DRY WAGGAIN BY UNDERFIRE BY HOUSE MEMBERS

Advocates for Modification of Prohibition Amendment Contain Attack Against Act in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—The floor of the house today was panned out over concern of a statement favoring modification of prohibition laws.

A dry rally came late in the day, however, when Representative Lindquist, Republican, took the floor for a few minutes to explain the incident involving the trapping of a trout upon the Volney Thomas hotel by a prohibition agent, which has drawn several criticisms of the act.

Consideration of the annual treasury appropriation bill, which expires today for prohibition extension until next fiscal year, served as the vehicle for the discussion.

To open debate, Representative Vard, Republican, Pennsylvania, declared expenditure of millions had shown the "wildcat act" to be "unproductive" and that "the people don't want to be lousy dry."

Representative Gulliver, Democrat, Massachusetts, declared the prohibition league as the mainstay of a "vicious system that is destroying the soul and conscience of America."

"These are the types," he said, "that threaten and limit the present. They misrepresent his moves and motives. The tell him that they are not his representative."

Amid laughter Representative Gulliver described to the house the recent visit of Representative Gulliver to Washington hotel. The case ended last week in the acquittal of the defendant.

Mr. Gulliver was warned prior to making his speech that he would be defeated for reelection. He declared he accepted the challenge and invited Mr. Vard to meet him in the next election.

Life and 20 Years Additional Penalty of Wisconsin Court Heaviest Sentence Ever Imposed in State Pronounced on Man Who Murdered Child.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 19 (AP)—Facing the heaviest sentence pronounced in Milwaukee courts since the elimination of the death penalty, John Steiner, 35 years old, late today began serving a life term and twenty years additional.

Earlier in the day he pleaded guilty to charges of murder, arson and assault. He told the court that he killed Roy Tolman, eight years ago and fired the gun into which he had taken the child. The child's dismembered and charred body was found in the unincorporated area of the town two days after he had disappeared.

Justice revealed on feet, and within a few hours after the identification had been completed, Steiner's conviction was based on charges on which he was sentenced. The court explained that he did not deny the murder charge, but denied arson, and for that reason sentenced him to life imprisonment.

The statement as to the sale of the newspaper which had mentioned several prominent citizens interested in the case, Steiner is to stand each December 13 in solitary confinement.

MARKETING BILL TO AID FARMERS Measure Designed to Help Co-operative Plan Will Be Introduced in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—A measure designed to help farmers by providing for a cooperative plan will be introduced in congress today by Representative Trencher of Kansas, both republican.

The bill proposes to set up machinery in the department of agriculture through which the government would assist to cooperative marketing organizations in disposing of the crops.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 19 (AP)—A telephone call from a woman who wished to consult him about a Christmas purchase, today saved Russell S. Cashier, cashier at the State bank at Cheyenne, from being robbed by two men.

MITCHELL HAS MANY FRIENDS IN THE HOUSE Cry of Persecution Raised Against Army General Staff by Friends of Officer, Up in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—The cry of "persecution" raised against the army general staff by the pacifist Colonel Wm. Mitchell was taken up today in congress.

Several times during the day's debate an appropriation bill, the house heard sharply worded criticism of the manner in which punishment had been meted out to the chief of staff by his public enemies on government aviation policies.

Colonel Mitchell and his counsel remained silent about their plans, but there were plain indications that the controversy would be taken into the civil courts, probably for final advice by the supreme court of the United States.

ONE KILLED IN WRECK

ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 19 (AP)—Demolition of train No. 32 on the Pennsylvania railroad, that crashed between Pittsburgh and New York, west of here today, resulted in the death of one man and injury of nine others, four seriously.

One of the injured, a young man, was killed in a collision with a locomotive at Huntington Park, a suburb of Los Angeles.

The locomotive and all eight cars of the train were derailed, two day coaches upsetting.

Dramatic House with Death Across Ocean Is Lost by An Hour

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—A dramatic race with death was lost by an hour when Dr. Roberto Gonzalez, of Mexico, the son of Dr. Pedro Gonzalez, after the death of his father from a uraemic poisoning, the son is a graduate of Columbia university.

Traveling from Nicaragua by rail, he was held up by a storm and did not get to Washington until the night train for Washington, which would have brought him here at 11 o'clock last night.

When he arrived at a hotel in Washington, he was informed that his father had died peacefully an hour before he was being brought to a drink of water.

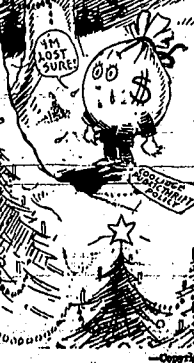

ITALIAN PARLIAMENT ADJOURNS UNTIL AFTER THE CHRISTMAS SEASON

ROME, Dec. 19 (AP)—Both houses of parliament adjourned tonight for the Christmas holidays after having approved in the brief session since November 18, new legislation designed to change radically the political complexion of Italy in any session since the advent of fascism.

While neither would discuss details of their conference, President Coolidge has made it clear that in determining the government's course with regard to the league's invitation, he would be guided largely by the wishes of congressional leaders.

Confidante of Woodrow Wilson Called by President to Discuss League of Nations Arms Proposals.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—President Coolidge, considering today the league of nations proposal for further disarmament, called into conference Colonel E. M. House, confidante of Woodrow Wilson and Senator Underwood, of Alabama, the democrat member of the American delegation to the Washington arms conference.

Invited to Washington by the president, Colonel House was an overnight guest at the White House. After conferring with Mr. Coolidge, the American commissioner to the Versailles peace conference, called on Secretary Kellogg at the state department. Colonel House said his visit was purely social.

Before his departure late today for New York, Colonel House reiterated his interest in the proposal before the senate for American adherence to the world court.

FRENCH PROPOSE INDUSTRY LEWY

PARIS, Dec. 19 (AP)—The proposal of the industrial leaders of northern France to pledge their properties as security for a loan from the United States or elsewhere for the purpose of stabilizing the franc and providing a sinking fund for the country's debts, gives a new twist to the discussion of how to reestablish French finances.

Man Who Remembered Adam with Monument Dies at Ohio Home

John P. Brady Succumbs at Baltimore; Erected Memorial to First Man; Eye Honored by Newspaper Paraphraser

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 19 (AP)—John P. Brady's sentiment in erecting a monument to the first man, Adam, was carried a step further last night after 17 years when at Greenville, S. C., he died at his home today before word of the newspaper paraphraser's remembrance of Adam's consort could reach him.

Mr. Brady, in erecting the monument declared that Adam's short campaign had been availed of by Mr. Brady in 1902. Annually, until his health failed two years ago, it had been Mr. Brady's custom to send a memorial service at the monument.

ARTISTS WILL HEAR WORK BY NEW ORCHESTRA

Efforts Being Made to Place America Among Those at Top in Music World; Will Try Out Method.

(By the Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The new who jumps out of an orchestra never knows until he hears that orchestra pull at his double bass when his part starts to go up. Just so, the thoughtful persons who compose a score for symphony orchestra do not know how it sounds until he hears it played.

The analogy here may not be precise, but it is useful in explaining the point of view of the composer who suffers from nervous tension until that of certain artists. Several persons who compose a score put their heads together and diagnosed the apparent mental ailment of American composers. The decision they arrived at was Americans must become writers of symphonic staff before America will ever rate as a producer of the finest musical art.

The corrective measure for the ill they concluded, were to remove that too prolonged period of suspense and give a hearing to symphonic compositions in their infancy, as in their infancy. They laid their plans and took them to the State Symphony Society, which decided that for the advancement of the art, the orchestra should have its orchestra play scores of youthful composers who would have the opportunity to listen and receive criticism.

The society decided to do more than this. It adopted a threefold program resulting first in interest itself, especially in musical music; second, to give and encourage young and young American musicians and to give an American conductor, and third, to carry its performances of good music to the masses.

In accordance with the first part of this plan, the orchestra obtained the services of Ernst Von Dohnanyi, Hungarian in birth and education, whose forte is popular rendition of musical masterpieces.

To provide for rehearsal of unpublicized symphony scores the society has set aside ten Saturday mornings. In charge of these trials it has placed a young American, Howard Hanson, retained as musical conductor. The committee will be the first to attempt to adapt the scores submitted, rehearse his orchestra in them, and then at a private sitting with artists and members of the symphony society, play them through while the composer

Mr. Dohnanyi, critic, members of the orchestra, and officials of the society will then confer, decide on the good and bad features of the work, and they offer their findings for the consideration of the writer, that he may take them home and meditate on the result. If he chooses, he may revise his program and return them to his private agent.

And the young musician—generally pictured as frail and thin—gets all this service gratis. He is only required to write his music and give it for scores of places to satisfy the demands of a symphony.

Santa Claus Loads Sleigh Expecting a Record Year; Hand of Charity Is Busy

Kris Kringle to Start on Journey Over World with Cheer and Happiness for Human Kind; America-Wearing-Top-Hat-and-Patent-Leather Pumps of Prosperity.

(By the Associated Press.)

Santa Claus is "backing with all his might" on the preparation for his year's visit to the children of the world, because reports to him have indicated that this will be the best Christmas since the Great War.

Old Nick apparently has not been affected by the controversy on the relative merits of the article. The latest statement from Lapland, transmitted via Copenhagen, said that he would hold to tradition and use his sleigh and sleigh for his annual voyage around the globe.

The sleigh will carry his greatest action, because of an indicated increase in the baby population almost everywhere, but Old Saint would like to take off promptly. The "flying up" will be in advance of former years.

Wearing Top Hat

He will find America wearing the top hat and patent leather pumps of prosperity in jaunty style. The altitude on the Old Continent is generally improved, France still is bothered with its franc, which performs like a circus clown.

England set her hat on the employment problem on its hands, other foreign countries have their ailments, but Old Saint announces that the peace treaty there came an air of peacefulness that overclouds them and holds out encouragement to the Yankee spirit.

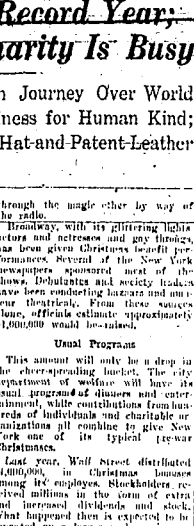

The grand procession of dances and parties, holiday festivities and society affairs already in making, everywhere, in constant and unceasing with Christmas here are being prepared for the traditional Christmas dinner, the call of the bells, the carols and the wassail.

From Florida to community health, the call of Christmas is evidenced in an unparelled effort to carry a message to others and so fortunate. Upstream in the reports from all American cities, the preparations for the week-end party, the forgotten, the lonely, the old.

In this respect the similarity of Christmas planned in more than any city of the country's largest cities, indicated that one hand may have directed the program.

The Hand of Charity went deep into the pocket. The Christmas Men will be observed in all churches with appropriate sermons, hand-voiced choir and words on the streets will send our silver carols ring will float through the vaulted domes of cathedrals and the rafters of little country homes of worship and

DONATIONS TO CLINIC HEAVY

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—A donation five years ago of $12,000 launched the Public Health Institute of Chicago on a—unofficial—campaign of—business—physiology and medicine, which now results in "traffics" devoted to a public health research program of $150,000 a year, gained from treating thousands who pay only a dollar or two a treatment.

The mass methods of big business have been developed by the Institute that patients pay only about one-tenth of the former cost of treatment, and still have the benefit of a research laboratory attention equal to the highest standards of the medical profession.

As high as 1,200 patients a day are handled at the Institute, which has in five years treated 75,000 cases. It is the aim of the Institute to reduce surgical infections to the same parity as typhoid and greater fever in Chicago, while reducing costs to the patient and improving the specifics.

At the same time the Institute staff has a chance to win financial success rarely achieved in individual medical practice.

"Our work is an experiment in standardization of medicine," said Dr. J. H. Berkwitz, head of the Institute. "All of our surplus goes into reduction of the cost of treating the patient, and perfecting our medicine."

"Our work—reverse the usual process—of handling contagious diseases as a community protection. Instead of building costly isolation hospitals where the removable to the medical profession are virtually nil, we aim to put arduous treatments cost so low that even the humblest can pay them, and still receive a reward for the physician's unusually high skill and effort.

"The greatest problem in stamping out social diseases is to convince the public that they have very little relation to immortality. Our health social diseases are among the easiest to cure."

To lower the cost of its treatments, the Institute has developed the large, consumable, laboratory of its kind in the world. Here virtually in its own medicine are manufactured. Few of these drugs in their form as administered are on the market, and must be manufactured from the primary ingredients. These ingredients are shipped to public institutes every where and discovered are shared with out charge.

As the greatest contribution to medical science, the Institute holds to its development of streptomycin as the only known remedy for tertiary syphilis, comparable to the discovery of insulin as a treatment for diabetes.

ROAD EMPLOYEES WANT INCREASE

Railway Conductors, Trainmen, Engineers and Firemen Plan New Demands, Says Officials

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 19.—Within the next sixty days railway conductors, trainmen, engineers and firemen throughout the country will demand an increase in pay that would bring their wages above that of the "peaks" Maxwell C. Beyer, president of the Western Maryland Railway, says tonight.

Mr. Beyer said his statement was based upon "information" that is common talk among railway officials, and upon reports of conferences held in Chicago during the last thirty days by officials of the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Higher Than War Time "It was decided of the annual convention of train service last year that increased wages would be demanded," Mr. Beyer said, "and the conference at Chicago indicated preliminary agreements. My understanding is that the demands of the employees would make the wage scale higher than the war time scale. This high demand is made, of course, with the idea that a rate promise will be reached upon the way. The railway officials, however, are generally estimated by all railroad officials, but has not reached the public yet. The unions have not made the demand upon any scale.

Holiday Trade in Twin Falls Greater Than in Some Time Past with Wide Varieties from Which to Choose and Heavy Demand for Christmas Goods and Novelties

What shall I give for Christmas? After a trip through the Twin Falls, loaded down with gifts that would tax the heart of old Santa himself, this question would seem easily answered and yet, according to Twin Falls merchants, hundreds of buyers have not yet made their selections with Christmas but four short shopping days away.

Underway here, beads, silks, bright colors, and other things equally as attractive and tempting good the eye of the male shopper as of the girl. The variety of gifts in Twin Falls stores from which the shopper may choose is perhaps greater here than in any other town in the state.

Beautiful, gorgeously decorated bells, silk and wool socks of many colors, which are made to order, and many other articles make the selection of purchases a most interesting and satisfying occupation.

When the season is over, the Christmas gifts of a new calendar, a picture, a clock and in addition, a great deal of attention.

During this year, merchants are unanimous in declaring, as to be of finer things, where last year a small gift for a few cents was the rule, now the tendency is to buy something costing a little more. While goods are not so cheap as they were last year, this year's gifts are more substantial.

Churches Here Will Observe Christmas

Special Musical Programs and Sermons at Various Churches to Mark Occasion.

Christmas, the first day in the calendar of Christendom, will be observed with special services in Twin Falls churches today.

The Methodist Episcopal church of the same hour, will give its annual Christmas concert, featuring vocal, instrumental and organ solos.

In the Baptist church at evening the young people's choir, directed by Mrs. W. C. Foster, will present a special musical program.

JURY FAILS TO REACH ACCORD

Deliberations Bring No Verdict in Case Involving Claim for Injuries.

Deliberations extending over a period of five hours failed to bring agreement on the part of the jury in the case of D. T. O. Bryant against the Idaho Telephone and Telegraph company.

In this action Bryant sought damages of the amount of $1,000 for personal injuries sustained by him as a result of a runaway accident, which, it is alleged, was caused by sudden starting of the dynamo on the line.

REVIEW SHOWS GRID STANDINGS

Kellogg and Firth Share Championship Honors for State; Ranking of Teams Given.

MOSCOW, Dec. 19.—A review of high school football in the state is now in order, the season finally over with the state title shared equally by Kellogg and Firth, north and south Idaho champions, as the result of a 6-0 tie game at Kellogg last week. This review is made in preparation to the selection next week by the writers of three all-state line-ups which will be released for publication Dec. 23. Selection of any "all-covers" in any section, based entirely upon personal observations, has become impossible and it is impossible to any one in the state of Idaho because the whole is too large. A diligent review of all newspaper verifications of games played, with conferences and examinations from certain authorities and coaches in the state are the sources of information upon which the writer makes the selections.

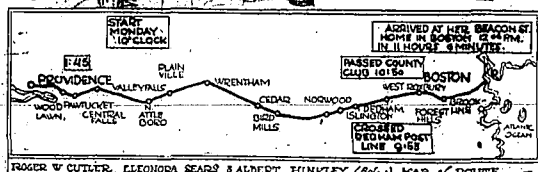

Because high school football in the state is now in order, the season finally over with the state title shared equally by Kellogg and Firth, north and south Idaho champions, as the result of a 6-0 tie game at Kellogg last week. This review is made in preparation to the selection next week by the writers of three all-state line-ups which will be released for publication Dec. 23. Selection of any "all-covers" in any section, based entirely upon personal observations, has become impossible and it is impossible to any one in the state of Idaho because the whole is too large. A diligent review of all newspaper verifications of games played, with conferences and examinations from certain authorities and coaches in the state are the sources of information upon which the writer makes the selections.

Here it is outlined in a brief review of the 12 teams of the state: Firth Kellogg, Parma, Pocatello, Moscow, Twin Falls, Coeur d'Alene. We are quite sure about the first two, but after that it is considerable of a guess. Firth is entitled to an edge over Kellogg, because of a clean record. Kellogg having dropped one game to Lewiston early in the season. Parma and Pocatello must be considered as well, but only because they were sectional champions because of their record. Boise is placed fifth, because of the splendid victory over Pocatello at the close of the season.

Other teams in the north that could easily replace some of those named include Caldwell, Shoshone, Rupert, Hinko Falls, Burley and Buhl. Firth, the team ranked first by the state, was able to lead Idaho Falls only 15-14 at the start of the season, so it is seen what a hard problem the duplicate line-up will be to select 22 players for three all-state selections in this state of so many strong teams.

What of next year? Strong teams are apt to be in favor. In the north, Kellogg and Firth are favored for heavy losses from graduation. In Kellogg's first team going, Moscow loses seven and Coeur d'Alene is also hit hard by graduation. Lewiston also played the season with juries and sophomores and Coach Brown of the Bengals will have about 11 returning letter men, being only one tackle and an end from the first eleven. In the south, Parma, Firth and Firth suffer from graduation. Boise has a team of underclassmen and should not be a wild-card next year. Coeur d'Alene has only one man and should be in the running. Pocatello loses several stellar performers and so on.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19 (AP)—The democratic drive to revise the tariff started in the house today with the introduction of the first of a series of resolution bills.

Representative OMBUD of Arkansas, the democratic whip, launched his movement by introducing a bill to repeal the 35 cents a box duty on each from Canada because of the present unduly restrictive suspension. A bill proposing an investigation of the textile industry and reduction in tariff duties has been prepared by Mr. OMBUD and he will introduce it in the House of Representatives.

Many things were considered in dealing with the question of tariffs, which will take twenty-five. Among them are the public's taste, current fashion and development, the interests and "stars" on hand and "locations."

PRODUCER PLANS NEW TYPE MOVIE

Famous Players-Lasky to Spend $22,000,000 Next Year in Meeting Demand.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19 (AP)—Vivid melodrama, broad comedy and historical plays all are wanted by the American audience, public, in the opinion of Lewis Lasky, and next year the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation will spend $22,000,000 in meeting this demand.

A number of photographs will be of the "super-great" scenes and will present what Mr. Lasky termed a "distinct individuality," accompanied by the production of authors, scenarios, directors and actors.

For instance, Theodore Rossetti and the others who followed him in the Spanish-American war will be featured in "The Rough Riders." Hermon Langdon, one of Rossetti's biographers, has been selected to write the scenario. An actor, yet unknown to the public, has been studying the principal role several months and will appear before directors of the Rossetti Memorial Association for approval.

Then there is Florenz Ziegfeld who will enter the movie to produce a picture called "Glorifying the American Girl." It will be a picture of a young woman and many of the Ziegfeld beauties will appear. Esther Blalock will have the leading role.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS AT CASTLEFORD PLANNED

Famous Players-Lasky to Spend $22,000,000 Next Year in Meeting Demand.

CASTLEFORD, Dec. 19.—Several community Christmas programs are planned for the coming week. On Thursday afternoon all the grade pupils of the district will have a program in the high school auditorium, followed by a play from the Methodist Sunday school and the church program in the school on Thursday evening while the Epistat Sunday school will have their program in their church building on Wednesday evening.

Frank Clark, of Cedar Creek, has purchased the Converter truck at Hootch, consisting of a approximately 4000 feet. The purchase price was $41,000.

Mr. Charles Pond, county superintendent of the State Highway Department, visited the first of the week. At the request of the L. O. O. F. lodge at this place, the State Highway Department presented the industrial show recently given at this school. This was given in the high school on Wednesday evening, and included Mrs. E. H. Harding, Mrs. H. Bennett, Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Thurgott.

Mr. G. P. Bennett has again offered her organ to the Fullerton Dining Club, and the members of the club desire to use them. Mrs. Bennett has about 500 levee in market at this time, and the demand of the company is about 900 a week.

KIMBERLY COMMUNITY CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Kimberly, Dec. 19.—A number of persons were spent on Wednesday afternoon at the Kimberly community club.

The usual routine of business was dispensed with by the president, Mrs. J. J. Patterson. The social hour of conversation and fancy work followed. At the close of the afternoon, the meeting was adjourned. The social hour of conversation and fancy work followed. At the close of the afternoon, the meeting was adjourned.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Belleville and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown and Mrs. J. Smith of Twin Falls, and Paul Fisher, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klauer of Kimberly.

TRAIN SERVICE TO GROW WITH TRAFFIC GAINS

R. A. Pierce, Oregon Short Line General Superintendent, Tells Plans for Operating Rogerson-Wells Line.

Train service on the Rogerson Wells line, that will begin February 15, next, with operation of a mixed train three times a week, will be expanded with increase of traffic requirements, according to R. A. Pierce, Oregon Short Line general superintendent, who with other officials of the road, arrived in Twin Falls Saturday afternoon in four special cars to make an inspection trip over the new rail way route to the north.

The official party included besides Mr. Pierce, R. H. Proctor, chief engineer; E. E. Hanson, Idaho division superintendent; A. C. Blodgett, superintendent of motive power machinery; E. W. Alford, division engineer, and J. L. Crane, master mechanic.

Trains will leave Twin Falls over the new line, when operation begins, Mr. Pierce stated, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week, making connection here with Train No. 20 westbound at 11 a. m. On the return trip on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week, connection will be made here with Train No. 21 eastbound at 5:30 p. m.

The new line has not yet been turned over to the general operating department by the construction department. Construction of the road is complete, Mr. Pierce stated, with the exception of a little surfacing and reconstruction of such buildings and structures as the operating department may deem desirable at this time.

The visiting officials Saturday afternoon inspected the round house now nearing completion here. They will make the trip over the new line today.

TRICKS USED TO GET EFFECTS IN MOVIE PICTURES

Many Illusions Created by Versatility of Engineers; Secrets of Trade Conserve Millions of Dollars.

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 19. -- The movie public has many illusions that are created by trick photography and the use of special effects.

These secrets of the trade conserve millions of dollars annually in the budgets of producers. The first point out, however, that they are not used to deceive the viewer, but to help him see the story more clearly.

In the photographic tricks, the most important perhaps, is the "glass ceiling" illusion. This is a device of painted glass placed slightly above the camera lens.

Work Necessary. This glass work is necessary because of the lighting done by the camera. The roof or upper parts of the set are not constructed. Instead, strong flood lights are placed above the set.

Weeks of ocean liners are erected in a small tank in the studio. Howling gales are provided by mechanical wind machines. The "ocean" is lashed to fury by paddles, and the top layer, perhaps two inches thick, is made of about six inches of water.

When the movie spectator sees actors struggling perilously on the surface of a precipice or on the cornice of a tall building, he may be witnessing a scene shot in two different places.

Collapse of Radio Stocks Is Discussed by R. Babson

Famous Statistician Tells of Fundamentals of Industry; Tremendous Growth and Future Given Attention.

BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 19. -- Roger Babson, famous statistician and one of the founders of the radio industry, here brings out its tremendous growth and what the future of the industry is.

Two Kinds of Radio Business. "When discussing radio, it should be remembered that there are two distinct divisions of the industry. The first division--that for which it was originally started--was to carry messages.

One of the strong features of the radio message business is its rapid growth. When the Radio Corporation gets a newspaper or business house, the radio message business is its rapid growth.

Independent companies were carrying on independent business. The United Fruit company had valuable property as well as did the General Electric and Westinghouse. All of these were possible together when the Radio Corporation of America was formed.

Manufacturers were unable to supply order. Almost immediately, great quantities of goods were taken by surprise. The interest in radio spread this country like a great tidal wave.

Growth Has Been Too Rapid. In January, 1922, there were only six radio companies of any importance. Today there are about 600 companies, producing sets and supplies, each doing a large business.

the manufacture of electrical apparatus for which one makes only one sale. Hence, the radio message business was founded on a "right principle" and some day patient investors in the stock of the Radio Corporation will be richly rewarded.

These radio companies have made a lot of money or rather, did make a lot of money, at the start. Statistics show that the manufacture of receiving sets was exceedingly profitable in the early days.

These great profits, however, brought on their own punishment. Any industry which offers great profits in proportion to the risk inevitably brings on itself a period of very severe competition.

CONQUEROR OF THE MONGOLIAN WILDS

Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews, who started the world a few years ago by discovering a nest of dinosaur eggs ten million years old, arrived in New York on November 9th from his Third Asiatic Expedition under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History.

Again he attributes much of the success of his expedition to the astounding performance of his five Dodge Brothers Motor Cars.

Following is a direct quotation from an official statement by Dr. Andrews upon his return to America:

The Gobi Desert in Mongolia is the most extensive undeveloped and unexplored region now left in the world. Until a few years ago it was retarded by the impossibly slow traffic of camel trains, the only means of communication.

But now it is being crisscrossed in every direction by motor cars, or, more correctly by one motor car, the Dodge. Sixty or seventy Dodge Brothers cars are making regular trips far into the interior of this vast waste, bringing out loads of fables, precious furs, wool and other products.

No other car except the Dodge is found there because we have tried it out on each of our three expeditions and have had it demonstrated to our satisfaction that the Dodge is the only car that will stand up under the strain of the roadless desert and do everything we ask of it.

Few people have occasion to subject their motor cars to punishment of this severity. It is reassuring, however, to know that in emergencies Dodge Brothers Motor Car is built to meet the test.

These dependable and sturdy qualities also account for the fact that more than 90% of all the motor cars Dodge Brothers have built during the past eleven years, are still in active service.

EXPEDITION TO USE RADIO FOR JUNGLE JOURNEY

Scientific Adventurers on Trip Into Dutch New Guinea Country Will Take Along Broadcasting Devices.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Radio faithful comrades of the explorer, undertaken in heights of the New Guinea heat, will follow the Striding expedition into the unknown jungles and mountains of Dutch New Guinea.

The party has sailed from San Francisco for the island about 10,000 miles that will terminate on the shores of Papua, where the rest of the journey will begin.

The half dozen scientific adventurers taking the airplane in which they hope to fly over vast uncharted stretches, have arranged to establish three radio stations. The first will be on the coast, the second on a mountain peak, and the third about the plane.

The expedition will be augmented at Singapore with an escort provided by the Dutch government. It is planned for the coast and interior camps to be kept in touch by wireless and when the plane goes on jaunts for fuel and passengers, it will talk to the camps and possibly to the outside world.

Matthew W. Stirling, anthropologist, heading the expedition, hopes to speak direct from the plane to Singapore, London, or any other city which may be in the way.

He says the world has the explorers are facing and what they have found. The plane is equipped with photography and aerial map making. It carries all the latest safety devices.

By using the plane to hop from the coast to the interior the party will eliminate much of the hardships that have been raised often since the first of German origin to be entertained at Buckingham palace after the close of hostilities.

BERNARD MACFADDEN and his own beauty parade. The girls are his daughters, left to right: Helen, Brynna, Beulah, Braunda, and Beverly, taken recently on the boardwalk at Atlantic City, N. J. Mr. MacFadden has just electrified the entire nation by revealing in his New York newspaper, the Evening Graphic, that the annual beauty contest held in the famous resort was fixed. The expose has created a nationwide sensation. Friends of the girls are forming a committee in every city to demand justice. The millionaire "Father of Physical Culture," known as "The man who is brilliantly alive," is being deluged with telegrams from newspaper publishers all over the country commending him on his fearless presentation of the news.

One hundred and one professional comedians are in rehearsal in England for the Christmas season. This is discouraging to the creators who have estimated that the days of pandemonium are over.

In the larger English cities are preparing to make way for pantomimes to amuse children and grown-ups alike during the holiday season.

So great is the demand for pantomime actors that the regular stage cannot supply more than the principal. Minor roles are acted by amateur performers, many of whom have had years of experience. Unemployed moving picture actors will appear in many pantomimes and street vendors and even charwomen are called in for some of the parts.

Almost entirely to personal appearance, manner and hearing, Sir Austen's voice is wholly unlike that of Mr. Wilson.

George Bernard Shaw hates the movies and will not allow any of his plays to be filmed. He was horrified upon attending a production of his "Saint Joan" at the Palace theatre. He has threatened to sue a moving picture advertisement flashed on the curtain during one of the intermissions.

Shaw immediately sent one of his famous postcards to the house manager saying he would be expected to pay 15 per cent of the revenue derived from the advertisement in addition to the royalty of the play. Shaw's share was eighteen shillings for the week's display of the advertisement. But Alvin Young, the manager of the theatre, had Shaw's portrait photographed and made considerable sum from the sale of copies.

Prince Christian of Hesse Is First German to Attend Dinner With Royal Family

LONDON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Prince Christian of Hesse dined with King George and Queen Mary recently, thus giving the answer to the question which has been raised often since the war, as to who would be the first individual of German origin to be entertained at Buckingham palace after the close of hostilities.

Prince Christian came to London to attend the funeral of Queen Mother Alexandra, "Aunt Alice," he called her.

Early in the war he attracted public notice by writing an open letter to Kaiser Wilhelm at the beginning of the submarine campaign, protesting the commission in the German navy as a traitor. Even before that incident, however, the ruling family of Hesse was not exactly an what could be con-

KENTUCKY COUNTY HAS THREE REPRESENTATIVES

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 19. (AP)—The Free State of Butler, before she could send one to Congress in her own name and Morgantown, a village of 700 population, now has four native sons in the nation's legislative halls.

When John W. Moore took his seat as Congress member December 14, he found there three other Butler county men, only one of whom, like himself, will be "the gentleman from Kentucky." The other two represent Oklahoma.

Senator John W. Hearl of Oklahoma is the senior member of the committee of men who vote here to gether around Morgantown. Congress man Maurice H. Thatcher of the Fifth Kentucky District, and Everett H. Howard of Utah, Oklahoma, and Missouri and Howard are democratic voters in the "Free State," while Hearl and Thatcher represent come by their political affiliations naturally. The Kentucky county from whence they come won its reputation as the "Free State of Butler" back in the days of the Missouri Compromise, when its citizens freed their slaves and permitted no others to enter, despite the fact that Kentucky was a slave state.

Moore was elected to succeed the late R. Y. Thomas, Jr., in the Third district. His success was largely due to his "hip" whip out a normal republican majority of 2,500 in his home county.

Theosophical Order of the Star of the East Would Great Saviour in Body of Youth.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19.—The theosophical order of the star in the east, organized fourteen years ago to prepare for the coming of a savior.

This announcement was made here today by Dr. Elmer S. Stone, international secretary of the order.

The savior is a great spirit dog, the author continued, "and the dog which has been evolved from the fox and the bull terror with a strain of dandy daintiness."

Foreign debts, railway consolidation, agricultural policy, tariff, federal taxes and the functioning of the Federal Reserve System, are among topics slated for consideration by notable divisions at the convention of the American Economic Association.

LOVE OF 'MOLLY' TURNED IN PRINCE OF WALLS' ABSENCE

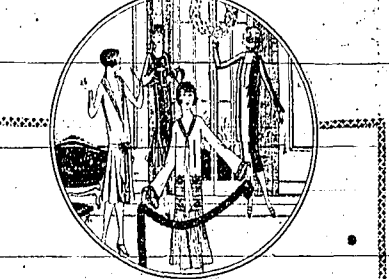

LONDON, Dec. 19.—The prince of Wales has not often been friends with a dog, but he has been so since a result of the prolonged absence during his South African and South American trips, a rabbit friend has been returned to Lady Dutton's apartments.

CITY IN TEXAS FURNISHES MEN

Austin Home Town of Many Big League Ball Players, According to Statistics.

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 19. (AP)—Our Austin product in the major leagues for each year indicates as here for this city's best that it is one of the leading "home towns" of the country, as far as big league ball players are concerned.

The five Athletics, whose white socks are, "Hit" Park, Chicago White Sox outfielder; "Hit" Collins, Detroit Tiger pitcher; "Hit" Park, southern St. Louis Brown pitcher, who as a pinch hitter, led his league with hits to a .341 average; Frank Thomas, Boston Braves catcher, and "Hit" Cleveland, who pitched for a time for the St. Louis Cardinals and finished his career with Dallas of the Texas League.

Rivers already has been notified to report to the Cubs for spring training in 1926. He was not recalled here, but attended Texas University and calls Austin his home.

"Hit" Park and Collins are the best known here of the five. Both attended Austin High school and starred in baseball and football. After graduation, Park was an outstanding football and baseball player at Texas University here, while Collins attended Texas A. & M. at College Station. He was instrumental in twice defeating Texas University, each rival in athletics of Texas A. & M.

Cecil Durr, who played with St. Paul and was one of the leading hitters of the American Association, is another Austin product. For two seasons he was with the Browns and was for a time used at first base in 1923 when Manager Sauer was out of the game.

None of the most enthusiastic fans of Jim Rogers Hornsby as an Austin product. Hornsby was born in Huntsville county, but when he was a few months old came to Travis county, in which Austin is located. He is now about 15 miles from the capital city for eight years.

Hornsby has scores of relatives living in or near Austin. Hornsby's Grand, founded by his great-grandfather, is one of the oldest settlements in the county.

Will You Believe Your Own Experience?
Drive the Hupmobile Eight for an hour or for a day—as you've never dared to drive any other car.
Try it for all the usual things—then go ahead and do all the things you've always wanted to do, but never have tried because you felt they weren't fair to the car.
We ask you—will you make this test, and let your own good judgment tell you that the Hupmobile Eight is the one car above all others that you want to own.
And remember this—everything the Hupmobile Eight shows you, is built in there to endure, because that is the way Hupmobile builds.

What's What in The Sport World

Copyright, 1925, King Features By FRANK G. MENCKE

By FRANK G. MENCKE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19, 1925.—This town has become a sort of Mecca for leg fighters, in and out of the ring, with the Manhattan gymnasium, operated by a couple of the Dempsey, in their particular shrine.

Jack, the champion, extracted $10,000 from his coffers not so long ago, hired a loft in a building on S. Spring street, designed a gymnasium along his own particular ideas of what a modern, light and airy training quarters for a fighter should be, turned the job over to a contractor and, when it all was done, he summoned his trainers, Bernard and Johnny and said:

"This place belongs to you fellows in a 24-hour party. You ought to make a good living out of it and if you don't, you're a couple of bad business men. I'm going to get you good business men, at any rate. They've quickly become the eight headquarters for boxers in training, it's the spot where trainers, managers, matchmakers, reporters and the various set of celebrities of pugilism meet in the afternoon and swap notes, blow and the time of day. Fighters pay $50 per month for the privilege, managers and, the others get in free, but the general public pays out 20 cents a seat for the night or ten weeks' runs per day, with Dempsey usually headlining in a four-round tilt with sporting partners.

The gym has become a sort of league of champions, with all the world's big names, wearing white from all parts of the world. Italian fighters are here, Philadelphians, Hawaiians and youths from most of the states in the sections of American boxing.

Jack Dempsey, of course, is the star of the propelling first whirlwind, rope skipping, long punching and wrestling and mauling acts. And the champion is Fido L. Russo, the Los Angeles professional American boxer, who led into defeat, and later became acknowledged flyweight champion of the world in the death of Pancho Villa. Another division leader is Mike Butler, the former junior lightweight champion, who has just blown himself to a milk chocolate colored suit of clothes with three white, white shirt and tie, and a necktie, whenever he struts the California heavyweight.

Franky Wilson, of Minneapolis, the only independent, long-legged featherweight—or any other weight—in the amateur ranks, is making good progress in the bantam from Portland who is called "The Oregon Shik" because of his peculiarly shaped legs in the ring regular. Bud Taylor, the Chicago bantam, Pete Sarnicola, the Filipino, Ted Monte, the English middleweight, Johnny Sauer, the Shamus, Pa., welterweight and Eddie Thompson, the New York featherweight, "Mack" Calahan, who knocked out Paul Moore does it's only done in the Manhattan gymnasium, as does Art Hunkins, lightweight of Nebraska, who achieved great fame by almost annihilating Joe Bonjanni, Lee Palmer, the Salt Lake youngster, Tommy O'Brien, who finished brilliantly for a while in the Eastern lightweight division, and Eddie Lohr, of Battle, Montana, ranked as a great welterweight prospect, also prep for their battles in the same gymnasium.

Bill Tint, sporting partner for Jack Dempsey in his training for the Jess Willard and other fight, is here. So is Ben Roger, the retired heavyweight, who feels that the California climate agrees with him, inasmuch as he can amble around in his tailors' way, without danger of catching cold. Ted Morgan, the veteran featherweight, lightweight champion from Portland, Marty Farrell, the middleweight who once won the Mexican heavyweight, who once won Dempsey's marring partner, Ray Newman, the light heavy, Jack League, the Texas heavyweight slugger and Billy Wallace, a lightweight, work out in the same gym.

Also present in Tony Ferrate, the so-called Mexican heavyweight, who was fired in the penny diet with Fred Fulton, Ernie Owen, the light heavy whose greatest claim to fame up to this time is that "he looks like Dempsey" does his work here. So do Billy Kelly, the veteran featherweight; Lew Hollinger, of Chicago, a fine looking amateur among the 125-pounders; Arthur H. Bunting, of Memphis; Alex. Dranilian, the Portland welter; Joe Bonjanni, the lightweight; Bobby Michaels, who used to fight around 130 when he was in Leo P. Flynn's New York stable; Benny Valgar, a former light heavy; George McCreary, Senoio Molter, the young Philadelphian, brought here by Frank Churehill and his agent, the former flyweight champion Pancho Villa, is at the gym daily. They've electrified his last name and in fighting circles here he is now known merely as clever Senoio. Leo Loisaki, a middleweight from Seattle, who knocked out Bert Colina in two rounds, and is reputed to be one of the most terrific hitting 150 pounders in the world, is a daily center.

On the other front of the crowd many old timers gather with the managers and trade special wagers on the coming of the Oakland Six.

Spike Robinson breezes around daily. Danny Goodson, a great one in his day is there. Jerry McElroy, the old Montana bunter, a losing instructor at the gym and a sure of others who drift in and out through, in the jangling, assert with greater vehemence that "fighting" ain't it, it can be these guys today is able.

Usually a gymnasium is just a gymnasium. But this one which Jack Dempsey established for his trainers seems to have within it more than the rack of arena and stateroom; more than the sight of glowing and shimmering steamers; more than the sound of blows, the sight of whirling gloves and the thudding thump of a punching bag against a platform.

It seems to be some harbor into which sail the trio, now, athletic, prof of tone—and the weather beats on lunks and derelicts of yesterday; it is more than a mere place for men identified with every branch of the fight game. Rather it is a picturesque haven for those to anchor their bodies and souls; where the younger men exchange blows and the older men, with their years of physical prowess long since gone, and the lust for warfare forever still, give—and take—from the atmosphere of manly

THOMPSON DENIES REPORT
QUINCY, Ill., Dec. 19. (AP)—Sam H. Thompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, denied today that his speech here last night contained any statement quoting Vice President Davis as believing that the essential policy of the federation is to expel farmers with their crops of physical

"I was not in long distance conversation with Vice President Davis yesterday and never have been," Mr. Thompson said. "Vice President Davis is one of the many public men who are giving thought to the agricultural situation. I referred to him in that connection last night. The statement purporting to set forth the vice president's views on one-third of the agricultural problem was not authorized by me."

Why do so many women drive The OAKLAND SIX?

Women choose the new Oakland Six in preference to all other cars in its price class, not only because it is more beautiful and comfortable, but also because it is safer and easier to drive.

Threading through traffic in this car is a joy rather than a task. Steering and gear-shifting are pleasingly free from effort. Oakland's proven Four-Wheel Brakes respond to incredibly slight pressure. Night driving is made simpler and safer by the convenient dimmer on steering wheel.

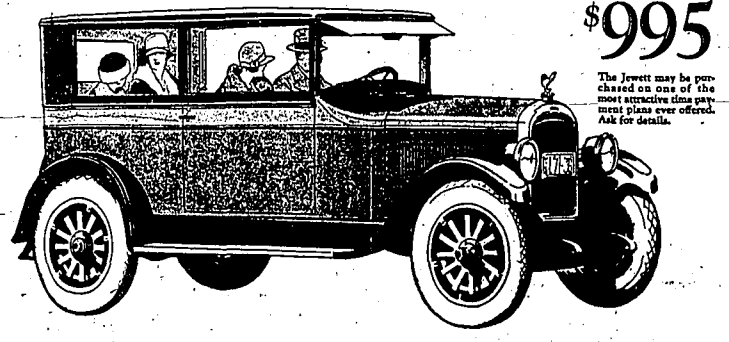

All of these features combine to make the Oakland Six the favored car among women, just as its outstanding mechanical advantages, including Air Cleaner, Oil Filter, Full Pressure Oiling and The Harmonic Balancer—and new price $70 to $350 lower—make it the preferred car among men.
