Pittsburgh Prepares for First World Series Games After Sixteen Years Wait

Fandom Stirs Itself to Feverish Pitch of Excitement Over Coming Contests; Champions Arrive for Battle.

(By the Associated Press.)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 6.—Back in the "dark ages" after 16 years Pittsburgh's sports stirred today to a feverish pitch of excitement as the Pirates, National League champions, prepared to meet the invasion of Washington in the first world's series game Wednesday.

The threatening confidence of this Pirate's den, however, seemed to hold no terrors for Buckey Harris and his staff of Senators. They arrived shortly after 6 o'clock tonight and went to their quarters in a cheerful manner, as usual in the first world's series game.

The threatening confidence of this Pirate's den, however, seemed to hold no terrors for Buckey Harris and his staff of Senators. They arrived shortly after 6 o'clock tonight and went to their quarters in a cheerful manner, as usual in the first world's series game.

While Harris and his men are confident they will successfully defend their championship against the ever-oldest of the Senators does not underestimate his rivals.

"That was out against exhibition during the season," said McKechnie, "and I don't know what start against the Senators."

There is no doubt the Pirates are keyed up a big pitch as a new experience and a new test against for nearly all of them. It is as even with the ordinarily mild mannered McKechnie, who showed the nervous strain of his responsibilities as he snapped out his practice orders.

It is a typical hold hand of business as the whole, that carries the golden jubilee year's banner of the National League into action, but in a quiet way in the minds of many observers whether this confidence also will be tempered with the element of steadiness so essential to gaining the baseball heights.

The contrast here between the first young Pirates and their older, more seasoned rivals is the basis for much of the hopes of Washington followers.

WHEAT VALUES GAIN SHARPLY

Winter Weather is Impeding Threshers in Canada, Say Reports; Grains Advance.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—What values went sharply upward today, strengthened by reports that winter weather is impeding threshers in Canada, and that indications pointed to rain or snow and much colder weather in the Dakotas. The wheat market closed firm, 15c@16c net higher, and new, December 31.00@31.10, and May, 29.00@29.10, both up 1/2c. The market also showed a 1/2c gain in the millers' and 1/2c gain in the flour market, with quotations varying from 40c to 70c.

The price of wheat with about the test of winter wheat in the shape of announcements that the United States visible supply total had been enlarged 1,500,000 bushels since it was last reported. In this connection there also was a warning that Minneapolis mills are having enough orders to keep the mills running for some time. Some parties were therefore of the opinion that the continental demand for wheat of larger volume than expected, that the movement of wheat to Russian ports is slow, and that the Russian crop has been overestimated. Owing to prediction of an early movement of the new crop, some traders were also of the opinion that the Russian crop has been overestimated. Owing to prediction of an early movement of the new crop, some traders were also of the opinion that the Russian crop has been overestimated.

STATE DECLARES HE TOOK TRIP IN HIS AFFIDAVIT

Filer Man, on Trial for Perjury, Testifies in Own Defense; Denies Purpose Was to Help Son Get New Trial.

Twin Falls—District Judge Monday in his own behalf, Stephen Pate, filer, on trial on charge of perjury, insisted that he had taken the trip in his affidavit to the effect that he had seen Sheriff J. D. Jones, deputy sheriff, in conversation with members of the jury during the time that the jury had under consideration its verdict in the case of his son, Paul Pate, who was last March found guilty of burglary of the Golden Bell store here.

Pate's affidavit was submitted to the court in support of a motion for a new trial for Paul Pate by his attorney, who also is conducting the defense of Stephen Pate on the perjury charge. Similar affidavits were executed and signed by Mrs. Manly Pate, who is the mother of Paul Pate, and by Stephen Pate, who also is facing trial on perjury charges.

Stephen Pate testified that he had seen the filer of the affidavit when he was in the city of Boise, Idaho, on the day that the jury was in session on the case of Paul Pate, and that he had seen the filer of the affidavit when he was in the city of Boise, Idaho, on the day that the jury was in session on the case of Paul Pate.

Seven witnesses were called to the stand for cross-examination by Attorney J. W. Taylor in presentation of the state's case against Pate after selection of the jury had been completed shortly before noon. State's witnesses included Ralph Pink, juror with whom the filer was alleged by Pate to have been in conversation; Deputy Sheriff Thomas Sheriff; Paul J. D. Gray and P. K. Hankinson, defense attorneys.

Both Pink and Jones denied having been in conversation at the time and under the circumstances alleged by Pate in his affidavit.

Don J. Henry, attorney and notary public, testified at the conclusion of the Pate affidavit, and C. C. Bigelow, clerk of court, testified as to court records in the case of Paul Pate.

Testimony of Stephen Pate was concluded and Claude V. Kelly, second witness for the defense, was called to testify as to having seen Sheriff Finch and Stephen Pate in conversation in the jail corridor some days after the return of the verdict in the Paul Pate case. Kelly testified that he was seeing the filer at the time the return of the verdict and that he had nothing of the alleged conversation.

Selection of the jury was quickly completed, each side exercising only one pre-emptory challenge. Members of the jury are D. T. Carrington, E. L. Green, George H. Weidener, John Meyers, George Hart, Albert Gillingham, A. C. Buckhalter, Lester Parker, H. E. Tipton, Frank Houston, Joseph Abild, J. E. Holberts.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

The members of group No. 1 of the Loyal Order of the Moose, celebrating its 25th anniversary, entertained a social on Saturday evening with a charming dinner at the home of Mrs. Mary K. Kottler, 1700 East on Maple avenue. The rooms were gay with the beautiful leaves of autumn and a profusion of the flowers of the season. About 30 were present and were seated at small tables attractively decorated. After dinner a program was given consisting of a clever dance by Violet Evans, who is leader of group No. 1, and Helen Parrott, a piano solo, Maurice Ballard; vocal solo, Agnes Harvey, and a reading by Phyllis Evans. The remainder of the evening was spent with games. The following members were guests: Misses Arlander, Miller, Pike, Barnes and Wall.

Mrs. W. H. Bright entertained a few close friends Monday afternoon complimentary to her home garden. Mrs. Fred C. Reed of Jerome, music and conversation served to pass the hours pleasantly and dainty refreshments were served.

The Highland View club will meet at the home of Mrs. Mary Kottler, Wednesday, October 7. Roll call to be answered with household hints.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell W. Hunt celebrated their wedding anniversary with a picnic party in the amusement park at the home of Mrs. Charles Holmes, who is hostess for the occasion. Five tables of players enjoyed the games, ladies' favor for high going to Mrs. Ralph Mosey, and to Mrs. Charles Casey, Charles Casey won the high score for the men and Miss Russell won. The follow were:
