

MORE OBSEQUIES AND OBSERVANCE OF LAW NEEDED

President Coolidge Addresses Annual Council of Congregational Churches at Washington.

(By the Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—More law observance and more religion are needed in this country, President Coolidge said in a address tonight.

The president said there was no form of education, government or religion which will not fail.

Ascertaining that, if the people are the government, "it will be what they are," he said.

Conscience Needed. "No amount of restraint, no amount of law can do that," he said.

COURT MARTIAL ORDERS ISSUED

President Coolidge Instructs Officers to Convene October 28 to Try Mitchell.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—What is believed to be the highest ranking court martial ever assembled for trial of a general is today convening in Washington.

On that date or as soon after as possible, Colonel William Mitchell, storm leader of the 1st Cavalry division, will be brought before the court on charges of insubordination.

May Be Dismissed. Under the provisions of this article, conviction would, in the discretion of the court, be punishable by dismissal from the army.

Long Disregardment. Mr. Davis' action today came as the culmination of several years of disregard between the general and his department officials and general staff officers.

While the war department withheld the general from the general staff, he was not allowed to be present at the publication tonight.

Under that charge it is unlikely that he will be allowed to introduce any discussion involving the Shenandoah disaster or the P-N-3.

Though not mentioned in these articles, all disorders and neglects to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

LEWIS THROWS CHALLENGE TO COAL OWNERS

Head of Mine Workers Union Defies Operators To Sue Him for Libel As Result of Statements

(By the Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, today challenged the anthracite operators to sue him for libel.

"Such a suit," Lewis said, "I would be highly interested to see the American public and the world illuminated with respect to their meager knowledge of the economic practices of the anthracite industry."

The challenge was the result of two recent speeches. One was by Lewis at the American Federation of Labor convention in Atlantic City, October 14, in which he said that the operators were extracting from the public by a tax to twenty millions annually to which they had no legal claim. He also said that since 1919 the anthracite industry had latched 12,000,000 of our people.

The other speech was a reply by Lewis to a challenge of the operators' conference at the Pennsylvania state chamber of commerce at Harrisburg, October 15, in which he characterized Mr. Lewis' works as "astounding," and so far removed from the truth as to approach libel and actual falsehood.

Mr. Lewis' challenge is contained in a letter to Mr. Wariner under the date of Oct. 15.

"According to past records you took umbrage at the statements contained in my address to the convention of the American Federation of Labor," Mr. Lewis said, "and notified that my works were 'so far removed from the truth as to approach libel and actual falsehood.' This is a serious charge from you as evidently intimated as a reply to the charge which I made that the anthracite operators were selling their coal at a price to the consuming public at domestic sale prices and were thereby profiting at the rate of millions of dollars per annum.

"I desire, sir, to assure that statement in this formal manner and to challenge the anthracite operators in its entire price-alike for libel. I consider that such an action would be an excellent manner for the anthracite owners to be enabled to determine the question of veracity of my statements."

Opportunity Wanted.

"Such a suit would enable me to present to the American public the testimony of the operators employed by the anthracite operators and to bring before the court for the first time the books, accounts and records of the anthracite companies, which would clearly reveal their amazing profits through the last few months past and the sale of their unrefined product."

"Among the several misstatements of fact which you made in your charge of embezzlement, I consider that there is but one more worthy of comment," Mr. Lewis wrote, "in reference to your statement that the anthracite leaders have violated their trust in the interests of the anthracite miners."

Responsible for Acts.

"The leaders of the anthracite miners are responsible to their men heretofore for the honor of their acts and by no stretch of the imagination can you be permitted to get yourself up as their model guide and philosopher."

Your accusations upon the platform at this late day as the spokesman of the anthracite operating interests, plainly reveals the inconsistency of their position before the public. What a pity it is that you did not design to enter the negotiating conference last July when you were invited to do so instead of talking in your tent far from the point where the industry is demonstrated and public opinion is formed and embarrassed has ensued."

NAVAL OFFICIALS PROBE DISASTER

Ramming of Submarine Off Atlantic Coast Resulting in Loss of Life Under Inquiry

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The investigating board assembled here to investigate the ramming of the submarine S-51 by the steamer City of Rome, Monday, Sept. 22, 1925, will meet October 26, when Captain John H. Dill, master of the steamer, and his officers will be called to testify.

Several witnesses, including the steamer's radio operator, have testified that Captain Dill's vessel struck the submarine before the latter was notified of the steamer's approach. The testimony showed that the busy day before the collision the submarine was being towed by the steamer S-51.

The last two points were brought out today from the steamer's radio log as produced by George W. Nichols, Boston manager of the Radio Corporation of America. Correspondent testimony was given by Harold H. Kelley, radio operator on the City of Rome, and Vernon E. Smith, radio operator on duty at the Boston yard at the time of the disaster.

MORE RELIGION AND LAW AMERICA'S NEED

...the clergy, the spirit of the great master. This way is outside the government. It is the government's duty to enforce the law.

The government can and is aiding in violation of some of the present day's religious and moral principles. The government can and is aiding in violation of some of the present day's religious and moral principles. The government can and is aiding in violation of some of the present day's religious and moral principles.

The executive explained that he was not referring to religion in "any denunciation of certain men and their moral sense," saying:

"While I regard the clergy as the greatest force for religious teachings that we have, I do not refer to them as a whole, but to certain individuals. I am convinced that the example of devoutness and morality—the result of a profitable and noble relation and above all, the influence of piety in the home—are all forces of enormous importance. While certain fanatics of the past may have lost the hold they once had, I do not see any diminution in the significance of these religious convictions of the people."

The very fact that amid all the political and materialistic of our present time we are still maintaining unimpaired the foundations of our institutions, constantly increasing the prestige with which the great business affairs of our country are conducted, is a tribute to the religious convictions of the people."

REBEKAS GIVE PLEDGE TO IDAHO INDUSTRIES

Pledge of support to Idaho industries was given by the Idaho Rebekas association, in session here, with the following resolutions:

Whereas, it is a sound economic principle to spend money in the community and in which it is made in support of home industries and enterprises; and

Whereas, the financial stability of our homes, our children, our schools, our colleges and all community enterprises depends upon the prosperity of our merchants and manufacturers;

Whereas, we believe that Idaho institutions and enterprises merit our support in preference to those of other states;

It is resolved, first, that we, the members of the Idaho Rebekas association in annual convention assembled at Twin Falls on October 19, 20 and 21, 1925, do hereby pledge ourselves to ask for and use Idaho products in our homes and communities as far as we possibly can;

Second, that we endorse the aims and objects of the Idaho Home Industries association in their efforts to build Idaho greater through the "Home Products" campaign, and the general "buy-Idaho" movement;

Third, that we agree to cooperate with the above organization in the observance of "Home Products" week the first week in November, 1925;

Fourth, that we carry this message back to our home communities, and give it the widest publicity possible through the newspapers of our home towns, and among our lodge members and citizens generally.

BRUINS PREPARE TO MEET NORMAL HERE FOR GAME

Twin Falls High School Football Team Getting Workouts for Another Try at Albion Teachers.

Platina sent his Brain Grinders through two tough workouts Monday and Tuesday nights in preparation for the Albion Normal aggregation which comes here Thursday for the first game. The Bruins are in top shape for the teachers, being handled by injuries nearly to black and blue backfield is the Bruins' weakest point. Potter was not in a suit Tuesday night and will not be able to play Thursday. Owens and Yare have damaged the maulobias again but will not be able to play against the teachers. Merz, a suffering from a twisted knee that will probably keep him on the bench part of the game. The second string backfield is looking weight-and-experience and these guys are hard to fill. Kistuck and Holbrook are being tried in practice, but are light and with no game experience. Hamilton is also showing considerable ability as a back and may have to be used against the teachers. The Bruins have developed a defense since they lost at Albion that will be hard to penetrate and the forward wall will present a tougher proposition than the normal students. The last week Albion did not play and was used at end in place of the regular two back practices and the long hair party of staff.

Hard Workout. The Tuesday night scrimmage was as hard a workout as the Brain Grinders has had this season. The second string put up a hard fought and exciting scrimmage period and succeeded in making the first string tired. The Bruins are in top shape for the teachers, being handled by injuries nearly to black and blue backfield is the Bruins' weakest point. Potter was not in a suit Tuesday night and will not be able to play Thursday. Owens and Yare have damaged the maulobias again but will not be able to play against the teachers. File Game Coming. The interest is centering about the coming file game to be played at Ellet next Friday. These two teams are both strong and both contenders for the title. It is fortunate that the Brain Grinders is scheduled for Thursday giving the fans an opportunity to see two good games in many days. One strong contender is going to be eliminated from the district title race and another is set up to be the probable winner of the Ellet-Anderson opponent.

It takes experienced players to do anything in this thrilling presentation of the adventures and daring exploits of the young express riders. America is a chapter filled with glorious romance, although human interest and unnumbered thrills, and above all, a delightful theme of honor. It is the honor of the picture, and Walter Bruce is the role of the hero. He has created a character so appealing and so consistently characteristic that his work is stamped as one of the outstanding achievements of motion picture art. The Idaho program for the four days ending Saturday includes, besides the great drama, a Monkey Comedy, "So This Is Art", and the latest International News reel.

It takes experienced players to do anything in this thrilling presentation of the adventures and daring exploits of the young express riders. America is a chapter filled with glorious romance, although human interest and unnumbered thrills, and above all, a delightful theme of honor. BOLTON FUNERAL HELD AT EUGENE, OREGON, BURIAL IN THAT CITY

The funeral of S. Henry Bolton, life insurance salesman of Eugene, who took his own life at his home Friday, will be held in the Grand Central Chapel at 10:30 a. m. Monday morning. Interment will be in the new I. O. O. F. cemetery with a minister from out of the city in charge of the service. Mr. Bolton hanged himself by a rope from the limb of one of the apple trees in the orchard near his home. Although he had been in ill health for some time his family had no indication of his intention prior to the time the deed was committed. He was 62 years old. He is survived by his widow and several children. From the Eugene Morning Register Sunday, October 19.

Dr. Foster, the foot specialist, out of the city for 30 days—adv.

WHEAT SCORES SHARP ADVANCE

December-Delivery Levels Price of Grain Upward on Chicago Exchange for Day.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (AP)—Wheat, by delivery the better, which has slipped in price today, but rose sharply before the final. Talk of something new in a December wheat when there was a report that there were reports which were denied here that wheat in Canada had been damaged by a fire in the north. The market closed at 1.16 1/2, with a rise of 1/2.

Throughout the day the attention of wheat traders centered largely on the scantiness of the present stock in Chicago and on rumors that the bulk of the wheat crop will be shipped out by Nov. 1. Whether a relative increase of domestic farm wheat will be made in December was much discussed. The fact that only a single carload of wheat arrived in Chicago today and that the stock of wheat in Minneapolis has decreased 10,000 bushels, were also mentioned. It is thought to emphasize the difficulty of the situation and to give a lift to wheat. Later in the day, however, the market advanced more or less of a downward trend in prices and was received that the weather in Canada had again become unfavorable for the crop. Then an all round advance in quotations came, with wheat in Chicago also to reports of a wheat crop in Argentina and to news of rain there which will be an aid to the crop. Besides this, the fact that the weekly total showed an increase of 1,000,000 bushels was also mentioned. It is thought that this was a factor in the subsequent rise.

It was depressed by somewhat a changed offering of old crop to arrive in a day by wheat adapted for carrying and the market advanced. The market was studied by knowledge that for the first time the stock of wheat in Chicago was less than at the corresponding period of 1924.

Traders averaged higher owing to good buying of October grain.
