Hodgin, recently mayor of Twin Falls, has been aligned with the Borah wing of the party, continues the article, 'but it is argued that the Borah cause is not favored this time, that the direct primary, inasmuch as it will be brought out and Hodgin is big enough and deserving enough for the honor. # CROP REPORTING PLANS DEFENDED

Secretary Jarome in Letter to Senator Pepper Upholds Methods Used in Department

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 (AP)—A general defense of the agricultural department's crop reporting system and suggestions for changes in present practices have been made by Secretary Jarome in a letter to Senator Pepper, republican, Pennsylvania.

The letter, made public tonight by the department, deals at length with the cotton reports which have brought numerous complaints from southern members of congress. With respect to other crop forecasts he said there is some question as to the advisability of the government to make interpretations of conditions in the advance of harvest as is now done. Some of the early forecasts dealing with grain, potatoes and fruit crops, he added, probably will be omitted next year.

Gives His Views

Asserting that the interests of the cotton growers demand that the government continue to report the conditions and probable yield of that crop, the letter pointed out that if the government withdrew from the field, the crop reporting would be done by private interests alone. The present system of these private estimates, the secretary said, is probably improved by the government's issuance of official estimates.

"In my judgment," he wrote, "it is very important that some unbiased agency, such as the department of agriculture, shall make preliminary estimates of crop production prior to the harvesting of any crop. Such estimates, made by a reliable agency, help to insure a proper relation between supply and prices during the time the farmer is making his market for his crop and furnish a sound basis for bargaining."

He called attention to the fact that there had been an average difference of only 17 per cent between the department's crop forecasts and the final government reports during the last five years, and that in three of these years the difference was less than 10 per cent. The smallest difference that has ever existed, he said,

PUBLISHERS END ANNUAL PARLEY

Three Day Session of American Association Closes in West Virginia.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Nov. 12 (AP)—With a unanimous vote to repeat the convention next year, probably in the middle west, the first annual fall meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' association ended its three-day session today. Lester C. Young, publisher of the "Black and White" of Charleston, West Virginia, presided at the session, and his suggestion that some middle western city be chosen for next year's National meeting was taken under advisement by the board of directors.

"Better advertising" was the keynote of the final luncheon meeting. It was urged by speakers that publishers take more care in finding local news items to prepare articles and type graphically pleasing advertising copy. Among the speakers on the advertising topic were Dan Hodge of the Indianapolis News; William Danahoe of the Chicago Tribune; Lantz Wiley of the New York Times; and H. L. Lent of the Pacific Daily News. Mr. Wiley particularly emphasized the need of having department store advertisements contain a full shipping news, and urged publishers to encourage this feature in advertising.

CLASH BREAKS OUT AT NEW YORK CONVENTION BETWEEN TWO FACTIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—The clash between the scientific and religious interpretations of the evolution of man broke out on the foreground at the annual meeting of the national conference for mental hygiene today at the Pennsylvania hotel, when the Rev. Dr. Karl Hoptmann, pastor of St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, criticized many of the foremost psychiatrists in America attending the meeting for "ignoring the spiritual."

Previous speakers had stressed the danger of laxer practitioners of "talking themselves up as authorities on mental hygiene and declared the greatest need in this field of science was the training of more psychiatrists.

"I am not nearly so much concerned about the anatomy as I am about the experts," Dr. Hoptmann said. "The experts are ignoring the spiritual to a dangerous degree. Experts in medicine will have to give greater attention to the spiritual, the psychological and the spiritual and recognize that there is a very real God who meets here in the field of morals."

Improvement in Cattle and Hog Market Seen by Babson

Noted Statistician Optimistic Over Future of Livestock and By-Products of Industry; Tells Why.

BABSON PAYS, Mass., Nov. 12—(Special to The News.)—Two weeks ago Mr. Babson discussed the sheep and wool situation, giving conditions and figures for his optimism. Today he has been asked for his opinions regarding the cattle and hog industry together with their by-products. His official statement follows:

"In late 1920 cattlemen and hog raisers suffered a sensational setback. In the course of one year the cattle of the Chicago market dropped 50 per cent. Hogs also fell 20 per cent. In both cases the price level was swept under the pre-war average. For four consecutive years conditions were at a record high in cattle and hogs, and important changes have taken place."

"Take cattle, for example. In 1907 there were over 72,500,000 head of cattle on our farms. This was followed by a downward tendency to a low of 56,627,000 in 1913. The following years showed an increase but since 1919 there has been a steady downward trend. In the number of our farms January 1 of this year was but 62,928,000. Here is another case where the number of livestock has declined while the population of this country has steadily climbed upward."

"The unpopularity of cattle raising in recent years has been directly to the low prices at the primary markets, which in turn meant lower prices for the farmer. Feeding costs were high and beef on the hoof relatively low. Not only has the number of cattle declined but the average price of beef has dropped. The total holdings of all meats on October 1 were 561,718,000 pounds, against a previous five-year October 1 average of 675,000,000 pounds. The same is true of beef and wool. The cold storage figure for the same period show a current figure of 10,585,000 pounds, against a five-year average of 37,194,000."

Greater Livestock Contracting
"Since the first of the year there has been an evident change in the conditions. Most important of all is the material higher price level—today 25 per cent over a year ago. This has attracted attention in a better position. Banks and loan companies feel more confident and optimism is slowly returning. The farmer was turned last January when cattle prices were high and beef on the hoof relatively low. There is a better supply of food at lower prices and stock is entering the market in better condition."

"The broad picture is that the livestock market is showing a marked improvement. This is particularly noticeable in the supply of live animals. The supply of live animals is now in a better position. Banks and loan companies feel more confident and optimism is slowly returning. The farmer was turned last January when cattle prices were high and beef on the hoof relatively low. There is a better supply of food at lower prices and stock is entering the market in better condition."

Omaha to St. Louis for 22 Cents Boost of Hobo President

Head of Association Bode Automobile Cushions in Freight Car on Way to Convention
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 12 (AP)—It cost "Bud" Schlemmeyer of Cincinnati, Ohio, president of the Hobo association, 22 cents to get to Omaha, Neb., he says. And he claims that in the "Cassidy" (to-only the cushions belonged to a new automobile bus, being shipped in a freight car.)

Schlemmeyer was traveling to Denver where he is presiding over the annual convention of the International Brotherhood Welfare association, an organization of 13 "knights of the road." The hobo chieftain boasts of his $1,000 and most of the "hobo" announced their intention to trek to the southland.

World's Future Lumber Product
South Africa is now pointed out by a leading authority as one of the world's best fields for timber growing. The work, he says, must be done on a large scale by the government, as individuals cannot wait for the returns. Various kinds of trees are declared to be the trees most suitable. The variable winds exert such a twisting upon growing trees that straight-grained timber of certain kinds is difficult to obtain. One scheme to utilize the competing influence more effectively than other kinds, and very fine, straight-grained timber of this sort is produced.

No, friends, you have got to be converted to stoutness; to repeat in delight, and delightfulness—John Ruskin.

MacMillan Chooses "A Well-Balanced Diet Built Around Meats"

Nothing developed on the trip to cause me to revise my idea about foods; which is that a well-balanced diet built around meats yields the best health results.

On the way north we had fresh domestic meat from the supply taken aboard when we sailed. After we reached the North we relied upon the wild life of the region, using seal, walrus, caribou, muskox, Arctic hare, and many kinds of wild ducks.

Every day we had fresh meat with plenty of fat at least one meal and usually oftener when supplies were plentiful, and every one came through the four months in excellent condition. In fact, most of the members of the party gained weight.

While we often hear it claimed that eating too much meat is unfavorable to health, it is a fact that such ailments as gout, hardening of the arteries, and other disorders attributed to an excess of meat eating are quite unknown to the Eskimos who eat nothing but meat.

In my own experience I have never known anyone to attempt to live in the Arctic on a vegetarian diet. On the other hand, every Arctic explorer nowadays relies upon the native fresh meats as a sure preventive of scurvy, a much dreaded nutritional disorder which was prevalent in earlier Arctic expeditions times before we learned a lesson in diet from the Eskimo.

What most wonderful testimonial to Dempsey's physical condition is his ability to fight in the ring, after two years of "fighting idleness," that proof that he is still only three weeks away from the day he was in 1923 and but 10 beyond today.

When Dempsey wandered into Kentucky on his recent tour, I went into the Blue Grass state, prompted by a certain curiosity and eager to see how Dempsey and his associates would handle the situation. For like a few million other folks, I had read reports that dealt with the physical condition of the champion, of how he has pushed on a 145 lb. of weight and was a million miles removed from the Dempsey of 1923 or the Dempsey of 1925.

I came away feeling that Dempsey is a greater fighter today than he was when he defeated Jess Willard, a few million other folks, I had read reports that dealt with the physical condition of the champion, of how he has pushed on a 145 lb. of weight and was a million miles removed from the Dempsey of 1923 or the Dempsey of 1925.

"The only training that he really needs is a fair job of read work and some leg pumping exercises. And he needs so little of that that he could gather it all of it within a week."

Nothing better can illustrate the speculation form of Dempsey, even though he has not fought in more than two years, the citation of the fact that concern his pugilism.

Why not let 'em fight it out in the old pipe bowl?

If you want to see how Rough Cut tobacco stacks up against Granulated, then your old pipe bowl's the proper place to stage the battle... Just match a bowl of Granulated up against a bowl of Rough Cut... You'll see Rough Cut's cooler under fire, lasts longer and is much smoother going... Yes sir, once you've seen Rough Cut in action you'll back Granger for the rest of your life.

There's a definite reason for that Rough Cut Granulated tobacco burns fat and hot because they're cut fine. But Granger burns slow and cool, because it's cut coarse. It just naturally makes the coolest, smoothest smoking you ever experienced.

WHEAT PRICES SHOW ADVANCE

Sharp Reduction of Chicago Stock of Breadstuffs Sends Grain on Upward Course.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12. (AP)—Sharp reduction of the stock of wheat to less than 200,000 bushels of registered contract grade led to a lively upturn in wheat prices today. Futures mills were reported to be taking grain from here and the market closed up 7.5¢ to 3.25¢ higher, new style, No. 2, $1.53 1/2 to $1.54 1/2 and No. 1, $1.45 1/2 to $1.46 1/2 with corn at $1.15 to $1.16 with oats unchanged to 1-1/4¢ advance, oats on contract to $1.10 1/2 and flour on contract for the same on Tuesday's fluctuation to a rise of 1/4¢.

As a result of difficulty in settling December wheat contracts here became more active as a result of manufacturers' contracts. The upward movement of the stock of wheat, 60,000 bushels of No. 2 and 100,000 bushels of No. 1, led Northern Spring wheat to reach a high point of 200,000 elevators tomorrow for shipment east.

The bullish effect of this news was further bolstered by the fact that specific receipts continued steady and strong in the wheat market. For more than 24 hours a premium over May, a difference seldom equaled, has been maintained.

CANAL COMPANY LEVY FOR 1926 IS FIXED AT $2

Directors Approve Budget Increasing Appropriation for Drainage and Debt Reduction;

Twin Falls Canal company directors at an annual meeting here today (Nov. 13) adopted a budget appropriation plan for expenditure of $100,000 for the year 1926, involving increase of approximately $12,000 as compared with actual expenditures for the year 1925 in the total sum of $114,000, and fixed the 1926 levy at $2 per acre as compared with last year's levy of $1.50 per acre.

The levy is to be payable in two installments, the first of $1.00 per acre being payable on March 1, and the second payment of 50 cents per acre being payable on October 1.

Revenue to be raised by the 1926 levy, according to estimates, is $200,000. It is estimated that miscellaneous revenues during the year will amount to $100,000.

The budget provides for increased expenditures for drainage and sewage work and for debt reductions, and for reduced expenditures for water delivery, capital outlays and repairs, replacements and upkeep.

Comparative figures. As compared with 1925 expenditures of $128,214 for drainage and sewage work, the budget provides for an expenditure of $100,000, an increase of $28,214 for this work, and as compared with 1925 expenditures of $110,071 on account of debt reduction the budget provides appropriation of $125,230 for this fund, an increase of $15,159.

The budget provides for reduced expenditures next year as follows: Water delivery, reduced $750,000 from $1,250,000; repairs, replacements and upkeep, reduced $45,000 from $125,000 to $80,000; cost of lands reduced $10,000, from $15,000 to $5,000.

The directors' vote on approval of the budget and on fixing of the 1926 levy was unanimous.

WOULD PUT GATE AT MILNER DAM

American Falls Reservoir District No. 2 Tells Plans for Reclamation.

Directors of the American Falls reservoir district No. 2, recently organized to include approximately 14,000 acres in the vicinity of Gooding and Shoshone for purchase of irrigation water to be impounded in the American Falls reservoir, made application here Thursday to Twin Falls Canal company directors for permission to install a headgate along Milner dam on Snake river, through which to divert from seven feet to a proposed canal that is to carry this water to the district's lands.

The Twin Falls board took no action on the application, but it was arranged that a joint meeting of the directors of the Twin Falls Canal company and of the North Side Canal company, joint owners of the Milner dam, should be held next week in room for consideration of the request.

Under the reservoir district's plans, American Falls water will be used to form a supplemental supply for approximately 25,000 acres now under irrigation, and for reclamation of approximately 25,000 acres. Representatives of the district at the meeting here Thursday were John Thompson and W. Gooding and J. H. Sutcliffe.
