DALLAS, Texas, April 9.—Struck by lightning shortly before noon today a 55,000 barrel oil storage tank at the Magnolia farm out-from here, still was burning late tonight, but danger of a spread to nearby tanks was regarded as remote, though flames were visible in the tank.

Magnolia petroleum employees, shooting holes in the tank, survived after several hours labor in draining most of the crude oil stored in it. The Magnolia farm out-

The disaster was confined to this one and there was no loss of life or injury, despite many nearby houses and buildings.

At the time of the explosion this morning was continuing late last night, accompanied by heavy thunder but no rain. Lightning flashes and the glow of the fire combined to make the scene look like a miniature sun.

WYOMING GAME WARDENS
DEVISE A PLAN TO AVOID
LOSS OF ELK EN ROUTE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 9. (AP)—

A plan that they believe will lessen loss of elk in railroad shipping, which they declare in many cases to be due to a broken heart, has been devised by the Wyoming Game and Fish Commission.

"According to Mr. A. S. Sanders, game manager and fish commissioner, the animals are very timid and nervous, and often die of a fright if exposed to the habitat of mammals while undergoing experiences of a rail-

To offset avoidance of the animals for fear of being shot, the men which they are shipped heretofore will be diverted into compartments and corralling will stop the moving of the animals.

Shipments in exchange for phenomenal news are being considered to Missouri and Nebraska.

this river tragedy are being probed by federal and steamship officials, search

AGAINST PERJURY CHARGE

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—A recommendation against bringing perjury charges against George H. Hayes, former senator and governor of Maine, was made at a hearing before the Senate committee on public lands yesterday.

Hayes, who has been largely responsible for Mr. Malvy's decision, declared he was adverse to having a defense made for him by Mr. Bland.

He said he would not oppose a defense without the hindrance that attaches to a member of the government, who is obliged to consider the political situation when fighting opposition under the present circumstances.

Fight Own Battles.

Senator Bland, it was known that he intended to interpret the government's position on the trial of Malvy as a challenge to his neutrality in political affairs. He had told friends that his hands were so tied as a member of the Senate cabinet that when he was attacked, he was unable to fight back.

LEAGUE LEADERS POST-POPNE MEET

Inability of Idaho Falls Director to be in Salt Lake Saturday Delays Confab.

The meeting of the Utah-Idaho baseball directors has been postponed until next Tuesday morning, according to word received by the directors from President Fred Nyberg. The meeting was scheduled for tonight at Salt Lake but inability of the Idaho Falls director to be present caused the change in the day of the meeting.

This meeting is of especial interest because of the adopting of the schedule of games for the 1926 season. Some changes will be necessary in the proposed schedule sent to the clubs some time ago. Several questions regarding minor points, will be up for discussion. The clubs will be asked to choose the league. Under the present plan each town will elect one umpire for the bases and the league will have three regular arbitrators to rule with the umpires.

No word has been received from Carl Zambach, Major League, regarding the date of his arrival in Twin Falls but his first letter stated he would arrive April 20 and bring his baseball equipment with him. The grounds will be in shape by that date and active work building a team can be started at once.

The uniform will be changed again this year. One shipment of bats have arrived but are of the old lively type and not the cushion center type which has been adopted by the leagues as the official ball.

Some of his records follow: High jump, 6 feet; high low hurdles, 29 seconds flat; high hurdles, 13.4 seconds; alles, 14 feet; shot put, 46 feet; -feet; -inches; -feet.

SHARP DECLINE ON GRAIN MART

Slight Uptick at Opening Soon Gives Way Under Selling Pressure; Await Report.

CHICAGO, April 9.—(O.P.)—All grades declined rather sharply on the board of trade here today, following a slight upturn at the outset. An overnight conference was convened by the grain exchange, and the market sent values down grade. Transactions on the whole, however, were small, it being apparent that the trade was awaiting the final report of the government report on the condition of winter wheat after the close.

At the finish wheat showed a net loss of 1 1/8 to 1 1/4¢. May net 1 1/4 to 1 1/2¢; June, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4¢; July, 1 to 1 1/2¢ off; August, 1 to 1 3/4¢; September, 1 to 2 1/2¢ off; October, 1 to 3 3/4¢ off and purchases ranged from 15 to 25 cents above.

Trading Quiet

Strength in the Liverpool market acted as an incentive to higher prices at the opening, but what little activity there was during the day was mainly between quiet periods, holding supplies and grain delivery showing the most weakness. Some wheat came on the market in the late trading through a number of small dealers and gave impetus to the downward trend.

Throughout the session it was apparent that the trade was hurried to trim outstanding commitments because of the government report which was expected to show a harsh condition of the crop.

Corn and oats developed a weekly underline, following early expectations of a greater buying of corn on the way down, the markets in these grains showing an overbought condition.

Provisions displayed firmness early but became easy later.
