.

Renowned postmen, it is generally supposed, are not men of high social well as anything else, inasmuch as they are usually necessary and are purchased and mailed by tourists who like to spend their money in that way.

There is a fitness, too, in collecting money for postmen from a class of mail which makes the postmen's calling cards also will cost two cents instead of one, unless this measure is adopted.

The cent-a-piece service charge on parcels will not be burdensome. There are minor changes proposed in second class matter, lowering the rate a fraction of a cent per pound on periodical mailing matter, and raising it a trifle on advertising matter.

The prospect of the postal carriers and clerks for a reasonable raise at last is good, and the public realizes that this increase could not go to any more deserving class of government employes.

THE BLEEDING HEART

A strange portent is said to have appeared in Newcastle. It is a shadowy heart, pierced by a dagger and dripping blood, on the wall of the police court. The picture is described as "deeply-rooted in the plaster wall and very distinct," and efforts to rub it off have failed.

Why such a portent should invade the dingy old courtroom is not explained, unless by the suggestion that it may have something to do with a murder committed in the town twenty-six years ago.

It hardly seems possible that a ghost would wait that long to assert himself, if he wanted to harrow up men's souls. Nothing can be done about that old crime now. Whatever the superstitious may say, common sense will maintain that some living person is playing a practical joke on Newcastle.

If that is not the case, a little knowledge of psychology will suggest that imaginative beholders, moved by suggestion, are seeing at large that shadowy heart, and that it is a portentous, detailed picture out of a mere canvas that.

WILLY BOGS

Professor Joseph Klinghoffer, director of the National Youth Institute, has been trying to make New York women understand that the color of an egg shell has nothing to do with the quality of the egg. In that city "white eggs" are considered a premium over "brown eggs," because the former give the impression that they are superior.

In Boston, on the contrary, brown eggs are said to be preferred. In the belief that they have a better "flavor."

The difference, Professor Klinghoffer explains, is "purely a matter of imagination and has nothing whatever to do with quality." He says that though the fruit is universally accepted, a good many housewives will continue to prefer the white egg, just because they like white better than brown; and Boston people may continue to prefer brown, because in their subconscious minds it may have a subtle connection with their "apple-core" bias.

There are always deceiving the palate—a fact that clever chefs and editors of women's magazines would never let people be made to eat almost any kind of callous junk if it is only made to look attractive.

THE POSTMEN'S RAISE. All taxes are unpleasant, but there is no objection that mailmen have expressed in the country's call for increasing postal salaries three hundred dollars a year.

THE FORUM

ADVENTISTS' VIEW

Editor Twin Falls News, Dear Sir:

The followers of Mrs. Margaret Bowen, who professes to be a prophetess, are holding a convention in this town, spreading their prophecies. Their acts are based on both sides with the following inscription: "The Lord is coming February 6, 1925." Also each carries a Bible calling through a megaphone.

These people have attracted a big interest among the people and in discussing the matter with the authorities of the Seventh Day Adventist church in this town, they have been told to leave this town immediately.

What I don't understand is how these people have the heart to pass on their prophecies after being told that this proposition was not only rejected by the Seventh Day Adventist church but also by the local authorities.

The Seventh Day Adventist believes and teaches what the Word of God says, namely, "Watch therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour when the Son of Man shall come." Math. 25:13. And in Math. 24:36, that of the day and hour knoweth no man, no, not even the Father only, and in verse 42, "Watch therefore, for ye know not what hour your Lord will come."

Therefore, I wish to state that we are not interested in the prophecies of Mrs. Bowen, and we are doing the Seventh Day Adventist church a great injustice.

JOHN WAGNER, Twin Falls, February 4.

It is true, as in the end of the white eggs. While white or brown hen or guinea-bird would probably be preferred on the score of taste, it is not to mention its superior hygienic qualities, if people ate it with their eyes shut. And by the same token, people ordered at a picnic with closed eyes, there might be a slip in the selection.

THE POSTMEN'S RAISE. All taxes are unpleasant, but there is no objection that mailmen have expressed in the country's call for increasing postal salaries three hundred dollars a year.

SALMON CANAL ON NEW BASIS

Directors Levy Maintenance Charge Against Stock Instead of Against Acreage.

HOLLISTER, Feb. 4 (Special to The News)—Directors of the Salmon River Canal company, at a meeting here Tuesday adopted a new basis for annual maintenance charge and levied assessments for the coming year.

The sum of 70 cents against each share of stock. Herebefore the assessment had been made on the basis of acreage to which water was delivered. The new basis was adopted in conformity with a supreme court decision handed down late last spring and in accordance with provisions of the canal company's by-laws.

Adoption of the stock basis for maintenance charge directors stated implies that water delivery will be made during the coming season on the stock basis.

The maintenance charge is to be due and payable in full on April 1, next. The directors levied the maintenance charge after they had adopted the report of their budget committee which had been formulated on the preceding day.

In addition to estimate of expenditures the report contained a number of recommendations, among which was one that an assistant to the superintendent be discharged from the county general hospital this week include Mrs. Grace Eldridge, who is a guest at the home of Mrs. J.
