

ADOPT REPORT AGAINST VOTE ON LIQUOR ACT

Senate Prohibition Committee Makes Short Work of Proposals for National Referendum; Table Bills.

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 3.—Short shrift was made today by the senate prohibition committee of proposals for a national referendum on the sale and free use of alcoholic liquors of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

These of the five members of the committee which took hold of the subject at public hearings on the measure, quickly adopted a report to the chairman, Senator Nathan P. Evans, recommending that the bills be definitely postponed.

Senator Evans, of West Virginia, and Senator Charles McNary, of Oregon, who also has the approval of Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana.

Flo Minority Report.

Senator Flood, democrat, Missouri, the other member and the one vote on the committee, said he would file the minority report.

With respect to the proposal of Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, for a national referendum on the prohibition question, the majority report said such a referendum was not justified for in the constitution and that it was the intent of the framers of the constitution that a national referendum would never be attempted.

The proposal of Senator Bruce, democrat, Maryland, for modification of the eighteenth amendment, so as to return control of the liquor question to the states was dismissed with the observation that "we believe this amendment to be morally right and economically wise." The report said that so long as the prohibition amendment is a part of the fundamental law, it is the duty of all officers, legislative, executive and judicial, to aid in its enforcement.

Opposite Contrary to Law.

Turning to the Edge proposal and those of Senator Edwards, democrat, New Jersey, for modification of the Volstead act, the committee said the purpose was directly or indirectly to authorize manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages "contrary to the spirit and intent of the eighteenth amendment."

"The report was just as explicit and the action has been disapproved for weeks," said Senator Edge.

"We have accomplished more than we had hoped at this time. We have effectively drawn the attention of the country to the complete failure of prohibition and have secured for practical revision of the existing discriminatory and clearly unconstitutional laws. Such action cannot ultimately be avoided."

Healthy and Handy

Sauerkraut has been found rich in those "growth substances" known as vitamins, necessary to preserve and promote health. It is said to be a valuable source of iron and vegetable oils and to resemble buttermilk in its tendency to prevent the growth of harmful bacteria in the stomachs. Recent scientific tests, it is claimed, have proved that sauerkraut may be preserved perfectly in the can.

Mrs. Willebrandt's telegram of explanation read in the courtroom stated:

"I regret inability to speak on women's prison plan, but I am glad to be reported to congress and anything might say concerning plans for institution which would therefore be premature. Thought appropriation matter would be settled before speech or report had been prepared."

Mrs. Willebrandt's report had of the federation's fight against exploitation of prisoners by private business interests. The case of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts in addition to federal prisons now exhibit goods produced in their prisons and sell them to state institutions and departments and the money is turned over to prisoners' families.

FARMERS NEED SOUTHERN AID

Fate of Relief Legislation in Senate Hinges on Action of Members From South.

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 3.—A resolution directing the federal trade commission to investigate the hitherto unexplained rise of gasoline and other petroleum products was adopted today by the senate without a record vote.

The resolution, introduced by Senator Trammell, democrat, Florida, requires the commission to report to congress whether business were an arbitrary made and unwaranted.

The commission is further directed to determine if there are any steps which the commission should take to reduce prices of oil or competition in distribution of oil products and other petroleum products.

Senator Trammell held the record for the longest speech in the senate today, but it was devoted mainly to the subject of the oil industry.

Senator Maxfield, democrat, Texas, wanted to know what it was that the price of cotton had been sustained during the year when 1,500,000 bales were stored over in cooperative organizations.

Replying, Senator Gooding, republican, Idaho, declared the cooperatives were handicapped by being forced to advance their funds to farmers in need of cash and could not hold the cotton long enough to demand a better price.

Senator Hanchell, democrat, Louisiana, asserted that only nine per cent of the producers had been included and that the application of the provision should not become effective until the whole oil business had had an opportunity to voice their opinions.

OGDEN GUNNERS OPPOSE BRUINS ON BORLEY LOT

Game Called for 3 o'clock This Afternoon in East-End City; First Invasion of Utahans in This District.

Ogden Gunners invade southwest Idaho for the first time this season when they meet Twin Falls Bruins on the Borley lot at 3 o'clock. At present the Gunners are the cellar chumps, having been pushed into the dumps by a slight upset staged by Bill Lake's Hawks. But this does not mean the locals will have a walkway in the present series.

The Bruins, however, would take the series, if the dope can be depended on at all. Twin Falls received rather rough treatment during the first two games, almost moving into the second division by losing the series with the Banquets at Pocatello 3-0, the first part of this week. The Gunners series should be the Bruins chance to move up in the standings, but Ogden has a way of outdoing competitors, so take the dope any way you want.

Are Good Fighters
One thing is certain, there isn't a better fighting squad on the circuit than the Bruins. Zam is up and at 'em all the time, whereas the numerous series pulled in after two were away in the games played here. True, the local barbers have fallen down to a certain extent this season in strength and the checkers should respond to the winning influence of Old Sal before long.

Big Ogden may start for Twin Falls at Borley today, and if he does the batting averages of the Gunners do not stand a very good chance of growing fat, as has been the trend thing for everybody when games are staged at Borley. The Gunners are said to be in better condition, the weather promises to be favorable and the boys have had a day of rest.

Games in Twin Falls Saturday and Sunday are scheduled for 2 o'clock each afternoon, and fans here have a reputation to maintain in the matter of attendance.

BRUINS GUESTS AT CLUB FEED

Banquets and Members of Local Team Play Horse and Baseball at Luncheon.

The Pocatello Chamber of Commerce forum luncheon Wednesday noon was turned over to the consideration of the five points of the national pact, says the Idaho Bruin Journal, with members of the Twin Falls Bruins and Pocatello Banquets guests of the club.

Clude Billings as chairman of the program introduced Manager Zambich of Twin Falls, who in turn presented the members of his team, President Calph of the local club introducing the Banquets. The program included talks by different members of the two teams. Catcher Bismmas of the Banquets was called on to explain the "Art of Base Running" but after launching one against the left field fence, was called out at first. Shortstop Kowalsky of the Bruins sang that famous old Scotch ditty, "Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning" in his pleasing Irish brogue.

Other Hanson was called on for an explanation of his success in hitting out three batters, but had a previous engagement and couldn't respond. Third baseman Meigs pleased his listeners with a guitar solo, surprising the crowd by his ability with stringed instruments, and his pleasing voice during his second number.

Manager Zambich adjured and presented the program, because there were not 42 bats on his table, and some of those that had been placed there had been used. Miss Bentley was in started to look into the matter but refused unless he was given a mask and chest protector. Theumps called the game, and Mr. Bentley called up on Mr. Bentley for a short talk.

Going Good in Idaho.
"The Utah-Idaho league is an experiment," said the speaker, "it is in its infancy, and its future is not assured. We are going well here, in Idaho Falls, and in Twin Falls, but the club prospects do not look so good. If support in the Utah towns doesn't increase, the organization may go on the rocks, and much depends upon the way the game is played. The American baseball public reserves the right to argue with the umpires, but when players do that, the game is marred, held up and is an ugly sight to watch. The crowd's razzing does not hold up the game, while arguments by players do, and the public doesn't like that."

A town is known in sportsmanship by the manner in which it treats "losing teams. Courtesy is due them the same as to our own players, said Mr. Bentley. He also read part of rule 22 from Spaulding's guide book, pertaining to the ending of a game, and urged that Pocatello fans remain seated in the ball park until the game had finished. His parting words asked both teams to "go out on the field in the afternoon game and play tight, fight to the last ditch."

Zam Responds.
Manager Zambich then responded with an interesting talk, saying that he "usually did like talking on the diamond to the umpires, but that he was glad of the opportunity to talk knowing that he would not receive the customary razzing. He referred to the Pocatello fans as "raw-meat" fans, the kind that will not give applause or credit to the outside players who make a good play. He also gave a brief review of the workings of the league, saying that schedules should be rearranged to allow longer standing in each town to cut the expenses of the club. He lamented, too, that Utah had been taking the upper hand in the running of the league, and suggested that it was time for the paying towns in the circuit to take a hand and run it from our point of view for a while.

LEAGUE MOGULS AGAINST CHANGE

Proposal by Local Directors for Six-Day Stands Voted Down at Pocatello Meet.

Proposal of Twin Falls directors for a six-day at home playing schedule was voted down at a meeting of "ball-league officials" held in Pocatello Wednesday evening. Likewise a suggestion by local directors that double headers between Salt Lake and Twin Falls clubs at Pocatello be eliminated on account of attendance, too, failed.

George E. Sandhorne and L. T. Wright represented Twin Falls at the meeting. Other officials and directors in attendance were Fred M. Nye, president, and Oscar Richards, secretary of the league, and Leslie Ball Lake-Ogden; Tobias, Logan; Bentley; Pocatello; St. Charles and Bonnett; Idaho Falls, and Flanagan of the Salt Lake Tribune.

The change in schedule proposed by Twin Falls directors would cut traveling expenses in two, giving weekly stands at home and then six days away from home the make-up of the present three-day series. Idaho Falls opposed on the ground it would eliminate a Sunday game on way, and other towns favored continuing the schedule as framed.

Figures are not available on receipts to be received among the clubs at the end of the first quarter, but it was learned that Idaho cities were leading in the matter of attendance and money turned in to the general expense fund. Pocatello is first on the list, with Twin Falls in close second. Others in order are Idaho Falls, Salt Lake, Ogden and Logan.

MATERIAL GAIN MADE BY WHEAT

Curtailment of Yield Estimates in Southwest Has Bullish Effect on Market.

CHICAGO, June 3. (AP)—Sharper curtailment of estimates of wheat yield in the southwest had much to do with a material advance of wheat values today. Closing quotations were strong, about 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents higher, corn firm, 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents up on 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 to 7 3/4 cents, and provisions showing a rise of 10 to 20.

One leading authority cut down his previous forecast of the Kansas wheat harvest this season as much as 30,000,000 bushels. Throughout the day, speculative buying of wheat here was on a broader scale than of late. Fears were expressed that torrential rains in Oklahoma had done damage, crops being at hand that status amounted to a cloudburst in places. Talk of a wet harvest and government reports of poor conditions, together with unexpected strength in wheat quotations at Liverpool and London, added to the wheat market's buoyancy.

Greater Foreign Demand. Divided enlargement of European demand for North American wheat was in evidence. Winning messages received from the United Kingdom, Germany, Mexico, Manchuria, a liberal quotation in May contracts here also showed a rise in wheat and domestic wheat production, far less in 60 years have not shown a domestic wheat crop as low as the latest unseasonal crop and harvest.

Corn owed its advance to buying in a big way on the part of the previous crop and a late start. Temperatures were reported as delaying corn growth which has been the traditional cause of a late start. This sympathized with wheat.

Provisions were reflecting an upward trend in log values.

SALMON TRACT CONSIDERS CUT TO GAIN WATER

Elimination of 7500 Acres Under A System to Improve Rights on Remaining Area Claims Attention.

Elimination of approximately 7500 acres from the Salmon river irrigation project is being considered as one of the proposed methods of augmenting the project's water supply. It was voted last Thursday evening by Nelson Hayward of Caldwell, president of the Salmon River Canal company. The land to be eliminated is situated from the project under this proposal are located at the south end of the project under what is known as the A system of the Salmon river canal system. Average annual diversion of water in the A system amounts to approximately 17,000 acre feet of which, according to computations made by Fred Bates, superintendent for the Salmon River company, is about two-thirds or 12,000 acre-feet is actually delivered to the farmers, the remainder being wasted as a result of evaporation and seepage into the formation.

It is proposed, if the elimination plan is carried out, to divert to the 25,000 acres remaining within the project the water that is now diverted to the A system.

Discussed by Settlers.

The plan is being widely discussed among Salmon project landholders, and meetings have been called to be held Monday evening at Boglerson and Tuesday evening at Heger for consideration of the subject. Other possible methods of augmenting the project's water supply which are being investigated by the canal company include the plan submitted by E. V. Berg, Twin Falls engineer, for lifting American Falls storage water to the project levee and proposals for utilizing the waters of the east fork of Jarlidge river or the numerous of Brannan river.

The second allotment of water for the season has been fixed by the canal company directors, bringing the total up to 7.2 acre inches per acre.

Gain at Reservoir.

Level of water in the reservoir has fallen about five feet under the high mark for the season. Some recent gains have been recorded as a result of the voluntary action of the Utah Construction company in turning off its water for 10 days. This action followed a vigorous investigation carried on this season by the Salmon River company, and is the first cessation of the kind made by the Utah Construction company to the Salmon river project.

PRISONER FAILS TO BREAK JAIL

T. W. DeCamp, Awaiting Sentence for Auto Theft, Strikes Sheriff With Bit of Wire.

T. W. DeCamp, awaiting sentence on grand larceny charges of theft of an automobile, used the wire plunger of a springy device to strike Sheriff M. E. Plath over the head in an attempt to escape from the Twin Falls county jail Wednesday night. The weapon was ineffective for DeCamp's purpose. The sheriff was not even inconvenienced.

DeCamp concealed himself on top of the cage in the jail quarters, and struck when the sheriff closed the door of the cage in which the prisoners were confined for the night.

The sheriff was not armed. He turned toward his own quarters on the jail floor to get his gun, and looked into the muzzle of the weapon which his daughter, Miss Eleanor Plath, carried when she heard the commotion in the jail quarters.

Retreating with the gun to the jail quarters, the sheriff fired one shot in the direction from which DeCamp had struck, and called upon DeCamp to enter the cage. DeCamp appeared from behind the cage with both hands aloft and, under cover of the sheriff's gun, clambered into the cage.

He made no show of resistance and offered no explanation for his escape.

The sheriff, still thinking in his associate regarding the occurrence until Thursday morning. According to his statement to other prisoners, DeCamp had intended, after rendering the sheriff unconscious, to escape through the sheriff's quarters, using the elevator if it were at hand. If not, to lower himself down the elevator shaft by means of the elevator cable. He had placed a quilt on top of the cage with view to using it to protect his hands if he found it necessary to descend the shaft by means of the cable.

DeCamp and an associate, Earl Brown, were arrested about 10 days ago in Ogden. They pleaded guilty on arraignment to theft of an automobile owned by J. B. Wiseman of Twin Falls which was found in their possession in Ogden.

According to the officers, they have confessed to theft of two other automobiles at Bull and Filer and burglary of the Kimberly Hardware and Implement company store at Kimberly on the evening of Sunday, May 23.
