FRANCE STILL UNSETTLED IN ITS POLITICS

Premier Painleve and His Majority in Chamber Fail to Come to Agreement on Proposition of Finances.

PARIS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Premier Painleve will submit his fiscal proposal in the form of a bill for financial restoration to the chamber of deputies today. The groups composing M. Painleve's majority in the chamber, have found it impossible to agree either on the government financial measures or on the so-called plan for a national levy. It was therefore decided that the situation could be cleared only by a vote of the chamber.

This decision, when it became known in the cabinet, was accepted as the death knell of the cabinet. The premier, however, gave no indication of any intention to resign as was the case when he had disagreed with M. Caillaux; he accepted the change of the socialist and will go before the chamber and fight it out.

The government has taken the position upon the financial measures and is held that the finance committee has done its duty. The cabinet, upon leaving the chamber this evening, "The issue is now clearly up to parliament and we hope it will be decided before long."

M. Painleve's action is attributed in some quarters to a desire to resign through the change he made in his cabinet during the parliamentary recess, though those close to him declare that he is thoroughly satisfied with the cabinet he is encountering among friends and proposes to make them share their hands in the open.

The finance committee of the chamber today finally disposed of the socialist-capital-repayment proposition, voting against it by a vote of 12 to 7, with five abstentions. Because of this vote, the socialist leaders announced that their coalition with the radical and the republican socialists, was at an end.

These developments caused a sensation in the radical party, the decision of the socialist being regarded as rendering it impossible for M. Painleve or any other leader of the parties of the left to form a stable government. Immediately speculation became rife as to the possible makeup of a concentration cabinet on the basis of the "exposed union" of parties which prevailed throughout the year. M. Painleve's name was mentioned most prominently for the head of such a combination.

M. Painleve's last word, when intimated that the left bloc has been unable to accept his measures were: "I shall not abandon my plan; I shall not take to flight; I shall fall fighting, if that is what my friends of the left want."

STAGE ALL SET FOR AMISTICE DAY CONTEST

Twin Falls and Filer Teams Hold Final Workouts Before Annual Football Battle Today at Lincoln Field.

Twin Falls football fans are to be treated to a double header of football this week for Amistice Day. An announced Tuesday night that the Bruins meet at Lincoln Field Friday, November 13. This will give the Bruins only one day of rest before the hard Filer contest and the game will determine if Twin Falls is lucky and some of the players are injured in the Filer battle they should be able to stand two games a week. Filer has a strong team and was able to hold the strong Borup eleven to a weak score last week. This season they are the most potent offensive team. The contest should be a good one to watch for fans. The Bruins are in excellent condition and taking the Bruins into camp may be able to turn the tables in the last game of the Friday the thirteenth fix and so far some of the Bruins have asked to be left on the bench. If some substitutions be might well believe that it would take something like a last Friday to break the jinx that has been trailing the Bruins most of the season. In every game except the first one against Albion Normal the Bruins and White are not equipped with a brand of football that should win any team but they have lost ten straight. Should the Bruins manage to defeat Filer it may have the effect of training some of the best players, but little hope for the Bruins. Filer supporters that the Bruins will be able to stop the mighty Willett aggregation.

The Bruins were sent through night practice Tuesday night by Coach Phelan in preparation for the "Five Willets on Amistice Day." The loss of Captain Franck has made necessary some changes in the forwards. Sullivan is being used at center and Johnson has taken his place at end. The backfield that will go against Filer is made up of center and Johnson as usual as to the probable lineup. Filer with over a week's rest behind them are said to be in excellent shape for the contest and confident of taking the Bruins into camp. The rain of Monday night and the overcast skies of Tuesday indicate that the game will be played in the mud. Lincoln Field was in excellent condition for the night arrangement but any morning will convert it into a sea of mud. The muddy conditions of the field should affect both teams about equally. Both aggregations depend largely on line backs for their strategy and neither resort to punting except in cases of emergency. Filer has the advantage in the punting department. Filer consistently out punts any man that the Bruins have shown so far and should the game develop into a punting duel the White's would have the decided advantage.

Glenn is prevalent among the Bruins fans most of whom have had little hope for the Bruins aggregation to come back. High hopes have crashed so often among the heads of the Bruins supporters that they are not holding to any false hopes for this contest. The Filer supporters seem particularly confident that they can easily take Twin Falls into camp.

With the Twin Falls school closed as guests of the Twin Falls post, the crowd should be the largest that has ever attended a game here. This season game will start promptly at 2 p. m.

DUMB BELLS

DARTMOUTH TO INVADE MIDDLE WEST SATURDAY

Eastern Football Circles Depend on Greatest Scoring Machine of Year to Wrest Laurels From Chicago.

(By the Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The east's hope of pulling the major portion of inter-sectional football from out of the east rests this week on the capable shoulders of Dartmouth's invincible eleven as the Green Invaders are scheduled to clash with Chicago.

This battle will hold the main inter-sectional interest west Saturday when such traditional rivals as Yale, Princeton, Ohio State, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Georgia Tech, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and California-Stanford are having it out among themselves.

So far the east has run up a big lead in inter-sectional play, but the team in the side of this showing is that the middle west has distinguished in three out of five clashes between "big ten" outfits and major eastern teams. Illinois and Michigan with smashing victories over Pennsylvania and the Navy lifted high the middle west's courage but the eastern parties are hoping that Dartmouth's forward passing attack will sweep Chicago.

There other inter-sectional contests held interest this week. While Georgetown is entertaining Centre college at Washington, Washington and Jefferson games were for its annual encounter with Detroit and Carnegie Tech. South had to meet Notre Dame.

The east still is well in front of sectional rivals in late with 22 victories, the following table reveals:

East	17	1	0
Middlewest	5	1	0
South	0	1	0
Total	8	3	0

Grand total both, 24.

SPORTSMEN FOR WAR ON MAGPIE

Fish and Game Association Members Declare for Extirmination of Destructive Birds

Southern Idaho Fish and Game association members at a meeting Tuesday evening in the Filer club, declared in favor of waging campaign of destruction against magpies, which, it was stated, cause great damage not only among game birds, but among domestic fowls as well.

It was related that in one instance in this region recently magpies killed a brood of 20 chickens by striking the chickens on the head with their beaks.

It was suggested that the association offer a bounty to be paid for magpies caught, and that later in the season arrangements be made for destroying magpies by means of poison to be obtained through the state fish and game department and to be spread with view to safety of other birds and animals.

The meeting was informal because of the lack of a quorum.

U. W. Shroat and C. B. Strand stated that inquiry indicated sentiment on the part of business men and sportsmen of Filer in favor of affiliation with the association, and tentative arrangements were made for a meeting of Filer and Twin Falls sportsmen to be held in Filer on Monday, November 22.

Consideration was given to suggestion that the association provide a cabin at Baseforth for occupancy by a deputy state fish commissioner during the time he is engaged in taking spans from trout in Cedar creek in the spring. In support of the suggestion that such shelter was pointed out, and reference was made to Alrett Howell's account of his experience in this region through operation of the Cedar creek hatchery which has again taken some 100,000 young trout to streams of this region.

MRS. STAGON'S RETURN TO BACE BRINGS APPLAUSE

Among the hundreds of tributes of good wishes that were received by Mrs. Frank B. Stagon, recently Mrs. Frances, on the occasion of her return to the stage after a retirement that lasted a dozen years, to play Ma Jones in the husband fine drama "Lightnin'" which comes to the Upham theater on Friday, November 20, were four that she wears above the others. They came from Frank Willmore, secretary of Equity; John Golden, who produced "Lightnin'" and kept it on Broadway for a day longer than 112 years; former Judge Kenneth W. Loring, now editor of the Northwest work, and Harold Lloyd, the screen comedian.

Lloyd made his debut on the stage in the company which Frank Jones had at the Harvard theater, Omaha. He said: "Worlds of luck to you tonight. Know 'Lightnin'" will secure another great success and wish for you big personal triumph."

John Golden's message read: "Lightnin'" is to be congratulated. They are more fortunate than we. For years I have wanted to see you, the only true, original Ma Jones, play that part. I know that you will be great. Long life, happiness and success to you and the play."

Judge Loring was terse and to the point: "Congratulations and affection for the house of Baceon always."

"We wish we were able to express to the affectionate good wishes which fill our hearts. The council feels that your reappearance on the stage is a notable event. At least it is to us who have loved you and dear Mrs. Baceon getting back into the swing of highly performance, including a finished and very natural presentation of Ma Jones, a part that has waited for her but which she never essayed until this year.

Her presence in the cast, and that of her daughter, Baceon, who gives a lovely performance of Mrs. Davis, the Village Store Director, being mentioned by Frank Baceon in letters which were mailed to the frontlines.

Mrs. Baceon is enjoying her return to active work in the theater. Of course, her interest has never flagged, but for some years she was not very good health and since then has been devoting herself to the care of her family. Her two daughters, of her son, Lloyd, who is director of motion pictures in Hollywood, and her daughter, Baceon.

HOW LONG? Those who still cherish the illusion that the people of Twin Falls have a right to know the various points of interest along the Snake River...

They may be right to be surprised when an airplane is going to be viewed from which to obtain it.

It is no longer necessary to go to the Pillar Falls without the payment of a fee to the owner of the land over which it is necessary to pass in order to reach the canyon wall.

To Steve this was incredible—this mystery, this drama of the fact that he had known what had happened on the Walling but had heard of it before when he and David...

"Nothing," repeated the doctor. "They searched the Albany and then the lower Walling, for they had to hole and track most of the way as you know. However, the doctor said they found the first camp of our people, but below, not a body, or paddle, or scrap of canoe—nothing."

"It is simply unbelievable," retorted he vigorously objected. "An avowed canoe, broken up in a big rapid, is found to have something on the walling beach below. We noticed nothing, but we were not on the lookout."

That there was more to this story was evidenced; but what personal bearing could it have on Dennis St. One?

"Yes, those are the facts, monsieur, and our people are mad with fear. Thank Heaven, Michel had a good ankle and was not with the boat. It tells the Indians that the canoe and bodies are held in the big eddy, and I think of it."

Steve stared at the doctor, unable to accept the spite inference. It was drawn from his host's remark. It was surely fantastic.

"And this search party found nothing?" "Nothing," St. One lifted shoulders and hums in eloquent gesture. "Men, fur, canoe, gone, wiped out, swallowed up."

"But there must have been something washed up alongshore," vehemently protested Steve. "The shell of the canoe—small stuff—and a paddle always come ashore when a boat is wrecked."

"Nothing," repeated the doctor. "They searched the Albany and then the lower Walling, for they had to hole and track most of the way as you know. However, the doctor said they found the first camp of our people, but below, not a body, or paddle, or scrap of canoe—nothing."

Never reached Albany? repeated the astonished listener. They said you, by canoe?

Yes, you sent a relief party upriver to find my men who were long overdue. They found they had lost their boat in the Albany rapids and were following the shore.

And this search party found nothing? Nothing, St. One lifted shoulders and hums in eloquent gesture.

Nothing, repeated the doctor. They searched the Albany and then the lower Walling, for they had to hole and track most of the way as you know.

WHEAT TAKES LATE RETURN

Hike in Prices on Chicago Market Ascribed to Buying of Middle Western Man.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Wheat took a sudden late upturn in prices today, largely as a result of heavy buying ascribed to prominent Chicago speculators. December wheat advanced to the best premium level since the first of May. The close for wheat was up 1/2 cent to 2.35 net higher, new staple May 2.15 to 2.20, old 2.15 to 2.20. Corn finished 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, oats a shade to 1/2 cent lower, ranging from 30c decline in price of 1 1/2.

With a lack of a probable early close of the navigation, the market for wheat in Chicago and other western ports showed the liberal delivery contracts being made by traders were paying greater heed to the approach of settlement time for the winter contract. The market today had apparently become over-sold and was to an unusual degree sensitive to any signs of a late return of the grain. Earlier there was a steady decline in price of wheat, but a late return of the grain was expected, especially the large 2000 in the nine principal producing states, 500,000 in the north, more than was indicated a month ago. Such trading was nearly at a standstill. Large quantities in bags, such as the position market.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10. (AP)—Wheat—Open, High, Low, 13.00, 13.00, 12.95. Dec. 12.95, 12.95, 12.90. Nov. 12.85, 12.85, 12.80. Corn—23 1/2, 23 1/2, 23 1/2. Oats—39 1/2, 39 1/2, 39 1/2.
