Accidents on the field of baseball combat were really responsible for the introduction of practically all of the new equipment in use. For the diamond game was started with a bat that was made of wood and a ball that was made of cork.

The next afternoon Irvin appeared on the field wearing his glove protector. He wore a glove protector on his left hand when he tried to field a ball that had a freak hop.

The game had no man to take Irvin's place. He was called on to get his glove protector back into the lineup, playing a lead letter at short and maintaining all present thoughts. Irvin batted to a harness maker's shop—bought a new glove protector and went home.

"I want you to have ready for me tomorrow a glove that I can wear on my hand so that it protects my fingers well enough to enable me to play base ball."

War Mothers Cause Mother's Day Flower to Bloom Profusely

Emblematic of memory of mothers, nearly 2000 carnations, offered by the American War Mothers at an annual sale, were displayed in hundreds by many patrons during the day here Saturday. Proceeds from the sale are to be devoted to relief of disabled war veterans.

With headquarters in the Hotel Perle today, War Mothers at several prominent stations offered the normal flowers and at the close of the day practically the entire supply had been exhausted. The War Mothers Saturday evening expressed their appreciation of the generous patronage of the sale.

In explanation of half red and pink carnations for sale to patronize those who are living, the War Mothers stated that through error only a small number of red carnations had been received from the supply house, and, as a makeshift at the eleventh hour, two of the War Mothers converted about 1200 of the white carnations into pink ones, which was the nearest approximation to red that could be secured through the use of a red painter's paint.

JOHN W. BARDIN, Chairman.
