DEATH PENALTY ASKED IN SOFIA

Perpetrators of Bomb Outrage Which Killed 160 Should be Executed, Says Indictment.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 30.—An indictment demanding the death penalty for those accused of committing the recent awful bombing in Sofia, read today to the investigating court.

Charged that this and other outrages were the work of a conspiracy committee, formed in conjunction with delegates of a secret communist committee and with agrarian party committee.

Those included are Sacerdian Freedom of the Sofia trial, who were the explosion which killed 160 persons; former communist Deputy Gratchevski, who was shot by police Tuesday; and communist leaders Petzini, Konevski, Koff and Dimitroff.

and Petzini, who are under arrest, and the chief, who has been killed, have escaped.

The indictment said that the bomb was not placed in the cathedral by the terrorist Minkoff, who has been killed, but by a man named Aladjeff.

A defense counsel has been retained and about 50 witnesses have been summoned.

Niagara River Obstructed.

The Niagara river was obstructed by ice at Lake Erie and ran nearly dry along the Falls for many days, March 23, 1925. The latest news reveals that a man walked across the falls that day and the water did not more than cover the soles of his shoes.

Photographs were taken by the Times of Niagara Falls one day in March, 1903, which were printed in the papers at the time, showing the American falls partially dried up, only a little stream trickling over the cliff in the distance, while in the foreground a portion of the falls, generally swept by a torrent of water, was seen high dry. Other pictures showed people walking about and gathering souvenirs in what is generally the bed of the American rapids above the falls.

Japanese Prints.

Japanese prints are now being engraved in relief on a wood block. Prior to 1733 the impression from the key block was colored by hand, and these prints are known as the primary color prints. In 1733, the color printing was the first color. Then followed, in order, hand in red extracted from saffron, a greenish yellow, a blue (except from Prussia) and a blue extracted from Chinese iron.

1743 blocks were made for each color and were applied to the paper by hand. A print is therefore the work of three craftsmen—the printer, the color graver, the printer.

KIDNAPER IS BOUGHT

GHAZVILLE, Va., April 26.—A man thought to be Earl Woodard, farm hand and former convict suspected of kidnaping 11-year-old Jimmie Chatterbox, was fired upon twice today by men engaged in the search for the "prize" hunter. The second attempt to see the man, said there was a girl with him. The first from Woodard, he said, but failed to sound the man, who he thought from a distance, was Woodard. The stranger then ran off with the girl at his heels. She stumbled and fell, her head struck the ground and caught up with her companion. Both of them disappeared among the trees.

Don't Be a Torolose.

We have always had sympathy for the hare which loses the race to the tortoise. It was just one chance in a million that the tortoise would win out. Any smart hare in sports a contest would decide that he had time for a nap; he would have been a fool to have had himself burned out of the race in such a competition. First, he should overstep his jurisdiction. Of course it may be argued that he should have finished his race first and done his napping afterwards. That is the second guess. The point, we make is that anything which makes the hare falling asleep and going to bed is a mistake. It isn't after the finish on the job enters the other fellow asleep.

Use of "Folk" and "Folks."

Folk is a collective noun and is used in the sense of either people or peoples; as "The English are virtually the same people or folk as the Dutch, both belonging to the same division—the Low German of the Teutonic branch of the Aryan family." Josephine Tuck Baker, in "The Correct Word—The Dilemma—The Pluralizing of the word folk. She says: "Folk is used in the sense of persons; as 'The young folks of the church'; 'The poor folks of the town'; 'The old folks at home'; 'There are your folks'." The pluralizing of folks has been censured by some authorities, but the criticism is unwarrantable, folks used in the sense of persons being provided in unobjectionable."—Kansas City Star.

Billard Balls.

All billiard balls are true when they are sent out by responsible makers, but they do not do so as a rule mainly true. The issue they get is often careless and indifferent. It is often rough. Sometimes a ball that is true in the beginning will become untrue, even with the best treatment you can give it. Change in temperature is an important factor, for ivory will expand and contract more in one part of the ball than another, for the reason that the ivory may be denser in one part of the ball than another. Hence the possibility in the same ball of different densities. When there is a difference in the specific gravity of ivory the ivory also is to use that part of the ball which is heaviest as the center of the ball.

Plant for Your Fish

The best plant for aquarium purposes is aquatica. The variety known as natans is of moderate size, easy to grow, and of moderate size, easy to grow. An aquarium of moderate size should be started with about a dozen such plants, well-rooted in coarse sand or peat, and arranged to suit the taste of the planter.

Test for Longevity.

You may not know that the children of long-lived parents inherit much later and are usually backward in their studies. Medical men have discovered this in proving that every man carries about with him the symptoms of old age or early death. The primary condition of longevity, according to the latest theory, is that the heart, lungs, and digestion organs as well as the brain, should be large. If these organs are large the trunk will be long and the limbs comparatively short. The hand will have a long and somewhat heavy palm and short fingers. The brain will be deeply seated as shown by orbits of the eye being low. The blue-eyed or brown-eyed eye, showing an interposition of temperature, is a favorable indication. The nostrils being large, open, and free, indicate large lungs. A pinched and half-closed nostril indicates small or weak lungs.

Care of Goldfish.

Many goldfish are killed by kindness. There is a widespread belief that the water needs changing frequently, but this is a mistake. The chief cause of impurity in the water is the use of too much food of the wrong kind. Greasy substances should be avoided, and the largest amount possible of clean water should be added. Don't put it in the net, and don't put it in the net, and don't put it in the net.

Enjoyable Breakfast.

Breakfast is a splendid meal on rainy days, especially warm rainy days, when you can sit on the porch and spend a long time eating marinated on crisp hot toasted muffins. All such things there is little else to do but to eat. Breakfast on a sunny day, when there's much to be accomplished, is a different matter. Even marinated means little when there's a kite to be flown—Arnold Patrick in the Bookman.

Early Printing.

The oldest known printed book, according to a well-known authority, is the "Diamond Sutra," which dates from 869 A. D. The printing in the "Diamond Sutra" was made by use of block prints similar to our woodcuts. The first type printing was done some time between 1024 and 1038. It was by means of type made of cartilage.

Cheating Invention Talent.

It is a special trick of his cunning to suppose one knows the from a modest sign who is eminent in any science and then to use it as he usually acquires and pass the water in total silence.—Harold White.

Remarkable Achievement.

Hampel's most memorable achievement—perhaps in the world the most astounding in all imperial history—was, of course, the writing of "The Moscow" in little over three weeks! The book would indeed be almost unprintable if it were not attached beyond dispute by the dates on the autograph paper now preserved in Buckingham Palace, London, which show that he had been in London on August 22, 1911, and completed on September 14.

Sail, Don't Drift.

Don't drift! Choose the port that you wish to make, then set your course and hold it. There may be contrary winds and storms that will set your sails back and drive you far to leeward. But Will is a compass and Potentiation is a helm that will set you right again, and bring you at last to the port of your ambition.—Selected.

Salmon Are Centenarians.

Fish have tremendously long lives compared to many animals. Salmon have been known to live more than 100 years and some interesting experiments in marking them and leaving fish on them from year to year have been made even in open waters. This like the salmon are centenarians. It is said to live longer than any of the fish family.

- In the matter of bonding transportation to and from Anton Gravel.

In this matter, comes H. E. Elliott, and represents to the board that one Mrs. M. M. Macintosh has requested him for many months and that it would seem to be able to support himself, provided transportation to Idaho Falls can be secured for him. After due consideration of the matter, it is by the board ordered that such transportation be granted and the auditor is called upon for the sum of $8, for which Mr. Elliott agrees to see that said transportation be made.

The board of this time proceeded to the consideration of other matters, and at the close of 5 o'clock P. M. recess was taken until 10 A. M. March 3.

WINNIE'S WONDERINGS

Winnie wondered whether it was better to be willing and eager to help or whether it was better to be clever and smart.

She remembered the time when she had run for the doctor when the little boy had been ill. There had been a dreadful fit of fever and the wires were down and there was no one to call the doctor.

How Winnie had really saved his life. They had given her such a lovely reward as a reward—made of real gold. She didn't know or thought of a reward. Perhaps that was why she enjoyed the reward so much!

Then she wondered whether it was more fun to read late and have all the pleasure, even though she was sleepy in the morning, or whether it was better to be fresh for games and play in the morning and go right to sleep at night.

Sometimes when the family had gone out she had set up way beyond bedtime and had only just turned out the light before she had come in. Then the glow of the light was still warm. Even a silent thing like a night-globe could be a treat.

But of course that was really too nice! And then she was so feeling too sleepy in the morning.

She wondered whether it was more fun to climb over the great chest and the linen room and have that as a playground where she could make up all sorts of games, or whether it was more fun where all the toys were and the games were all in readiness.

She wondered, too, whether she liked the country better than the sea.

At the seashore there was the sand and there were rocks and there was a lovely salty taste to the air.

But in the country there was a sunny warmth and lovely hay feeling, and there were more flowers.

In the country was the old attic, too, where she could dress up in clothes that had belonged to her great-grandmother. They were torn and shabby, but they had been worn to splendid recollections.

Winnie used to dress up in those on rainy days and make low bows, pretending to be the different handsome gentlemen and beautiful ladies who had been to the reception when those had been worn.

She wondered whether she liked the winter better than the summer.

In the winter sometimes the streets got so slippery that the coasting was really thrilling, and there was skating, too.

But in the summer the bathing was such fun, and to go out in a boat along the shore and pretend to throw out net as the boat passed each little cove. That was a glorious game.

Then in the summer there were such nice games to play and she didn't have to bundle up.

In the summer the woods were so lovely and cool, and the shadows danced so prettily about the trees and with the sun and the trees.

But in the winter the other hand, there were stich robes and steaming hot suppers afterward.

Winnie wondered.

She couldn't make up her mind what she liked best.

And then her wooden began to be puzzled no longer.

She liked lots of things—you didn't have to decide what you liked best when you could like many things a great deal.

So she didn't waste her time wondering what she liked best or what was best or second best.

She just enjoyed each thing in turn, and when she could be of great help to some one it was well known that Winnie was the one to be relied upon.

It was so nice to have this all clear at last!

NORMAL SCHOOL WINS BASEBALL CONTEST 7 TO 6

Twin Falls High School Diamond Warriors Meet Defeat in Close Game Away From Home; Play Here Thursday.

ALBION, April 30.—(Special to The News)—The Twin Falls high school baseball team was routed out by a 7 to 6 score in a hard fought contest with Albion Normal school today. The coaches' first, Platinio's new played without the services of two veterans, Day and Tamm, but nevertheless they won the game by a real feat for the normal. The normal will have a chance to redeem themselves when the Albion visit Lincoln field next Thursday afternoon.

The first inning was scoreless, after Albion got one hit in its half. The second stanza was fatal for the coaches' hurler, Aman, former Filer athlete. The fireworks started when Sorenson, Albion shortstop, muffed Nye's ball, and when the normal was safe at first. Petzold got a hit and Nye advanced to third. Filling hit and one out on the ground advanced made his second hold, filling the bases. Pitcher "Lefty" Anderson put his team in the lead when he knocked the pill over the fence for a four runner. Petzold flew out to first.

Anderson made their first tallies in the third round when they connected with Sorenson. Aman, Davis side center Snyder got a single advancing Davis to third. Sorenson was out at first. Howard flew out to second. Twin Falls' Albion 3.

Twin Falls added another run to their lead in the third when one dummy never got a safe hit. Nye's fly fell in the well at first. Then Weaver went to second on a passed ball and stole third. Petzold's hot one went through short stop and Weaver crossed the plate.

In the last of the fourth the coaches took their turn with the stick. Cook and Olson were safe at first and second. Olson was safe at first and Cook went to third when Nye dropped a fly ball. Cook and Olson were in second.

Albion took the mound for Albion at the beginning of the fourth inning and held Twin Falls in three runs, the rest of the contest. Gish took over the Twin Falls hurling at the opening of the fifth stanza, and held the teachers to four safe ones.

The fifth inning was ruckus. Albion got in the lead with two hits when they touched Gish by two hits in succession and the timely fly out.

There were no hits and no runs on either side in the seventh period. Lapp, former Filer hurler, got a strike out in the last of the eighth and made the Albion total seven.

Charlie Bell was held in the ninth when Parrish hit to two sacks with one down. Gish was shut out at first. Martin hit a single and Albion was in a three run lead.

The lineup in batting order: Albion—Davis, cf; Snyder, 3b; Sorenson, ss; Howard, 2b; Cook, 1b; Olson, cf; Aman, p and Nye, lf.

Twin Falls: Martin, 3b; Frain, lf; Sears, ss; Weaver, 2b; Nye, cf; Petzold, 1b; Farrar, cf; Anderson and Gish, p; Parrish, c.

In the Time of Trouble

Children and adults are frequently given in an emergency and a directory hung over the telephone with the names, addresses and telephone numbers of the family physician, and a substitute, the nearest fire box, the police station, the family pastor and the "barnes" of all employed members of the family, will sometimes save a tragedy.

Playing Safe. Amelia, 7, understood that Mr. Herzy and his sweetheart have had a quarrel. "June" says, but it is nothing serious. She is a prudent girl, and wants to make sure that she can manage him when he is angry. "Sissy" stories.

Magicians Not Wanted. "Knowledge is power," said the ready-made philosopher. "Depend on how you use it," retorted Gactus Joe. "There's a fellow in Grignon, Gutch who is mighty lonesome because he got a reputation for knowing how to stack the cards."

Dromedary and Camel

Dromedary is a name sometimes given to the Arabian or one-humped camel, but properly belonging to a variety of that species distinguished by a humplessness of limbs and symmetry of form and by extraordinary steadiness, bearing much the same relation to the ordinary camel as a Turk horse or hunter dog to a cart horse.

Loses His Tithes on Races. An English churchman recently promised to give his week's winnings on horse racing to the church's lighting fund, but announced later that he could not carry out his plan because he had lost on every race.

FROST CAUSES LITTLE DAMAGE

Low Temperatures Retard Vegetation but Involve Minimum Loss, Weather Report Says.

Heavy frosts and freezing temperatures during the week ending last Tuesday checked vegetation but did little damage throughout southwest Idaho, according to the weekly summary of weather and crop conditions issued by the United States weather bureau at Boise, regarding conditions over the United States weather last week at Boise.

Southwest Idaho: The past week was one of good growing work. Moisture conditions were entirely favorable, but sunshine was inadequate and temperatures were too low for rapid growth. Heavy frosts and freezing temperatures occurred several nights, but without checking vegetation they did little damage. Potato bloom is pretty well over but apples are in full bloom. Pastures are generally short.

A heavy wet snow which fell Thursday caused a considerable loss in sheep and lambs in some sections of southern Idaho. Heavy to killing frost occurred but did not seriously damage. Winter wheat that survived is doing well, but a considerable acreage was winter killed and lost to the ground. Temperatures in north Idaho were below normal, retarding vegetation. Heavy frosts and freezing temperatures, but not enough to damage fruit, but there were some damage to apricot orchards. Over most of the district the ground is well supplied with moisture. Pastures and ranges are excellent and all stock are thriving. The fruit outlook continues good, except in the peaches and apricots which will be heavy. Right. All grains in excellent condition.

Notes from the Field: Twin Falls: Best planting in progress; grain and grass coming up well; apples blossoming.

Boise: Starting all week until harvest when it turned colder; practically no farming operations during week. Blaine: Starting all week. First of week sunny; no warm weather but vegetation shows slow, steady growth; grass showing up and promise good stand; no seeding reported during week; heavy rains caused up brightening.

Fairfield, Camas county: Heavy rains practically stopped all farm work; winter wheat and hay crops good.
