TAX REDUCTION DIVISION COMES TO TOWN PROPOSED

Unofficial Estimates of Treasury Indicate 12 Per Cent Cut as Next Step in Federal Relief Plan.

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The official estimate of the Treasury department indicates that a 12 per cent reduction in income taxes may be possible as the next step in lifting the federal tax burden.

This figure, while calculated without intention to commit an incomplete analysis of revenue and income taxes, under the present conditions shown in the first quarterly installment, it would bear out previous estimates that a total reduction of about $1,000,000,000 could be made effective on taxes in 1925.

Present indications are that the Treasury will recommend a 12 per cent reduction in income taxes when it is expected the tax question again will be raised. While Mr. Mellon has made no direct statement on the subject most of his advisers favor keeping the Treasury out of the matter, they are waiting for the Treasury's report on the subject of the income tax.

The first indication that another cut in income taxes is being given by the Treasury estimate made last summer, by about $1,000,000,000. This evidence that total revenue receipts would be larger than originally estimated, also that the Treasury had to import $1,000,000,000 more than originally collected up to the same date in 1924.

Miscellaneous Receipts. Miscellaneous receipts, a general source of revenue from which would be expected about $12,000,000,000 would be cut off through the reduction in that tax, have not dropped to that extent, and indications are that the decline will only slightly exceed $1,000,000,000. With large receipts expected from the several sources that had previously been promised, it is believed that the Treasury officials that the surplus will be far greater during this and the next fiscal year than it has been in any year.

Yes, Brenda would find work. The grandeur of the proud and intellectual...

It was like a sentence of a court. With a quick about the corners of his mouth, he walked boldly toward her and looked down into the dish of cereal on the table beneath her eyes.

It would be untrue to deny that Jim Hennepin was an attractive figure. If he had craft and villainousness, as some have said he had, it was belied by the Hennepin smile—an inviting smile, invoking the cheer of the moment like a smile of a boy. Furthermore, he was tall and graceful, like an oarsman in an English college eight. He was more like the bad son of an earl than a bookkeeper, and persons often inquired who he was, especially before they had heard him speak in his carefree modern American slang figures, and were surprised to find that he was able to talk so well, and with such education for several years at the University of Virginia and was earning fifty-three dollars a week and spending fifty-nine when he was over thirty.

The first time he ever saw Brenda Selous was one morning when he had come back from a vacation of several weeks at some ranch among the peaks in Colorado. His vacations had become a mystery to other young men who were employed; all that appeared necessary was for Jim to go to Compton Parmer and tell him when he would be back. It was ascribed to his master quality of permission. Some said that if Hennepin smiled and asked in his carefree, careless manner there would be no surprise to find that the President of the United States had allowed him to take the whole of Alaska under the present act. And yet, it would be untrue to say that he knew it. This was the man of un-checked wild youth, who had beaten a trail for himself almost everywhere in the Badland state and had killed the riding horse with a stone held in his strong young hand.

Brenda was sitting at an early breakfast when he came in. He had not brought to America soon by a Portuguese... speak to her; he merely stared. After a while, without taking his eyes away from her, he put his gun, his hat and his bag into a chair behind him.

It was like a sentence of a court. With a quick about the corners of his mouth, he walked boldly toward her and looked down into the dish of cereal on the table beneath her eyes.

Twin Falls, Idaho.

I entered the advanced dictation class up here last fall. It is made up of students who have had one year more of education.

Although the dictation was pretty fast, I held my own pretty well when you consider the length of time I spent on it (two months) last summer.

Yours very truly,

FILER DISTRICT AWARDED FIRST AT TRACK MEET

County School Athletic Events Held at Fair Grounds Saturday; Maroa Places Second With 59 Points.

Filer	122
Maroa	59
Kimberly	25
Castroville	20
St. Louis	19
Twin Falls Rural	19
Hammond	15
Hollister	5
Hull Rural	5

The Filer district carried away the first honors in the Twin Falls county grounds at Filer Saturday, when four hundred lanky lads and lasses contested in 32 different events. Results were given to those who placed first, second and third. County Superintendent school track and field meet this was held for the benefit of the student Charlotte Pool, president of the Filer business men last year. It is to be the property of the school, which was at three times in aggression. Filer won it for the second time yesterday. Captain Philo Lally received the second honor cup for the benefit of the Superintendent fund. This cup is to be the permanent property of the Maroa school.

Good Running Time.
Exceptional time was made in the running events. Earl Smith won the senior boys' 100-yard dash in 10.8 seconds, which is extraordinary time for a grade school runner. This same Earl Smith put the second best time at 47.6 seconds in the 400-yard dash. His high school he will make the boys' heavy with the 12-pound ball. The performance of the other contestants were remarkable. George Tucker of Kimberly, a lad under 13 years of age, achieved a 100-yard dash time of 11.5 seconds. Filer, the winner of the senior boys' competition, did the up and down 23 times. Clara Meyer, a girl under 12 years of age, pulled up to the bar 10 times for the first honors in the junior girls' contest. Her time was 1.1 seconds. The first honors in the senior girls' division drawing up 19 times. Records show that this contest will exist in this event county.

Pole Vault Good.
The pole vault was a clever exhibition. The vaulting competition for boys was held in the 12-foot vault to 7 feet 6 inches. This event was won by George Rich of Filer, a 19-year-old boy. He cleared the bar 10 feet 6 inches. Kimberly, slightly over 10 years of age, gave Rich a real run for his money. Rich cleared the bar 9 feet 2 inches, but couldn't clear on the three-inch raise. Kenneth Stewart of Filer vaulted over the bar 8 feet 6 inches. This was the second place in the senior boys' division.

The Deal Brothers of Filer took the senior boys' 400-yard dash. Herbert Deal fielded all the way in the junior division and covered the distance in 3 minutes, 47 seconds. The big brother, Raymond Deal, came in from behind in the old boys' race and gave a real run for his money. Two minutes and 27 seconds is real time for a grade school half mile.

Fast Sprint Time.
Clara Meyer, twin falls rural, ran away from the field in the sprint for girls under 13. She covered the distance in 6.8 seconds, and her time in the century was 13.4. The sprinting honors in the boys' century class went to Max Peterson of Filer. He covered 50 yards in 6.8 seconds and a hundred in 12.7. A flying track race was won by name from the Maroa school kicked at in the eyes of her opponent. Miss Malone made the 50-yard sprint in 6.4 seconds and the 100-yard event in 12.8. An official of the association said she had never been defeated.

BOARD REPEALS NEW STANDARDS FOR HOSPITAL

County Commissioners Make a Clean Sweep of Standardization Regulations Adopted by Predecessors.

Your attack on a provision of the rules that has been construed as excluding chiropractors, osteopaths and other "irregular" practitioners from Twin Falls county general hospital, Twin Falls county commissioners at a special meeting here Saturday afternoon, repealed regulations adopted for the standardization of the county general hospital adopted by their predecessors in office in December of last year, and reinstating regulations previously in effect for management and control of the hospital.

Regulations thus done away with provided for minimum standardization requirements as represented by the American College of Surgeons, which the former commissioners, by vote of two to one, were persuaded to adopt for the county institution.

Provision Under Fire
Validity of that provision of the regulations which was construed as excluding "irregular" practitioners was called in question in a suit instituted by W. M. Lambing of this city wherein the county commissioners were named defendants. Trial in this suit had been assigned to take place Monday next before Judge W. A. Hubbard in this city.

In an opinion furnished at the request of the commissioners relating to the question of the validity of the regulations, county attorney, J. W. Taylor, county attorney, asserted that the regulations insofar as they operated to exclude practitioners other than doctors of medicine, were illegal. An opinion furnished by J. H. Hathwell and W. Orr Chapman, attorneys for the county medical association, took a contrary position and declared that the county commissioners had no authority by law to determine regulations for the hospital, which, they held, was established and operated primarily for the accommodation of county charges. Hathwell and Chapman were entered as special counsel in the Lambing suit.

Explain Decision
Resolutions adopted by the commissioners Saturday set forth reasons for their action. Text of the resolutions was as follows:
"Whereas, the board of county commissioners of Twin Falls county did on or about the 20th day of December last, adopt certain rules and regulations and by-laws in regard to the management and control of the county hospital at Twin Falls, Idaho, which had for their purpose the standardization of said Twin Falls county hospital; and
"Whereas, the present board of county commissioners took office on the 19th day of December, 1924, and inherited the said rules and regulations; and
"Whereas, the board of county commissioners could legally standardize said hospital as authorized by the enabling act of Twin Falls county, the legal advice for said county commissioners, and by the said board, and heard a written opinion stating that the said board of county commissioners had exceeded its authority in the standardization of said hospital; and
"Whereas, there is no course open now except for the present board of county commissioners to follow the advice of the prosecuting attorney of said county, and to cancel and annul said rules and regulations and to place said institution on the same basis that it was upon the adoption of said new rules and regulations standardizing said hospital; therefore,
"Be it resolved by the board of county commissioners of Twin Falls county, on or about the 25th day of December, 1924, relative to the standardization of said hospital, be and the same hereby are cancelled and annulled; and
"The intention by the cancellation of these rules and regulations being to place said institution upon the same basis as to operation as it was prior to the adoption of said rules and regulations above mentioned."

CALL BIDS FOR KIMBERLY ROAD

Highway District Commissioners Decide to Co-operate With Residents.

Contractors' bids for grading and gravelling of two miles of road extending north from a point one mile west of Kimberly will be opened Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the office of the highway district commissioners, according to a decision reached by the commissioners at a meeting here Saturday afternoon.

Residents and property owners along the proposed improvement have contributed approximately $1000 toward meeting the expenses involved, the commissioners were told.

POSSESSION OF LIQUOR ACCUSATION IS SHIFTED

Dismissal of a charge of illegal possession of liquor against W. P. French, automobile repair shop owner, seemed likely Saturday evening as a result of the arrest Saturday of Arthur L. Neal of Mountain Home who, according to French, left in a cab in at French's residence on Main avenue south, a jug of liquor that was seized by reading deputy sheriff Friday evening. Neal was arrested when he made his appearance Saturday at the French residence to claim the liquor of which he is alleged to be the owner. The arrest was made by Sheriff M. E. Finch, who waited at the French residence for appearance of the owner of the liquor. Neal, when he was arrested, had pointed the liquor out of the jug that had been substituted by the sheriff for the jug that was taken by the reading officers.

On arraignment Saturday in police court, Neal pleaded not guilty to charge of illegal possession of liquor and was admitted by Judge J. L. Houghlin to bond in the sum of $250.
