EIGHT CHARGES MUST BE FACED BY AIR OFFICER

General Court Martial Ordered to Convene Wednesday to Try Colonel Mitchell for Bold Statements Made.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Colonel William Mitchell will face eight special charges in a court martial to be held at Fort Belknap, Montana, Saturday morning, the sixth article of war which is to be tried before the general court martial ordered to convene next Wednesday.

The charges all flow from public statements vigorously criticizing the army and navy service administration made shortly after the resignation of Colonel Mitchell were cited in official reports handed to him today by war department.

They assert, in effect, that Colonel Mitchell, through his assistant, Captain Mitchell, caused the two statements held by the judge-advocate general of the army to contain violations of the ninety-sixth article, made himself subject to trial by a general court martial on four counts.

Get First Four.

These are enumerated in the first four specifications handed him today. The first three allege conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline; the fourth to the prejudice of the honor and military discipline of the army and navy service administration with intent to discredit, defame, or otherwise reflect unfavorably on the name of the navy department. Specifications five to eight inclusive, repeat the allegations set forth in the first three counts, but they are founded upon the statement embracing upon that of September 5, made public by Colonel Mitchell on September 9.

Formal delivery of the charges to Colonel Mitchell must be completed within six weeks' investigation and legal study by the department official of the War and Navy departments.

First of which the Sheenahouls, loss was ascribed to criminal and almost treasonable conduct of the air services. They are other sayings which were made before the court martial is commenced. That is the formal arrest of the offending officers, which is being carried out. Mitchell's refusal to say anything in this connection, or in regard to the charges, is being charged. Railroads Want to Plan Consolidation Move Without Help

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The railroad desire continue to let them work out their own consolidation. This was the position formulated by the executive committee of the association of railway executives at a meeting here late today.

The conclusion of the committee was that consolidation concerning railroad consolidation is to be handled at the approaching session of congress it should provide, not for a permissive system subject to the approval of the interstate commerce commission.

For the first time in years the lords of transportation met without a broad conference, which resulted in the signing of the Illinois pact and other agreements, were secured today by Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania, who is trying to "irritate" President Coolidge and force the hand of the United States.

The Loranzo agreement had merely put into the form of a treaty the things which would have been done if there were no treaty, he said. It would really help to quiet the "forces of aggravated passion."

"It may be more than this and may actually prevent years in Europe under the current of self-interest change being entered as between the five nations. The reported refusal of the Belgian and Italian empires even to discuss the matter, which they believe an agreement suggested, that persons rather than good will is the force that leads them to contract. The rupture between Greece and Bulgaria is like an ominous cloud on the horizon.

GOVERNORS URGE STATE RIGHT TO TAX ON ESTATES

Retirement From the Field of Inheritance Taxation by the Government is Requested at House Hearing.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Retirement from the field of inheritance taxation by the federal government in favor of the states was asked today by the governors of six states and representatives of eleven other state executives before the house ways and means committee.

The federal estate tax—which is one of the main fighting points in the proposed revision of the revenue law—has been abolished today by the American Bankers association and the National committee on inheritance.

Defends Tax.

Representative Clegg, republican, Iowa, who prepared the increased rates adopted by congress last session, also defended this tax as a federal source of revenue in the all-day session conducted against it.

Various witnesses were outlined for the government's withdrawal from the field of taxation. The national committee on inheritance taxation proposed that the tax be retained for six years, but that the rates be modified so that the burden be shifted to the states.

Under questioning by democratic committee members, the six governors gave approval to the plan of Chairman Clegg to have the federal tax retained, with a credit of five per cent allowed for payments made to states. They favored this in the interest of forcing uniformity by states in their inheritance taxes and to prevent escape of the tax by persons residing in one of the two states now imposing no such tax—Florida and Alabama.

LEAGUE CALLED INTO ACTION TO SETTLE TROUBLE

Secretary General of Council Intervene in Conflict Between Two Nations.

(By the Associated Press.)

GENEVA, Oct. 23.—The league of nations went into action today to settle the conflict between Greece and Bulgaria. Secretary general of the league, exercising his right under the covenant, decided to convene a special session of the council at Paris Monday.

Approves Order.

Sir Eric got in touch with M. Briand, the French foreign minister, by telephone. M. Briand, as president of the council, approved the secretary general's decision and approved the league's intervention on Greece on French soil, instead of Geneva, as this was held subject to meet the earliest possible moment when the Greek and Bulgarian representatives could arrive to present their case.

M. Briand, meanwhile has sent telegrams to both the Bulgarian and Greek governments, emphasizing that if the league is to be able to do its duty it has not to have recourse to war and pointing out the "grave consequences" which would result from a violation of the covenant.

It is a warning that the countries in dispute risk penalties by the league in case the peace aggressor insists on engaging in war.

In conclusion, M. Briand exhorts both parties not to permit new military operations and to withdraw all troops behind their respective frontiers.

Telegrams explaining the situation have been sent by the league not only to the states in dispute, but to all the other members of the league. Should the league fail in its mission, the decision is proved it is regarded here as a failure.

The Bulgarian admit that they shot at Greek soldiers in the area of the border, including artillery, now have penetrated into Bulgarian territory to a distance of about 100 miles (about 160 kilometers), causing 15 Bulgarian casualties and the capture of a machine gun.

Sir Eric Drummond had planned to make an official visit to Athens on November 1, but he has decided to postpone it, because he is unable to leave his post in view of today's developments.

FLEET MANEUVER HELD A SUCCESS

Admiral Conz Declares Ships in First Class Condition Following Australian Trip

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The United States fleet, upon its return to the west coast from its cruise to Australia and New Zealand, was declared in the report of Rear Admiral Robert E. Conz, who commanded the expedition, to have been "fit to return to the cruise upon 24 hours notice."

The report made public tonight at the department of navy, declared that during the cruise the fleet at all times "in the position to move immediately and under such circumstances would have sustained itself in its normal manner for periods of from one to two months."

Make Recommendations.

Recommending that a similar long cruise be made in the next few years, Admiral Conz emphasized that "this extended cruise has furnished a most valuable opportunity for training along all lines of service."

That every advantage has been taken of the opportunities afforded; that the fleet has been kept in the best of condition; that the material, having greatly benefited and that marked increase in the efficiency of all departments resulted.

While it can not be said that the expedition has been most successful, the first six months of the report stated, such great strides have been made in the maintenance of the fleet, that the fleet is in the best of condition at the earliest possible date.

Express Views.

Admiral Conz further declared that the fleet during a period of the Sheenahouls, together with the complete history of that type of craft, made him think that they contain actualities, which could be used under the stress of major fleet operations, especially in view of the needs of the fleet under the most favorable weather.

Commenting upon "the excellent results" obtained in the co-operation of aircraft with vessels to which they were attached, the report said "this undoubtedly is due to the skills that the remainder of the fleet rather divisions has required and to the enthusiastic spirit in which the ship and aviation forces have cooperated and speaks very well for the development of aviation at sea with the fleet."

LODGE WRITES LEAGUE BOOK

Late Senator Author of Story Dealing With Fight Over League of Nations.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—The League of Nations fight and the compelling forces underlying it are described by one of its chief figures, the late Henry Cabot Lodge, in a book entitled "The Senate and the League of Nations" to be placed on sale tomorrow.

The manuscript was written by Henry Cabot Lodge, late senator from Massachusetts, and it is attributed full responsibility for defeat of the league to the unbridled attitude of President Wilson, who was overruled by a thought of self.

He adds what amounts to a death and declaration that although he worked and voted for ratification of the league with reservations, he was thankful in the end that it had been defeated. In practice, he says, the league has done nothing for the world, but it has done much to bring about the end of the world.
