ADOPT FINANCE PLAN OF PERET BY LARGE VOTE

French Senate and Chamber of Deputies Pass Measure for Restoration of France; Signal Victory for Briand.

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS, April 4.—(The government) Measures for the restoration of France's finances was finally voted into law this morning by the chamber and senate, 360 to 153.

Passage by the French parliament of finance measures declined to halve the budget represented a signal victory for Prime Minister Georges Pere, his Finance minister, M.
Briand returned to the helm just as the legislative assembly met at Grenoble March 9, after having been defeated by a vote of 359 to 153. The bill had initially passed in a modified form the measure, with which the French government hoped to relieve the financial crisis and stimulate the trade.
The measure, which supplanted the tax on payments, was modified so as to apply only to jobbers and wholesale traders. A poll tax and an increase in the customs tariff were other features. Reigning on the oil monopoly and sugar monopoly was postponed.

Three finance ministers, M. Léon Léonard, Joseph Caillaux and M.
Léonard, who succeeded one another from office of M. Briand to make possible the adoption of the measure for which he had fought stubbornly three months.

The measure was possible by two factors. A socialist caucus had decided to abstain from voting and Edward Herriot, threw his personal support to the government and urged his socialist colleagues to vote for it.

The budget deficit amounted to 450, 000,000 francs, while the new revenue voted by parliament was expected to total 400,000,000 francs, leaving a surplus of 50,000,000 francs beyond that.
The modified turnover tax bill will yield 1,200,000,000 francs and 225,000,000 and the poll tax 57,000,000 francs.

The chamber of deputies rose at 4:40 o'clock this Sunday morning
It will reconvene April 20.

To Probe Affairs Of Benefactor of Cinderella Girl

Edward W. Browning, Wealthy New York Realtor, Faces Investigation Growing Out of Marriage Announcement.

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Two more investigations growing out of the announcement—that 16-year-old Frances Heenan would marry Edward W. Browning, wealthy real estate operator, as soon as she passes her sixteenth birthday, were started today.

An investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death last Sunday of Mrs. Frances Heenan, 15, a model, a week after she had attended a party with Browning and his new “cinderella,” was begun by Vincent Placido, supervisor of the Society for the Protection of the Homeless.

At the same time the police announced that they also would question friends of Miss Lubin.

Browning took the girls from the party to a famous night club in New York and spent the night as the guest of the Heenan girl.
The next morning, Frances said, Stellar went out with a man described as “the senator” and that night she had made ill by something eating dinner at supper in the “senator’s” apartment.

The police said they would question Martin C. Anderson, former congressman, who died last year, and Mrs.
Lubin on her last outing.

SENATE COMMITTEE DRAWS SHARP LINES FOR PROHIBITION BATTLE

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Sharp lines were drawn in the prohibition battle between the western drys and the eastern wet supporters of the Senate committee.

Chairman Means announced today that beginning Monday, the Senate would have no day for the presentation of their case without interrupting the drys except such cases examination as might be conducted by members of the committee.

The wetts will hold true when they are presenting their case next.

After the two sides have had their days in court, a further hearing will be held on the first day of the week.

The chief difference between the two sides is the fact that the wets will not be allowed to present their case without interrupting the drys except such cases as examination as might be conducted by members of the committee.

The wetts will hold true when
they are presenting their case next.

The committee has agreed that their case cannot be presented before

Even Division of Shepp Estate Is Ordered in Will

Importer Died Without Recovering One Suggestion to Suit Him for Estate Distribution.

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Leopold Shepp, millionaire importer whose plan to the public to advise him how he might best divide his estate among his three children brought response from more than 100,000 persons, died without receiving one suggestion he considered worth following.

Shepp died in his home at the age of 85, and his will today dictated his entire estate, the amount not named, evenly between his daughter, Frances L. Shepp, and the widow Leopold Shepp, the organization to 52 deserving deserving boys. This foundation was started before he approached the public organization to assist him, but had failed to do so with an endowment of $1,000,000.

DOUG AND MARY TAKE VACATION

America's Sweetheart Voices Objection to Posing Without

Aid of Kleig Lights.

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Burglars and crew of the Blue Monte Blaucamino were forced to the street today of a famous star of the silver screen, according to whom concerned, he had been shot in the head in Europe with Douglas Fairbanks, and the reason she protested was because there were Kleig lights on the set. She was advised that public cameras were on the set, and that would be locking in minority to allow the reservations attached by the actress.

In Touch With Nations.

Furthermore, it is virtually certain that the note will point out that the state department's statement to the Senate, that negotiations between Washington and Geneva were not yet completed, were erroneous.
The star was Mary Pickford, off the set of "The Blue Monte Blaucamino," three months ago.

When the actress' voice was heard over the radio, the cameras panned over to the star, who was smiling

IDHOANS FIND WARM WELCOME IN CALIFORNIA

Nevada and California Centers Extend Themselves in Receptions for Twin Falls Ex-cursionists; To Return Call.

Twin Falls county business men's excursion did much to renew old friendships and make new ones between Idahoans and their friends in Nevada and California centers, and these relationships are to be cemented as a result of return visit to be made this summer by members of East Francisco and Los Angeles business men who now are being planned, according to members of the excursion who return

War continuity was demonstrated in the reception received by the Twin Falls county excursionists in Reno, Sacramento, San Francisco and San Jose, Calif., last Sunday.

The Twin Falls delegation joined forces with the delegation of state officials and citizens headed by Governor Frank Morehead, who gave a dinner for the Twin Falls men to discuss questions of trade relationship with view to mutual advantage.

Ex-cursionists who returned Saturday were L. C. Schilder, D. B. Sibley, G. H. Miller, other members of the party, all returning at intervals during the next few days, many of them taking advantage of the opportunity to extend their visit to California.

Generous Hosts.

Citizens of Reno were on hand of the depot when the excursion made its first stop there in the evening of the first day of the trip, and the evening was spent in a social gathering at the home of Senator George W. Norris.

In the bridge games following dinner, the bridge games following the evening's entertainment, the country club.

Elaborate preparations for reception and entertainment of the visitors were made and carried in every detail at Sacramento where breakfast and luncheon were served, the interval being occupied with a drive about fifty miles on a sightseeing trip over the Sacramento valley.

Business and industrial leaders of Oakland made their appearance when the excursionists, train pulled out of Sacramento, were invited to a luncheon.

Each member of the Idaho delegation made himself responsible for the comfort and entertainment of one or more of the Idahoans from that time until the excursionists after spending a day and a half in Oakland, were taken at the end of a long trip across the Bay to San Francisco.

Traffic Makes Way.

On their arrival in Oakland and also in San Francisco, the excursionists found their places in private automobiles to which they had been assigned and were speeded through the city streets at an escort of state traffic officers at whose signal each automobile to permit the passage of the visitors.

"The president of the United States himself could not have been accorded greater degree of consideration than we have given to our visitors," said one of the excursionists stated Saturday on his return, "our hosts in these two cities did all that could be done for our affairs, made us feel at home and always showed us a hearty welcome where it might be given, but that they really wanted to become better acquainted with us."

"They utilized every possible way to give us a visit with as much pleasure as possible in their immensely successful endeavor to make us welcome and among friends."

Busy Program.

In Los Angeles on Wednesday the Idaho visitors were honored guests at a chamber of commerce luncheon at which talks delivered by former Mayor and B. R. Shimp, et al, denoted were broadcast. The

TELEVISION TO BE NEXT STEP

Radio Editor Predicts New Development for Near Future; May See Entertainers.

By HUGO GREENSBACH

I am frequently asked this question: "What, in your opinion, will be the next great development in radio?"

And to this question I always answer that, in my opinion, the next most logical step in radio will be the establishment of "television," or the projection of pictures at any distance, through the air.

While we are now enabled to broadcast by radio from all over the world, radio receivers now have developed to such a high degree that any improvement must now revolve around the question of how to make them for some time to come. The radio receiver is now at the stage of development such as the automobile was about ten years ago. The improvements made since then in the reflection of various parts, and it will prove exactly so with radio.

It may be possible to witness the improvement of radio receivers from anywhere in the United States, as well as here in this address, to see a baseball game, play by play thousands of miles away in the field, or broadcast the news of the ocean, and give the distant audience a chance to see what "Davy Jones' locker" looks like, by means of a portable outfit in an airplane, to look at mountains which are rising comfortably before your radio act in your library.

Radio television, it must be said, is years at least from most of us real radio enthusiasts, for the goal because they realize that in television they will have created a great new entertainment, much greater than the telephone or radio communication it will be.

We should not be surprised, also,

when the final evolution is evolved, to note with what simple instrument the world will accomplish. It is not likely that the present devices will be simpler and of fewer parts than our radio receivers are today, and it is quite possible that within the next ten years you will purchase a television attachment which will perform well.

To be sure, for a long time to come television will be only in black and white, giving an effect similar to that seen in motion pictures, and color transmission will come later.

At this point I desire also to recall the attention of all radio television, which is now in vogue in re-

Many people think of television as "radio motion pictures." Of course there will be no motion picture equi-ment of any kind in the radio television apparatus. Television does not need motion picture film at all.

In reality you will see at a distance, just as if you had a telescope through which you could observe anything going on in any part of the country.

Fasting Being Preached as Cure for Most Human Ills by Physicians, But Parisians Show Little Enthusiasm

PARIS, April 3 (AP)—A crusade to introduce "fasting" as a cure for most human ills being preached in Paris by Dr. Georges Lippman, and supported by his association, the International American Physicians and Teachers in Paris, to raise $100,000 this summer by Dr. Horace S. Evans, secretary and assistant director of the continental division of the American Physicians and Teachers in Paris. Last summer, five professors who studied in France during the summer vacation will be far exceeding last summer's total of 1,200 students in 1925. American students were in 1922-1923 there were 3,939 between 1921 and 1925. These were candidates for the degree of doctorate at the University of Paris.

"Life is not so gay," remarked Dr. Lippman, "but it is hard to give up one of its last pleasures. Love is full of disillusion; success never satisfies ambition, and fortune brings nothing but a load of taxation. But there is a good deal of fun around a good diet."

Are we to invite our friends to a dinner party, or go to a hotel? Bring along the crusade, is the motto of the physicians.

The doctor's wife is a wonderful example of physical power. When I was young, she used to refuse to let me have the love of sight to interfere with her studies, research work and travels.

Changed conditions in the Latin quarter, increased cost of board and lodgings, has prompted a French university student to work his way through college. Heretofore work has never been popular with the French undergraduates, but French students are becoming accustomed to newspaper advertisements like the following:

"Student in his last year seeks job as floor cleaner, water and polish. His domestic work reasonably well paid. He is a graduate of the Ecole Normale Supérieure."

"Student in his last year seeks job as floor cleaner, water and polish. His domestic work reasonably well paid. He is a graduate of the Ecole Normale Supérieure."

BELGIAN QUEEN TAKES TRIP TO ENGLISH SHOPS

Royal Visitor, Accompanied by Prince Leopold, Buys Easter Outfit in London: Arrives and Leaves Quietly.

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON, April 3.—Queen, sometimes a visiting government representative of King George's household in the foreign office to greet her. The government knew nothing about it.

The queen, accompanied by Crown Prince Leopold, who had checked off a hotel in a taxicab, and it was not until hours afterward that Whitehall or Buckingham Palace was aware of the arrival of the royal visitor from across the channel.

She came over to do some Easter shopping. After completing her shopping, the queen of the Belgians packed her bags and went back to Belgium, leaving behind her the English government, which is doing a lot.

The English, with a national sense for fun and for romping well together, have hit upon new term "Pherdinah," to describe dealing in Florida real estate.

Business men and pleasure seekers are coming to Florida after the American visit, about whom have "born-again" Pherdinahs.

Men and women with titles and social position are being called the new "American Indians" in ever increasing numbers. They learn the language of the country talk about "developments," "sites," "plots," "land ownership," all of which is stuck to the stay-at-home folks of this island.

Florida seems to have the same effect as the rest of the United States, that visitors—Englishmen, when getting home, write excitedly of their experiences, reactions and conclusions.

English tourists, who are additional materialists, have pushed them to the more essential of such acquisitions as management, as one of the fashion experts and as a result there is a dearth of models for the spring street parades.

There are about fifteen thousand in Florida, but this number is not sufficient for the high season. All those handling smart goods have been advertising for months now, and the epidemic has been so long that they are away from the thought that they are too well developed.

As a result prices and trade are increasing, which includes the permanent staff of the fashion houses, who are keeping a heavy hand. They get about two pounds of cotton to be able to do two New York day purchases, and with such a strain, many managers receive from two pounds to twelve pounds and a half a week.

Unemployed executives have capitalized Italian cigar smokers in the streets of London. A regular weekly package from an ergo grandpa because such means of livelihood comes from the profits of Fagin.

There were many American residents who had been here before, but not now. They are only three or four, says James Peacock, who had been making England his home and business for 15 years. Another 400 hand organs continue to make up the narrow canons of London streets, but the British with their performing models, and experts at home and abroad, are not to be beaten.

In their places are blind or crippled war veterans, thoroughly equipped with a black mask over his face, stand stiffly in the handle of a light umbrella, holding tightly to his wife's wrists or children to stand by them and collect pennies.

LONDON HAS AIRPLANE CLUB

LONDON, April 3.—A club has been formed by a group of Englishmen, mostly club members, who had been flying in America, and are now flying here. It is intended that the contests will be promoted and increased.

Broadway Lures Thaw Again

HARRY THAW (on right) was THE GAIETY of Broadway has not lost its appeal for Harry Thaw, the player of Stanford-White twenty years ago. He admits it, and he's power with two fellow revellers at a recent marquetry in a New York night club. Thaw is on the right, wearing a mask.

WIDE RANGE OF VERSATILITY AND CONTINUOUS SUCCESSES DEMANDED OF FILM DIRECTORS

LOS ANGELES, April 3. (D)—Time was in the motion picture business when a director could make his name with one big tilt and then go on and just indefinitely revamping the old set of varied films.

But many of the men who now carry all the responsibilities believe those days are gone beyond recall, and a director is held responsible before the public, not only to support his audience, but also to weird tragically and keep him from being typecast.

"A big picture is forgotten by the public as quickly as it is made," says Allan Dwan, who, like most of the leading men in the business, is a bit worried. "The public may remember it, but the producers want to know what kind of pictures directors want to make."

That's the reason that the studios are looking for new directors.

succession of great holes and then die like another ten fathoms."

Another of the old guard is Philibert. He is almost unique in some of his methods. He has a way of getting his fish out on a pole so easily that like a director, and very seldom uses a megaphone, despite the fact that he has the reputation being one of the best speakers. Philibert is a good fisherman, a long list of films, sweet, dramatic, melodic and tuneful, before he undertook to recruit his son for the fans of the silver sheet.

James Cagney, who in private life is Jerry Cagney's husband, declared "no director can live."

Jack Conway, another exponent of the art, considers different colors to be two extremes, recently by working off a couple of terrible love themes letting the Elmer Gantry trade with the company sets a modern color scheme.

That three poor pictures will kill the drawing power of any director's name even after he has made several big hits, is the opinion of William Miller, who, as a good director, like a good baseball pitcher, must have a varied delivery and inability to "mix 'em up."

That's the opinion of Malcolm St. Clair, who, as a director, likes to act out a scene, and then off the director's head unless he can follow it with other really fine plays, the picture will be a consistent average success.

Herbert Biberman and Victor Fleming presented views and differed greatly from the opinions of their brothers in the craft.

Biberman: "A director cannot afford to try for tremendously big pictures, even though he picks up magnificence, like Audubon pictures, I think he can't afford to do it."

Fleming: "It's probably possible for a director to make one big picture and fail on the big one that produced for years to come. It also depends on the picture, and a director can't afford to film one type of play entirely."

James Cagney, who is a director, and that's what he wants to be, said:

"I don't care much whether either of them could make a good west production of a good set picture."

Malcolm St. Clair, who is a director, and that's what he wants to be, said:

ARTIST ADVISES COLOR SCHEMES

Cleveland Painter and Decorator Gives Ideas on Proper Use of Tints and Shades.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 3 (UPI)—If a young lady's steady caller has not proposed marriage, she might as well go into the next room where there is a different color scheme, suggests William Devine, Cleveland painter and decorator.

"Under a different color scheme, the young man may be more inclined to look up to her for a long time," Mr. Devine said.

Paint colors are being used in exterior construction, buildings, apartment houses, etc., having taken a tip from the southern climate where colors are used profusely.

"People who like colors that will be seen over the horizon, like the ocean, will be more inclined to buy colors that will be seen over the horizon, like the ocean, in the spectrum of which there are thousands," he said. "Pigments can be obtained in shades and tones, but the colors will be more intense than the colors that are used in exterior paint stores, stores and like that."

"We have learned to adapt colors to the needs of interiors. We know now that a pink kitchen will make the house centered, and that we can't afford to do it."

DETERIORATION OF OLD CATHEDRAL AT COLOGNE IS BLAMED ON INDUSTRY

BERLIN, April 3 (AP)—The blame for the deterioration of the famous Cologne cathedral has been placed upon industry, which caused the damage, according to a report.

The cathedral is so solid that it would last for centuries, according to Volker, architect of the cathedral.

Most of the damage is due to the action of water, which has been caused by the industrialization of the Rhine valley.

ACTOR RECALLS WORK OF PAST

Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson Reviews Fifty Years of Love Making on Stage.

LONDON, April 3 (AP)—Fifty years of love-making on the English speaking stage with many of the world's greatest actresses has left Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson grieved at beauty and charm rarely equalled by persons in the theatre.

Ellen Terry, Maudeska, Mary Anderson, Adele Astaire, Mrs. Patrick Campbell and Margaret Webster are among those who have reached the stage.

Maudeska and Ellen Terry are spoken of as the most attractive, respectively, they especially appealed to his fancy.

Maudeska's mastery of six languages and thorough knowledge of the literature of the English and French peoples, and the rare gift of an actress' impersonation of the Queen of Sheba, made her the favorite of western America.

The look tells of the adventures of Romeo and Juliet in a beautiful garden in Cornwall, he said, was the forerunner of outdoor performances of classic plays which have become so popular throughout the world.

An exhibition of Maudeska's work in Spain in 1877 found her in Madrid, and she was received with enthusiasm.

At the beginning of the century, she was the first actress to appear in the United States between the two world wars.

NATIONAL DELEGATES

The National Delegates are the most prominent men in the American Club.

AN AMERICAN JAVERT

One of the most exciting cases

American Club developed in Albion Park, N. J., when a respected physician 93 years old, who has lived in that city for 20 years, was arrested by a 20 year old sheriff from Bing hampton, N. Y., on a charge of horse stealing and kidnaping in Bing hampton in 1924.

The defendant flatly denies the charge, insisting that it is in case of mistaken identity, but states his friends uphold him. The defense stoutly maintains that he could not be mistaken. He remembers the accusation perfectly, he says, all these years and has never given in his or making him pay the penalty for that old offense, forgotten by everyone else.

The age of these two men alone would make the case memorable. It becomes far more interesting because of the fact that an American representative of the law has been trailing his quarry all that time.

Now reporters must have stopped trailing Victor Hugo. Otherwise it wouldn't be possible that this story could have been told without mentioning the strangely parallel case in "Les Misérables," off the "Prisoner of France," and the detective Javert who pursued him relentlessly from one locality and disgraced in another throughout his whole life.

It is something new to find, in this case coming from a Javert, that he had been with desire to avenge society upon a murderer that he followed the scene for half a century. One would expect a crime is forgotten by everyone, but the victim in this matters. It would be a fine thing for the criminal situation, if we had a few dozen more Blaghton Javerts.

CHANGES IN FOOD

It may be questioned whether bread deserves any longer its proud title of "the staff of life."

The American people are consuming only three-fourths as much flour as they were 20 years ago, and the decline continues. This is one reason why the farmer gets less for his wheat than he thinks he should.

Why do we eat less bread? Partly because we are eating more eggs which helps to even things up for the farmer and shows a fine, thrifty teademy—so always a cheaper meal more plentiful and it is a very good food.

But most of the decrease is due to a more fundamental change of diet.

We are eating far more fresh veg-tables and fruits than previous generations did.

We are all the better for that, it makes a more wholesome diet.

It shows progress. Our ancestors would have eaten the fruits and vegetables just as we do, but they didn't have them. Their diet was surprisingly limited compared with ours.

Fresh gardening, greenhouses development, varied production and plentiful widespread distribution of foodstuffs, commercial canning and dehydration well studied processes all these are new, and are having a profound effect on the American culture, more advanced, more knowledge, less bias, judgment, tolerance.

The doctors tell us what to eat, and we choose the wonders of all that we can eat.

CHURCH WOODPECKERS

The trustees of an old church in Hyndway, N. Y., are up in arms against woodpeckers. The birds, they found, were pecking the roof and spire. So they sought permission from the State Conservation Commission and the Biological Survey to get after the birds with shotguns. The person who was granted, provided they leave the dead birds decent burial.

Maybe it is all right for these church folk to go ahead and shoot the offending woodpeckers and give them Christian burial in the church yard. But why pick on the poor birds? Wouldn't it be better to get up there and paint the roof and spire and make the birds come back to the groves that attract the birds?

CORN SUFFERS SHARP SETBACK

May Delivery Touches Lowest
Price for Season; Wheat Rallies From Decline.

CHICAGO, April 3. (AP)—Faced down by heavy selling, corn underwent a notable setback in value today at the last, whereas wheat rallied from an early decline. Corn for May delivery fell to 10¢ a bushel, or 1¢ off, and eastern interests that are reported to be short of wheat said to be the chief sellers of corn.

Speculative operations on corn were unprofitable, 1 7/8 to 2 1/2 cents lower. May 11-30 to 71-30. Wheat fluctuated, measured to 5 3/8 higher; May 14-30 to 15-30, and July 1-30, 7 1/2 to 8 1/2 cents off, and provisionally at 15-16 cents.

For the first time in weeks, real liquidation appeared to have taken place in the market, and the market, according to one authority, has lost its a large scattered holding of corn futures, the owners of which have unloaded, tiring of a prolonged wait of time for an expected advance. Talk was current that much actual weather, bad roads and other factors have prevented any big movement of corn from the country, the amount of corn in sight is considerably in excess of immediate needs.

Demand Fair.

On the other hand, commercial demand, corn, cotton, flour, sugar, coffee, and other staples, was reported to have shown but little change in value.

Foreign exchange—Steady; Belgian franc rally;

Cotton, sugar, coffee—Julian;

Cocoa—Moderately strong;
