Reports of Majority and Minority on Dam Project Signal for Senate Fireworks.

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—The Boulder canyon dam fight shifted to the floor of the senate today when the majority of the minority reports were presented.

Attacking the constitutionality of the financial provisions of the bill, Senator Ashurst presented his state's objection to the measure as representing "reckless disregard of public interests" amounting to "robbery of the people to the desert." He asserted that the measure took from the house its constitutional right to formulate revenue legislation.

Defends Bill.
Senator Johnson, the measure's proponent, defended the constitutionality of the bill and declared the project was the "greatest construction work undertaken legislatively in this generation." He said he anticipated an "arduous" fight in convincing the senate that none of its rights were violated.

Senator Shafter said that the supreme court had ruled repeatedly that measures similar to the Boulder canyon bills were constitutional.

The bill directs the secretary of the treasury to establish a fund not exceeding $125,000,000 for dam construction. It gives the treasury the power to issue bonds creating this fund. This was the procedure Senator Ashurst maintained was unconstitutional.

POCATELLO BABY STILL WITH ADOPTED PARENTS

POCATELLO, April 24 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Elliott still retain charge of the pretty, blue-eyed, golden-haired male infant that was left with one of the attendants at a local hospital Friday afternoon and when Mrs. Elliott kindly consented to care for that night.

The baby's mother, a pretty young woman about 22 years of age, stated that she was going to American Falls and would return Saturday for her baby. The mother failed to return Saturday and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott drove to American Falls to try to obtain some trace of her.

They found that she had left hotel in that city Friday evening but were unable to receive further information concerning her destination.

THAT is the substance of the Conoco service code—more than you expect—extra service.

The Conoco service man does not consider his job done when he has filled your gasoline tank with Conoco's extra miles. He wants to satisfy your other needs, too. Air for the tires (just the right amount), water for the radiator, road information, a helping hand for any motoring trouble, these are the things the Conoco service man likes to supply.

And of course he will accept no gratuity. That has been a rigid Conoco policy since the first Conoco service station opened for business years ago.

Drive to the nearest Conoco station and let extra service send you off to extra and better miles.

VERSATILITY IS EXHIBIT FEATURE

Many Women Take Up Painting as Avocation; Results Displayed in Collection.

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—Every miniature painted by the hand of a bank department, fountain, nymph, monkey by the owner of a racing stable, still life by a farm manager, bronze group by a former leading lady and portraits by a composer of songs, all added to the exhibit of the National Association of Women Painters and Sculptors.

In addition, three hundred of exhibits always bring hundreds of works from the studios of women who are engaged in part time occupations like writing or teaching, or, by no means infrequently, housework and having children.

Women painters seem to interest themselves in the most commonest range of subjects," said Emily Nichols Hatch, president of the association.

"Amateurs painted in all parts of the world show the travel thirst and curiosity about other countries and peoples."

"Little things painted in the home, like a flower, a bird, a child, which she collects ardently, as the gorgeous outdoor scenes of June Peterson's brush art, show the enthusiasm of women."

"Women excel in the portraits of children. They bring a tenderness and understanding to the subject, and a light touch that when attempted by men leaves much to be desired."

"Then, too, women turn naturally to the painting of flowers."

"As to their canvas characteristics, women's work is apt to be extremely colorful. Possibly this is because of their natural inclination to be in the use of color."

Other women who are highly occupied outside of painting hours, include Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, sculptress, singer, leader and sportswoman, Miss Frances Curtis, long president of the Art Workers' club for Women, and Rose Bruford, who has been a member of the association since 1910.

A signal honor has just been done by one of the association's members, Cecil Ross, winner of many art awards and prizes, has completed the painting of her own portrait, asked for by the official gallery in Florence.

cause it had long been "woman's" function to bring light and color into her world.

"Miniatures also occupy their eagerly pursued efforts. There is something exquisite in the fragile delicacy of these tiny portraits on ivory."

"Then, too, women are the cooperative artists among painters. They don't want to run wild or dash off after false goals."

"This I attribute to their maternal instinct, which makes them protective of the order of things."

Miss Hatch related, "She is the head of the Women's department of the Bankers' Trust company."

"Marriage often overcomes the woman artist, but it need not overtake her painting. Our president-elect, Mrs. Paul Conningham, the sculptress, is not only a mother, but a transcendentalist. Maria Hoffman and Jane Peterson have just last month married and are now working."

"Christine Morten, another of our dual occupation members, turned one time to account with the other, when as Mrs. Macdonald-Jordan she made a treaty with her banker husband to the West."

And, painted the pictures with which she illustrated her book on the subject.

"Ellen Emmett Rand, married and mother of five sons, has provided a home for them in the Connecticut farm she manages, while at the same time continuing painting."

seeking amendment of the Volstead law.

The anti-Saloon league counsel entered there should be no surrender to the "inferior" element of the prohibition question and that it was the plain duty of congress to put on the statute books laws which would enable the federal government in cooperation with the states to make prohibition effective.

On the other hand, counsel for the wet said his side had presented a "mass of evidence" revealing real conditions and that the question was whether the law makers were to handle it as "real men" should or shut it to one side for their successors to wrestle with.

Before this counsel met under way, General Lincoln C. Andrews, the dry enforcement chief, reiterated emphatically that in his recent testimony before the committee he had not meant to advocate a change in the law to permit the sale of non-intoxicating beer.

Replying to Senator Sted, General Andrews said he did not now mean to change his testimony which was in reply to a hypothetical question. He added that at that time he had stressed the dangers to enforcement of the sale of beer.

SPEED OF GAME PUZZLE TO FANS

More Time for Rest Among Basketball Players Than Appears From Sidelines.

LAWRENCE, Kansas, April 21. (AP)—Basketball appears from the sideline to be a game that progresses with breathless speed, a grueling contest to wear out quickly even the most seasoned players.

From the starting whistle to the final gun, however, it has been found there is as much time for rest as for activity for the team as a whole while for the individual player there is a two-to-one time for rest as for activity.

These conclusions have been determined by Dr. James S. Caldwell, director of the game, who has made detailed studies of Missouri Valley conference basketball games for the last two years. Dr. Caldwell has been a member of the University of Kansas physical education faculty for nearly 20 years.

With stop watch in hand Dr. Caldwell has watched individual players and teams as a whole, both in the university and high school contests and he is convinced that basketball is not too strenuous, even for high school youths.

One of the most strenuous games in the Missouri Valley conference in years was the Kansas-Oklahoma contest of 1921 which developed the valley basketball championship. From that game, Mr. Caldwell obtained these results:

Time elapsed during the game, 60 minutes; time taken out and other rests, five times for a total of nine minutes; 51 seconds; average rest period, 1:15. There were 35 relaxation periods, as when a goal was made, a foul called, a held ball, or ball out of bounds. These periods varied from four seconds to 20 seconds, the average being 12.2 seconds.

On the other hand there were 40 activity periods in which playing was proceeding fast, these periods varying from four seconds to two minutes and 35 seconds, the average being 21 seconds. The total of time actively engaged in the 60 minutes was 23 minutes, 35 seconds. Thus the relaxation was slightly more than 20 per cent.

In this particular game the activity

NINE BALLOONISTS TO REPRESENT AMERICA IN GORDON BENNETT RACES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 21. (AP)—With Captain H. E. Hoveywell, dean of American aeronauts, missing from the entry list of international balloon races for the first time in several years, nine free balloons will start from the Little Rock airport on April 22 to decide the participants in the Gordon-Bennett cup race to be held in Belgium.

The United States Army has four entries, the other five being guided by civilians. Captain Hoveywell will not be in the race because his entry was received too late.

The race officially was limited to eight balloons of 35,000 cubic feet capacity. A place was found for a ninth entrant, however, in order that the United States Army team of four balloons might all start.

Besides the army entries, there are two balloons from Michigan, two from Ohio and one from California. States Auditor J. Carroll Gony, who has been handling the airplane races of the Little Rock Air Meet Association, says he expects more than 100 airplanes here for the event.

The balloon race entries, pilots and aides, follow:

BATTING RHYTHM FOR EDEN BALL TEAM

EDIN, April 21—in what started out to be one of the fastest and closest baseball games played between two high school teams, Thursday—Eden High school team, playing against Hazelton at Hazelton staged a batting rally in the sixth inning and scored 11 runs off the Hazelton team, thus winning a one-sided game 15 to 2. Up to the opening of the sixth, Hazelton had held the Eden team scoreless and at the same time had crossed the rubber once. But in this inning, they had been hitting great ball, weakened and Lindsey was sent in to relieve him after Eden had "choked up" a number of runs.

Lindsey, however, failed to stop the Eden batters and after six runs more had been scored, Rice was summoned to return to the mound and finish the game. Hazelton managed to score one run more in the seventh and final inning. Summons and Davis were the battery for Eden, while Dunn acted as Rice and Lindsey.

to State Line.

Work on the road south of Rogers to the Nevada state line which is a part of the Yellowstone-Yosemite highway, has been started by Twin Falls highway district.

It is the purpose to make the road really possible at least this season. J. D. Smead, district director of highways started Saturday evening.

On Road to Hot Springs
Two four-horse outfits will be sent out Monday by the district. Mr. Smead stated, to make most necessary repairs in the road extending from the Soldier Creek school house, south east of Rogers, to Magic hot springs, a report that was for a long time known as Smith's hot springs. No work has been done by the district on this road for three years. This total length of the road is approximately 17 miles. In the summer it traverses a livestock trail.

Nineteen cabins and the number of bathhouses have been built at the resort and additional improvement is to be made this season, according to T. J. Lloyd, the owner.

Thomas V. Skinner, veteran of the World war, died at 11:15 Saturday morning at his late residence, 620 Ash street, from effects of illness contracted while in the military service and from which he has suffered for many months. He was a patient for nearly two years in the Veterans' hospital at Boise and since his return to his home here some months ago he had been confined to his bed. He was 27 years old.

WATERMASTER CHARGES VIOLATION OF DECREE

In disregard of court decree entered December 10, 1925, adjudicating the claims to use of waters of Hotwell creek, Samuel C. Dunn, plaintiff in a suit against John Boyd and others in which the decree was entered, is violating the Idaho irrigation company of its right to impound waters of that stream in its Hotwell Creek canal, according to statement of W. N. Gibb, district watermaster, in an affidavit in support of an order directing to Dunn to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Under the decree, according to the watermaster, the Idaho Panhandle irrigation company is entitled to divert a maximum of 200 acre feet of waters of Hotwell creek and to take all of the waters of that stream from October 1 to May 1, and to use the excess 200 inches given to Dunn by the decree. The watermaster asserts that since April 1, hot Dunn has been diverting and wasting approximately 300 inches of water.

SUE FOR DITCH RIGHTS

L. T. Kelley, Otto Kelley and W. A. Maher have instituted suit in district court here against Edmund W. Smith for court award of title to an irrigation ditch right of way across Smith's lands which, they claim, they and their predecessors have used for 16 years. They allege that Smith on April 15 plowed up the ditch and refused to permit them to rebuild it. Laws involved are located in section 34, township 10, range 10. Plaintiffs are represented by Rathwell and Chapman, attorneys.

Eden Youths Admit Burglary of Depot

JEROME, April 21 (Special to The News-Review).—Colin and Earl Wilson of Eden were arraigned before Judge Lucas of the probate court here Saturday morning on charges of burglary of the O. S. The young men related in detail their part of entering the depot at Eden on Thursday evening about 10 o'clock and making away with a number of tickets and other valuable property. They gained entrance to the ticket office by removing a screen and prying the window. The discovery of the burglary was not made until Friday morning when Agent A. M. ## HEAVY FINE IS GIVEN SCALPERS

Five Sentenced for Complicity in Fraud Operations Against Railroads.

NEW YORK, April 24. (AP)—Sentences have been imposed here on three ticket scalpers, one railroad conductor and a ticket scaler's clerk for complicity in a conspiracy to defraud the railroads through theft and sale of tickets. All sentences were suspended during good behavior, except in the case of one traveling agent, who was not suspended as a "favor" to the prisoner.

David Louis, of Chicago, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 for complicity on one of the eight counts in the indictment and to serve nine months.

OLD OREGON TRAIL FADING BEFORE NATURE IN WYOMING

KEMMERER, Wyo., April 24. (AP)—Nature with her works of art is erasing from southwestern Wyoming the Old Oregon Trail—that road which meant the building of a western empire, with its many tales of heroism against the risked for the trail, the early life of pioneers and the indomitable courage of the early settlers of the west.

The Old Oregon Trail extended across southwestern Wyoming for 100 miles from the Big Sandy river at Pacific Springs to Cokerville on the Bear river on the Idaho boundary. But the Old Trail is passing.

New agebrush covers the old road which once rumbled with the wheels of the covered wagon. In many places the barbed wire fences of the ranches have broken across the trail and in the sparse left unbroken only an occasional sheep rancher's wagon travels.

Memory of the trail is to be preserved by a highway, to be known as the "Old Oregon Trail," across Wyoming from Grainger to Cokerville, and then to Portland, Oregon, but the new road does not follow the original path of the "covered wagon" caravans.

Tree Yields Rich Milk
A tree in the West Indies is known to the natives as the hyacinth, yields from its bark and pith a juice richer and thicker than cow's milk. The Singapore has a tree, the hyacinth, which yields a milk juice, while in the forests of Tam grows the hyacinth, another species of milk tree.—Detroit News.

Specter of Andree's Flight to Pole Hangs Over Claim of Many Aspirants

NEW YORK, April 24.—Whichever of the flying men bound for unknown Polar regions this summer is the first to reach the Pole, he probably will be certain that he actually was the first man to fly there.

Twenty-nine years ago, with fewer cruder equipment than any of the all-volunteer summer air-takers, three Viking almen tried to sail through the sky to the end of the earth. There is some evidence that they passed over the Pole, or very near it, although what Arctic landings must be relegated to Eskimo legend.

The leader of the party was Professor Salomon August Andree, a Swedish scientist and skillful explorer, interested in ballooning. His companions were two other Swedes, Alex. Strindberg and Knut Hjalmar Fredlund. Professor Andree was convinced there were trade winds blowing through the upper atmosphere from Spitzbergen, across the Pole to North America, which would carry his balloons safely over the Polar ice.

He carried the last word in scientific apparatus for his day—only a generation ago a place of radio apparatus in carried in a heavy box of tin that he could drop overhead with messages, and a few carrier pigeons. Professor Andree's balloons measured 97 feet from tip to bottom, the bag alone being 75 feet from mouth to opening. It consisted of three thick pieces of silk, glued together and covered with five coats of varnish.

In the basket was a locked-up man, which one person might sleep while the other two made observations and navigated. On top was a wicker cover upon which the observers could stand and use the instruments arranged in a circle around him around the edge.

Cooking Outfit Carried
A cooking outfit was hauled, 12 feet below the basket on a rope. It was lighted by pulling a string and the fire was put out by pulling another string. Hot ropes were trailed behind with the expectation that it would be possible to steer night with them. Diagonally across the balloons, above the suspension ring, a large sail could be rigged to steer the flight.

On July 6, 1897, the party left Tromsø, Norway. On July 8 it passed the North Cape, and on Sunday, July 11, at 2:30 in the afternoon, it took off from Hans' Island, Spitzbergen, with the Pole 900 miles to the north. The day was clear and a strong wind was blowing. As the balloons started, it narrowly escaped striking a rock in the Sverdrup Sound. As it rose out of the varying undercurrents of air it swung along like a carrier pigeon getting its bearings, and then meeting the upper currents which Professor Andree predicted, it started away at the rate of about 22 miles an hour.

For a few hours the balloons could be seen from shore. It was equipped with provisions for four months.

One carrier pigeon returned a few days later with this message: "July 12—12:30 P. M.—522 degrees north latitude, 14.5 degrees east longitude. Good progress toward the north. All goes well at present. This message is the third by carrier pigeon. Andree." In September, 1909, a boy, which Professor Andree was to have dropped aboard when he passed over the Pole, was picked up on the shore of King Charles Island and identified by the inscription "Andree Polar Expedition."

Bottle Picked Up
A year later a bottle containing note number 141 was found near Vardø, in the most northerly part of Norway. That was all. Years went by without another word of the expedition. Thru rewards were offered by the King of Sweden for production of the expedition. Many parties were organized and spent thousands of dollars searching the Arctic regions for remains.

At last, in December, 1909, a friendly Eskimo priest, who had won the confidence of the Eskimos, told him that a great "white house" had come down from the sky. That the men who had been seen in the sky were dead. The Eskimo showed him brass instruments and "writing" pieces of metal fashioned from metal they found on the balloons, and also cooking utensils and waterproof cloth they had taken.

Eskimos Have Story
A month later Father Paraguet, another priest, brought back additional news. The Eskimos admitted, he said, that the white men had died. This angered them and they killed the white men.

These reports stirred the recollection of William Irvine, who for 25 years had been connected with the Hudson Bay Post at Fort Good Hope. He recalled that in 1907 the post had been notified to keep a watch for the balloons. One night, he said, a mysterious light glowed through the sky. The next day the Eskimos crowded the trading post seeking an explanation. They reported that a strange star had passed through the heavens very near the earth and that as it passed they could hear the voices of men.

On other subsequent reports with the stamp of authenticity was made. Christian Leder, a Norwegian explorer, came from the sky and was taken and taken to the trading post. He said that he had seen the balloons which "two devils" carried. One of the "devils" they killed with their arrows, but when the other man, signs that he was not hostile, that he was hunting birds only, the tribesmen realized that they had killed a human being and fled in fear. They saw no more of the other man.

BOBBED HAIR LACKS FAVOR

LONDON, April 23. (AP)—Princess Mary has not bobbed her hair—and is very eager that the English public be notified of the fact.

Reports that the princess had had her locks clipped arose from the latest published portrait. These showed a full face view of the king's daughter, and from the appearance of her hair it was quite generally taken for granted throughout the country that Princess Mary had at last succumbed to the fashion of the bob.

But she has not, and the princess has requested her intimate friends to let it be known in society and everywhere that such is not the case.

The last appearance in the photographs was due to the way the hair had been arranged and this conveyed a false impression.

Just WHY is OAKLAND

WINNING and HOLDING GOOD WILL?

Why are so many motorists everywhere so genuinely enthusiastic over this car? Why are they favoring it above all others? Is it because the Oakland Six is more beautiful—because it possesses more advanced features, including Air Cleaner, Oil Filter, Full Pressure Oiling System, Four-Wheel Brakes and The Harmonic Balance? Or because it reveals greater speed, power, acceleration and smoothness of performance?

Each of these features plays its part; but there is one stronger reason for Oakland Six popularity.

Oakland combines—not just one or two of these advantages but all them—at prices surprisingly low.
