House Military Group Plan to Ask Officers What Effect
Secretary's Statement Will Have on Future Testimony.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The investigation by the war department of the steps army air officers have taken in advancing creation of a separate military department has been delayed in the house military committee, whose members gave considerable thought to the problem of future inquiry into the nature of testimony by officers before committees of congress. The committee plans to question tomorrow a number of ranking officers of both army and navy on the subject.

The committee also expects to continue tomorrow with the consideration of recommendation of Major General Mason M. Patrick, army air chief, in a report on the subject. The committee will have before it an unfavorable report on the proposal by Secretary Davis of the war department.

At a meeting today, the committee questioned Secretary Wilbur of the navy as to his views on the recommendation of the president's statement on aviation. Mr. Wilbur stated that he had agreed to act as a member of a special committee, but that he would be of no value in assisting with aviation development, especially in the development of new aircraft.

Meanwhile, Representative Leland, in a speech before the committee in the house that the department's investigation was "extraneous, and that the army officers were to be given credit for their part in the war while Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the democratic member of the committee, in a speech before the committee, said that the military officers from being taken to task for the testimony given in connection with the investigation.

STRIKE PLANS ARE CHANGED

Three Railroad Brotherhoods Not to Take Action Contemplated Before Conference.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Feb. 10 (AP)—No action will be taken toward carrying into effect the strike of three brotherhoods on the Texas & Pacific railway until after their representatives have conferred with the United States railroad labor board at Chicago Friday in compliance with the board's request.

This was announced today in a joint statement issued by national representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, following conference of officials here this afternoon.

An spokesman, R. H. Edgington, assistant grand chief engineer of the B. & O. E. Cleveland, criticized previous statements from all three brotherhoods here that the strike vote had carried and made it plain that the national representatives have full authority to make a settlement with the employing carrier. "What the outcome of the conference would be, Edgington would not predict, merely pointing to the nominal character of authority carried by the labor board. Edgington also went on to explain that opposition statements regarding the situation from which the strike question arose, indicated a smaller amount of trackage involved in the controversy than is really the case. All of the Texas & Pacific tracks between Alexandria, Louisiana, and New Orleans, a distance of 815 miles, is involved, and the strike area, he said, from pooling of tonnage by the two lines with the result that Missouri Pacific tracks in Texas did practically all of the hauling.

Publishes Summary

The Swiss federal government at Bern tonight published a summary of what it calls its final proposal to the soviet government concerning the resumption of the soviet-europe-vorway at Lonsbury, May 10, 1923. The Swiss government, however, explained that although this proposal is considered final it does not necessarily close the international street, nothing has been heard in reply from Moscow.

Through the intermediary channels, Switzerland has told Russia that she is prepared to declare that she respects the fundamental constitution of Geneva, as she has at all times, and is disposed to examine the soviet's financial conditions for Vorway's daughter on condition that this is discussed together with Swiss officials against Russia, giving out of the laborist revolution.

Explains Legion's Program for Peace

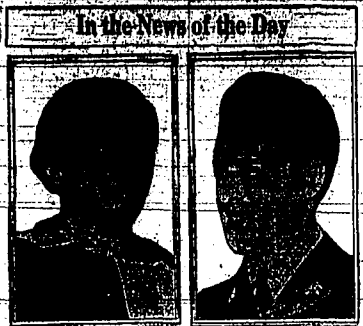

"The American Legion is organized for the purpose of promoting world peace," he proposed to them. "In fact, different ways, as decided at the national convention last year. The first step is to propose to the second, a universal draft of not only men but industries and resources in line of war; the third, a treaty of mutual non-attack of some kind; and the fourth, the obliteration of all ill feeling in this country toward any other part of the world," stated Judge J. L. Hodglin before the senior high school in assembly Wednesday afternoon. In elaborating upon his first point he said further, "We object to murder and robbery, yet we do not abolish the police force. That would be absurd. Neither do we believe in war, but it has been proposed that we eliminate a means of preventing war. That is just as absurd. Lack of preparedness in all the wars of our history has caused them to continue as an entirely unnecessary length of time, according to calculations by historians. Let us not allow that to occur again. In a slight degree we are trying to get the seniors to go to some institution of higher learning. That is not impossible for any one, either boy or girl, for you can work your way through, and it means a great increase in your earning capacity when you get out into life. You are sure to find your niche, the kind of work that suits you best, that you are 'college.'" In the course of his talk the speaker stressed the three points which he considered most important: world citizenship, namely, observance of law, interest in government affairs and patriotism. In preparation for this he urged the cultivation of school spirit.

Assembly singing of patriotic and school songs, Miss Dunning leading, closed the assembly.

Life Dramas That Thrill!

Everyone enjoys a good story, but when that story has the added advantage of being true, the interest it arouses is increased many folds.

That is one reason why True Story Magazine is the favorite periodical among millions of readers. Every one of its stories is a true experience lived right out of life.

In this unusual publication, its writers investigate actual events which actually happened; they reveal problems of love and marriage, of success and failure, of joy and tragedy, that they have met and solved by their own experiences in their inner lives, for the benefit of others; that would otherwise never be buried in their hearts. The result is a monthly magazine containing eighteen or twenty of the most thrilling, most inspiring life drama that you could imagine. Each True Story is new on the newstand. Buy it today.

Try Sinclair's First "IT PAYS"

five real reasons for its fine flavor

- Schilling is the only coffee roaster in America who specializes on but one grade of coffee and seals it in vacuum tins.
- The world's supply of high-grade coffee beans is limited. Occasionally there is an unforeseen scarcity. For years Schilling has carried reserve stocks of the finest beans so that whatever may happen—your Schilling coffee never varies a fraction in fine flavor.
- A blind person has a keen sense of flavor. Schilling is the only coffee expertly tested by the blind to insure unvarying quality.
- Not only is Schilling coffee packed in vacuum tins to preserve the flavor, but it is packed in "key-wind" tins to better protect the flavor after the tin is opened.
- You buy every tin of your Schilling Coffee on approval. If you do not like it—you do not pay for it. Your grocer returns your money. You keep the coffee.

SETBACK GIVEN TO DOG OF HEAT Speculative Selling - Broadens and Market Slumps as a Result on Chicago Exchange.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10. (AP)—Speculative selling of wheat broadened out today in the late trading and together with a surprising decline at Liverpool as well as lack of activity here, developed a decided setback in price. Chicago closing quotations were heavy, 5.16 1/2 to 5.17 1/2 for wheat, 1.15 to 1.16 for corn, 1.07 to 1.08 for soybeans and 1.10 to 1.11 for oats.

Unexpected weakness of the Liverpool market was variously explained as due chiefly to selling on orders from Chicago and to increasing offers from Argentina. A large extent of initial declines here were the result of sympathy with the action of values at Liverpool, but active buying here developed on the temporary in Chicago gave prices a temporary lift to well above yesterday's finish.

Chicago wheat and corn markets were affected by eastern selling of hard and soft wheat, which was reported to be doing damage to seen in Buenos Aires province. Speculation was earlier affected by eastern selling of hard and soft wheat, which was reported to be doing damage to seen in Buenos Aires province.
