Prosecutions of Liquor Law Violations More Successful During Year, Says Justice

Bureau in Survey

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—The treasury was taking another step toward increasing prohibition restrictions today, the department of justice made public a report on its last year's work, including prosecutions for liquor law violations had been more successful.

The treasury action came in a memorandum by assistant secretary Andrews of a ruling of the last year's prohibition, excepting the restrictions on the internal revenue collectors to issue no more of them. More than two hundred thousand gallons of wine were sold without license or tax, are said to be outstanding.

Reviews Work

Later in the day, Miss Mabel Walker Whitehead, assistant attorney general in charge of criminal prosecutions, delivered to attorney general E. A. Tamm a review of the work of her division for the past year.

The government is prosecuting larger and more important cases each of the last two years in the number of cases pending, indicating more prompt trial.

The penalties for violation, especially in the matter of jail and prison sentences, are steadily increasing.

"There has been a very substantial increase in the number of injunctions made effective."

furniture dealer with whom Alice sought shelter, testified that Alice had claim to being of legal descent.

Color Not Questioned

Whitehead, recalled by the defense, was asked whether the marriage of Alice and her color. "No," he answered.

The plaintiff then rested and Mr. Davis made the usual motion for dismissal of the action which was refused by Justice Macchauer.

Three witnesses for the defense were called in the afternoon including Robert Brooks, negro brother, husband of Emily, Alice's sister. Brooks testified that Leonard always had been "very friendly" to him, but that he was annoyed at his home often and called him "Lick."

He is, in turn, he said, called Leonard "Lick." All his friends, Brooks said, were negroes, and Whitehead had played cards with some of them.

Leonard R. Jacobs, associate counsel for Leonard, was called and denied he was personal attorney for Whitehead, but admitted that indirectly he managed some of the Whitehead estate. The information contained in the bill of complaint, which Leonard had admitted contained falsehoods, was obtained from the plaintiff, Mr. Justice said.

Miss William Reynolds, a newspaper reporter, told of an interview with Leonard in which he admitted that he knew his wife had negro blood. She could not, however, produce any paper which had said her story.

Republican Leaders Consider Postponement of Appointments for a While

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Postponement of organization of most of the house committees until after the adjournment of the legislature is being considered by house republican leaders.

Putting forward this schedule today, representative Long, speaker of the house, said that at the last session and designated by it for speaker at the coming session, he had in mind to consider any action in connection with consideration of the tax measure.

At the same time such a program would put off final action on assignment of some of the republican leadership to committee work. The bill had voted not only on the revenue bill but on organization of the house, and on the matter of the committee not yet accepted the policy set forth by Longworth withholding plenary powers of some of those listed among the committees.

Operation Banned

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24. (AP)—Continuation of the strike in the hard coal fields was placed on the shoulders of the authorities to determine in the case of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

There has been no change in the status of the coal fields since the strike was called off by Lewis, chairman of the joint conference of the coal operators and operators, and that he made overtures for a resumption of the wage negotiations, but that they have been opposed by the labor unions.

COURT DEFERS RULING ON POOL HALL CLOSING

Hearing in the case of Joe Wynn and others wherein the prosecuting attorney seeks to have made permanent a temporary court order heretofore issued for closing of the Roger pool hall at Rogerson on the grounds that it constitutes a liquor nuisance, was held in district court here Tuesday before Judge W. A. Hancock, and the court postponed at the close of the hearing that the case would be taken under advisement.

Defendants named in the complaint were Joe Wynn and H. J. Wisner, alleged owners, and William Port, alleged manager of the establishment.

John K. Roberts of Twin Falls, owner of a portion of the premises on which the building is situated, was represented by S. T. Hamilton and John Koshlaker.

President Coolidge to Investigate Complaint That Agreement is Being Disregarded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—Receipt of the miners' union complaint that some bituminous coal operators are disregarding the Jacksonville wage agreement was acknowledged today by President Coolidge in a letter to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers. In it, the president said he would make a full reply after study of the charges advanced by Mr. Lewis.

The complaint which was made Sunday in an open letter to the president said the wage contract had the approval of government officials when drawn up and asked whether the government would intervene or would consider the miners justified in taking steps to enforce it.

These steps were not described, but the soft coal fields seen in this connection is understood to have operations under "black" contracts in which William J. Green and Frank American, president and secretary of the American Federation of Labor, have participated.

Other than the statement that Mr. Lewis' letter had been acknowledged, no other governmental action today, have participated.

The bureau of coal economies of the national coal association, meanwhile, published an estimate that coal production last week for the period ending November 21, was 12,650,000 tons and said this was the largest output for any similar period since 1920.

IDAHO FALLS, Nov. 24. (AP)—Jack Valentine, 10-year-old son of T. A. Valentine, president of the First National bank, this city, was in a critical condition tonight at St. Anthony hospital as the result of a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain received when he was knocked from the running board of an automobile about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The attending physician reported late tonight that Jack's condition at that hour was "much more favorable," but indicated he was not yet out of danger.

OLD LETTERS FOUND

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. (AP)—Letters patent bearing the signature of James Madison, president of the United States, James Monroe, secretary of state, and Richard Rush, attorney general, issued in 1814 to Dwight Berry Brown, inventor of a water hose, were found today in a box in the basement of an old forty-second street building.

The ceremony held in 1874, that of the old Murray Hill baths, also yielded a bottle of champagne, two pieces of old paper money and four copper coins.

NEW HIGH MARK MADE IN AUTO PRODUCTION IN MONTH OF OCTOBER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (AP)—October automobile production set a new high record, the committee development reported today with 26,674 passenger cars and 4,129 trucks turned out in the United States. With Canadian production added, North American output of passenger cars for the month was 40,569, and of trucks, 4,832.

The previous high record was established in April of this year.

OCTOGENARIAN CAUSE OF LEGISLATIVE FIGHT

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. (AP)—The resumption of the strenuous fight for reorganization of Illinois legislative strength, leading to a climax Tuesday, is due to a legislative decision, in that of an octogenarian who is pressing the effort in the waning years of his life because he thinks it right.

"The legislature's refusal to reapportion will put a minority ruling in effect, and I do not believe that the state should be kept in such a state of anarchy for two years," he says.

So speaks John R. Ferguson of Chicago, 82-year-old, who wants to see the old political office.

It is his name as petitioner signed to support the measure to change the apportionment of the legislature at the next assembly to convene and reapportion upon which the supreme court will decide. A measure for such a change of mandamus was not found in a search of court files since 1776.

Since 1870 with the state's population increasing rapidly, there also has been no reapportionment. Chicago (Stock county), has the largest population, but, under reapportionment, its legislative strength would grow from 19 senators and 27 representatives to 23 senators and 22 representatives, with the consequent loss to "downstate," since the entire membership is fixed at 201.

"I have no fear that what Chicago might do will so much strength. There also is the matter of 20 general assembly members, some of which have been held by downstate for decades.

HISLOP ORCHARD SEASON CLOSES

Loading of Thirty-Fifth Car Completes Marketing of Apple Crop on Pioneer Farm.

Loading of the last of 25 cars of fruit representing the 1925 crop of H. Hislop and Son's 90-acre orchard eight miles southeast of Twin Falls, was completed Tuesday. The crop, which consists of four varieties—Stayman, Winesap, Jonathan, Rome Beauty and Delicious—has been marketed this year for the most part through the agency of the Daniel Reid company of London, and has been distributed among consuming centers of the world.

Packing of the crop has been done this year in a substantial packing plant built at the orchard of lava rock and equipped with its equipment, an investment of about $7,500. Manual labor in the packing plant is reduced to a minimum by means of mechanical sorters and carriers operated by electricity and gasoline motors. A device used in packing of boxes of apples has a daily capacity of 1,500 boxes of packed apples. These used in packing baskets has a capacity of 645 baskets per day.

More than 22,000 boxes of apples were packed at the new plant this year, and more than 15,000 boxes of loose apples, each containing a quantity of two-thirds of a box of packed apples, were brought in from the orchard.

The first year's operation of the new plant, Mr. Hislop stated Tuesday, has demonstrated need for its expansion, especially to provide for additional storage room. The plant has been built with view to possible expansion, and the enlargement is contemplated.

When the packing of the season's crop was completed, there remained unharvested and about the trees approximately one-third of the total number of apples produced this year. The situation developed, Mr. Hislop stated, as a result of hail which struck the orchard early in the spring. Large proportion of the crop was damaged by the hail and thinning of the remaining crop was delayed until it was determined that the hail damage had not been as great as believed at first, with the result that many apples that were too small to market profitably were produced.

Strove for Quality.

"One is not in the apple orchard in this region," Mr. Hislop stated Tuesday, "but we are striving to make it one of the best in the world. We are endeavoring to apply here the methods that have been developed out of long experience in the Wenatchee country, and our principal emphasis is in the regard for so-called labor."

Mr. Hislop has been actively identified with the orchards of which he and his son are owners since 1911 when he came to Idaho from Chicago to establish here a cooperative apple enterprise.

The Hislop orchards form a part of the tract of 400 acres that was purchased for this purpose in 1911.

Adding orchards which are owned and operated by T. P. Simpson also were a part of the cooperative enterprise, and Mr. Simpson, then a resident of Chicago, was the first purchaser of the cooperative orchard tract under the plan of the cooperative enterprise. Mr. Hislop and Mr. Simpson have increased their holdings of the orchard lands as opportunity has been afforded in the years since the first trees were set out early 14 years ago.

BUSINESS WOMEN HEAR VOCATIONS DISCUSSED

Mrs. Marguerite Key, recently of New York, spoke to the members of the Business and Professional Women's club at the Tuesday luncheon on the subject of interior decoration, in which business has been growing in the eastern city. The topic was presented in an interesting manner and held the close attention of the assembly.

Mrs. Margaret Key, who now operates a firm south of Kimberly and raises pure bred sheep, spoke on the aspects of insurance business, in which she was formerly identified in Wisconsin.

Miss Blanche Hill outlined the program and Miss Anna Smith will be in charge for the next week.

High School Notes

Slogan: What kind of a school would our school be, if everyone lit it were just like me?

A discussion of the "Manufactory Notes" occupied the time of high school teachers at their Monday evening meeting. The custom of sending out these notes to magazines last year for the purpose of keeping parents informed concerning the progress of their children was discussed. Whether the results obtained were commensurate with the effort was the question at least to be decided upon. It was decided to send out a printed but anonymous note, but it was made that the custom will be discontinued. The present grading system and uniform classes are also topics under consideration.

High school will be dismissed at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for the game between Twin Falls third string and Burien. The game will follow its regular schedule. Snow, electric, winter.

A total of 332 "Manufactory Notes" was sent out from the high school to the parents of 219 students, stating that work done this far this period has not been passing. Parents of the students received one notice, 25 low notices, 10 three notices and six four notices. One hundred fifty-five notices were sent from the junior high school, but only one high school notice, and 50 notices from two to four notices.

FRESHBORN FLAPPER ALSO CONCEALED THEIR EARS

PUEBLO, Ariz., Nov. 24—Presidential flappers who fled in Mexico about 10,000 years ago, are still the same race in concealing their ears that the fair wenches of today.

The flappers of the ancient day are steved of concealing their ears under the new prevalent farrago of hair and large disc-like plugs made of an American variety of Jade. The disks of that time carried their thigs to give them a more a banded legged effect that apparently was all the rage.

PRISONERS FAIL TO MOVE TO GET OUT OF CUSTODY

Court Declines to Pass Upon Sufficiency of Evidence for Charges Against the Alleged Moonshiners.

Even now, taken in custody recently in Elko county, Nevada, and charged with violation of the federal prohibition act, the prisoners returned to this county yesterday afternoon when Judge W. A. Babcock at the conclusion of hearings in his court pronounced that they were not within the province of the court to inquire into the sufficiency of the evidence on which charges of violation of federal law were made.

In answers filed Monday Sheriff M. E. Finch, stated that four of the prisoners, E. A. Hobson, John Ward, Otto Christensen and Sheldon Holtsinger, were held in custody upon temporary mittimus issued by H. E. Powers, Elko county, on November 19, 1925.

Accused pair in audience. Spectators at the hearing included Maxine A. Wilson, wife of the federal prohibition act, who had been arrested in Elko county, Nevada, under mittimus process issued by Sheriff Powers.

It was stated that warrants of arrest had been issued by the court in Nevada and would have been served upon the prisoners if they had given their names and addresses in the habeas corpus proceedings.

STUDENTS STAGE SOCIETY AND CLUBS

A PLEASING PLAY

High School's Annual Dramatic Offering is Presented Before Capacity Audience.

Twin Falls high school student plays, under direction of Miss Helen Knapp, presented before a capacity audience in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening. The annual school play, A. E. Thomas' comedy, "Only Thirty-Eight," was the performance was one of the most satisfactory in the annual of student dramatic offerings here and reflected credit as well upon the director as upon each performer.

Pats Branha's characterization of the father of the serious student being portrayed by Lloyd Perry and Dorothy Berger and father of Mrs. Stanley, winner of a number of "only 38" in which role Melba Nelson appeared to advantage, proved an outstanding part of the evening.

Dine Well But Wisely. THE ANCIENT ROMANS reclined on divans while eating in order that they could rest between courses, digest partially what they had eaten, and be gourmands again when the next course of rich, heavy food arrived. Today, there is no need of divans while eating. Meats are balanced, food varieties are given much thought, too, and the cuisine is every well ordered restaurant is a selection planned—each meal has a number of heavy and light dishes, designed so that every appetite will have a delightful and well balanced meal. Everyone is well satisfied when leaving, but no one has that miserably uncomfortable feeling. Thanksgiving dinners will be prepared with special attention!
