PACIFIC COAST READY FOR MANY GRID CONTESTS

Football Season Whirls Toward

Finish of Season in Thanksgiving Games Scheduled Over Western Territory.

(By the Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Football will hold the spotlight in Thanksgiving day games on the Mts. Valley grid tomorrow. It will be the eleventh annual clash between the two schools.

Neither Stanford nor Cal has been up to her usual form this year.

Despite the fact that Nebraska has tired in the Mts. Valley, you can't help but feel that she is stronger than ever.

The conference contests will, when you consider the Mts. Valley's

the second place Iowa State will enter the Kansas Aggies, who are in a tie for fifth with Nebraska, at least for the moment.

In the past, Stanford has won five,

Nebraska four and one was the conference contests well, when

you consider the Mts. Valley's

the second place Iowa State will

enter the Kansas Aggies, who are

in a tie for fifth with Nebraska, at

least for the moment.

Everyone is invited to attend.

The Roy G. Berger school, which is the home of the University of California and Stanford, will attempt to win the Pacific Coast conference championship. But Washington, playing on its home field, at Seattle, is not expected to have much difficulty in averting a team which has not won a conference game this year.

The University of Hawaii's crack

eleven will take on Occidental college

in Los Angeles, the remaining member of the conference, in a Pacific coast conference championship.

At Seattle, the Aggies will play

Washington, while the Cougars will play at Norman.

Gonzaga university of Spokane will match strength with Multnomah club

at Portland.

BUEHL READY TO MEET

DISTRICT CHAMPIONS

IN HOLIDAY CONTEST

BUHL, Idaho, Nov. 25.—(Special to the News) Coach Neal sent his football squad through the final workout tonight in preparation for the Thanksgiving day contest with the Lewiston Indians.

Hobart will probably use the passing attack in the hope of defeating the district champions in the last game of the season.

Curtis, the Indians, will not be able to lock the Buehl Indians

out, however, as the Indians will have to play the air for the second time, for the Indians game by a one-point margin.

The Indians' morale is high, and thrilling to take out their hands

on game day, and to settle the lot-

lot to take the night off.

Worth Thinking Over

Where we cannot invent, we may affect improvement by giving up—readily

to that which—was—done—

desirous to that which was diffuse.

TWELVE JAILED IN ENGLAND FOR RED ACTIVITIES

Trial of Twelve Leaders Ends
With Conviction of All; Men Accused of Conspiracy to Publish Libel.

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 25.—The trial of twelve leaders which ended in Old Bailey today resulted in imprisonment of twelve men for five principal plotters, against whom previous convictions had been proven, and for seven others, against whom no previous convictions were recorded, the greatest blow the communist party has yet experienced in this country.

The most serious charge was that conspiring to publish seditious libels and with violation of the instrument of trial, will be clamped in "the silent prison," where there are simply deprivation of the liberty.

Strong efforts were made to give the case a political aspect, but the judge, after consulting the jury, to give it the name of the offense, refused to admit the idea of political prosecution. He said if they were guilty he did not know that they were guilty, but if a rival political party intended by the desire that they should be convicted.

The prisoners' counsel made a great effort to show that the plot was a political plot, but the defense declared that the charge deserved the pallor, who, he declared, had no other means for the discovery of secret society.

In view of the tendency with which number of fascists, who had attacked newspaper van belonging to the Daily Herald, the labor organ, were recently present, it is certain to cause general excitement at the meeting of the executives of the Labor party and the Trades Union congress has been called for tomorrow in the house of commons to discuss the case.

china from China. The claim of independence was not pressed, however, for Pan Yushan, leader of Wu's generals, suddenly revolted and delivered the central government into Chiang's hands.

Since then Chiang has won one of the leading pieces in a three-cornered game, with Feng and Wu striving to keep down his power. The advance of the armies of Wu, north from the Yangtze, and of Chiang, farthest south, recall his earlier career in Peking and Peking.

Chiang's administration of Manchuria has been a progressive one, and has been well received, and has put down firmly by his army of 100,000 the three manchurian provinces, with total area of over 350,000 square miles, have been better off financially and economically than any others in China.

REPORTS UNCONFIRMED.

THENTHIN, Nov. 25 (AP)—Reports that the government of Chang Tsai-Mukden had been overthrown through a military revolt remained without confirmation.

Execution of the procure by the Pengtung (Manchurian) troops continued without local incident. Several hundred rebels were captured.

Chang's army resented its being cut off the rails on the Peking-Mukden railway north of here, while the Tientsin-Peking railway was cut, the last road having been taken up between Tengchow, Chihli province, and Shantung province.

A fourth train, in charge of a foreign crew, was unable to make the trip from Chingking Tao to Tientsin today. The train carried a number of Americans from the Huai Carrington School, and the Chinese rebels, who had been fighting here, were still in the city.

They are now as follows between here and Chingking, where they had landed. Chinese troops encountered where the rails were torn up first, and tried to replace them, but finally consented.

Reports from the north tonight included one that Chang had fled, and another that he had been captured and Chang's highest political adviser had fled from Mukden to Tientsin.

MOVIE MONOPOLY CHARGE IS MADE

Commission Hears Final Arguments and Takes Matter Under Consideration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The federal trade commission after hearing final arguments, took under advisement today the complaint charging the Famous Players Lasky corporation and affiliated companies with unfair methods of competition in a conspiracy to attain a monopoly of the motion picture industry.

Several weeks ago the commission made an investigation in the case, which has been under investigation for more than four years. Counsel for the commission urged the court of appeals to sustain the holding block booking and other business practices charged against the respondents and requiring Famous Pictures to separate its exhibition properties.

The final arguments were made by Paul D. Cravath of New York for the respondents, and W. H. Fuller, chief counsel for the commission.

Counsel for the company made a sweeping denial of the charges of串通 (conspiracy), maintaining the respondent corporations had not monopoly existed or was in process of existing and that Famous Players was pursuing legitimate methods and had won its way by merit.

DAZNUNZIO AND DUSE ONCE
TO BE WRITTEN BY TRAVERSI

ROME, Nov. 25 (UPI)—Camillo d'Anton Traversi, whose dramatic works have all been successful, including a generation, is embarking on the writing of the life story of Gabriele d'Annunzio, as well as writing the biography of Eleonora Duse, the actress.

Traversi, 55 years old, is a rival political party interested in the desire that they should be convicted.

The prisoners' counsel made a great effort to show that the plot was a political plot, but the defense declared that the police, who, he declared, had no other means for the discovery of secret society.

WHEAT PRICES ARE NOW LOWER

Argentine Will Have Bigger Surplus Than First Thought; Chicago Market Slumps.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—(UPI)—Largely as the result of a forecast from a British trade authority that Argentina will have an exportable surplus of 35,000,000 bushels larger than recent estimates by American experts, wheat prices have advanced, however. The wheat market here closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's close, to 1 1/4c, new style. December, $2.34 1/2c to $2.40, and May, $2.50. Box to 41c. Wheat futures were unchanged to 3 3/8c off, with 1 1/2c decline and provisions varying from 12c decline to 1 1/2c rise.

According to the British authority, which came as a surprise to wheat traders here, the Argentine exportable surplus will amount to 163,000,000 bushels whereas recent advices from Chicago put the figure at 130,000,000 bushels, pointing to a likelihood of 130,000,000 bushels or less. The fact that wheat futures were nearly forgotten on some time transactions.

Later reports telling of the frost in the south, led to increased buying in the wheat market here, and to increased grain market in "place." This was also considerable premonition, coming up of another report that the wheat market to the market to receive much of the price decline. On the other hand, the fact that in the last few days 100,000 bushels of straw wheat had been bought to come to China from the northwest, was something not of a weight on the market.

Commodities, chiefly by the action of the Argentine, were generally lower in the corn, oats, and most trades were looking for liberal receipts here on Friday, about 700 cars. Commission houses picked up straw offerings of oats.

Lamb trade was reported as rather slow, but demand for meats was still good.
