IN TENNESSEE

Evolution Case Against Educator Opens at Dayton; 12 Men Are Named to Hear Evidence; Trial Moves Swiftly.

(UPI, 27a, Associated Press)
DAYTON, Tenn., July 10.—The 12 men who will try John Thomas Scopes on a charge of violating the Tennessee law prohibiting the teaching of theories of evolution in the public schools of the state were chosen today.

The first day of the trial moved quickly, bringing into the open the question of the first legal battle to be fought strenuously in question of admission of scientific testimony in regard to evolution.

Awake Accepted.

Twelve of the prospective jurors examined were accepted with but few questions from the state. The defense appealed to the jury with questions to establish his right to a trial of his three temporary challenges. One objection was made by the state, the court ruled four possible jurors incompetent and one was excused on account of his age.

No session will be held tomorrow, the defense requesting a day to consider the points it desires to stress in the construction that scientists' theories do not show that the theory of evolution is the only theory creationism and in the little said in effect. The motion will be argued before Judge John H. Hanleyton, presiding Monday.

Time of Court.

Judge Hanleyton announced today that court would open at 9 o'clock, continue to a recess at 11:30 o'clock, resume again at 1:30 to close at 4:30 o'clock.

The first move today was to name a grand jury and present a new bill against Scopes, the present indictment being considered of doubtful legality because of an oversight in charging him with failing to "grand jury and the actual meeting of that body."

Attorney General A. T. Stewart presented a new bill and the defendant was remanded almost the identical language used in the first document.

Swampscott First Issue.

Chairman of counsel for the defense showed the first issue at hand, which said that the defense considered scientists competent witnesses to testify to explain what evolution is.

Attorney General Stewart disagreed.

Humor and Pathos
Mix At Dayton in Evolution Hearing

Mountaineers and Townsmen by Hundreds Pack Little Tennessee City to Hear Case Against Educator.

DAYTON, Tenn., July 10.—Grief and pathos overflowed here today when counsel gathered from sixteen states joined with Tennessee lawyers to launch the trial of J. T. Scopes, widely heralded as one of the most portentous legal battles of the century.

Informally was the rule, gravity the keynote in the little county courthouse where the seating of the state's attorneys, members of an audience packed with spectators, and mountaineers and townsmen of eastern Tennessee came in hundreds to pack the auditorium. Like a guard between them and the court ranged the representatives of "the nation," one hundred and fifty men and women.

Principals in Drama.

Within the trial arena was the principal in the drama. Hero was Dr. Andrew D. White, president of Cornell University, and there was, Bantam on the judicial pedestal. Others surrounded them and the quiet Scopes himself, while these three were the target for the crowd's attention today.

Twice the sweating, mopping, fanning throng burst into applause. They cheered the entry of Bryan and shouted even more wildly when a venturous man stepped forward and declared, "Of course he believed in the Bible."

Dozens of all the attorneys did the most talking today. To the court and to the juries he talked quietly and intoningly and at intervals recovered himself when he escaped with approximately $4000.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 10 (UPI)—

With the appointment today of Edgar Brossard as a member of the tariff commission, which of late has been divided over the question of policy, President Coolidge fills the last vacancy and sees assured of an organization in sympathy with his views.

BANDITS GET BIG HAUL FROM BANK

San Francisco Depository Announces Robbery of Yuba County Branch of $4,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10 (UPI)—

The Bank of Italy announced here today that two bandits entered its branch in Wheatland, Yuba County, and carried off $4,000 and jewels. Mrs. Williams, manager, and Helen Walzter, stenographer, and escaped in an automobile with approximately $4000.

The bandits, one a tall and the other a short man, both masked and armed, struck the two bank employes inside the building—both left the place. The victim managed to release the gas, however, and made their flight known to a customer who entered the bank. The customer telephoned to the Bank of Italy branch in Marysville, while sent out to the police.

In their flight the bandits stopped one of the coaches, and then recovered. However, they escaped with approximately $4000.

A sheriff's posse went in pursuit of the fleeing bandits at a farm house ten miles out of Wheatland, were reported only 10 minutes before the posse had headed for Grimes Valley.

BOARD RECEIVES FORD'S RID FOR 200 U. S. SHIPS

Offer-of-Auto-Manufacturer for Vessels Held by Shipping Interest in Hands of Chairmen; Details Not Public.

(UPI, 27a, Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 10.—The shipping board received from Henry Ford today a bid for the 200 vessels offered for sale for scrapping, the tender being handled by Chairman O'Connor by W. R. Mayo, chief engineer for the manufacturer.

The proposal was the first received since the board rejected the recommendation of President Palmer of the Fleet corporation for acceptance of the $1,750,000 bid of the Boston Iron and Metal company of Baltimore.

Details Not Public.

While details of the bid had not yet made public, Chairman O'Connor said it was "way over" that of the Fleet corporation, and that conditions pertaining to engine, hull and other equipment of the ships only in junk, unless the bidder decides to use the equipment.

It was Chairman O'Connor who, on his own initiative, took up with Mr. Ford the question of buying the 200 ships. The two men were interviewed, and a bid was finally accepted from him. No such bid was found, however, although the manufacturer announced in Detroit that an offer had been mailed prior to June 30.

Unsealed Envelope.

The bid received today, Mr. O'Connor related, was given to him in an unsealed envelope.

President Palmer, who is responsible for all ship sales regulations—subject to the board's approval, said he did not know what the bid contained and that it would not be until July 16, when the new naval regulations are to be enacted.

Mr. O'Connor asserted that he wanted the government to realize all the money possible from the ships and that this would be the governing motive on his final vote on any measure that may be proposed to prevent re-submission.

From Salt Lake the committee will go into Montana, then to Washington and Oregon, and back into Idaho. Two hearings in Idaho are assured.

WILL DISSOLVE GRAIN COMPANY

Affairs of $26,000,000 Merger
Will Be Strangled Out Immediately, Official Says.

CHICAGO, July 10 (AP)—Affairs of the $26,000,000 grain marketing company, the largest farmer-producer cooperative ever formed, will be strangled out immediately, an official said.

At Upper Salmon Falls was heard, in district court here Friday by Judge W. A. Babcock who received argument in the case—and granted to counsel for the power company and for the cooperative 10 days in which to file briefs.

Assessment of $20,100, according to

Claud Stewart, county assessor, placed on the power company's interest at Upper Salmon falls, the as-essment covering "hydraulic power works and miscellaneous equipment,"

which the assessor stated, had been reduced by the county commissioners

from the original assessment being made by the cooperative until today.

Yesterday the Amour Grain company and the Amour Grain Cooperative, two of the four old line companies that merged in the cooperative venture, were admitted to receiving training on the Chico Board of Trade, and the Amour Grains

was handling some of the business formerly handled by the cooperative.

Gray Silver, president of the cooperative, telegraphed to officials of the company, with

"Recent developments make it necessary that liquidation of the cooperative be effected as soon as possible. An announcement to that effect will appear in papers tomorrow. Please avoid contradictory interviews. We are well advised that that will not prevent arrangement being made to handle the grain this season

for those wishing to do so along the lines of the Amour Grains.

The statement that the cooperative might still continue to function in a rotated way, was taken to be some

mean that might try to re-instate

the old line companies. Much less capital, or that the memberships

of Mr. Silver and John W. Coverdale,

members of the cooperative on the Chico

board of trade, might be utilized

in dealing with the cooperative venture.

Mr. Silver's statement said that all members will be taken care of in a regular manner and that all payments

on class A or, examine stock, will be made in full.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held next Monday when plans will be drawn up for the dispersion of funds obtained from the sale of stock to farmers.

MANSEN HURTS HURTS IN AUTO MISHAPS

As a result of an automobile collision Friday evening on the state highway at the northwest corner of Hansen, John H. Hiltunen of Hansen suffered a slight cut on the hand and face and was brought here for medical attention.

The statement that the cooperative might still continue to function in a rotated way, was taken to be some mean that might try to re-instate the old line companies. Much less capital, or that the memberships of Mr. Silver and John W. Coverdale, members of the cooperative on the Chico board of trade, might be utilized in dealing with the cooperative venture.

Mr. Silver's statement said that all members will be taken care of in a regular manner and that all payments on class A or, examine stock, will be made in full.

A meeting of the board of directors will be held next Monday when plans will be drawn up for the dispersion of funds obtained from the sale of stock to farmers.

SHEEP SHIPPED OVER NEW ROAD

Oregon Short Line Accepts First Carlot of Livestock to Move Between Rogerson and Contact.

A carload of sheep loaded Thursday at San Joaquin ranch, 30 miles south of Twin Falls, were shipped to the Oregon Short Line Rogerson Ranch, according to an announcement Friday by D. E. Sullivan, Oregon Short Line agent here. The shipment was accepted by the rail road company under provisions of a transportation tariff made effective Aug. 1 to handle carlot shipments originating between Rogerson and Contact.

This portion of the road according to recent statement by H. V. Platt, Oregon Short Line general manager, has been reasonably surfaced and put in shape for carlot haulage in most sections, except some rocky points. Shipments under this tariff are to be handled at the convenience of the construction department and by its construction trains.
