Indications of Return to Normal June Weather Over U. S. Seen in Cooler Temperatures; 500 Dead From Heat.

CHICAGO, June 8.—(C) Conscience stricken and contrite for a ten-day streak which snuffed out before him the lives of many weather men gave himself over today to a succession of public communications indicative of a quick return to a normal June mood.

Thunderstorms and squalls accompanied by heavy rain and hail, came down in temperature through the region east of the Rocky mountains and tonight's forecast held out the promise of at least two days of more agreeable weather.

Death Toll High

The death toll of the ten-day spell of intense heat, winds and rain, added the five hundred mark tonight with Philadelphia and New York the heaviest sufferers. Official records the quaker city placed the heat toll at 134 lives.

Highland, which swept through the business section of Chicago, with the force of an October gale resulted in the injury of several persons by broken glass and falling objects. High winds were recorded generally throughout the upper lake and metropolitan areas and the northern half of the Atlantic seaboard was cooled by a saving ocean breeze. Iowa and the Dakota and precipitation accompanied high winds.

Western Temperatures

Moderate temperatures will prevail generally in the western states Wednesday, the Chicago weather bureau forecasts.

Heavy frosts occurred Sunday night in portions of Wyoming, late reports to the bureau said.

A disturbance of considerable intensity centered Monday over the northern Mississippi valley states, is headed westward and northwestward to the Pacific ocean, carrying general showers and thunderstorms.

INTER-ALLIED CONTROL COMMISSION REPORTS

PARIS, June 8.—(C) The report of the inter-allied military control commission, which formed the basis of the official note to Germany regarding the armament, was made public this afternoon, the annex which contain the details of violations of the treaty of Versailles by the German government however, were not published.

The commission, in compiling the various measures of abstraction to which the Germans resorted to prevent effective control regarding the armament, concluded with the statement that the evidence collected, despite the obstruction, shows that Germany is far from having fulfilled the treaty of Versailles.

The document tells how German officials held themselves to be the sole judges of what evidence the commission ought to be permitted to have and how the keys of offices were lost and found only after documents or other evidence was outside the window.

Court Divided Upon Free Speech Issue In Well Known Case

Decision of Trial Court Upheld With Two Justices Dissenting; Constitutional Rights Main Feature.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(C) The supreme court today promulgated the new set of regulations made necessary by the decision in the case of Whitney v. California, a case of congress to give it greater discretionary latitude in determining what will be considered to be a substantial and considerable reduction in its burden.

Justice Taft also gave notice that, when the court assembled for its next term October 5, the original dissent, which called for a complete ban on the states, would be called with a view to eliminating all cases which are not preceded with reasonable diligence.

The case affected have been decided by the court, but at the request of states it has held them on the docket to retain jurisdiction so as to enforce its decrees. Most of these were intended to abate nuisances, including those to prevent the pollution of the waters of New York harbor.

One of the most drastic changes in the court's new rules which take effect July 1 and render obsolete those from its force, amend the regulations governing admission to practice before the court. Justice Van devanter, speaking for the court, to explain the rules said that despite commendable cooperation on the part of members of the bar, the court had found that the admission possessed the necessary qualifications, it has been found that men under sentence and others who were in their home states had been admitted to membership.

New York Actor Is Believed to Have Lost Mind in Heat

Hot Weather Thought by Police to Have Caused Mysterious Disappearance of Man.

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—(C) Working on the theory that he has temporarily lost his memory because of the oppressive heat, police tonight were still searching for Leo Marx, New York actor, one of the four Marx brothers, who mysteriously disappeared Saturday night. Marx left his dressing room in a hotel theater just before the final curtain Saturday night, saying he was going outside to get some air as he did not feel well. He has not been heard of since.

Marx, it became known today, went from the theater to a nearby leather goods store and purchased a bag, leaving a $20 bill. When the proprietor could not change it, the purchaser told him who he was and took the bag, saying he would get the bill changed and pay for it later.

FIVE BODIES IN

TWELVE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Men on Work Cars in Indiana Crushed to Death Under Coal When Engine Is Derailed.

PERU, Ind., June 8.—(C) Seven white men and five negroes, employees of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, were killed at Converse, Ind., near here today when two coal cars were overturned on a party of 30 maintenance of way workers. Five others were seriously hurt, an official casualty list made public by the railroad tonight showed.

The men were buried under the tender of the locomotive and nearly 100 tons of coal and several hours were necessary to extricate the bodies from the wreckage. It was first feared that 18 men had been killed because of the scene and the injured men were seriously hurt.

It had been slightly injured in addition to those killed and seriously hurt. Four of the dead were taken to a morgue at Marion and the remainder brought here while the seriously injured were taken to the hospital at Wabash, Ind., where it was said two were probably fatally hurt.

E. T. Smith of Peru, conductor of the freight train, was mortally injured by the wreck and although he was in a serious condition, it was said he would recover.

WEEKS IMPROVING STRAIGHTLY

BOSTON, June 8.—(C) The condition of Secretary of War John W. Weeks, operated upon here recently for a hernia, was today reported as entirely satisfactory by his physician today.

"Secretary Weeks had a very good day," read a bulletin issued at the hospital, "and his condition is entirely satisfactory."

GREAT BRITAIN JOINS FRANCE IN NEW TREATY

Revival of Wilson Tripartite Plan Seen in Mutual Guarantees Against German Aggression.

GENEVA, June 8.—(C) Great Britain and France reached complete accord tonight on the problem of European security, and if Germany, to whom the accord will mean he must agree to the conditions, a four-power pact will come into being he would get the full backing of the Rhine frontiers as delimited by the Versailles treaty.

The pact will include Great Britain, France, Belgium and Germany. Italy is not included, although the text will be communicated to her for reasons of courtesy, and Poland and Czechoslovakia are not directly affected though they will benefit by the operation of France's alliance with them.

The pact is the result of negotiations which will be the dispatch by France to Germany, also in behalf of Great Britain and Belgium, of a letter replying to Germany's offer to negotiate a pact of guarantee for the German frontiers bordering on France and Belgium.

There are some indications of disappointment in Polish and Czechoslovakian circles that their countries do not explicitly enter the domain of the proposed pact.

Will Support France

It is understood that Great Britain agrees to come to the support of France with her entire military, naval and air force in case France is attacked or in case of any aggression against the Rhine frontier. This constitutes an elaboration of an obligation already contained in the Versailles treaty whereby the allies agree to regard as a hostile act any infringement of the demilitarized zone between France and Germany.

Great Britain gives rebirth to the old Wilson tripartite pact on the ground that her international relations demand peace in western Europe. She declares to commit herself to guarantee concerning Germany's eastern frontiers because she realizes that the British dominions will not approve of such a commitment.

The allies exclusion from the pact is due to the fact that it is based on the Rhine frontier, and Italy is free to make a separate agreement with Austria and Germany.

The conclusion of the Rhine frontier pact is conditional on Germany's entering the pact, and this agreement will be like the others will be made with the league covenant and operate under it.

"If the publication of this document had been left as an attempt to hinder the defendant's government of one and not at some indefinite time in the future," the dissenting justices declared, "it would have presented a different question. HOISE, June 8 (AP)—Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, annexed the ninth corps area polo championship for army teams, when it defeated the National team, 4 to 1, in a polo match.

contest here this afternoon. For Russell has completed its part of the schedule, with a perfect record. Tuesday afternoon, Boise and the President Nip, Brandon will meet and the game promises to be close.

Port Russell had little trouble with the guardsmen, and only the slackened pace of the champions prevented the score from being much larger. The national guard outfit made its only score in the first chukker—the first goal of the game. Lieutenant Cannon of Fort Russell was outstanding in the contest, with clean hitting and ready playing.
