Business Outlook Summary Is Given by Statistician

Roger W. Babson in Annual Survey at Conference of Conditions Now Existing Over United States.

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 25. (Special to The News.)—This week Roger W. Babson gave his annual survey of business at the Twelfth Annual Business Conference. He specially prepared for our readers a summary from the same which is as follows:

"During the past year the trade picture following the war inflation has been going on in a natural fashion. The high-water mark was reached in the latter part of 1923 and continued through 1924. In 1925 the period of deflation started in mid-year with the cessation of some inflation in 1924 has continued through 1925. 1925 shows improvement.

"Most economists are agreed that the election of Hoover in November of 1924 marked the ending of the inflation period, and since then we have been making continued improvement. Of course this improvement has not been evident in all parts of industry or in all sections of the country, but taking an average of everything, we find a distinct improvement in progress at the present time. Taking the leading characters of business and comparing the first months of 1925 with the corresponding eight months of 1924 we find an increase of over 12 per cent in bank clearings; an increase of 10 per cent in the iron production; an increase of 24 per cent in iron expenditures; an increase of 12 per cent in the building; an increase of 6 per cent in freight car loadings; an increase of 10 per cent in commodity prices; an increase of 27 per cent in new capital raised; and a decrease in failures.

"Surely this is a remarkable record and about completely ends the pessimism of pessimists who are howling about business conditions at the present time.

"In 1925 the good old days, when people were able to get something for nothing, are over. It is true that difficult sections of the world keep calling for few exports, but the demand for cotton and wool is a disappointment. There is also another agricultural section which, when contrasted with a year ago, may be due to the drought; namely, a strip starting in the north from Minnesota running down through the Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma. The weather of these states crop values will be poor compared with last year and retail trade will correspondingly suffer. On the other hand, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Arkansas may have one of the best crop situations in their history; while the Pacific Northwest should prosper extensively. Most of the central states since about 1922 have not prospered last year, and the entire country should show an improvement.

"Although money may be a little tight during the next few months, there should be sufficient funds for all legitimate enterprises. This means that there should still be a good market for bonds. Most stocks, however, seem pretty high and I expect to see lower prices. It is also possible that there may be more labor difficulties during the next twelve months, but this cannot be forecast with certainty. We hope, however, that both wage workers and employers will be wise enough to see that a suspension of work is detrimental to both concerned and will mutually reduce the income of both.

Conditions Becoming Stabilized.

"A study of the situation suggests that we are reaching a period where there will not be the violent swings and depressions that we have had in the past forty years. Of course if something unforeseen, like the great war, happens, these violent fluctuations will take place; but otherwise we should keep more normal. There are various reasons for this. The first is that the federal reserve board has the financial situation well in hand, and it has set out to study the road and not let it slip too much one side or the other. The second reason is that property areas are made up of two factors, manufacturing and the product of price and production. Economists seem to have agreed that during the next few years as production increases the price will decrease, and the price will decrease, and this is naturally a healthy sign.

"The third reason being which will take place; but otherwise we should keep more normal. There are various reasons for this. The first is that the federal reserve board has the financial situation well in hand, and it has set out to study the road and not let it slip too much one side or the other. The second reason is that property areas are made up of two factors, manufacturing and the product of price and production. Economists seem to have agreed that during the next few years as production increases the price will decrease, and the price will decrease, and this is naturally a healthy sign.

Fears Death

MRS. G. E. SHEEHAN

FEARING DEATH from three armed men who prowled around her home, Mrs. G. E. Sheehan, Boston election commissioner, and the first woman in the country to hold that office, asked police protection to stabilize conditions. This is because long-toothed buying means the change of overproduction, business here takes on an order look. Although I do not approve of the growth of the installment business, yet this also may have the tendency of spreading purchasing over a long period and thus tend to the peace and quietness of the sales curve of many manufacturers and merchants. The spirit of cooperation between manufacturer and merchant, the development of the chain store, and many similar factors are all tending to make business less speculative and more stable. A spirit of this kind is the best developing, and this is distinctly a healthy sign.

"Added to all this is the fact that business men are becoming interested in the development of the installment business, manufacturer and merchandise to some extent. The service that the merchant and labor for every dollar received.

"The general improvement in business is well shown by the Babson survey which registered 75 per cent better normal a year ago than last year and the low point of this year in May.

"These figures compare with 41 per cent above normal at the present time."

THE VANITY SHOP

Rogerson Hotel Bldg.

This season sees many changes in Ladies Ready-to-Wear: skirt fullness, flares and rising lines in front and waistline give the silhouette a new line. Coat collars are in choker or shawl styles, nearly always fur. Many straight sleeves are seen, some wide, some narrow, finished with fur banding. Godets of fur are very popular on coats. Fine fabrics and suede finished cloths vie with each other in popularity. Light weight woolsens for dresses continue to interest milady, while plain and broadcated silks feature the new fall dresses.

THE SPORTS OF A DAY

PRACTICE GAME FOR FOOTBALLS NOT AVAILABLE

Coaches Plastino and Jones Unable to Line Up Scrimmage for School Football Squad Friday Evening.

Plastino and Jones have exhausted every effort to secure a practice game for Friday, but have been unable to get the boys out on the field before the season is over. The first string is changed many times a night so the coaches are at their wits' end to get a scrimmage on the first team. The coach is despondent about this year's season, and although they are pretty tough and they are being every minute of the time on the field. Whether a scrimmage that takes place on Friday night and although they are pretty tough and they are being every minute of the time on the field. During the first eight months of this year proceeds for sale of eggs amounted to $11,000. Twelve cartons of eggs were marketed during May, 1925, as compared with seven cartons during the corresponding month of last year.

LONG TRIAL EXPECTED IN EMBEZZLEMENT CASE

Trial that is expected to occupy a week or ten days, will open in district court here today, when, according to arrangements on Thursday, Jay J. Lockie will be called to answer to charge of embezzlement of nearly $15,000 from the Boise-Pace company during the two years he was employed here as bookkeeper for the company. Lockie has been at liberty under bond since preliminary hearing in the probate court. The case for the defense will be conducted by Frank L. Mehan, former prosecuting attorney, and C. E. North, Shad H. Hodge has been retained as counsel to assist prosecuting attorney J. W. Taylor in the prosecution of the state's case.

TWIN-FALLS-MEN-BRING MANY EWES FROM NEVADA

Twenty-two thousand ewes will be brought to Idaho from Nevada and Rifle ranch of 2500 acres near Charleston, Nevada, one of the oldest sheep ranches of that state, which has been purchased by Joseph Keefe and A. J. Keefe of Twin Falls. Ten thousand of the animals are to be delivered to purchasers among Idaho wool growers, and 12,000 are to be brought for the "winter" pasture lands in this state. The ewes range in age from one to three years. In the event of the sale, the price to be received net, including tax, it is expected that the 12,000 ewes will be placed on grazing lands in this state next spring.

BLOWOUT CAUSE OF AUTO WRECK

Car Leaves Road Near Castleford and Plunges Through Two Fences.

WHI, Sept. 24.—(Special to The News).—As a result of a blowout of a tire on the right front wheel, a Chevrolet touring car in which Herbert Mason, 23, and a young woman companion were riding at about 7 o'clock this evening, left the road north of Castleford and plunged through two fences over a distance of about 50 yards into a pasture, injuring the young man through the windshield and his companion through the top of the car and inflicting severe wounds about the head and face of each. The car was badly damaged, radiator, lights, windshield and top being mangled or torn and two doors being ripped off. Six stitches were required to close a wound in the scalp of the young man, while a similar wound in the scalp of the young woman required three stitches. They were taken to their homes after their wounds had been dressed at a doctor's office. Mason, whose home is in California, has been employed during the summer on a farm near here.

APPLE HARVEST GETS UNDER WAY

Crop Condition Generally Good Throughout State During the Past Week.

Report of a week's progress in numerous harvesting of Idaho's apple is set forth in a weekly summary of weather and crop conditions in Idaho for the week ending last Tuesday. Issued by the United States weather bureau office in Boise. The summary includes the following report from Twin Falls: A cool week; frequent showers the last part stopped; bean threshing also busy starting; beans about all harvested; fields that were irrigated yielded well; few picking apples but mostly a little ton green yet; light frost on 17th and 18th, no damage reported. In southern Idaho, some of the summer, cool weather with considerable showers prevailed throughout the week, affected the weather of the week, light to heavy frosts were reported from many sections but no serious damage resulted. Threshing is practically completed, but haying and other farm activities were retarded by the wet weather. Late field and orchard crops are making steady growth, and grapes, plums and other apples are being marketed in quantity. Bean harvest and threshing continue with heavy yields reported. The desert range is exceptionally good and stock continue in excellent condition.

COOL IN SOUTHWEST

In southern Idaho, cool weather prevailed during the week with general rains which were quite heavy in some localities. The rains delayed haying, threshing and other outside work. Potato digging continues in the south and north in northern sections. Beets continue to make good growth. Apples are doing very well, langes and pastures are in excellent condition and livestock is thriving. Cloudy weather with occasional showers prevailed throughout the week in north Idaho. Head lettuce crop making good condition and cauliflower still working on heavy run of tomatoes. Apple picking is commencing on the later varieties. Pasture and range are improving and livestock is doing well.

TEST FOR FOREST RANGER

BOISE, Sept. 24.—Announcement has been received that a civil service examination for forest ranger will be held here next week. The examination will close October 31. Application blanks may be secured from the local rangers or the forest supervisor.
