GREAT BRITAIN GOLD STANDARD AGAIN RESTORED

Important Decision Affecting England as Well as Other Nations is Announced by Chancellor of Exchequer.

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—Great Britain has returned to the gold standard. This announcement was made by Winston Spencer Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, in what is considered the most important budget statement of modern times.

The gold standard, dating from today, is put into effect by a special license, to the Bank of England to export bullion which will operate from the formal signing on December 31, next, of the 1926 act prohibiting the export of gold bullion.

Crowded House. Chancellor Churchill faced a crowded house of commons, his audience defying the occasion and including no less than 100 members of parliament. Apart from the leading feature, the return to gold, the budget was of vast importance for it contained something of the most important of the income tax on earned income under 1000 pounds for the middle classes, alleviation in the super-tax for wealthy and a big scheme of contributory insurance for the working classes which next year will give the widows of insured men ten shillings weekly for life, with five shillings weekly for the eldest child and three shillings for each other child under the age of 14 and also eventually old age pensions payable at 65 years, instead of 70 as now, and without any test as to means.

Another important announcement by the British chancellor was that American medals were arranged to the amount of not less than $200,000,000 but these would be used only if and when required. Premier Baldwin's pledge to abstain from export duties on food, Mr. Churchill has restored in a certain measure imperial preference and Mr. McKenna's duties, the latter having to do with forestry, films, motor cars, motorcycles, clocks, watches and musical instruments, all of which the United States exports heavily to England and has a special protective duties on silks and hops.

Value of Airplane in War Is Proven in Fleet Maneuver

Chief Empires in Hawaiian Army and Navy Games Praise Use of Aircraft for Scouting Ability.

HONOLULU, April 28 (AP)—The value of airplanes in scouting and reconnaissance duty was proved in the "battle" of Oahu, of the joint army and navy maneuvers, which concluded here, in the opinion of the chief umpire, Admiral Robert B. Coyle and Major General John T. Egan, as expressed in official communications issued from that office.

The maneuvers were featured by extensive and spectacular aircraft activities, never before witnessed in Hawaiian history. The official statements do not detail any case of a battleship being destroyed. The "Black" or defense pilot airplanes after sighting the enemy, landed on the beach and were being towed landing parties from the vessels reaching the shore.

First to Sight Enemy.

The "Black" patrol airplanes were the first to sight the "Blue" or attack force. Contact was made on the night of April 25. When discovered, the Wyoming, flagship of the scouting fleet, four destroyers, and eighteen destroyers were ordered off the landing ground. Four "Black" airplanes landed on Mokuauia and blocked the attempt of the Shawmut, tender for the aircraft force of the attacking fleet, to land. The "Black" force then captured the flying ground there. The "Blue" force claimed the Shawmut was sunk, which contention was upheld by the umpire. The "Black" force encountered the destroyer Lawrence soon after contact with the opposing force was established and at 10:30 p. m. the Shawmut was sunk. The "Black" force then captured the flying ground there. The "Blue" force claimed the Shawmut was sunk, which contention was upheld by the umpire. GARY, Ind., April 28 (AP)—Authorities of Illinois and Indiana tonight gave up their search of the girl whose charged, bullet-riddled and dismembered body was found near Chesterton, Ind., last Sunday; tonight were still working in the belief that the missing girl is the young woman had not been identified and no positive clues as to the identity of her slayer or slayers were in the possession of the officers.

Leads to Swampy Lake.

A police dog found a gray slipper believed to have belonged to the young woman, about 200 feet from the place where the body was found today, and later led searchers to a small swampy lake which will be pumped dry tomorrow in the belief that the missing girl and right arm may be found.

Phillips had said he thought the girl was the wife of Raymond T.weeney, another railroad man, and Sweeney was taken into custody. TWO NATIONS TO FIGHT SMUGGLING

New Plans for Cooperation Between Departments Hoped to Bring About Better Results.

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Creation of a permanent intelligence board in Washington is being considered as a means of bringing about better results in the fight against smuggling across the Mexican and Canadian borders and the American coast line has been proposed by labor department officials and probably will be considered at the conference on smuggling to be held between the United States and Mexico May 15, at El Paso, Texas.

The proposed board, which would include in its membership representatives of the state, justice, treasury and labor departments, would protect and coordinate the activities of the United States and Mexico in the fight against smuggling of alcohol, liquor and narcotics into the United States. The success of the plan, in the view of Washington officials, would be dependent largely upon the cooperation received from the Mexican and Canadian governments.

By combining in a single unit the activities of the state, justice, treasury and labor departments in assembling smuggling information for use of the various enforcement agents, officials believe that heretofore perfunctory work in the United States and Mexico could be stopped.

COMMUNIST NOT IN ACCORD WITH NEW PRESIDENT

Executive Committee of International Sees Danger Signs in Election of Hindenburg in Germany.

MOSCOW, April 28 (AP)—The executive committee of the international, in a pronouncement addressed to the workers of the world today declares that the election of Field Marshal von Hindenburg as president of Germany does not increase the chances of peace, but rather adds to the danger of a new war.

Karl Radex, who recently has had friction with the executive committee, but whose previous influence in the bolshevik world had been second only to Trotsky's, declared in a long article in the Pravda that Von Hindenburg's election means that the bolsheviks in Germany do not care the removal of war.

He said, however, that Von Hindenburg's election "does not necessarily mean that Germany will declare for a war of revenge but rather is an indication that the German people desire to be prepared to resist pressure by the allies.

Treachery of Democracy. Most newspapers attributed Von Hindenburg's victory to "the treachery of German social democracy." Radex expressed the belief that there is an immediate danger of the re-establishment of the German monarchy because "the Hohenzollerns have not a single popular figure at the moment to put forward. Whether it is a coward who ran away from his country at a time of danger. The former crown prince who is now 'selling' his soul to the victors and his 'spare' with his father, is a mere figurehead in a distant change in Germany's foreign policy as a result of Von Hindenburg's election, while other popular figures are a threat to the allies and the existence of the Versailles treaty.

THE DAY IN WASHINGTON

The German election continued to be a hot topic for serious thought in Washington. Naval officials declared important lessons would result from the Hawaiian maneuvers. Reorganization of the prohibition unit was indicated by Assistant Secretary Andrews.

William A. Culbertson of Kansas, vice president of the tariff commission, accepted the post of minister to Rumania.

German Cabinet to Remain in Office Officials Decide

No Need for Present Government to Resign Because New President Was Elected; No Heftige Hindenburg.

BERLIN, April 28 (AP)—The German cabinet held a meeting tonight and after discussing a report by Chancellor Luther on his conversation today with President-elect Hindenburg, agreed unanimously to remain in office. This decision was arrived at on the ground that there was nothing in the German constitution which required the resignation of the cabinet on the occasion of an election of a new president.

Dr. Luther today carried the German government's official greeting to the new president to Field Marshal von Hindenburg, who was visiting at Grand Schloss, near Weimar, at the time of the election. The German government's official greeting to the new president was: "The German government wishes to congratulate you on your election as president of the Reich. We are confident that you will continue to lead the German people in the path of peace and prosperity."

NATIONAL WASTE HIT BY LOWDEN

Methods Used in United States Should Challenge Census Estimates of Wealth.

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP)—Contemptuous of the misleading quality of census, the wasteful methods by which we have mined our coal and the rapid depletion of our forests, should challenge the census estimates of the wealth.

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, declared tonight before the National Lumber Manufacturers' association convention here, "Half a century ago the great pine forests of the lake states equaled for little or no estimate of national wealth. Mr. Lowden's estimate of the waste of the lumber industry is that it has lost 50 percent of its forest resources in the last 50 years."

Reported in Accord. At the conclusion of the cabinet meeting, the cabinet members were seen at the ministerial at present in Berlin. It was said that Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Dr. Luther had a long conversation on all points of the day's events. In a radio broadcast, the German government's official greeting to the new president was: "The German government wishes to congratulate you on your election as president of the Reich. We are confident that you will continue to lead the German people in the path of peace and prosperity."

Car Smashes Window—A big plate glass window in the Alvord & Mott grocery on Main avenue west was smashed Tuesday afternoon by a Ford car driven by Miss Helen Thompson, sister-in-law of Tom Mott, one of the proprietors of the store. The accident is said to have resulted from Miss Thompson's lack of familiarity with the car since she has been accustomed to driving a car of another make. No one was injured.

Perfect Poems—The rhyme and uniformity of perfect poems show the free growth of metrical laws, and bud from them as naturally and loosely as lilacs and roses on a bush, and take shape as compact as the shapes of chestnuts and oranges, and maloes and pears, and shed the perfume impalpable to love.—Walt Whitman.

With the bountiful rains and the splendid condition of the soil the next three weeks is the ideal time to plant sugar beets. Why take chances with all your labor in one crop? "This is a sugar beet year." There is sufficient moisture to insure a stand without irrigation. The best tonnage we have ever raised on this tract planting was not started until April 25th. Hand labor will be plentiful; beet tops, pulp and molasses will help balance the ration for dairymen and feeders. Beets can be hauled on and still make a good crop. A hard frost July first will not hurt them. Why not protect yourself by growing some beets? We have not time to call on all but have plenty of seed and drills. If you have some land fit for beets Phone No. 4 and we will be glad to call on you.

As We Believe

Men stay poor usually because they believe in the limitation and scanty measure of things.

Naturally their lives are lived accordingly—in confusion, sorrow and the want of things they haven't the money to buy.

This false belief will disappear only after they begin to save money. With saving comes a new outlook on life.
