ASSEMBLY ENDS WITH DISPUTE STILL RAGING

Modernistic Faction of Presbyterian Church See Split Coming if Action is Ratified; to Appoint Committee.

COLUMBIAS, O., May 27 (AP)—The 15th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America ended here today with the modernistic faction asserting that if its action is ratified by the general assembly, a split denomination is inevitable.

Thought to have been settled yesterday, the controversy flared up again in the closing session.

What its eventual outcome will be rests in the hands of a committee of fifteen which is to be appointed with jurisdiction over the matter.

Erasmus, moderator of the assembly, and which is empowered to study the whole issue and report to the next assembly.

Saved Definite Break

The appointment of this committee, it was asserted by Rev. Henry Blaine Coffin, New York liberal, was the only thing that saved a definite break now.

The dispute was a result of the finding of the permanent judicial commission yesterday, the complaint of the Rev. A. H. Gantz against the synod of New York in upholding action of the presbytery there by the licensing of Henry P. Van Duca and Cedric O. Layman.

The two did not affirm literal belief in the virgin birth, the only doctrinal point of contention.

The judicial commission held that church laws demand such affirmation and recommended it to the presbytery for action in conformity with its findings.

Presbytery Warned

Extreme fundamentalists, through Dr. Clarence Edward McManaway, Philadelphia, former moderator, warned the presbytery to oppose defiance of the general assembly could have no other issue than the dissolution of the presbytery of New York.

A formal protest against the judgment was filed today with the stated clerk. It was pointed out that this in reality is a dissenting opinion of the assembly itself. The protest made the point that acceptance of the confession of faith does not mean an absolute affirmation of belief in the virgin birth.

It held further that presbyteries themselves are the sole judges in determining a minister's qualifications.

From Middletown.

While signatures on the protest were mainly from the New York presbytery, they included some from Iowa, Illinois, California and Montana.

Representing the liberal element in the New York presbytery Dr. Coffin proposed that the issue be sent down to the presbyteries by the new commission.

He said that the group in asserting its constitutional rights "did so to state our position. If it ever comes up in civil court that would be the basis of our case. I hope it never comes to that."

Aztec Grew Corn

The only related plant, with which corn will cross-fertilize is teosinte, a large, semi-tropical grass growing wild in the uplands of Central America and adjoining regions, says Nature Magazine. It is in this country of the ancient Mayas, Aztecs and Incas that the most abundant evidence has been found of early cultivation.

The Eden P. T. A. will hold a special meeting this Friday evening at which time reports of the delegates to the recent state P. T. A. meeting at Idaho Falls will be given by Mrs. Frank and Mrs. Gordon. Another special feature of the meeting will be an address by Miss Hester, who has taken a vacation in the city and subsequently the number of deaths was great. The epidemic does not seem to have been the real oriental plague.

Unknown Plague

Authorities do not know definitely just what disease was referred to in the placid in Athens, according to the description by Thucydides, the plague ravaged Athens in the second year of the Peloponnesian war, 430 B. C. A large percentage of the population but taken notice in the city and subsequently the number of deaths was great. The epidemic does not seem to have been the real oriental plague.

Traitor to Napoleon

Benjamin, one of Napoleon's generals, who was placed on the throne of Sweden by the great French emperor, turned traitor to the Corsican and led the army of the "North" against his benefactor in 1813.

Japan's Advancement

Japan has so developed its electric power that it is one of the best served countries in an electrical way in the world.

Gas Meter is Accurate

But 700 of the best watches against 100 gas meters in a test for accuracy, exposed to the same varying conditions of heat, cold, humidity and the meters will run out every time, says a bulletin. The gas meter is reported as one of the most accurate measuring instruments in use today. Like the registering turbine in parks, railroad stations and fair grounds, the meter will not operate unless something passes through it. The mechanism is not set in motion and the indicator hands cannot move except as gas passes through and makes them move. It is interesting to know that the original mechanical principles adopted in 1841 for the correct measurement of gas still persist and that while hundreds of inventors have endeavored to discover something better, they have improved upon details only.

Lake of Sulphuric Acid

This is a lake of sulphuric acid. It is on Sulphur Island, 150 acres in extent and 12 feet deep. The water is very hot and contains quantities of hydrochloric and sulphuric acid, the fumes from which roll up in dense clouds.

Refertilizing Soil

Every plant needs and one that is not exhausted from the soil. To renew the supply commercial fertilizer must be used, such as ammonium sulphate, sodium nitrate and Chile saltpeter.

A Mother's Maxim

When Frederick the Temple, the late archbishop of Canterbury, was a poor boy, wearing patched clothes and patched shoes, he had the good fortune to have a wise mother who stimulated and encouraged the right kind of ambition, and directed his zeal. One day the boy waded critical over the Incantation of English-apollonia, when his mother chided him gently. "Freddie, don't argue; do your work." The lesson was not lost on his open mind. He followed the sage advice. And long years after, when as primate of all England he had arisen to a position securely second to any in dignity and influence in the land he acted on his mother's counsel: "Don't argue; do your work."—F. H. Choley in "Stories for Tinkles to Boys."

Africa Big Wine Producer

Although African wine is not particularly well known in the western hemisphere, it is a fact that South Africa alone produces about 5,000,000 gallons of wine annually. Some of the wine is exported, but a great deal of it is used at home.

When supper was brought to the belles of the ball in old Tennessee

THEY like to tell you about it down South—that stately, old ball room where gallants made their bows years ago and beauties smiled above their fans. Long before the days of country clubs and jazz, the youth of Dixie danced and supped at the Maxwell House of Nashville.

— There the old-time southern belles danced the steps our grandmothers knew. And there they perused for supper—such suppers as are remembered and described in the South to this day.

It was the food at the Maxwell House, and above all the coffee, that was talked of most widely in that land of "mamma" cooks and beaten biscuits.

Steadily the fame of the Maxwell House grew.

Only one kind of coffee was served at the Maxwell House—a special blend so rich and mellow that those who once tasted it, remembered it long afterward.

Year after year distinguished men and women from all parts of the country came to this fine, old hotel for the great balls, or to pass pleasant days under its roof. The fame of the Maxwell House and of its coffee was spread far and wide: In distant cities the families who enjoy the best things of life have heard of this wonderful blend and have secured it for their own tables.

And the same man who perfected it years ago, Joel Cheek himself, still supervises with his associates the blending and roasting of it today. The same coffee that delighted the guests of the old Maxwell House, is now on sale in sealed tins at better grocery stores.

Give your own family this rare flavor and rich aroma at breakfast tomorrow. Ask your grocer today for one of the blue tins of Maxwell House Coffee.

DIFFICULTY IS EXPERIENCED IN OBTAINING JURY

Trial of William D. Shepherd for Murder at Chicago Still Held Up by Lack of Jurors to Hear Evidence.

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP)—Extreme difficulty was encountered today in effecting a jury to try the case of William D. Shepherd for the alleged killing of John G. Jones and poison to his millionaire foster son, Win. Nelson McCluck and at adjournment examination of twenty-four veniremen had produced no additional jurors.

Needs Protection

"You will need it" and "you no longer are on the bench, and Judge Lynch will make life hell for you," Stewart retorted.

The only tangible charge of jury tampering was held in advance by the attorney-in-charge, who engaged counsel for James Callan to attend the 24 hours to prepare replies to all the interrogatories as to whether Callan had represented himself as employed by Stewart and tried to "fix" a venireman.

PERFECTION IS AIM OF DODGE MANUFACTURERS

The slogan, "Better and Better," which recently appeared on poster boards and in magazines and newspapers everywhere, following rigidly the announcement of the purchase of Dodge Brothers by Dillon, Read and company, has aroused renewed comment regarding one of the outstanding policies of Dodge Brothers, Inc., according to H. F. Magel, of the Magel Automobile company, local Dodge Brothers dealers.

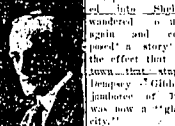

"Constant improvement of a local business is one of the established policies of Dodge Brothers ever since their first car was offered to the public," he said, "and will continue to be until the new century." "Registration figures for last year show clearly the wide recognition which has been accorded this sound policy. Details for the United States show that Dodge Brothers made a gain of 25 per cent against a loss of 11 per cent sustained by the industry as a whole. This year, work for 1925, all sales for corresponding periods of previous years have been exceeded by as large an amount."

Diplo Betts the Saller, The old-time seller was a master workman in making knots, splicing rope, etc., but even he would probably take an idea out of a Twin Falls office whose staff was recently secured from a fellow worker in Ann Arbor, Mich. This knot, it is believed, was made from a single kite string, which the bird artesian manipulated into a pouch five 2 1/2 inches in size. It is described as very durable and compactly knit together and securely attached to its supporting branches. The patience and ingenuity of the mother bird that constructed such a nest might be appreciated by anyone who should try to make a similar pouch with a single piece of cord several hundred feet long.—From the Outlook.

What's What in The Sport World

Copyright, 1925, Ring Features by FRANK O. MENCKE

James A. Johnson has lost his temper. And if fair sized portion of Montana has done ditto.

Frank O. Mencke

It's all because a reporter wandered into the town of Shelby, Mont., and reported that the town was a "ghost city."

It's an outrage, declares the editor of the Montana Standard, thousands of Montanans, plus an array of indispensable facts, back up the statement that Shelby is booming now as never before. It is booming there are rapidly on the increase and that the little frontier town of two years ago is now the gateway to the west.

Johnson took the teasing and the jockeying of a handful of reporters in 1923 with a smile and a toss of his heavy blonde hair.

In those days when he was an amateur fight promoter—a very, very amateur promoter—the quips and jests that were originated at his expense never caused him to let his temper run to grow unruly or fretful.

"I had all that's coming to me," Johnson told me when I met him last summer while practicing in the city national park, Montana. "The newspaper boys called me a fight promoter, but that's all right—I'm not all with a laugh."

The article declared that Shelby has only one brick building in town, that Main street is practically empty, that the electric light plant has been dismantled, that the town has only one operating hotel and that despair and desolation reign amek.

What that reporter discovered in Shelby and what I discovered while there last fall are discoveries radically different. The electric light plant is being re-installed, that it is not shut down now. It is operating 23 hours per day. The town had then, and still has, 17 hotels.

What that reporter discovered was that the big hotel in town, a four-story program a business that is adding another story to his structure. Six other hotels are operating in Shelby and all seem to be doing capacity business.

The reporter seems to have discovered business booming in one or another of the shops that surround a dance hall built for purposes of entertaining the fight crowd of 1923. Such unbecoming action on the part of pigeons perhaps created in his mind the thought that the town was a ghost town.

Shelby is whizzing along and zipping along faster than any town in the Pacific Northwest. True, the froth and the frolic and the carnival sound of July, 1923, has since gone. Main street no longer is jammed with tourists. For Shelby has settled down into a quiet, serious little city which in two years has made progress in every way beyond that of any other small prairie town.

Many geologists insist that the Shelby district is likely to become a marvelous oil producing center. Up to this time the drilling has been only for shallow depth oil, ranging down from 200 to 300 feet. In most oil countries oil rarely is struck before 3000 feet. Yet the entire Shelby neighborhood is spotted with wells that are producing quantities of oil from shallow sand.

Only a short time ago one of the oil companies operating in the neighborhood of Shelby brought in its tenth well which is averaging about 2500 barrels daily. Last week another well was struck that looks as if it will top the other. Within six or seven weeks something like 17 wells have been brought in.

The O'Neil boys, John and Jack, established a refinery in the Shelby district about ten months ago. He says it had been in operation a month—it was found to be unprofitable. The refinery is operating 24 hours a day, and cannot handle all the business demanded of it.

DRINK WATER TO HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers You, Begin Taking Salts

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and don't load your stomach with a lot of drugs that irritate the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean and keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which helps to remove the body's urino-genous material stimulates them to their normal activity.

Drink lots of good water you can't drink too much; also get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before or after each meal. You may then get hot. This famous salt is made from the highest quality and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot irritate; makes a delightful, effervescent drink; water drink, which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and so they may also help up the water drink, and no doubt you will wonder what because of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Work has just been started on a $150,000 brick building garage. In face of all these facts why are being built all through the district and the oil boom in northern Montana grows greater with each week now.

Properties, products and oil men from all parts of the world are drifting into Montana, and are making Shelby their headquarters. New business houses are coming into existence. The Shelby district is in the process of reconstruction now. New pipe lines are being built all through the district and the oil boom in northern Montana grows greater with each week now.

The writer of that article, John Johnson in a letter, "included in it an interview with me. I never saw him while he was in Shelby this spring but the simple reason that I was out of town at the time he probably figured he had to include the fake interview to make his statements.

Shelby is not taking on anything fancy from anyone. All that it wishes is fair and honest treatment. And no newspaper writer who is so bold and honorable can come to Shelby now and write anything other than that Shelby is progressing in many directions, that it is one of the most prosperous cities in the north west and that is no longer a moon town but established on a growing "city with a wonderful future."

THE SPORTS OF A DAY

ATHLETES' TRIP SEEMS ASSURED

Few Dollars Needed to Complete Fund to Send Alvord and Timm to National Meet.

As a result of a luncheon Wednesday to raise sufficient funds for the athletic trip of Ed Alvord and Tom Timm to the national track meet at Chicago, Ill., last Sunday evening, it was estimated that the Twin Falls athletes' fund is about $100.00. Alvord, high point man in the Utah Idaho interstate meet, and Tom Timm, high point man in the national track meet at Chicago, Comparative small amount remains to be raised today, it was stated. In support of the undertaking it is expected that the support will come from the athletic club members in which a much greater number participate than in the local track and field club. It will be given public publicity in Twin Falls.

"By all means get these boys to Chicago," was the advice of Coach Homer Christensen, as he is returning to Salt Lake after the interstate meet here last Friday.

"Roger would be glad to have three two fellows at Princeton," said Coach Hutchinson, Princeton, who is coach for the Idaho Technical Institute. "Don't fail to send them to Chicago."

Ed M. Swerday, Michigan '22, said Wednesday, "Such chances for getting Twin Falls and Idaho on the map don't happen twice in a lifetime."

Comparative Figures. A comparison shows that Alvord's record of 25.2 at the low hurdles equals the high school record made at Chicago last year and better the old state record at 26. The high school record at 25.5 and the Rocky mountain college record at 25.6. Alvord's record at the high hurdles, 1:14.4, took 10 seconds off the old state record. Both state records were made by Mitchell at Parma, in 1924.

Timm's record of 9.9 for the 100 yard dash is the best record in the intercollegiate meet at Chicago last year, and the old state record of 10 seconds flat hung up by Hugh and Roy Logan of Rupert. Timm's record of 21.7 for the 220 yards also is better than the 22.6 record of the intercollegiate meet at Chicago last year, and the old state record of 22.5 set by Joe of Hurley in 1922.

Fast in Idaho. All of Alvord's and Timm's time has been made on dirt tracks and it is a known fact that a cinder track is faster than a dirt track. These two boys are the best in the state of Idaho in the high hurdles, low hurdles, the broad jump, the hundred yard dash and the 220 yard dash. Alvord was caught by three watches in the 220 on a cinder track. This is in spite of the fact that he had not trained in the event except in the relay. He holds the new state record in the 220 hurdles, 3 seconds faster than the record made last year by Mitchell at Parma. Twenty-five points garnered in competition against Nott and Ritter of West high, both of whom are being sent to the Chicago meet, or five first places out of six starts, is Alvord's record in the meet last Friday.

Nott and Ritter placed first and second at the Utah state meet just been invading our territory.

Preserving Book Bindings. The latest of the new series that the application of a thin coating of egg albumen to the leather binding of the books will prevent decay. The use of ammonia for diluting and preserving the solution, and the fact that the whites, after a thorough beating, may be made antiseptic by the addition of a small quantity of camphor, turned on some essential oils. Vaseline is also satisfactory in some cases as preservative for leather book binding.
